More Alumni Give Their Opinions

AGREES WITH BERNHEISEL

Mr. Robert P. Clark,
Alumni Secretary
University of Maine
Orono, Maine

Dear Bob:

I have read with much interest the letter from Dutch Bernheisel published in the Alumnus, and I think that his proposition to have a list published of the Alumni who have failed to pay their pledges to the Memorial Fund has a lot of merit. There was very little objection made at the time of the drive to the publication of the subscribers and their pledges, and I think it is only fair to those who have sacrificed a great deal in order to pay their subscription to be given a statement showing exactly what has been done.

I travel a good deal thru Northern New England, and come in contact with a lot of Maine men, and I believe that the general opinion among them is that they have been kept too much in the dark as to what has really been done regarding collections.

Let's have a show-down now, and let the Alumni know who have paid and who have not; publish a complete list showing pledges, amount paid and balance due. The job is only half done, now let's lay the cards on the table, and see who is holding it up.

Yours very truly,
R. F. Stevens

SPEAKS FOR THE OPPOSITION

R. P. Clark,
Managing Editor, The Maine Alumnus,
University of Maine
My dear Mr. Clark:

Apropos of your editorial in February issue, entitled, "Opinions—Yours and the Other Fellows" and Mr. Bernheisel's letter, I am convinced that you would make a serious mistake in following the suggestion in regard to publishing list of delinquent pledges to the Memorial Fund.

At the time this money was subscribed so much enthusiasm was aroused that, without question, very many subscribed beyond their means to make good. Of course they should not have done so—but they did.

We anticipated a considerable loss from this class of subscribers. If it is larger than expected let it go at that.

I feel that it would permanently alienate from college support a considerable number of Maine men and women who may be temporarily unable to pay but who might later make good on these very pledges if treated generously.

I would rather endeavor to get an arrangement with those to whom it appealed, for an extension of time in their pledges and forget the rest.

Hastily,
W. R. Pattangall

A REPLY TO F. R. L.

Mr. Robert P. Clark,
University of Maine
Orono, Maine
Dear Sir:

I would suggest in reply to F.R.L. that he think kindly of the institution that offered him an equal opportunity with other sons of Maine in the securing of an education. I would bid him change his viewpoint of life—get a new grip—grow joy within his heart, that he, himself, may discover his mistaken position. No university nor any man can guarantee him happiness or success, this he must work out himself.

The University of Maine wants his love, the dollars will follow.

Very truly yours,
Harry E. Sutton

THE CAMPUS REPLIES EDITORIALY TO F. R. L.

"We like your letter because it irritates us, and there is nothing better for mental activity than some sort of irritation. We are not irritated because you have put your back to thousands of others in disloyalty, but because you have started us to wondering whether you have found something which we, in our undergraduate days, or daze, have failed to appreciate. We have checked over the ground pretty thoroughly, even to the day when as freshmen, we were asked why we came to college, and didn't know, or through conflicts, destroyed illusions, and temporary bitterness, and yet we fail to find any reason why we should change our mind. Of course we have never interpreted Maine in a commercial sense; that is, like a trade school, with its five lessons, a diploma, and a $200 per job. That may make a difference, but, nevertheless, we prefer to think of Maine as Alma Mater, our mother! We feel that we will be more than repaid, both in time and money, if we can lose all the facts which have acquired during college courses, but increase our sentiment for the spirit of Maine and the society of an educated mind. But that won't provide bread and butter? No. but we question whether any college can do that. After all that question is wholly answered by the individual, college graduate or not. We know of many non-college men who have outdistanced college men in the commercial race, but have never heard of a college man blaming his training because of it.

We never think of Maine in the physical sense; that is, as people, when asking ourselves what it has done for us. Anything that touches our emotions, that broadens us, we think of as an ideal—and that is Maine!

An educated mind must have balance, poise, tolerance, loyalty, justice, and sportsmanship. These are the things Maine seeks to impress upon her sons and daughters. In doing this, she is serving in a correct capacity. These are her attributes to success, and yours to take or leave. What did you do?

Whether we are to be successful or otherwise will never influence our loyalty to be anything other than it is at present. What we make or destroy of ourselves we consider a personal problem and prefer not to have ourselves propped up when we have reason to think the timbers are rotten.

