TWENTY CENTS

"I'm glad you 'phoned me, Jim!"

Of course he is happy about it. And any classmate of yours will be delighted to have you phone him when you are in his town and have some time to kill. Particularly if you have not seen each other for years... This is only one of the pleasant things that the Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels make possible. At each of these hotels is an index of the resident alumni of your college. When you are travelling and have a moment to spare, this index is a treasure trove of information for reviving friendships that mean much to you... Stop at Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels when you travel. You will enjoy the experience. And you will be helping the Alumni Office in furthering the work which it is doing.

The Alumni Viewpoint

A GOOD LETTER THAT SAYS "WATCH YOUR STEP"

My dear Mr Clark

I have just finished reading the Alumni opinions on the first page of the March issue with reference to publishing lists of Alumni who are delinquent in their payments to the Memorial Fund. I cannot refrain from expressing my hearty agreement with Mr. W R Pattangall and my frank disagreement with Mr Stevens' suggestion.

At the time of reading the original suggestion the writer happened to have some payments over due to this fund, and instead of the proposal to publish the names of delinquents in any way acting as a spur to complete the payments, the writer was at first inclined to further defer sending forward the balance.

There is no question but that this drive was of the "high pressure type." It is quite common for such drives to have a tendency to induce over-subscription and as a result of this the loss due to non-payments is found to be more, as the subscribers were unable to use their best judgment as to their ability to donate. There is nothing whatever gained by publishing lists of this kind where the parties are spread over a wide range geographically and the publishing of the list has no immediate effect on them as regards the persons with whom they daily come in contact. Delinquent club dues are frequently published with good effect, but there the delinquents are usually in daily contact with their fellow members and the lists actually exert pressure. In this case instead of producing any favorable results certain men who do wish to meet their payments but are unable to do so may rightly be "peevied" and their future support lost.

During my college days I remember distinctly my efforts in soliciting Alumni support for one or more projects and my keen disappointment that they were not able to come across to a greater degree. Since then as an Alumnus I have come to understand the viewpoint of those who did not support these projects. The University furnishes the main interest of the undergraduates. The Alumnus on the other hand finds many calls on him not only from his family but from the ever increasing number of activities connected with his daily life. It is just as essential for him to support these latter as it is for him to support his University. Those who are soliciting funds from Alumni for University purposes should bear this in mind and should not be prone to criticise unduly those who may be unable by force of circumstances to meet their committed obligations.

Certainly those who subscribed to the Memorial Fund within their ability to pay will in time come across. Those who subscribed in excess of this ability should not be expected to come across by just the amount of the excess.

Yours very truly,
E. L. Milliken, '08

COLD FACTS FROM THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Robert P. Clark
Alumni Secretary
Orono, Maine
Dear Bob.

The proposal to publish the list of names of alumni subscribers to the Memorial Fund who are delinquent in their payments has aroused a good deal of interest, and possibly some consternation. Of course, there is a great deal to be said upon this suggestion, and the Alumni Council will consider this matter at the June meeting, when the Memorial Fund problems are being considered.

Roy Stevens says in his letter that the alumni have been kept in the dark about this Memorial Fund business. I feel sure that nothing important has been or will be concealed from any alumnus who makes an inquiry. To publish a report broadcast would make public property of many faults which we hope may be cured before the final wind-up of the campaign. June 1, 1928 is the final date when all pledges should have been made good, and shortly after that date a full report covering the whole matter will be made. Whether this report should contain a list of delinquents is to be decided.

It should be remembered, however, that from the beginning we have been committed to the publication of the names of the alumni who have paid, as these names are to be recorded in a book which is to be kept in the Gymnasium Armory as a permanent record.

Doubtless there are some alumni who are honestly unable to pay their pledges at this time. Everything possible must be done to avoid hurting them. However, when an alumnus has been delinquent for two years, and has failed to make any excuse, or to pay any attention to letters and notices, it is difficult to continue to protect the honor of that person or to think that he or she is entitled to special consideration.

