VCS Robotics places 2nd in state championship, proposes bat houses for Veazie

The VCS Robotics Team has had quite a year, and there's more to come.

The team started the year by taking second place in the Robot Performance category at the First Lego League’s regional qualifying competition in Jay in November.

Then, at the state competition in Augusta in December, the team placed second once again in the Robot Performance category but won the Innovative Solution Award for their project to help control the fly insect population around Veazie by introducing bat houses.

The project was based on First Lego League’s theme for the year, “City Shapers.”

Throughout this theme, middle school robotics teams are asked to identify a need in the community, create a solution to that ongoing problem, and then pitch their ideas to judges using models, maps and written materials.

The VCS team made a presentation on their bat house proposal to the Veazie Town Council on February 10. It was the same presentation they made to the First Lego League judges at the state competition.

Town Manager Mark Leonard said the Council approved the plan and asked him to work with the students on the best location for the bat house or bat houses.

“We’ll probably look at Riverside Park, along with other locations around the town that the Robotics Team might think are beneficial,” he said.

Robotics Team member Lana Friess, a 7th grader, said the team brainstormed about the City Shapers project.

“We were asked to think about real-life problems that communities face,” she said. “We said bats are a real-life problem, and bats can help the town get rid of them.”

VCS honored as Blue Ribbon Lighthouse School

Veazie Community School has been named a Blue Ribbon Lighthouse School, based on a lengthy assessment process by the Blue Ribbon Schools of Excellence (BRSE) that involved administrators, teachers, parents, and students.

The assessment covered nine different performance categories, and VCS met the criteria for all of them.

“We are deeply honored to receive this recognition,” said VCS Principal and Superintendent of Schools Matt Cyr. “This is truly a reflection of the dedication, hard work, and support of our students, staff, parents, and the entire Veazie Community.”

Peter Metcalf promoted to Veazie Fire Chief

Pete Metcalf, Assistant Fire Chief in Veazie for the past five years, has been promoted to Fire Chief, effective January 1, 2020.

Previously, Town Manager Mark Leonard had also served as both Fire Chief and Police Chief.

Now, Pete is formally in charge of fire and emergency medical service (EMS) protection for the community, while Mark retains his Police Chief responsibilities.

Chief Metcalf says the change will have minimal impact on the Veazie Fire Department.

He said the Town Manager (who he always referred to as “Chief”) had left most decisions regarding day-to-day operations and fire operations to Pete and the other full-time firefighter, Lt. Nick Siruis.

“Last year, he felt it was time for him to step back from the fire responsibilities and put them onto me to ensure more continuity within the department,” Chief Metcalf said.

“If people have questions or concerns, they can come to me directly rather than go to Chief [Leonard].”

Chief Metcalf says one of his priorities as the Fire Chief will be to continue the department’s efforts at recruiting and retention.

“Staffing will always be an issue in the fire service,” he says. “We see part-time and volunteer firefighting on decline across the country. We hope we can beat that and still maintain a good level of on-call firefighters. We look forward to recruiting new firefighters and retaining who we have.”

Chief Metcalf said the department is also looking for ways to enhance our presence and engage.

The department currently has an emergency room physician on our staff—Dr. Jonathan Busko—a medical responder who helps us make sure that we’re trained appropriately from a medical standpoint.” Chief Metcalf says it will be a while before the public sees any changes. “We’re still working on this,” he says. “We’re about a year away from implementation.”

Chief Metcalf joined the Veazie Fire Department as a part-time on-call firefighter in 1995 and became a full-time fire captain in 2002. During that period, he served as Fire and Life Safety Educator for the Bangor Fire Department, a full-time job that took him out of the active firefighting ranks. “I didn’t want to leave firefighting altogether,” he said. “To keep my fire experience active, I came to Veazie as a part-time on-call firefighter.”

Chief Metcalf started as a volunteer firefighter in Berlin, Massachusetts, near Worcester, in 1988, after graduating from high school. Later that year, he enrolled at the University of Maine and joined the University Fire Department. When UMaine discontinued the student-run fire department, he transitioned to the Orono Fire Department as a call firefighter. He then completed some fire science classwork at Eastern Maine Community College and was hired full time at Orono from 1995 to 1998. In 2018, Chief Metcalf completed his B.S. degree in Fire Administration at Columbia Southern University.

The Bangor Band will hold one of its summer concerts here in Veazie on Aug. 4, 2020. The band is one of the oldest in the country. It is made up of people young and old from the greater Bangor area. If you have not heard them in the past you have missed a great concert. The concert will be held at the ball field behind the Veazie Community Center at 7 p.m. This is a free concert; however, the band will have a drum in place for donations to help support its expenses.

Town Manager’s message:

Mild winter; 3 named Employees of the Year; Budget planning begins; Commodity boxes and meal deliveries; Davis Field; Bangor Gas; Stormwater permit audit; Facebook, Twitter, and listserve

Happy Winter!

The groundhog saw his shadow, so they tell us Spring will be here sooner rather than later. I would like to take credit for this mild weather, as I bought a new snowmobile this winter and to date I only have just over 200 miles on it. Possibly a new motor-cycle may have been a better purchase. With all that said, we have been fortunate—or unfortunate if you like snow like I do—this winter with low amounts of snow-fall.