Maine has many brilliant sons who will always be loyal and grateful to her. They cannot all be wrong!"

MAINE DEBATERS WIN OVER NEW HAMPSHIRE

Saturday night, March 3rd, the University of Maine Intercollegiate Debating team defeated the University of New Hampshire team in the first debate of the season. The American style of debate, which allows ten minutes of constructive speaking and five minutes of rebuttal to each speaker, was used.

The question was, Resolved that the United States should cease to protect by armed force capital invested in foreign lands, except after formal declaration of war. The debate revolved about the recent controversy in Nicaragua and Latin America.

INTRA-MURAL TRACK MEET

A three cornered tie for the Intra-Mural Cup and an overwhelming victory for Phi Eta Kappa in the Charles Rice Cup featured the interfraternity meet held at the Indoor Field Feb. 25th. Phi Eta Kappa, Phi Gamma Delta and Kappa Sigma fraternities all tied for first place at thirty-one points apiece. In the race for the Charles Rice Cup Phi Eta Kappa ran up a total of forty-three points with Phi Gamma Delta running second with twenty-two points.

Phi Eta Kappa was the winner of the relay race that was held just prior to the meet. Their four-man team, composed of Caldwell, Mank, Wescott and Tolman broke the record for the indoor track by running the four laps in 1:44 4-5. Phi Gamma Delta was second in the race and Lambda Chi Alpha was in third place.

Captain Thompson, Phi Eta Kappa, broke the indoor record for the shot put with 43 feet 3 inches. Berenson, Dormitory, who copped the 100 and 220 yard dashes, equalled the existing indoor field record of 22 and 4-5 seconds. Black was the only other letter man to win two first places. Jones, Phi Gamma Delta was the only two place winner for the non-letter men. Cuzzo, Kappa Sigma, won the broad jump and tied for first in the high jump.

The meet was one of the best ever held on the campus, the events all being closely contested, and the rivalry friendly and keen.

With three fraternities in a tie for first place and two more in a tie for fourth place a better balance of inter-mural athletics, is seen on the campus.

The summary:

100-yard dash: Won by Berenson; second, Stymiest; third, Niles; fourth, White. Time 10 2-5 seconds.

1 mile run: Won by Cushing; second, Lindsay; third, Chandler; fourth, Brooks. Time 4 min., 35 seconds.

BATES WINS INDOOR TRACK MEET FROM MAINE

Coach Kanaly's phantom blue track cluster met defeat at the hands of their Bates rivals in a dual meet held at the new Bates indoor field last Saturday.

The Maine team was weakened to a considerable extent by the ineligibility toll of last semester. Among the principal star performers that were unable to compete because of low rank were Captain Thompson, Black, Harding, Lindsay, Beckler, and several others of less repute.

Four records were shattered in the meet. Chandler of Maine bettered the old mark in the 45 yd. high hurdles by 5-10 seconds. He is credited with the exceptionally fast time of 6 seconds. Ray of Bates shattered the previous record in the 16 lb. shot put. His distance in the hurling contest was 38 feet 6 1/2 inches. In the high jump O'Connor of Maine and Knowlton of Bates tied for first place with 5 feet 9 inches. In accomplishing this feat both performers shared in the honor of tying the previous record. In the other record breaking affair we find one of the biggest surprises of the meet. Wardwell of Bates defeated Richardson of Maine in the two mile event, winning his race by a substantial margin and breaking the record Wardwell's time for this distance was 9 minutes 59 1-5 seconds.

New records were also established in the discus, pole vault, broad jump, and 35 lb. weight.

Niles of Maine afforded one of the few thrills of the meet when he defeated Captain Wakely in his pet event, the 300 yd. run. Niles took the pole and led with Stymiest second and Wakely third. Wakely passed Stymiest before the distance was covered but was unable to pass Niles.

Summary by events:

40-yard dash—Won by Rowe (B); second, Stymiest (M); third, Niles (M). Time, 4 4-5 seconds.

300-yard Run—Won by Niles (M); second, Wakely (B); third, Stymiest (M). Time, 34 seconds.

1000-yard Run—Won by Adams (B); second, Chesley (B); third, Larsen (M). Time, 2:21 3-5.

