SILICONES HAVE EVEN TEMPERERS

The various members of the silicone family all have one remarkable similarity—their sturdy resistance against either very high or very low temperatures.

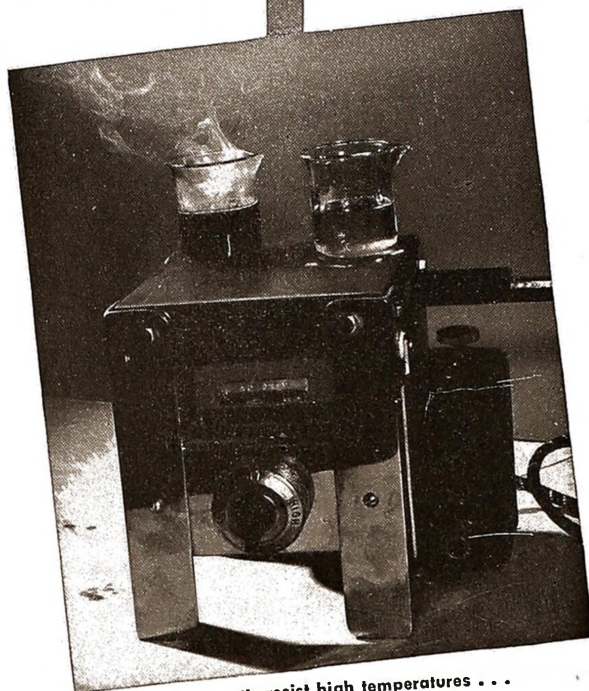

This ability to remain unruffled in tropic heat or antarctic cold has endeared the silicones to all scientists and engineers who are losing sleep over temperature problems.

Flight engineers, for example, have found that the silicone rubber developed through General Electric research is just the thing for gaskets in high-flying gas-turbine engines. Since silicone rubber retains its resiliency over a temperature range from -55 to 520 F, gaskets made of it keep the engine's joints safe and tight against the heat of scalding gases or the cold of outer space.

Plastics engineers have a preference for silicone oils and greases. Applied to hot molds at temperatures up to 575 F (ordinary oils break down long before reaching this temperature), these silicones keep the molded piece from sticking, and thus reduce breakage, save money, and speed production.

In case the names have puzzled you, silicones are the compounds made with silicon. Silicon is our second-most-common element, and an ingredient of glass and sandy beaches. It's only in the last few years that scientists have begun to realize what silicon can do.

Silicones are one of the many problems occupying the minds of General Electric scientists and engineers. General Electric employs 6,000 engineers and 900 chemists, physicists, and mathematicians—the largest technical staff outside of American colleges and the U.S. Government. This staff is behind every product General Electric makes.

FRONT COVER: Featured in our cover picture this month is the symbolic, familiar tower on Stevens Hall, home of the College of Arts and Sciences. As the University prepares to open its doors to the largest student body in its history, the tower over Stevens looks out on a busy campus where faculty and administration exert themselves to have the best facilities possible for the students.

Stevens Hall was built in 1924, its north and south wings in 1933, to provide new quarters for the work of the College of Arts and Sciences. Today it also includes (in South Stevens) the School of Education. The name honors the late Dean Emeritus James S. Stevens who served as Dean of the College for many years.

Docking of the Food Ship

Lumbering in the early days of the little settlement of Falmouth Neck was the main industry of the people. Returns were quick, there was a plentiful supply of material, and a waiting market in England, the homeland.

As a consequence agriculture was neglected and the people frequently suffered for want of the simplest necessities for their tables.

A few corn mills had been established in the locality by 1737 but these were dependent on the flow of water in the brooks beside which they were built. This meant that at the late summer season, when the corn was harvested as a rule the water was low and such corn as was raised could not be ground.

On January 3, 1737, Parson Smith wrote in his diary "There is no wood, little corn, complaints everywhere." On April 21, 1737, he again wrote "All the talk is — no corn, no hay and there is not a peck of potatoes to eat in the whole eastern country." On May 3, 1737 "Mr Goodwin's ship came in with 300 bushels of corn there was great rejoicing."

Corn was 10s a bushel in Boston later that year "with hardly any to be got."

Again in 1741 there was great suffering throughout the settlement for want of food. Finally, "27 vessels came out of Holmes' Hole laden with provisions. Seventeen of them were lost, the others making but little impression on the starving populace."

In May, 1741, Mr Smith again notes "Pretty many families in the Penobscot live wholly on the clam banks." On May 9th, "the fish have but now struck in a great relief to people almost perishing." On May 14th "Mr Jones came in with 900 bushels of corn he sells his corn at 15s a bushel and people groan terribly at the price."

For many years this condition existed. After the destruction of the town by Mowatt and the later rebuilding, agriculture became recognized as the important industry it is, and Portland grew more self-sufficient in the matter of foodstuffs.

NEWS of the SUMMER

THE Maine campus was the scene of many busy days during the summer months with the traditional Summer Session setting the pace with an enrollment of 783 persons registered for the six-week program, nearly all teachers and school administrators. Concurrently with the Session the University offered a nine-week Summer Term for undergraduates taking regular University courses. The total of 667 were registered in this program. Following completion of the six-week Session a special post-session program of three weeks' duration was offered, featuring particularly the popular Workshops in Education which have in recent years attracted many teachers for special intensive work. The post session registered 262 persons. All together the University enrollment for the summer period totalled 1,712 men and women.

This was not the entire story, however, as the University acted as host to many special groups for conferences, institutes, and special work periods which brought many others to the campus for brief visits.

Managers—

An event of importance to cities and towns in Maine, other New England States, and the Maritime Provinces was the second annual Managers' Training Institute for town and city managers held at the campus September 1-5. Featured on the program were such items as preparation of the budget, Welfare Administration, with co-speaker Seth Jackson '32, manager of Orono, and a repetition of the Ridley Clinic highly praised last year. A new feature of interest was the reports from student interns majoring in city management at the University who had been spending the summer in various manager offices for practice. Merle Goff of Westbrook, Thomas Libbey of South Portland, and Allen Torrey of North Weymouth, Mass., all members of the class of 1948, reported on their experiences as interns.

The course for interns whereby those majoring in town management work on some problem of civic affairs under the direction of a town manager is attracting much interest in educational circles. The University was one of the first to establish a course in this growing form of municipal government.

Hygienists—

The University was host July 28-30 to psychologists and mental hygienists as a valuable Institute of Mental Hygiene was presented under the auspices of the Summer Session. General chairman was Prof. Charles Dickinson, professor of Psychology at Maine. Speakers included Dr. George Gardner of Harvard, Dr. Norma Cutts, supervisor of testing for New Haven, Conn, and Miss Esther Lipton, director of special education for the physically handicapped, Maine State Department of Education. Presiding at one of the meetings was Harland A. Ladd '25, Maine Commissioner of Education.

Drivers—

A special course in driver education and training attracted much attention on the campus August 4-8. Designed especially for high school teachers, it attempted by scientific tests to develop a program of driver education for youth through revealing the capabilities of the potential teachers themselves and setting up standards for measuring the abilities of a driver. Numerous paint markings on campus roads and parking areas and the sight of cars making intricate and seemingly meaningless maneuvers revealed the thoroughness of the program put on through the cooperation of the State Department of Education, State Police, the American Automobile Association and other groups.

Agricultural—

The College of Agriculture was not idle during the summer. The Future Farmers and the 4-H Clubs visited the campus early in the summer for their regular programs and in August the Department of Forestry welcomed eighteen guests for a special two-week course in kiln drying of lumber, August 25 to September 5.

Later twenty supervisors of the state Dairy Herd Improvement Associations met at the University for a two-day session, Sept. 11 and 12, under the auspices of the Extension Service.

Secretaries—

A new aspect of the educational scene was treated in a campus conference in August with a Workshop for School Secretaries with sixty persons registered. Programs of the four-day workshop were aimed toward improving the efficiency of the school secretary as an important part of the school. Advice on modern secretarial practices was supplemented by sessions designed to enlarge the secretary's understanding of educational problems.

Introducing . . .

The newest member of the Alumni Council is Mrs Marjorie Moulton Murphy '33 of South Portland. Elected to the Council at the annual meeting in June, she will serve for three years. A Home Economics major, Mrs. Murphy brings to the Council a background of service with the Portland Club of University of Maine Women. She has served as President of the club as well as chairman of several of its committees.

Currently a member of the Union Building Fund Committee, Mrs. Murphy is also fund Area Chairman of the Portland Alumnae. She has been active in civic affairs, serving on the Community Chest, the Y.W.C.A. Teen Age Board, the Red Cross, and the Portland College Club.

Previous to her marriage in 1936 to William J. Murphy '32 she taught Home Economics at Bucksport High and was County Club Agent in Aroostook County. The Murphys have two boys, John and Thomas.

As an undergraduate Marge was an active and outstanding student. A member of Pi Beta Phi sorority she was also elected to Omicron Nu in her Junior year. All Maine Hockey for two years, Captain of Freshman and varsity basketball, Sophomore Eagle, President of the W.A.A., wearer of the Maine Seal and an All Maine Woman for three years attest to Marge's undergraduate activity.