If, in the light of his own knowledge of his own condition, every delinquent alumnus would ask himself the question, "What is honorable for me to do?" and would thereupon make his decision and act upon it, the dismal part of the collection work would be all over, and I am pretty sure we could start on the gymnasium building section this year.

Sincerely yours,
E. E. Chase,
Chairman Executive Committee

COMMENCEMENT AND THE CLASS OF 1888

316 Beale St.,
Wollaston, Mass.,
14 April, 1928

My dear Classmate.

The Commencement of 1928 will mark the 40th Anniversary of the graduation of the Class of 1888 from the University of Maine. During that somewhat extended period, there has never been an organized effort to assemble the surviving members of the Class on the campus, and the only time, to my knowledge, when more than two members were present at Commencement was on the 20th Anniversary, in 1908.

Of the twenty-three graduates, nine are recorded as deceased: Batchelder, Butler, Elwell, Hancock, Miller, Philbrook, Rogers, Small and Smith, leaving fourteen survivors.

May it not be possible for some of us to meet together once more on the campus during the coming Commencement, June 8th to 11th inclusive, with the first date the most important of the group? Cannot you arrange to be present? I will assume the obligation of reporting to the surviving members of the Class, not later than May 20th, the response to this letter.

Sincerely yours,
Fred L. Eastman '88

CROSBY LABORATORY

THE STORY OF COMMENCEMENT THIS JUNE

The program for Commencement while not complete at this time, already promises the most attractive features yet held on the Maine campus. High lights are a varsity baseball game, an event on the program which has always been colorful and of much interest to returning alumni and the appearance of the Bangor band.

Class reunions are being held by eleven classes, 1873, 1878, 1883, 1888, and so on to 1923 which class is holding its first five year reunion. Class secretaries are making good progress on plans for reunions.

The younger alumni will enjoy the two free dances given by the committee, a Student Hop on Friday and an Alumni Hop following the banquet on Saturday. Both alumni and students are invited to these hops and last year they were well patronized and much enjoyed. The best of music will add to the pleasure of these dances.

Each year more and more undergraduates stay over for Commencement. This makes the occasion happier for all concerned as the students are needed to complete the University family.

Saturday, June 9th, is Alumni Day. From morning until night the day will be full of interest and pleasure. Alumni who cannot take in all of the Commencement program should surely make every effort to be on the campus Saturday. It is the day of the "old timer."

Entertaining alumni returning for Commencement has always been a problem at Maine. This year every preparation to have suitable lodgings available is being made. A list of available hotels and lodging houses with their rates will be available soon so that the alumnus may reserve quarters to fit both his pocketbook and inclination. For those desiring economical quarters or rooms on the campus, sections of the dormitories will be set aside for their use and meals can be had in the dormitory dining rooms.

The complete program will appear in the May Alumnus. Now is the time to encourage your class secretary by writing him that you are "going back". Write the Alumni office for any information.

1908 FACTS AND FANCIES

"Hello, Bill—put it there. Well, well, Bill old Horse, how are you anyway? Hey, Skim, come on over here and inspect this old fossil I just dug out down between the Waiting-Room and the Library. Honest Cats I think the thing was buried the night of our Freshman Pond Scrap. What's that you say, Skim, you mean to tell me this relic is Merle Sturtevant. Of all things, would you have thunk it. Come on, Boys, let's go up into the belfry put back the tongue we stole in 1904 and ring out the glad news to the world that Ye Ancient Class of 1908 is holding its Twentieth Reunion. Come punch along Ditto, you are just wasting your breath talking we all know that you had nothing to do with leading sheep into Boardman's rooms it was those devils Beedle and Morrison that pulled the string on that deal. Why Bill Cobb if it hadn't been for the live wires in the Electric Department the University of Maine would never have known there was a class of 1908. Hey Kids cut out chewing the rag and let's be glad its June 1928 and our Twentieth Reunion. That's it boy and it sure does seem good to grow young once more.