600-yard Run—Won by Chapman and Wakely (B); tie; third, Thompson (M). Time, 1:18 4-5.

Mile Run—Won by McNaughton (M); second, Viles (B); third, Cushing (M). Time, 4:42.

Two-mile Run—Won by Wardwell (B) second, Richardson (M); third, Jones (B). Time, 9:59 1-5.

45-yard High Hurdles—Won by Chandler (M); second, Fisher (B); third, Wood (B). Time, 6 seconds.

High Jump—Won by Knowlton (B) and O'Connor (M); tie; th.-d. Keough (M). Height, 5 feet, 9 inches.

Shot put—Won by Ray (B); second, Houle (B); third, Burnett (B). Distance 38 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Discus—Won by Keough (M); second, Hubbard (B); third, Hathaway (M). Distance, 122 feet, 9 inches.

NILES IS CAPTAIN OF 1928-29 RELAY TEAM

Winfield S. Niles of Rumford, has been elected captain of the varsity relay team for the season of 1928-29. Niles is one of the most promising track men at the University in recent years. The latest performance was the defeat of Max Wakely, one of Bates's stars, in a fast three hundred. The coming season should see Niles at his best.

ABBOTT ELECTED BASKETBALL CAPTAIN

Lyman Abbott, Jr. of Old Orchard, was elected captain of the varsity basketball team. "Lymie" is a sophomore and has played a guard position on the varsity for the past season. He was captain of the freshman basketball team last year. Besides being captain of basketball, Abbott is president of his class, president of the Sophomore Owls, treasurer of the Athletic Association, and a letter man in football, earning ihs M as quarterback last fall. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

MAINE 29—COLBY 18

The Inter-fraternity Five representing the best basketball players at Colby went down to defeat at the hands of the more experienced Maine varsity by the score of 29-18 at the Indoor Field last Saturday.

The Colby team showed plenty of strength but coordination was lacking. Maine playing the last game of the season was slightly off form, the men missing many baskets and fumbling the passes. Roughness seemed to be in order for both teams.

The Colby game witnessed the last varsity performances of Captain Branscom, center of this year's team, and varsity performer of three seasons; Stone, stocky forward of two seasons; and Fitzhugh, flashy back of this year's team.

Thornton and Callahan were the outstanding men for the Blue and Grey, while Branscom and Fitzhugh starred for Maine.

EVEN ON BOSTON TRIP

The result of the varsity girls' second trip to Boston was a victory and a defeat. The game with Jackson netted them a 19-16 victory, but they went down to defeat at the hands of the Posse-Nissen team.

At Posse-Nissen the game was well played, only five fouls being committed during the whole game, three by Posse-Nissen and two by Maine. The Posse-Nissen girls are well known for their extraordinarily fine game of basketball. The game was fast, with much open playing and a great deal of passing and dribbling.

Saturday the girls played Jackson. This game furnished much excitement since the two teams were evenly matched. At the end of the first half the score was 9-8 in favor of Maine; at the third quarter, 13-11 for Jackson. The close of the game was sensational. With two minutes to play, and Jackson ahead, Maine gained the points which won the victory for her.

Between the games, the girls enjoyed themselves in Boston. On Friday evening they were entertained at a theater party by Posse-Nissen, where they spent the night. After the game on Saturday, a tea was given them at Richardson Hall, Jackson. That night the girls left for Bangor, arriving at Orono early Sunday morning.

The lineups for the two games were as follows:

CONCERNING A MEDICAL SCHOOL

The Maine Alumnus
Gentlemen:

In the December Number of the Maine Alumnus there is reprinted an editorial which appeared in the Bangor Commercial pointing out the need of a medical school in Maine.

That the State of Maine needs excellent Physicians and Surgeons no one will gain-say nor should the people of Maine be content with anything short of the best. That the State of Maine should have to depend upon institutions outside her borders for the medical education of those of her citizens who choose Medicine as a career is, it would seem, deplorable.

When the old Bowdoin Medical School was finally after much bitter opposition relegated to that group of "institutions of the past" there still remained in the hearts of many a profound hope that after the passage of time, it would again be rejuvenated or that failing this a more worthy institution would be born in its stead.

nated or that failing this a more worthy institution would be born in its stead.