Commission Appointed To Study Medical School

Appointments to the Commission created by the legislature last winter to study the need for a Medical College in Maine were recently posted by Governor Hildreth. Those named represent the public, the Maine Medical Association and the Trustees of University of Maine which was strongly suggested as a site for the Medical College.

Those appointed are Henry Wheelwright, Orono, William F. Wyman, Augusta, and Phillips Payson of Portland for the public, A. K. Gardner '10, Harland A. Ladd '25, Edward E. Chase '13 representing the Trustees, Dr. Edward L. Herlihy '18, Dr. Clyde I. Swett '27, and Dr. Stephen Cobb Hon '47 as representatives of the Maine Medical Association.

Legislation for appropriation of $1,000,000 for establishment of the medical school was greeted with wide favor during the legislative session, but was rejected a few days before adjournment when no major tax measure was approved, therefore making it necessary to slash many measures.

In discussing the appointments, the Bangor News made the following comments:

"Under the plan as discussed before legislative committees the medical school would be a college of the University of Maine, and proponents of the plan favored its location in Bangor so as to be close to the facilities of the Eastern Maine General Hospital.

"A leading exponent of the school was Dr. Herlihy of Bangor who envisioned the establishment of such an institution as a long step forward in solving the problem created by a shortage of doctors.

"At the hearings, those favoring the school expressed the belief that its establishment would encourage many Maine men to enter the medical profession, resulting in their setting up practice within the borders of the state.

"The Legislature, forced to reject the appropriation bill, apparently recognized the importance of a medical school and immediately approved a bill to create the commission in order that a future Legislature would have complete data to study when the matter again comes up for decision."

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION: Helen A. Lengyel from associate to professor of Physical Education for Women.

Alumni NAMES in the NEWS

Miriam Colwell '39

In addition to serving as Postmistress of her home-town, Prospect Harbor, Miriam Colwell has found time to write another novel Day of the Trumpet published in late June has its setting on the Maine coast which Miss Colwell knows so well. While her first novel, Wind Off the Water, was a lusty story of the present day, her latest novel covers an earlier period, namely 1873-1881. These were the days when the sails of Maine were known the world over and were just then being challenged by ships of steam.

They were also the days when the market for lobsters was beginning to develop. Justin Sand was one of the first to go into the prosperous but rugged business. Miss Colwell tells the story of Justin Sand and Hiram, his negro companion, as they grow up together in the small coastal village. Carrying on his trade shrewdly as many fishermen do but also ruthlessly, Sand throws aside friendship and causes at least one broken heart.

Newly appointed Dean of the College of Agriculture and Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of New Hampshire is Robert F. Chandler, Jr., of New Gloucester, member of the Class of 1929. He has been serving as Professor of Forest Soils at Cornell University. The new Dean with his wife, the former Eunice Copeland '31, and their three children, will report for duty at Durham in early October. Dean Chandler is a graduate of the Department of Horticulture, College of Agriculture, and served for two years as state horticulturist with the Maine Department of Agriculture. Graduate work at University of Maryland brought him the Ph.D. degree in 1934 with major study in pomology, genetics, and soil technology. During the following two years he did further graduate study in California especially in forestry and soil science. He has served at Cornell since 1935. He also owns a poultry farm near Ithaca. He has served as visiting professor at Texas A. and M. and as a soil scientist in Mexico for the Rockefeller Foundation.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Forty-three pre-season hopefuls reported to Head Coach Eck Allen on September 4 to begin football training. From the first day a team spirit and will to win has been very evident.

Fully realizing that Maine faced a schedule in which each foe was reputedly stronger than a year ago the coaching staff was strengthened to the point where it is one of the best.

Head Coach Eck Allen returned to the University after serving in the Navy. A former backfield coach at Brown under "Tuss" McLaughry, Allen's 1946 team overcame its G. I. complex late in the season, showing itself to be a well-coached team.

Prof. Rome Rankin who was appointed to the faculty as associate Professor of Physical Education has a successful background of 23 years of coaching. He comes to Maine from Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College where he coached many championship football and basketball teams. His coaching at Maine is extracurricular activity, for with the beginning of college he will begin his teaching duties.

Joe Zabalski, popular line coach who joined the Maine faculty a year ago, continues in that capacity. Zabalski last year turned out a line that produced many fine performances and elevated Jack Zollo to the Little All-American team.

At the request of Allen, Dean Wieman has joined the coaching staff for pre-season practice. President of the National Football Coaches Association, Dean Wieman is former head coach of football at Michigan and Princeton. An author of

While on paper the squad should produce a winning team, because only two lettermen were lost by graduation, Coach Allen is faced with some difficulties. Both Don Presnell and Dick Burrill, last year's wings, were lost by graduation. Added to the lack of experienced endmen was the loss of Emil King, veteran quarterback, who is not returning to college, and Warren Nute, who transferred to Southern California.

In spite of these weak spots Coach Allen is confident that with the fine spirit, which he has termed as "the best that I have ever seen on any team," the

Black Bears will this year field an eleven that will be a credit to Maine.

Below are thumbnail sketches of the squad. It is interesting to note that only nine members are from outside the state of Maine, the smallest number of any of the Maine College squads.

Robert "Bob" Emerson: Letterman in both football and track, pole vaulter, graduated from Bangor High School in 1940, attended Higgins Classical Institute in 1941, B-24 pilot during war in 7th and 5th Air Forces, major study, Chemistry, former Soph Owl.

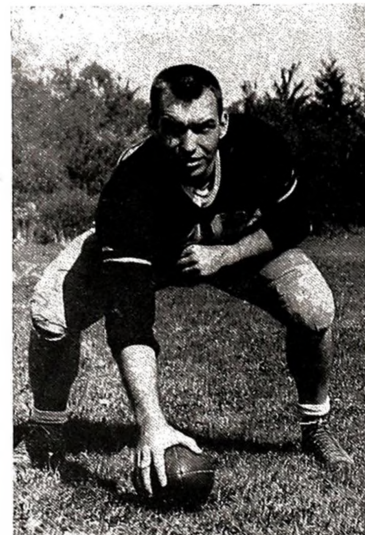

Sherwood "Flash" Gordon: Veteran Center, letterman in both football and baseball, catcher on baseball varsity, attended Vermont Academy, served in Air Forces in E.T.O., Senior, major in Animal Husbandry, former vice president of M Club, married.

Stephen "Steve" MacPherson: Played first string fullback last year, starred for Portland High School, graduated from there in 1941, S/Sgt in Army during war, Senior, majoring in Physical Education, married and has one child, one year old.

George Marsanskis: Letterman in both track and football, All-Maine tackle last fall, outstanding discus and hammer thrower, Naval Aviation Cadet during war, Senior, majoring in Chemical Engineering, graduated from Mexico High School.

Harold "Hal" Parady: Letterman last year, saw service as halfback and quarterback, good passer and kicker, played three sports at Old Town High School, served in the Navy on a minesweeper during the war, Senior, majoring in Mechanical Engineering.

Alan "Al" Wing: Earned a letter as freshman last fall, 19 years old, brilliant basketball prospect, plays end, six-foot-three, pass catching is his specialty, played all four sports at Madison High, Sophomore, intends to major in Civil Eng.

John "Jack" Zollo: Selected for "Little All-American" honors as a first string guard last year, played football, baseball, and hockey at Danvers (Mass.) High School, T/Sgt. in 82nd Airborne (Paratroopers), 34 months overseas. Purple Heart with four clusters, D.S.M., D.S.C., Silver Star and Bronze Star, Junior, majoring in Mechanical Engineering, hobbies, sailing, opera, and playing records.

Henry "Rabbit" Dombkowski: Halfback who earned his letter as freshman and also as sophomore, Junior, graduated from Central High, Paterson, N. J., did not play any sports in high school, very active in all sports at Maine, 19 years old, very shifty runner, likes handball, majoring in Forestry.

Philip "Phil" Coulombe: Halfback who earned spot on varsity and a letter after reporting out late last fall, Sophomore, 19 years old, starred at Cony High, Augusta, plays right-half, one of shiftest runners on squad.

Norman "Norm" Benson: Varsity tackle last year, transferred to Maine from Wesleyan University in order to study Wild Life Conservation, Senior, one of biggest men on squad at 226, was a ski-trooper with 10th Mountain Division in Italy.

Phil "Moose" Murdock: Earned letter last year as a guard, was a varsity guard on informal team of 1945, graduated from Bangor High School, now lives in Springfield, Me., a Senior.

Donald "Don" Barron: Earned letter last year, saw a lot of service as a guard, Sophomore, graduated from Deering High where he played football, in 1944, 15 months overseas with Navy during the war, was on Okinawa invasion campaign, taking pre-law.

Edward "Ed" McDermott: Reserve center last fall, letterman, Sophomore, graduated from Fairhaven (Mass.) High, played baseball, and basketball there, 45 months service in Navy, majoring in Physical Education, Soph Owl.

Donald "Don" Card: Letterman in football and baseball, out with injuries a lot of last season, graduated from Edward Little High (Auburn) in 1941, played basketball, football, and baseball, in 13th AAF during war, Junior, majoring in Physical Education.

