world at Western Electric

AS THE world's largest manufacturer of communications equipment our continued progress depends greatly on our engineers. They have a key role in the production of some 50,000 types of apparatus and component parts that Western Electric makes in a given year.

● To our engineers falls the monumental task of developing manufacturing operations and of planning the installation of telephone central office equipment across the nation. They devise the new machines, tools and methods needed to do our job. They also shoulder the major responsibilities in carrying out the defense contracts the government has asked us to take over — major projects like the Nike guided missile system and SAGE, the continental defense system.

● In the course of their technical work, engineers participate in such broad managerial functions as production, merchandising, installation, and many others. What's more, we have a record of promotions from within. It's not surprising, therefore, that fifty-five percent of the college graduates in our upper levels of management have engineering degrees.

● Naturally we do everything possible to encourage and speed the professional development of our engineers. Just recently, for example, we inaugurated a full-time off-the-job Graduate Engineering Training Program at special training centers, a program with few parallels in American industry.

● The new engineer moves into the first phase of this program, Introduction to Western Electric Engineering, four to six months after he joins us and devotes nine weeks of study to such technical subjects as communications systems, military electronic systems, product design principles. He takes part in the second phase, General Development, after the first year on the job. In this phase he devotes nine weeks to courses in human relations, semantics, engineering statistics, electronics, measurements and instrumentation, systems circuit analysis. The third phase, Advanced Development (4 weeks per year), is available to selected engineers and is geared to the individual to help develop his creative engineering abilities; goes deeply into such subjects as magnetics, computer applications, electronic switching, radar fundamentals, feedback control systems and technical paper writing.

● Besides this company-wide program, a number of our divisions offer individual engineering courses in their own specialties. We also sponsor a Tuition Refund Plan for out-of-hours study at nearby colleges. Open to all employees, this plan helps our engineers study for advanced degrees at Company expense.

● Truly there's an engineer's world here at Western Electric . . . one in which engineers in every field of specialization can expect to grow.

SPECIAL REPORT

Mr. JIM BYRD NEW YORK LIFE AGENT
at ATLANTA, GEORGIA

BORN: April 14, 1929.

EDUCATION: Georgia Institute of Technology, B.E., 1951.

MILITARY: U. S. NAVY—LT. JG June '51—May '53.

PREVIOUS EMPLOYMENT: July '53 to March '54—
Industrial Engineer for shoe manufacturer.

REMARKS: Former Navy Lieutenant Jim Byrd became a New York Life representative on March 16, 1954. His entry into the insurance field came soon after graduating from Georgia Tech as an engineer. Largely as a result of a helpful, friendly manner in his business activities and a logical approach to his clients' insurance problems—Jim Byrd's switch in careers, from industrial planning to insurance planning, proved notably successful. His impressive record in the nearly 4 years with New York Life—which includes qualifying for the Company's Star Club in 1954; Top Club in 1955, 1956; and the industry-wide Million Dollar Round Table in 1956, 1957—is a good indication of Mr. Byrd's future success potential with the Company.

Note

Jim Byrd, after nearly four years as a New York Life representative, is already well established in a career that can offer security, substantial income, and the deep satisfaction of helping others. If you'd like to know more about such a career for yourself with one of the world's leading life insurance companies, write:

Under the Bear's Paw

There's a fellow out in Columbus, Ohio, that we know who's not afraid to speak his piece. His name is Jack Fullen, and he's the editor of the Ohio State University Monthly, which is sent to alumni of OSU as is the MAINE ALUMNUS. Last month Fullen wrote an article entitled "Teaching IS A Way To Live?"

Now, protesting about low salaries of teachers is not new—just about everyone in the educational field has spoken out on the subject at one time or another. Apparently, however, the subject is being treated like the weather—everyone talks about it, but no one does anything about it. To be sure, efforts are being made by citizens and groups in many communities to boost teachers' salaries. But it's a slow process.

Getting back to Mr. Fullen, here are a few of his remarks on the subject to Buckeye alumni:

"... teachers have to be dedicated, like preachers. In Heaven's name, I suppose. Well, in Heaven's name, why do teachers have to be any more dedicated than the doctors, lawyers, engineers and other professional people they trained? The fact is it's only a ruse and a rationale we've all invented to keep their salaries low and their community disciplines high. Throughout our school systems, some janitors are making more than the teachers. On the college level, one of the anomalies of the times is that the median salary of a professor in our 1,800 colleges and universities is $5,200 a year. Truck drivers, plumbers and carpenters make more than that, and they should, but why shouldn't the men and women who have invested a third of their lives and sacrificed thousands of dollars into their preparation to teach us?"

Recently Prof. Weston S. Evans, acting dean of the College of Technology, said in an interview with writer Steve Riley of the Portland Sunday Telegram that low salaries were a big problem at Maine.

One of the ways in which it is noticed, Prof. Evans said, is that "many teachers supplement their pay by working part-time for private industry." The University of Maine is located in a comparatively isolated spot, thus many teachers are unable to work for a nearby industry.

Although increases have been given during recent years to teachers at many colleges (including Maine) the sad fact is that college teachers are worse off than ever. According to Mr. Fullen, "the average salary of a college professor today, in actual purchasing power, is less than 70% of what it was in 1940. The average factory worker's purchasing power is now 150% of its 1940 value."

We hope this article provides food for thought. Next time you get a chance, think the matter over.

A LETTER FROM YOUR
ALUMNI PRESIDENT

Dear Fellow Alumni:

Although Dr. Arthur A. Hauck's impending retirement as President of the University has been officially announced, and although most of our alumni are now aware of the fact that soon we are to lose the President's outstanding leadership, it is only as the date for the retirement draws closer that the full significance of the loss we are soon to experience takes on its full meaning.

Of the 29,000 people who have attended the University of Maine as students in regular course, 17,000 studied in Orono under President Hauck's administration. While all Maine alumni fully recognize the unequaled service and contribution Dr. Hauck has made to the University and to higher education in general, those 17,000, as well as many of the others, have come to know the President as a warm and understanding friend. He will be sorely missed, not only because of his wise leadership, but also because of his friendship with so many of us.

Dr. Hauck's twenty-three years as President of Maine has truly marked the University's most outstanding era. Maine alumni will be given an opportunity later in this academic year to permanently recognize this service and friendship. I know that every alumnus will wish to have a part in this recognition.

Sincerely yours,

Two Major Appointments To Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund

THOMAS G. MANGAN '16, General Chairman of the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund, announced two additional major appointments to the Fund organization in October.

Mr. Mangan reported that Hazen H. Ayer '24 of Boston had accepted the General Special Gifts Chairmanship. Mr. Ayer will head the national organization among Maine alumni for the larger gift program from individual alumni and alumni businesses.

Special Gifts Chairman

President of the Class of 1924, Mr. Ayer is a Past-President of the General Alumni Association, and a Past-President of the Greater Boston Alumni Association. He has been active in many General Alumni Association, Boston Alumni Association, and class alumni programs. For many years he served on the Alumni Council, and was elected Vice President of the General Association for two terms prior to being selected as President of the Association for two terms.

In 1951, Mr. Ayer was awarded the Alumni Service Emblem, the University's highest alumni award. He has been a key leader in the University of Maine Foundation, and ably served in leadership positions on the Special Gifts and Publicity Committees of the Union Building Fund Campaign.

Mr. Ayer's daughters, Catherine and Cynthia, are members of the sophomore class at the University. President of Standish, Ayer and MacKay, Boston, Mr. Ayer brings to the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund an outstanding alumni interest and the experience of many years of leadership in the financial field.

General Chairman Mangan also announced the appointment of George E. Lord '24, Orono, Director of the University's Agricultural Extension Service, as Treasurer of the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund.

Fund Treasurer

Another outstanding alumni leader for many years, Mr. Lord is also a Past-President of the General Alumni Association. Previous to his presidency, Mr. Lord served two terms as Vice President of the Association. Having served many years on the Alumni Council, he is still a member of that executive body.

An active leader in the Class of 1924, Mr. Lord has held many offices and positions of leadership in Maine alumni programs. For several years he held the office of Clerk of the General Association, and conducted two successful alumni dues campaigns as Chairman of the Dues Committee.

Mr. Lord also was awarded the University's highest alumni award, the Alumni Service Emblem, in 1956. His son, Edgar, is a Maine graduate in the Class of 1952, and his daughter, Dorothy, graduated in the Class of 1950. Mrs. Lord is also an alumna, having graduated in the Class of 1925.

Top Leadership

In announcing these key campaign appointments, Mr. Mangan said, "I am delighted that two of our top alumni leaders, Hazen Ayer and George Lord, have accepted the important positions of Special Gifts Chairman and Fund Treasurer. They will certainly give the Arthur A. Hauck Fund the leadership becoming this effort, the greatest undertaken by the General Alumni Association."

Mr. Mangan, himself a Past-President of the General Alumni Association, further pointed out, "It is indeed gratifying to realize that we have the loyal interest and leadership of two Alumni Association Past-Presidents in these key Fund positions. Their many years of alumni service and experience will be invaluable to the campaign.

"As the actual time for President Hauck's retirement draws near, our thoughts increasingly turn to the devoted and unmatched service he has so unselfishly given the University. We know that our feelings are shared by thousands of Maine alumni, who, like ourselves, are determined that Dr. Hauck will see his dream of twenty-three years come true in the form of the Auditorium he rightly feels is so badly needed at Maine. As our campaign leadership develops, and as our Fund plans take shape, we are sure that these thousands of Maine alumni will join with us to make the $1,500,000 Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund the tribute we wish for President Hauck."

THE UNIVERSITY

Alumna Trustee

Rena (Campbell '21) Bowles

Governor Edmund S. Muskie recently announced the appointment of Mrs. Rena (Campbell) Bowles '21 as alumnae member of the University's Board of Trustees. Mrs. Bowles, a resident of Bangor, succeeds Miss Jessie L. Fraser '31 who completes two terms on the Board. Governor Muskie's appointment followed the nomination of Mrs. Bowles by the General Alumni Association.

Mrs. Bowles, who has been supervisor of the Bangor School Lunch Program since 1945, at one time served on the University faculty and Extension Service staff. An active alumnae leader for many years, she has served on the Alumni Council, the Library Fund Committee, the Union Building Fund Committee, the Memorial Gymnasium Fund Committee, and was the first president of the Eastern Association of University of Maine Women. In 1948 the General Alumni Association awarded Mrs. Bowles its highest award, the Alumni Service Emblem.

A well-known speaker at professional Home Economics functions and University Alumni meetings, Mrs. Bowles recently attended the International Home Economics Conference in Edinburgh, Scotland. She has also made an around-the-world tour, visiting the schools of many countries and making a study of foreign cooking.

Mrs. Bowles' term on the Board of Trustees is for a period of three years.

Opening Convocation

Mr. Louis Untermeyer, a nationally known author, spoke at the opening convocation of the University on September 18. An overflow audience of students, faculty members and guests attended the program. Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president of the University, presided and welcomed students. Mr. Raymond H. Fogler '15, president of the University of Maine Foundation and an alumni trustee, also spoke.

Scholarships

Several alumni sons and daughters of the freshman class have earned scholarships for the 1957-58 academic year. All of the scholarships were awarded by the University's scholarship committee which reviews each case and determines the conditions and the amount of each grant.

Selected were: Frederick W. and Marianne Hill Scholarships—Judith A. Bates, Guilford (William L. '31); Peter L. Haynes, Guilford (Charles A. '19); Sandra J. Jacques, Bangor (Charles W. '36); Claude L. Jewett, Sebago Lake (Wilbert Libby '01, grandfather, deceased); Sheila E. Winch, Winterport (Norman C. '29).

William Bingham II Scholarship Fund—James C. Murphy, Bethel (Charles C. '93, grandfather, deceased); State Science Fair Scholarship—Peter A. Emmett, Old Town (Stora W. '47); Helen B. Hemingway Memorial Fund—Nancy B. Downing, Bangor (John P. '25); Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation Scholarship—Charlene L. Haselton, Stonington (Charles S. '31); Henry L. Griffin Scholarship—Jane H. Goode, Bangor (R. Donald '31, Maxine Harding '34).

Charles E. Knowlton Fund Scholarship—Patricia A. Ledger, Portland (Emma Thompson '28); Eleanor F. Linskey, South Portland (William H. '33); Class of 1920 Scholarship—Michael P. McCready, Pittsfield (Wilfred Conary '11, grandfather); Henry L. Griffin Scholarship—Jane H. Goode, Bangor (R. Donald '31, Maxine Harding '34).