Although we haven’t had much snow, we have used a lot of salt due to ice. The Town’s contractor, Lou Silver has done a good job clearing the snow and making the roadways passable. If you have a comment or concern regarding snow plowing, I urge you to contact the Town Office or the contractor directly.

As a reminder, if your mailbox is damaged or destroyed by the plow, the Town has a Mailbox Replacement Policy in effect. The contractor will make every effort to temporarily fix the mailbox so you will continue to receive mail. The permanent repairs and/or replacement will be taken care of once the weather allows.

During the staff Christmas party, employees from the Town Office, Police Department and Fire Department were recognized for their hard work and dedication to the Town of Veazie. I would like to congratulate Julie Strout from the Town Office, Jacob Reese from the Fire Department, and Eugene Fizzell from the Police Department, who were selected by their peers as Employees of the Year. All three do great work and go above and beyond for the community. A plaque showcasing these recipients is displayed in each department.

Department Heads and Members of the Budget Committee have met with the Council and received direction on FY 2021 budget. This year we are focusing on building our reserve accounts. The Budget Committee has 5 active members who will do an outstanding job. Bill Masters was selected to Chair the Committee and Jon Plummer was selected as the Secretary. I encourage residents to attend the Budget Committee meetings, as they are open to the public. If you would like to attend a future meeting, the schedule is posted on the Town’s website.

It is also time to start thinking about paving projects. I have met with the paving contractor to determine which roads need to be paved. I will present the findings to the Council at a future meet-ning so a decision can be made as to which roads will be addressed in the spring. Last year, we were able to rebuild Wedgewood Drive and will continue this project with the complete rebuild of Sunset Drive this year.

We continue to pass out commodities boxes to residents who are 60 years and older. The commodity boxes contain approximately 30 pounds of food and are provided by Eastern Maine Community Agency on Aging at no cost to residents. We currently provide food to 12-14 citizens. I would like to see this program grow. If you would like more information, please contact either Eastern Maine Agency on Aging or myself.

Another program I would like to mention is the meal delivery progress the Police Department participates in. The meals are prepared by Eastern Maine Community College and distributed from the Parker Dining House in Orono and by Eastern Area Agency on Aging or myself.

As most are aware, Bangor Gas is supplying natural gas to residents throughout Town. This project is being done in two phases. Bangor Gas is happy with the results from phase 1, and phase 2 is scheduled to begin in the spring. The Town Office and Community Center have been converted to natural gas. If you are interested in converting to gas, I would recommand you contact Bangor Gas soon for this Spring install.

In a previous issue I spoke about preparing for a stormwater permit audit. I am happy to report that we passed the audit. This is due in part to the hard work of staff and Stillwater Environmental Engineering.

I am amazed at the transformation. I drive through the development numerous times a month and am amazed at the transformation.

Sarah Hutchinson, Veazie’s ‘live-in student firefighter’ prepares to graduate in May Sarah Hutchinson of Linneus, ME, has been the Veazie Fire Department’s “live-in student” since August and will continue in that role until May.

Sarah, who graduated from Hodgdon High School in 2018, is in her last semester at Eastern Maine Community College, studying criminal justice.

As a live-in student, Sarah works regular shifts around her school schedule during the week and works every other weekend. During her time here, Sarah gets practical work experience, training, and school credit towards her degree.

Upon returning to the fire station, which is her home for the school year. Although the fire service is her final career, it has given her exposure to public safety and the interaction between police, fire and EMS.

Fire Chief Pete Metcalf says it’s a win-win situation for both Sarah and the town.

“It works out really well for us, because our live-in student gives us an extra person during the day and also someone here at night who can respond to calls while the remaining crews are coming from home,” Chief Metcalf says.

Sarah started in August, when she spent two weeks at the Penobscot County Fire Academy. Then she had a week off, and started classes at EMCC in September.

She says she’s enjoying her experience as a firefighter, but at this point, her career goal is in law enforcement, probably as a patrol officer.

“I don’t know exactly where I want to go in the law enforcement field yet, but I’ll probably start as a patrol officer,” she says.

When she’s on duty at the fire station, she works from 7 a.m. until she’s at the fire station—doing school work, relaxing, and sleeping—but she’s available to respond to night calls.

Chief Metcalf says she does have time off, with days away from the fire station.

“We encourage students to make sure they have time for themselves,” he says. “We want them to get some firefighting experience, but we also understand that they have a life, and we don’t want them to get burned out.”

When she graduates in May, Sarah says she is thinking about attending the police Reserve School, which means that she could work part-time for a police department to see if that’s what she wants to do for a career choice.

She says she’d like to stay in the Bangor area, but notes that she doesn’t have anything holding her to one place and is keeping her options open.

Town Manager’s message

(Continued from previous page) into either the water ways located throughout Town or the storm drain system please call 207-922-5970 to report this.

Calling will activate our team and we will inspect the concern and address it if necessary. The sooner we are notified of a potential issue, the sooner we can resolve it.

In closing I would again like to remind everyone to follow the Town on Facebook and now Twitter or sign up for our list serve which sends out periodical messages on important topics occurring in Town. The sign up for list serve is located on the Town’s website or by calling the Town Office to provide us with the required information to sign you up.

As always, I am open to having healthy discussions with any citizens. I can be reached via email at mleonard@veazie.net or by calling 207-947-2781.

Enjoy the rest of your winter.