Come on '08 let's show the rest how to hold a Reunion. Watch the May Alumnus for complete program."

PHI KAPPA HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

The Phi Kappa fraternity house, located on Park Street, was destroyed by fire late last Sunday evening. Twenty men occupied the house and most of them were at home when the flames were discovered. Nearly all of the occupants of the house were in bed sleeping at the time, only two being up.

A faulty chimney is responsible for the disaster, flames from this spreading to closet and thru the frame of the house before they were discovered.

The "ram" or sleeping room of the house was located on the upper floor, and a narrow flight of stairs was the only means of ascending to or descending from it. When the sleeping men were awakened by the cry of the one who discovered the fire they at first thought it to be a joke, since the freshman-sophomore antics of the past week had not completely died down. But when they realized that the room was full of smoke they decided that it was not a joke, and panic-stricken, they rushed for the stairs, grasping the few clothes they could find near at hand.

The rooms on the third floor were burning briskly and there was no chance of saving any of the things in them. The Orono fire department was immediately called, but due to the bad road and the slow laying of hose, it was unable to get control of the fire until it was a seething mass of flames. The students tried to put the blaze out and many of them were severely burned. When they discovered that the flames were spreading so fast they proceeded to save what few things they could get. A few of the boys were able to get their possessions together and save them, by throwing them through windows. The majority, however, lost everything or nearly everything they owned. Clothes, books, fraternity pins, rings and shingles, watches, pictures, and all the other paraphernalia of the average college student went up in smoke. What the flames missed the icy water spoiled. A few of the boys had insurance, but the majority did not.

The members of the fraternity are now living at the other houses on the campus and in Orono. It is probable that they will build as soon as arrangements can be made.

PLUMBERS' CONFERENCE AT MAINE

The University of Maine recognizes its twofold responsibility to the people of the state. To function properly it must not only direct the youthful minds on the campus, but must serve the adult minds beyond the campus by carrying its learning and inspiration to the uttermost parts of the state in a practical service. To this end the College of Technology through its department of Civil Engineering in conjunction with the University Extension Division has invited the Maine State Association of Master Plumbers to cooperate in a two day conference to be held at the University of Maine, June 12-13, 1928.

124 ATTEND NEW YORK ALUMNI DINNER

The Annual Dinner of the New York Alumni Association was held March 2nd, at the 'Town Hall Club,' 123 West 43rd St., New York City. "Dan" Chase '08, Chairman of the Dinner Committee, was successful in getting out one of the largest groups in recent years—124 being present.

Howard Kinsey, popular song leader, led in the singing of many old Maine Songs. Stackpole led the cheering from early until late, and Lande's Orchestra, consisting of six pieces, entertained throughout the evening. Dancing was enjoyed after the usual exchange of greeting.

The class of '07, with 6 out of a possible 10 present, won the attendance prize—a peck of peanuts. The class of 1890 won honorable mention by having its only New York member, H. P. Farrington, present. The peanuts went to the '07 members as the prize was limited to an attendance of at least three.

President Treworgy introduced Dr. Allen Rogers '97, who acted as Toastmaster. After entertaining remarks, Mr. Rogers called first on Ex-Governor Carl E. Milliken, LLD Maine, 1919. The Ex-Governor related many interesting experiences gathered from his extensive travels throughout the State of Maine. He called on all Maine men and women to do their share in spreading the traditions and ideals of our State and our University. Mr. Milliken is Secretary of the Motion Pictures Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., located at 469 Fifth Ave., New York City.

Paul Cloke, Dean of the College of Technology, made his first appearance before the New York Alumni. He told us how proud he is of his faculty and how much pleased he is with the cooperation he receives from the State in engineering research and study.