The chief obstacle in the pathway that leads to a realization and materialization of those hopes is as is usually the case one of expense, but before going into this phase of the problem it might be well to consider the needs of the State, how those needs were served by the old Bowdoin Medical School, and for what reasons was the old Medical School left to die a natural death.

The needs of the State in so far as medical service is concerned remain essentially the same as heretofore, tho those needs are in all probability much more accentuated, and the principal reason why they have been accentuated is because of the disappearance of the old school. Maine without a medical school no longer appeals or rather appeals less to the young physician and surgeon than she did when this institution was extant. The medical school served not only to train men in medicine who later engaged in practice thruout the state but it also served in a small way perhaps to advance the science. At least it served to disseminate the newer teachings in medicine and surgery which had the distinct advantage of keeping the practice of medicine and surgery in Maine abreast of the times. In other words when the school lived the art was alive to the more recent developments in the profession. Lest there be some who might misinterpret these remarks as suggesting that medicine in Maine is dead let me hasten to say that this is far from the fact, tho it is true nevertheless that healthy growth is considerably handicapped thru the lack of a medical centre.

The absence of physicians in the more rural portions of the state is perhaps more conspicuous than formerly. This is in itself a very keen problem and one which concerns Maine and other states whose population is rural far more than those states whose population is more densely concentrated. This was one of the strongest arguments and still is for a State Medical School. If the medical student could procure his education at home at a much reduced cost it is more logical to assume that he would return to his home community to practise. On the other hand if circumstances are such as to make it compulsory for him to go to a neighboring state the cost of his education is more than doubled and from the point of view of pure economics he is forbidden to return to his native heath. Not only this but the increased expense to many represents a serious obstacle to the pursuit of his desired ambition. The problem of providing physicians for our rural communities has thereby increased in difficulty owing to the loss of a state medical school.

The Bowdoin Medical school served and nobly served a dual function in that it provided the state with physicians at a reasonable cost to themselves and secondly it served as a centre for the crystalization of medical thought which was later disseminated thruout the state and the profession was in this way kept abreast of the times.

One might reasonably ask why then was an institution which so nobly served its purpose left to totter and fall in the discard. The answer may already be familiar to many but to many the answer may not be so obvious.

Just prior to the exodus of the Maine Medical School the General Education Board, a board made up of educators, men from the clergy and from the medical profession ten in all sponsored by the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations saw in the rapid numerical growth of medical schools a very definite evil. Schools were popping into being over night which on the surface hardly lived up to their claims. It was suggested in order to standardize medical education that a board be appointed to investigate all medical schools and report on the findings of the board. To Abram Flexnor belongs the credit for stimulating this investigation. The findings were extremely enlightening and no less startling. Many institutions purporting to care for the needs of the medical student were failing miserably in that direction. Laboratories so essential to medical study were in some schools represented only by placards on the doors. The report of this committee which may be found in the Carnegie Reports did much to standardize medical teaching and for this reason is extremely commendable. Institutions were carefully scrutinized and graded accordingly Class "A" "B" and so on. The results of the investigation were available to anyone desiring to investigate them and as a consequence those falling below standard were avoided by prospective students. Those classed as of second rate quality were shown wherein improvements might be made to render them recommendable as Class "A" institutions.

These reports immediately sounded the death knell of those institutions whose sole educational value was nihil and whose aims were commercialistic. In addition many institutions and among them Maine, schools that had served their purpose well were forced either to make amends involving tremendous financial outlay or close their doors. The state legislature could not at that time see its way clear to support the school as it rightfully should be supported and rather than have a second rate medical school Maine chose the latter course.

With all due respect to those at the helm the policy in the light of passing years seems not to have been an entirely wise one. It seems almost incredible that those who controlled the destinies of our old medical school should have regarded the future of our rural communities and of our state so lightly. What has happened with the passing years? Those having the means have sought treatment in the larger city and not always in Maine, those devoid of wealth and by far the larger majority must rest content with what medical facilities are at hand.

Good roads have done much to bring the patient in closer touch with the larger towns and likewise with the doctor. Unfortunately our good roads are not good at all seasons of the year and it still is necessary and essential that good and reasonable medical attention be procurable within a radius of fifteen miles. This is essential to the patient if he is to have a reasonable chance for recovery in the more acute surgical conditions to which remoteness from a doctor does not render him less liable. It is necessary to the state if we hope to keep our rural population on the farm. Few people are so fatalistic that they will carry on isolated from the possibility of medical aid should it be needed.