Louis "Lou" Oddi: Played with Brunswick Frosh team last year, outstanding

Reginald "Reggie" Lord: Brilliant record last year with Brunswick Frosh as a back, played football, baseball, basketball, and track at Brunswick High, with Engineers in Pacific for 18 months, majoring in Physical Education.

Victory Number One

Maine opened its 1947 football season in a style pleasing to both Alumni and coaching staff by overwhelming a strong Rhode Island team 33 to 13 at Kingston on September 29

Alumni attended the game well, some of them having come over from New York City, and their lusty cheering did much to bolster the fighting spirit of the Black Bears in their debut.

While the usual opening game mistakes were evident, things which can be cured by the coaches, much live strength was displayed and some fine backfield hopefuls uncovered.

Reggie Lord, a Brunswick Campus star of a year ago, was substituted when Phil Coulombe suffered a shoulder injury which will keep him on the sidelines for two or three weeks. While the loss of this smart-running halfback will be a serious one, Lord showed himself a headsup ball player and helped spark the team.

Hal Parady, a last year's letter man, showed up well as quarterback and as a passer. "Rabbit" Dombkowski was brilliant in his speedy and shifty running.

Jack Zollo saw little action in the game while Norm Benson did not make the trip because of injuries. In spite of the loss of these two stalwarts, weighing 173 and 226 respectively, the line showed great power.

While Maine won its first game, Adam Walsh-coached Bowdoin, minus six veterans, surprised most followers by losing to a mediocre Tufts 21 to 12. Bowdoin is still considered by many to be "the team to watch."

Bates, picked by the Saturday Evening Post to repeat in winning this year's State Series, turned in an expected victory by overcoming the University of Massachusetts (Mass State) 14 to 6.

A feather weight Colby team was snowed under by the strong University of New Hampshire Wildcats, a team this year termed by many as "loaded."

CROSS COUNTRY

Maine last year won the State Cross Country meet and showed up well in the New Englands and the Nationals. However, Coach Chester Jenkins holds little hope of repeating such a performance this year

The number one, three, and four men of last year's squad have gone and with few promising replacements. The Brunswick Campus produced no outstanding distance runners and because there is no cross country team at the Annex, those men coming up to Orono are almost an unknown quantity.

In spite of dismal prospects, Coach Jenkins called back a squad of eight men before the opening of college in an effort to have a team ready for the first meet with the strong Bates harriers on October 18

While Bates is expected to do well this year, Bowdoin will also be in position to field a winning team. Some transfers from other colleges during the early spring, who are eligible under Bowdoin rules, have resulted in a rising market on Bowdoin's chances.

Maine in the past eighteen years under Chet Jenkins has often had dreary prospects at the beginning of the season only to develop a championship team. That he can develop men into strong runners and instill a fighting spirit in his men is known to Maine alumni. We are confident that Coach Jenkins will do that this year.

Dues Committee Plans Program for the Year

Newest member of the hard-working dues committee is T Russell Wooley, Jr. '41, instructor in the department of speech. Replacing Jim McClure '33 as chairman will be Philip S. Parsons '34. Reginald H. Merrill is the third member.

Wooley returned to the University in 1946 after having served for five years in Naval Aviation. He saw duty with VPB-63 in Hawaii, Iceland, Wales and French Morocco and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and Gold Star. As an undergraduate Wooley was active on the Masque, debating, Radio Guild and J-V football. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. During the summer Russ did graduate work at Northwestern University.

New member of the important Dues Committee is T. Russell Wooley, Jr., '41.

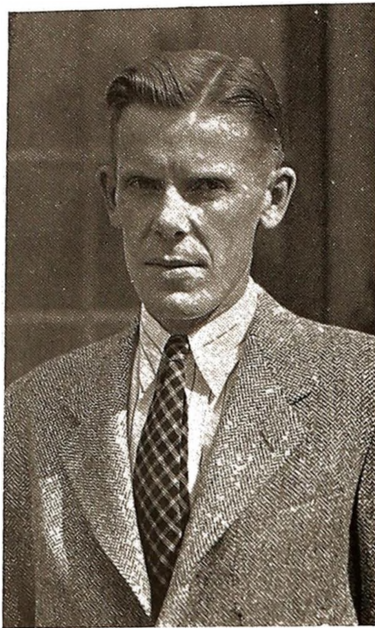

While last year saw a record number of Alumni dues when just over 3600 contributed to the support of the Alumni Association, Chairman Parsons pointed out that less than thirty percent of the Alumni body paid dues. He said that if the Alumni Association were to carry out the program of service to alumni and to the University that the alumni have expressed desirable and necessary then greater support through dues payments would have to be given.

The Alumni Office would very much appreciate the loan of any old historic photographs of the Maine campus, student activities, faculty groups, or other items which could be copied for use in The Alumnus and to add to the Association's records. The originals of such material if desired back will be returned in good condition.

Homecoming Plans

A record-breaking Homecoming attendance is expected for November 8. Football ticket reservations are unusually heavy at this early date.

Prof. Winthrop C. Libby '32 will serve as chairman of the Homecoming Committee for the Nov. 7-8 program.

The Homecoming program, which will be mailed to Alumni about October 20, is in charge of a committee of which Winthrop C. Libby '32 is Chairman. Others on the Committee are Miss Marion Rogers '30, Mrs. Cora R. Doten '23, Miss Dorothy C. Dutton '45, Ted Curtis '23, Fred Lamoreau '30, Bob Worrick '43, Jim Donovan '48, and Barbara Andrews '48.

A feature of Homecoming will be the dedication of the New Library. Scheduled for the late morning the dedication will formally recognize this great new addition to the campus. The traditional Friday night rally and dance will share the night-before spotlight with a meeting of the Union Building Fund Area Chairmen. The Homecoming Committee is also planning other Friday night activity.

Saturday morning the Alumni Council will meet at breakfast. The newly created Alumni Athletic Advisory Committee will also meet.

The highlight of the week-end program will be the Homecoming Luncheon with a few brief speeches so that Alumni may get to the stands in ample time for the Bowdoin-Maine game.

A tea dance following the game will give shivering Alumni a chance to meet old friends over coffee and doughnuts before going on to the Fraternity open houses.

Alumni are urged to make this a real Homecoming by planning now to be in Orono November 7-8.

Dean Roy Peterson Succumbs to Illness

Word of the death on July 21 of former Dean of Graduate Study Roy M. Peterson was received with a distinct sense of loss by his many friends at the University. Death came to Dr. Peterson in St. Petersburg, Fla., where he had gone following retirement from the University in an attempt to recover his health.

A native of Bagley, Iowa, he was graduated from Coe College in 1906, receiving the M.A. degree from Harvard four years later. In 1912 he was granted the Ph.D. degree from the same institution. Previous to his service at Maine he taught at high school, at Eureka College in Illinois, and at Missouri Valley College and Sterling College, Kansas. In 1917 he studied abroad at the American Academy at Rome. On his return from Europe, in 1918, he was named to the faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences at Maine as professor of Spanish and Italian and later became head of the Department of Romance Languages. In one of his most widely recognized services to Maine he acted as Director of the Summer Session from 1930 to 1945. In 1938 he was appointed Dean of Graduate Study and several times served also as acting Dean of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Roy M. Peterson

He was a member of Phi Kappa Phi honorary scholastic society and for many years acted as editor of the Journal of that society. He was also a member of Phi Beta Kappa and other professional societies. His daughter, Leona B., was graduated from Maine in 1945.

On learning of Dr. Peterson's death President Arthur A. Hauck paid the following tribute to his long and conscientious services to Maine.

"His services as a teacher and administrator were marked by outstanding devotion to duty and a high regard for scholarship. He will be long and gratefully remembered for his efficient and unselfish services by the hundreds of students he taught. His colleagues mourn the passing of an admired and respected associate."

Death of W. E. Brawn Ends Career of Service

WORTHEN EARLE BRAUN. General Superintendent of Pejepscot Paper Co. since 1938, Worthen E. Brawn of Brunswick was the victim of a sudden heart attack July 17, while aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth en route to England. He had been elected a few months previously to the national presidency of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry, a signal recognition of his professional leadership in the paper world.

Mr. Brawn had been an active and leading alumnus since graduating in 1917. He served 2 years as chairman of the Merrymeeting Bay Association, was a member of the Library Fund Committee and acted also as Area Chairman for the Union Building Fund Campaign.

Before entering the employ of the Pejepscot Paper Company he was employed as chemist for Spanish River Pulp and Paper Co., Ontario, Canada, and chief chemist for Newton Falls Paper Co., Newton Falls, N. Y. He worked first as superintendent of research for Pejepscot, 1921 to 1926, then assistant general superintendent from 1926 to 1938 when he was named superintendent.

Mr. Brawn had been active in the Technical Association many years. Previously he served as chairman of the Maine-New Hampshire section and later held the position of national vice president.

Besides his membership in T.A.P.P.I. he was a member of Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary society, and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. He was active in the Masonic Lodge, past president of the local Rotary, and a member of the Congregational Church. He was father of Mrs. Beverly Brawn Waller of the Class of 1943. Mr. Brawn was 53 years old at the time of his death.

