SANTA'S HELPERS. Telephone operators Carolyn M. Kraatz and Arlene P. Halgin, of New York City, symbolize the country wide spirit of Christmas giving.

Telephone Folks Will Play Santa for Thousands of Kids

As you read this, telephone operators all over the country are dressing thousands of dolls for distribution to children's homes and hospitals at Christmas.

Throughout the Bell System, thousands of other telephone men and women are collecting food, candy, toys and dollars for those less fortunate than themselves.

It's a telephone tradition—and a natural one. The spirit of service and the spirit of Christmas are close together. And telephone folks try to be good citizens all year 'round

Under the Bear's Paw

The General Alumni Association paid honor to the Graduate "M" Club at Homecoming Weekend. Past presidents of the club were singled out for special praise.

It seems fitting that another group of leaders should also be given extra mention at this time of year. The group we're thinking about is the 67 men who have been elected by their teammates to captain University football teams.

The names of these men have gone down in history, as the leaders of the "M" Club.

Space won't permit us to go into detail about each man, but we feel you have your own personal memories about the feats of these leaders.

Here, for the first time, is the complete list of University captains: '92, Harry Smith; '93, Mark Urann; '94, Harvey White; '95, Haller Seavey and Charles Pearce; '96-'97, Charles Sawyer; '98-'99, Allen Bird; '00, Ralph Wormell; '01-'02, Carlos Dorticos; '03-'04, Charles Bailey; '05, Arthur Bennett; '06, John Burleigh; '07, Harrison Higgins; '08, Harry White; '09, Horace Cook; '10-'11, William Parker; '12, Thomas Shepherd; '13, Allen Sawyer; '14, Davis Baker; '15, Charles Ruffner; '16, William Gorham.

'17, Thomas Davis; '18, George Ginsberg; '19, Cyde Stewart; '20, Raymond Smtih; '21, Newman Young; '22, Raymond Lunge; '23, Henry Small; '24, George Gruhn; '25, Oren Fraser; '26, Paul Lamoreau; '27, Moses Nanigian; '28, James Buzzell; '29, Lavon Zakarian; '30, Cecil Horne; '31, James Sims; '32, Julius Pike; '33, Philip Parsons; '34, George Cobb; '35, Albert Doherty; '36, Morris Proctor.

OF

A MESSAGE FROM --
NEW YORK

December 1, 1957

Dear Fellow Alumni --

We, of the Greater New York Alumni Association, wish to make public our feelings on the impending retirement of Dr. Arthur A. Hauck as President of the University and the announced plan to honor him at his retirement.

It is often said that "absence makes the heart grow fonder", and this certainly has been our experience in relation to President Hauck and the University. It is difficult for those of us who have been out of college for a number of years, and removed by some distance from Orono, to try to picture the University without him. His service both to Maine and to the thousands of students who were privileged to study under his administration cannot be overly commended.

Selfishly, we shall miss his periodic visits to our alumni meetings, but, more important, we know he will be greatly missed where it really counts - on the Orono campus.

We "New Yorkers" are anxious to do our share - and a little more - in the alumni-wide effort to provide the President with the tribute he so richly deserves. We urge our fellow alumni across the nation to join with us, at the proper time, to make successful the effort to provide the University with the Auditorium Dr. Hauck has dreamed of for so many years.

Our best wishes to Maine alumni everywhere!

Sincerely,

A. B. Conner

Raymond H. Fogler '15 Appointed To Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund

FURTHER DEVELOPMENT of plans for the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund were reported in November by Thomas G. Mangan '16, General Chairman for the Fund.

Mr. Mangan has announced that Mr. Raymond H. Fogler '15, Hastings-on-Hudson, New York, and President of the University's Board of Trustees, has accepted the important post of Chairman for Friends of the University and the President in the campaign which will raise $1,500,000 to honor retiring University President Arthur A. Hauck by completion of the Memorial Union and erection of a much-needed University Auditorium in his name.

University Board President

An outstanding leader in University and alumni affairs since his graduation from Maine in 1915, Mr. Fogler was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Navy by President Eisenhower following a highly successful career with the W. T. Grant Company and Montgomery-Ward. He retired as president of W. T. Grant Company in 1952.

Since his resignation as Assistant Secretary of the Navy in 1956, Mr. Fogler has devoted much of his time to his duties as President of Maine's Board of Trustees, and currently heads the effort to select a successor to President Hauck.

One of Maine's truly outstanding sons, Mr. Fogler's career of alumni service is unequalled. He is the only alumnus to serve more than two terms as President of the General Alumni Association, and who has provided leadership for both the Greater New York Alumni Association and that of the Chicago area. His service on the Alumni Council exceeds that of any other alumnus. The General Alumni Association suitably recognized his service to Maine in 1936 by presenting him with its highest honor, the Alumni Service Emblem.

Presidential Leadership

Mr. Fogler's appointment to a key position with the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund marks the fourth Past-President of the General Alumni Association to accept high responsibility in this effort to permanently honor Dr. Hauck. The others are Mr. Mangan, as General Chairman; Hazen H. Ayer '24, as Chairman of Special Gifts; and George E. Lord '24, as Treasurer of the

Raymond H. Fogler

Fund. The others also have received the Alumni Service Emblem.

As Chairman for Friends of the University and the President, Mr. Fogler will head the solicitation of non-alumni friends of the University and President Hauck across the nation.

The many friends of Maine and of President Hauck will wish to share with thousands of Maine alumni and students in the effort to provide the President with his dream of 23 years, a University Auditorium, and to participate in the completion of the Memorial Union, a memorial to the University's Gold Stars of World War II.

Fund Office Busy

During recent Homecoming activities, Mr. Mangan said, "The Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund team is shaping-up in a most gratifying manner. The fact that our most prominent and busiest alumni are willing to give of their time and effort to see that proper tribute is paid to Dr. Hauck for his invaluable leadership is indicative of the response we shall receive from all alumni when the solicitation effort takes place. It is a real pleasure to head such a team."

An office for the Fund has been prepared on the second floor of the Memorial Union on the campus, and a small staff is busy preparing the details of the alumni, faculty, and student effort to take place later in this academic year. Area Chairmen for some seventy areas across the country and abroad are being appointed, and considerable interest in the Fund is already becoming evident.

The comment and suggestions of all alumni will be welcome and may be sent to the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund, Memorial Union, campus.

Key leaders in the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund are, left to right: Donald V. Taverner '43, executive director; Henry T. Carey '22, president of General Alumni Association; Hazen H. Ayer '24, general special gifts chairman; Thomas G. Mangan '16, general chairman; Raymond H. Fogler '15, chairman for friends of the University and the president; Robert H. Patten '47, associate director. (Haskell photo)

THE UNIVERSITY

Appointment

Mr. Bernard O. Deschanes '56, of Middletown, Conn., has been named an instructor in engineering graphics at the University. Mr. Deschanes has worked as a test engineer with Pratt and Whitney Aircraft in Hartford, Conn., and as a power plant assistant and draftsman for the Scott Paper Company in Waterville.

Class Officers

Only 1,282 voters went to the polls on class election day. The total vote represented only one-third of the student body.

Elected class presidents were: senior, William Eustis of Dixfield; junior, Irving King of Yarmouth; sophomore, Arthur Atherton of Portland; and freshman, David Robinson of Littleton, Mass.

Other officers named were: seniors, vice president, William Lynch of Readfield; secretary, Patti Dessler of Gardiner; and treasurer, Sumner Atkins of Lovell; juniors, vice president, Rudy Stoczek of Little Ferry, N. J.; secretary, Mary Ellen Sanborn of Gardiner; and treasurer, Richard Smart of South Portland; sophomore, vice president, Joe Carroll of South Orange, N. J.; secretary, Carolyn Rothwell of Needham, Mass.; and treasurer, Martha Merrill of Westbrook; and freshman, vice president, Wilbur Spencer of Berwick; secretary, Debbie Caldwell of Hallowell; and treasurer, June Toulouse of Old Orchard Beach.

A Larger Campus

The University Student Senate has approved a 50-cent per semester subscription increase for the Maine Campus. The vote was nearly unanimous with only two senators against the proposal.

The vote meant that the Campus, with more operating funds, was able to increase its pages each week from eight to 12. The change went into effect immediately.

The Senate vote was not the final word, however. The vote is scheduled to go to the University Committee on Administration in the form of a recommendation. If the Committee and Trustees approve, the new rate will mean an increase of one dollar in the spring semester (a total of two dollars). After the spring semester, the dollar raise would be spread out to 50 cents per semester.

Campus editor-in-chief James R. Hamblton was happy over the Senate's decision. "Personally and in behalf of the staff, I wish to thank the Senate and the student body for increasing the Campus subscription rate. We will try to put out not only a larger Prof. Vincent Hartgen, head of the Art Department, displays two valuable paintings by John Marin, who died in 1953. Marin, who was given an honorary doctorate degree by the University in 1950, was the greatest of the modern water-color painters in America and was known as the "Dean of American painters" at the time of his death. The two paintings shown above were recently given to the University, one by his son, John, Jr., in memory of his father, and the other was from an anonymous friend of the University. The two paintings are entitled: "A Bit of Cape Split" and "A Bit of Stonington." Marin, 82 at the time of his death, spent his summers at Cape Split, Maine.

paper, but a better one. With the four additional pages we will have room for more club news, and we will be able to give better publicity to events happening on campus. In addition, we are working on feature ideas which would make the paper more interesting," Hamblton stated.

Barber Speech

Walter L. "Red" Barber, nationally-known sports broadcaster, delivered the keynote address for the 18th annual Religious Emphasis Week program.

Barber, who handles the play-by-play announcing for the New York Yankees televised games, spoke before more than 2,000 students at an assembly in Memorial Gymnasium. His talk was on the subject: "The College Student and His Religion." He augmented his speech with examples from the sports world.

Barber said that a student must have faith in religion and in God, just as the champion athletic must have confidence in his ability. He cited Milwaukee Braves pitcher Lew Burdette's confidence in beating the New York Yankees three times in the World Series as an example of confidence.

New Chaplain

The Rev. Theodore W. Lewis, a native of Oneida, N. Y., has assumed the position of Episcopalian chaplain at the Canterbury house.

Father Lewis, who is married to the former Elizabeth Evans of Rhode Island, graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Hamilton College in 1950. He entered The General Theological Seminary in New York City and received his Sacred Theology Degree in 1953 and was ordained deacon and priest that same year.

Even Good

EVERYTHING went right this year! That was the consensus of opinion from several thousand alumni who turned out November 8-9 for the University's 57th annual Homecoming program.

Clear Skies

For the first time in years, the skies were bright and clear for the Maine-Bowdoin game. Fans had to remember back quite a few years to the last time Mr. Weatherman blessed them with sunshine for the game of games. And, on top of the excellent weather, Maine rapped the Polar Bears to the tune of 40-0. The game marked the end of the season for the Black Bears and another winning season for Coach Hal Westerman.

Highlight of the weekend, in addition to the game, was the honoring of the Graduate "M" Club at Saturday's Homecoming Luncheon. Past presidents of the group (see cover picture) and their wives were introduced and General Alumni Association Henry T. Carey '22, who presided, reported on the history of the group.

"It was at Homecoming, just 25 years ago this month, that an alumni organization which has played a vital role in University athletics got its start," Carey said.

102 Attend

"At the 1932 Homecoming, Ted Curtis '23, Charlie Crossland '17, and Blondie Hincks '32, formulated plans for the organization of alumni who had won the coveted major "M." One hundred and two wearers of the "M" were present for that first meeting of the new Graduate "M" Club in 1932. Each year, at Homecoming, since that time, the Graduate "M" Club has met to renew acquaintances, to learn of new University athletic developments, and to enjoy a social evening together.

"Not content to limit its activities to the semi-social annual meeting, the Graduate "M" Club for many years annually has supplied generous scholarship funds to the University.

"Yes, these 25 years have been a period of real service to the University on the part of the "M" Club, and we are pleased indeed that today we can pay a well-deserved tribute to this Club and its individual members. Gathered at the tables through this hall are men from many classes, all joined together in the common bond as 'wearers of the M.' We salute you, and thank you for your service to Maine, both for your undergraduate athletic accomplishments, and also for the loyal interest you have shown since the day you left the University.

"This is your day. We are delighted that you are here and hope you thoroughly enjoy all Homecoming activities," Carey concluded.

Following his talk, Mr. Carey awarded Black Bear Awards (see next page). University President Arthur A. Hauck spoke briefly, saying that it would be the final time that he would address the group as the University's president. He introduced Dr. James S. Coles, Bowdoin president, who paid tribute to Dr. Hauck as a man "believed by all of us the kind of man who has made Maine great."

Also introduced were Donald V. Taverner, executive secretary of the Association, and William C. Wells '31, chairman of the Homecoming Committee.

Council Meets

The weekend's program got rolling Friday night with a parade, rally and bonfire. Members of the Alumni Council held their first meeting of the year and a dance was staged in Memorial Gymnasium by the Senior Skulls and All-Maine Women. Many alumni attended the Maine Masque Theatre production of "Where's Charley?"