The Veazie Historical Committee would like to extend an invitation to all to visit the Historical Committee room at the Town Office. The room is a work in progress. It is already filled with information and items pertaining to the history of the Town of Veazie, its citizens, families and organizations.

Please visit and if you have any historical items or information you would like to donate, the Committee would graciously accept your donation.

The Committee meets usually once per month on a Thursday morning. Contact Karen Walker at 207-947-0458 for actual meeting dates.

Again, please feel free to visit and learn about the history of Veazie.
The Veazie Senior and Friends will host a display of “Tools For Everyday Living”, on May 13, 2020 at the Senior Housing (aka the Old John R. Graham School.

The tools will be on loan from the Healthy Peninsula’s Age Friendly Coastal Communities. They were able to purchase the tools from a grant funded by an AARP Community Challenge grant. The tools will be on display for the day from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. All are welcome to drop in and see what they can be used. Information will be given on cost and where the items can be purchased.

At the time of this writing we are trying to have a second talk for the evening of the 13th, but at this time do not have it confirmed. If you have an interest in the evening event call Karen Walker 947-0458 for information on if this is going to happen.

On September 12, 2019, the Veazie Historical Committee sponsored a talk given by Mary Bagley at the Veazie Congregational Church on the history of its stained glass windows.

Mary also gave a brief history of her own family here in Veazie, with her grandson now the 6th generation of her family to live in Veazie.

On September 11, 2019, the Seniors and Friends of Veazie put on a pot luck lunch to honor our police and fire personnel. They were presented a very large basket of snacks that they be able to use on a “grab and go” basis. It was nice that several police officers and firefighters came in on their day off or from another job to join the Seniors.

News from Pastor Seymour of the Veazie Congregational Church

2020 is a year of celebration for the little Veazie Church, with March being especially busy. First, we join with all Maine citizens in celebrating the 200th anniversary of statehood. Listen for the ringing of the church bell on March 15th as the bells rang all over Maine in celebration 200 years ago.

March 29th is the 175th anniversary of the dedication of our meetinghouse. Our little church has stood by the side of the main road for 175 years. Only eight years after the church was gathered by a group of prominent North Bangor citizens, enough money was raised to build their church. It was first named the First Congregational Church of North Bangor and became the Veazie Congregational Church after Samuel Veazie caused Bangor’s Ward 7 to become the Town of Veazie. At one time there were as many as five churches in town and now only this church remains.

We invite everyone to help us celebrate 175 years as we rededicate this beautiful old meetinghouse. On Saturday, March 28th, we will be holding a community potluck supper buffet from 4:30 until 6:00 p.m. There will be a mini museum of historical artifacts on display. Everyone is invited to bring a dish to share, have a nice meal and tour this wonderful old building. Sunday morning, March 29th, during our 10:00 a.m. worship, we will rededicate the meetinghouse with a special service. There will be a celebratory coffee hour afterwards.

Finally, in November, we will celebrate the 400th anniversary of the Mayflower’s arrival in present day Massachusetts. That arrival not only gave us the Mayflower Compact, a cornerstone of American democracy that helped to establish self-government in America, but it was the beginning of the Congregational church in the New World as well. The independent nature of the men and women who traveled on the Mayflower to find religious freedom is evident still in the Congregational Church today. We look forward to celebrating this anniversary.

We invite everyone to join us for these celebrations. And you are very welcome to attend Sunday morning worship services at 10:00 a.m. For more information, you can contact the church vzchurchclerk@gmail.com. Peace and Grace, Pastor Seymour

The Blue Ribbon assessment process highlighted many areas where our school shines bright, including technology integration, our means of communication through our website/app, social media, our student achievement levels, and our clean, safe and inviting school property. It also exposed some areas for improvement which I have embedded in my annual administrative evaluation process. The action plan included the addition of resource links on our school website demonstrating how staff at VCS differentiate instruction, as well as an education acronym linked to intended to assist parents and staff with learning and understanding meanings of educational terms.

A second action step has been to embrace a professional culture that recognizes staff who improve student achievement. To accomplish this, we no longer make staff recognition the first agenda item at every staff meeting, and I then turn these accolades at the next school committee meeting.

A third and major action step has been focusing on the school’s use of disaggregated data by relevant subgroups to guide instruction. To achieve this we have fully committed to the CIST grant co-authored by researchers at Kansas University. We will be the first school in Maine to implement CIST models which are data-informed, graduated systems of support constructed to address academic, behavioral and social domains. The overarching goal is to have all learners in inclusive environments by maximizing available resources through professional collaborations among school personnel. Federal funds are allowing us to send a small team to Kansas at the end of the month to visit schools currently using CIST models, as well as attend a live research discussion at KU. This year is year one of the grant. Next year will focus on training staff, and the third year will be focused on implementation.

Budget Outlook for Fiscal Year 2021

The School Committee and I met recently to discuss short and long-term goals as they relate to budget development. Those include special attention to upkeep of our school facility, reducing our reliance on the fund balance, paying close attention to staffing ratios, the significant increase in special education costs, and our ability to attract and retain excellent part-time or specialized staff. Governor Mills’s supplemental bus proposal fares well for public education and includes some notable changes, including additional funding for special education and an increase in the state’s contribution by one percent from 50.78 to 51.78 percent—another step closer to the 55 percent required by state law. These increases in aid provided by the State allow for a lowering of the required mills from 8.29 to 8. While all of this is great, the additional funding still does not cover annual increases in fixed operational costs. I look forward to working closely with the School Committee, Town Council and Town Budget Committee to draft a responsible budget that addresses needs and promotes a safe school that embraces our motto—"Small School, BIG Heart!"