Our sensitivities would be calloused indeed should we not to some degree feel the sting of opprobrium that is cast upon us for having so calmly viewed the passing of the State Medical School. What measures are of more moment than the safe guarding of the health of the populace of the state? Provisions for medical education are the sine qua non in the progress and growth of any state. We have not yet felt the scarcity of physicians to the degree that it will most surely be felt unless measures are promptly taken to avoid it. The older physicians established in practice did not pass with the medical school. However, silently one by one they are passing and from whence come recruits to take up their burdens and carry on?

It seems almost incredible that something should not soon be done to reawaken and rejuvenate the old medical school. Those of us whose hopes and aspirations turn back to our native heath still believe that Maine will not shirk her responsibilities in safe guarding the welfare of those who labor in rural and remote sections that she maintain her position among sister states.

This is Dr. Chase's first visit to her Alma Mater since she graduated in 1909.

BOOK REVIEW

"Sport Stuff," by Rogmen Berry, recently read with interest by us, seems deserving of introduction to Maine alumni. "This is a book of thirty-seven essays dealing with the phenomena of youth, the amiable weaknesses of academic persons, and the explosive nature of graduate opinion on university matters."—Cornell Alumni News. The book costs $1.50 postpaid and may be secured from The University Store, Orono; the Alumni office or The Cayuga Press, Ithaca, N. Y.

THOMAS RILEY

Thomas Riley, football coach of the University of Maine varsity football teams from 1910-13 inclusive, died recently at Escanaba, Michigan, where he was a well known lawyer. While at Maine Mr. Riley produced three championship teams. He was about 48 years of age.

"Bob" Clark Alumni Secretary To Complete Duties in June

March 19, 1928

To all Maine Alumni:

Elsewhere in this issue of the Alumnus you will find an advertisement seeking applicants for a new Alumni Secretary. Most of you will wonder why. It is there because we are endeavoring to find a man to succeed Bob Clark, a man who will be as loyal to the job as Bob has been, and a man who will give of himself as Bob has done. This is not an easy task. Bob has, though, in the same fine spirit with which he does everything, given ample notice of his decision not to be a candidate for re-election in June.

We hope to use the time to good advantage in finding an able man who does "choose to run."

Very truly yours,

R. H. Fogler

E. E. Chase, Chairman,
The Executive Committee
Portland, Maine

Dear "Cy",

As I understand it I was employed by the alumni council as executive secretary of the General Alumni Association for the fiscal year, July 1, 1927 to June 30, 1928.

I herewith advise you that I am not, nor shall I be a candidate for this job again. This notice given at this time will give you ample time to find a new alumni secretary. I will of course be willing to continue if necessary until my successor is familiar with his duties.

Sincerely yours,

Robert P. Clark,
Alumni Secretary.

January 20, 1928

Mr. Robert P. Clark,
Alumni Secretary,
Orono, Maine.

Dear Bob:

Thank you for letting me know that you have decided not to be a candidate for re-election as Alumni Secretary. It will be quite a job to find a new man and your early decision should enable us to spend some time in looking over possible candidates for this job.

During your terms as Secretary I believe that there has been a great deal of progress made in alumni activities, and that we have taken long steps in working out basic policies and plans for future work among the alumni. It was my feeling when you took the job that no one really knew what was the purpose of the Alumni Association, or the larger duties of its officers. It seems to me that your successor in this office will have a great advantage from the knowledge which you have acquired and the data which you have collected. I believe that you have made some very important contributions to the work and the plans of the Alumni Association.

Sincerely yours,

E. E. Chase

Editorial

CONCERNING OUR CORRESPONDENCE SECTION

After years of effort to get individual alumni to express their opinions we rejoice in the avalanche of letters, telephone calls and personal visits that has enabled us to learn very clearly what certain alumni think about some of our alumni problems. By a careful analysis of all opinions and arguments we hope that the majority opinion of our alumni body can be determined.