On Saturday morning Homecoming decorations were judged. Winning honors were Corbett Hall, men's dormitories; Chadbourne Hall, women's dormitories; and Phi Kappa Sigma, fraternity houses. Each winning group was awarded an inscribed silver plate by the Alumni Association.

Members of the Homecoming Committee were: William C. Wells '31, chairman; Francis McGuire '31, Ted Curtis '23, Prof. Vincent Hartgen, Howard Keyo, Frank Myers '35, Prof. Winston Pullen '41, Alpheus Lyon '34, Assoc. Prof. David Trafford '39, Assoc. Prof. Marion Rogers '30, Miss Velma Oliver '25, Barry Millett '56, Nelson Jones, Miss Margaret Mollison '50, Donald V. Taverner '43, Miss Judith DeMerchant '58, and James Hamblen '58.

"Brownie" Schrupf '25, Brugge '18, Dow '27 Win 1957 Black Bear Awards

Henry T. Carey '22, president of the General Alumni Association, presented the 1957 Black Bear Awards at the Homecoming Luncheon on November 9. Before presenting the Awards, he said: "In 1950, the General Alumni Association established the Black Bear Awards, to be awarded at each Homecoming in 'recognition and appreciation of outstanding service in promoting Univer-

"BROWNIE" SCHRUMPF

"The alumna authorized by the Selections Committee to our third 1957 Black Bear Award could well be classed 'Mrs. University of Maine.'

"Not only has she devoted a career to the University and allied fields, but she has become a living symbol of 'The Maine Spirit and The Maine Hello.'

"Homecoming and Commencement weekends at the University probably find more alumni automobiles in her driveway and more guests in her home than any others in Orono. Moreover, it is possible that she can call, from memory, the names and classes of more Maine alumni than any other graduate.

Active Alumna

"An active alumna in every way, she is in great demand as a speaker before Maine alumni clubs, as well as professional home economics groups. As a leader in the Class of 1925, she had chaired several important alumni class committees.

"Your alumni office has come to depend upon her for information on the whereabouts and activities of many alumni for whom information seems unavailable from other sources. It is not uncommon for her to arrive at the alumni office regularly with piles of newspaper clippings on alumni.

"Yes, the true and original spirit of the Black Bear Award is fully identified in the person of our recipient—Mrs. William 'Brownie' Schrupf, Class of 1925, of Orono."

CARL F. BRUGGE

"Your 1957 Black Bear Awards Selections Committee has met and has authorized the coveted Black Bear Award to an alumnus whose record of service, generosity, and devotion is beyond question.

"A charter member of the Black Bear Club of Rhode Island, and a key leader in the Rhode Island Alumni Association, he has always been a true 'landing field' for requests of service from Orono.

"He has been instrumental in referring good students to the University and assisting alumni in occupational placement.

"He held key functions in the Union Building Campaign in Rhode Island, and has been a most generous contributor to all University and alumni programs.

Father of Fleet

"Termed by the undergraduate members of the University's Sailing Club as 'The Father of the Maine Fleet,' our recipient donated three of the University's nine boats, and was instrumental in promoting the gift of several of the other craft.

"Just prior to Homecoming this year, two new boats arrived on campus as the gift of our award recipient.

"He is a key leader in the Class of 1918, and currently is serving as co-chairman for the Class of 1918's Twenty-Fifth Reunion preparations.

"No alumnus better deserves the Black Bear Award than Carl F. Brugge, Class of 1918, of Pawtucket, Rhode Island."

GEORGE F. DOW

"The second 1957 Black Bear Award winner, as selected by your Selections Committee, is an alumnus who, through many years, had rendered to the University and to the General Alumni Association outstanding service which has not been adequately recognized.

"He has been a member of the Alumni Council for several years, and currently is a member of the Council's Executive Committee.

"Last June, our Black Bear Award recipient was elected to his fifth term as treasurer of the General Alumni Association.

Fraternity Advisor

"A key leader in Interfraternity Council activities on the Maine campus, he served for several years as secretary of the Council on Fraternity Chapter Advisors. Always active in the alumni affairs of his own fraternity, he served as chapter advisor for many years.

"A consistent and loyal supporter of all University and Alumni Association programs and activities, he is always willing to accept appointment to any committee regardless of the time and effort this duty may require.

"Unfortunately for us, our recipient has been called to the Southwest on important University business, and could not be here today. Therefore, it gives me great pleasure to ask Mrs. Myrtle Walker Dow, Class of 1929, to come to the platform to receive, in his absence, the 1957 Black Bear Award to be presented to her husband, George F. Dow, Class of 1927, of Orono."

Pretty Coed Pat Flynt Pursues Course Usually Reserved For Rugged Men Students

DENDROLOGY. BACTERIOLOGY. Plane surveying. Field work and plotting. Mammalogy.

Does that sound like the curriculum of a pretty 20-year-old coed? Well, it is.

Patricia L. Flynt '60 of Portland is in the second year of her wildlife management studies and is taking those subjects during the fall semester. In the spring semester, she will move along to such subjects as taxonomy of vascular plants, general entomology, and ichthyology.

Why should a girl decide to major in wildlife management?

"I've always liked the outdoors and animals," Pat explained. "I had thought of going to a veterinary school but found they were not too much interested in enrolling girls. So I decided to major in wildlife conservation at the University of Maine, and I'm very glad I did.

"My father has taught me lots of things about outdoor life and animals; in some ways he has brought me up like a son," Pat said. "And my grandfather majored in forestry at Maine, so it was only natural that I should become a forestry-wildlife student here."

Her father is Horton Flynt '30. Her grandfather was the late Roy Flynt '04.

Enthusiastic Student

When Pat gets talking about the course she has selected, she almost bubbles over with enthusiasm. "I just love it, and I couldn't be in a better course," she says. "It's exactly what I wanted."

If good academic marks are any indication of a girl's aptitude and interest in her course, Pat has proved beyond doubt that she's in the right field of study for she made the dean's list in both semesters of her freshman year.

Between her freshman and sophomore years in high school, Pat had an opportunity to work for a summer at a roadside zoo operated by a relative in Connecticut. Her job was to feed and take care of the animals.

"I knew for sure that summer that I wanted to study all about animals," she says. "I brought a South American racoon home with me for a pet, and I taught him lots of tricks during the next year."

Pat claims that she hasn't found one course so far that she hasn't liked. She's especially keen about the scientific courses like chemistry, botany and zoology, but she has also been intrigued by mechanical drawing because "I've never taken a course like it before."

Future

Although graduation day looks rather far off to Pat right now, she thinks she may someday get a job with a state or federal agency doing research work in wildlife conservation. She's also taking courses in education so she can secure a teaching position if she wishes.

"I'd like to get a job as a park naturalist," she said, "and, of course, I may end up marrying a forest ranger. Who knows?"

One of the requirements of the wildlife management program at Maine is an eight-week course at the Robert I. Ashman Forestry Camp at Princeton, Washington County. Although the boys enrolled in the forestry program think it would be a good idea to have a little feminine touch added to their rugged life in the deep woods, Pat is going to disappoint them. An alternate program will be worked out so she may get her academic credit by working on a project probably located on or near the campus.

Pat Flynt '60 of Portland studies plane surveying as a part of her wildlife management courses.

Local Associations

Baltimore Area Alumni

Maryland Alumni met in Baltimore on November 12 for a dinner meeting to open their 1957-58 alumni season.

Guest and speaker at this meeting was Robert H. Patten '47, former Director of Industrial Development for the City of Bangor, Maine, and currently Associate Director of the University's Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund. Mr. Patten addressed the group on the industrial development program currently taking place throughout Maine. Presiding was Kenneth Marden '50, Baltimore Alumni President.

Augusta Area Alumnae

Emily (Elmore) Macy '37 was hostess to a meeting of the Augusta Area Alumni at her Manchester home on November 14.

Barbara (Haney '49) McKay introduced Lawrence Stuart, director of conservation education with the State Department of Education, who lectured and showed slides on the Christopher Lake campus. Margaret Mollison '50, Assistant Alumni Secretary, suggested possible future projects for the ways and means committee.

Southwestern Connecticut Alumni

Mark R. Shibles, Dean of the University's School of Education, was the guest and speaker at a dinner meeting of the Southwestern Connecticut Alumni in Milford on November 14.

Dean Shibles addressed the attending alumni on developments in the School of Education leading to its growth to College status in the next semester.

Presiding at this meeting was Wallace R. Francis '42, Southwestern Connecticut Alumni President.

Chicago Alumni

The Chicago Area Alumni honored President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck at a dinner meeting held at the River Forest Country Club in Elmhurst on November 15.

This meeting, held in anticipation of Dr. Hauck's retirement during the current year, heard the President discuss developments at the University and future plans for Maine.

Presiding at this meeting was Donald Frasier '33, Chicago Alumni President.

Northern Connecticut Alumni

The Hartford Area Alumni had as their guest and speaker at a November 20 meeting in Wethersfield Percy F. Crane, Director of Admissions at the University.

Mr. Crane spoke on the Maine campus as we find it today and discussed matters of student admissions with the attending alumni.

Presiding at this dinner meeting was Northern Connecticut Alumni President, E. H. Phillips '44.

North Shore (Mass.) Alumni

On November 20, the North Shore Alumni met for an evening meeting at the Hitching Post Inn, Beverly.

Guest and speaker at this meeting was Dr. Rome Rankin, Director of Athletics and Professor of Education at Maine. Dr. Rankin discussed Maine's athletic and physical education programs, and outlined future possibilities in these fields.

Leslie Ray '50, North Shore Alumni President, presided.

Penobscot Valley Alumni

The Penobscot Valley Alumni held an informal "Bull Session" meeting at the Memorial Union on the campus, November 20, with President Arthur A. Hauck.

During this evening meeting, the President informally discussed many phases of the University's programs and activities with a large group, and answered many questions affecting the future of Maine.

Milford F. Cohen '41, Penobscot Valley President, presided.

Northern Penobscot Alumni

Professor Gerald Grady of the University's History Department was guest and speaker at a dinner meeting of the Northern Penobscot Alumni in East Millinocket on November 20.

In addition to bringing the alumni news of the campus, Professor Grady discussed his experiences in Washington during the past year where he engaged in governmental studies. Bringing greetings from the General Alumni Association to the group was Margaret M. Mollison '50, Assistant Alumni Secretary.

Lewiston-Auburn Alumnae

On October 16, the Lewiston-Auburn Alumnae met at the Fairview School in Auburn.

Speaker at this evening meeting was Betty Hempstead '49 who spoke on her religious education activities in India.

During the meeting plans were made for the group's next meeting to be held on November 20.

Bangor Alumnae

The Eastern Association of University of Maine Women held a supper meeting on October 28 at the home of Winona (Cole) Sawyer '43 in Bangor.

The group enjoyed a talk by Rena (Campbell) Bowles '21, recently appointed University Alumna Trustee, who spoke on her tour of the world.

Auburn-Lewiston Alumni-Alumnae

The largest and most successful meeting of the Auburn-Lewiston Alumni and Alumnae was held in Lewiston on November 1 when 250 alumni gathered to honor President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck.

Opening this dinner meeting was Auburn-Lewiston Maine Club President Harold Redding '18. Serving as Toastmaster for the evening was Thomas G. Mangan '16, and bringing greetings from the General Alumni Association was Don Taverner '43, Alumni Secretary. The alumni presented President and Mrs. Hauck with a purse and Rev. Chester Campbell was the speaker of the evening. Arrangements were made by a committee headed by Robert Schoppe '38.

University President Dr. Arthur A. Hauck was honored by the Southern New Hampshire Alumni Association at a meeting in Exeter on October 11. Members of the Association paid tribute to Dr. and Mrs. Hauck, who were presented with a suitably engraved tray. Making the presentation is Actor T. Abbott '36, president of the group. Mrs. Abbott is at left and Mrs. Hauck is at right.

Central Massachusetts Alumni

Dr. Garland Russell, Professor of Education at the University, was the guest and speaker at a November 2 meeting of the Worcester Area Alumni in Paxton.

Following an enjoyable dinner and Dr. Russell's interesting talk, the group held its business meeting and elected new officers. Presiding at this meeting was William Creighton '49, president.

Boston Alumni

On November 6, the Boston Alumni gathered at Thompson's Spa for their annual Sports Smoker.

Guest and speaker at this successful dinner was retired track coach Chester A. Jenkins who showed slides of his trip to the Olympics in Australia.

Bringing greetings from the General Alumni Association was Don Taverner '43, Alumni Secretary. Boston Alumni president, Robert Turner '26, presided, and introduced several Maine student fathers who were guests at the meeting.

Eastern Pennsylvania Alumni

The Eastern Pennsylvania Alumni held a dinner at Peabody Hall, Temple University, Philadelphia, on November 9 to honor Dean Gertrude Peabody, Maine '20, for whom this Temple University building was named.

Among the speakers at this tribute dinner were Dr. Robert Johnson, President of Temple, Dean Peabody, and other Temple officials. Dr. Maurice Jacobs '17, served as Toastmaster. This dinner was a fitting tribute to one of Maine's most illustrious alumnae.

Denver, Colorado, Alumni

On November 12, the Denver Area Alumni met in Denver for a meeting with President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck.

President Hauck addressed the attending alumni on recent developments at Maine and discussed the future with its expected University growth.