Playground Update

After being featured in the past two editions of the VIKING, a playground committee was formed to discuss ideas and options for the replacement of our existing playground. Twenty-two years of wear and tear, along with some unexpected structural shifting due to mother nature are key factors in the decision to replace our playground during the upcoming summer. I have been expecting this for several years now and had previously started a capital reserve fund explicitly for this playground project. I must admit to being relieved that we have nearly half of the funds already in reserve, which significantly reduces our reliance on FY21 funds. It is our goal to have the project completed prior to the start of the 2020-2021 school year!

Gym Floor

The gym floor has experienced water damage many years ago, estimated to have begun several years after the school was built. That damage seemed to be contained for quite some time, but as of recently, it has gotten worse and to the point that replacement is necessary. I am presently working with our insurance company and getting pricing estimates from multiple flooring companies throughout New England. We are working to locate the cause of the water damage so any renovations would be safe from further exposure. The School Committee and I will be analyzing estimates and findings in the upcoming months in hopes to have more information available by our May edition of The VIKING. I have recommended to the School Committee that portions of this project not covered by our insurance claim be paid for with Capital Reserve funds so there would be no bonding or special tax increase. Once again, I hope to have more information to share in the upcoming months after the scope of this project becomes more clear.

MEA Test Results and Attendance

Student achievement levels continue to be an area of strength for our school and community. Vezzie Community School is the only school in the region whose students demonstrated growth in both Math and ELA for a third consecutive year! Since the first year of the cMPower-ERME test in 2016, VCS Math scores have risen 45%, ELA scores have risen 46%, and Science scores have risen 38%. When compared to the State of Maine average, VCS students score 81% above the State average in Math, 30% above the State average in ELA, and 31% above the State average in Science. In fact, the new DOE monitoring system has our school meeting and exceeding in all key categories with the exception of student attendance. Despite our best efforts at improving student attendance, we continue to receive the lowest possible score in this area. Last year we had 19 students deemed “Chronically Absent.” Reasons for some of these absences vary but mainly include reports of student illness and family vacations. Our administration, families, and students are being positioned to keep this type of funding is directly tied to both student achievement and attendance.

We hope that by providing our school community with the option to participate in the grant, prior to the start of the next school year, that families will have ample time to schedule trips during school vacations. Keeping kids healthy and attending school is critical to our home-school partnership.

Student Drop-off, Pick-up Reminders

As noted by signs, our drop-off and pick-up loop is not for parking vehicles. This lane is reserved for parents whose students are old enough to safely and efficiently enter and exit the vehicle on their own. Parents should not be exiting a vehicle while in the pick-up/drop-off loop. If you need to exit your vehicle, please use one of the parking spaces as this is a much safer option and assists with orderly traffic flow. Also, with the exception of early morning school council meetings (or other teacher-led team meetings), we do not have staff available to supervise students before 7:45. It is not safe for parents to drop-off students prior to 7:45. We ask for your patience in waiting for our doors to open at 7:45. Thank you for your help with this!

BRSIE recognized 31 schools in the U.S. as Blue Ribbon Lighthouses in 2019. Mr. Cyr said BRSIE has requested that VCS at the end of the month to visit schools currently using CIST models, as well as attend a live research discussion at KU. This year is year one of the grant. Next year will focus on training staff, and the third year will be focused on implementation.

Study of text scores and school operations at VCS. The assessment is focused on nine performance categories, including:

- Student Focus and Support
- School Organization and Culture
- Challenging Standards and Curriculum
- Active Teaching and Learning
- Technology Integration
- Professional Growth
- Leadership and Educational Vitality
- School/Family/Community Partnerships
- Indicators of Success

Mr. Cyr said the Blue Ribbon Lighthouse School recognition is separate from the National Blue Ribbon Award, which is sponsored by the US Department of Education and focuses exclusively on test scores.

"The BRSIE assessment process provides a much broader, in-depth study of all school operations and provides actionable insights to guide our school improvement plan," Mr. Cyr said. However, he pointed out that the test scores compiled by Vezzie students in the past four years have been outstanding.

"Student achievement levels on the cMPower-ERME MEA (Maine Educational Assessments) exams are certain to be something to be proud of," he says. "Our scores not only meet, but exceed the state average and have been improving on a yearly basis," he added.

A school assembly was held on Friday, January 31, with a "Blue Ribbon" theme. Students were asked to wear blue, and the PTO purchased blue bracelets for all students and special Blue Ribbon t-shirts for all staff members.

Mr. Cyr said the Blue Ribbon Lighthouse School designation will last for five years, at which time VCS will be eligible for renewal.
VCS Student Council sponsors coin war to raise funds for Ronald McDonald House

By Nicole Spinney,
8th grade teacher,
Student Council Advisor
The VCS Student Council sponsored a middle school coin war shortly before the holiday break. In a little over a week our middle school students raised $925 to benefit The Ronald McDonald House Charities.

Our student council members delivered the check and volunteered as chef’s to make a meal for the guests at the Bangor Ronald McDonald House. This was a great experience for all involved!

