Nineteen Alumni Are Members of 84th Maine Legislature Now In Session

Nineteen Maine alumni are members of the 84th Maine Legislature which is now in session at Augusta. A picture of the group is shown on the front cover. Charles S. Taylor and Harold E. Weeks are not in the picture, because they were ill at the time it was taken. The two alumni, Frederick Robie and Lewis Barrows, who are members of the Executive Council are included in the group as is also Hon. Harmon G Allen of Springvale, president of the Board of Trustees of the University.

Of the twelve college men in the Senate, composed of 31 members, three are University alumni. Four of the twelve are alumni of other Maine colleges. In the House of Representatives composed of 151 members, there are 42 men holding college affiliations, of whom 16 are Maine alumni and twelve others are alumni of the other Maine colleges. Two of the total of 19 Maine alumni also attended Bowdoin.

Nine of the nineteen have been members of the legislature before Senators Wheeler and Weeks and Representative Mansfield.

To George V. Blanchard '23, of Phillips goes the distinction of being the youngest man in the Legislature. A rather unique family is that of Union, and Franz U. Burkett '16L, Portland, father and son, are members of the House, serving their first terms.

Honors Courses To Be Started in College of Technology

Dean Paul Cloke of the College of Technology of the University of Maine, has announced that honors groups are to be started in the departments of civil engineering and electrical engineering. Only exceptional students, selected on the basis of scholarship and promise of achievement will be admitted to the groups. The establishment of honors groups was suggested about a year ago by Professor Embert H. Sprague, of the department of civil engineering, and follows a conference recently held at Swarthmore College by President Harold S. Boardman and Dean Paul Cloke with President Frank Aydelotte. It is expected that honors groups will be organized in other departments of the university.
Gannett ‘08 Is Chairman of New Alumnus Advisory Board

Five alumni, all members of the faculty, have been appointed by Raymond H. Foggler, President of the General Alumni Association to serve on the ALUMNUS Advisory Board. The purpose of this Board is to advise, counsel, suggest or otherwise assist the editor of the ALUMNUS to constantly improve the magazine.

James A. Gannett ‘08, University Registrar, is chairman of the board. Professor Achsa Bean ‘22, dean of women and associate professor of biology, is representative of alumnus interests. Dr. Harold M. Ellis ‘07, head of the department of English, represents the Arts college alumni; Prof. L. M. Dorsey ‘16, associate professor of agriculture, represents the agricultural college alumni; and Prof. Walter J. Creamer ‘16, professor of civil engineering, represents the college of technology group. While each is representative of a certain group of alumni, all are interested in the ALUMNUS and alumni generally.

Some of the many problems on which the committee may work were outlined by the editor as being (1) the cover, shall pictures be used changing each month or shall we attempt to get a design to be used each month until a change is desired, (2) the proper proportion of stories relating to agriculture, arts, engineering, faculty, student activities, athletics, personal, etc. (3) securing material of particular interest to alumni; (4) whether or not subject matter or technical material should be used.

Bangor Commercial Commends Raymond Fellows ‘08

In a recent editorial the Bangor Commercial paid the following tribute to Hon. Raymond Fellows, who has just completed his second term as attorney general of the state of Maine.

"With the end of the present state administration Attorney General Fellows leaves a position in which he has served with distinguished ability for the past four years, a period in which the affairs of the department of attorney general have been conducted with highly commendable efficiency, fairness and readiness to give aid to other departments and with the intent that even-handed justice should be administered. Mr. Fellows ranks high in the list of distinguished attorneys-general who have honored the exalted position that they have held.

It takes alumni dues to pay for the Alumnus—Have you paid for yours?

Mrs. Milton D. Noyes, ’74

First Woman Graduate Dies

Last of 1874 Graduates

Mrs. Milton D. Noyes of the class of 1874, the first alumnna of the University, died January 16 at Huntington, Virginia. She was the last of the six graduates of her class. There are four non-graduates living.

University records show that Mrs. Noyes, then Laura H. Randsdell, registered as a junior in August, 1872. She chose the "elective" course and was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in 1874 having attained excellent rank.

She was born and has always lived in Atkinson, Maine, until last September when she went south for a visit with her daughter.