Arrangements for this dinner meeting were made under the leadership of Roger ('40) and Betty (Jones '41) Benjamin.

Athletics

IT WAS a great season!

That's the way University football and cross-country fans described the exploits of their teams following the three-day period of November 9-11.

During those three days the varsity football team socked Bowdoin 40-0, to gain a tie for the State Series championship and the varsity cross-country team won its third consecutive New England championship.

Those were feats which won't go unnoticed.

Three Straight

The job turned in by Coach Ed Styrna's cross-country team was really magnificent in every respect. Only one other time in New England cross-country history has a Maine team turned the "hat trick" of winning the title three times in a row.

It was also the 14th time that Maine had proven itself the leader of the New England college teams. No other college has won more titles. Rhode Island is second with 12.

The cross-country season began rather dismally for the Black Bears when they finished second in a triangular meet with Harvard and Springfield. Harvard, the Ivy League champion, won the meet. That was the end of the losses, however. Maine chalked up consecutive lop-sided triumphs over New Hampshire, Bates and Vermont.

The following week Styrna's harriers won the Yankee Conference championship by beating Connecticut, the school which won the crown in 1956. Next came the New England title.

Leaders

Leading the Maine harriers were co-captains Dick Law '58 of Brewer, a tall, rangy red-head, and little Dan Rearick '58 of Cranford, N. J. The two men were co-captains a year ago, also.

The remaining five members of the team were sophomore ace Bill Daly '60 of North Leeds, Carl MacDonald '59 of Masardis, Prescott "Mike" Cheney '60 of New Harbor, Robert Dean '60 of Camden, and Donald Wood '59 of Mapleton.

All five will be back next fall.

Varsity Football

For a while, it looked as though our prediction of a highly successful football season was going to prove a poor one. Immediately after the November issue of the Alumnus went to press, the Black Bears dropped games to Connecticut, 19-0, and Bates, 7-0.

Coupled with the opening loss to Rhode Island, 25-7, which was followed by wins over Vermont, 49-0, and New Hampshire, 7-0, Maine had a record of 2-3 going into the final two games of the season against Colby and Bowdoin.

But Coach Westerman, not used to losing seasons (he has never had one while at Maine), then directed the Bears to a pulse-stopping 14-13 triumph over Colby in the rain at Waterville and 40-0 win over Bowdoin in a surprisingly good day at Orono.

Winning Season

The two wins gave Maine another winning season—the seventh in a row.

Bates, which took over first place in the State Series by beating Maine and Bowdoin had to settle for a share of the title with the Bears and Colby. Colby reared up and tipped Bates in the final game, 20-19.

The news that Colby was beating Bates gave the 7,000 fans at Homecoming a big thrill. With one minute left to go in the Maine-Bowdoin game and Maine winning easily, the news came over the public address system that Colby had forged ahead of Bates, 20-19, with a few minutes left to play at Waterville. Maine's players, realizing that a Colby win would mean that they would share in the title, carried Westerman off the field on their shoulders to mark the end of a good season.

Actually, four wins and three losses does not make up an outstanding season. But one must remember that nearly half of the Maine squad was made up of un-proven sophomores this year. Many sportswriters in the state gave Maine little chance for State Series honors before the season began.

There were only four returning lettermen in the starting lineup.

Bright Outlook

Looking ahead to next year, the outlook appears to be as bright as this year's outlook seemed dismal. The basic nucleus of the team will be back—fullback John Theriault '59 of Waterville, quarterback Bob Pickett '60 of Augusta, centers Charles "Chuck" Eberbach '59 of Brewer and Roger Ellis '59 of Westwood, Mass., and ends Ed Manson '59 of Winthrop and Niles Nelson '59 of Winchester, Mass.

Also back will be tackle Harold Violette '60 of Winslow, halfbacks John Welch '60 of Newburyport, Mass., Bob Bower '59 of Brewer, Jerry de Grandpre '60 of Plattsburg, N. Y., and fullback Bob Bragg '60 of Fairfield.

Freshman Team

Add to the players mentioned above will be a host of fine young players from Sam Sezak's freshman team which compiled a record of two wins, one loss and one tie.

The success of the freshman team was a pleasant surprise for Maine grid followers. The frosh opened by edging a weak Bridgton eleven, 18-13 and followers of the Baby Bears predicted a not-too-successful campaign. Sezak, however, directed the team to a 6-6 tie with the strongest Colby freshman team in years, and a 26-18 win over a strong Maine Maritime Academy team before losing 38-7 to Maine Central Institute in one of those games in which nothing goes right.

Among the outstanding players on the team were tackle Haddon Libby of Portland, quarterbacks Phil Taylor of Auburn and Art Miles of Old Town, and halfback Dave Baribeau of Brunswick. Miles, incidentally, is the brother of Roger Miles, one of Maine's all-time great kickers. The second of the clan shows promise of being another fine kicker, also. He drop-kicks extra points, something which hasn't been seen on campus in many years. He booted three in four attempts this fall.

Another gridder who may see considerable action next year is Wayne Champion '61 of Greenville. Champion starred at quarterback for the frosh a few seasons ago, but dropped out of school at the end of the football season and went into the service. He resumed his studies this year.

Looking Ahead

The varsity basketball season will get underway on December 5 against Brandeis in a home game for Coach Hal Woodbury's Black Bear hoopers.

Games for December and January are as follows: Dec. 5, Brandeis; 7, at Bates; 10, Colby; 13, at Vermont; 14, at Vermont; 17, Bowdoin; Jan. 8, at Bowdoin; 11, Bates; 15, at Colby; 18, New Hampshire; and 30, at Connecticut.

The schedule for the frosh for the same period: Dec. 5, Maine Maritime Academy; 10, New Brunswick; 17, Maine Central Institute; Jan. 9, Old Town High School; 11, Brewer High School; 13, at Maine Central Institute; and 18, Ricker.

Returning from last year's team which won six, lost 14, are Co-Captains Tom Seavey '58, Gardiner; and Dudley Coyne '58, Portland; Dave Rand '58, Augusta; Ronnie Boynton '59, Bangor; and Dick Collins '59, St. Agatha. Also on hand is Stuart Jackson '58 who won a letter two years ago but was ineligible last year.

Survivors include her husband—Homer '42, a son, a brother, and two grandmothers.

SENIOR ALUMNI

The Senior Alumni had a meeting at 9:30 a.m. on November 9 (Saturday) 1957, of the Homecoming Weekend in the Memorial Union Building. Fred Simmons '06, president, Leslie E. Little '04, secretary-treasurer, Guy O. Small '03, A. P. Wyman '07, and Arthur E. Silver '02 were present as well as Mrs. Leslie E. Little and Margaret M. Mollison '50. A fine discussion was held and several projects as well as the June 1958 Annual Meeting were discussed. If you as a Senior Alumnus have news for the ALUMNUS, send it on to any of the officers or to the Alumni Office, 44 Library, Univ. of Maine.

1897 From Harbor Beach, Michigan, we hear from A. Jarvis Patten '97. "After attending my 60th Reunion in June I spent three weeks in a Boston hospital. Am feeling very well now and walk a mile or two every day, weather permitting. I hope to leave for Florida by the latter part of this month and will be at the Lakeside Inn, Mount Dora."

1899 Herbert P. Mayo, 106 Fifth St., Scotia 2, N. Y., writes, "Since my retirement from General Electric in 1946, I have done considerable traveling. My son, Capt. Robert C. Mayo, has been flying for the Navy for the last 17 years, so when he went to a new location, we went to visit him. We have visited Miami, Texas, Calif., twice, Newport, R. I., and Washington, D. C., twice. Took a two months trip to the Pacific coast, three trips to Pensacola, Fla., and one to Louisville, Ky. The last 5 trips have been by air as long trips are out when you get to be 80 years old. Best wishes to you all."

Frederick J. Simmons '06 of 12 Glen Ridge Parkway, Montclair, N. J., and Morrill, Maine, called on Hall F. Hoxie of 27 Cedar St., Belfast, last fall for a very pleasant hour. Mrs. Hoxie was at home, too. Two of the Hoxies' three children attended the University; and a brother and cousin were in the Class of 1906. Mr. Hoxie said, "he likes loafing and hunting." For many years he was a construction engineer with the Texas General Engineering and Management Corp.

1900 Fred F. Tate since the death of his wife has been living with his sister, Edith (Tate) Brawn, 140 Castle Ave., Westbury, N. Y. Fred enjoys sawing wood for the fire place and then sitting in front of the fire while smoking his pipe. His health is very good.

1901 Here's news from Ernest C. Butler of Skowhegan. "After graduation from the University of Maine, I was admitted to the Practice of Law in the State of Maine. In 1918, I took a vacation for the purpose of going to France as a Y Secretary to work with the troops in World War I, and I was there until March, 1919. On my arrival in Skowhegan my brother, a business partner in law, was waiting for me to go to Florida on title work for a company that was drilling for oil in Chipley, Fla., and I remained there until the company had drilled a hole 5,020 feet deep looking for oil, but instead of finding the oil, they struck the Caribbean Sea. Sixty-three years ago, I joined the Masons at Phillips, Maine, and in 1932 and 1933 I was Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Maine. During that time, accompanied by the Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Maine, I went to London to the dedication of the Masonic Temple in London. Since that time, I have continued my work in this law office until June 5 of this year when I took another vacation, but this was spent one month in the Redington Memorial Hospital in Skowhegan, and then during July, August and September, I have put in most of the time regaining my health, and I hope that I am back in good condition."

1904 We discover in the Alumni Office, much to our dismay, that Leslie E. Little of Bucksport was not listed as attending the 1957 Commencement in the June Alumnus. Perhaps Mr. Little was serving in the official capacity as sec-treas of the Senior Alumni so efficiently that we counted him in the 1957 Campus Commencement Committee.

1905 Mr. Ernest L. Dinsmore
231 Woodford St., Portland 5

December's skies are o't-times drear;
The fields are white with snow;
The Yuletide season is drawing near;
Soon Santa will be on the go.

There is more truth than poetry in the above metered lines. Soon after this issue of the Alumnus is left at your door Christmas greetings will be in order. In keeping with the season your secretary extends to each of you a happy and peaceful Christmas. And, if perchance, the past year has left in your home a vacant chair he wishes for you a blessed Christmas filled with hallowed memories of happy bygone days.

In late October your secretary had a call from Hiram B. Malcolm who was spending the day in Portland. Mr. Malcolm started his engineering career in his native state but soon went to California as a surveyor for Stanford University. After several years with the Southern Pacific Railway, he went to Alaska where he remained for many years as an engineer for the Copper River and Northwestern Railway. On returning to the States he joined the Bridge Division of the Maine State Highway Commission. He was one of the engineers who built the first bridge ever to span Maine's famous Allagash River. Mr. Malcolm is now retired and lives at 52 Dresden Ave., Gardiner.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bertram E. Ames on the celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary. The party was given by their four children at the home of their daughter in Farmington, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Ames lived for many years in West Hartford, Conn., where he was state agent for the Phoenix Assurance Co until his retirement in 1950. They now live at 4321 Fifth Ave. N., St. Petersburg, Fla.

Last summer Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Beale took another of their famous trailer trips as a part of the Wally Byam Caravan. This trip took them into Canada where they visited among other places St. John, Truro, Yarmouth, and Quebec. While at Quebec Mr. and Mrs. Beale celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary under the auspices of the Caravan. The highlight of the various functions was the dinner at the Chateau Frontenac Hotel. The Beales have now returned to their winter home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

1906 Mr. Earle R. Richards
11 Parent St., South Berwick
Municipal Court Judge, Frederick E. Doyle, of Millinocket, was confirmed on Oct. 17 by the Governor's Executive Council to preside in the Millinocket Court for his 12th four-year term. Mr. Doyle has served continuously in this Court since 1913 to become the dean of Maine Municipal Judges.

If by chance you failed to read carefully the list of Sons and Daughters of '61 in the October Alumnus this will furnish the tip that Hallet C. Ellott has a grandson, Kirk E. Stanford, starting his freshman year.

Elmer J. Burnham was honored at the annual meeting of the Maine Bar Association held at the Samoset Hotel in Rockland in August by receiving his certificate as a member for 50 years. Mr. Burnham is hoping he may find time to take a vacation trip to Florida this winter if his law practice will permit him to get away.

As this appears in print Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Bearce will have celebrated their golden anniversary on Dec. 1; but where we are unable to report as it may have been Washington, D. C., Hebron, Maine, or even Florida. Wherever it may have been sincere congratulations are conveyed with many best wishes.

BY CLASSES

1907 Mr. Karl MacDonald
27 Nelson Avenue, Wellsville, N. Y.
MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY NEW YEAR

As Christmas is the time when one receives presents, would advise that our secretary spent $175.00 of the $261.50 presented to him by the class at our 50th for a Hamilton electric wrist watch. On the back is engraved, "Karl MacDonald, from the class of 1907, Univ. of Maine, June 7, 1907." He has not decided what to do with the remaining $86.50. The plaque given me by the class will be hung in the living room as soon as the wife finishes the annual moving around of the furniture.