Those emergency route signs around town? They come with specific instructions

Editor’s note: Veazie Town Manager Mark Leonard says he gets asked all the time about the meaning of the Emergency Route signs that are posted at a number of locations in Veazie. He said the best explanation he’s seen came from a recent article in the Bangor Daily News. The Viking has received permission to reprint the article, which appears below.

September 4, 2019

Since April, drivers have noticed signs for emergency routes pop up all over the Bangor area and beyond. They’re big green signs with a letter — or a double letter — and an arrow under the words “Emergency Route.”

But it’s not clear from the signs when drivers should follow them, where the emergency routes start, where the signs lead and why they’re there.

Drivers don’t have to worry about learning a new set of routes, though. The bottom line is this: If drivers need to follow the emergency route signs, there will be signs on the road telling them to do so.

The emergency signs went up from Pittsfield to Medway in April, and the Maine Department of Transportation more recently installed the same signs in the Augusta area. They start on local roads within a few feet of any interstate exit. Signs with a single letter lead north and those with double letters lead south. Their placement is sporadic, with more signs on main roads such as Stillwater Avenue and Broadway in Bangor, and fewer signs located farther apart on back roads.

The signs are meant to function as permanent detours in case part of the interstate is blocked, said Steve Landry, the Maine Department of Transportation’s state traffic engineer. If a section of the highway has to be closed for a few hours at a time — for a serious traffic accident, for instance — it takes almost that length of time for crews to put up temporary detour signs, he said, which diverts resources away from dealing with traffic and cleanup on the interstate.

“If there’s a crash on the interstate we don’t want people sitting in traffic,” Landry said. “They’re in place because we don’t have the staff or the time to put [temporary detour] signs up.”

With the recent addition of signs in the Augusta area, the emergency route signs now stretch from Richmond north to Medway. Eventually there will be signs across the entire length of Maine’s interstate highways, Landry said. The department is currently working on expanding the detours south of Richmond.

The emergency routes in both directions lead from one exit to the next one along the interstate.

When it needs to activate an emergency route, the Department of Transportation will use bright pink signs on the interstate to lead drivers to the correct detour route and eventually back to the highway. Electronic signs located along interstate highways that usually warn drivers about traffic and weather conditions will also be changed to tell drivers which emergency detour to use.

The signs have no indication of the start and end points of each lettered emergency route. In some cases, the Department of Transportation’s emergency route maps show that a flagger will have to be present to direct traffic toward the interstate ramp after the signs end to avoid confusion.

The Department of Transportation has used the emergency routes only a handful of times since the Bangor-area signs went up in April.

“The first time we actually used them was the day that [Maine State Police] Detective Ben Campbell died on the road,” said Paul Merrill, a Department of Transportation spokesman. “That was the first time we actually activated the signs to alert people to follow the detour routes.”
At Home Maker Challenge asks students, families to have fun with pumpkins

The VCS Library has been offering a series of At Home Maker Challenges during the three trimesters of 2019-20 to encourage students and families to have fun together working with free or recycled materials that they have at home.

In October, families were invited to participate in the Storybook Pumpkin Challenge by decorating a pumpkin based on their favorite book character.

Library Media Specialist, Martha Shannon, said about 20 families decorated pumpkins, which were put on display in the Library. Families were allowed to use anything they could find at home to decorate their pumpkin—paint, fur, fabric, string, pom poms, wiggly eyes, feathers, buttons—anything. And they did.

On October 31, the pumpkins were displayed at the Student Council’s Hullabaloo, a “trunk or treat” activity for Halloween. People who came in for trunk or treat voted for the pumpkins they liked best from the primary, intermediate, and middle school grades, and the winners received prizes from the VCS Scholastic Book Fair.

The winners were:
- Primary: Aislynn Myers grade 1, My Little Pony.
- Intermediate: Reed Stenzel grade 5, Harry Potter.
- Middle School: tie between Hunter Seguin grade 6, Chewbacca, and Adam Cowing grade 6, Harry Potter and owl.

During the holiday break, the Library sponsored the Snowman Disguise Challenge, in which a template of a snowman was sent home, and families were asked to help the snowman make it through the winter by disguising him or her as a character. By the end of January, a total of 25 families had sent in their snowmen. There were a variety of disguises, including a Veazie Viking, Thing 1 and Thing 2, Dr. Seuss’s Cat in the Hat, a Christmas Tree, and others. The snowmen were posted in the Library’s hallway window.

Mrs. Shannon said she’s still working out the details of the Maker Challenge for the third trimester, which will probably be scheduled for April vacation.

“What we want to get students and families thinking about what types of recycled materials they have at home that they can work with and connect to literacy,” she said. “Most importantly, we want to encourage them to work as a family to do something fun—and then share it.
Veazie Community School Organizes Successful Instrument Drive

By Mike Arell
VCS Music Teacher

Our school’s music ensembles have seen great growth this year. Fifty students are now participating in band and 19 in chorus. This means that about 70% of all 3-8th grade students are choosing to be involved in an ensemble.

In the midst of this enthusiasm, Superintendent and Principal Matthew Cyr and music teacher Mike Arell decided the time was right to expand music offerings at the school, and they worked together to create a modern band program as part of Flex Friday offerings.

