Murra, John Victor

1 Bibliographers’ note: We have not been able to include all of John Victor Murra’s writings of which we are aware. For example, we have not located the articles on soccer and the literary pieces he published in the Romanian-language periodical Dimineata during the 1930s (Castro et al. 2000: 22, 24). We have also not been able to find the periodical articles and speeches Murra said he wrote on behalf of unnamed African leaders (ibid: 96). During the 1950s Murra contributed regularly to The United States Quarterly Book List published by Rutgers University Press for the Library of Congress. However, it is not possible to identify the individual reviews that Murra wrote. When page numbers or other details are omitted it is because articles were discovered in clipping files in The Catherine Pelton Durrell ’25 Archives and Special Collections Library, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, New York; in the archives of the Anthropology Division of the American Museum of Natural History, New York City; or in the Smithsonian’s National Anthropological Archives, Suitland, Maryland without such details recorded. We thank Rolena Adorno, Sumru Aricanli, Richard E. Daggett, Jean-Jacques Decoster, Pierre Druviols, David Fleming, Leanda Gahegan, Heather Lechtman, Robert S. Leopold, Dean Rogers, Deborah Santeliz-Lockwood, Daniel J. Slive, Frank Solomon, Ellen Fitz Simmons Steinberg, and the staff of New York University’s Tamiment Library & Robert F. Wagner Labor Archives for assistance in the preparation of this bibliography.

1970f Nispa Nínchis 1. This is a mimeographed first issue of a Quechua studies newsletter that Murra intended to produce with José María Arguedas. Arguedas’ suicide in 1969 prevented the newsletter from continuing.

1983b Prioridades en la etnografía antigua del mundo andino. Semana de Última Hora (La Paz), 25 - February, p. 3.

1985e Review of Religion and Empire: The Dynamics of Aztec and Inca Expansion by Geoffrey W. Conrad

1987c La etnohistoria. In La etnohistoria en Mesoamérica y los Andes, edited by Juan Manuel Pérez Zevalllos and José Antonio Pérez Gollán, pp. 159-175. Mexico: Instituto Nacional de Antropología y Historia.

PAPERS OF JOHN VICTOR MURRA

The bulk of John Victor Murra's papers are in the National Anthropological Archives of the Smithsonian Institution. For a register of these papers see: http://www.nmnh.si.edu/naa/fa/murra.pdf (consulted 3 June 2009).

Other archival collections with documents relevant to the life and work of John Victor Murra include The Catherine Pelton Durrell '25 Archives and Special Collections Library, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, New York.

New York University's Bobst Library contains extensive records of the Research Institute for the Study of Man with much material relevant to Murra's work in the Caribbean.

New York University's Tamiment Library & Robert F. Wagner Labor Archives houses documents and audiotapes relevant to Murra's participation in the Spanish Civil War.

The Harry S Truman Library and Museum, Independence, Missouri, Records on the President's Committee on Civil Rights Record Group 220 incorporates Murra's citizenship case records.

Several collections of documents in the Anthropology Division of the American Museum of Natural History have papers relevant to John Victor Murra. The records there of the Institute of Andean Research contain documents pertinent to John Murra's 1941-42 fieldwork in Ecuador, to the Inca Provincial Life (Huánuco Project), and to his tenure as President of the IAR. The AMNH's Junius B. Bird Laboratory of South American Archaeology contains further records of Murra's Huánuco Project, including field notes and photographs, transcriptions of archival documents relevant to Huánuco, maps of the region, official documents authorizing the project, interim reports, and professional and personal letters by or to Murra. Certain letters in the Bird Lab to and from E. Craig Morris and to and from John Hyslop are also relevant to Huánuco John Victor Murra's life and work.

Information on Murra in the Archivo General de la Guerra Civil, Salamanca, Spain was said by him to be partially incorrect.
Some significant John Murra papers remain in Andean countries and in private hands.

INTERVIEWS

“En la obra de cualquier autor, poeta, lo que sea, cualquiera, hay un retrato que se hace del el, y otra cosa es lo que él percieve de sí mismo” John Victor Murra speaking to Waldo Ansaldi and Fernando Calderón G., 1989 (“In the work of any author, poet, whoever, there is a portrait that is made of him, but how he perceives himself is something else”, translation by Monica Barnes).
