WOMAN'S VOICE: A holiday trip to Boston will be a well-remembered trip for your children, and can be an inexpensive one as well if you make your headquarters the very popular Hotel Bellevue on Beacon Hill. There's no other city in the United States where you can see so much in so short a time. Historic places, such as Fenuil Hall, the cradle of liberty, Paul Revere's home, the oldest in Boston, and the Granary Burial Ground where Mother Goose is buried. The ideal choice, of course, for your holiday headquarters is the Hotel Bellevue, very centrally located on historic Beacon Hill, and where the family accommodation plan will help keep expenses down to budget size. We suggest that you make advance reservations and that you be sure to send for that very colorful map folder entitled Boston is a Browsing Town. It will give you exciting, advance information on all the things that you will see on your trip. Just write your name and address on a postal card and mail to Hotel Bellevue, Beacon Hill, Boston 1, Massachusetts.