The Press Editorializes

Regarding the reference Gov. William Tudor Gardiner made to the University in his inaugural address, the Bangor Commercial of January 2, said in its editorial column "Governor Gardiner suggested that some method of giving aid to academies could be evolved that would be more equitable and stable through special resolves and rightly declared that the position of the University of Maine in the educational system of the state should be definitely recognized and established. He endorsed the attitude long held by friends of the institution that the financial program of the university should be a part of the state's educational budget and its revenue sufficiently determinable to allow of planning ahead by those who have charge of the affairs of the university."

The Portland Press Herald of January 4 also commented editorially on this same point.

"He urges that the position of the University of Maine in the educational system of the State be definitely recognized and established and that its financial program should be a part of the educational budget. This is sound advice. The development and future progress of the State university should not be dependent upon the political log rolling by those responsible for its maintenance."
Edward E. Chase '13 Appointed By The Governor As Trustee of the University

Edward E. Chase '13

While hosts of alumni near and far stand ready and in a greater or less degree are assisting their Alma Mater, yet it is the privilege and honor of a chosen few to serve her in a very direct and extremely important manner. To Edward E. Chase, class of 1913, of Portland has come this distinction, and responsibility by virtue of having been appointed a trustee of the University.

In a very unusual sense Mr. Chase, better known as “Cy” is from and of a Maine family. He was born and brought up in Bluehill, a Maine seacoast town. After completing his course in the local academy he came to the University and specialized in economics. Four of Mr. Chase’s sisters have also attended the University. They are, Mildred, Mary Ellen, Olive and Virginia. And his mother, Mrs. Edith M. Chase, is at the Phi Mu Delta fraternity, where she has been matron for nearly four years, having previously been “mother” for the boys in the dorms for over two years.

For two years Mr. Chase was Register of Probate in Hancock county. In 1917 he enlisted in the First Maine Heavy Artillery, being a second lieutenant. Later he transferred to the third Anti-Aircraft Machine Gun Battalion and served in France from September 1918 to May 1919.

Two months later he organized and became president of the Maine Securities Company.

Mr. Chase has contributed many articles to the press dealing with Maine economic problems. He is author of the book entitled “Maine Railroads” published in 1926.

In 1926 he was elected as representative to Legislature from the Cape Elizabeth-Scarborough district. As a result of the prominent part he took in speaking on important bills he was recognized as one of the outstanding legislators. He was re-elected representative again in 1928. For more than five years Mr. Chase has been a member of the Alumni Council. His election came as a result of his activities in alumni matters in western Maine. He is now serving his second year as vice-president of the General Alumni Association and also chairman of the executive committee of the Alumni Council.

In 1917 Mr. Chase married Marion Miller, a graduate of Colby in 1916. They have three children, Barbara 9, Robert Miller 4 and Edward Everett, Jr. 4 months.

The abilities of scores, even hundreds, of Maine men and women are yet untried in Alumni work.

‘27 and ’28 To Consider Campaign For the Memorial Fund

One question which has probably been asked more than any other in the last few months is, what about the classes of 1927 and 1928 subscribing to the Memorial Fund? These are the only two classes from the earliest up to 1932 that have not assisted in making possible the Gymnasium Armory Memorial, a tribute to the Maine men who died in the World War. Several members of these classes have already volunteered to subscribe.

President Paul D. Lamoreau of the class of 1927 has appointed the following committee,
Claude Lovely, Old Town
Isabel Ames, Hampden
George Dow, Orono
Earl R. Webster, Bangor
Frederick Scribner, 1928 president, has named a committee as follows
Ardron B. Lewis, Orono
H. Virginia Smith, Bangor
Delmar Lovejoy, Orono.
These committees are to study the situation relative to the desirability of putting on a campaign and if favorable are to cooperate with the Memorial Fund Committee in formulating and executing plans. After the committees have met and made decisions, a report will be published in the ALUMNUS.

Col. F. H. Strickland, Former Trustee
Still Much Interested in the University

State law forced Col. Frederick H. Strickland, h '22, to resign as a trustee of the University after more than ten years of distinguished service, but it could not quench his interest in the institution. Just to talk with him a few minutes, one soon finds that he is as much interested as ever and very conversant with what has and is transpiring on the campus. He keeps the University on his calling list and last but not least he has continued his subscription to the Alumnus.

Other than during the very early days in the history of the University it is doubtful if any Board of Trustees ever had to meet and solve so many important problems as did the Boards of which he was a member. War problems, limited appropriations to meet inflated costs and resignations and appointment of two presidents are some of the major tasks demanding attention in the narrow space of a decade.

