The International Dance Festival 2012

The International Dance Festival is a campus event that adds global diversity, and provides both domestic and international students with an opportunity to teach, learn and share with one another through the art of dance.

The first International Dance Festival was held in 2005 at Minsky Hall and was sponsored by the Office of International Programs, Multicultural Programs, Student Heritage Alliance Center and the international student groups across campus. The event brought all the international organizations together and created a base to share and work with each other collaboratively. The success of this event inspired the student groups involved to make this celebration of cultural diversity an annual event and to expand on the quality and depth of participation. Since then Dance Festival performers danced each year to a packed house (1200 audience in aprox.) at the Maine Center for the Arts, at Peakes Auditorium in Bangor High School and for the last three years at the newly renovated Collins Center for the Arts.

One of the strengths of the International Dance Festival is that it allows people to not only see the richness of international arts and culture, but also to engage and be part of it through participation. Dancers from countries such as India, Nepal Sri Lanka, Cameroon, Kenya, Vietnam, Cambodia, Mexico, France, Spain, Brazil and USA have taken part. Many of the performers have had significant professional dance training and the quality of their work rivals that of groups seen at the American Folk Festival in Bangor. In addition many students were involved with lighting, set design, and advertisement. We believe that with arts as a connecting tool between international students and domestic students, we celebrate the differences as well as similarities of student communities within the University.

The 2012 Festival will be held at the Collins Center for the Arts on February 18th and will feature matinee and evening performances. We intend to involve as many relevant campus groups and departments as possible to make this a true campus wide collaboration. As in past years this event will be free so that people of Maine have access to the cultural vitality of the University of Maine. In past years people have come from as far away as Presque Isle and Portland to enjoy this event.

The concept for the International Dance Festival originated with Pemba Lama, a student from Nepal, who motivated fellow students to become involved and make his dream a reality. Since then the International Dance Festival has become a truly spectacular annual event showcasing the talents and diverse aspects of the University of Maine's student body. The International Dance Festival Committee would be very proud to continue the tradition and will be ever grateful to the University for the support and encouragement.