Due to the illness of his wife's mother, Erwin H. Hussey has been staying at 27 Chilton St., Springfield, Mass., during the summer. About a week after attending Commencement, he had to return to Guilford due to his sister passing away. They hope to be able to spend Christmas at home, 2541 Roxbury Rd., Winter Park, Fla.

Alton A. Austin says he still lives in the same place but his new address is 207 Main St., Mexico, Me., and his mail is now delivered. There is no longer a Ridlonville post office. He was sorry not to be able to attend the 50th. However he and wife had their own 50th wedding anniversary on September 4 and according to the paper it was a very nice party. They have five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Elmer W. Cummings, South Paris, expected to leave about October 28 for Dania, Fla., where they will spend about six months. He says, "Have been very active all summer for an olderster. Our 50th class reunion, I shall not forget soon."

In October, Bill Alexander visited the Somerville, Mass. Rotary Club. The man opposite him at the table was Ed Campbell from Honolulu. Bill asked him if he knew Caleb Burns. He said, "Sure, everyone out there knows 'Uncle Caleb' as he is called." He said Caleb is in good health and is one of the best known Sugar Plantation men in Hawaii. Bill asked him to tell Caleb how much we missed him at our 50th Reunion last June.

Walter E. Rogers, 73 Florence St., Rosindale 31, Mass., was stricken with a heart attack last spring and was very much disappointed in not being able to attend our 50th. He is now able to attend to his heating business half a day each day. He has not been on the Campus for over thirty years, but hopes to be able to go to Commencement next June.

1908 Mr. James A. Gannett
166 Main St., Orono

The sympathy of the class is extended to Mrs. Alice (Farnsworth) Phillips in the death on October 16th of her only sister Adah Farnsworth following a long illness. A graduate of the Maine General Hospital School of Nursing, she served as a U. S. Navy Nurse from 1917 to 1936. In World War I she served on a Naval Hospital Ship in transferring wounded veterans home from Europe. She had made her home with Alice and George Phillips for the past 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil French were in Bangor recently on business. Much to our regret they were not able to take time off for a visit to the campus before returning to their home in Kingfield.

Omar L. Farnsworth, Law, of Caribou, was honored as a 50-Year Member of the Maine Bar Association last August at the annual convention of the Bar Association.

Will Cobb and I stopped at the Beach Inn, Lincolnville Beach on a Sunday afternoon in October to call on John McIntire. It is not strange that after a lapse of 50 years it was necessary for three old classmates to introduce themselves. Time creates changes!

Guy Durgin has come back to the University in his old field of Pulp and Paper, the department in which he taught back in 1913. He has taken over some of the work of Prof. Charles M. Howell including Paper Mill Management while Prof. Howell is recovering from a severe heart condition. Guy is living at 255 Center St., Apt. 4 in Old Town.

Robert "Bob" Potter writes from 160 Whipple Road, Kittery, "... I am hoping to be able to be present at the 50th class reunion next June. With personal regards and best wishes." The list grows!

Will and Bell (Harris) Cobb, Guy Durgin, and Jim and Marian Gannett were spotted at the Alumni Luncheon at Homecoming on November 9th. Perhaps other members of the class were back for the game.

1909 Mr. Fred D. Knight
9 Westmoreland Drive
W. Hartford 7, Conn.

Your reporter needs your thoughts, advice, and cooperation on a matter which has recently been suggested and on which I do not wish to make the final decision. The Classes of 1906 and 1907 published, on the occasion of their 50th Reunion, a class biography containing a personal sketch about each of their members. It is a big undertaking requiring the help of everyone and definitely not a one-man job. There will be needed many hours of research for material about deceased and "lost" members, much letter writing and personal contacts, and a big editorial job. The classes that have done it think it is a worth while undertaking. Other classes have had biographies done by one individual and only one copy for the Library; '06 and '07 printed copies for each member of their Class at $5.00 a copy and every man bought one. I have discussed the problem with several of our members who, with one exception, think well of the project. But this is not a matter for the determination of a few individuals. Your help is needed. The job will be undertaken only if a considerable number of our group want it and will pledge cooperation. May I hear from you very soon?

We extend the sympathy of the Class of 1909 to Mrs. Dexter Smith in the recent loss of her husband. (See Necrology Section for write-up.)

It was good to receive a nice letter from "Frankie" Richardson who now lives in Baldwinville, N. Y., P. O. Box 84. Frank retired about a year ago as supervisor of rigging and fittings section of the design division of Norfolk Naval Shipyard. I quote from his letter: "I have been very happily married to the same wife for forty-four years. In the interim we have accumulated three children, who are all happily married also. The older daughter, 42, with whom we make our home from about April to December, lives here in Baldwinville. We added two rooms to their home which is very pleasantly located in the outskirts of the town. We are very happy here. The climate is far more comfortable in summer than the south. My oldest grandson, only son of this daughter, graduated from college last summer. He graduated as an Ensign from the Naval Officers Candidate School in Newport and is now stationed at the Naval Air Station in Guam. He was married last summer and it is whispered that I am to become a great-grandfather! My son, 35, is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He is in the underwater explosion research division of the Norfolk Naval Shipyard. He has two small sons. He has rather a responsible position and he takes trips to the west coast and the Caribbean for various tests. My younger daughter, 30, is married to a Norfolk lawyer and lives in Virginia Beach within a stones throw from the beach and the broad Atlantic. We spent the winter there last year and will return about December first. She has two daughters."

1912 class members are still going strong. James L. Boyle was honored recently by having a luncheon of the Society of American Legion Founders dedicated to him at the 39th national convention of the Legion held in Atlantic City, N. J. Jim is one of the founders of the American Legion and, in point of service, the oldest state adjutant in the United States.

Philip Garland expresses regret that he couldn't be at the class reunion. Phil retired a year ago after thirty years with Plywood Industries. He married a Wellesley girl (sister of one of his fraternity brothers). They have four sons (all married) and five grandchildren. Phil says, "Regards to all the gang. Come out and see me." The address is 4719 North Hudson St., Tacoma, Washington.

Alton A. McPhetres, formerly of Montreal, Canada, but now retired and living at 4605 Old Frederick Rd., Apt. A., Baltimore 29, Md., writes that he very much favors Maine lobsters over any produced south of the state. He enjoys summers at Jefferson, Maine, and winters in Florida. Mac says he hopes and expects to enjoy the fiftieth reunion as much as he did the forty-fifth.

Walter E. Morrison has retired after 32 years as sales contact man for the Stedman Rubber Company and purchasing agent for the South Brantree Plant. Walter has been a Town Meeting Member in Brantree, a member of the Brantree Taxpayer Association and is past president of All Souls Men's Club. He has two daughters and one son. His address is 17 Peter Hobart Dr., Hingham, Mass.

Herbert C. Norburg writes that he has retired after 28 years with Champion Lamp Works in Lynn, Mass., as quality engineer. Just to keep busy in "retirement" Herb has a set of housekeeping cottages at Winthrop, Maine, that he rents during the summer months.

Why don't you folks that have as yet failed to let the rest of us know "what's with you," write us a few lines? We are interested.

1913 Philip S. Bolton and J. Larcum Ober were the principal speakers at the third annual Scholarship Dinner for the recipients of scholarships and grants awarded by the Pulp and Paper Foundation held on November 7 at Estabrooke Hall. Larcum has been the president of the Foundation since its establishment in 1950 and Phil is a director and chairman of the Curriculum Committee.

Clifton Chandler of Portland is vice president and director of the Maine Savings and Loan Association in Portland.

The Evening Gazette of Worcester, Mass., on Sept. 24, 1957, carried a photo showing the presentation of a "Book of Remembrance" in memory of the late Walter C. Stone, who was a senior warden and vestryman at the Church of the Good Shepherd where the Book will be used to enter the names of all deceased parishioners. The Lions Club presented the Book to the parish; Walter was a charter member and past president of the Lions Club.

At present this is a very exciting place. The fields and woods are full of hunters. It is hardly safe to stick one's nose out of the door. The oldest grandson got his deer two mornings ago, and the middle one will go out in the morning to see what he can do. As for Grandmother, I shall be so glad when the month is over and every thing returns to normal.

As for news my classmates were none too generous with letters this month, but we shall hope for more next time. I received a nice letter from Karl M. Currier of Marcus Hook, Penn. Although he has not been able to attend recent class reunions, he wants to keep in touch with us as well as distance and press of business will permit. For the past several years he has been director of textile research for the American Viscose Corporation. Although the work has been demanding, he has found it most interesting and will retire from the corporation with regret next June 1st. He says that if any of the classmates need a partner in any private enterprise to have them contact him as he has a brief case and will travel. It was certainly good to hear from him.

I had a very interesting letter from Philip Marsh, who at one time was a member of our class. Last year he was head of English at Adrian College, Adrian, Mich. This year he accepted a place at Texas Lutheran College at Seguin, Texas. It is a young, vigorous, growing college, and he likes Texas and the Southwest. Last summer he taught at the University of Manitoba at Winnipeg, which was an interesting experience. Recently, he published a new book, "How To Teach English," a practical guide for young teachers. I am very grateful for this fine letter, which he sent out of the kindness of his heart, because I needed news, which is so right.

My daughter was so kind as to take me to the Testimonial Banquet for Dr. Hauck and Mrs. Hauck in Lewiston, on Nov. 1st. There was a large crowd which was most enthusiastic. Our classmate, "Tom," Thomas G. Mangan, was toastmaster, and made a fine one.

I was very sorry to receive a letter from Mrs. Clarence Emery, telling of the death of her husband after a long illness on Sept. 18 in Arlington, Mass. Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Muriel Sawtelle of Detroit, Mich.

I have been hustling all day, trying to get ready to go to Homecoming tomorrow. I trust I may see some classmates there, and maybe gather a little news. Please don't forget to write me soon.

1918 Mr. Weston S. Evans
8 Kell St., Orono

Four members of our 40th Reunion Fund Raising Committee, Carl Brugge, Wes Evans, Ray Atherton, and Davy Crockett, along with Walt Creamer, class secretary, Francis Head, and Don Perry met on November 9, Homecoming Day, to discuss plans for raising funds. It was unanimously agreed "That the 1918, 40th Reunion Fund Raising Campaign be combined with the Arthur A. Hauck Fund Campaign for the purpose of contributing to the Arthur A. Hauck Fund; or more specifically for the purpose of contributing a specific facility in the Auditorium Building to be named for the Class of 1918."

Francis Head was added to the Fund Raising Committee.

We have made a good start but only that. Opportunity is now. Let's go.

1919 Miss F. Louise Pratt
37 So. Main St., Hanover, N. H.

A surprise letter from Kathryn (Hitchings) Lunny was inspired by our '19 news. "Kitty" lives in Ocean City, N. J., and, as always, is a very busy person. Being but 10 miles from Atlantic City there seems to be only two seasons there. Summer when the natives go all out to keep visitors housed and happy, then—The rest of the year when church work, clubs, and political functions (Kitty's husband is one of the City Commissioners) keep one equally busy. "Kitty" has two sons, one in Chester, Pa. and the other in Springfield, Mass. There are also four grandsons, ages ranging from 10 yrs. to 2 yrs. Thanks "Kitty" for the news of Lena (Page) Spaulding '20, I know how very much you enjoyed seeing her. I seem to have a vague idea of news that she went to Europe this past summer. Leona Gilman '20 also spent an evening with "Kitty" while her husband was in Atlantic City for a meeting.

IS THIS TO BE THE END OF OUR ACTIVE COLUMN IN THE "ALUMNUS"?

Letters have been sent to all active members of the Class, so now if you read the column and enjoy our news get busy and do our part. I shall be looking for your letters.

1920 Miss M. Eleanor Jackson
202 Samuel Appleton Building
110 Milk St., Boston 9, Mass.

As reported by the Newton, Conn. Weekly Independent, the P.T.A. on Oct. 1 held a meeting to discuss, "Need for a Junior High School in a Growing Town." So far as we're concerned, we're interested in two paragraphs. "The final subject on the agenda will be the educational aspects of the proposed new school. This discourse will be given by Mr. Carl LeGrow. As executive head of the board of education, with a background of wide experience as a teaching principal and principal-administrator of a combined grammar-high school, Mr. LeGrow can add realism to the picture of the new school. He received his B.S. degree from the University of Maine and was awarded a master's degree in administration and supervision from Columbia University. He entered the Newton educational scene in the fall of 1929 and was appointed superintendent of schools during the summer of 1950."