I've had some news sent me! All '29ers please note and do likewise. Bill Bixby sends word that in 1942 he was married to a Ruth Craig of Rensselaer, N. Y., and they have lived since that time in Phoenix, Arizona. They have two sons, aged three years and six months old respectively

Bill mentioned seeing Vic MacNaughton last winter. At that time Vic was still in the Sea Bees, with whom he spent most of the war in the South Pacific, being attached to an underwater demolition unit whose job was clearing the way to the beaches before an attack. The big news about Vic was that he is now married to Kay Marvin '29 and they are living in Mississippi with Vic back in forest service.

Again a la Bill Bixby, Lawrence Merrill has been in the Virgin Islands since 1930. He married a girl from Denmark and now operates Merrill's Apothecary at Christiansted, St. Croix.

Carroll Hoislin was married this past summer to Verna Marie Sparrow, South Portland. Carroll, who passed three years in the China-Burma-India theater, is employed by the Maine Savings Bank here in Portland.

Orissa F. Kingsbury of 9 Norway Rd., Bangor, attended the summer session.

Now a district conservationist in the Soil Conservation Service at Rockville, Conn., is Laurence T. Small.

Among the students of the summer session was Donald O. Perkins of Brownville Junction.

Bruce S. Longfellow is a member of the Television Division, Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C.

Portland is certainly full of U. of M. graduates, but so few of them are the class of '34 and rather than borrow from another class column I'll try to confine ours strictly to '34—Please, if there are any, make yourselves known

Bob met Benny Caswell in Waterville a while ago. Ben is manager of an axe factory in Oakland.

From one of Bob's many insurances he found some more late news on Ken Foster—Ken has been named to the newly created position of director of research for the Ordinary Life Department of the Prudential Life Insurance Company.

Noiman Gray was married June 16 to Miss Edith Tenney of Bangor. Mrs. Gray was graduated from the Bangor schools and has been employed in the office of Dr. Earl Bubal. Norman is a consulting for-ester and they will live in Fryeburg

Muriel Covell Wilson and Ralph had their third child this summer—a boy. They now have three boys

1935 Mr. Byron G. Avery of Smyrna Mills attended the University Summer Session

Among the students attending the summer session was Wentworth E. Beverage of 137 High St., Oakland

In attendance at the summer session was Frank W. Myers of 343 So. Main Street, Old Town.

Mr. Nathan W. White was among those in attendance at the University Post-Session.

The University of Maine Alumni had a picnic in Ridgewood, New Jersey, in June. There were about forty alumnae, alumni, husbands, wives and families respectively. From all reports it was a delightful outing, baked beans and all the trimmings Maine style. There weren't any '35ers in the group, but several of the classes just before and just after us were represented.

Rusty Walton has been named manager of the Providence agency of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company of Portland. On May 15 Rusty left his position as New England supervisor to accept the Providence post. Following his graduation Rusty was appointed assistant New England district office manager of Remington Rand and subsequently served as Bangor sales manager from 1937 to 1941. In July, 1941, he joined the Union Mutual as an associate of the Portland Sales Agency. Following two years in the Maritime Service he returned to join the head office staff

I always enjoy writing this first column of the year for the Alumnus because there is an abundance of news. In fact, so much that I hardly know where to begin.

I suppose that the logical place is with our reunion last June. It really was a disappointment because so few were in attendance compared with the crowd we had in 1946. The following is a list of those who were there and their doings.

George Frame, Special Agent for Travelers Insurance Company. Address, 12 Willard Street, South Portland. George has one boy, aged five.

Joe Mullen, Manager of Maine Tire Company, Bangor, address 323 Buck Street, Bangor.

Darrel Currie is with the F. B. I. His address is 19 Everett Street, Bangor. The Curries have two children, Barbara, three, and Allan, five months.

Alfreda Tanner Black has two girls, Barbara and Joan, aged two and four. Address, Cape Elizabeth.

Ruth Hinckley McLaughlin has two boys, John, aged 3½ and Stephen, sixteen months. Address, 34 Main Street, Orono.

Candy Lynch is with the Veterans Administration and his address is Catell Street, Bangor.

Reggie Naugler operates his own Ready-Mixed Concrete business in Bangor. The Nauglers have three children, Paige, 8, Ben, 6, and Iris, 3.

John Sealey, Alumni Secretary, was married to Elizabeth Page Flemming of Skowhegan on July 10. Mrs. Sealey was graduated from Skowhegan High School, Lasell Junior College, and Katherine Gibbs School in Boston.

I think I have included everyone; however, if there are any errors or omissions please let me know and I'll make it right next month.

Bruce Holloway is with Northeast Airlines, Logan Airport, Boston.

Tom Hill is Assistant Professor of Accounting at M.I.T. He is married and has two children.

Dr. Alton Prince is teaching at the University. He and his wife have one boy, David, age five.

Virginia Nelson Sturgis is President of the University of Maine Alumnae Club in Portland.

Kay Wormwood attended U. of M. summer school; we had a grand visit one evening while she was here. Kay is principal of Cape Elizabeth primary school.

Phil Snow, Snow Engineering Corporation, is located at 192 Middle Street, Portland.

Charles Dexter is with the Cochran Steam Specialty Company of Portland.

Dana Sidelinger is with the New England Tel. and Tel. in Portland.

Jim O'Connor, O'Connor Insurance Agency, Augusta, is married and has two children, one boy and one girl.

Francis McAlary was married July third to Glen Raynham.

Robert Erskine and Muriel McAllister were married June 8th. Mrs. Erskine is a graduate of Cony High School, Gorham State Teachers College and the University. Robert is manager of the R. B. Erskine store in Gardiner, Maine. Their address is 58 Water Street, Randolph, Maine.

William Wright is assistant metallurgist at Pratt and Whitney Division, Niles-Bement-Pond Company. He is secretary-treasurer of the Hartford Chapter of the American Society for Metals.

Dave Lull is married and has two daughters. He is with the Goodyear Rubber Company in Windsor, Vermont.

Lucien Green is in business with his father in Rockland, Maine. During the war he flew "the Hump" in the Army Air Forces.

Margaret Hook (nee Hall) and Arnold have moved to 18686 Fairport Avenue, Detroit 5, Michigan, where Arnold is working for Parke Davis and Company. Margaret was in Maine this summer for a month. She says in her letter that Dot Conn Bennett had a son, Murray Cleave, on May 30th. Dot lives in Cheshire, Conn. Also that Ruth Sylvester is married to Thomas Prior and has a little girl, Carol Rand, born May 7th. Her address is 32 Lake Place, New Haven, Conn.

George Abbott is an accountant with the American Optical Company, Atlanta, Georgia. His address is Box 123, Pine Lake, Georgia.

Mary K. Perry was among the students attending both the University Summer Session and Post-Session and completed her work for her M.A. Mary returns to her school in Connecticut this fall.

1937 Nancy C. Woods,
134 High Street, Ellsworth

The bus lurched to a stop and left me standing in the foggy darkness outside the familiar waiting-room. Nothing had changed. The trees were a little taller, perhaps, but the walk curved into the campus just as it always had. A pool of light beckoned dimly, and as the edge of my suitcase bumped the steps of an unfamiliar building a door opened and a voice said doubtfully, "Hello." And then I realized—I was an "old Grad"! The next morning on my way to register—through some freak of chance I had had breakfast with the class of 1898—I met Barbie Lancaster Hart who informed me that I had been elected class secretary in absentia. So, as this is my first attempt at reporting the class news, bear with me.

Another summer session at Teachers College, Columbia University, may have dimmed my memory a bit, but here are the vital statistics.

Elmer F. Crowley and his lawyer wife, Ruth Levensalor Crowley, have one son, William Francis, born July 26, 1944. Elmer works as plant engineer for the Atlas Plywood Corporation in Greenville, Maine, and his wife practices law in Greenville, also.

Mary Dunton McAndrew has just completed another year as principal of the high school in Flagstaff, and with her son Jerry, and her mother, she has been spending the summer at her home on the Brunswick Road near Bath.

At the Commencement exercises we noted that Charlotte "Polly" Davis of Milford, a 37er of Phi Mu sorority, looked mighty sweet when she walked up to get her Master of Arts degree in English. Her thesis had the scholarly title of Social Backgrounds of Chaucer's Treatment of Marriage. Cheers, Polly!

Ruby Black Elliott's father-in-law and I had a bit of chit-chat about Ruby and Roddy. I hope we'll see you at the next reunion, Ruby, with your delightful family.

The joint luncheon at the Country Club was the source of more news and current events.

E. V. Brewer, who was here on vacation from Rochester, New York, works for the Eastman Kodak Company there, is married and has two sons. He didn't say what their names were, but we hope they'll follow their Dad's footsteps at the good old U of M.

Raynor K. Brown of North Waterford is a timberland operator, and he also has two boys aged five and three.

Gardner C. Grant is a lumber manufacturer not far from the Canadian border in Cherryfield. He has two boys aged three and one year, respectively.

Jerold M. Hinckley, looking as suave and sophisticated as ever, and his wife, Diana Hight Hinckley (Phi Mu '38), were at the Country Club luncheon, too. Jerry is junior partner of the firm of Merrill and Hinckley in Mary Ellen Chase's home town of Bluehill.

Henry Brown is in Washington, D. C., doing what I don't know, but that is all I have in my notes. Won't you let us know, Henry? I solemnly promise to write up my notes immediately from now on.