Marine Band

The famous United States Marine Band presented an entertaining concert on October 16, the first presentation of the year of the University series. The University had tried to arrange for a concert by the band for several years, but schedule details had made it impossible. A large audience attended the performance of the band, which is known as the oldest symphonic musical organization in the country.

Does Your Company — Have A Matching Gift Plan?

RECOGNIZING that the future of the nation may well be in the hands of institutions of higher learning, U. S. industry has adopted a whole new attitude towards high education in the past few years and set up a series of plans to give help to colleges and universities.

U. S. campuses will need at least $3,570,000 before 1960 for plant construction alone, and it will take $5,500,000,000 merely to house the estimated jump in enrollments by 1970.

Bear in mind also Henry Ford's statement in announcing the Ford Foundation's $210,000,000 gift to privately-supported liberal arts colleges and universities in 1955, "Merely to restore professors' salaries to their 1939 purchasing power would require an average increase of at least 20 percent." Salary increases made possible by the Ford gift did not exceed four percent at most schools.

Down 70 Percent

According to the Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc., figures, Mr. Ford was being conservative. A current Council publication states, "College faculty members are among the lowest paid professional groups in the nation with an annual median salary of about $5,200. This whole situation makes no sense. The average college professor's salary today, in actual purchasing power, is less than 70 percent of what it was in 1940. The average factory worker's purchasing power is now 150 percent of its 1940 value."

These are the areas where U. S. colleges and universities, including the University of Maine, need financial assistance most.

Up to 1955 industry's growing aid to education took a variety of forms. Some of the leaders in educational philanthropy and their methods were:

General Motors—$4,500,000 a year in scholarships and grants to schools. More than 300 schools benefit.

Ford Motor Co.—finances about 70 scholarships a year for sons and daughters of employees and also gives $500 annually to each private college or university the students happen to choose.

DuPont—$2,500 grants to the chemistry departments of 50 different campuses. Total gifts through various channels in 1955, $800,000.

Radio Corp. of America—26 scholarships at $800.

Standard Oil Co. (N. J.)—spread $450,000 over 138 campuses plus $50,000 for the National Fund for Medical Education in 1954.

Union Carbide—$50,000 for 400 scholarships to more than 30 colleges.

Standard Oil Co. (Ind.)—gave more than $350,000 in 1954; matches its scholarships with equal gifts to each campus.

U. S. Steel—in 1954 gave $700,000 in unrestricted gifts.

Bethlehem Steel—pays a flat $3,000 to any private college or university from which a graduate is accepted into its training course and stays at least four months.

CBS Foundation—making grants of $2,000 to selected private institutions from which top executive personnel of the Columbia Broadcasting System were graduated.

From these examples it is obvious that industry's aid to education takes a variety of forms.

Give $100 Million

Industry and business reached into its pockets to donate $100 million to higher education in 1956. These gifts represent an increase of $25 million over 1954 and a gain of $60 million over 1950, according to the Council for Financial Aid to Education.

In 1955 General Electric announced its Corporate Alumnus Program which bids well to become a standard channel for future aid from industry to education.

In the past two years a number of other companies have adopted the G.E. plan. Among these companies are B. F. Goodrich, W. T. Grant Co., Smith, Kline & French Laboratories, and Manufacturers Trust Company of New York. There are undoubtedly others.

Basically, all the Corporate Alumnus Programs (or Matching Gift Programs) are the same. In its essence, the plan calls for the company to match, dollar for dollar up to $1,000, each employee's gift to his alma mater.

The general outline for the plan which varies slightly from company to company is (1) the employee's gift must be a personal contribution in cash or securities; (2) the college or university must be a recognized four-year degree-granting institution; (3) the employee must be on a full-time status and must have at least one year of service.

Many Benefits

Some of the obvious benefits of the Matching Gift Plan are stimulation of alumni to give to their alma mater, double income from each gift for the school, unrestricted use of the gifts, and, from the point of view of the so-called publicly-supported institutions, the fact that the Matching Gift Plan is not limited to privately-supported schools.

When industrial aid to education began to gain momentum in the early 1950's most

The University of Maine In Portland

(Ed. note—Three major developments have taken place at the University within the past few weeks. The School of Education has been advanced to a College and the Departments of Forestry and Home Economics have been advanced to Schools. The University of Maine in Portland has replaced Portland Junior College. Thirdly, a collegiate program for nurses has been re-established by the University.)

Three Major University Developments

Units Gain New Ratings

Three members of the University's educational family will receive promotions in February at the start of the spring semester.

The School of Education will be advanced to the status of College of Education and the Department of Home Economics and the Department of Forestry will carry the titles of Schools.

When the School of Education becomes the College of Education, the University will have a total of four colleges—Agriculture, Arts and Sciences, Education, and Technology. In addition, there is a division of Graduate Study.

Dean Mark Shibles of the School of Education noted that the most prominent effect of the change will be the added prestige. "Now students in education will be able to say that they are members of a college, not a school," Dean Shibles said. "It also may attract more youngsters into the teaching profession."

Four-Year Program

Instruction in the field of education was originally provided by a department in the College of Arts and Sciences. With this department as a nucleus, the School of Education was created in 1930, and a two-year program was provided for juniors and seniors. In 1953, a four-year program was instituted, with those successfully completing the courses eligible for the Bachelor of Science in Education degree. Just before World War Two, the School of Education had an enrollment of 62 students. This fall there are over 600 undergraduates on campus who are preparing for careers as elementary and secondary teachers and school administrators in the School. One thousand graduate students, working toward the degree of Master of Education, are enrolled in Extension courses and in the Saturday Centers.

The Department of Forestry has been a unit of the College of Agriculture for 52 years. It is one of the oldest programs of its kind in the nation and has recognized regional standing.

A degree program in home economics has been offered by the University for the past 48 years. The designation of home economics as a School is in line with a national trend to recognize the growth and liberalization of the home economics curricula.

Dean Mark Shibles

P.J.C. Becomes U-M In Portland

Portland Junior College is now the University of Maine in Portland.

The transition was marked on September 19 at a convocation in Portland. Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president of the University, presided at the program. He said: "This event marks the 23rd year of service of Portland Junior College to the Portland area and the beginning of continuing education services as the University of Maine in Portland."

High state and educational officials participated in the program, including Gov. Edmund S. Muskie; Mr. Raymond H. Fogler, president of the University's board of trustees; Mr. Luther I. Bonney, Portland Jr. College dean who is continuing in that capacity in the new institution; Mr. Raymond S. Oakes, president of the PJC board of directors; Mr. William E. Wing, former Deering High School principal and one of the founders of PJC; Mr. Everett W. Lord, dean emeritus of the Boston University College of Business Administration and first dean of PJC; State Senator Seth Low, Rockland; Mr. Frederick N. Allen, a PJC alumnus; Mr. Carleton G. Lane, chairman of the Portland City Council; and the Most Rev. Daniel J. Feeney, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Maine.

Senator Low was chairman of the education committee of the 1957 Maine Legislature which created the new branch by approving a merger of Portland Junior College with the University through a transfer of the junior college's assets. The legislation took effect August 28.

280 Enrolled

Two hundred and eighty students are enrolled at UMP this year, an increase of 55 over last year's enrollment at PJC.

What does this new branch of the University mean?

Mainly, it makes available to people in a more populous area an excellent opportunity to start their education at considerably less personal expense. Students may attend UMP for only two years at the most—it is still a junior college in this respect. Most of the students are living at home.

Ultimately, they will receive the same basic quality of education which they would receive at the Orono campus. And the potential for expansion in Portland is terrific. In fact, there is no doubt about the plans for expanding the Portland facilities.

At the present time, no science courses are being offered in Portland, with the exception of chemistry. This will be remedied next summer, when science laboratories are constructed. Students now take only arts courses.

If a student desires, he may transfer to the Orono campus after one year at UMP without losing any credit. Or he may wait until the end of his second year. Some students may prefer to attend another university or end their educational training after the two-year period.

Nursing Program Is Re-Established

As the result of a gift of $93,000 from the Honorable Frances Payne Bolton of Ohio, the collegiate program for nurses has been re-established at the University. The program, which will add greatly to the medical profession in the state of Maine, also will be an important addition to the growing University academic curriculum.

The program will be carried out in cooperation with the Eastern Maine General Hospital in Bangor, according to President

Athletics

A MOST OF BRIGHT new stars are shining in the Maine football heavens and they may turn a so-so 1957 campaign into a highly successful season.

With half of his squad composed of sophomores, some of whom didn't even play freshman football, Coach Hal Westerman had a rather dismal outlook when he faced members of the Maine press a few weeks ago. "You can say we'll show up for every game. That's about all I can promise," Westy told the press corps.

And the season's opener against Rhode Island at Kingston seemed to indicate that the Black Bear boss knew what he was talking about. The Bears took a 25-7 thumping from the Rhody squad. At the time, most fans thought that Rhode Island had a good team, but not an outstanding one. But since that game, however, Rhode Island has chalked up two more wins, both impressive, and sports a 4-0 record at this writing.

Impressive Wins

Maine, on the other hand, has rebounded to post impressive wins over Vermont, 49-0, and New Hampshire, 7-0. Thus the opening loss to Rhode Island doesn't seem quite as bad, if it turns out that the Rhody squad is a powerhouse this year.

What happened? Well, several Maine players have been turning in great performances—players who were given only casual mention in the news reports prior to the start of the season. In the backfield, for example, 175-pound Jerry de Grandpre, a sophomore from Plattsburg, New York, and halfback Dave Rand, from Augusta, have turned in dazzling performances. De Grandpre currently boasts an average of 7.41 yards per carry while Rand has chalked up nearly 150 yards rushing. De Grandpre has really been a find for Westy. Inserted into the Rhode Island game when Maine still had failed to score in the second half, he immediately sparked the Bears to their only touchdown. In three quick plays, he scooted 58 yards. The following week de Grandpre was given the ball six times and he ate up 26 yards. Against New Hampshire, he proved to be the game's top ground gainer as he posted 79 yards in 13 carries.

72-Yard Punt

Another standout detail about Maine's success to date has been the punting by John Theriault of Waterville, a senior, and sophomore Bob Bragg of Fairfield. In fact, you might even say that the punting has been on the phenomenal side. Theriault is averaging 45 yards per kick which places him among the national leaders. Against New Hampshire he booted from his own 27-yard-line and the ball rolled dead on the Wildcats' one-yard stripe, a distance of 72 yards! Bragg hasn't handled the ball as many times, but his average is 40 yards per punt.

Other players who have claimed honors for their efforts are sophomore tackle Harold Violette of Winslow, sophomore quarterback Bob Pickett of Augusta, junior end Niles Nelson of Winchester, Mass., senior halfback Vern Moulton of Bridgton, fullback Charles Thibodeau, a senior, of Skowhegan, and junior center Roger Ellis of Westwood, Mass.

Let's take a look at how Maine's first three games were written in the record books:

Rhode Island scored single touchdowns in every period and built up a sizeable lead before Maine tallied in the final period. The Rams drove 69 yards with the opening kickoff and Jim Adams rushed over from the four-yard line for the first touchdown. In the second period, Bob Mairs passed to Everett McDaniel for the second touchdown. The Rams drove again after the second half kickoff, negotiating 65 yards in short chunks. Bill Poland capped the march with an eighty-yard scoring jaunt. In the fourth period, Adams contributed a 20-yard gainer in a march from midfield and plunged across from the two-yard line for the fourth score. Maine's score in the fourth period came after de Grandpre sparked a long drive to the one-yard line. John Theriault bucked over for the score and kicked the extra point, also.

Strong Line Play

Against Vermont, Maine's line proved to be a stumbling block to Catamount runners

Gift of Dinghies

The University of Maine Sailing Club has recently received the gift of two 12' International Sailing dinghies.

These two new dinghies, the gift of Carl F. Brugge '18, Pawtucket, R. I., bring the total Sailing Club Fleet to eight International Dinghies plus a crash-boat. Mr. Brugge was also the donor of the crash-boat last spring.

Other Sailing Club dinghies were the gifts of local alumni associations and individual alumni.

The Maine Sailing Team is in annual fall and spring competition with eastern colleges and universities.

while the Black Bears rolled up 410 yards rushing in scoring a 49-0 victory. Touchdowns were scored by Dave Rand, the first two in the game, Bob Bower, Thibodeau, Bragg, George McCarthy, and John Welch. Extra points were booted by Theriault (3), Pickett (1) and McCarthy (1).

Maine's passing game, which had fared poorly in the first two games, accounted for the only touchdown of the game in the Bears' 7-0 win over New Hampshire before 8,000 Homecoming fans at Durham. After both teams had threatened throughout the first three periods, Pickett tossed a 21-yard aerial to Nelson in the fourth period for the touchdown. It was only the third complete pass in 29 attempts, incidentally, but it was a big one.