Connie Barker wrote that she had "been waiting for an inspired moment" for the past two years. "I'm teaching in a boys' high school, Haaren High School on 10th Avenue in New York. It's fun even if some Friday nights I'd sell my job for a nickel. All types of boys, all colors, and nationalities, no worse or no better than any group of about 2,000 that one finds in a high school anywhere. Then on Sunday I turn organist and choir master in an up-town church just to keep myself out of mischief. I belong to the Maine Women's Club, a member of the program committee. We welcome Maine women who come to New York as members. U. of M members are Leona (Page) Spaulding, Sarah Thompson '29, and a Miss Woodbury. I'm on the executive committee of the Middle States and Maryland Council for UN Social Studies. So much for the professional side. Of course we see plays and operas but my principal amusement is travel. If I had time and money I'd live on shipboard. I have seen most of the world along the water line, all the continents. I've crossed the Equator three times (by ship) and sailed all the oceans except the Antarctic. Maybe I'll get there yet. Summer of 1956, I decided to see our inland waterways. I strongly recommend two weeks by boat on the Great Lakes and a stop over at Mackinac to anyone who hasn't done it. This year I went for a real boat ride. I left New York July 5, Stopped in New Orleans for a "look see," sailed from there July 11, down the Mississippi to the gulf and Caribbean to St. Thomas. Then to Rio de Janeiro, Santos, Sao Paulo, Petropolis, Montevideo, and 10 days at Buenos Aires. We were only supposed to have 3 days but there was a strike and the ship had to be unloaded, so we got an extra week at their expense. Most of us had Asiatic Flu in varying degrees. Spent last Christmas vacation at St. Pete and seeing the West Coast of Florida. I attended the N. Y. Alumni dinner last spring and met President and Mrs. Hauck for the first time. It was a very happy occasion. I think it is too bad he is leaving Maine."

The University of Maine Pulp and Paper Foundation held its annual Scholarship Dinner at the University in November. Seated at the head table were, left to right: Howard A. Keyo, director of publicity; A. Guy Durgin '08, traveling representative; Prof. Lyle C. Jenness '25A, head, department of chemical engineering; J. Larcom Ober '13, president, Pulp and Paper Foundation; Prof. Weston S. Evans '18, acting dean, College of Technology; Philip S. Bolton '13, Robert Gair Division, Continental Can Co., Inc., and director of Pulp and Paper Foundation; Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, University president; Prof. Harry D. Watson '20, head, Department of Mechanical Engineering; Prof. Clarence E. Bennett, head of Department of Physics; Prof. Gregory Baker '24, acting head, Department of Forestry.

It is a pleasure to report from Linwood Chase rather than about him. He writes, "I'm having a wonderful time this year for I am doing what I most like to do, teaching. After thirteen years of administrative work at Boston University, the last four as Dean of the School of Education, I resigned that I might spend the last five years before retirement as a member of the faculty. Classes seem to come around terribly fast, but other things do not the way they used to do. My son, Bob, has been in the foreign service of the State Department for six years, first at The Hague and then in Montreal. He has now been sent to school for two years at American University in Beirut, Lebanon, to study Arabic. The family (wife and four children) live in a modern elevator apartment house overlooking the blue Mediterranean. Every letter from him says 'you must visit us.' That will have to wait. Hazel and I did extensive traveling in Europe in 1951, 1952, and 1954. We are now planning a half-year sabbatical of traveling in 1959-60. I'm now rushing away to make a convention speaking date. I am doing nine in a four week period."

True to form, Witey Wight of Littleton, N. H., gives us a laugh; "I'm still around listening to my arteries harden and that's about the story with me. While the scientists have been working on atoms and satellites I have made an important discovery that the world is expanding quite rapidly. The distance I walk from my office to the post office gets longer and longer each year and there is now a considerable rise in the surface of the earth between the two places that I hadn't noticed until a couple of years ago. In consequence I have taken up cribbage.

My youngest son, Steve, plays football for B. U."

Rog Woodman of Weston, Mass., writes, "I am afraid the life of the Woodmans isn't particularly newsworthy unless the daughter, Nancy, is taken into consideration. Since graduating from Radcliff in '49 she has become a buyer at Jordan's and is a very much travelled young lady. Two trips to Europe plus vacations in the Rockies, the Caribbean, the Laurentians, and this summer, just for a change, she flew to Hawaii. As I am leaving in the morning for my annual week of bird shooting, I figured I should reply to your note, as I sure would forget it later."

A year ago we reported Verne Beverly's retirement from county agent for Aroostook. Bev writes, "I went to work for the Eastern States Farmers Exchange of West Springfield, Mass., right off for about six weeks. Following a three months vacation, most of which was spent in Florida, we returned to the County so that I could go back to work the first of April. I am serving as crops fieldman for the Eastern States. I work the three fall months and the three spring months. We spend our summer at Shin Pond (Maine) where we have a camp. Tomorrow I leave for Boston where I am to serve as chairman of the 'Old Timers' at the annual meeting of the National County Agents Ass'n at the Sheraton Plaza. We plan to spend about three months in Florida this winter; we don't know where but it won't be traveling the way we did most of last winter. You know, I believe, that I was honored by the University last June with the title of County Agent Emeritus."

RFD 1, Carmel

By the time you read this Homecoming and State Series will be things of the past. We will all be wandering around with Christmas Lists in our hands and don't forget the greeting cards.

A tip of the hat and a curtesy to Rena (Campbell) Bowles on her appointment to the Univ. Board of Trustees. She is certainly well acquainted with the many problems of higher education. I think there are some details of her world cruise which should prove interesting.

Although Arthur "Swede" Mulvaney was on the 1922 class list we considered him one of ours and learned with regret of his recent death. As Harold Wood said recently three members of the class vied for the record of forced haircuts in the fall of 1917, Swede, Woodie, and Ed Bowley.

Woodie reported that Leta (Spaulding) Wood is not very well but he is hopeful that things will be better come spring. I think we will soon be having interesting news of their daughter, Mary Lee.

Thanks to Minnie (Norrell) Libby '22 for news of Dot (Hart) Cook. In June Dot got together with Julia (Gilpatrick) Manchester in Northwest Harbor. Dot was on a trip to the Maritime provinces via the "Bluenose." On the way home she spent a few days with Effie (Weatherbee) Peters in Dover. Dot reports that she finds the academic life tough this fall with all outside activities much curtailed. I think that all of us find life a little hectic, whether we are retired, housewives, or professional men or women.

A grand letter from Roger Castle. He and Ginnie came on to the N. H. game and "reunited" at the Rockingham in Portsmouth with Amy and Harold (Hep) Pratt and Cora and Harold (Hunker) Sawyer. At the game they also ran into "Mike" Foley and "Candy" Swift. On the way home they stopped to see Ginnie's niece, Connie (Averill) Hicks '57 and her new baby in Needham, Mass. Connie is the daughter of Frank Averill, '22.

So, A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

1922 Mrs. Albert E. Libby
(Minnie Norell)
55 Bayview Ave., So. Portland

Greetings and the Season's Best to you all! And please start the New Year right by sending me some news.

Our claims to youth are sadly dwindling as only three are represented in the Maine freshman class this year. Denrick L. Crespi is Mabel Small's son. Mabel (Thompson) Waterman's niece, Margaret Thompson, is there. Noticed in the Press Herald that Richard Jordan's parents, Fred and Avis (Strout '23) attended the weekend activities on campus for parents of freshmen.

I am sorry to report that Carl Stevens suffered a heart attack in October. He was hospitalized about four weeks and is recovering satisfactorily. As usual, this was wholly unexpected as he and Bee (Cleaves '23) took a three week trip to New Orleans and other southern spots during the summer vacation. He expects to return to his teaching position at Portland High in due time. At present Carl is treasurer of The Teachers Credit Union.

Frances Nason is no exception to the pastime of teachers—traveling. The summer of '56 she visited eight European countries and last summer went to Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, Denver, and other places. I heartily approve of the diversion—especially since my own soul satisfying trip thru the White Mountains and Vermont in October. The beauty of that scenery is inspirational with the fall foliage at its height.

Does someone have the address of any of these classmates? Ruth Hall, Anna (Cobb) Granger, Sydney A. Maddocks, Warren S. Rock.

1923 Mrs. Norman E. Torrey
(Toni Gould)
9 Poplar St., Bangor

Robert Ingersoll and his wife were both teachers in Maine schools before going to Flagstaff, Ariz., to seek climatic conditions which would be beneficial to his health. At the crossroads in that vast country, Bob immediately turned his efforts to being of service to others. Besides imparting information at the Flagstaff Museum, which is the only one that can evacuate any Indian ruins in the Apache National Forest, Bob is American Legion service officer and home service secretary of the local Red Cross. He was recently cited for his outstanding work as benefactor of the needy. Their two sons and six grandsons also live in Arizona.

And speaking of teachers, Beatrice (Cleaves) Stevens is substituting again this year in Portland. It was so good to see her and husband Carl '22, and to hear about their trip to New Orleans this past summer as well as to get caught up on their dozen grandchildren. Bea said that she saw Carlton Martin in the role of teller at the Casco branch bank in Woodsford since his retirement.

Still another classmate dedicated to improving the minds of the younger generation is John Shaw who is located at the Old Orchard Beach High School with a home address of R.F.D. 1, So. Windham.

George V. Blanchard, a practicing attorney in Presque Isle, was elected to the Executive Committee of the Maine Bar Association last August at the Annual Convention. He resides at 53 Barton Street.

Dear Classmates:

The Alumni Office has sent an item about Dale Patchell who is pictured in a current advertisement of the fine job opportunities at Pratt and Whitney, West Hartford, Conn. Dale lives at 114 Randall Ave., Elmwood 10, Conn.

I hope to see many of you at Homecoming November 9, but in as much as we have a Trustee's meeting that morning, it will have to be at the luncheon or the big game.

1925 Mrs. Merrill Henderson
(Anne Thurston)
Quechee, Vt.

Thanks to a hurried S.O.S. to Frank Hussey and his response, our column is still alive.

Senator Earle Hillman has done an outstanding job in the State Senate this past year. Earle and his son are both active in the dairy business in Penobscot County.

Dr. Eugene Griffiths has a wide medical practice in Presque Isle, and has a son, David, who is a member of the senior class at the University. The Griffiths have two other children, Stephen and Jean.

Frank, as usual, is knee-deep in activities. He is executive vice president of the Maine Potato Council and also serves as chairman of the National Potato Research and Marketing Advisory Committee. He has been working with several state educational groups as a layman, and is president of the northeast district of the State Y.M.C.A. Last year he was the recipient of the "Distinguished Service to Youth Award" from the Y.M.C.A. Congratulations! Many thanks, Frank, for your cooperation.

1926 Mrs. Trygve Heistad
(Shirley Roberts)
11 Third Ave., Augusta

Calling all '26ers to send in news in your Christmas mail to me. Tryg and I were on campus for Homecoming and I didn't spot any classmates so no news from that weekend either.

May you all have very happy holidays and receive pens for gifts that remind you to write me the latest.

1927 Mrs. Edgar Bogan
(Sally Palmer)
32 Myrtle St., Orono

I assume we, of 1927, are a modest group. It can't be that we never do anything worth writing about. I would like to read about you, your classmates would like to read about you, and I hope you would enjoy reading about them. I am the middleman. Of course I could arrange to spend a week with each one of you.

Helen Lengyel sent her best to the class reunion attendants, but I am sure would extend them to you all. She is now living at 2274 Peach Dr., Jacksonville, Florida. Nice to hear from you, Helen. We missed you at Reunion.

How would you like some fine instant Maine mashed potatoes? It can happen any time now and the building for processing will be erected in Island Falls by Dr. Clyde L. Swett, who will lease it to the Maine Potato Processing Co. The money is nearly raised and the goal is in sight.

I extend our deepest sympathy to Margaret (Boothby) Freeman of Kennebunk. Her husband, Elliott Freeman, died in June of this year. Their daughter is a senior at the University. She is very much like Margaret and I have enjoyed becoming acquainted with her during her college course.

Saw Tommy Dickson and Sid Maxwell at a recent football game. Perhaps by the Bowdoin game a few more of you will show up.

1928 Mrs. William B. Ledger
(Emma Thompson)

75 Woodmont St., Portland 4

'28'ers must have been very proud to see that our own Fred Thompson was chosen to speak for the Parents at Freshman Parent's Day at the University this year. Daughter Meg (Margaret O.) is a real credit to Fred and Jeanette. She was elected to represent East Chadbourne on Women's Student Government.

George and Thelma (Perkins) Dudley are back at Cape Elizabeth. Their new address is 5 Hillcrest Drive. Daughter Carol married Joseph Trivigno, a music supervisor in Hingham, Mass., in August of 1956. I sure am prompt with my news! Ann is still with the Blue Cross.

John W. True became town manager of Mexico, Maine, in October. He had previously been town manager in Hampton, N. H., Old Orchard and New Gloucester, Me. Welcome home, John.

Dr. Lawrence M. Cutler recently attended a Tri-State meeting in Laconia, N. H., to discuss what citizens can do to help their schools. He was invited to represent Maine. Another busy person who can find time for worthwhile things.

1929 Miss Barbara Johnson
32 Orland St., Portland

Thor Miller is a physician and gives his address as 752 Main St., Westbrook.

Bob D. Parks lives at Revolutionary Rd., Concord, Mass., and is a restaurant operator in West Concord.

At the Homecoming Luncheon on campus, November 9, our own Myrtle (Walker) Dow received the "Black Bear Award" for her husband, Dr. George '27, as he had to be in the southwest on University business. What a wonderful honor for the Dows.

1930 Mrs. Ernest J. Pero
(Jeanette Roney)

11 West End Ave., Westboro, Mass.

Today is a welcome rainy Sunday (we need the rain so badly) but when you read this column you will be in the midst of the Christmas rush. I hope you will find time to write me a line on a Christmas card.

Since I last wrote, we have seen Maine beat New Hampshire and attended a meeting of the Central Mass. Alumni. Although I didn't see any classmates, it was nice to be with Maine people and see some of the people who were in school with us.