Hosea Buck Pays Tribute

Hosea B. Buck '93, alumni trustee expresses his high regard for Col. Strickland as follows:

"It was my privilege and pleasure to serve as a trustee from early in 1921 to the latter part of 1926 with Col. Frederick H. Strickland of Bangor as President of the Board. I appreciate the opportunity, though late, to express through the columns of the Alumnus my high regard for Col. Strickland and for his untiring, earnest and intelligent efforts in behalf of the University. The great majority of our alumni and friends unable to keep in close touch with the affairs of the University can never fully realize the service rendered by Col. Strickland. I do not hesitate in stating that in my opinion no trustee has been so well informed and prepared to act in behalf of the University as was Col. Strickland while President of the Board. During that period his time, thoughts, energy and wonderful fighting spirit were given without reserve for the betterment of the University. For that loyal service the alumni and friends of the University will always be fully grateful."

Colonel's Father Was Trustee

Col Strickland was the second in his family to serve in the capacity of trustees. Hon. William H. Strickland was a member of the Board of Trustees 1888-1890 serving as president of that body during 1889-90. It therefore seemed almost as tho the colonel was "Carrying on" when he was appointed April, 1915.

When the term of Hon. Samuel Gould '77 expired in April, 1921, Mr. Strickland was elected president of the Board and chairman of the Executive Committee which positions he held until September 15, 1926, when because he had reached the age of seventy years he tendered his resignation in compliance with the law. His first term of seven years expired April 28, 1922 but he was reappointed for another term.

Dr. Robert J. Aley tendered his resignation as president shortly after Col. Strickland was elected president of the Board. For a year the University operated without a president, the executive committee of the Trustees and the University committee on administration directing the affairs of the institution. Dr. Little was elected and three years later resigned which again presented major problem for the Board which was solved by the election of Dr. Boardman.

During his tenure of office, the practice of holding a monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees and a weekly meeting of the Executive Committee was started.

Col. Strickland has been for many years and still is engaged in the lumber business as well as being affiliated in other business interests in Bangor. He served in the House of Representatives from 1907 to 1911.

He has on many occasions addressed groups of Maine students, faculty and alumni. He subscribed generously to the Memorial Fund.

In expression of its appreciation of the faithful and efficient service rendered by Col. Strickland the University conferred upon him in June 1922, the honorary degree of Master of Arts.
ON THE CAMPUS

According to the “Campus”—the co-eds have taken to tumbling. There is a large enrollment in the class which is part of physical training course. Oh yes by tumbling is meant walking on their hands, standing upon their heads and turning cartwheels.

A revived Maine-Spring made its appearance December 9. Forty-four pages big and an edition of over 500, the biggest on record. Practically the entire issue is said to have been sold by individual sales. The management proposes to publish four numbers during the year.

An extended editorial in the Campus of December 13, discusses Hockey vs. Basketball for Maine, pointing out the fact that Bates, Bowdoin and Colby all have varsity hockey teams and no varsity basketball—but not mentioning that probably half of more of the games in the state are postponed or cancelled because of poor ice. It is an old question—and at the present time not a whole lot of choice.

There was much “ado” off the campus about health conditions at the University, some even had the University closed. President Boardman’s answer “The University Nurse has found but 50 cases of colds and 2 cases of mumps on the campus. No “flu”. That ended the talk.

Debating

Feb. 13 Univ. of Pittsburgh—at Orono
Mar. 8 Mass. Aggies—at Orono
Mar. 20 Bucknell University—at Orono

Question for Pittsburgh and Bucknell debates—“Resolved that the American Jury System should be Abolished.” The visitors are to uphold the negative of the question.

Judging from the “Jim” Buzzell, of Fryeburg, captain of 1928 football team was re-elected president of the senior class, and Fred Hall of Lewiston, was likewise returned to the office of president of the sophomore class.

Eight fraternity and dormitory teams have formed a Bowling League to get indoor sport for the winter months.

Rev. Henry H. Tweedy, D.D. of the Yale Divinity School spoke at Assembly, Monday, January 21. After hearing his excellent talk, students easily understood why he was in demand as a speaker.

The Campus of January 17, became openly facetious—by using conspicuously on the front page a winter scene (of previous years) over which was “If Winter Should Hit Maine Campus.”

No winter carnival is to be held this year, just the remains of the so-called carnival of two or three years past, “The Winter Carnival Ball.” Interest in winter sports has gradually dwindled over a period of five years until it is now at a low ebb. Little wonder this year.