Modern Band focuses on music instruction through chords and melodies on rock band instruments like guitar, bass, keyboard, and drums. Students learn how to play a variety of popular songs and the patterns that make music work in an environment that is different than traditional band.

After already investing quite a lot on new equipment and refurbishing instruments for the music program at the end of the 2018-2019 school year, the administration knew that buying instruments for every student that wanted to try a band instrument was not a possibility, but did not want to wait to try something new. At that point, Mr. Arell suggested contacting local media to see if any community members would be willing to donate instruments to a local music program. Within a couple of weeks, the information began to spread. Announcements were made through the Bangor Daily News, many area radio stations, and social media. Much to his surprise, Mr. Arell was interviewed by Newscenter Maine, WVII/Fox Bangor, and Q106.5. Word spread not only around the state but across the country.

By the beginning of December, Veazie Community School had received 35 donated instruments and other musical equipment. Caring people from Maine, as well as Massachusetts, Utah, Colorado, Washington DC, Illinois, Michigan, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania sent donations to the school. Many others that did not have instruments, but wanted to contribute, mailed in monetary donations that totaled about $2,000. Because of this generosity, students at VCS can continue to have years of musical enjoyment with high quality instruments and equipment.

A new session of Flex Friday, including the modern band class began February 7. Our Spring Concert featuring PreK-8 students will be May 28 at 6 p.m. in our school gym.

In Memory of Deane Francis Webster
"Fie"

This plaque was placed on one of the raised beds made possible by donations made in memory of Daniel "Fie" Webster.

Raised bed at VCS dedicated to ‘Fie’ Webster

Earlier this fall, we dedicated one of the raised beds in our school garden to former Veazie resident, Deane Francis Webster, who passed away during the spring of 2019. VCS first grader Tucker Clapp referred to his grandfather as “Fie.” Mr. Webster had a passion for gardening and it was the wish of he and his family for donations to be made in his name to the Veazie Community School Garden.

We graciously received dozens of donations totaling more than $1,400, which helped to build three additional raised beds as well as a wonderful outdoor classroom.

Thank you, “Fie,” and thank you to your family for this generous donation.
Viking Basketball finishes with another great season!

Both the boys and girls soccer teams had outstanding seasons this fall, winning their league championship.

The girls went undefeated and unscored upon in league play this season. They were led by a trio of strong 8th graders—Lily Chandler, Avery Messer, and Laurali Parker.

“The team’s focus on working hard and playing as a team paved the way to a great championship season,” said Coach Brian Gonyar. “Our keeper, Olivia Bragdon, was outstanding in net right through the playoffs.”

Lily told the Viking explained the team’s success by saying that the girls had “great communication and played hard throughout the season.”

The boys were led by 8th graders Ben Francis, Matt Needham, and Dom Ondo. They tied Penobscot Christian twice during the regular season but beat them in the championship game, 2-0, as goalie Matt Needham led the team with a shut-out in net.

Jill Chandler and Mr. Gonyar were co-coaches of the two soccer teams.

The girls team included Avery Messer, Lily Chandler, Laurali Parker, Ava Taylor, Olivia Bragdon, Ari Baron, Isabelle Ireland, Dalaney Hror, Emmaline Hyde, Kylee Barker, Brylee McCollett, Piper Parker, Abby Graham, Aurora Richardson, and Brayleigh Judkins. The boys team included Dom Ondo, Ben Francis, Matt Needham, Will Francis, Duncan Carlisle, Camden Brown, Nick Needham, Dylan Duple, Keegan Burke, Adam Cowing, Wyatt Chandler, Vincent Chen, and Aidan Taylor.

6 raised garden beds available with water supply

Six raised garden beds and a water supply will be available for summer use by Town of Veazie residents again this year.

The garden area is located in a sunny spot off Main Street and adjacent to the school soccer fields and Town tennis courts. The soils in the raised beds were tested by the University of Maine extension. The six raised beds are first-come first-serve until they are gone.

There is no charge for using the raised beds and water supply, which were paid for by a grant. However, we ask that each gardener must keep their raised bed area weeded and tidy. One bed per gardener. A sign-up sheet is located in the Town Office.

Viking Basketball finishes with another great season!

The Veazie Vikings had another great basketball season, with the boys winning the Mid-Maine League championship and the girls finishing as the runner up.

The tournament was held at VCS. The boys team was able to complete an undefeated season with a 14-0 record and a championship victory! Ben and Will Francis led the way with contributions from Tristan Martin, Hayden Rollins, Dom Ondo, and Josiah Cross.

In the title game, the boys defeated Beech Hill, 50-35, Will Francis led the scoring with 20 points, followed by Ben Francis with 15 points and Tristan Martin with 9 points.

The girls team went all the way to the championship game. They worked hard and played well but had to settle for Mid-Maine League Runner-up. The team was led by two strong grade 8 student athletes, Lily Chandler and Laurali Parker, and a group of returning players anchored by Olivia Bragdon and Dalaney Hror.

The girls won their semifinal against Dededham, 39-16, but lost to Penobscot Christian in the tournament finale. Lily Chandler scored 18 points and Dalaney Hror scored 7 in the championship game. The girls’ final record was 14-3, with all three losses coming against Greenbush.

WORLD READ ALOUD DAY—In honor of World Read Aloud Day on Feb. 5, sixth graders read a Robert Munsch book to first graders.
First Graders took information they received from the book, Balloons Over Broadway by Melissa Sweet, to make their own balloon floats.