Dr. William D. Roche, who has treated the Marlboro (Mass.) football team since 1937, recently issued a statement regarding the many schoolboy injuries. He claims that increased injuries are because of a "more virile type of open field play, more participation in active sports, and the failure of safeguards to keep up with the changing conditions in sports. There are about three times the number of boys playing football than there were 20 years ago and more injuries are being reported." He does not agree that boys are weaker than they were two generations ago.

Don Caverly, nationally known lighting authority and engineer formerly with Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., has been appointed director of engineering and development of Harvey Hubbell, Inc., manufacturers of wiring devices in Bridgeport, Conn. For the past ten years Don, his wife, and three children have lived in Darien, Conn.

Thelma (Shea) Lapworth is coaching another successful girls' field hockey team at Hopedale (Mass.) high school. I don't know how many years she's coached the team, but believe it might be something of a record.

Among the sons and daughters of '61 at the University, we can claim Betsy Lathrop, daughter of Russ; William Cook, son of Peg Warren, Elizabeth Croxford, daughter of Horace, and Richard Traube, son of Sylvia Gould.

Henty A. Plummer has been promoted to become associate professor of forestry. Our members on the faculty at Maine are surely moving to the top and deserve our congratulations

1931 Mrs. Sam Sezak
(Ethel Thomas)
4 Gilbert St., Orono

Many sons and daughters of '31ers are in the entering class at the University. Among them are the following: Jane H. Goode (Donald), Judith Bates (William L.), Margaret Stiles (Willis L. and Mary Carter), Stephen Files (Morton C.), Allan Billings (Stacy), Norman Twitchell (Kenneth), and Susan D. Lamb (Norton H.).

Don Huston lives at R F D. 1, Dover, N. H. The Hustons have four children, the last two are twins. Sorry, I don't have the ages

Mary (McLoon) Rand lives at 7 Melville St., Augusta. Also living in Augusta is Patty (Barton) Painter who is serving on the staff of the hospital there. Patty's son is attending Colby College.

Stetson Smith is executive secretary of Maine Farm Bureau Association with headquarters at 335 Water St., Augusta.

Hazel (Parkhurst) Sawyer is teaching at Pennell Institute. Her son Peter graduated from that school and her daughter Berta is studying at Gorham State Teachers' College. Her son Richard is a junior at Pennell.

Dave Barker's address is Box 113, Gray, Maine. His daughter Jane was a member of the graduating class in June at Maine and was winner of the Portland Alumnae Memorial Watch given to the woman student who has done the most for the University during her college career.

1932 Miss Angela Mimutti
7 Catell St., Apt. 5, Bangor

At least two '32'ers attended the Maine-Bates football game. Molly (Rubin) Stern reports that she met the Hugh Mortons there. What an interesting game this must have been for this family—a son is at the University of Maine and a daughter attends Bates, which is Mrs. Morton's alma mater!

Thomas H. Baldwin, 63 Canterbury Turnpike, Norwich, Conn., who has been on the staff of Norwich Free Academy since 1934, has recently been appointed treasurer of the N. F. A. Corporation. Tom has taught in various departments, instructing primarily in history and radio. He is at present faculty sponsor for the N. F. A. HAM radio station, WIHLO.

Colonel Wheeler G. Merriam recently was assigned as chief of training, doctrine and organization, in the Armoured Section, Headquarters, U. S. Continental Army Command, Fort Monroe, Va. Col. Merriam, a veteran of 21 years service, was last stationed at Fort Hood, Tex.

Seth Jackson of Orono, town manager of Orono for 10 years, resigned from that position in September and has been recently appointed acting Orono postmaster. The Jacksons, who live on Forest Avenue, have four sons.

When the Maine School Superintendents Association held its 46th annual conference at the University of Maine during the summer, J. Weldon Russell of Lewiston was elected president.

The August 1957 issue of the Down East Magazine contains an article entitled "CARLOS SALZEDO" by Peg (Hamel) Shea who writes under the name of Margaret Hamel.

Now for some items on relatives of '32-ers who have made the news:

Sara Pearson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John J. Pearson, Old Town, has entered Regis College in Weston, Mass., as a freshman.

Mrs. John H. Huddilston of Orono, mother of our own "Pat" Huddilston, has been honored by the Maine Tuberculosis Association. The Roselle W. Huddilston Medal, named in her honor, will be presented annually for "distinguished service and outstanding contributions in the field of health to people of Maine." Mrs. Huddilston has been so honored because of her long and useful service in tuberculosis control work and her efforts in behalf of improved health programs throughout the State during the past 35 years which have been a source of inspiration to many. She was present on October 21st at the Bangor House luncheon meeting of the Maine Tuberculosis Association when the award was made for the first time to Phillips Merrill Payson of Portland.

Philip J. Brockway, spouse of Muriel (Freeman) Brockway, placement director at the University of Maine, was elected president of the College Placement Council during the organization's annual convention at Columbus, Ohio, this summer. During the past year, Phil has served as president of the Eastern College Personnel Officers Association, one of the eight regional groups the Council represents.

The State Home Economics College Club, when it met at the University of Maine in October, elected Alola Giffin, daughter of Commander and Mrs. Alvin (Viola Purinton) Giffin of Boston, its president. The club, which is affiliated with the National American Home Economics Association, has representatives from the three colleges in the State of Maine that have Home Economics Departments.

News is fairly plentiful this month so I will not be able to include items on those who attended our reunion this summer. More will be covered in the next column. Here are messages from two who could not be present, that arrived too late to be read at our reunion dinner: From Twickenham, England on June 7, 1957, came a cablegram from Priscilla Noddin saying "Hello from London." On June 6, 1957, Walter Riley wrote Hugh Morton as follows: "As you know, I have looked forward all year to seeing you and the gang at Orono for our 25th reunion. However, it is now quite certain that I will not be able to be with you. Please extend my very best wishes to '32. I trust you will find everyone prosperous, well and happy. Have a wonderful time." The address on Walter's letter was: Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corporation, 260 Madison Ave., New York 16, N. Y. Thanks, Pris and Walt, for your messages; we're sorry you weren't able to be with us and hope you can be on hand for our 30th.

Have a wonderful Christmas, and don't forget to send me news of yourselves and families.

1933 Mrs. Winthrop C. Libby
(Betty Tryon)

Don't forget our reunion in June. Remember it's our "date for '58."

Did you in the Providence area see the excellent article in the Sept. 25th Providence Evening Bulletin about Gilbert E. Robertshaw, the son of our classmate Gilbert T.? Gil, the younger, has been captain of the Brown University football team this season and the paper states "The Bear grid ace is sparked by courage and desire." He is aged 22, stands 6-2, weighs a solid 230 pounds, and has won for himself an enviable record in football. The Robertshaws live in Slaterville, R. I., Box 407—Providence Pike.

Marian Carter became Mrs. J. Fred Nash on June 8, 1957. She is presently the president of the Auburn-Lewiston U. of M. Alumnae Assn. Her address is 98 Summer Street in Auburn.

Richard H. Miller, for the last 12 years lumber management assistant on the Miss. National Forests, has been promoted and transferred to the division of timber management in the regional office, U. S. Forest Service, Atlanta, Georgia. He will head up the timber stand improvement, planting and nursery work on the national forests. Dick has had experience on the Cherokee, Ouachita, Ozark, and Mississippi National Forests.

Fifteen sons and daughters of the illustrious Class of '33 enrolled in the U. of M. last September. I thought you might like a little news of their mothers and dads.

Mark Clapp has a son John enrolled. Mark owns and operates a garage in Bluehill. The Clapps have four other children, Peter, Ruth, Joan, and Patricia.

Robert L. Clifford, 29 Crescent Rd., Winchester, Mass., is Lt. Col. in the U.S.A.F. The Cliffords have five children including Henry who enrolled in the freshman class. There are also Donald who enrolled last year, Jon, Peter, and Ann.

The Clayton Curries of 11 Lincoln St., Houlton, have two daughters, Carol Mae and Norma, who is the freshman. Clayton is sales manager at the Dunn Furniture Co. at Houlton.

William C. Farquhar of 25 Lincoln St., Millinocket, is connected with the mill there. The Farquhars have a daughter Roxanne, in the class of '61.

Charles B. Fobes has a daughter Nancy enrolled. He lists his occupation as meteorologist and gives his address as 117 Massachusetts Ave., Portland.

Edward G. Haggitt has a son Edward G. who has come up from N. J. The Haggitts live at 311 South Blvd. in Spring Lake where Ed, Sr. is a patent attorney. There is also a daughter, Mary Ann, in the family.

I met Ann Jackson at the Freshman Reception and was pleased to find that this attractive girl is the daughter of Alpheus '33. The Jacksons are farming in So. Paris. Besides Ann there are six other children, Roger, Alpheus, Phillip, Sue Ellen, Caldwell, and Henry.

Eleanor Linskey is the daughter of William Linskey who after college returned to his home town of So. Portland to make his home. He is employed by the Post Office there and gives his street address as 54 Broadway. The Linskeys have four other children, Mrs. Marilyn Clark, Wayne, Laurel, and Robert.

John '34 and Adele (Allen) Longley have a son, John C., here. I think they also have a married daughter, Mrs. P. D. French, living on campus. The Longleys live at 110 Dauntless Lane, Hartford, Conn. John is production superintendent for General Baking Co.

Appointment

Milton F. Kent '30 has been appointed manager of apparatus product sales for General Electric Company's User Industries Sales Department. His office is in New York City. He was formerly manager of product sales for the company's New York District.

Mr. Kent joined the General Electric Company following his graduation from Maine. From 1936 to 1939 he served as an engineer on waterwheel generator design engineering and installation, then was appointed a design engineer for turbine generators. In 1948 he was appointed a central station engineer and, in 1950, he was assigned as application engineer in the company's New York office. He became manager of product sales for the New York District in 1955.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent and their two daughters reside at 76 Orchard Drive in Greenwich, Conn.

Harvey C. McGuire has a freshman son, Harvey P. The McGuires have two other children and reside at 55 Granite Street in Mexico, where Harvey C. is the Supt. of Schools, Maine School Union 24. Christopher T. Pickering is the son of Carl Pickering who, as I reported recently, is adult education supervisor at Greenwich, Conn. The Pickerings and three other children, Emery, Wyvern, and Stephen live on Crystal Lake Rd., Middletown, Conn.

Phillip C. Plummer is farming at So. Paris, on Elm Hill. Besides the freshman, Gard T., the Plummers have a second son, Robert.

Marcus Russell is with the Great Northern Paper Co. in Millinocket and lives at 46 Elm Street there. The Russells have Marcus, Jr., the freshman, and Shirley, Lauretta, Sally, and Susan.

Edward H. Wilson is a ship fitter with General Dynamics (Electric Boat). The Wilsons live at 436 Plainfield St., Providence, R. I., and have three children including Edward, Jr., who is at Maine.

Philip '32 and Eleanor (West) Yerxa have a son Richard enrolled. The Yerxas have also two daughters, Dorothy and Joan. Phil owns and operates the Yerxa Garden Center in So. Portland where they live. Eleanor is very active in civic and youth groups there.

Merry Christmas Everyone.

1934 Miss Claire S. Sanders
123 1/2 Main St., Orono

Eve'yn (Jalbert) Robinson will be teaching mathematics in the Senior High School of Belmont, Mass., this year. She has taught mathematics at high schools in Fort Kent and Madawaska in Maine and last year taught at the Dolan Junior High School, Stamford, Conn.

At a recent meeting of St. Mary's P.T.A. in Old Town, the Rev. Lionel Desjardins presented a program on remedial reading. Father Desjardins received both his bachelor's and master's degree from Maine and has done extensive research in remedial reading at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C. He studied for the priesthood at Oblate Seminary in Colebrook, N. H. and Natick, Mass. He was ordained to the priesthood at Lowell, Mass. Father Desjardins has taught at the Oblate Seminary at Bar Harbor and is presently at the Oblate Seminary in Bucksport.

Some of our "lost" alumni are: Howard H. Palmer, Alicia (Tracy) Smith, Charlotte (Quimby) Stuart, and John Tompkins. Can anyone supply addresses?

1935 Mrs. Thomas S. McGuire
(Agnes Crowley)
21 Widgeon Way, Greenwich, Conn.

Dear '35ers,

Nearing Christmas and the end of another year already. And still so many of you to be reached by June. I do hope everyone will have sent back the little "catch-up" letter by that time.

Dr. Howard Miliken lives at 105 Second St., Hallowell. Howard is on the staff at the Veterans' Hospital in Togus. He and Ruth have two children, Jean and Tom, and they both are in school.

Howard and Jim Hamilton of Portland were at the Maine-Bowdoin game. I hope they met many of you there. Wish we could have been rooting too.

Joel Marsh is supervisor of "Keep Maine Green" and Maine Tree Farm System, he is also in charge of publicity for the Maine Forest Service. Joel and Betty have four youngsters: Joel—in senior high school; Jean—a freshman; Mary Louise in sixth grade; Rhena in primary school. And all six Marshes are skiing enthusiasts. Joel finds a little time for hunting, fishing, and boating besides community and church activities. The Joel Marsh family live at 77 Sewall St., Augusta.