Cross-Country

Coach Ed Styrna's varsity cross-country team also lost its opening meet of the season, but as was the case with the football squad, the loss came at the hands of a powerful rival.

The Black Bears traveled to Boston to meet Harvard and Springfield in a triangular meet and finished second behind Harvard. The winners scored 25 points to 33 for Maine and 80 for Springfield.

Ivy Champs

Harvard captured the Ivy League harrier crown in 1956 and rates as a threat to Maine's New England title this season. Harvard's Reider copped first place. Maine's Bill Daly, a sophomore from North Leeds, placed second. The two schools alternated the next seven positions as follows: 3rd, Norris (H); 4th, Dan Rearick (M) of Cranford, N. J.; 5th, Benjamin (H); 6th, Dick Law (M) of Brewer; 7th, Martin (H); 8th, Dale Bessey (M) of North Anson; 9th, Brown (H). Maine's fifth runner was Carl MacDonald of Lee, who placed 14th. Springfield's first runner, Meyer, was 12th.

The Black Bear harriers evened their record at 1-1 against New Hampshire by scoring an easy, 18-40 win. Rearick, Law and Daly finished hand-in-hand for a three-way tie for first place. The three runners smashed the New Hampshire course record by nearly 30 seconds, covering the course in 24 minutes, 55 seconds. Randle of New Hampshire was fourth. Bessey of Maine placed fifth and Mike Cheney of Maine crossed the finish line in seventh position.

Freshman Teams

Early results indicate that the freshman teams may be in for a rough fall season. The frosh cross-country team, which sported an undefeated record last year, dropped its first two meets of the campaign to Bangor High School and Lee Academy. The frosh footballers came from behind to nip Bridgton Academy in its first game, but it appears that the frosh will have rough sledding when they meet strong clubs representing Maine Maritime Academy, the Colby Frosh and Maine Central Institute.

Bangor High posted a 25-32 win over the Frosh harriers, while Lee scored a 24-36 victory. The Baby Bear grid squad edged Bridgton Academy, 18-13.

Gift Plan

of the benefits were confined to privately-supported schools. The obvious theory was the publicly-supported institutions got their money from state and federal sources while private schools had to pay their own way.

The publication in recent years of several surveys of higher education has revealed that although publicly-supported institutions receive funds from the state and federal governments these funds are for the most part limited to operation expenses, academic buildings, and dormitories. And there is seldom enough funds forthcoming from these sources to do the job right. Furthermore, these schools must find outside funds for much of their scholarship and loan fund programs, non-academic buildings (gymnasiums, unions, auditoriums), expanding service programs, special chairs of learning, and the 101 other areas of the modern higher education program for which there are no public funds forthcoming.

NO STUDENT or his family ever pays the full cost of his college education. If he attends a state university, for example, the taxpayers of the state and the university's friends foot a good part of the bill (80 percent). If he attends a privately-supported liberal arts college or university, its friends past and present pay a good part of his expenses (40 to 60 percent) by way of accumulated gifts for capital or for current operating use.

Slipping Behind

Colleges and universities have been slipping behind in recent years. Tuition and fees have been increased by all schools but not nearly enough to keep pace with rising costs. The Council for Financial Aid to Education's survey indicated that in the five-year period 1947-48 to 1952-53 the average cost of operations per full-time student increased at 54 Federal, State, and Municipal universities from $492 to $911, an 85 percent increase. During the same period in-state tuition and fees were increased 30 percent. The cost to the institution for each student above his payments rose 143 percent from $300 to $730.

Colleges and universities, therefore, attach increasing importance to gifts from alumni. Gifts to one's alma mater are a form of repayment of a loan from society. They are not only a means of supplying a person's alma mater with badly needed funds for current operations but they are a means of repaying the costs of education.

Support of this kind is urgently needed by all colleges and universities, both private and tax-supported. It is a means for alumni to insure that the institution will be able to render as good service to future generations as they rendered to the alumni.

Moreover, gifts by alumni to their schools now have double force in many cases. With more and more companies offering some kind of a Matching Gift Program, the institution gets double what the alumnus gives. When a gift, no matter how small, is doubled, it becomes a gift of consequence.

One of the first tests of a good alumnus is his recognition of an opportunity to help the school that helped him.

Does your company have a Matching Gift Plan?

Arthur A. Hauck, who announced Mrs. Bolton's gift.

The first students will be admitted next fall. During the present school year, 1957-58, staff members are being selected, the course of study is being organized and students are being recruited. It is expected that the name of the new director and the members of the staff will be announced within the present year.

Mrs. Bolton, who is a member of the United States Congress from the twenty-second Ohio District since 1940, has been a leader in promoting nursing and nursing education for many years. During her youth, she served as a volunteer in her home community of Cleveland.

Establishing nursing programs is not new for this remarkable woman. She endowed in 1923 the first Collegiate Nursing Program in an American University—The Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing at Western Reserve University. She also approved the commissioned status of nurses in the Armed Forces and the launching of a cadet nursing program during World War Two.

FIRST IN MAINE

In making her gift, Mrs. Bolton said, "The new collegiate school of nursing at the University of Maine will be the only one in the state and, therefore, will make a vital contribution to the training of nurse educators and administrators for Maine's hospitals and nursing schools. The shortage of nurses is perhaps one of the greatest handicaps in the rendering of the best of medical care throughout the United States, and particularly in the state of Maine. I feel very secure in the knowledge that the University of Maine and the Eastern Maine General Hospital will proceed on the basis that emphasis will be given first of all to good bedside nursing, and will encourage talented graduates of hospital diploma programs to complete collegiate training."

Mrs. Bolton owns a summer place on the Maine coast. She is a sister of the late William Bingham, II, and a trustee of the Bingham Associates Fund of Bethel.

Local Associations

Northern Connecticut Alumni

Officers of the Northern Connecticut Alumni (Hartford Area) elected for the 1957-58 season are: president, Edward H. Phillips '44; vice president, W. Bruce ('33) and Claire (Saunders '36) Ashworth; and secretary-treasurer, Marjorie (Taylor) Applegate '39.

Northern Kennebec Alumni

Officers elected at the September 14 Northern Kennebec Alumni Barbecue for the 1957-58 alumni year were: Vaughn Lowell '51, president; Ralph Hawkes '37, vice president; Richard Magee '53, treasurer; and Barbara (Sullivan '48) Knowlton, secretary.

Bangor Alumnae

The Eastern Association of University of Maine Women opened their alumnae season with a Tea on October 1 at the Bangor House.

Fifty alumnae from the Greater Bangor Area attended this successful function. Constance (Drew) Darrah '50 served as chairman of the arrangements committee.

Maine Alumni Teachers

The Maine Alumni Teachers held their Annual Dinner during Teachers Convention at the Chestnut Street Methodist Church in Portland on October 3.

Speaker at this successful dinner meeting was Dr. Warren G. Hill, Maine's Commissioner of Education. Ermo Scott '31, Alumni Teachers President, presided, and Margaret M. Mollison '50, Assistant Alumni Secretary, brought greetings from the campus.

Portland Alumnae

The Portland Chapter of University of Maine Women held its first 1957-58 meeting at the Alumnae Lounge of Westbrook Junior College on October 3.

Marion (Libby) Broadus '42, Portland Alumni President, presided and introduced the group's new officers and committees. Attending alumnae were entertained by a vocal group, the Saccarappa Yappers.

North Shore (Mass.) Alumni

The first 1957-58 meeting of the North Shore Alumni was held in Beverly on October 8.

Speaker at this meeting was Donald V. Taverner '43, Executive Secretary of the General Alumni Association, who discussed late University developments with the group.

Presiding at this meeting was the group's new president, Leslie Ray '50.

Southern New Hampshire Alumni

Honored Guests of the Southern New Hampshire Alumni at a meeting in Exeter on October 11 were President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck.

In view of President Hauck's impending retirement, the meeting paid tribute to Dr. and Mrs. Hauck who were presented with a suitably engraved tray.

Also present and representing the General Alumni Association was the Association's Executive Secretary, Donald V. Taverner '43.

Officers of the Southern New Hampshire Alumni for the 1957-58 year are: Actor T. Abbott '36, president; Royal A. Roulston '30, vice president; A. R. Roderick '48, secretary; and Mary (Cooper) Cotting '40, treasurer.

Augusta Alumnae

On October 16, the Augusta Alumnae met to open their 1957-58 season. This meeting was held at the home of Mary-Grace (Tibbets) Bean '48 in Hallowell.

Presiding at the meeting was Donna (Graves) Harrington '48, Augusta Alumnae President.

Finger Lakes Region (N.Y.) Alumni

Dean Emeritus Arthur L. Deering '12 was the guest and speaker at an October 26 meeting of the Finger Lakes Region Alumni at the College Spa in Ithaca.

Dean Deering discussed late developments on the Maine campus and told the attending alumni of outstanding Maine alumni accomplishments.

Lewis Hardison '34, the group's president, presided.

Southern Kennebec Alumni

On October 25, the Southern Kennebec Alumni met at the Augusta Country Club for a Smorgasbord and an evening of dancing.

Heading the committee for this successful social event were: Gerald Beverage '36, general chairman; Donna (Graves) Harrington '48, president, Augusta Alumnae; and Myles Standish '26, president, Southern Kennebec Alumni.

FRED STODDARD NEVILLE ERSKINE. Major Fred S. N. Erskine died in Brooklyn on September 5, 1957. Formerly of Boston, Major Erskine was commissioned as an officer in the 2nd U. S. Marine Corps in January of 1907 and retired in 1936 with the rank of major. Interment was at the Arlington National Cemetery. Survivors include a sister. Major Erskine was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

1908

STACY CLIFFORD LANPHER. Stacy C. Lanpher, who served as Piscataquis county clerk of courts for 34 years before retirement, died October 7, 1957, in Dover-Foxcroft where he resided. A native of Sebec, he taught school in Stacyville before entering the University; after graduation he taught in Sangerville. In 1911 he became principal of Buxton High School. In 1916 he graduated from the University of Maine Law School. In 1917 he opened a law office in Milo; in 1918 he was elected a state representative. In 1919 he was on the faculty of the University of Maine Law School; also he was serving as judge of the Piscataquis County municipal court. Through the years he held many civic elective offices. He was an active granger and mason. Survivors include his wife and daughter. Mr. Lanpher was a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

1916

CLARENCE FAIRFIELD EMERY. Clarence F. Emery died on September 18, 1957, in Arlington, Mass., where he had resided for many years. He had been with the Container Corporation of America. His wife survives.

1918

NEWELL BURNAP CHAMBERLAIN. Newell B Chamberlain died on August 22, 1957, in Manchester, Conn. Mr Chamberlain was connected with the Chamberlain Beef Company of Boston for many years. He was a long-time resident of Belmont, Mass. Survivors include his wife, three daughters, his father, and three brothers. Mr. Chamberlain was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

1919

NORMAN EVANS TRUE. Col. Norman E. True died in March of 1957 in Falmouth, Maine. From 1917 to 1946 he was in the U. S. Marine Corps; he retired in 1946 with the rank of colonel. He studied law at Portland University. Survivors include his wife, a son, and a daughter. Col. True was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

1921

ALFRED PETER WILLETT. Alfred P. Willett died on September 20, 1957, in Ft. Myers, Florida. A native of Orono, he received a master's degree from Harvard in 1928. He taught languages at preparatory schools in Puerto Rico and Wisconsin. In 1930 he joined the language department at the University of Marquette, Wis., where he was a professor of Spanish until his retirement this June. He had moved to Florida to reside. Survivors include his wife, a daughter, three brothers, and a sister.

GEORGE ALBERT HASKELL. George A. Haskell died on September 29, 1957, at Lincoln, Maine. A native of Lincoln, after graduation from Maine he was employed by the New England Power Company for several years. Then he moved to Lincoln Center and became a partner in the Haskell Lumber Company. Mr. Haskell was active in masonic groups. Survivors include his wife, a son, and a daughter—Byrl (Haskell '56) Roberts, a brother, and his father.

HAROLD ALBERT HUSSEY. Harold A Hussey of Watertown, Mass., formerly of Belmont, Mass., died on August 3, 1957. A native of Revere, Mass., he had been employed by the Hood Rubber Company for a number of years as a chemical engineer. Survivors include his wife, Jessie (Wood '26) Hussey, two sons, his mother, and three sisters. Mr. Hussey was a member of Beta Kappa Fraternity.