Bernheisel's proposition to print the names of delinquent subscribers to the Memorial Fund in the Alumnus certainly started something. We have not the space to print many letters but we have chosen typical letters on each side of the question. If you feel strongly on the matter, one way or the other let us hear from you

When F.R.L. claimed he owed Maine nothing he too started something. But he is finding few who agree with him. Harry Sutton's letter and the editorial in the Maine Campus seem sufficient to close this matter.

Well, alumni, don't feel that you need confine your remarks to any particular subjects. If you have something on your mind pass it on to the rest of us via an open letter. The columns of the Alumnus are yours. Use them.

EMPLOYMENT FOR GRADUATES AND UNDERGRADUATES

Alumni so situated that they employ college graduates will do a real favor to the young Maine men graduating next June and to the University if they will advise this office of the nature of the job available and the qualifications desired in the applicants.

Summer work for undergraduates is also a matter with which we concern ourselves and cooperation will be appreciated.

EMPLOYMENT

Civil Engineers qualified and interested in an opening on the faculty of a New York institution as assistant professor of civil engineering at a salary of from $2500 to $3000. Write the Alumni office for further information.

LIBRARIAN WALKLEY LEAVING MAINE

Raymond L. Walkley, who has been librarian at the University since 1920, will leave at the close of the present college year to take charge of the reorganization of the Tufts College Library.

He graduated from Yale in 1909, and after two years of graduate study and teaching there, completed the course at the New York State Library School in Albany in 1913. After taking a temporary position in the library of the United States Bureau of Education in Washington, he went to Minneapolis in 1914, where he remained until he came to Maine, except for a leave of absence in 1917-18, when he organized the library at Camp Grant, Illinois.

MAINE AT THE 1928 CONCRETE INSTITUTE

Two Maine men had important parts in the 1928 Convention of the American Concrete Institute held at Philadelphia on Feb. 27, 28, 29 and March 1.

At the Research session, Raymond E. Davis, '08, Professor of Civil Engineering at the University of California, gave a paper on "Flow of Concrete under Sustained Compressive Stress" and also took a leading part in the discussion of other papers. In addition to his duties in the Civil Engineering Department, Mr. Davis is Consulting Engineer on a large new building program and has been visiting other universities in that connection during the past few weeks.

At the Design Session, Arthur R. Lord '07, President of Lord and Holinger, Inc., Civil and Architectural Engineers, Chicago, gave a paper on "Design and Cost Data for the 1928 Joint Building Code." This is the longest paper ever printed by the Institute, running to 146 pages. At the banquet Mr. Lord was awarded the Wason Medal for his 1927 paper on "Notes on Concrete, Wachter Drive, Chicago." The Wason medal is awarded annually for "the most meritorious paper" presented at the preceding convention. Mr. Lord represents the Middle West on the Board of Direction of the Institute.

BETA THETA PI BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

The finals of the Intra-Mural basketball tournament were played recently with Beta Theta Pi winning the silver basketball offered by the Intra-Mural A.A. for the champion team. Kappa Sigma, fresh from a two point victory over Phi Kappa, winner of the Southern League, entered the finals the under team. The end of the half found the Betas far in the lead with a score of 21-6. But in the second half the Kappa Sigs, led on by the sterling playing of Lee Stevens, matched point for point with the Betas, and the game ended 37-22 in favor of the Betas, who has not lost a game this season.

ALUMNAE DAY IS SUCCESS

The second annual alumnae day was held Saturday, February 25. In the afternoon from three to five, a tea was given in Balentine Hall to welcome the alumni. Members of the Pan-Hellenic Association were hostesses and the receiving line was made up of representatives from different sororities on the campus.

In the evening two basketball games were held; one between the alumnae and varsity teams and the other between the freshmen and Brewer High School teams. The varsity-alumnae game was full of fun and good spirit, the varsity naturally winning by a rather wide margin. But the fight to the finish was the freshmen-Brewer game, the freshmen winning 24-22. After the games, refreshments were served in the sunparlor of Balentine in honor of the visiting team and alumnae.

This idea which was started last year, is being sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association and in the future they plan to hold it in conjunction with Maine night so that more alumnae will be able to attend.