Boxing—Wrestling—Tumbling

Boxing seems for the moment to have won the admiration of strong hearted men. “Bill” Daley, a senior is instructor. To show how rapidly it has progressed a boxing tournament is to be staged between the trats and a cup awarded (for each weight class) to the house having a victor in the final bout.

Two other new physical training activities are wrestling and tumbling with a fair number attending the classes, each of which is being taught by students who have had considerable experience.

As for several years past student writers of poetry, essays or short stories at New Hampshire University and at Maine are to compete. The contest closes March 15.

On Tuesday, January 15, from Lakeview, six miles from Milo came 29 senior foresters having completed their eight weeks course in the woods.

Track Coach Jenkins is using the group method of training his proteges. All the men training for an event are requested to report at the same time so that all may be given instruction together, developing something of a competitive spirit as well as gaining some little actual experience in competition.

Faculty Notes

Professor Ava Chadbourne Receives Ph.D.

Professor C. H. Chadbourne ’15, associate professor of education at the University has been awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy by Columbia University. Her thesis entitled “Beginnings of Education in Maine,” is to be published by Columbia as a part of their series “Contributions to Education.”

Professor Chadbourne has been at the University since her graduation in 1915 except for one year while she was doing graduate work at Columbia. She holds an M. A. degree both from Maine and Columbia.

Professor Irving Richards of the English department has been granted leave of absence until the close of the year to work for a doctorate at Harvard.

Dr. Parker Writes a Translation

Professor Clifford S. Parker of the department of French has recently published a translation with Arthur Livingstone of “Cardinal Mercier” by Monsignor A. Lavelle. Dr. Parker has also published in the Saturday Review of Literature a review of “La Destinée du Comte Alfred de Vigny,” by Paul Brach, of “La Vie de Stendahl,” by Paul Hazard, and of “La Vie D’Alexandre Dumas père,” by J. Lucas-Dubreton. This is Dr. Parker’s first year at Maine.

English Instructor Writes About Penn. Literature

“Pennsylvania Literature of the Colonial Period” is the title of an article, occupying the first twenty-seven pages of the October number of the Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography, written by Miss Nancy H. McCready of the English Department in the University of Maine. While there is little original information in it, it is perhaps the best summarized account of the period in print.

The three pages of bibliography which follow the article are the author’s real contribution to her study, being unusually full and accurate.

Miss McCready, who was appointed this year to an instructorship in English in the University, is a native of Pennsylvania.

“I feel better” wrote one alumna who enclosed a check in final payment of his Memorial Fund subscription and closed his jubilant epistle “Happily yours.”

Editorials

His “M” In Life
There is reported in this issue the death of an alumnus who had won a big place in the hearts of his fellow citizens. A classmate of his who was fortunate enough to win his “M” said—“He was never awarded an ‘M’ in football, though if any man ever deserved it he did. He apparently won his ‘M’ in life judging from the tributes paid him by employer, fraternities and business.”

Is there not in this that a suggestion which merits our serious consideration. Could not some plan be developed whereby Maine men and women who achieve much in life might be given recognition by their fellow alumni? It is true the University may grant honorary degrees which is a highly desirable policy but is there not a place also for alumni to honor while they live those who have rendered “distinguished service” in life? What is your opinion?

Advisory
“A better Alumnus,” “Too much space to athletics,” “More about Alumni,” “More pictures.” These are but some of the comments concerning the Alumnus. The problem of a more interesting magazine is rather a knotty one partly at least because the amount of money available for publishing the Alumnus almost automatically limits what can be done. It has been said that an increasing number of Maine alumni will support, by alumni dues payments, a better ALUMNUS. That may or may not be so; it remains to be seen.

On two points we can all agree; first, it is unlikely that a paper can be prepared which will be wholly satisfactory to everyone and second that the ALUMNUS can be improved.

It is with this second point that the new Advisory Board is concerned—to help make the best possible use of the funds available. To maintain proper balance—if there is such a thing—between stories and personals, between athletic and non-athletic subjects, between agriculture, engineering, and arts, between topics of interest to men and to women. This is the big problem in addition to typographical make-up. It is to this problem chiefly that the Advisory Board will give attention, tho by no means will it be limited to this one phase of publishing the ALUMNUS. Obviously the Board is not held responsible for the editorial policies.

Alumni are invited, more than that, urged to make known their desires either to members of the committee or the editor. Constructive criticism or suggestions for stories will always be welcome.