LAWRENCE CARLTON RANDALL. Lawrence C. Randall of Lewiston, Maine, died on May 27, 1957. He was formerly with the United Shoe Machinery Corporation, but recently was in production work with the G. H. Bass & Co. Survivors include his wife, two daughters, and a son. Mr. Randall was a member of Beta Kappa Fraternity.

1933

HERBERT CHARLES LEVERONI. Herbert C. Leveroni died on September 14, 1957, in Wellesley, Mass., which was his home. A native of Boston, he was a veteran of World War II. He was an insurance broker in Boston. Survivors include his wife, two brothers, and four sisters. Mr. Leveroni was a member of Phi Kappa Fraternity.

1949

DALE ELMER JENKINS. Dale E. Jenkins died on September 5, 1957, at Togus Veterans Hospital, Togus, Maine. A native of Bangor, he graduated from Milo High School and attended the University and Cornell. He was owner of the Northeast Photography Service in Milo, Maine. At the time of his death was serving as president of the Three-River Fish and Game Association. Survivors include his parents and an aunt.

SENIOR ALUMNI

1898 C. Parker Crowell of the firm of Crowell, Lancaster, and Higgins, Bangor architects, was given an honorary membership in the international union of Bricklayers, Masons, and Plasterers at a recent banquet meeting of the group. Mr. Crowell was presented with a gold mason's trowel as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the local union members.

1899 Charles E. Crosby of 35 Pleasant St., Waterville, is in good health notwithstanding a heart attack which occurred two years ago. Since his retirement 24 years ago he has been active in masonry work. Mr. Crosby has been interested in vegetable and flower gardening.

1900 The Daily Evening Item of Lynn, Mass., of September 14 carried the following: "With a large delegation of Lynn School officials and teachers in attendance, services were held yesterday for Mrs. Grace Mitchell of 32 Devereux St., Marblehead, Mass., wife of Fred C. Mitchell, retired principal of Classical High School of Lynn. Our sympathy is extended to Fred, whose brothers are Charles A. '01, and Robie L. '07; the late Lester H. '05 was also a brother.

1901 Thomas Buck, whose address is Faculty Club, Berkeley 4, Calif., visited on campus in early October. He had a fine chat with Prof. Emeritus Charles P. Weston '96 of Orono. While in Maine he also visited in Bucksport. Mr. Buck inquired about the date of the 1958 Commencement and indicated he hopes to be back in Orono at that time. He is retired as a professor of mathematics of the University of California

1905 Mr. Ernest L. Dinsmore
231 Woodford St., Portland 5
November's hills are bare and gray;
The birds' mating calls are lacking.
The boats have all been stored away
Against the winter's blasting.

The above reminds me that my own small boat is tucked away for the winter: the boat in which I sometimes row out into the gut to fish for flounders. When the desired number—if you are lucky—has been caught, return at once to dress the fish, and place them in the refrigerator for a few hours. Later for dinner you will have something to talk about.

Again we are pleased to get an item about one of our law school classmates—Lewis S. Record of School St., Jeffrey, N. H. In August he celebrated his 80th birthday. A party, in honor of the event, was given by his daughter. Besides many friends there were 23 members of the family in attendance, including 16 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. In May Mr. and Mrs. Record celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary. Congratulations on both events.

It was good to get a note from Edward E. Curran. We were sorry to learn, however, that he has been more or less of an invalid for the past three years with a broken hip. He is now on the mend. Best wishes from your classmates for a speedy recovery. Mr. Curran lives at 131 Birch St., Bangor.

Your secretary ran into Orland Trask at Woodford's Corner, Portland, a few days ago. Orland has been at home all summer due to the poor health of Mrs. Trask. We hope she will soon be restored to normal health. Mr. Trask is now retired and lives at 24 Hersey St., Portland.

George Huntington states that he has made no news during the past year. In a recent letter to him from Mr. Thomas Buck '01, Mr. Buck said he is doing nothing and doing it very well. To quote George: "I guess I am in the same boat with him."

Mr. Earle R. Richards
11 Parent St., South Berwick

The Princes and the Richards called on Mr. & Mrs. H. W. Bearce at "Three Hills," Hebron, early in October during the busy apple picking season. Henry estimates his harvest will be about 6000 boxes, the bulk of which is shipped by truck to Ayer, Mass. The Bearces rejoice to have their son, Roger M. Bearce, back in Washington, D. C., after several years spent in the Diplomatic Service in the Belgian Congo.

Recently the Boston Globe in its "Odd Items From Everywhere" printed one which is here quoted. "Leland Boyd, 78 of Jackson, Me. (North Monroe), makes grandfather clocks for a hobby. One of the first clock castings he attempted was a 7½ foot one with wooden works. To this day the clock has never struck wrong and keeps nearly perfect time." Your Secretary called at the Boyd home in 1955 and had the opportunity to see the many beautiful examples of Mr. Boyd's craftsmanship.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Prince drove to Castleton, N. Y., Sept. 14 to attend the wedding of their granddaughter, Gayle Edith Prince, U. of M. 1958, to Walter Wyatt Shorter, who was awarded his masters degree at Orono this year. Mrs. Shorter is the daughter of Ralph N. Prince, U. of M. 1932.

Frederick J. Simmons has been traveling during the month of October through Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Illinois, stopping over in Chicago for several days before going on for a visit in Keene, N. H., which must seem a great deal like returning home because of the many years spent there in the teaching profession.

Mr. Karl MacDonald
27 Nelson Avenue, Wellsville, N. Y.

Your secretary, on his arrival home in September found in his accumulated mail the following telegram from Lima, Peru, dated June 7. "Familia Perez Palacio Union Companeros Enrique Felicitation Aniversario." Too bad he did not receive it before he left for Commencement so he could have read it at the class dinner. He is sure that the classmates would have appreciated the thought in this telegram.

We have been advised that the $2,515.00 given by the class at its 50th to the University's Loan Fund, was entered as "The Class of 1907 Loan Fund," so now we will have something besides our Class History to perpetuate our class in the future. It will be so listed in the University's catalogue next year.

Charles E. Davis, (retired), 20 Wayside Ave., Bridgton, writes he has been busy all summer with civil engineering work except for a short time which he spent at his son's cottage at the lake.

Fred L. Cobb, 128 Rochester Rd., Marion, Mass., has had a long siege of asthma but after much trial and error the doctor seems to have found the right medicine and he is much better than he has been in a long time.

The following from Joe K. Goodrich, 1311 Elm St., South, Wisconsin Rapids, Wis. "Yes Karl, I did forget our radio under the bed at Orono and had to drive all the way back from Quoddy Bay where we had a log cabin right on the bay so I could sit on the front porch and spit in the Atlantic, so, we had no radio all the time we were absorbing Oceania. We motored 6,500 miles. Old Crummy Joe drove all the way without a scratch. I wouldn't have missed seeing all of you after all the changes others have made, but not me, I didn't change, not a bit. I wish we could save up enuf to return for each Commencement. It would add to the grandeur of our lives. Best wishes to all of you."

W. B. Alexander, 20 Russet Lane, Melrose 76, Mass., attended the fall Rotary Conclave of the Eastern Mass., district at the Poland Spring House the latter part of the first week in October. Bill says that he probably will not attend the Bowdoin-Maine game as he nearly froze at the game last year.

For classmates who wish to keep track of what is going on at the University, the Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority publishes an Engagement Book for the college year. It can be obtained from the Sorority or the Alumni Association Office at a cost of $1.25. The Sorority is to be congratulated on the publishing of this excellent book with its many fine photos.

Letters and phone calls from members of the class living in New York, Georgia, Florida, Massachusetts, and Maine have been received all paying tribute to Ray Fellows and expressing sympathy to Ray's family. Thomas Fessenden wrote "His passing is indescribably regrettable. He was one of Maine's most distinguished and valuable men, whom to know was to love, respect and admire." William Hill wrote "Ray and I lived together for our four years . . . I find his death almost impossible to realize . . . I have the deepest regret that we have lived so far apart and with such different interests. . . . After these fifty years, I can truly admire Ray for his very humane spirit, broad-mindedness, and generosity."

Earle Vickery was re-elected secretary-treasurer of Maine Central Institute at the recent meeting of the Board of Trustees. Interest in education has been one of Earle's civic activities. He served for 24 years, from 1923 to 1947 on the local school board; has been treasurer of Maine Central Institute and a member of the Board of Trustees for 33 years and is a member and past chairman of the State Board of Education.

Dan Chase writes that he spent three weeks in Maine this summer at and near Whitney Pond, Oxford. He and Henry Bearce '06, engaged in their annual Battle for the Belt and in seven matches (golf) the Belt changed hands five times. Dan, however, won the last match on the last green, the last putt, 89 to 90, and holds the Belt for another winter.

The death of Stacy Lanpher, as reported in the Necrology column of this issue, is noted with genuine sorrow. Stacy had created a position of prominence in the legal profession and was held in high esteem by the citizens of his County and the State.

Have you class pictures of some of the members of '08? Individual photographs taken in the winter and spring of 1908? We are planning a display (!) in June 1958. Your class secretary has a lot of class photographs but will be asking for certain pictures so search your attic, den or closets and be ready when the call comes. The exhibit will be worth coming miles to see!

Mr. Fred D. Knight
9 Westmoreland Drive
W. Hartford 7, Conn.

Your class proxy, Fred D. Knight, called in the Alumni Office recently for a fine visit. He reports that class news is low, so you'd better take pen in hand and write him the latest on your doings. The Knights were in Maine at the time, but were expecting to return to Hartford by November.

1910

Elmer C. Houdlette, 482 Trapelo Rd., Waltham, Mass., who was a highway location and surveys engineer for the Massachusetts Dept. of Public Works, retired at the end of August after serving the Commonwealth for 46 years. A native of Somerville, Mass., he was a founder and first president of the Massachusetts State Engineers Assoc. and is president of the Massachusetts Highway Assoc.

Herbert W. Pickup, vice-principal of the B. M. C. Durfee High School, retired last June after 45 years of teaching. He was a teacher of English for 39 years. A native of Ipswich, he did graduate work at Harvard, after serving as principal of high schools in Enfield, N. H., and Mexico, Maine. The Herald News of Fall River, Mass., carried an article on June 6, 1957, which contained fine tributes to Mr. Pickup. His address is 284 Madison St., Fall River, Mass.

William Hilton of 518 State St., Bangor, was elected a director of the Great Northern Paper Company at the annual meeting of the company held in early 1957. He is a trustee of the American Forest Products Industries and has been a director of the American Pulpwood Assoc. Among his other associations are a member of the board of directors of the Northern National Bank of Presque Isle and a member of the Pulp and Paper Foundation Scholarship Committee of the University of Maine.

Frederick S. Youngs of Bangor was elected one of the three vice presidents of the American Unitarian Assoc. at its annual meeting in Boston last spring. Mr. Youngs is Treasurer of the University of Maine and was associated with the Great Northern Paper Company previous to 1923.

I sent out a desperate call for help this last month with the result that I have two very fine letters for you. The first one came from Lewis H. Blood of Leonardo, N. J. I was so glad to hear from him because I couldn't remember having received one before. He writes that he spent the first seven years after graduation in various phases of industrial chemistry. Then he was offered a position as science teacher and athletic coach at Middletown Town High School, Leonardo, N. J., where he coached football and baseball for twenty years. At that time he dropped coaching for a position in the chemistry department. He continued to teach chemistry until a year ago last February, when after thirty-three years of teaching in the same school, he retired. For the past fourteen years he has worked part time in the chemistry laboratory of J. Howard Smith, Inc., at Port Mon, N. J. Immediately after retiring from teaching, he took a permanent full time position with that same company. This company processes fish for oil and other products. He was married thirty-seven years ago last June, and has one son, who spent seven years in the theater as an actor. He is now in the advertising business with K. M. & G., Pittsburg. This son is married and has one son, which makes Lewis a very proud grandfather. His latest venture is the invention of a de-watering press, which he calls a "Continuous Hydraulic Press." He has assigned patent application to a newly formed corporation, who are now promoting the machine. It was certainly good to hear from him, and I am deeply grateful for this fine letter.