On introducing Dr. J. S. Ferguson '89, the Toastmaster remarked that while he was growing older, 'Jerry' Ferguson was growing younger. In his usual youthful spirit, Dr. Ferguson told the folks about college days of forty years ago.

As 'Bub' Fogler, Pres. of the General Alumni Association was called to Maine on account of illness in the family, 'Dan' Chase said he would 'pinch hit' for him. Mr. Chase gave all the latest news from the campus relative to athletics and student activities.

President Boardman gave his usual inspiring talk. He told what the University is now doing and how it hopes to improve its service to the State in the future. Everyone was deeply impressed by 'Prex's' words of assurance that the University is heading toward greater things than ever before.

Windsor P. Daggett, former Professor of Public Speaking was a guest of the evening. Mr. Daggett's studio is located at 228 West 72nd St., New York City.

The following officers for the ensuing year were announced by A. D. T. Libby '98, Chairman of Electing Committee:

President, A. M. Knowles, '04.
First Vice President, G. L. Freeman, '03.

Second Vice President, Daniel Chase, '08.

S.A.E. HOUSE HAS A SMALL FIRE

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house was damaged April 23rd, by fire which broke out in a closet of one of the students' rooms on the second floor

This is the second blaze among the Maine fraternity houses within a week, for the Phi Kappa house was burned the week before.

The fire was discovered shortly after three o'clock when one of the doors on the second floor was opened, the smoke pouring out in great volume, and within a few minutes the members of the fraternity had formed a bucket brigade.

The blaze had gained such headway, however, that a general alarm was sent in from the campus and after a hard fight the fire was under control.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS

Prospects for another championship baseball team here at Maine this spring looked mighty slim a month ago, as Coach Brice had but three letter men back and six places must be filled by men of little or no experience in college baseball. However, the Indoor Field proved to be a big help and the boys have been working hard every night since March 5th. Brice's big problem has been the pitching staff Goudy who hurled a couple of games last year was the only prospect with any experience Moore, last year's freshman pitcher, who was expected to do a lion's share of the work on the mound went ineligible along with five other pitching candidates leaving the outlook darker than ever.

Due to weather conditions and the clay soil of our athletic field, the team was not able to get out in the open until April 12th, just a week before the first game. This gave Coach Brice a chance to look over his outfielders for the first time. He found eight men of about the same talent in the gardens and has been flipping the coin in his mind ever since as to which ones should be chosen the three. Buzzell and Airoidi seem to have the edge on the rest as far as sticking goes and will probably hold down two of the fields at least half of the time. Lathrop, Hayden, Donahue, Ellis and the two Palmer brothers are showing great promise and make the outfield to appear in the State Series very uncertain as yet.

At first base it looked as though Stewart, last year's relief initial sacker, would do the honors, however, Plummer who captured the last year's freshman team from short stop has proven himself a real batter and is doing a good job at first base now in spite of the fact that he has had no experience whatsoever in that position.

At second two sophomores, Corbett and Wescott, are having a hot fight. They appear about evenly matched in every department of the game and will probably alternate all season, Wescott playing against right handed pitching and Corbett against left. Captain Nanigian is doing his usual good job at short and seems to have his batting eye of two years ago. True, who played third most of last season is back in the hot corner and Brice is doing no worrying over that portion of the infield. Hamilton, veteran of two seasons is stopping them behind the bat and has a worthy assistant in Coltart who is also filling in as a relief first baseman Colby, Bates and Bowdoin have many veterans back and at the present time the outlook for anyone is mighty uncertain. All the Maine teams make southern trips and will get a lot of experience against fast teams before the series starts in earnest

The Maine team which faced Colby at Waterville with Goudy and Wass in the box looked rather weak in the field, probably due to the fast infield, but to offset this the ball was given a good beating and a total of ten hits crashed out including a homer, two triples and a double Goudy allowed Colby only three hits in the first five innings but they got to him in the sixth and ran their total up to seven. Wass who relieved Goudy in the seventh was not having a very good day and seven more hits were added to the Colby total before the game ended 10-9 Colby. Airoidi, Buzzell and Nanigian looked the best for Maine at bat.

