ANDEAN PAST is a peer-reviewed, numbered publication series dedicated to research in the archaeology and ethnohistory of western South America. However, research reports, obituaries, and autobiographies are subject to editorial review only. Although ANDEAN PAST focuses on precolumbian times, it includes articles on the colonial period that enhance understanding of indigenous cultures prior to direct contact with European and African cultures. ANDEAN PAST encourages data-based submissions, contributions to the history of Andean archaeology, papers grounded in environmental archaeology, fresh interpretations supported by accompanying data, interim and field reports, and the publication of short documents.

The Department of Anthropology, University of Maine, Orono is the publishing institution for ANDEAN PAST. ANDEAN PAST is associated with the Northeast Conference on Andean Archaeology and Ethnohistory. Copyright for ANDEAN PAST resides with DigitalCommons@UMaine on behalf of the authors and editors unless a specific portion, for example, an illustration, is noted as copyrighted by another party. ANDEAN PAST takes the “green” route to open access. Current and past issues of Andean Past are freely available to all on DigitalCommons@UMaine. Authors may re-publish or otherwise distribute their ANDEAN PAST articles, obituaries, or reports, in English, or in translation, in print, or in electronic format, provided that prior publication in ANDEAN PAST is indicated in the republication, that copyright by DigitalCommons@Umaine is acknowledged, and that the editors of ANDEAN PAST are notified of the republication. If a portion of an article is copyrighted by a third party, authors must request specific written permission from that party to republish.
