Statement by University of Maine Memorial Fund Committee

By the time the ALUMNUS is in your hands, your committee feels that although the goal of $500,000 may not have been reached, that an alumni mark of $300,000 will have been passed. Approximately 1500 loyal alumni and alumnæ, or about 30 per cent, will have raised about 60 per cent of the total.

It must be borne in mind that this $300,000 does not include the $100,000 raised by the student campaign.

These figures show that less than one-third of our alumni body has been solicited.

The campaign will not be concluded until every Maine man and woman has been given an opportunity to subscribe and the $500,000 goal has been reached.

"Widow’s Mite" Adds $1000 to Fund

"I appreciate the move that is being made to immortalize our honored dead, and I wish to 'do my bit.' But it will be the widow's mite. I am an old woman 68 years old and have no means of support other than my monthly allowance from the government and have been paying college bills out of that. I am sending hereewith my subscription to the Memorial Fund of $1000 which I lovingly dedicate to my dear departed. My heart is with you in this great work."

The University of Maine war mother who wrote the above sentences has set an example in the campaign which should stir our hearts and make us ashamed to refuse our loyal support to the Memorial Fund project. Compare your subscription, no matter how generous it may be, with her "widow's mite" of $1000 and then answer the question "Have I honored the 42 Maine heroes to the limit of my ability?"

Generous Colonel Contributes to Fund

Last March the engineering seniors took their annual inspection trip to Boston. At that time General Mark L. Hersey arranged an all day trip down the harbor. The fortifications were examined, the big guns were fired at a moving target, and the crowd was gassed. A ripping good time was reported. Although it was the understanding that the students were to pay for their luncheon no collection was made at the time. Upon returning home the matter was taken up with General Hersey who said that there was no fund to defray the luncheon expense and that the cost would come out of Colonel Paul Giddings who had made the arrangements. The amount was collected from the students, check sent to General Hersey, who turned it over to Colonel Giddings. Colonel Giddings returned the check saying that he understood the University of Maine alumni were building a new gymnasium-armory and that in view of this fact he would like to have the check applied to the fund as a personal subscription from him.

Newspapers in Magazine Form

Unlike anything published today! Alumni weeklies, monthlies and quarters are carrying live news items of the college and personal friends to those men who are doing the majority of the big jobs.

Honestly, isn’t this a good time and place to register your name or your product?

We are sure you feel friendly toward the advertisers in this, your own publication.

We believe that your company will benefit from advertising in this and other alumni magazines.

Forty-four alumni publications have a combined circulation of 160,000 college trained men. Advertising space may be bought individually or collectively—in any way desired. Two page sizes—only two plates necessary—group advertising rates.