Students brainstormed ideas and listed materials needed before setting to work, and there were many retries before their engineering was complete. When the floats were completed, they were paraded down the hall to the library, where Mrs. Shannon taught students how to use a green screen to actually put their floats into the “Macy’s Thanksgiving Day Parade.”

Student interview: Abigail Dorrity, Health and PE teacher at VCS

By Olivia Bragdon, Grade 7

“You have to take what life gives you, roll with the punches, and take things one step at a time.”

This is a quote from Abigail Dorrity, our health and P.E teacher here at Veazie Community School.

Mrs. Dorrity, as we call her, grew up in Bass Harbor, Maine, where she found out she loves kids. But she isn’t all prim and proper. Mrs. Dorrity competed in karate, soccer and basketball until high school. In high school she played basketball, softball, and volleyball, one of her favorite units that she has taught so far in P.E.

When asking Mrs. Dorrity why she chose the path of becoming a teacher, she said it was because she loves kids and their energy, which is why she is now teaching pre-K through eighth grade. Though it was not always like this, she had to wait three years working as an ed tech at Dedham until she got where she is today. She was also a camp counselor and worked at Olympia Sports before her teaching career.

Mrs. Dorrity says that her biggest influence is Dr. Standford, a professor at the University of Maine at Presque Isle. “She was a good teacher who taught me a lot of great teaching techniques.”

Just like how Mrs. Dorrity’s favorite subject to teach is P.E, her favorite class in school was P.E. and math. Mrs. Dorrity thinks it was an easy transition from her old job to here and that we have been welcoming. She loves the closeness of everyone. The fact that we are small but with big hearts is a reason she teaches here as well.

As you may or may not know, Mrs. Dorrity is pregnant but still doing a magnificent job of teaching us everything we need to know. “I wasn’t as tired as I thought I would be….. until the end of the day,” she says.

Though Mrs. Dorrity wanted a boy, she says she is very happy with her soon-to-be little girl. And we are very pleased that Mrs. Dorrity works at Veazie Community School.
Student interview: Sarah Moon, art teacher at VCS

By Ben Francis, 8th Grade

One of our new faces here at VCS is art teacher Sarah Moon. Also a teacher at Dedham, Mrs. Moon graduated from Bangor High School and later attended the University of Maine. She graduated with a degree in art education and is also a certified herbalist.

Mrs. Moon teaches at Veazie every Friday. When Mrs. Moon was asked what her favorite part of teaching a VCS she said, “Working here has been busy but fun.” Mrs. Moon is a teacher who loves to see her students do well. When asked what her favorite part about teaching is she answered, “My favorite part about teaching at any school is seeing a student go above and beyond their own expectations.”

Mrs. Moon has not always been an art teacher. Before she became an art teacher, she was a preschool teacher and gave private art lessons. She also does art in her spare time; she enjoys painting, fiber art, and likes to sculpt.

Mrs. Moon was asked which of her art pieces is her favorite and she answered, “My favorite art piece I have ever made was a piece with my daughter. We painted her whole body and put her against a canvas. We took the piece to an art show and won an award. It was really cool.”

Mrs. Moon gave us some fun facts about her personal life. Her father’s name is Bruce Wayne, also the name of the popular superhero Batman. One of Mrs. Moon’s best friends is a stunt man in Hollywood. He has done stunts in movies such as Iron Man and recently did a stunt for the famous actor Brad Pitt.

Sarah Moon is a great teacher and an all-around exceptional person. We are pleased to have her with us at VCS.

VCS Primary wing travels the globe

The Pre-K, Kindergarten, First Grade and Second Grade students had fun traveling the globe to visit many countries in hope to learn about their culture. VCS Primary Classrooms became the following places: Israel, Germany, Italy, Mexico, Sweden and U.S.A. Students were sure to carry a passport as they experienced games, food, music, pictures, crafts and information about the countries they visited. “This was the best day ever,” was heard often throughout each trip!

If you visit Diane Smart’s 5th grade classroom when students have free time, you’re likely to see a lot of them drawing comic books, reading comic books, or playing cards.

And if they’re playing cards, it’s not just any card game, it’s likely to be "Food Fight," a game that has been developed—and is being continuously enhanced—by 5th grader Seth Rollins.

“They’re a very artistic class,” says Mrs. Smart.

The idea of drawing comics began with The idea of comics actually began with Colton Webber and Chase Ashby. They shared the idea with Seth, who shared it with Aiden Taylor. Then it took off, and when the books were posted on a “comics wall” in the classroom, more students in the class joined in.

Mrs. Smart says the comics aren’t part of the curriculum, but they’re welcome in the classroom.

“The students enjoy writing them, as well as drawing them, and they also enjoy reading them,” she says.

The card game started independently of the comic books but quickly became a popular activity among 5th graders.

Colton said he was over at Seth’s house one day, and Seth told him he was making a card game called Food Fight.

“As soon as he [Seth] released it, everybody started playing it,” Colton said.

Mrs. Smart says the students continue to draw and write comics, and then read them. But they also play cards whenever they have the opportunity.

“It’s taken on a life of its own,” Mrs. Smart says. “They play at lunch, they play at recess, they’re always battling each other and changing amounts. I don’t understand what’s going on [in the card game], but they all do.”