My other very interesting letter was from Arthur J. Bower of Forestville, Conn., and was equally welcome. After graduation he ran a contesting association for about a year, but then as the first World War was getting hot, he writes, "out of patriotism or adventure I enlisted in the Army." He was soon in France, and went thru five major battles. Finally he arrived home in Mass. and began farming. After an accident he gave that up and went into the life insurance business. That lasted a couple of years, when he was so unfortunate as to lose his wife. He went back to farming and later remarried. Then he took over a territory of Conn. as a feed salesman, which lasted for several years. A number of years after losing his second wife, he remarried, so that his two daughters and son had a new mother. His children are now married and he has five grandchildren—three boys and two girls. Two of the boys are in Rockland, Maine. In 1941, he went to England in the second World War. He thinks the Army won't need him a third time. One son was killed in Korea. When he received my letter he and his wife were on their 29th wedding anniversary trip. They went up thru the White Mountains and visited his mother. They have made a number of trips all over Florida and expect to build there next summer. He likes the warm climate, but likes to hunt and fish in Maine and New Hampshire, so expects to be back and forth often. One of his hobbies is archery—in fact, he works in a small factory which makes bows and arrows. His second hobby is building. He is now completing his second house, doing all the work in his spare time. This house is made of concrete blocks, which he made himself.

In June Norwich University at Northfield, Vermont, conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering on Professor Walter D. Emerson, who is a 1916er. He will continue his association with the Norwich faculty as director of the curriculum in the engineering department. He has been a Norwich teacher for thirty-three years, and head of the department of mechanical engineering since its establishment in 1940.

1918 Mr. Weston S. Evans
8 Kell St., Orono

Eugene F. Hickson has retired from the National Bureau of Standards and is taking up a new residence at 4709-46th St., N. W., Washington 16, D. C. He will now be listed as a chemical consultant with the National Paint, Varnish, and Lacquer Association.

I. Leavitt Newman and his daughter Delia have recently purchased a new home from Mrs. Ruby Totten in Lebanon Center, where he is teaching industrial art at Lyman Memorial High School.

1918 is holding a class meeting in 108 Boardman

Hall at 9:00 a.m. on Homecoming Day, November 9. Let's make it good.

1919 Miss F. Louise Pratt
37 So. Main St., Hanover, N. H.

Charles E. Foss writes that he spent 12 years in Chicago and for the past 22 has resided in Dresden Mills. He is presently employed in the drawing room of the Bath Iron Works.

Charles M. Poor is an industrial engineer with the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. There are two daughters, Barbara '50 who attended U. of M. two years and graduated from Michigan State Teachers College. Sally is married and has two children. The Poores visited the Campus two years ago while in the East to contact relatives.

Oscar L. Whalen, "Occie" to us, attended B. U. Law School after World War I and after graduation returned to his home town of Eastport where he has practiced since. He has served 5 years as County Attorney and 20 years as Judge of the local Municipal Court. He has been very active in local Rotary Club activities and frequently meets men of '19. 2 sons and a daughter have graduated from U. of M.

Sixteen letters in one month to Classmates in good standing with two replies seems a poor ratio for a Class wishing to remain active in the ALUMNUS. It's up to each of you to do something about it.

1920 Miss M. Eleanor Jackson
202 Samuel Appleton Building
110 Milk St., Boston 9, Mass.

Frank Barton, M.D., in June received from Boston University their Alumni Award for "outstanding service to Alma Mater." Frank is a trustee of the Hahnemann Hospital and of the Boston University, a member of Boston University's Development Council, and Chairman of their Alumni Development Program. Frank is a consulting surgeon at Mass. Memorial Hospitals.

Alonzo J. Harriman has been presented an inscribed medal by the American Institute of Architects for photographs and plans of the Millinocket School designed by his firm. The school was the only Maine building chosen for display in the Architectural Exhibit of the Boston Arts Festival in June. The display marked the centennial of the American Institute of Architects. The Millinocket School was designed as a completely modern school, suitable for Maine climate and its region. It comprises a multi-purpose room-gymnasium, nine class rooms, kindergarten, and administrative offices, and can house 310 pupils. It cost $240,000 or $7.70 per pupil, and $12.03 per square foot of building.

From the Portland Evening Express of August 23, we learn that Frank Besse was elected to a three year term as a director of the Associated Industries of Maine.

C. Ivan Huntley, manager of the Jordan Casket Company of Old Town, has been for many years a member of the Y.M.C.A. Board of Directors. He is chairman of the Y.M.C.A. Program Committee and has been appointed general chairman of the annual finance campaign. He estimates there will be about 150 workers soliciting to reach the goal of $8,000.

At our urgent request, Lena (Page) Spaulding has written about her trip to Europe this past summer, "I left Idlewild August 9th and returned September 19, both ways via Air France. My son was waiting for me at Orly and we went directly to his home in Chaumont, Haute-Marne.

"Almost immediately all the family started on a motor trip down through the French Alps to Cannes (to Monaco of course) along both the French and Italian Riviervas, to Pisa. We had five days at a beautiful beach on the Mediterranean in Lavorno, two days in Rome, two days in Florence, then headed north through Modena, Milan and the lake country, into Switzerland over the Simplon Pass. Got a few more gray hairs on the Mountain Passes, but I wouldn't have missed them for anything.

"Switzerland is very beautiful all over, and around Interlaken it is absolutely out of this world. Went back to France via Bern.

"I took the 'Rapid' into Paris and flew British European Airways to London and had five days there, took the usual tours, even to Stratford-on-Avon, and of course took in a show on the Strand. Back in Paris, I saw Modern and Historical Paris, Versailles, the Louvre, the shops, etc. It was really fun.

"In my son's new little Red Geir, he and I drove 435 miles one day, to Strasbourg, crossed the Rhine into Germany, to Stuttgart, Augsburg, Landesberg, Oberammergau and on to Garmisch in the Barvarian Alps. Here we visited two immense castles built by Maximilian and Ludwig 2nd, went to a night club with a marvelous Ice Show and to a quaint little Cafe with a Barvarian Floor Show. It's been so long since I've had the privilege to be beaused around by my son, that I thoroughly enjoyed it.

"To Berchtesgaden. Here I took a trip through a salt mine, went to Obersalzberg (Hitler's Old Home) and on to his Eagle's Nest, also to Salzburg, Austria. All from another world to me and therefore most interesting.

"To Munich, to Freising, to Dachau (a place of horror which I will always remember), to Furstentfeldbruck, to Heidelberg, Mannheim and Kaiserslautern and back into Nancy and France by way of the Saar Valley.

"The time just flew. I sure had a good time from beginning to end."

Lilla Hersey retired in June after thirty years as head of the English Department at Norwich Free Academy, Norwich, Ct. The great esteem in which she is held by her colleagues, pupils, and citizens was evidenced by the many parties and gifts which honored her at that time. She is continuing her residence in Norwich at 7 Broad Street and taking an active interest in community affairs, as well as taking courses in painting, etc. To quote her, "In fact, I suspect there will never be time enough to enjoy all the activities open to one in retirement." Lilla hopes to be present at our next reunion.

Hollis Jones is now living at 1128 Oxford St., Berkeley, Cal.

S. Chandler Fraser ("Ginger" to us) may be reached at 1107 State Tower Bldg., Syracuse 2, N. Y.

Please send me at least a Christmas Card. I am just a poor neglected Class Secretary.

The season's changes are interesting and welcome as are those in our daily lives. Please add yours to the few I have here.

Principal Edwin Anderson retired last June after 31 years' service in Hingham, Mass. schools. He and his wife have no definite future plans and will remain at 60 Garrison Rd. The student body presented him a camera kit at his last assembly, so he is probably an amateur photographer or will indulge in the hobby after this gift. He received his Master's in Education in 1931, Harvard, and is a past president of Mass. Jr High School Assn. He also served as head of Neighborhood Club in which some 40 junior high schools are represented. One of their two children, Eric, is teaching in Conn. and the other, Edwin, Jr., is a student at Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y.

Col. Osgood Nickerson (Ret.) is now living at Castine, P. O. Box 14. His son, Alden '52, is Ass't. Agricultural Attache at U. S. Embassy, Santiago, Chile. Nick's name has not been on my class lists but we are very happy to claim him.

It was so enjoyable seeing Bert Smith and Doris Merrill again at last commencement. They thoroughly enjoyed, too, their return to campus as none of the old, friendly, welcoming, hospitality was lacking there and the many improvements most gratifying. They summered in Blue Hill as Doris was planning to sell her very attractive cottage on intriguing Matinicus Island. At Russell Sage College where Bert is prof. of psychology and Dot is chrm. of Ed. Dept., their address is 54 Second St., Troy, N. Y.

Was sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Ulmer Davis last summer in Columbia Falls. Ulmer has been living there since his retirement from Farmington Normal School.

My son, Richard '57, received a telephone call recently from Earl McGraw, superintendent of Hampden schools, regarding a teacher-coaching position. "The Sedan," Hampden Academy's year book, was dedicated this year to Earl "for his outstanding service to the students, the schools, and the community."

Joanna (Colcord) Bruno '06, retired social worker, lives in Lebanon, Ind. Sister of Lincoln Colcord '05, well-known author and composer of the Stein Song, she published several books in her professional field and two collections of sea songs. For many years, she was director of the charity organization department of the Russell Sage Foundation, world famous social research center. She was born on a ship off the coast of New Caledonia. Throughout her youth, she sailed all over the world with her ship-captain father, mother, and brother, who was also born at sea. She took her final high school examinations on board ship in Hong Kong harbor, receiving her diploma six months later.

Incidentally, Richard is at home here and has a position in Portland in the accounting division of The National Cash Register Co.

1923 Mrs. Norman E. Torrey
(Toni Gould)

I'm truly privileged this month to be able to report some well deserved honors which have come to our classmates from Coast to Coast. Beginning here in the East, The Alumni Assoc. of The Hartford Theological Seminary bestowed upon our Rev. Arthur E. Wilson DD its 8th Annual Citation of Merit in "grateful recognition of devoted and distinguished service as preacher, churchman, writer, broadcaster, counsellor, devoted friend, and alumnus." "Pete" is minister of the Beneficent Cong. Church of Providence, R. I. Last June, his wife, Mabel (Peabody) who is vice pres. of the Cong. Women of R. I. was in Cleveland, as a representative of the Cong. Christian Home Boards.

Ralph E. "Chubby" Thomas was a Detroit representative of the Skyscraper Industry who participated in the program of the Golden Anniversary Convention of the Building Owners and Managers Assoc. in New York at the Waldorf-Astoria. He is Vice Pres. & Director of the Buhl Land Co., is on the editorial board of Skyscraper Management magazine, and a member of the Operating Handbook Committee of the Assoc. From a happy contact with Ruth (Coombs) his wife, I learned that they reside at 16766 Edinborough Rd., Detroit, Mich., and that they feel blessed that their only daughter and granddaughter (born last May) live but a mile away.

And on the West Coast, Everett B. Mansur, planning consultant at 505 Segovia Ave., San Gabriel, Calif., was appointed a member of the executive committee of the city planning division of the American Society of Civil Engineers. Congratulations to all of you.

Let's work to keep in touch "harder harder."

1924 Mrs. Clarence C. Little
(Beatrice Johnson)
R.F.D. 1, Ellsworth

Julian H. Merrill, who has made his mark in timber industry circles in Northwestern Ontario, has been named a vice president of The Great Lakes Paper Company, Ltd.

Hazen Ayer, our class "Prexy," wrote an important contribution toward a feature article in the August 16th issue of U. S. News and World Report. Class members who missed it might enjoy looking it up. The item is entitled: "How to Handle Your Money Now." Congratulations on your success "Hot." We all know you deserve it because of your conscientious hard work.

Professor Gregory Baker has been appointed acting head of the Forestry Department at the University. He has been a faithful worker on the staff since 1935.

Royal S. Graves has been appointed principal of the new Loker School at Wayland, Massachusetts. He is a graduate of the Harvard School of Education and has formerly been principal at Jenkins and Hatherly Schools in Scituate.

The Littles have come full circle and are back to having a son (just out of a long seige in the U. S. Air Force) entering the Engineering College at the U. of M. It seems he has always wanted to try his hand at engineering and we are giving him the chance to do so. Thus we have a closer stake with the University again.

1925 Mrs. Merrill Henderson
(Anne Thurston)
Quechee, Vt.

Among the thirty new teachers in the Bangor School System is Arline Lynch. She is teaching Latin and English at Fifth Street School. She has previously taught in Millinocket. Her home address is 29 Parker St., Brewer.

John McCobb, who returned for Commencement with his wife, gave his occupation as baby sitter for three of his five grandchildren.

Henry G. Perkins of Ellsworth has been elected superintendent of School Union 13, which includes Cumberland, Falmouth and North Yarmouth. Perkins has served 31 years in the field of education, 18 as principal of secondary schools and 10 years as superintendent of Union 92. He is the father of two sons and two daughters. The youngest is now a senior at the University.

