late fall 1975

maine division, aaup

volume 24, no.2

it's the time of year for apple picking, pickle making, pumpkin carving, and . . . aaup fall workshop.

A year ago members attending the fall workshop leaped into a lively encounter with group dynamics. Not only helpful to each individual's growth and awareness of himself, the session posed some solid questions for AAUP.

For example, membership chairmen: are you aware of why women join your particular group? We learned how to determine the "why" and how vital it is!

Groups are goal-oriented and the goals must be clearly evident to everyone. Each member joins to fulfill a need; if the need is not met, the member loses interest --- and your branch has lost a working unit. How can you help keep interest? Involve as many new members as possible in active roles; unlock the potential of each member.

Branch officers: how is the morale of your branch? Is the group happy? Is the branch doing what it said it would? Or have the goals become fuzzy? We were shown at the workshop last fall how to recognize the time to evaluate and change directions.

And be aware, our group leaders pointed out in Saco last year, of an essential group ingredient . . . HUMOR! A constant danger is the group that becomes too formal to laugh.

That was a quick look over our shoulder at last year. I hope it offers a more definite image of what a workshop offers -- alot!

And this year? "think small." Take a moment, right now, and let your mind wander over the idea. Do you have some concrete images? I wonder if they're the same as mine? Come to Bangor on 1 November and share them with me, and with many others.

The day's plan, as presented by Lee Davis, division program chairman, follows:

9:00 a.m.	registration and coffee
10:00 a.m.	counterpart sessions/ members holding the same offices meet.
11:00 a.m.	panel presents the four new study topics.
12:00 noon	lunch
1:15 p.m.	"Small Is Beautiful," a presentation to help you think creatively about the future--yours, mine, everyone's.
3:15 p.m.	adjournment and the journey home.

TO KEEP YOU INFORMED

announcement of a new fellowship fund established. . . honoring one of our own: Elizabeth Russell. Active in the Mount Desert Island branch, Dr. Russell is a world-renowned geneticist (Jackson Laboratories), newly named member of the University of Maine Board of Trustees, and immediate past division fellowships chairman. This announcement pleases us and provides a stimulus for fellowship fundraising. Next step: $65,000 in contributions to the fund to bring it to the award-granting stage. Congratulations, Dr. Russell.

TO KEEP YOU INFORMED FURTHER

A program possibility: Liane Brandon's film Anything You Want to Be. The film is available for $15.00 plus postage for one-time screening from New Day Films, Franklin Lakes, New Jersey 07417.

Watch your local television listings for a series of four programs to be aired 26 October - 22 November. The programs, presented by American Issues Forum, treat the subject of certain unalienable rights.

. Editor's apologies to those of you who received the last dawnbreaker late. We went to press late, but also encountered a ten-day delay in the post office. I'll try harder. . . the other problem???? any ideas???

Maine Ways awaits your reply to its question. . . how much and what are you willing to do? Tell Vici Robinson.
