

The University of Maine

DigitalCommons@UMaine

University of Maine Racial Justice Collection

Special Collections

2018

50th Anniversary of The Assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Ceremony Poster

University of Maine Office of Multiculture Student Life

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/racial_justice

Part of the Higher Education Commons, Race and Ethnicity Commons, and the United States History Commons

The opinions expressed here are those of the contributing authors and do not necessarily reflect the views and opinions of the University of Maine.

This Poster is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@UMaine. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Maine Racial Justice Collection by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@UMaine. For more information, please contact um.library.technical.services@maine.edu.

50th Anniversary of The Assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Ceremony

JOIN US APRIL 9TH @ 12:00 PM

MLK PLAZA (BEHIND MEMORIAL STUDENT UNION)

up hope

we have to learn to live like brothers

Rosa Parks 1913- 2005

We cannot walk alone. And as we walk, we must make the pledge that we shall march ahead. We cannot turn back. There are those who are asking the devotees of civil rights, "When will you be satisfied?" We can never be satisfied as long as our bodies, heavy with the fatigue of travel, cannot gain lodging in the motels of the highways and the hotels of the cities. We cannot be satisfied as long as the Negro's basic mobility is from a smaller ghetto to a larger one. We can never be satisfied as long as a Negro business cannot yet and a Negro in New York believes he has nothing for which to vote. No, no, we are not satisfied, and we will not be satisfied until justice rolls down like waters and righteousness like a mighty stream.

love is the only way

"In spite of the fact that the law of revenge solves no social problems, men continue to follow its dictates leading. History is cluttered with the wreckage of nations and individuals that pursued this self-defeating path."
- Martin Luther King Jr.

I did not start this boycott

We have come to the edge of a cliff. A cliff that will prove to be the abyss of freedom and the secrets of justice. We have also come to the edge of a cliff. A cliff that will prove to be the abyss of freedom and the secrets of justice. We have also come to the edge of a cliff. A cliff that will prove to be the abyss of freedom and the secrets of justice.

We must face the force of evil with the force of love

Just when we thought we had reached the end of our journey, we must face the force of evil with the force of love. Just when we thought we had reached the end of our journey, we must face the force of evil with the force of love.

I've been to the mountaintop

I've been to the mountaintop and I've seen the promised land. I've seen the promised land and I've seen the promised land. I've seen the promised land and I've seen the promised land.

I HAVE A DREAM

This year was a promise that all men would be guaranteed the inalienable rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. It is obvious today that America has defaulted on this promissory note insofar as her citizens of color are concerned. Instead of honoring this sacred obligation, America has given the Negro people a bad check which has come back marked "insufficient funds." But we refuse to believe that the bank of justice is bankrupt. We refuse to believe that there are insufficient funds in the great vaults of opportunity of this nation.

1929-1968 politics

Martin Luther jr.

Five score years ago, a great American, in whose symbolic shadow we stand signed the Emancipation Proclamation. This momentous decree came as a great beacon light of hope to millions of Negro slaves who had been seared in the flames of withering injustice. It came as a joyous daybreak to end the long night of captivity. But one hundred years later, we must face the tragic fact that the Negro is still not free.

Strike Towards Freedom

nobel price for peace

Rosa Parks

I have a vague concept that my four little children will one day live in a nation where people aren't that bothered about the color of their skin but might think a tad more about the content of their character.

I see the promised land

I am not minimalist that some of you have come here out of great trials and tribulations. Some of you have come fresh from narrow cells. Some of you have come from areas where your quest for freedom left you battered by the storms of persecution and staggered by the winds of police brutality. You have been the veterans of creative suffering. Continue to work with the faith that unearned suffering is redemptive.

hate brings hate

I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: "We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men are created equal." I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slaveowners will be able to sit down together at a table of brotherhood. I have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a desert state, sweltering with the heat of injustice and oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice. I have a dream that my four children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character. I have a dream today.

RECEPTION|REFRESHMENTS|DISCUSSION

DIRECTLY AFTER IN

OFFICE OF MULTICULTURAL STUDENT LIFE ROOM 312 MEMORIAL UNION

The University of Maine does not discriminate on the grounds of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, including transgender status and gender expression, national origin, citizenship status, age, disability, genetic information or veteran's status in employment, education, and all other programs and activities.