On Saturday the 21st Maine took Bates into camp 4-2 here at Orono. Two green pitchers, Taft and Peakes, did the twirling and allowed Bates, reputed to be a heavy hitting team, only four hits in the afternoon. The Maine team looked fine in the field but only got four hits, thus keeping the score down.

COLBY TAKES EXHIBITION PATRIOTS' DAY GAME

Out-hitting the University of Maine almost two to one, Colby defeated Fred Brice's forces in an exhibition game here today, 10 to 9. Very little real baseball resulted from the efforts of the clubs as a raw wind swept the field and made playing conditions very unsatisfactory.

Heavy hitting featured the battle with Deetjen's home-run smash over the left-field fence giving Colby the lead in the seventh. Two were on bases at the time Airoidi, Buzzell, Klusic, and Nanigian all connected for three baggers. Both clubs fielded poorly at times but nine of Colby's ten runs were earned by their heavy hitting.

Goudy pitched fine ball for Maine but Wass was not as fortunate. The Colby heavy artillery pounced on his offerings to make up a three run lead and then started to leave Maine in the rear.

MAINE 4—BATES 2

University of Maine got a 4 to 2 decision over Bates in a prelim set-to at Orono Saturday afternoon, April 21. The field was rather betetr than expected and the weather not so bad—for the time of year. In fact, it was rather an entertaining afternoon.

Ea chteam tried out two pitchers. All four went surprisingly good for so early in the season, and there was nothing much started in the way of a batting rampage. The moundsmen were changed to save their arms. The hitting was even.

Taft started for Maine and he had the Bobcat sluggers plainly puzzled. Harry Peakes went the last three innings without disaster. For Bates, a couple of Lubec boys appeared—Bernard Marston, a southpaw, and Giroux, right-hander. Both looked good.

Maine, however, had a shade the better of the stick-work as Bates turned in nothing better than singles, Texas leaguers, while for Maine, Buzzell and Plummer whaled out lusty three-bag slams and Buzzell and Lathrop also got singles. The Bates outfielders had seven putouts showing that the Brice batters were not entirely paralyzed.

Upon the whole Maine's showing was encouraging.

The score.

TRACK PROSPECTS

The Spring Track season opens with the squad in fine shape, and the possibilities of a championship team. We do not promise anything, but everyone on the squad is working towards a victory in the Maine Intercollegiate.

In the 100 yd. dash, Berenson and Styrmist furnish close competition and it is still in doubt who is the best, Berenson having a tender leg that is being nursed. Bixby showed fine improvement in the interclass games and he must be considered.

Berenson has been showing the best in the 220 yd. dash throughout the year, but with his tender leg there is some doubt of his coming through. "Win" Niles has always been strong in this event and will surely be heard from.

Porter's recent victory over Niles in the 440 yd. dash in close running gives hope that the senior will improve our standing in this event. Tolman has been a close third all spring.

In the 880 yd. run there is very close competition among Mank, Larsen and Austin. It seems that a 2 minute man will show from this group.

MacNaughton, Lindsey and Cushing look good in the mile and with MacNaughton showing to advantage over the others it seems that a new U. of Maine record may be made in this event.

Richardson, in the two mile run, is holding his own by a considerable margin over Stinson and Benson.

The high hurdles is an event in which we know little about the relative merits of the competitors, first place fluctuating between Chandler, Parks, and Jones. Competition is so keen, we hope to produce one man to place in the State Meet, Bowdoin being conceded two places at least with Lucas, Green, and Scott.

An effort is being made to fill Dan Torrey's shoes in the 220 yd. low hurdles, with Jones, Caldwell, and Fred Thompson being groomed to work in this event.

