1. Some-time a-go I fell in love With Mi-ster Wil-lie T. And
 2. Well there we sat and when we spoke Our con-ver-sa-tion dwelt On
 3. And he would free-ly glad-ly sing, The songs she did re-quest The

I did hope that bye and bye He'd give his love to me A-ev-'ry-thing be-neath the sun. Ex-cept what most we felt En-ones I asked were "just the ones he al-ways did de-test" "I las! my hopes a dawn - ing bright Lost all at once their spur He joy - ing this de - light - ful mood Whom then did we just see, But rose to leave" he would be glad To have me long - er stay, No saw a girl I well know where And fell in love with him, Next she of all the world whom I Had rath - er see that she. For doubt of it no doubt he wept To see me go a - way I time we met now how it was I don't pre - tend to say. But they did sit down side by side and he did, all the while. He sat me down I though pro - found His max - im wise I drew! 'Tis when I tired to talk to him Why he just moved a - way. Be - gen - tly picked his soft gui - tar Up - on her sweet - ly smile. Ah eas - ier for to like a soul Than to make a soul like you. But, fore we al - ways had a "hat" I own with some small fuss. But he could pluck a flow'r for her So fresh and bright and red. And af - ter all, I dont be - lieve My heart will break with woe. If now, for - sooth, for love or fun 'Twas none - come - at - a muss. give me one which hours be - fore Was shrunk - en pale and dead.

 he's a mind to love that girl, Why 'less him, let him go.
