STATE OF MAINE

The Department of Educational and Cultural Services believes it has a responsibility to all Maine citizens, larger than its prescribed legal one, to set an example and to assume a leadership role in providing non-discriminatory policies and practices to its personnel. No discrimination, overt or otherwise, on the grounds of race, color, religion, physical handicap, sex, age, marital status, or national origin will exist in any area of the Department.

The Department of Educational and Cultural Services acknowledges that in the past inequities in employment opportunities helped create our current employment profile such that the number of women and minority employees n management do not approximate the number of males at the same level. Efforts to alter this imbalance have been and are continuing to be undertaken by examining the Department's role in the areas of recruitment, selection, job structuring, training, and promotion.

With the intent of moving towards a more balanced and equitable employment picture, an Affirmative Action Officer has been assigned the responsibility for monitoring compliance with the Department's Affirmative Action Plan and the Plan is being updated to reflect the changes in Department policy and practices.

In order to insure compliance with the goals of the Department's Affirmative Action Plan, the Affirmative Action Officer has direct access to my office. In addition it is the responsibility of all Bureaus and personnel, supervisory and non-supervisory, to insure that the Plan's policies become departmental practices.

Because there are policy areas which are not subject to change solely at my direction, I add my personal commitment as Commissioner of the Department of Educational and Cultural Services to working with others in State government towards the stated goal of equal employment opportunity.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION PLAN INTRODUCTION

In January of 1973 Commissioner Carroll R. McGary initiated a program leading to the appointment of a committee to develop an affirmative action plan for the Maine Department of Educational and Cultural Services.

The object of the plan was to effect the elimination of all discriminatory practices, whether unintentional or otherwise, relating to employment, curriculum, role modeling and all other departmental concerns. Resultant conferences and meetings, combining the efforts of personnel representative of the broad range of departmental services, produced a draft document pursuant to the requirements of Federal Executive Orders 11246 and 11375 as amended, the 1972 Equal Employment Opportunity Act under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972.

On March 14, 1974, the plan received the approval of the State Board of Education 7-- Chairperson Sylvia Lund, Augusta; Martin Dibner, Casco; John Ezhaya, Norridgewock; Inge Foster, Dresden; Edward Kaelber, Northeast Harbor; Robert W. Marquis, Van Buren; Tobie Nathanson, Saco; Julia Nault, Machias; and Lucille Sheppard, Westbrook.

Some objectives in the original plan such as sending job announcements to various groups representing women and minorities, having women represented on job selection committees, and applying fair criteria for filling job vacancies were implemented immediately. Recruiting efforts for an Affirmative Action Officer were initiated in the Spring of 1974, and there ensued an extensive series of steps culminating in the selection of Susan E. Hirsch who assumed her responsibilities on March 17, 1975. With the advent of the Affirmative Action Officer many of the goals and objectives stated in the Plan are being essed; and the Plan has been updated as of March 31, 1975 pursuant to Executive Order 1 FY-74-75 issued by Governor James Longley.

1. Population and Labor Force Data .

Tables 1 and 2 show that 51.3% of Maine's population is female, and 1.1% of the population is non-white. In September, 1974, there was a total of 424,950 people in the work force. Thirty-nine percent (39%) of this work force is made up of women, and 61% are men.

The work force data for Maine shows that women comprise 39% of the work force in the State, but they make up 47% of the unemployed.

2. Data on the manyover available in the field of education is of special interest to the Department of Educational and Cultural Services. Graduates majoring in Education and professional educators working in Maine's local school systems provide Apool of qualified manpower from which the Department can recruit and staff many of its professional jobs. (Tables 4 and 5 give data on other backgrounds from which the department could obtain staff.) In June, 1974 there were 1,164 graduates from the University of Maine system with a Bacholor of Science Degree in Education, and women accounted for 65% of these graduates. Table 3 shows the composition of males and Females receiving Education degrees from the University of Maine over the past 3 years. Sixty-six percent (66%) of the Bachelor of Science Degrees in education were awarded to women and 34% were awarded to men. Approximately 36% of the Masters Degrees in Education were awarded to women from July, 1971 to June, 1974. 'A very small number of Doctors Degrees were awarded during that period - only 19 - and none of those degrees was held by a woman.

Table 6 provides information on the number of full-time professional educators working in Maine from 1972 - 1975. Women comprise 57% of the fulltime educational staff in the State, and they make up 60% of the teachers in the State. Only 27% of the educational administrators and professional staff other than teachers employed by the local school systems are women. This demonstrates a serious discrepancy between the number of women who have completed graduate programs in Education, approximately 36% over the last 3 years, and those presently holding administrative and other professional jobs.