Cuzzo and O'Connor are doing a better job in the high jump than we have seen for years, but a third place in the Maine Intercollegiate will be doing well.

In the broad jump, Caldwell's work has slightly improved over last years, and this season will find him duplicating his past performances.

Harding and Beckler are alternately leading in the pole vault, each doing well, and we hope to score in this event as we did last year. Lovejoy, though not as classy as the others, may pull up into a strong contender.

In the shot put, Capt Sam Thompson has never failed as yet, and has one of the greatest records ever made around here. He has never lost a first place and we are counting on him again. Rip Black is doing an all-around service for us and will no doubt run second to Sam, although we are not asking too much of him.

Rip Black is daily outdoing his best of last year throwing the hammer. Mose Nanigian, in his time off from baseball, is working into second place. Peabbles is striving hard to get into the summaries.

The largest single field of competitors is in the discus throw, and this has resulted in an advancement in the returns. Earl Gowell, Rip Black, Hathaway, and Sam Thompson are the leaders in this event.

Rip Black looks like the top heavy favorite in the javelin throw. Lambert, Adams, and Stalmuke, though a matter of some yards behind Rip's best, are still hopes for at least a point in the State Meet.

In summing up we do feel that Maine has the best all-around team that it has had for years, and we hope to show the best balanced team in Maine's history.

IF CRANDALL HAD BITTEN THE MUSKRAT?

A Malden paper recently told in display type of an adventure that befell a Maine alumnus of the class of 1915.

J. Stuart Crandall Kills Muskrat Which Attacked and Bit Him in Ankle

"J. Stuart Crandall of Hawthorne St., brother of Pres. Crandall of the Common Council, had an unusual experience when going home late Monday evening. He was at the head of Hawthorne St. when a muskrat ran out from a nearby lot and attacked him, biting him in the ankle. Crandall lost no time in killing the animal. He went to Dr. Staples, who cauterized the wound. No serious results are anticipated."

In the Day's Work

An Advertisement of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company

THE Mississippi was rising sullenly—ripping jagged crevasses in even the most stoutly built levees, inundating wide areas of farm lands, making thousands homeless.

At one of the many towns facing the crisis, a break came spreading ruin through the streets. A government steamer rescued 900 refugees, but the four telephone operators refused to forsake their posts. The telephone company notified the operators that they were not expected to stay. Friends warned them to leave at once. They decided to remain on duty, and the exchange was the only thing in town that continued to carry on.

The world hears little of “the spirit of service” until times of emergency and disaster . . . when a flood on the Mississippi or in New England, a storm in Florida or St. Louis commands the attention of the whole nation. But behind the scenes this spirit is always present. Each hour of every day, telephone calls of life or death importance speed over the wires of the nation-wide system, and telephone users confidently rely upon the loyalty and devotion to duty of the men and women who make this service possible.

“Get the message through.” That is the daily work of the more than 310,000 Bell System employees.

When a King forgot

KING ALFRED the Great, compelled to flee from his enemies, took refuge in the hut of a peasant. There he was set to watch the cakes as they baked on the hot stones; but lost in dreams of restoring his shattered kingdom, he allowed the cakes to burn; and was roundly scolded for his carelessness.

Not only huge bake ovens, but furnaces for heat-treating steel, melting pots, and dryers are among the many applications of electric heat. Unless you have been in touch with developments during the last year, there is probably some job in your plant that electric heat can do better. Let the General Electric Company's specialists help you—as they have helped hundreds of others—to substantial economies and improved production through the application of electric heat.

Crude implements for baking—those hot stones; and even when ovens came into use, almost equal care was necessary. Success depended on close watching of temperature and time.

But now, in this age of precise methods, electric heat—dependable and automatically controlled—has made baking an exact science. The largest modern bakeries are installing electrically heated ovens, and housewives are finding electric ranges a boon to their daily work. In every industrial plant and in every home, there are opportunities to use electric heat, with a financial saving and to the betterment of the product.