In Waterville Hospital as laboratory technician is Albert B. English. Albert lives at 5 Hazelwood Ave., Waterville.

Beryl (Warner) Williams, in her note, made me want to pick up a hockey stick again and go! I don't imagine I could run twenty yards without a stroke—any longer, even though my three cherubs, ages, 6, 4, and 1, keep me huffing and puffing all day! Beryl is teaching, not Phyllis Ed—she notes, at Morgan State College in Baltimore. Beryl and her sister, Althea, have been planning their 1960 trip to reunion for some time. Althea '40 is director of a nursery school in Cleveland, Ohio. How nice to hear from you, Beryl. I'll hand your note to Frank Myers and you'll be hearing from him.

I hope Santa is very good to all of you and that 1958 will be better than ever!

1936 Mrs. Edwin P. Webster, Jr.
(Phyllis Hamilton)
258 Norway Rd., Bangor

Eddie and I went to the Bates-Maine game and saw only one of our class members (Probably due to the fact that we sat on the Bates side because we went with friends from there.) Roger and Bea (Cummings '35) Burke were there and are coming up to Bangor to stay with us and go to Homecoming next week end. Roger is in the small loans business in Lewiston. They have two children, Ginny who is ready for Maine next year, and Buzzy. Their address is Sylvan Ave., Lewiston.

Well, we have finally made the "25 years Ago" column in the Bangor Daily News. I quote, "The numerals 1936 painted in proud fresh strokes on the Orono bridge proclaimed to the world that the freshman class was encamped at the U. of M." Then it went on to tell that the freshman boys were forced to serenade the feminine students of the college.

Bill Mongovan, who has been employed by the Eastern Corp. for the past 21 years, has taken a post with the General Paper Corp. of Pittsburgh, Pa., as manager of fine papers and technical advisor. Bill is married to the former Noreen Vickers and they have one boy, 16, William David Mongovan, III (better known as "Skip"). Their address is 790 Killarney Dr., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dana Sidelinger has been named vice chairman of the United Fund of Greater Boston in Cambridge. He is manager of the Cambridge business office of the New England Tel. and Tel. Co. and resides in Holliston, Mass.

1937 Mr. Edwin H. Bates
8 College Heights, Orono

Our news begins this month from a letterhead which says—Sorensen and Company—and is signed by Henry T. Lowell. To quote, "In Feb. of 1950 I was offered a job at Westinghouse in Beaver, Pa., as manager of control sales. My family and I lived there until March of 1955 when I accepted a job as general sales manager for Sorensen in Stamford, Conn. Sorensen, manufacturers of electronic equipment, recently moved to So. Norwalk. To back up for just a moment, I married a Wellesley girl in June of 1942, and have two daughters, 11 and 9. My first job was with Westinghouse Electric Corp. in 1938, spent some time at the New York World's Fair, and then went to the Boston office as sales assistant. In June of 1942 I joined the naval intelligence, then after requesting submarine duty, I spent from Sept. of '43 to July of '45 doing such. In 1945 I returned to Marblehead and Westinghouse as an industrial salesman out of the Boston office. Red, this gives you a thumb nail sketch of what has happened over these many years. I was extremely sorry that I could not get back to Orono for the Reunion.

Class treasurer Dr. Bob Ohler, who is on the staff at The Veterans Administration Hospital at Togus, has recently moved his family to Winthrop.

On November 3 class secretary Dr. Alice Stewart, assoc. prof. in history here at the University, presented the second of a monthly series of lectures in the humanities given by University staff members and visiting lecturers. Alice's topic was "The Development of Canadian Culture."

Star news gatherer for the month is Ruby (Black) Elliott. She reports receiving a nice note from Woody and Pauline (Calvert) Brown of 1180 West St., Pittsfield, Mass. They have two boys, 12 and 7. Woody is a major in the army reserves and is assistant head of power transformer engineering division of G. E. and meets a number of U. of M. grads in his work. Ruby also conducted personal interviews by calling on Ruthie (Kimball) Lord and Trudie (Titcomb) Dawson in the Belmont area. Ruthie is extremely active in garden club, music, and Girl Scout circles. She has two daughters, 15 and 9. Trudie has boys, 16 and 12, who are active Boy Scouts, and Trudie is a garden club fan, too. As for the Elliotts' household, there's news, too. Rod has recently established office space at his new hanger at Beverly so he'll be situated nearer home, formerly being headquartered in N. Y. C. Their daughter, Jeanie, a senior in high school, was one of 30 students to exchange a week's visit with students from Ottawa, Canada.

Thanks, Ruby, for the wonderful letter just brimful of news—please make it a habit. And you other guys and gals follow suite, huh? We have a very congenial mail man—he doesn't care how much mail he has to carry for me—providing it's from '37ers.

1938 Mr. Robert L. Fuller
47 Andrews Ave., Falmouth Foreside

I did visit Rod and Ruby (Black '37) Elliott at their camp in the wilds of Little Sebago this summer. Gad, I wish Rod would provide a good road map and friendly natives. What a walk—lucky to have gotten back alive. Rod was his usual happy, cheerful self—and in quite good shape for a fellow his age. Think I'll have to take him in hand for a few week ends to get him in real top condition.

See by the Bangor Daily that Dr. Richard Gerry is real busy in the Boy Scouts program in the Orono area. In his spare time Dick is Prof. of poultry husbandry at the U. of M. and associated with the Experiment Station.

Happy to report that "Duffy" Dunlap is back home after several weeks in the hospital and is progressing well.

Took the whole darn family to Lewiston to the Bates game, among others, saw the Bob Schoppes, the Fred Becks, Rod Waldron, Maurice Rubin, Leon Levitan, and Ernie Reidman. Not much chance to gossip tho'. Hope to see many more at Homecoming Weekend in Orono.

Sorry that OUR column is falling flat this year. I guess I am being too moral and since I have received no threatening letters or summonses, writs—and actually not much of anything—thank the Lord that Arland Meade is tired of reading about the "usual dozen." In fact let me quote from his letter to me "On the chance that someone outside the usual dozen '38'ers might get mentioned in the notes from the classes, I'll contribute a note about as insignificant as the rest of them printed. As of November I'll be an associate editor of Sickle and Sheaf, the fraternity Quarterly of Alpha Gamma Rho. Not much of a job, no pay of course, and limited largely to being a reporter with extra title for the Alpha Gamma Rho alumni activities in New England. Dr. George Dow '27, director of U. of M.

The Win Hoyts (Class of 1933) of 2717 Nicholson Ave., Hyattsville, Md., are shown in their home on Christmas morning. It's a family gathering that will be happening in many alumni homes on December 25, 1957.

Experiment Station has been filling this position. My bread and butter job remains the same: managing editor of Eastern States Cooperator (circulation 135,000 in nine states) and manager of member information department of Eastern States Farmer's Exchange, 26 Central St., West Springfield, Mass. Although I don't spend much time each month with the Maine Alumnus, I did pull it from the BOTTOM of the pile of papers, etc., on my desk when I returned yesterday from a week's trip of business in Ohio. Altho we had 106 at the Maine dinner this spring when Pres. Hauck spoke to us here in West Springfield, there was only a token of representation from the class of '38. Probably none of us reported which ones I did chat with a cousin-in-law, Betty (Gruginski) Addison, at a family reunion in Leeds, Me., this summer. Arland R. Meade, West Springfield, Mass."

If any of the rest of you have the "guts" to write, (good or bad) I've the "guts" to print it. What's happened to Gowell and his poems, big Hugh Cary, Jim Stanley, and Schoppe to name a few. Get with it someone before I start making up libelous statements. Remember cur June Reunion isn't far away.

1939 Mrs. Hazen W. Danforth, Jr.
(Laura Chute)
188 Wilson St., Brewer

Barbara (Grace) Gerrish moved from Westboro, Mass., to Griddle Rd., East Aurora, N. Y. Winslow, her husband, was transferred by Socony Mobil to the Buffalo Office.

1940 Mrs. Artemus Weatherbee
(Pauline Jellison)
9302 Second Ave., Silver Spring, Md.

Rachel E. Hoyt of 8 Teague St., Caribou, is now teaching at Caribou High School. She has previously been in South Portland.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Your secretary, Polly, visited in the Alumni Office this fall; it was so nice to make her acquaintance and to hear of the busy and interesting life in the capitol.

1941 Mrs. Constance P. Leger
(Connie Philbrook)
Philbrook Farm Inn, Shelburne, N. H.

Not even Homecoming doth stop the Alumnus from going to print but it nearly stopped me—some change from the peaceful country.

The Alumni-Faculty coffee, the Luncheon, a grand game under blue skies, the A. M. W. coffee after the game, and the evening doings were all buzzing with loads of familiar faces around—Bill and Becky (Hill) Talbot, Maddy (Smart) Beardsel, Len and Helen (Wormwood) Pierce, Spencer Leek, Mike Cohen, Walter and Charlene (Perkins) Strang, Hal and Emmy (Hopkins) Jordan, Charlie and Peg Arber, Bob and Ellen Robertson and probably loads of others that my roving eyes didn't find or that I have forgotten to write down.

Capt. Moffat A. C. Gardner has been appointed deputy military historian, headquarters, U. S. Army, Japan, at Camp Zama which is 35 miles southwest of Tokyo.

Dr. Edward Kozicky, director of conservation for Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., has been awarded a citation for his exceptional service in the field of wild life conservation. The citation was presented to him by Fred A. Seaton, Sec'y of the Interior.

From Lexington, Mass., comes news of Elizabeth (Hopkins) Corkum. She is a partner in the Lexington Medical Laboratory where specimen tests are made for doctors in that area. She is a medical technician—studying at Simmons College after she left Maine. She and her nine-year-old Cynthia live at 15 Meriam Street where the laboratory is.

At various times, cards have been sent out to class members inquiring as to their health and well being, but nary an answer in return. Some of you research people might know the reason for that!

1942 Mrs. Gilbert Y. Taverner
(Bette Barker Kilpatrick)
18 Pleasant St., West Springfield, Mass.

The Christmas Season again! Peace on earth has surely not been an available commodity in the 15 years since the Class of 1942 left the ivory towers of the campus, has it? Watching television recently, I saw scenes of American people busy at varying activities on that fateful Sunday afternoon when Pearl Harbor was bombed. I was immediately transported back to the campus and to Colvin Hall. . . .

May I wish to each of you at least a measure of peace, and may we all join in doing everything we possibly can to bring that peace on earth which the Christmas season brings to mind.

Very disquieting news reached me from the Bangor area just a few days ago. Mrs. Homer Woodward (Elene Gleason) died very suddenly October 28 in a Bangor Hospital. I am sure that the class would wish me to express heartfelt sympathy to Woody and to their son, Scott. Woody's address is Newport.

At least one alumna took time out to write a note this past month! Arlene (Rodman) Boyle of 5720 Wells Circle North, Ft. Worth, Texas, said she had procrastinated long enough! (Be happy to have some more of you feel that way. . . .) Arlene and Louis '41 went West in 1952 after Louis got his law degree at Boston University. He is a claims adjuster for Trinity Universal Insurance Co. as manager of the service office in Ft. Worth. Their daughter, Susan 10, is a post bulbar encephalitic, attends a boarding school in Clarks, Louisiana, and is progressing nicely, according to Arlene's letter. Malcolm E. Hardy writes that he has moved from Petersburg, Alaska, to 1011 Orca St., Anchorage, Alaska. Last year he was promoted to forest supervisor of the Chugach National Forest, which is part of the U. S. Forest Service.

An August newsclipping brings the news that Bryant Bean resigned as principal of Wareham, Mass. high school (that's southeastern Mass for those of you who aren't familiar with the area). Report indicates that Bryant was bothered by the dampness of the climate in that locale and planned to go back to central Maine. Perhaps someone can bring us up-to-date next month on his new location. He and Kathleen (Spaulding) have four children "Beanie" received his master's from Harvard in 1951.

Three clippings from the Alumni Office bring news of Howie Cousins' busy life. In July he was appointed Director of Public Relations for the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad. He has been with the B. and A. since 1953. In August he was named a director of Associated Industries of Maine at its 37th annual meeting. And also in August Howie was named Chairman of the Boy Scout Finance Drive in Bangor, where he and Harriet (Daw '45) live. Wonderful to hear of promotions and of participation in community activities, isn't it.

There is a new residence address for the Bill Irvines now—55 Main St., Essex Junction. We reported on Bill's new position in October.

Best wishes for a Joyous Noel and please do include your Class Secretary on your Christmas card list and send along a bit of news about yourself.

Apparently all of you are saving your energy for Christmas. There are only two news items this month—and both of them came to me through the courtesy of the Alumni Office. May I urge all of you to write to me and pass on any news that you have. It is you who make the class column; all I can do is edit what you send me.

Frederick M. Viles is an engineer with the Radio Corporation of America in Waltham, Mass. His address is 49 Leigh St., Framingham, Mass.

In the political field—Robert MacKenzie was recently appointed constable of Berwick. Maine Bob was educated in the Orono schools and a graduate of the University. From 1942-1946 he served in the U. S. Marine Corps. He is an employee of the General Electric Co. in Somersworth, a manufacturer foreman in the Polyphase Dept. The MacKenzies reside on Lyman Street with their two children, Sandra, 10, and Charles, 7.