The Spirit of Service

An Advertisement of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company

IN JULY, 1926, lightning struck the Navy Arsenal at Denmark Lake, New Jersey. The explosion demolished the $80,000,000 plant, rocked the countryside, left thousands homeless and many dead. While the community fled in terror, fresh explosions hurled fragments of shell and debris far and wide.

High upon the roster of those who responded to the call of duty were the telephone workers. Operators in the danger zone stayed at their posts. Those who had left for the day and others on vacation, on their own initiative, hurried back to help handle the unprecedented volume of calls. Linemen and repairmen braved exploding shells to restore the service. Within a little over an hour emergency telephone service was established, invaluable in caring for the victims and in mobilizing forces to fight the fire which followed. In spite of repeated warnings of danger still threatening, no telephone worker left the affected area.

Through each of the day's twenty-four hours, the spirit of service is the heritage of the thousands of men and women who have made American telephone service synonymous with dependability. In every emergency, it is this spirit that causes Bell System employees to set aside all thought of personal comfort and safety and, voluntarily, risk their lives to "Get the message through."

SERENITY

What is it worth?

If you have known serenity of the mind, even once for a short time only, you will know that it is priceless.

But there are those who can sell you for a small part of your income one of the most direct steps to this serenity—they can sell you security, material security for the future.

They are life insurance agents.

They sell a priceless commodity at low cost. When a John Hancock Agent calls on you, remember this. It is worth while seeing him. Better still, it is worth your while to send for him and set your mind at rest on this score at once.

WHY 40% of the men who have enrolled for the Modern Business Course and Service are

COLLEGE MEN

FIFTY years ago a man could reasonably hope for success in business if he was willing to work hard for twenty or thirty years to get it.

Today many men attain prosperity in the same slow way. But today there is a new factor in business progress. The men who are succeeding while they are still young are the men who have sensed its development.

Business has made enormous strides in the last decade. The mere specialist can no longer hold his own against the executive who is familiar with all departments of business. The successful man must understand the relation of each department of his business to every other department. He must understand the relation of his business to every other business.

The problem of making this knowledge available to business men has been a difficult one. The universities have done what they could. They have established business schools with courses covering every field of business.

But what about the man who is already actively engaged in business—the man who knows there are weak spots in his knowledge, but cannot possibly take the time to attend one of the university schools of business?

Nineteen years ago the late Joseph French Johnson, Dean of the School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance of New York University, realized the gravity of this problem. He conceived the plan of a faculty including both college teachers and business men, and a Course so arranged that any man might follow it effectively in his own home.

Thus began the Alexander Hamilton Institute.

In nineteen years more than 300,000 business men have enrolled. Over 40% of them are college men, and 38,000 are presidents of successful businesses.

Why are 40% college men? The answer is simple. College men know the value of systematic training. Naturally they have been quick to appreciate the value of this authentic Course which gives them in two years the broad business knowledge most men take a lifetime to acquire.

If you are a college man, we will gladly send you a copy of "Forging Ahead in Business." This interesting little book gives all the facts about the Modern Business Course and Service. Thousands of college men have profited from the story it tells. Use the coupon below.

Of course he is happy about it. And any classmate of yours will be delighted to have you phone him when you are in his town and have some time to kill. Particularly if you have not seen each other for years... This is only one of the pleasant things that the Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels make possible. At each of these hotels is an index of the resident alumni of your college. When you are travelling and have a moment to spare, this index is a treasure trove of information for reviving friendships that mean much to you... Stop at Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels when you travel. You will enjoy the experience. And you will be helping the Alumni Office in furthering the work which it is doing.

GALLEY SLAVES

WITH ACHING BODIES stung by a whip-lash, the galley slaves forced their clumsy boats along. A tragic picture!

And to-day, by contrast, the electric motors of one American electric ship have the combined energy of a million men and drive thousands of tons of steel through the water at amazing speed.

Electric motors are modern slaves that shoulder the hard tasks of life, moving materials, speeding machinery, lifting burdens from the backs of men.

On sea or land, in industry, at home or on the farm, electricity is the great civilizer.

Three hundred galley slaves, pulling hard on the oars, could generate power. Yet one G-E thirty-horsepower motor would have moved the ship faster. There are General Electric motors that wash and iron clothes; that sweep floors; that turn tiny lathes or mighty machinery. Look for the G-E emblem on electric equipment—it is a guarantee of service.