Kermit Cates '37 married Priscilla Small in August, 1942. They have one son, Robert Arthur, born December, 1943, and are living in the historic old sea town of Yarmouth.

One of our outstanding classmates, Robert "Bob" Ohler, was able to be with us for Alumni Day and the Alumni Banquet. With him were his wife and daughter who was the most popular young lady at the banquet.

Communications a la Grapevine:
Elva Googins Judd has taken a short respite from being a prominent attendant at weddings and receptions here in Ellsworth and has taken up golf for a hobby somewhere in darkest Massachusetts.

About a year ago Eldredge "Bud" Woods invited me to call on him and his wife Josie Naylor Woods while they were in Bath. That was as far as the invitation went. I did see you across the street one day, Josie, with your daughters, but by the time I could brave the traffic you had gone.

Frequently I see Louise Calderwood Cyr's mother in the public library in Bath where I get news of Louise and Joe et famille.

Late news—among those in attendance at the summer session were James B. Morrison, Jr., of 224 Central St., Millinocket, and A. Ruth Oliver of Monroe.

I've just finished leafing the pages of my old '37 Prism and can't help wondering where all of you are and what you are doing. Mabelle Ashworth and I sat side by side at the banquet, and Ken Webb, aren't you our new Class President? Do let me hear from you at either one of my addresses: Box 479, Bath, or 114 State Street, Ellsworth. And while I'm on the subject why don't you all start making plans to attend our next reunion so that '37 will have the biggest and best time ever? You know, it is quite a thrill to walk around the campus and see what they've been doing while we've been gone, and it is an inspiration to feel that here is a place that is not the product of some rich man's whim, but something that the people and the graduates of Maine have built for themselves out of hard-won, small contributions and a tremendous amount of courage and ambition, under the leadership of Doctor Hauck.

We of the "lost generation" of the depression can more fully appreciate what our Alma Mater did for us in encouraging us to go on through the bitter years of 1933 to 1937.

That's all for now, folks; I'll be looking for letters and postcards and you.

1938 Present at the summer session was Wallace F. Gleason, Jr., of 61 Bennoch Street, Orono. Wally took his oials for his M.A. in August.

Accompanying the Maine delegation of outstanding 4-H Club boys and girls to the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass., was Keith M. Bates, Oxford County 4-H Club Agent.

In attendance at the summer session were Reginald L. Hargreaves of 39 Center Street, Machias, and Martin J. McDonough, Jr., of 96 Otis Street, Bangor.

James A. McLean, Jr., received his Master's degree in Education at the June commencement exercises.

1939 Lynne Huff,
292 Main Street, Calais

I had a note from Lucille Bell Grange in June saying that she and George are the proud parents of a son, George Robert II, born April 14th at Alexandria, Virginia. They also have a daughter, Gale, five years old. George is still employed by the government and they make their home at 3606 Valley Drive, Parkfairfax, Alexandria. Luce also tells us that Dave and Dorothy Davis Page are living in Fort Kent. Dave is managing a starch factory there. Lib. Doble Vogel, Frank, and son Stephen are making their home in Jacksonville, Florida. Frank is president and general sales manager for Hexicon—a concern which puts out a hair-growing preparation. Thanks for your note, Luce, and congratulations on that new son.

The name of Hamilton Dyer has been suggested for the Limestone bomber base and is being considered by the War Department. In July 1941, after two years of training, Ham was stationed at Long Beach, California. He ferried planes to all parts of the U. S. and the Pacific Theatre of operations. He received the Air Medal for leading the first flight of P-38's over the South Pacific. In 1942, he was promoted to Major and was transferred to Alaska where he remained for several months, flying men and materials to secret bases. At this time he received the Air Medal and Oak Leaf Cluster for "meritorious achievement in aerial flight." In 1943 he was sent to St. Paul, Minnesota, where he was control officer of the Army Modification center. Later he was transferred to Romulus Army Air Field. He led a group of pilots, ferrying flying fortresses to England, breaking all previous records. Late in 1943 he was called out of the Ferry Command to be trained as a B-29 pilot. He piloted a B-29 in the original group that left the U. S. for the China, Burma, India theater in April 1944. He received posthumously the Presidential Unit Citation for having been a member of one of four groups of the 58th Bombardment Wing in the first daylight B-29 strike against Japan, in which the steel works at Yawato were destroyed. His plane failed to return after a later Japanese raid.

Among those in attendance at the Summer Session were George E. Burns, Mary E. Buzzell, Edwin A. Cox, Mrs. Jeannette S. DeWitt, Dana E. Drew, Eunice M. Gale, Frank H. Kent, Granville B. MacMillan, and Barbara E. Seavey. Mr. Burns and Mr. MacMillan also attended the Post-Session.

The engagement of Dorothea Wilbur '44 and Robert Bishop has been announced. Dorothea is a graduate of Westbrook Junior College and the University. She taught two years at the Cape May Court House High School, New Jersey, and during the past year has taught at Aroostook School of Commerce, Presque Isle. Bob is in the potato business with his father at Caribou.

Gertrude I. Schaefer, of Brillion, Wisconsin, became the bride of Paul Chapman in July at South Brewer. Gertrude attended the University of Wisconsin and is employed as chief dietitian by the Veterans Administration at Togus. Paul is senior training officer for the Veterans Administration at Togus. They will make their home at 10 Davenport St., Augusta.

1940 Peggy Ladd, 108 Talbot Avenue, Rockland. Mr and Mrs C. D. Ellsworth (Jane Dyer) of 3520 Ashland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, became the parents of Martha Louise on June 30, 1947.

Major Robert D. Wallace is attending the second class of the Air Tactical School at Tyndall Field, Florida. During the war he was a flying instructor and a combat pilot, flying bombers and fighters in 120 missions. He is married and has one daughter, Suzanne.

Paul L. Johnson is instructor in agriculture at the Samuel D. Hanson High School in West Buxton. Since leaving the service he has been doing experimental work at the Department of Agriculture's stations, in Presque Isle and Orono. He and Mrs. Johnson have one child.

Ervin A. Aibo, Wilbur L. Czuzner, Helma K. Ebbeson, Ella M. Glines, Howard L. Jellison, A. Lucille Maddocks, and Barbara L. Welch were in attendance at the Summer Session. Mr. Czuzner also attended the Post-Session.

Philip Curtis is now employed by the Prudential Life Insurance Company. His mail goes to 278 Main Street, Greenfield, Mass.

Vincent Checchi left for China in June to serve as statistical and planning expert for the UNRRA. Since graduating from the University, Vincent received his M.A.

in economics at George Washington University. He did research work on metals for the Statistics Division, War Production Board, during the war. He has also served as chief of the Program Section of the Textile Bureau, War Production Board. Later he served the Allied Commission in Italy, Foreign Economic Administration of the U. S. Government as assistant chief of the Requisition Branch, a body responsible for the coordination of the requisitioning by the Allied Forces of imported supplies for use of the civilians.

1941 Mrs. Vale G. Marvin, 57 Penobscot Street, Bangor.

It is always pleasant to get back to such things as our alumni news after the summer, even if we do hate to see summer gone for another year.

A third daughter, Jane Elizabeth, was born on June 17th to Mr. and Mrs. William Chandler (Anna Verrill). Anna and Bill are living in Cumberland Centre.

On June 3rd Karen Jeanne was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bell in Tenafly, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maasen (Isabelle Garvin) became the parents of a son, David Garvin, on Sept. 15, 1947. Jack and Izzie are living at 16 Chapel Street, Augusta.

Congratulations to all of you parents, and best wishes to each of our future "sons and daughters."

Clifford A. Stevens received his master of forestry degree from Yale University in June.

Eva Clark received her master's degree from Boston University School of Social Work in June. She is now a case worker with the Children's Aid Association in Boston. Her residence is 26 Gorham Ave., Brookline, Mass.

Lieutenant Stanley Cowin, U.S.N., has completed Navy primary flight instruction at the Naval Air Training bases, Corpus Christi, Texas, and will soon enter a basic instrument flight course.

Bob Bennett, who won the IC-4A 35-pound weight throw for Brown University, competed for the University of Maine before the war. The only known left-handed heaver, Bennett won the IC-4A 16-pound hammer throw in addition to his title in the 35-pound event in 1940 and holds the National Collegiate hammer record at 183 feet, 10 3/4 inches.

The engagement of Min Louise Dixon to Roger Paul has been announced by Miss Dixon's parents. Roger served for three years in the U.S.N.R. as a Lieutenant j.g. in both the European and Pacific theatres. Now he is associated with the National Cash Register Company in Dayton, Ohio, as a process engineer.

Among those attending the Summer Session were William S. Brawn, Laura U. Croft, Joseph S. Dinsmore, Jr., Albert E. Hill, John H. Johnstone, Everett L. Meader, and Donald R. Sprague.

On June 21, 1947, Miss Villa Hodgkins Smith became the bride of James Tweedie at Lamome. Mrs. Tweedie was graduated from Dean Academy and from Simmons College in 1941. Before her marriage she was a private secretary with Amita Ltd., New York City. James is a supervisor in the revenue accounting department of the New England Tel. and Tel. Company. Their residence is 17 Dunster Street, Cambridge, Mass.