Trustee Appointment
Both “Cy” Chase and the University, yes and alumni too are to be congratulated upon the appointment of another alumnus to the Board of Trustees. It is an honor, a privilege and a responsibility to fill such a position. That “Cy” will conscientiously discharge the duties of this office, everyone knows.

Four of the nine trustees are alumni. There is a general tendency toward larger proportion of alumni representation on the governing boards of state institutions. Presumably this trend recognizes the greater interest and activity of alumni in promoting the welfare of their Alma Mater.

Lost
In spite of our best efforts a few alumni “get lost” or perhaps better say “lose us” every month. Some after having been listed as lost many months—even years, when the case seems almost hopeless—suddenly appear. Please read the list of lost alumni in this issue and if possible tell us where even one is located or through what channels we may find him. In preparing the new alumni directory we would like to have the address of every Maine man and woman.

White Mountain Alumni Meet Monthly—New Officers Elected

At the last meeting of the White Mountain Alumni Association here at Berlin it was voted by this organization to extend its congratulations to the Athletic authorities at the University who were responsible for the five year contract that was recently given to Coach Fred Bruce.

We feel that they certainly made the best move in years by making a long term contract and thereby giving Coach Bruce a feeling of permanence at the University. We hope that the other alumni bodies will express themselves on such a move as this.

The new officers elected for the year 1929 which by the way is the 10th anniversary of the White Mountain Alumni Association are as follows:

- President, Robert Rich ’19
- Vice-President, Lawrence E. Philbrook ’16
- Secretary, Walter W. Webber ’16
- Treasurer, Roger B. Hill ’18

Bob Rich is the son of the late Judge Rich who was the first president of this Association in 1919. The organization has been very active ever since its origin and during the last four years has held monthly meetings with the exception of the summer months with an average attendance of 15 at every meeting which is probably better than 50% of the Maine men in this locality.

At our meeting last month we had 23 in attendance. We voted to sponsor another University Night this year similar to the one which proved such a success last year, when we had 125 college men out for a banquet and get together.

Now sometime during the coming year we would be glad to have a visit from someone there at the University. Two years ago President Boardman paid us a call and he is always welcome.

Boston Alumni Making Plans for Big Meeting Feb. 16

Dr. Clarence Cook Little, president of the University of Michigan and Dr. Harold S. Boardman, president of the University of Maine will be the guests of the Boston Alumni Association at its annual dinner, to be held at the Hotel Westminster, Boston, at 7 o’clock in the evening, on Saturday, February 16.

Plans are being made to accommodate the largest gathering of Maine men and women ever held outside the University grounds. This event, which is held annually by the association is one to which all Maine men and women are cordially invited, and to this meeting in particular, are all alumni and alumnae especially urged to attend.

To make the event representative of the whole university, invitations have been sent to representatives of the Trustees, Faculty and students. Dr. C. A. Dickinson, head of the department of psychology will attend.

The dinner will be served at seven o’clock. Mr. Penn, of the Hotel Westminster has assured us that this will be the best dinner he has ever served.

Following the dinner there will be brief speeches by President Boardman, Raymond H. Fogler, president of the General Alumni Association and Charles E. Crossland, executive secretary of the General Alumni Association and by former president of the University, Doctor Clarence Cook Little, who will be the principal speaker of the evening.

"Joe" McCusker, Maine’s most famous cheer leader will exercise violently and promises to lead the loudest and most enthusiastic cheering by Maine men and women ever heard off Alumni Field.

"Bucky" Crandall, chairman of the banquet committee has devoted much time and thought to this event, and "Bucky" never does things half-heartedly.

After the dinner and speeches, there will be dancing in the "Winter Garden" of the Hotel Westminster, where excellent music, a fine floor and cozy booths afford an opportunity for a very jolly time.

This event promises to be the most serious and at the same time the most frivolous one ever held by the Boston Alumni Association.

Alumnae residing in and around Boston are especially urged to attend this meeting, and a hearty welcome will be extended to them. Particular effort will be made to welcome the escorts of alumnae, should they not be alumni of the University.

A cordial invitation is extended to the Fathers and Mothers of students of the University to attend this meeting and to become acquainted with the Alumni who will be present.

Let’s make this event worth while, a meeting of old friends; an evening of play, a personal interview with the present administration of the University and a tribute to Doctor Little.

Address communications to Warren D. Trask, Chamber of Commerce Building, Boston, Mass.

