Summer Gardening

Thursday, June 25th
11 A.M.-12 Noon (Eastern)
via Zoom

Kate Garland '01, '09G of UMaine Cooperative Extension will present a gardening webinar on gardening on June 25 at 11 AM.

Kate will address frequently asked questions about flower and vegetable gardening, suggest things that could still be planted in a vegetable garden in late June, and provide an overview of UMaine Cooperative Extension's resources to help both experienced and new gardeners.

If you have any specific questions you'd like addressed during the presentation please submit them here.

Kate earned her undergraduate degree in botany and her master's in horticulture. She works with school, community, and home gardeners and coordinates the Master Gardener and Maine Harvest for Hunger Volunteer programs in Penobscot County.

Click here to register. The session is free but is limited to 300 registrants.