1926 Mrs. Trygve Heistad
(Shirley Roberts)
11 Third Ave., Augusta

Lieutenant Colonel John T. Marshall (Dick to his classmates) was one of seven First U. S. Army Officers honored by a formal retreat parade at Governors Island, N. Y., on the occasion of his retirement from the Army. He was awarded the "First Army Certificate of Achievement" in recognition of more than thirty-one years of service in the army. Dick served with Artillery Units in the Pacific theatre during World War II. He served in Korea from 1945-47 as Secretary to the Provost Marshall and as Chief of the famed Korean Constabulary. He served in Europe from 1950-53 in various intelligence assignments. He has served as the chief of the army branch of Reserve Forces Division at Headquarters since June 1955. Dick holds the Bronze Star Medal for his service in the Ryukgus Campaign and the Army Commendation Ribbon. Dick and his wife Olive make their home at 86 Pleasant St., Hingham Center, Mass. They have four children. Bruce, a graduate of Yale, is an instructor at Ohio State University; John T., Jr., is a graduate of Annapolis. He is presently serving as Lieutenant Junior Grade aboard the U.S.S. Hanna in California. They also have a son, Scott, and a daughter, Janet.

Fred C. "Freddie" Newhall and his wife live at 34 Eaton Rd., Lexington, Mass. Their son, Fred, Jr., graduated from Maine, June '57. Let's hear from you, Freddie.

1927 Mrs. Edgar Bogan
(Sally Palmer)
32 Myrtle St., Orono

Thanks to Ed and Irene (Wentworth) Engel for your note. It arrived just after I had delivered the notes for Oct. issue. Ed. is ass't. professor of Paper Engineering at Lowell Tech. They have three sons and twin grandsons. They attended reunion but in the hubbub I did not get to hear about their home life. Sounds like a busy one. Their address is 10 Ideal Ave., Chelmsford, Mass.

Marine Corps Col. Daniel W. Torrey has been assigned to Tufts Univ. as commanding officer of the Tufts Naval ROTC unit. He is the first Marine Corps officer to head the Tufts unit since its inception in 1941. Since World War II he has served as assistant Naval attache for air in the American Embassy in London and comes to Tufts from duty as Chief of Staff, Air Force Aviation, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific area.

Charles M. Washburn has been named state editor of the Bangor Daily News. He has been with the paper since January 1954. He is married and has a son of nine years.

Ken and Mae (Kirk) Field were heard from in Arizona. His work with Ebasco Services, Inc., has taken him far and wide. The Caribbean, Colombia, Panama, Venezuela, the Netherlands West Indies, and Athens, Greece, as well as many points in U. S. A. They celebrated last New Year's Eve by becoming grandparents (their daughter Morita) and Arthur, their son is attending Cornell.

So long until I get some more news.

Hats off to Jessie (Lawrence) Oak! Jessie is home demonstration agent for Central Aroostook Co. and will be recognized for outstanding service at Minneapolis, Minn., on Oct. 25. She is the only agent from Maine to be recognized this year. Jessie was recommended for this honor by her fellow workers. Since graduating in our famous class Jessie attended summer school at Cornell, taught home economics in North Troy, Vt., served as home demonstration agent in Knox-Lincoln Counties 1929-36, in Aroostook County 1936-40, and again from 1955 to the present. In the years 1940 and 1941 she was district agent on school lunches in the St. John Valley for the Extension Service and was supervisory teacher there during the final year. Last, but most important, Jessie and Merle have three children, Parker John, 15, Merle L. Jr., 13, and Elizabeth Jean, 11.

Remember Whitcomb "Rusty"? Haynes—Civil Engineer—Sigma Chi? You should be proud to say you do—he's made his mark for "Maine" '28. He has been with the railroads since graduation. For 12 years he was associated with the Maine Central. He has served with the B. and M. since 1942 where he began as track supt. at Concord, N. H. In 1943 he transferred to Woodsville, N. H., as a train master. Between 1951-54 he served as supt. of the Fitchburg Division. Since 1955 he has been general supt. and is now general manager. His address is 10 Orchard Ave., Reading, Mass. My informant says he is married and he believes they have two children. Fill us in, "Rusty."

Here comes a name off the lost list and I am sure many remember Alvin Westman. He owns and manages Hotel Herbert in Kingfield, Maine. He is the proud father of four daughters. Would like to know more about you, Al.

Alvin Newell is at 10 Allen Ave., Lewiston. He is district agent for the Prudential Ins. Co. Alvin is married.

Lawrence "Skip" Getchell, I remember from Bar Harbor High School, didn't get too far away. Why move? No nicer place than that Island. "Skip" is married, is an auto dealer and Shell Oil distributor, and his address is Windy Acres, Southwest Harbor. Hobbies—automobiles and spectator sports.

Ruth (Jordan) Blanchard really gave me a lift with news. She will have been married 25 years next Feb. 25. She was graduated from Lesley Teachers College in Cambridge, Mass., June 1927. Started teaching in Bangor (kindergartens) and is still there—30th year. Received her B.S. from Maine last June, but she still belongs to '28.

If you are interested in statistics, here are a few. Of the 400 who entered Maine in the fall of 1926, plus the members we picked up, 320 are active alumni, 71 are "lost" or inactive (and these include several who were our most active during school days), 161 live in Maine, 76 more live in New England, 86 live outside (3 of these in foreign countries), 4 are in the service and 19 are dead.

Some happy reunions to report this month. I visited briefly with our other class secretary, Bea (Carter) Cushman, at the Eastern States Exposition while she busily served blueberry muffins in the Maine Building. I also talked with Joe Pike '27 who had helped set up the beautiful forestry exhibit making the building one that Maine people could claim with pride. There were others I would have liked to see, but it was impossible in all the crowd. My daughter, Jane, had a pleasant chat with Connie Leach, Polly Hall's daughter, who is a sophomore in the nursing course at Simmons. I'll bet they compared notes on Maine things they had heard about from their mothers. It's such a small world—never know who your children will meet.

Honored

Dr. O. C. Moulton '30 of Reno, Nevada, has been named surgeon general of the Sons of the American Revolution. Dr. Moulton's election was only the second such one in the history of the national organization. Dr. Moulton was instrumental in organizing the Nevada State Society of the group.

Dr. Moulton is a member of many professional and community groups in Reno, including the Rotary Club, the YMCA, the Nevada State Medical Society, the Pan-American Ophthalmological Society, the Prospectors Club and the Hidden Valley Country Club.

He is a life member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He is married and the father of four children.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Pratt, Bennoch St., Orono, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, David Asa, on Aug. 15 in Bangor.

Harold D. Harding of Needham, asst. division manager of Esso, will serve as a group chairman in the commerce and industry division of United Fund in Boston. "Trin" is a former member of the Oil Industry Information Committee and lives with his wife, Dorothy, and their daughter, Jane, at 159 Tower Ave., Needham, Mass.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Munro Getchell and children of Oxford, Mass., spent the month of August at Lucia Beach near Rockland. "Jerry" is head of the department of speech at the Univ. of Mississippi. I hear Dean Achsa Bean was there, too. Wish I had known it, for I would have looked them up.

Among those from Cape Elizabeth who entered Bowdoin College as freshmen were Lyman Cousins III (son of Helen Findlay '33) and Mason Pratt (son of Syl and Margaret Merrill '32) of Hermit Thrush Rd. I expect that several of our sons and daughters entered Maine or other colleges. Why not write me about them?

Announcement of the marriage of Grace Lemone to Sgt Stanley Enick, U S M C., in Arizona appeared in September. According to the article, Grace continued study at Smith College after graduation from Maine and has resided in California since 1941. She is now on the staff of the Los Angeles County Hospital.

Willard Farris has recently been elected as chairman of the Cincinnati Section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers for the year 1957-58. Willard lives at 240 Ireland Ave., Cincinnati 18, Ohio.

Captain Alvin Giffin, chief engineering division on the staff of the commander of the Fifth Coast Guard District, Norfolk, Va., has recently been assigned to the First Coast Guard District with headquarters in Boston. He will be chief, engineering division, and assumed his duties there in August. Al and Vi (Purinton) spent part of the summer vacationing in Maine at the Purinton cottage at Pushaw Lake with their daughter Alola, who is a senior at the University of Maine. Al has served a long and distinguished career in the Coast Guard dating from the time of his entrance soon after graduation.

When the County Teachers Associations from Maine met in Augusta in May, the keynote speaker was Ermo H. Scott, president of Farmington State Teachers College, who based his address on the definition of leadership and the responsibility of teachers as educational leaders.

Albert Heckman, industrial engineer with Fraser Paper, Limited, Madawaska, was recently honored for 25 years service by the presentation of an inscribed watch. A picture appearing in the Bangor Daily News shows Albert receiving this award from the mill manager. He also received a letter of appreciation from the president of the company which he joined in 1932.

7 Catell St., Apt. 5, Bangor

Here are some addresses that came via the Alumni Office:

Marion (Findlen) Duesing, 3540 Lealman Ave. N., St. Petersburg 4, Fla. Marion gives her occupation as housewife.

Walter R. Leach, New Sharon, Maine. Walter takes over his new assignment this year as superintendent of schools of union #40.

Alexander M. Martin, 78 Harvard Ave., Brookline, Mass. He gives his occupation as pharmacist, with his business address at 624 Hammond St., Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Hazel (Adams) Simpson, Boothbay Harbor, Me. Occupation is given as housewife.

Robert E. Timberlake, Tuttle Road, Cumberland, Me.

Here are a few more news items of persons who attended the 25th anniversary reunion in June. More will follow in future columns.

Peter J. Kuntz, 717 Crescent Pkwy., Westfield, N. J. Pete has recently accepted a position as equipment administrator for American Busch Arms Corp., Old Country Rd., Garden City, L. I., N. Y. When I last saw Pete, after the Tidal Falls picnic, he was heading toward New Jersey, with a paper bag full of real Maine lobsters. I hope they survived the plane ride home and that they were good eating.

Josephine (Carbone) Feeny, my roommate during our freshman year at Maine, had her husband "Pat" with her. "Jo" is a psychiatric social worker for the Veterans Administration and lives in Veazie.

Malcolm and Thelma (Gibbs) Long were planning to come to reunion but were unable to make it. They have three children; two daughters are married, and they have a son living at home with them. They have been in Billings, Montana, and the weekend they were expecting to be in Maine, they had to fly West instead as Mal has a new job in Los Angeles, Calif.

Alfred P. McLean and spouse of 1 Summer St., Caribou, were present. He reports that he's at the same old station as general manager of the Colby Co-Op. Starch Co.

Roy H. McCray and wife, 26 Fairview St., Keene, N. H., were present. Roy reports that they have been living in Keene since the hurricane of 1938, and that since the War (WW II, I presume) he has been working for an insurance company in their home office as manager of their Collection Department.

College activities are in full swing here in a setting which is almost out of this world. The foliage around the campus and on the banks of the Stillwater is as brilliant red, orange, and yellow as I have ever seen it. Did you notice in the last Alumnus there were 14 sons and daughters of the class of '33 among the 1,078 freshmen?

Along with our Reunion Fund checks I have received some interesting items about members of our class. Our fund by the way has passed the $1,000 mark but it will take many more donations to reach our goal.

Bryce Jose is assistant vice president of the So. New England Telephone Co. The Joses live at 95 Santa Fe Ave., Hamden, Conn., and have three boys, William, 16, Christopher, 13, and Robert, 10. They are planning our "Date for '58."

Courtney E. Stover owns and operates a dairy farm at West Bath. The Stovers have two children, Joyce 21, and Jerrold, 17. Courtney is collector of taxes and treasurer of West Bath in his spare time. He is also a member of F.H.A. and A.S.C. committees. He mentioned seeing H. Wordsworth Raye who operates a mustard factory in Brunswick

I had a nice note from Martha Hartshorn who went on and graduated from Springfield Hospital as a registered nurse. She has worked as a nurse in both Mass. and Maine. She and her family have maintained a bird sanctuary of their own on their farm at Swan Lake. They have seen and recorded over 80 different species a year. They also raised pheasants for release. Martha gives her present address as 17 Mountain Ave., Camden, and is at home caring for her mother who has been very seriously ill.

Dick Elliott writes that he hopes to keep our "Date for '58" but "it is a long long way." Dick is staff assistant at George Washington National Forest. Dick and Emily (Thompson) have one daughter Ann, 21, who has already graduated from college and teaching physical education this year. Mary, 20, is studying voice at Oberlin and Nancy, 10, is in the 5th grade.