Seth organizes periodic Food Fight tournaments, one of which he said was going to be a “battle royale,” with players moving their cards around the board and attacking each other, and collecting cards that they win from their opponents.

Seth said he’s had the idea for the card game for about a year and a half, but started actually developing it just before Christmas this year.

Seth Rollins describes the card game he invented, ‘Food Fight’

Food Fight is a turn-based card game. Each card features a character and displays its unique stats: HP (health points), SP (speed points), DP (damage points) and AS (ability stats).

On your turn you choose to dodge, attack, or to use your ability. Most abilities have a ‘cool down’ (wait time until you can use it again) or ‘use limit’ (maximum amount of uses per battle).

Certain abilities are identified as Perks. Perks don’t have a “cool down” or “use limit”, they are always active.

An ability is marked with an A with: a “cool down” marked with a T, a “use limit” marked with a B, nothing to show a perk, or an X to show that it has no use limit or cool down.

T and B with a number to show the wait time or use limit. The card describes the effects of the ability.

When you attack, your opponent loses your DP amount of HP, if your HP gets to zero or below your card is out. Your level goes up when you win a fair battle, your stats are multiplied by your level.

If you dodge on your turn it improves your DC (dodge chance) by 200 for your opponents next attack, only if you want to dodge it. If you want to dodge first calculate your “chances”. Your opponent adds their SP and DP to calculate their HC (hit chance). Then you find your SP to calculate your DC; now if your DC is higher than their HC you successfully dodge, if it is equal they do half of their DP. If their HC is higher than your DC, you have made an unsuccessful dodge and it does double the damage.

There are about one-half-month long “seasons”. Each season brings new aspects, cards, and challenges to the game. Every “event” has 4 new cards created for it, such as Christmas, there were 4 cards made for Christmas. And Chinese New Year was on Jan 25th, so there are 4 Chinese cards, and 1 Chinese villain to defeat. (Not all holidays are considered events.)

In Food Fight you collect your own personal cards to use in battle against other players. You do different challenges to earn new cards or get more levels to upgrade your cards you already have. Most players compete in tournaments, hoping for very large rewards. So far Season 3 has had the largest rewards. (Which was just recently.) In Season 3 the reward was almost unfair. (Luckily, a new player stuck a large amount of luck.) The usual reward is 4 levels to add to your cards, but Season 3’s rewards were: 5 or more levels, 1 item, (Items are by pretty much abilities.) and 2 cards, but only for first place.

All of the “legal” cards ever made I made by myself. But probably about 98% of the ideas come from my friend Aiden.

— Seth Rollins, 5th grade

Raegamuffin’s offers gluten-free goodness at Veazie bakery

What do mudslide amazeballs, moon pies, blueberry gingerbread cake, 16 flavors of donuts, 27 flavors of muffins, and a birthday cake with moose antlers have in common? They're delicious. They're made at Raegamuffin’s bakery on State Street in Veazie. And they’re all gluten-free.

Gluten-free isn’t just an option for Rachel Lane, the owner of Raegamuffin’s for the past six years. She’s celiac, so she personally understands both the struggle with finding delicious and safe gluten-free foods—and how important it can be to someone whose body can’t tolerate gluten (a protein found in grains such as wheat, rye, and barley).

“I have to eat gluten-free, or it destroys my small intestine,” she says.

Rachel attended New England Culinary Institute in Montpelier, VT, to earn her associate’s degree in baking and pastry arts. When deciding on a culinary career path, her focus was strictly on safe gluten-free foods.

She did an internship in Franks Bakery in Bangor and then moved to Boston, where she worked for two years at a gluten-free bakery in Belmont called Glutenous Minimus.

A native of Greenfield, Rachel wanted to be closer to home, so she opened Raegamuffin’s in April 2014. “I wanted to be in Orono or Bangor,” she said. “This location [1552 State Street] and Tradewinds went up at the same time. Locating in Veazie meant the bakery would be right in the middle, between Orono and Bangor.”

Rachel says gluten-free safety is important, but it’s not her only concern at Raegamuffin’s. “We’re a dedicated gluten-free facility, but we are also a dedicated tree-nut and peanut-free facility,” she says. “We love to help people with food allergies and restrictions. As a result, about half of our items are dairy-free, and we also offer a couple of vegan items every day we are open.” (The blueberry gingerbread cake that was mentioned in the opening paragraph of this story is vegan.)

Does being gluten-free restrict what Raegamuffin’s can make?

“Yes and no,” she says. “There are a lot of things we can alter to make them gluten-free, including donuts, breads, muffins, etc.”

The same holds true for vegan items—the bakery just has to find substitutes for eggs and dairy products.

“But we can still cater to someone’s sweet tooth,” she says.

Rachel says business has been good, although January tends to be a slow month as families recover from the holidays.

She enjoys running the bakery in Veazie because it’s close to both Orono and Bangor. She says there’s a fair amount of traffic between the two communities, and a number of the commuters are regular customers on their way to work in the morning or on their way back home in the evening.

In addition to donuts, muffins, and other standard bakery items, Raegamuffin’s has some signature items that customers are particularly fond of, such as “Amazeballs.” “They’re really popular,” she says, holding up a tray of mudslide amazeballs. They come in many different flavors, including double (Please turn to page 15)