3. Employment and Salary Data For The Maine State Department of Educational and Cultural Services.

All employees in the Maine State Department of Educational and Cultural Services have been categorized according to their status as classified or unclassified as defined by the Maine Personnel System. The classified category includes almost all employees who work in the State Department in Augusta, with a few exceptions such as the Commissioner, the State Librarian, and some contract or project workers who are unclassified. It should be noted that the positions of Commissioner, State Librarian, Executive Director of Arts and Humanities, and Museum Director are currently held by men and all have salaries above $16,000 a year.

Table 7 indicates that 95% of the full-time clerical staff in the Department of Education are female. Sufficient data has not been gathered to indicate whether this reflects the percentage of trained clerical staff which are available in Maine. The problems and concerns reflected by clerical staff in the Department are discussed in the section Goals and Objectives.

Table 7 also shows that 79% of the full time professional (includes Officials/ Administrators) staff in the Department of Education alone are males, outnumbering females by more than 4 to 1. The figure indicates an under-utilization of women in this classification considering the following:

a. Women comprise about 39% of the work force in the State.

- b. Women account for 66% of the Bachelor of Science in Education Degrees awarded in the State in the past 3 years.
- c. Women received approximately 36% of the Masters Degrees in Education awarded in the State in the past 3 years.
- d. Women make up 57% of the full-time professional educators in Maine.

Table 13 shows that 31% of the females in the entire Department earn a salary between $10 - $15,999 while 69% of the male salaries fall within that range. Ninety-five percent (95%) of the male salaries are $16,000 and higher, while only 5% of the females in the entire Department fall in this category. Eighty percent (80%) of the women employees in the Department earn below $9,999 per year while 74% of the males earn more than $9,999. These figures demonstrate that women are at the bottom of the salary ladder while men dominate the middle and higher salary ranges.

WHO MAY FILE A COMPLAINT? -

Departmental employees may bring grievances and disputes within the Department of Educational and Cultural Services to the Grievance Committee. If you have any questions concerning what is a grievable incident, who can use the Grievance Committee or what the Grievance Committee's function is, please contact any member of the Affirmative Action Committee or the Grievance Committee. Grievances may include, but not be limited to, the following: (1) discrimination; (2) frequently projecting a poor image of the Department, internally and externally; (3) objectionable duties performed; (4) harassment; (5) personal grievances, such as: working hours, personality conflicts, attendance, etc.

PROCEDURES -

The Grievance Committee shall have the authority to try to mediate a settlement of grievances and disputes. The procedures for initiating a grievance are set forth in the following steps and you may have representation of your choosing at each step of the procedure. IT SHOULD BE MOTED THAT IN ORDER TO CONFORM WITH THE STATE EMPLOYEES' GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES. A COMPLAINT MUST BE MADE THROUGH ORAL CONFIDURICATION WITH THE EMPLOYEE'S IMMEDIATE SUPERVISOR WITHIN SEVEN (7) WORKING DAYS OF THE TIME THAT THE EMPLOYEE IS AWARE OF THE GRIEVABLE INCIDENT.

- 1) You or your representative should attempt to adjust the dispute with your immediate supervisor.
- If this is not feasible, come directly to the Grievance Committee to determine if, in fact, you have a grievance that is under the jurisdiction of the Grievance Committee.
- 3) File your grievance with the Grievance Committee. This may be done with the assistance of the Grievance Committee or your representative.
 - a)*. In order to allow the employee to maximize this in-house grievance committee without losing his or her right to the State Employees' Grievance Procedures, we strongly recommend that the aggrieved party orally communicate the grievable incident to his or her immediate supervisor at this time, but no later than seven (7) working days.
 - b)* The aggrièved party or his or her representative should explain that the oral communication as stated above is to be considered the first step in the State Employees' Grievance Procedures; therefore, the supervisor must respond orally to the aggrieved party within three (3) working days.
 - c)* It is understood that the aggrieved party, if still dissatisfied, under the State Grievance Procedures would have ten (10) working days to present the grievance in written form to his or her supervisor. Prior to this written notice, the Departmental Grievance Committee will make every effort to render a decision.

*These are precautionary steps separate from the Departmental Grievance Procedures to insure: (1) that the aggrieved person has access to the State Procedures; and (2) to allow the Departmental Committee the maximum amount of days to render its decision without interfering with the State Procedures.