According to a recent news clipping, Robert Bowley of 201 Ash St., Waltham, Mass., is seeking election to the Waltham City Council from Ward 6. Robert has been active in the Cub Scouts and the Whittemore P.T.A. and is presently employed as manager and sales representative of D. and R. Products Co., Inc. Previously he has been a tool-maker at the Waltham Screw Co., drafting and design at the Waltham Horological Co., and was also the Fuller Brush Man for Ward 6. The Bowleys are the proud parents of six children.

The Portland paper pictured Marion Korda aboard the M. S. Gripsholm preparing to sail for Denmark for a year's study at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Copenhagen. Marion is a member of the Louisville Symphony Orchestra.

Al Ehrenfried, president of Technical Marketing Associates, Inc., participated in President Eisenhower's "Conference on Technical and Distribution Research" in Washington, September 23-25. Al was the principal speaker at a seminar on marketing, subject being, "Building Business from the Market Up."

EDITOR'S NOTE: We really appreciate the '44 column this month for Margaret tells us she wrote it "amid her five angels and the flu."

Bob Ludwig, who was originally a member of our class, very thoughtfully sent along a note this month concerning the promotion of Sherwin Bardsley to agency secretary with the Paul Revere Life Insurance Co. "Deke" has been with the company for the past ten years doing field claim and administrative work. From the letterhead I gather that Bob Ludwig is a special agent for the same company and his address is RFD 1, Kennebunkport. Might as well make the most of this note! Thanks, Bob. Your letter was so welcome!

Carolyn (Chaplin) Bradley has been busy gathering up a few items this month around Bangor. Elaine Hayes was recently elected president of the Past Matrons Assoc. of the Tuscan Chapter OES.

Bob Emerson is treasurer of the PTA of the new elementary school in Orono this fall.

Joan (Shea) Agnew and family live at 152 Parkview Ave. Joan's husband works for the Bangor Police Dept. They have two children, John, 8 and Peggy, 3.

The address of Betty (O'Leary) Beede's new home is 67 Dillingham St., Bangor.

Edith ("Twink" Kimball) Hitchcock and family live at Manners Point, Plymouth, Mass. Bob is a superintendent for Campbells Soups in Boston. They have five children, Candy, 15, Kimball, 13, Jan, 12, Robin, and Melissa. We sort of missed on the ages of the last two. Someone told Carolyn that Candy is a second "Twink."

The alumni Office sent along an item about Elwood Titcomb. He was a Republican candidate for mayor of East Hartford, Conn., this fall. Elwood is treasurer of the Aircraft Trailer Park there. He is married to the former Gwendolyn Crouse of Hartford and they have four children, Muriel, Judy, Cynthia, and Elwood, Jr.

Dr. Eliot Freidson is teaching at New York City

College and is a consultant sociologist at Montefior Hospital. His address is 3183 Rochambeau Ave., Bronx, N. Y.

Joseph Zook, Jr.'s address is 229 So. Kennilworth Ave., Glendale 4, California.

The address of Sheldon Priest is Old Beaver Brook Road, Danbury, Conn. Sheldon is foreman in the El-Oven Factory in Norwalk.

That's all folks. Won't somebody please send me some news this next month?

1946 Mrs. Edward Harris
(Judith Fielder)

R.D. 2, Flyer Rd., Kirkville, N. Y.
Bear with me (Mary Libby Dresser—guest columnist) for one time more and the new Mrs. Harris will be back. Judy and Ted are trying to assemble their household belongings in forty-odd feet of housetrailer. As a voice of experience, that's more of an art than one might think.

The feature of the month comes from the former Lois Ann (Doc) Perry. After a year in Houlton, she went to Brvant-Stratton in Boston taking a course for college grads, then took a job as steno-typist at Howe Press, located at Mass. School for the Blind. This included putting books, publications, and maps into braille with electrically powered machines. She even acted as a guide for upper-grade students to concerts and plays. In 1953 she met and married David E. Creed, a mutual friend of a friend, you know. They now have Lois Lorraine, 3½, and Paul David, 1½. Doc has had her turn at living in a trailer while David manages a poultry farm. Their address: Box 21, Marion, Conn.

Called Betty (Perkins) Stebbins at 17 Danbury Rd., So. Weymouth, Mass., in search of news. Still the same family: Martha in grade 4, Bruce in first, and Emily coming along at 4 yrs. They sound busy tho. Don has been a PTA president for 2 years, Betty teaches Sunday School, and both advise Christian Endeavor.

Joan (Potter) Robart tells me, "Nothing new." Peter is in first grade and Mark in nursery school. Her husband, who is a raw wool salesman, has recently been made a partner of his firm. Address: 76 Old Farm Road, Needham, Mass.

Mary (Marble) Burgess and I have a Thursday rendezvous at the grocery store. She's a busy person with a couples club, cub scouts, and a new office—secretary of No. Shore Alum group. She and Al '45 have 3 cherubs: Peter, 8, Ellen, 6, and Briley, 2½.

Thanks for reading the column. It was fun to hear first hand from you.

EDITOR'S NOTE: It was nice to have Mary as guest editor; her mother is the Class of 1922 reporter.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU ALL! I'd love to hear from you at this time of year with all the family picture Christmas cards and notes about yourself.

Robert H. Patten, associate director of the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund, University of Maine, has been selected to receive the "MR. PROGRESS OF 1957" award of the Norman N. Dow Post (Bangor), Veterans of Foreign Wars. Bob was selected to receive this newly instituted award for his fine work as Bangor's first industrial development director in encouraging the building of the one-half million dollars of commercial and industrial properties in Bangor. Also for the impending development of an equal amount of similar building activity. He helped organize and served as secretary of the Industrial Development Council of Maine. He has been a member of the New England Council, the Industrial Management Club, and the Bangor Toastmasters Club.

A national 4-H fellowship for graduate study has been awarded to Clinton Conant, the first Maine extension agent to receive this honor. Clint was Franklin county 4-H club agent for the Maine Extension Service.

Martin Gerrish received a master's degree from the University of Arizona in May. During the summer, he had the leading role in "Wilderness Road" in Berea, Ky.

Donald Mavor, who received his discharge from the U. S. Army in September, has returned to Maine, where he is studying and teaching. His address is 14 Penobscot St., Orono.

News from our "government" girls in Washington, D. C., finds Pat Twomey residing at 3220 Connecticut Ave., N. W., Apt. 510, Washington 8, and Harva Young planning a February 22 marriage to Walter Sheeler.

In April, Thomas Sullivan was promoted to first lieutenant while serving with the U. S. Army at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Sgt. Alan Bengier was named "Instructor of the Week" for the Army Anti-Aircraft Artillery and Guided Missile School, Fort Bliss, Texas, in July. Al is an instructor in the Guided Missile Department.

After attending summer school at the University of California in Santa Barbara, Muriel Verrill is back at Santa Ynez Valley Union High School for the third year. Mu is quite pleased with the new $75,000 home economics building where she teaches.

Donald Williams was unable to attend our reunion because Uncle Sam sent him on a Caribbean cruise aboard the U.S.S. Preserver during the summer. By this time, he should be sporting "civvies," again. It was nice to hear from you, Don.

I understand that Diane O'Donnell is taking a secretarial course at Husson College, Bangor.

1956 Miss Jean Partridge

Hi there! News time again...

Ed and Sue (Audette) MacGibbon are proud parents of a baby boy, Kendall Scott, born May 2. Congratulations, ma and pa! They are living at 191 Bond St., in Lebanon, N. H.

Robert Martin received a teaching assistantship at Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas, and will complete his graduate study there for a master of science degree in wildlife conservation. His wife, Shirley, will complete work at Kansas for a master of science degree in literature and history.

Michael Nagem is employed as an aerodynamicist for Kaman Aircraft Corp in Bloomfield, Conn (That's quite a title, Mike!) Mike lives at 4 Eastview St., Hartford.

Sally Rand and Barbara Ilvonen are both teaching in Long Island, N. Y.

Living at 1646 High St., Denver 6, Colo., are Jerry and Alta (Kilton) McDonald. Alta is a psychiatric social worker at the Colorado General Hospital.

Best wishes to Kathryn Crawford on her engagement to Ted Foss of Oaklawn, Ill. Katy is a child welfare worker for the State Dept. of Health in Portland. No doubt Katy is very busy preparing for her December wedding.

Congrats and best wishes to Mary Bailey and Matthew Marquardt on their engagement. Mary is teaching at Livermore Falls High School, and "Matt" is employed by General Electric in Lynn, Mass. His address is 42 Pearl St., Nahant.

Leland and Carolyn (Bull) Dahlgren were married in August at the Advent Christian Church in Washburn. Leland is a student at Wentworth Institute in Boston. Carolyn has her hands full with a class of nursery school children in Newtonville, Mass.

Edward and Zinna (Kinney) Inness were married in South Portland in September. She is a graduate of the Maine Medical Center School of Nursing. Edward is associated in business with his father in the Inness Photo Service. The couple is residing in South Portland.

Edward and Grace (Libby) MacKinley were married on October 26 at Bar Harbor and then honeymooned in Bermuda.

Following a wedding trip to the Berkshires and Catskill Mountains of Pennsylvania, Ernest and Nancy (Witham) Huntzinger, Jr., are happily settled into a routine of married living at their apartment at 62 Parker St., Brewer.

Both agree that careers and married life can be successfully combined. They adore their apartment and Mrs. Huntzinger with her interest and ability manages to run her home smoothly while engaged in teaching occupational therapy at the Eastern Maine General Hospital.

Mr. Huntzinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Huntzinger, Sr., of Ashland, Pa., was graduated from Butler Township High School, Fountain Springs, Pa. He attended Pennsylvania State College for two years and will graduate from the Bangor Theological Seminary in June. He has served as student pastor of the Milford Congregational Church for the past year.

When asked how he decided on the ministry as his life work, he replied that it was the environment of a Christian home and his closeness with the church. Two of his hopes for the future is to be located in a pastorate on the West Coast or to enter into Christian social and welfare work in a foreign country.

Hi '57-ers!

Got a letter from Ed DeGrasse, our '57 prexy. Drop him a line, kids, and keep up on the inside scoop—address, 95 Lark St., Rochester, N. Y.

Daisy-June Raymond is teaching 3rd graders in Freehold, N. J. (30 E. Main). Those 18 kids sound real soft, Daisy!

Now here's the life: Jim '54 and Barbie (Berce) Holden are living at 37 B Rolla St., Lieber Heights, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.; Barb is just being a housewife to Jim and Pepper (puppy-class '57), a brownie scout leader, and looking for other "Maine-iacs." So far she's spotted Brad '56 and Pat (Guillette) Claxton. She also tells me that Jan Malcolm and Charlotte Bourret are teaching at Brunswick High (15 High St.).

Richard Gay wrote that he, his wife, Wyona, and twins, Jackie and Patti, are at 801 Fairlawn Ave., Laurel, Md. He's working for the Fed. Govt in Wash., D. C., and sees Dick Jordon and Janet Stone occasionally.

And Lt. George Karnedy and his wife Patty are "Serving their time" with the U. S. Army at 2212 Hoover Ave., Lawton, Okla., and studying harder than he did at Maine. WHAT!

Happy 1st Birthday to Susan Coffin whose mom and dad are Ron '56 and Nancy (Moorehead) Coffin. She's having her party at Kelton St., Brighton, Mass.

Tom Eldridge is in Clearfield, Penn., after spending 2 months learning how to operate a research reactor.

And Dewey Dow, who's with WCSH, Portland, is living with Wally Evans and Dick Thurlow. Wally's with Sears Roebuck and Dick's with Ernst & Ernst, accounting firm.

Got a lot more news, kids, but never enough space. Thanks for sending on the letters. Just let me know where you are and what you're doing and we'll get it in sometime!

Cumberland and Oxford Canal

First conceived in 1791 as a means of opening up trade to and from the rich farm areas and woodlands of Maine from Harrison Village to Portland, the Cumberland and Oxford Canal was not completed until 1830. To help finance its construction the Canal Bank was founded in 1826.

The canal followed the waterway from Harrison down Long Lake, through Brandy Pond, along the twisting Songo River, down Sebago Lake, to the upper falls on the Presumpscot River. It was one of the greatest projects of its time.

Above the falls at Saccarappa the canal cut across fields and marshes to its termination near the foot of Clark Street in Portland, later it ended at Thompson's Point. There were 27 locks in the canal through which the boats were towed at a lockage charge of six cents each.

Cargoes of lumber and farm produce were carried to Portland. Return cargoes were furniture, groceries and other commodities needed by the farm folk along the way. Apples cost three mills per mile per barrel, powder, 5 cents per ton per mile, fuel wood, 2 to 3 cents per mile per cord, passengers paid a half cent per mile.

The boats were flat bottomed, the largest about 30 tons capacity. Two short masts carried a small sail on each which were used on the lakes and part of the river. These masts worked on pins so that they could be lowered when passing under bridges.

The advent of railroads spelled the passing of the canal as a highway for commerce. Today parts of it remain, with some sections dry, though the old tow paths can still be seen grown with grass.