George Nystrom received his Master's degree in June from the University. A later item from the News I quote in part: "Lt. Commander George Nystrom, U.S.N.R., has been named commander of Organized Surface Division 1-16, local Naval Reserve unit, effective Wednesday, July 9th, according to an announcement from Rear Admiral Morton L. Deyo, commandant of the First Naval District. Lt. Commander Nystrom served as public relations officer of Organized Surface Division 1-16 before taking over its command." George is working at the Eastern Corp., So. Brewer. He and Dorothy Wing Nystrom live at 6 No. Main St., Orono.

I received a letter from Linwood Day in June. He is Managing Editor of the Ardmore Chronicle in Ardmore, Penn., and he is living in Frankford, Penn. Linwood is married and his wife is a freelance fashion artist employed by the Philadelphia papers agencies. He says that the Maine atmosphere is strong down in Pennsylvania and that not long ago he was honor guest at the Main Line Lyons Club which celebrated "Maine Night."

Hope to see ever so many of you the week end of November 8th when we meet Bowdoin at Orono on Homecoming Day.

Francis L. Strout was awarded a master's degree in Education at June Commencement.

1943 Peg Church Grisham, 138 Main Avenue, Gardiner.

When Icky asked me to assume the job as class secretary, I was more than ready and willing to accept—and to myself I said, "Twill be an excellent opportunity, indeed, to keep abreast of what's going on with 43ers." I shall do my best to continue Joe Solie Logan's good work. So that means, dear classmates, keep the wires to 138 Main Avenue burning with news. It will be most appreciated, and I shall comb the Bean City of Boston for all news of Maniacs. Yes, I am living in Boston, but best you send all mail to me in Gardiner, Maine, as we are continually in the process of moving here. Many of you, I know, can appreciate that situation.

The first letter greeted me from the Maine Potato Growers, Inc. One Preston B. Rand edited a very interesting letter about his family. Randy commenced working for the Maine Potato Growers, Inc., in Presque Isle some few months ago. Incidentally he is secretary to the General Manager, Harold Bryant, class of '32. Nice work, Randy! He and Debbi (class '44) have an addition to the family, too.—Linda Lee, who is nearing the ten months old mark!

Betty Bearce Harrison wrote in June that she and Bud had spent a month or so in Boston following which time Bud received orders to report to New Orleans, and then to Corpus Christi. If all goes as planned, Betty and little Margaret will be seeing much of our fair country.

Congratulations are in order, for already there are several more new citizens to welcome. Robert Jordan Pendleton, born July 7, and Alan Sumner Burgess, who arrived July 26. Word has it that Louise Hoyt Findlen has a baby boy, too.

Receiving advanced degrees at the University June commencement exercises were Norman W. Mosher, Master of Arts in Economics; Rita F. Torrey, Master of Arts in Education; and Stuart H. Perkins, Master of Science in Animal Industry.

Jane Rand Pendleton wrote that she and Penny (Frank) have found some U. of M. grads to get acquainted with. They are living in Fitchburg, Mass., at 102 Lawrence Street, while Penny is working at the Research Laboratory of the Fitchburg Paper Co.

Lois Savage Burgess has been in Springfield, Mass., 72 Pleasant Avenue, this summer, while Sumner is completing his Forestry Camp course. Do let's hope we see you in Boston, Lois, when you trek northward to Maine this fall.

Attending the Summer Session were

Erma L. Brawn, Hamilton S. Giberson, Kingsley W. Hawthorne, Nora E. Jackson, Marie J. Rourke, and Wentworth H. Schofield. James H. Bates, Murray C. Bowden, and Margaret M. Gallagher attended both the Summer Session and the Post-Session.

July 5th witnessed the Peeke-Pettersen nuptials: "Mrs. Catherine Leonard Pettersen was married to Rodney Carter Peeke in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, Plainfield, New Jersey. She was escorted by her brother, Henry Grant Leonard, Jr. The reception following was held at the Park Hotel, Plainfield. Mrs. Pettersen is the widow of First Lieutenant Leonard M. Pettersen, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, who was killed on Okinawa in June, 1945. She is a graduate of Penn Hall Preparatory School and Penn Hall Junior College and of the University of Maine.

"Mr. Peeke is a graduate of Westfield High School and served as a Major with the Eighth Air Force during the war. He was graduated from N. Y. University with a Mechanical Engineering degree."

After a motor trip to Virginia, the couple will live at 614 Cherokee Road, Chillicothe, Ohio. You have our best wishes, Kay.

Presume by now that Joe Solie Logan and her husband, Jim, are Harvardedevians. The latest news from the corn belt in Indiana reached me the middle of August, and at that time Joe was anxiously awaiting for fall to come, when they should move East. As Joe puts it—"Anything would be an improvement on the great Mid-West, where the corn and wheat thrive, but not I."

To all those out of bounds of Penobscot County—Eugene Hussey was appointed in May as new county agricultural farm agent in Penobscot County for the agricultural extension service. Gene is well qualified, having previously spent seven months as district county agent. He recently resigned to enter the University of Michigan where he plans to earn his veterinary degree.

A chance meeting this summer with Fran Donovan, on one of Boston's cow-paths, eventuated in our seeing a baseball game together at the Braves Field. Fran is now a graduate of Katherine Gibbs. What are the fall plans, Fran?

Otis Bacon now has the honor of being one of the youngest selectmen in the state, holding the position of Second Selectman of Sidney. Following his graduation from Maine, Otis was employed by the General Electric Company, as a mechanical engineer at the Lynn and Bridgeport plants, working on steam turbines and electrically heated flying equipment for the Army Air Corps. He did much of the research and development work on the famous copper robot man which was used in testing this equipment.

Here are two more items of interest which just missed the spring issue of the Alumnus. First—the engagement of Miss Susanne Hughes Mallard to Mr. Benjamin Graham, Jr., was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer Mallard of Sumpter, S. C. A summer wedding was planned,—(sorry, no details do I have.) Miss Mallard attended Winthrop College, was graduated from the University of South Carolina in 1945, and did graduate work at Columbia University. Following Ben's graduation from Maine, he served with the army in Europe for two and a half years. He is now teaching and doing graduate work at the University of Maine.

The second item of interest—Miss Dorothy Going, daughter of Charles Wesley Going of Rochester, N. H., became the bride of Wallace Flagg Warren, early this spring. The bride is a graduate of House in the Pines and Wellesley College, class of 1945. Following Wallace's graduation from Maine, he served as First Lieutenant in the Marine Corps where he saw service in the Pacific area and Peiping, China. He is employed by the Wirthmore Seed Company. The couple expected to make their home in Bridgewater, Mass.

Following are a few of the personals collected by the Alumni Office from the press and other sources:—

Elmer Rideout is resident physician at the Veterans Hospital at Batavia, N. Y. His mail goes to 147 Oak Street, Batavia, N. Y.

Walter Staub is a graduate student at the Institute of Textile Tech. His residence address is R.F.D. #1, c/o Colonel Owen, Charlottesville, Virginia.

Robert Dodge is Field Representative and Liaison Engineer for the General Electric Tire and Rubber Co., 3202 E. Foothill Boulevard, Pasadena, California. His residence is 401 S. Rampart Boulevard, Apartment 408, Los Angeles, California.

Carlton and Mary (Springer) Crossland are now living on Westbrook St., South Portland. Carlton is associated with the National Bank of Commerce.

Edward Hamblen received his Master of Forestry degree from Yale University in June.

That's it for this month, Amigos—so, 'til next month,—Adois!

1944 Esther Randall,
98 State Street, Portland

Hi, gang! Just back from vacation and raring to go! In case we don't see you all at Homecoming on November 8, please drop a line to 98 State Street and let us know what you're doing these days.

Way back in July we had a letter from Julio Barbero with the announcement of his marriage to Margaret Mary Goff of Philadelphia on May 31st. Both members of the Barbero family are working at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital—Marge as a nurse and Dr. Barbero as resident physician. Their mail goes to 5044 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Penn.

"Troie" finally cracked down and wrote a letter; and in that way we learn that she worked this past summer at Warren Wilson College, Swanoana, North Carolina. This fall she'll be back at Union Theological Seminary in New York City for her third year of study. How's about some first-hand information, Troe?

In Dover-Foxcroft on September 14 Miss Julia Robbins became the bride of Mr. Arthur Yetter Shambach of Harrisburg, Penn. Prior to her marriage Julie was working for the Dairy Council of Detroit. Art was a major in the army during the war, and following the completion of his work as a draftsman in the Styling Division of General Motors, he will enroll at Penn. State College for work toward a civil engineering degree. Congratulations will reach the Shambachs at 527 W. Fairmount St., State College, Penn.

On August 1 the engagement of Frances Bruce to Frederick Johnson McLeary of Farmington was announced. "Pete" graduated from Nasson College in 1946, and Mr. McLeary served with the Naval Air Corps during the war.

David Atwood Choate of Auburn and Augusta was announced in August. Since graduation from Mame Pat has completed additional training at the Central Maine General Hospital School of Medical Technology and is now employed at the State Diagnostic Hospital in Augusta. Mr. Choate is a senior at Colby College and following completion of his studies in Waterville he plans to attend law school.