- 4) The Grievance Committee will notify the other person (*) involved about the nature of the grievance.
- 5) The Grievance Committee will request from the supervisor acknowledgment of the situation.
- 6) A meeting date will be set with all parties involved.
- 7) The Grievance Committee will convene with all parties present and action shall be recommended or taken shortly thereafter.
- 8) Written notice of the decision or recommended action will be sent to all parties concerned, including the Commissioner or his/her designated representative; and a file copy shall be maintained in the Affirmative Action Officer's Office.
- 9)
- If follow-up is necessary, appropriate action will be taken.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR NO. 1 FY - 74 - 75 DATE Feb. 4, 1975

WHEREAS, the State of Maine, in spirit and in law, historically has opposed discrimination where it exists with regard to race, creed, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, age or physical handicap; and

WHEREAS, from time to time, it has been necessary to review these policies, laws and administrative regulations with the intention of adapting them to the needs and problems of contemporary society; and

WHEREAS, in 1971, the Maine Legislature enacted the Human Rights Act and in 1974 Maine became the thirty-first state to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment; and

WHEREAS, the passage of the Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972, mandated that state and local governments be subject to the provisions of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; and

WHEREAS, the EEO-4 statistics for 1974 suggest under-utilization of women and minorities in non-traditional classifications in state service;

NOW, THEREFORE, I JAMES B. LONGLEY, do hereby, under the power vested in me as Governor, and in pursuit of the goals of Equal Employment Opportunity and in support of the necessity for Affirmative Action, direct that such Affirmative Action, as set forth in this order, be followed throughout the Executive Branch of the Government of the State of Maine.

ARTICLE I -- DEFINITION OF AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

An Affirmative Action Program includes procedures designed to increase the numbers of qualified minorities and women at all levels and in all segments where imbalances exist. Such a program should include an assessment of existing practices and the development of realistic goals and timetables for corrective action. These goals and related procedures cannot be rigid quotas, but rather reasonable targets which are, with a good faith effort, attainable.

Affirmative action reinforces merit concepts by assuring that all segments of our population have an equal opportunity for employment into and advancement within state service according to their ability and merit. This can be accomplished partly by breaking down barriers which may exist such as limited recruiting efforts for job openings, job requirements which have a disparate effect on one group or another, tests which lack adequate validity, and insufficient opportunities for promotion; and partly through positive action programs of professional development in such personnel practices, as recruiting, selection, promotion, transfer, layoff, return from layoff, termination, training and educational leave.

ARTICLE II -- APPOINTMENT, ASSIGNMENT, AND PROMOTION OF PERSONNEL

State officials and supervisory employees shall appoint, assign and promote state personnel on the basis of qualifications, merit, and capability without regard to race, creed, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, age or physical handicap except where sex or age is a bona fide occupational qualification. All other personnel actions shall be administered in a non-discriminatory manner. The Affirmative Action Officer which has been designated for each department or agency shall be placed in the organizational structure so that he or she will have direct access to the appointing authority. Each department or agency shall prepare and update their Affirmative Action program in accordance with the criteria set forth by the State Department of Personnel.

ARTICLE III - STATE' ACTION AND PUBLIC CONTRACTS

In performing their Service to the public, departments, agencies and a individual employees shall not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, age, or physical handicap; nor shall they authorize the use of state facilities in the furtherance of discriminatory practices, or by any group or organization which so discriminates in its membership or other policies. Similarly, no state contractor, subcontractor, labor union or employee representative with which the contractor has an agreement will discriminate unless such exclusion of one group is based on a bona fide occupational qualification. State agencies may withhold financial assistance on any public contract if the recipient is clearly in violation of the Maine Human Rights Act or the Civil Rights Act of 1964. State agencies shall refuse any order carrying a specification or limitation regarding race, creed, color, sex, marital status, national origin, ancestry, age or physical handicap unless related to a bona fide job requirement.

ARTICLE IV - STATE DEPARTMENT OF PERSONNEL

The State Department of Personnel shall take positive steps to insure that the entire examination and testing process, including the development of job specifications and employment qualifications are free from discrimination, either conscious or inadvertent. Furthermore, the Department of Personnel will have the initial responsibility of resolving conflicts and complaints, changing administrative procedures when necessary and providing assistance in the preparation and implementation of Affirmative Action Programs.

ARTICLE V -- MAINE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION

All Affirmative Action plans, new, revised, or updated shall be subject to the review and comment of the Equal Employment Opportunity Specialist of the State Department of Personnel and the Maine Human Rights Commission. All powers and duties granted to the Maine Human Rights Commission under Title 5 M.R.S.A., s 4551, et. seg., as amended, apply to this code.

ARTICLE VI -- POSTING OF THE EXECUTIVE ORDER

Copies of this Executive Order shall be distributed immediately to all state departments and agencies. All departments and agencies shall immediately display copies in prominent locations in their offices and facilities.