Many Local Associations to Meet In February and March

Plans have been either definitely or tentatively made for many meetings of local Alumni Associations during the next sixty days. President Boardman is to visit eight groups, and Alumni Secretary will probably visit all.

Relay and Winter Track Outlook and Schedule

Led by Captain "Win" Niles, early prospects indicate that Maine will be well represented in relay this winter. Second to Niles in the one mile relay is "Bucky" Berenson and other likely places are Tolman and Stymiest, with four or five others working hard for a position on the mile relay.

A two mile relay team is also being groomed and probably will be composed largely of cross country men, such as Mank, McNaughton, Lindsay, and Richardson.

These teams and possibly four or five individuals are to compete in two meets in Boston and if it seems well also in the national indoor meet at New York.

Five Year Agreement Made with Coach Brice

Fred M. Brice who has been coach of football at Maine for six years and also of basketball and baseball for three years has been offered and has accepted a five year agreement which becomes effective the next college year. This offer is ample evidence of the confidence which the Athletic Board has in Coach Brice.

Results of Basketball Games

Maine 38—M. S. of Commerce 30

The basketball team from this comparatively small Maine School of Commerce in Bangor certainly made things interesting for the Maine boys who failed to show much in the opening game. Not until the last period did our boys have a real lead. Sylvester at center and Fitzhugh at forward showed up best for Maine.

Amherst 40—Maine 31

After getting away to a rather poor start early in the game the Maine basketballers got going but could not overcome a big lead. Fitzhugh was high scoring man for Maine with Gunnarson, another forward as runner up. The game was played at Amherst.

Connecticut 29—Maine 22

The undefeated Conn Aggies basketball team outclassed the Maine shooters at Storrs January 18. Our boys were somewhat handicapped because of sickness. Herbert playing right forward tallied half of the Maine points.

Wesleyan 30—Maine 19

At Middletown, Jan. 19, the Wesleyan basket shooters scored 30 to Maine's 19. Fitzhugh, playing his last game starred for Maine. He completes his college course at mid-year.

Sixty Girls Trying for Basketball Teams

Very nearly a veteran team is available for the varsity girls team, which is being coached by Miss Helen Lengyel. The experienced players are Capt. Caroline Collins, Ruth Greenlaw, Mary Robinson, Sylvia Gould, Dot Ross, Sally Finks, Beulah Kneeland, Madeline Hussey and Jessie Ashworth. There are also some of last year's frosh team scrapping for a place on the varsity.

The freshman girls team is handled by Miss Marion E. Rogers, instructor in physical education. While "talk" says they will have a strong team, a game or two will demonstrate their ability.

PLEASE—examine this list of alumni who are now on our “lost” list. Doubtless there are many for whom addresses can be given or sources of information from which we might hope to trace the lost ones. Preliminary work is being done on the Directory. We hope to locate at least every graduate and if possible every non-graduate. Now for some team work.

An Advertisement of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company

During the past two years 6,000 switchboards have been reconstructed in the larger cities served by the Bell System to enable the operators to give a more direct and faster service.

Previously in towns where there were more than one central office, your operator would hold you on the line while she got the operator at the other central office on an auxiliary pair of wires. Now she connects directly with the other central office and repeats the number you want to the other operator. You hear her do this so that you can correct her if there is any mistake.

This little change cost millions of dollars. Likewise, it saves millions of minutes a day for the public and it has cut down the number of errors by a third.

It is one of the many improvements in methods and appliances which are constantly being introduced to give direct, high-speed telephone service.

There is no standing still in the Bell System. Better and better telephone service at the lowest cost is the goal. Present improvements constantly going into effect are but the foundation for the greater service of the future.

369 LEXINGTON AVENUE, NEW YORK, N. Y.
At the portals of our large cities—New York, Baltimore, Detroit, and soon Cleveland—a semaphore halts a luxurious flyer drawn by a puffing steam engine. A simple switching maneuver, and electricity takes charge. A giant electric locomotive, quickly under way, glides silently into the homestretch with its long string of Pullmans.

Like a thoroughbred it makes the run—tirelessly. Passengers alight in a clean terminal—clean because there is no smoke or soot.

Another milestone in transportation—another event in the life of the iron horse!

Civilization is progressing, with electricity in the van. How far this advance will take us, is a problem for our future leaders. It is for them to develop and utilize new applications of electricity—the force that is pointing the way over uncharted courses, not only in railroading, but in every phase of progress.