Mr and Mrs. Weston Evans, Jr., of Lebanon, Penn., announce the birth of a daughter on July 13.

Our very best wishes for success go to Augusta Foster who received her M.D. from Tufts Medical School in June! At present "Gussie" is interning at St. Luke's Hospital in New Bedford, Mass.

Another M.D. in our group is Frank Golbranson who received his degree from Yale University in June. Congratulations, Frank!

Lt and Mrs. Morris Balter announce the birth of a son, Michael Stanley, on June 14. Congratulations go to S.R.U., N.O.B., Adak, Alaska.

The Dick McKeens are living at 83 West California Avenue, Columbus, Ohio. Dick is attending the University of Ohio and Harriette is an assistant buyer in the ladies suit department of a Columbus department store.

On August 2 in Jamaica Plain, Mass., Miss Majorie Ann Talbot became the bride of Paul Welch of Bangor. Majorie graduated from Fryeburg Academy and Holy Rosary School in St. Stephens, N. B., and is employed at the army base in Boston. Paul attended Hebron Academy, the University, and is now completing his senior year at Northeastern University. At present the Welch's are living at 60 Fenway, Boston, Mass.

Esther and Jack Hopkins have a new address (a newly acquired house, by the way)—1401 Santa Clara, Richmond, California. "Aster" is doing personnel work in a department store in Oakland while Jack finishes up his work at art school.

Mary Billings is back on the Orono campus in a teaching capacity this fall—Institutional Management in the Home Economics Department.

Cuz and Max Carter are the proud parents of a daughter, Gayle Files, who was born on Sept 6 in Portland.

Tillie Checchi has been in and out of Maine this summer. He is a US Food and Drug inspector, and the Checchis hang their hats at 20 Hamlet Street, Somerville, Mass.

Since June, Esther and Bill Brown (and young daughter) have been living at 27 Forest Park, Portland.

Portland boasts two pairs of new parents. Swish (Leonard) and Franklin Brooks—a son, Leonard, born on June 22; and Jinny (Goodrich) and Mac McIntire—a daughter, Linda Rolfe, born on July 31. Congrats to the Brooks at 7 Fair Hill Road, Cape Elizabeth, and the McIntires at 242 Douglass Street, Portland.

Fortunately there is a pediatrician in the Medical Building where yours truly works, for in that way we can check up on the gang when they bring their children in for "shots." Last month Ginny and Paul McIntire were in the office with Suzy and Paula. The Macs' address is Box 29, Durham, N. H. Paul is teaching at the University of New Hampshire in addition to his psychological testing for Veterans' Education Services.

Joy and Joe Ingalls are living at 300 Main Street in Westbrook.

One bright July day who should appear on Congress Street but "Cee" and Warren Clement—just back from Hawaii! At that point their plans for the future only went as far as a vacation in Maine.

Barbara Hopkins is doing secretarial work in an advertising firm in N.Y.C. "Jonnie's" mail goes to 52 Greenwich Avenue, New York, N. Y.

On August 22 Miss Florice Dunham became the bride of George Washburn Lyon of Chicago, Ill. George is studying chemical engineering at Purdue University and will continue in his work on a graduate fellowship in physical chemistry and mathematics. The Lyons will reside in Lafayette, Indiana.

Dodie and Don Cronkhite are living at 17 Rosa Road, Schenectady, N. Y. (Mail goes care of Newkirk). Don is employed by General Electric Company.

Miss Eleanor G. Evans, Supervisor of Elementary Education in Bangor, served as a member of the summer session faculty, teaching Elementary Education.

Among those attending the Summer Session were Annetta L. Bishop, Edna A. Drinkwater, Mary B. MacDongale, and William L. Redmond. Mr. Elton M. Rich attended the Post-Session.

The degree of Master of Science in Chemical Engineering was awarded Burt E. Bates at the University June commencement exercises.

Ted Phillips is with Ingersoll Rand in Houston, Texas. Mail goes to 1710 Texas Avenue, care of Ingersoll Rand.

In Trenton, N. J., on August 16th Jean Ritchie became the bride of Holyoke Adams of Melrose, Mass. In September Hokie started his graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, and the Adamses are living in Madison, Wisconsin.

Rhoda and Walter Schwartz have recently moved to 16 Havana Street, Roslindale, Mass. Walter is on active duty with the Navy and is stationed in Boston.

Dick Chadwick is finishing up his academic work at University of Maryland.

Dinney Presnell is working for Equitable Life Insurance in New York. Mail goes to 41 Steuben Street, Albany, N. Y.

Maine Potato Growers Inc in Presque Isle employs a goodly number of 44ers—Steve Richardson, Bert Murch, Ben Curtis, John Whitten, and Preston Rand.

A phone call to Dick Fuller produced the following information—Doris, Dick and young John are living at Windy Hill, Spurwink Avenue, Cape Elizabeth, and Dick travels as a sales representative for Fullers', Inc.

Betty (Brackett) and Edgar Robertson of Peaks Island are the parents of a daughter born September 13th. Congratulations!

That's all for now—See you November 8th.

1945 Mrs Fred Haggett,
105 Main Street, Orono

Greetings, classmates! First thing on the docket is a hearty "Thank you" to our former class secretary, Connie Carter, for doing such a splendid piece of work in keeping our class together by way of this column for the past two years. The only news I have about Connie, by the way, comes from a very newsless letter which stated "I may be in Orono for the winter." You are free to draw any conclusions you wish from that statement.

If you are wondering who your present secretary is, I roamed the campus as an undergraduate as Ada Minott. On August 23 of this past summer I was married to Fred Haggett of South Portland in the Congregational Church in Phippsburg, Maine. Fred, a veteran, is majoring in Dairy Technology and expects to graduate in 1949. We are settled in two rooms at 105 Main Street and feel exceedingly lucky to have such a nice apartment. I expect to have a most interesting year dividing my time between acting as part-time secretary in the Women's Physical Education Department and studying the art of cooking. Well, on with the news of our class.

Shirley Ansell is now Mrs. Clarence Brown. She and her husband are living at 62 Queensberry Street in Boston.

Hollis Tedford, Jr., was married to Miss Edythe Marie MacPherson of Boston in June; their present residence in 1613 Stratfield Road, Bridgeport, Conn.

Howard C. Dainon, Norma F. Hoyle, and Mary L. Reid were among those attending the University Summer Session. In attendance at the Post-Session was Ethel M. Prescott.

If you happen to be driving through North Anson, Maine, drop in to pay your respects to the new wife of the new principal of North Anson Academy, Mrs. Wilbur Connon—Priscilla Moore. Priscilla and "Tate" were married June 21st in the Rockland Congregational Church, Rockland, Maine. Madeline Nevers, Eleanor (Flint) Currier, and I had the pleasure of attending the wedding.

And speaking of Madeline Nevers, you may now find her running around Sagadahoc County in Maine as the new 4-H Club Agent, the first woman, I believe, to hold this position. Maddy's residence is Gillander Avenue in Auburn; her office may be found upstairs in the Lewiston Postoffice Building. From very reliable sources I understand that 4-H leaders like her because she gives direct answers to questions about the work rather than evasive ones. Our hats off to you, Maddy!

Mrs. Richard Currier, whom you once knew as Eleanor Flint, is living in North Jay, Maine, where her husband and one of his brothers are in partnership operating a portable sawmill.

Barbara Atherton received her M.S. from Cornell University in June and spent this summer with her parents in Orono. News from you, Athie, would be very welcome as to what you are doing now.

Ada C. Minott received her Master's degree, Master of Arts in English, at the June commencement exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hayman of Lewiston have announced the engagement of their daughter, Hazel, to Ralph Gould. Miss Hayman is a graduate of the School of Nursing at the Central Maine General Hospital at Lewiston. No date has been set for the wedding.

One of the two new instructors in economics for the University appointed recently is Jennie Johnson. Jennie received her M.A. from the University this summer, last year she served as graduate assistant in economics while working for her M.A.

On July 26, Kenneth "Doc" Reed and Lois Ricker, class of '47, were married at the latter's home in Portland. You will find them at 261 Chatham Street, Lynn, Mass. I received a long letter from Lois telling about their housing troubles. Their apartment was to be ready for them by June 15th, but August 15th still found six men working on the rooms. Lois and "Doc" moved in just the same, and at the time of Lois' letter, they were frantically trying to avoid falling over and into paint cans. "Doc," if you have forgotten, is an engineer at the General Electric Plant in Lynn.

Rev. Edward L. Manning is now minister of the Second Congregational Church at Warren, Maine. The Mannings and their nine-months-old son moved to Warren from Deer Isle early in July.

Stepped into the bookstore the other day for the first time since it has been renovated and found Mrs. Robert Anderson, alias Arlene Beaumont, sitting at the counter. The Andersons, married last June, are living on High Street, in Old Town, very grateful to Edith Merrill's mother for helping them to find an apartment. Bob was a freshman on the Brunswick campus last year. Arlene said that Marie Bennett will be married this October 18th. I hope to have more details about Marie later.

Another wedding at the Congregational Church in Rockland this summer was that of Sherwin "Deep" Bardsley and Pauline Spear, class of '46. The Bardsleys are living in Worcester, Mass., where "Deep" is connected with the claims department of the Paul Revere Life Insurance Company.

