Report of Superintendent of Schools

---

To the School Committee and Citizens of Blanchard:

Annually, at this season of the year, we concern ourselves with appraising the work of the past year, stock-taking to determine our present position, and finally planning the work of the new year. We are entering a period in which, on local, state, and federal levels, the term "planning" is rapidly becoming a watchword of sound administration. We are all stockholders and directors in the largest business in the world, namely, that of public education. Planning has always been fundamental to business success, and our particular business can claim no exception.

The additional subsidy which was allocated to towns in December under the provisions of the new MacKinnon bill has accomplished untold good in the personnel crisis which the state faced a year ago. Without supplementary aid enabling communities to improve salary schedules, the impact of conditions on educational opportunities for children and on the financial status of teachers would have been serious beyond measure.

The events of the past year, together with national trends which daily become more significant, indicate that our gains were in part temporary and that they are rapidly being nullified. Living costs are constantly mounting, price controls and wages are being revised upward.

We had anticipated that the end of the war would bring about some improvement in the availability of trained teachers. This has not developed. Instead, the shortage is becoming more critical as teachers leave their positions to marry or resume life as homemakers.

An overall view of the situation leads to the inevitable conclusion that most communities must give serious consideration to a 1946 school budget which will include substantial salary increases to teachers. In this way only can citizens be assured of a reasonable educational opportunity for their children.

The school enrollment is such that your town has to plan to maintain only one school. So far your school officials have been successful in finding a trained teacher for the school. This is due largely to the fact that such a teacher is a resident of the town. Reports seem to show that it is the small rural schools that are first affected by any shortage of teachers. Therefore, it may be a question as to what success your school officials would have, if they had to try to find a trained teacher elsewhere. One thing is most certain. The salary they would have to pay in such a case would be much more than is being paid the present teacher. It would seem almost reasonable for them to ask that funds be provided with which to make the salary more nearly equal to what trained teachers are getting in other schools.

We read much these days about the need for changing the present school program to meet rapidly changing world conditions. Educators agree that the curricula should be changed to meet existing needs. With such an end in view and in cooperation with the state department two committees, consisting of primary and elementary teachers, are now working on two bulletins designed to outline new educational practice for teachers.

Because of the new law relating to school age it has seemed best to do away with any so called sub-primary grade work in the town school and instead have all beginning pupils enter the first grade. The law now states that only those pupils who will become at least 6 years of age on or before December 31 of the school year may enter grade 1.

School Funds and Needs

In planning the school budget for the coming year it now seems advisable to increase the amounts recommended for some purposes over the amounts raised for these purposes for the current year. Additional funds should be made available to increase teachers' salary for another school year. During the current year only a small sum has been expended for school fuel. So during the coming year bills may be paid to cover the cost of fuel for two years. However, the cost of the fuel for one of these years may be paid from the amount now available for school purposes.

There are now three pupils from the town who are doing high school work and for whom high school tuition is being paid. There may be the same number to attend high school this coming school year. At the present time these tuition charges are on the basis of $300.00 per year. Upon the payment of that sum the state will allocate to the town in the State School Fund next December $200.00. Only a small sum needs to be raised at this time, if any at all.

It is about time we planned to make some changes in textbook. Some of the books now being used are much the worse from wear and tear. That such changes as may seem advisable may be made a small appropriation is being recommended for school textbooks. From the amount raised for school supplies we are paying the cost for lights. Hence we must consider the need for both supplies and lights.

The work we have been planning to do for two years on the school building still remains to be done. I refer to the plan for painting on and about the building. Some repair work should be done in the toilet parts of the building. Perhaps you should plan to make about $200.00 available for school repairs for next year. No additional money will be needed for insurance for next year.
