BDN reports recent wastewater samples from UMaine, other campuses show no signs of COVID-19

September 24, 2020

The Bangor Daily News reported that wastewater samples collected recently from the University of Maine, University of Southern Maine's Gorham campus and the University of Maine at Fort Kent have tested negative for COVID-19. The University of Maine System incorporated wastewater testing at the three universities, which house 78% of its resident hall student population, into the third phase of its planned asymptomatic COVID-19 testing.