Raymond Jones was married recently to Miss Florinda Fong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bing Shun Fong of San Francisco. The bride's father is the representative of the Chinese people of the Western Hemisphere to the People's Political Council in China. Ray and his wife will live in Bangor until the former finishes his studies in Business Administration at the University.

Saw Doris (Emery) and Frank Spencer the other day and also the latest addition to their family, Jacalyn Raye. "Jackie" was born last June 17th, and at three months is an exceedingly healthy looking individual in spite of the fact that Frank told me very confidentially that he feeds her hot-dogs whenever Doris isn't looking! The Spencers are living on the banks of the Stillwater in a very lovely four-room cabin which they built a year ago.

Received a nice letter from Bob Temple recently. He writes that the summer has been far too short for him—no time to catch a tuna, which is most unusual for him. Bob will be back at the University this year, and anyone who wishes to hunt him up will find him adorning his hideout on the third floor at 380 College Avenue, Orono.

Evvie (Tarr) Smyth and husband J. Robert, Jr., were in Maine during August. Evvie was my only attendant at my wedding, thus I was able to catch up on the news about the Smyths. At present, Smitty is working for his Ph.D. in Poultry Husbandry at Purdue, having received his M.A. last year. Evvie is working in the photography dark room of the Mechanical Engineering Building at Purdue and finds the work very interesting. I should think she would, since she is working indirectly for the Army, Navy, and Marines combined! Their address is still 443½ South Chauncey Street, West Lafayette, Indiana.

Also from Evvie came news of Bob Krause. Bob and Georgia Weiser were married on September 22, 1946. I believe that both are working as reporters on a newspaper in the mid-west.

616 Conroy Street, Cincinnati 14, Ohio, is the residence of Marie (Haines) and Bob Pancoast and their five-months-old daughter, Carole Ann. The above will be their address until Bob graduates from the University of Cincinnati next June.

Carolyn "Charlie" (Chaplin) and Bill Bradley are living at 1 Rolling Lane, Natick, Mass. "Charlie" wrote that she, Bill, and their daughter, Linda Lou, divided their vacation this summer between Bangor and Sebago, paying a brief visit to the campus and seeing among others Mrs. Dana Bunker.

Peg (Brown) and Dana Bunker are living at 16 University Place, the home of Dean Wilson and Dr. Sweetman. I received a long letter from Peg last month telling of the many evenings which she, Dana, and the Bob Duttons (Dorothy Currier) spent canning beans and peaches. She also informed me that she and Dot obtained proper exercise this summer walking around golf courses while Dana and Bob attempted to play. Peg will be one of the assistant dietitians for the college this year, as she was last.

Also assistant dietitian is Dot Dutton. Fred and I paid a call on the Duttons recently and found them happily situated in the South Apartments, 12-C.

Well, I guess that this closes the news of the class for now. Information about members of our class will be very welcome, and I hope that many of you will find the time to send me a line about yourselves. Oh yes—I'm sure that the campus will be very well run this year from the political angle. Our own Bob Merchant was elected Campus Mayor last spring for this year!

1946 Mildred Byronas,
218 Washington Street,
Hartford, Conn

Peg Jameson has spent a leisurely summer at Waldoboro with future plans uncertain but thoughts of Boston for this fall. She described a very beautiful wedding in Canada, that of Natalie Jones to Rev. Donald Wilbur Noseworthy which took place this summer at Saint John, N. B.

Weddings flourished in great style this summer, starting off in June when Jeanne Ross became Mrs. Dewey Holdridge at Saint Michael's Church at Marblehead, Mass. At Portland Pat Stickney became the bride of Don Davis on the 21st of June and on the same day but an hour and a half later Don Stebbins and Betty Perkins became Mr. and Mrs.

Ralph Kennison and Dorothy Blazejewski were married in New York on the 15th of June. He received his M.A. from Rensselaer in June. Winthrop was the scene of a double wedding ceremony when Mary Wahl became Mrs. Edwin Ambrose and Phyllis Smith became Mrs. George Ambrose on the 21st of June. The George Ambroses are residing at Livermore Falls where George is a member of the teaching staff.

Carolyn Comins became the bride of Lyman Jacobson July 10 at the Memorial Chapel at Ocean Point. John Swett and Virginia Graham of Orono were married on July 2. At Bluehill Edward Hudson was married to Elizabeth Leach. Ed is employed as commercial lighting engineer for the Western Mass. Electrical Company.

Polly Marie Spear and Deep Bardsley were married on the 16th of August at Rockland, and are living at Worcester on LaGrange Street. Ruth Butterfield and Gene Weeks were married in Bangor this summer and are living there while Gene continues his studies at the Maine School of Commerce, now Husson College.

Ruth Dudley became Mrs. William Johnson September 13 at Mapleton. Kay and Jack Woodworth's new address is 178 East Haverhill Street, Lawrence, Mass.

Barbara P. Allen, who received her Master's degree from the University in June, will teach English at Old Town Junior High School this coming year. Shirley Hathaway, who taught school at Fort Fairfield last year, is teaching English at Old Town High School.

Jeanne Delano will teach at the University of Missouri this fall after receiving her Master's degree at Wellesley College. Harry Angelides signed up with the Philadelphia Phillies this Spring and has spent the season at Wilmington, Delaware, with the class B farm club.

From the list below you will see that many of our fellow classmates still like school.

In attendance at the Summer Session were Shasta A. Boynton, Ralph E. Emerson, Robert F. Fortier, Mrs. Irma S. Goldsmith, Edith D. Gregory, Theodore G. Gridley, Weston B. Haskell, Lewis E. Webber, and Mrs. Muriel W. Whitney.

Attending both the Summer Session and the Post-Session were Althea L. Barstow, Charles F. Hass, Betty P. Jenkins, Ronald C. Johnson, Franklin Talbot, and Milford G. Sawyer.

Advanced degrees were awarded the following at the University commencement exercises in June: Carroll B. Richardson, Master of Science in Agricultural Economics and Farm Management; Russell S. Bodwell and Sherman K. Smith, Master of Science in Civil Engineering; Roger F. Luce, Margaret D. McNeil, and Einar A. Olsen, Master of Education.

1947 Peg Googins,
Pleasant Street, Waldoboro

Do you all feel a little lost? It would be good to be going back to the good old U. of M. Won't you drop me a line or two letting me know just what you all are doing?

I have tracked down a few. Phyl Elbridge is at the Psychological Service Center in New York City. Her address is 118 W. 13th St., N. Y.

The Rev. Walter Wyman is the pastor at the Congregational Church in Westhampton, Mass.

Among the summer bridals we have: Joanie Ambrose and Phil Shaw, who are living in Bangor at 193 Essex Street; Cecily Johnson and Dave Griffin, who were married June 23rd in Augusta; Madeline Ellingwood and Bob MacDonald of Madison, who is a pre-dental student at Colby College; Bea Ross and Monty Higgins, who were married in Lewiston at Bea's home shortly after graduation in June; and Jean Ackley and Verne McDonald of Old Orchard, who were married at the Methodist Church in Hampden. Jean's husband is a student at Husson College in Bangor, and served three years in the Marine Corps.

In the teaching profession, we find Howard Hunnewell, who is Junior High Principal at Grand Lake Stream; Anna Crouse, Science teacher at Mexico High School, where we also find Amelia Swain teaching Home Ec. Hilda Haskell is at Edward Little High School in Auburn, teaching Home Ec. Her address is 48 Lake Street, Auburn. Evie Foster is Phys. Ed. instructor at Fifth Street Junior High School. Barbie Woodfin is at the Lower School, a private school at Marblehead, Mass. You can write her at 12 Rose Avenue, Marblehead. Also, at Bridgton, Maine, is Priscilla Roberts, teaching English in the High School.

In attendance at the University Summer Session were Robert P. Brown, Leo B. Bunker, Jr., Warren C. Curtis, Erwin A. Gallagher, Lloyd W. Griffin, Richard F. Harlow, Thomas A. Harrington, Stanley J. Kuz, Andrew M. Laughton, Grover B. MacLaughlin, Barbara L. Mills, Clayton M. Packard, Ray F. Rollins, and Clifford P. Tinkham.

Attending both the Summer Session and the Post-Session were James H. Bates, Stora W. Emmett, Alberta A. Haines, Philip G. Hines, Darrol E. Robinson, Charles W. Webb, and Leslie H. Whittemore.

Receiving advanced degrees at the University commencement exercises in June were Lawrence E. Standish, Master of Arts in Education; and Lillian R. Michaud, Master of Education.

There are three Es in telephone

One is for Everybody

One is for Everywhere

One is for Efficiency

TELEPHONE SERVICE is for everybody, everywhere. And the thing that makes you like it and want to use it is efficiency — with courtesy.

It's the tone of voice, the warmth and friendship, the helpfulness which you have come to expect of telephone people.

The Operator reflects it when she puts through your call promptly and courteously. The girl in the Business Office shows it when she goes out of her way to take care of your needs. The Installer practices it when he brings willingness and good nature, as well as a telephone, to your home.

It all adds up to pleasing service for you — from many thousands of telephone people, all along the line.