C. Everett Page has opened the Page Employment Service, Inc., on Broad St in Bangor.

Florentina (Long) Whittier has accepted a position teaching second grade in the schools of Manchester, Mass. She has taught in both Maine and Massachusetts Schools since leaving U. of M. The Whittiers' address is 33 Monument St., Wenhams, Mass

A large picture of Sam Calderwood appeared in the Bangor News recently announcing his appointment as chairman of the Finance and Insurance Division of the United Drive. Sam is president of Palmers Insurance Agency and is also a member of Bangor Rotary Club, Bangor Chamber of Commerce, and a director of both the Bangor-Brewer Tuberculosis and Health Association and Salvation Army.

Named Dean

Dr. L. M. Hutchings '37 has been named the first dean of the School of Veterinary Science and Medicine at Purdue University. The school, which is the eighteenth of its kind in the United States, was approved by Purdue's board of trustees following authorization by the Indiana state legislature.

Dr. Hutchings joined the staff of the Purdue Department of Veterinary Science in 1942. He was promoted to professor in 1947 and became head of the department in 1950. Dr. Hutchings received his D.V.M. from Michigan State University in 1940 and the M.S. degree in 1942. In 1947, he was granted a Ph.D. degree in pathology from Purdue University.

dustries, Inc. Ed was representing the Penobscot Development Co. of Old Town.

Hope all '33ers are planning to be in Orono for our 25th REUNION in June, 1958. Your class reunion committee met in Orono last June and it's bound to be a reunion to top all reunions. Tom Desmond, Art Forrestall, Ed Giddings, Ted Prescott, John Wilson, and I are committee members. We'd appreciate letters from you with suggestions for the REUNION.

1934 Miss Claire S. Sanders

Did you notice in the October Alumnus the excellent representation from our class in the "Sons and Daughters" group?

Lawrence Tompkins' son, Larry, is a proctor in Dunn Hall this fall.

Erwin A. Gallagher has been appointed superintendent of schools in Tiverton, R. I., for a three-year term. Erwin attended Aroostook State Teachers College, has a B.A. and an M.A. in Education from Maine, and is working towards his doctorate at Columbia University. His teaching experience includes twenty-three years as teacher, principal, and superintendent in Maine. He gave service in the schools at Mars Hill, Brooks, Skowhegan, and Madison. He has been active in teachers' clubs, organizations for the promotion of better education, and as a member of Rotary International.

Donald O Perkins works in the payroll department of the Oxford Paper Co. in Rumford. He lives in West Peru.

1935 Mrs. Thomas S. McGuire
(Agnes Crowley)

21 Widgeon Way, Greenwich, Conn.

Congratulations to Howard Etter and his bride, the former Bertha (Gordon) Walter of Wayland. On June 15th Howard and Bertha were married at Bar Harbor. Howard received his B.A. and M.A. in physics from the University of Maine, he is now associated with the research laboratory of the AVCO Mfg. Corp.

Lt. Col Paul W Bean, a member of Maine's 103rd Regimental Combat team for 16 years and its executive officer since January 1950, was honored at a parade and review ceremony climaxing the unit's 1957 encampment. Col. Bean submitted his resignation to be effective October 1. Paul, as you know, is an engineer with the Union Water Power Co. of Lewiston.

Lt. Col Frank Morong of the U.S.A.F. has just been appointed director of safety for the Missile Division. He is located at Cooke Air Force Base, Lonopoc, California.

Doris Lindsey is living now at 1 Broad St., Freehold, N. J., and John W. Symonds is living at Barry Lane, Simsbury, Conn.

Florence (Kaminsky) Lieberman is living at 180 Broadway, Bangor, Maine. Florence and Dr. Arthur Lieberman have one daughter, Diane Wendy, who is eight. Florence has a lovely 100 year old home—you know—twelve foot ceilings and all the charm in the world. Florence is kept very busy homemaking and serving on the hospital auxiliary, medical assoc. auxiliary, A.A.U.W., and Bangor Jewish Community Council.

In Millinocket, Gerald Leavitt is an optometrist.

Gerald and Christine have one son, who is 10. Gerald is a radio hobbyist and devotes his other spare time to the various town committees, masons, church, and being postmaster. And like so many of the '35ers said he had no picture!

Peg and Roy Lawrence live at 20 Park St., Bath. Roy and Peg have twin girls, Barbie and Debbie, 15, and sophomores in high school. Roy is foreman welder at the Bath Iron Works and in leisure moments an amateur photography fan. Roy is master of Masonic Lodge and serving his fifth year on the Church Prudential Comm.

Hope we'll have more news letters for you next month. 'Til then—

1936 Mrs. Edwin P. Webster, Jr.
(Phyllis Hamilton)
258 Norway Rd., Bangor

This is really my official "Hello" for the season as I missed the deadline in September and the Alumni Office had to "save face" for me. Hope you all had a wonderful summer and will settle down with a little correspondence (to me) this winter.

We start off with the good news that one of our "lost" members has been located. Harry Wood is living in Drewsville, N. H., and is employed by a machine tool company in Springfield, Vt.

Milton Breslaw is a real estate and insurance broker in Greenwich, Conn. He and his wife, Helen, live at 315 Greenwich Ave. As we haven't heard from him for many years, here's a thumbnail sketch. In World War II he was in the Marine Corps and was with the 5th Marine Division on its attack on Iwo Jima. He was recalled to duty during the Korean War, received the rank of major, and served as Provost Marshal of the Second Marine Division. Milton's civilian life has been active, too. He is a Past Exalted Ruler of the Greenwich Elks, secretary of the Boat and Yacht Club (his hobby is boating and he owns a 33 ft. cruiser, the Lilla II), a member of the Marine Reserve Corps Officers Assn., Insurance Board of Greenwich, and sec-treas. of the Harpoon Club.

Only a card with an address change from Lt. Col Richard O. Gordon, but from the information thereon, I would gather that he has recently returned from overseas. His new address is Chemical Corps Board, Army Chemical Center, Md.

Congratulations to Eileen "Puss" (Brown) Parker who received her Master of Education degree at U. of M. in June. Puss is librarian at Garland St. Junior High in Bangor. She and Frank live at 46 Holyoke St., Brewer.

Last spring I promised to give you Alvin (Buz) Heald's address as soon as he found a house. I'm happy to report that Roselle and the boys have joined him and their address is Main Road, Hampden.

It seems like such a short time ago that Ann (Eliason) Clarke and family moved to Bangor and now they are on the move again. Dick has been transferred to Boston and is Business Procedure Supervisor of N. E. Tel. & Tel. there. Ann says to tell you all to continue to send checks for the class fund to her present address (Harthorn Ave., Bangor) because they also have to locate a house. We'll be sure to give you the new address. Incidentally, don't forget that you may send news of yourselves, families and friends of '36 to Ann and she will forward it to me.

Dr. Karl Larson of East Machias was nominated by Governor Muskie as medical examiner for Washington County.

1937 Mr. Edwin H. Bates
8 College Heights, Orono

Here's a fine newsy letter from Jeanette (MacKenzie) Wilson. Her address was (in Sept.) 70 Lodi Estate, New Delhi, India, but Jeanette expected to be reached at the American Embassy in Amman, Jordan, now. To quote from her letter, "We came to India in June 1953, where Frank is chief of the Industrial and Investment Div. of the U. S. A. Foreign Aid Program here. We like India very much and have enjoyed living here. Incidentally, Frank was born here for his parents were Presbyterian Missionaries. We were home on furlough during the summer of 1955. We were particularly pleased to have a grand visit with Bruce '33 and Claire (Saunders '36) Ashworth in Hartford, Conn., during our leave. At that point we had two youngsters. We now have three. They are, Sandy, 14, who is attending boarding school in South India, an American school that Frank also attended as a youngster. Bitsey, 9, attends the American school here in New Delhi and a second son, Malcolm, was born in April of 1956. Sorry that I missed the 20th Reunion; perhaps by our 25th I'll be closer to Orono. We will be moving to Amman, Jordan, shortly. We are looking forward to spending the winter in the Holy Land and to seeing some of the great ruins of ancient cities. Life in the foreign service has its drawbacks, no doubt, but there is never a dull post. Our life is full of contrasts, having servants in number and living very comfortably and then being thrilled because we are able to get American graham crackers occasionally. I do appreciate my mail from the U. of M.; we have met the Kirloskar family here and their sons graduated from Maine just a few years ago."

Nice to hear from you, Jeanette. Let's hope other class members follow your example and forward letters, too, for us to share via this column.

1938 Mr. Robert L. Fuller
47 Andrews Ave., Falmouth Foreside
Guess it's about time to remind one and all that come June we'll celebrate our 20th Reunion—hope Gowell and Sherry have appointed a "really on the spot" arrangement committee—such as A. Veague and Jim Stanley.

Speaking of A. Veague, the last time I was in Bangor I looked him up (finally caught up with him at the City (Jail) Hall and then we rendezvoused. Sorry space doesn't permit me to go into a full description.

Had a short visit this week with E. Parker (Sparky) Troland. Sparky is married and living in Hingham, Mass. He is a project engineer for Bird Machine Co.—the same outfit that Les Tarbell is with—although another division I guess. Les is a superintendent in charge of Paper & Finishing Mills as of Aug. 1st.

This week's teachers Convention in Portland reminds me that Frank Tapley has left Easton after a very successful 11 years as Teacher-Coach. Going to Mass. but I'm not sure what town. Also Lewis Smith is teaching in Kittery, Me.

The only other fresh news I have is not on the sunny side. Stan (Duffy) Dunlop was taken to the hospital two days ago with a heart attack.

See by the papers that the Pilots Grill (Pete Zoidis and brothers) won their case against the government on land damage when they enlarged Dow Field.

Things down Damariscotta way really must be at a low ebb—John Haggett has been elected a Trustee of Lincoln Academy.

Don't forget, let's KEEP a date in '58—REUNION!

1939 Mrs. Hazen W. Danforth, Jr.
(Laura Chute)
188 Wilson St., Brewer

Another report due and this one is going to be short. I have a few items from the Alumni Office this month and that is all.

Eileen Cassidy of State St., Bangor, and Elizabeth Murphy '30 of Buck St., Bangor, toured England, Scotland, and the continent in July and August in a Mercedes 180 car color bright red. Two other friends from the mid-west toured with them. Eileen is an associate professor in the Women's Physical Education Department at the University of Maine.

Middletown, Conn.—Dorothy (Hines) Byrne will teach in the primary grades of Macdonough School this year. She has a B.A. from the University of Maine in '39 and attended Teachers College of Conn. in '57.

Eleanor (Cousins) McGraw gives as her home address: East Blue Hill, Maine.

Artemus E. Weatherbee lists himself as Deputy Asst. Postmaster General in Washington, D. C.

Edward R. Ladd who recently completed two years as pres. of the Maine Association of Insurance Agents was named National State Director by that association at the annual meeting in Sept.

1940 Mrs. Artemus Weatherbee
(Pauline Jellison)
9302 Second Ave., Silver Spring, Md.

The Weatherbee family is having a session with the Asian flu which is no fun, believe me. The children have been home from school, and the only good thing about it is that they have been able to watch the World Series!

We have received some interesting articles from the Alumni Office.

Thomas Fielder was appointed marketing and merchandising supervisor of the Texas Co. account at Cunningham and Walsh, Inc., New York City advertising agency. Tom went to the agency after 16 years with the General Electric Co. where his most recent position was advertising and sales promotion manager in the television department. He is living in Fayetteville, N. Y.

Richard Akeley has been appointed area conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service for Aroostook, Piscataquis, and Washington Counties with headquarters at Presque Isle. Dick spent three years in the U. S. Marine Corps during

Mr. Peter Karalekas '34, who is the chief engineer at the Water Department in Springfield, Mass., poses with his three sons and two daughters. Another daughter was born recently.

World War II and has more than 15 years of service with S.C.S. all in Aroostook County.

Arthur Henderson was granted a fellowship to study at the Univ. of Vermont last summer from May to August. Arthur served in the Navy during World War II, attended two radio schools, was stationed in Hawaii and the Philippines, and received his discharge as a lieutenant. After nine years in the electrical business for himself, he was elected head of the science dept. in Madison High School. He is married to the former Emily Rand and has three girls and two boys. The Hendersons live in Anson and are all active workers in the Congregational Church.

We have received some information about Richard Piper who was "lost." His present address is 9901 Hubbard Ave., Livonia, Mich. He is with the Minnesota Mining Mfg. Co. with his office in Detroit, Mich.

1941 Mrs. Constance P Leger
(Connie Philbrook)
Philbrook Farm Inn, Shelburne, N. H.
From the Alumni Office comes four addresses from the "lost" files.

Earl Douglas, an engineer with Bethlehem Steel, is living at 140 River St., Braintree, Mass. Clifford Pattee, a Tech. Rep. for G.E. Co., can be reached at Box 7, Barksdale A.F.B., Louisiana.

Quenton Crandall is at 1200 S. McKinley, Hobbs, N. M.
Irving Black resides at 2 Beaumont Pl., Apt. 21, Newark, N. J.

George Ellis spoke to the Industrial Development Council of Maine in Lewiston on Sept. 30. Should any of you be doing such interesting things, the rest of us would like to hear of them.

We had hoped to see Fran (North) Waters this summer, but her vacation was interrupted by the death of her mother-in-law.

I hope to see a great many of you back on campus for Homecoming so that our next column will be long and bursting with news.

1942 Mrs. Gilbert Y. Taverner
(Bette Barker Kilpatrick)
18 Pleasant St., West Springfield, Mass.

We continue our biographical notes gleaned at Reunion time, which couldn't be squeezed into last month's column. . .

Mary (Cowan) Leavitt's autobiographical comment is an amusing one, and would apply to quite a few of the femmes of the class—"no change except more pounds and more gray hair." (Mary has considerably more gray hairs than the average for our age, but is most attractively prematurely gray.) Mary and Larry are at Forest Ave, Orono. He is with Penobscot Chemical Fibre, Great Works.

Although married and raising a family Dorothy (Gilman) Locke has been doing the work for which she prepared in college, serving as a temporary 4-H club agent in York County

Nancy Philbrook is in business with her father running Philbrook Farm Inn in Shelburne, N. H. If you've never taken the short trip off Route 2 near Berlin to see this lovely spot in the mountains, it's well worth the time (No charge for the commercial, Nancy!)

Administrative Assistant is the title Priscilla Thurlow carries at Central Maine General Hospital in Lewiston.

The only comment Jane (Page) Wells made about herself is that she lives at 80 Woodridge Rd., Wayland, Mass. The same with Jeannette (Berry) Whitten—47 Barton St., Presque Isle. And Jo (Blake) Bail—East Millinocket.

Happily we have news of some long unheard of classmates this time. It is a gratifying experience to unearth such news! Let's have some more.

There is no finer way to show your lasting appreciation to your Alma Mater than by making a gift either outright or in trust. In these complex times, however, it is important that the gift be made in a manner that will be most beneficial not only to your college, but to your family and business as well.

Our experienced Trust Department will be glad to work with you and your attorney on the financial and trust aspects of an educational gift that will serve as your personal memorial in the years ahead. Write or telephone for an appointment now.

We'll be glad to send you a copy of "Facts Everyone Should Know About Charitable Giving," which you may find valuable at this time. Simply drop us a card today.

Chris Fallon is associated with C.A.R.E. and is living and working in Tel Aviv, Israel. He was for several years in Germany working with one of the air lines. He is married to a "lovely German girl named Liesa and has two little daughters, Sandra and Nicola," according to my informant. Chris has crossed the Atlantic seven times, but never in a boat—always by air. One of these days we'll try to have an exact address for you on Chris.

For several years Miles Mank was with the F.B.I., but as of six months ago he opened a private law practice in Vero Beach, Florida. The address that will reach him is 261 Del Mar Ave. Report has it, too, that Miles was appointed Municipal Judge of Vero Beach three months ago so bears the title of The Honorable! He is married and has two children, a boy and a girl.

Now that the new academic year is in full swing, I hope that some of you will get warmed up and start writing letters containing news for our class column.

David Harding of Bar Harbor was elected chairman of the executive committee of the annual meeting of the Maine Association of Insurance Agents in September.

Alfred G. Berry, Jr., 359 Pine St., Freeport, N. Y., is a template maker for Grumman Aircraft

Paul W. Horeysek, Briarwood Drive, New City, New York, is superintendent of the Box Board Mill of Robert Garr Duc at Pierpont, N. Y. He worked for the same company at Uncasville, Conn., and Middletown, Ohio, previously.

Fred Herbolzheimer, Jr., has been promoted to the position of production manager of the Thilmay Pulp and Paper Co. of Kaukauna, Wis. He will have charge of coordination and direction of all departments engaged in production activities, including pulp, paper, and converting. He will also be in charge of the planning and traffic departments. Fred has been with the Thilmay Co since last March. Previously, he was production manager for the Scott Paper Co. in Marinette, Wis., where he started work in 1948, after receiving his M.A. in paper chemistry at the University of Maine. Fred was a lieutenant in the U. S. Engineers during World War II, and served in Germany.

James H. Bates, since 1951 executive director of the Vermont Tuberculosis and Health Association, has accepted the position of executive assistant in the office of Dean George A. Wolf, Jr., at the University of Vermont College of Medicine, effective January 1, 1958. Jim will supervise aspects of medical research grants, administer postgraduate

J. Gordon Webster, M.D., left the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, Washington, D. C., to become chief of the Air Force Epidemiological Laboratory, San Antonio, Texas. They have a daughter, Elizabeth May, born June 19. The Websters' address has changed to Air Force Epidemiological Laboratory, Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas.

Everett Whitney has returned from three years in Alaska and expects to spend 17 weeks advanced training at Ft. Bliss, Texas. His temporary address is 1212 E. 162 St., Seattle 55, Wash., c/o Zella Powell.

Kay (Rice) Joyce and her two boys, Mark, 7, and Kerry, 10, expect to join Roy this fall in France where he is a Red Cross Field Director. The address—American Red Cross, U.S.A. Eng. Depot, A.P.O. 256, New York, N. Y.

Attorney Stan Rudman is a candidate for election to the Board of Aldermen from Ward 8 in Newton Centre. He is a member of the Boston, Mass., and American Bar Associations and the National Association Claimants' Compensation Attorneys and is associate editor of the NACCA Law Journal. He is a member of the Newton Democratic City Committee and is vice president of the Brotherhood Temple Shalom of Newton. Stan has been a resident of Newton since 1951 and has been practicing law there since his graduation from Law School. They have two sons, Jeffrey, 9 yrs., and John, 5 yrs.

A clipping from the Lynn, Mass., newspaper showed Fred (Boxcar) Jones and his family enjoying the comfortable living conditions provided by the Army's housing development at Sagami-hara about a mile from Camp Zama, about 35 miles southwest of Tokyo. Fred is one of the civilian engineers behind the modern military construction program going on in Korea to improve troop living conditions and to provide recreational facilities for American soldiers in Korea. "Boxcar" and Bette have three children, Teddy, 13 yrs., who is very active in the Boy Scouts, Riki, 2 yrs., and Lisa, 6 months. The Jones family also enjoy golfing, swimming, and bicycling, hunting, and fishing. To quote Fred, "for a family with a venturesome spirit, I would not hesitate to recommend a tour of duty in Japan."

According to the White House Press Release, C. Lincoln Jewett, Mgr. of the Washington Office of Arthur D. Little, Inc., and other leaders of the President's Conference on Technical and Distribution Research for the benefit of small business met with President Eisenhower on April 16 to formulate the plans for the Conference to be held September 24, 25 and 26 in Washington, D. C. This Conference has been called by the President to help small manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers increase their sales and improve their products by using modern methods and techniques. Link is serving as Executive Director of this Conference.

From the Alumni Office comes a clipping taken from the Sigma Chi magazine announcing that Howard Barber has assumed his duties as Grand Praetor in the Southern New England Province. Howard is vice president and general manager of the H. C. Barber Dairy, Inc., in East Providence, R. I.

Kenneth Vennett has been appointed principal of Ballast Pt. Grammar School in Tampa, Florida. Ken received his master's degree in 1951 from the University of Florida, taught and coached for four years, and was dean of boys at Madison Junior High in Tampa.

From an Attleboro, Mass., paper we learn that Audrey M. Hall is to be married to Richard M. Ross in October.

Carolyn Bradley sent along a note with some news from the Bangor area. She attended a Bangor Alumnae group meeting recently and was pleased to see many familiar faces. Her escort was Emmy Lou (Littlefield) Danforth. Emmy Lou is teaching a sewing class at night school this year. Don is with the Eastern Corp in Brewer. They have a son, 5, and a daughter, 6. Even though we are miles apart now, Carolyn is still my co-worker on this column. If you would like to write to her she will see that I get the news. Her new address is 55 Brimmer St., Brewer.

Congratulations from all of us to Bob Patten on his appointment as Associate Director of the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund. We read the wonderful write-up about you in the Bangor papers and also in the front of the October Alumnus, Bob.

On June 28 Norma (Hoyle) Connors left for Paris and Nice, France, to study under the Fulbright Summer Seminar program for French teachers. She said that they spoke French almost entirely while they were there especially when attending classes. Norma has returned full of enthusiasm and ideas. She says that the oral system of teaching appeals to the students because they are eager to speak the language. It sure sounds as if you had a most interesting and enjoyable summer, Norma.

Another clipping contains a picture of Ruth (Higgins) Horsman who is serving on the play-reading committee of the Community Little Theater Assoc. of Lewiston-Auburn. She will also direct the initial production "Teahouse of the August Moon" to be presented in Nov.

Richard and Barbara (Moore) Hersey have bought a house at 32 Kenilworth Street here in Portland and are very happy in their new neighborhood.

news of herself, so she asked me (Mary Libby Dresser '46 of 163 Main St., Wenham, Mass.) to cover events for the next two months. This gave rise to a thought contrary to what you've been taught, why not start talking about your neighbors—the 1946 ones, that is. You could add something about yourself too!

Dick and I attended Judy's wedding in Syracuse, N. Y., on Oct. 5 to Edward (Ted) Harris. Saw a few Maine faces: Rusty Chute, Harriett (Steinmetz) Fray, Nora (Chipman) Schaible '47 and Mary (Fielder) Fenwood '44, who was matron of honor. Ted works for G. E. as a specialist in overseas operations. The rest is classified. By now (Oct. 10th) they've had a week in Jamaica.

As for Judy, she was recently appointed an assistant to the Supervisor of Personnel Admin. in the Product Service section of the Heavy Military Electronics Equipment Dept. at G. E. The product being radar & computers & the service being installation, maintenance, instruction, etc., of the equipment all over the world. Customers are largely branches of the service & the personnel section assigns trained men to the strategic areas.

ACTION SHOT OF A NEW ENGLAND LIFE AGENT

Jack Langan discusses additions to Inter-County's pension plan

Jack Langan joined the Byrnes Agency of New England Life in 1952, the year after he graduated from Fordham. Since then he's been able to help more than twenty-five companies install pension plans. None of these plans has given him more personal satisfaction than the one he sold to the Inter-County Title Guaranty & Mortgage Company.

Inter-County is a large organization with offices throughout the nation and Jack worked hard to tailor the plan exactly to their specific requirements. President Thomas H. Quinn (seated at desk in picture above) has been most appreciative. And he is enthusiastic not only about the plan itself, but about the professional assistance Jack continues to offer in servicing it.

Jack enjoys meeting and working with distinguished men like Mr. Quinn. Furthermore, these top executives recognize the value of the services he brings to them and their organizations. That's one important reason for the continuing satisfaction Jack has found in his career with New England Life.

There's room in the New England Life picture for other ambitious college men who meet our requirements. You get income while you're learning. You can work anywhere in the U. S. A. Your future is full of substantial rewards.

You can get more information about this career opportunity by writing Vice President L. M. Huppeler, 501 Boylston Street, Boston 17, Massachusetts.

Churches Were Cold

CHURCHES were cold in early Portland winters. The seats were hard and uncomfortable. The sermons and prayers were seemingly interminable. It was not until 1820 that stoves became common in meeting houses. Prior to that time foot-stoves of tin in a wood frame, containing a sheet-iron pan filled with live coals from the home fireplace were used to warm the feet of worshippers.

But the church itself remained bitterly cold. Parson Smith and Dr. Deane mention in their book that the baptismal water froze so hard during the service, many times they could hardly break it.

The first house of worship in Portland to be warmed by stove was that of the Quakers, on the south corner of Lincoln Park. The stove was a large box-like affair set in the middle aisle, with loose bricks piled on the top. These bricks, when warmed by the fire in the stove, were taken to their seats by the members of the congregation, for the comfort of the warmth they held.

The stove was both a wonder and the subject of ridicule by the members of other churches, whose ministers and deacons were slow to adopt this "big city" idea of making worshippers comfortable.

Several years after the stove was installed in the Quaker meeting house, the First Parish Church on Congress Street purchased a stove. But the idea that it was just a "big city" luxury still held in some quarters, apparently, for when the church was demolished to make way for the present stone structure, there, hidden carefully in the rafters of the old church, were all the little tin foot-stoves, some with their owner's name painted on them. The wardens and vestrymen, in their wisdom, had these foot warmers carefully preserved, thinking, perhaps, that the new way of warming churches was just a short-lived Boston notion, and the little stoves would be needed again.
