From New York Life's yearbook of successful insurance career men!

JIM M'CLOSKEY-

found a direct line to larger income in the phone book!

Jim M'Closkey started his career as a New York Life agent "without one prospect and less money—and with an income requirement of $600 per month."

"I picked up the phone book and started calling people at random until I got my first appointment," Jim recalls. He went on to sell almost a half-million dollars of insurance the rest of that year.

Since then, Jim has built his business up to nearly a million dollars in sales a year. Jim is enthusiastic about his future, confident of his ability to increase his income even more. He fully expects to qualify for the Million Dollar Round Table, one of the highest achievements in insurance, by the end of this year.

If you or someone you know would like information about this kind of a career with New York Life, write:

FOR THE UNIVERSITY . . .

The Store Company puts the total gain ($8,000, 5% of the gross sales for 1958-59, or a per capita net of $1.86 from among the 4300 students, staff and faculty who are the customers) back into the University.

This practice is established in the by-laws of the corporation as follows: "... the net earnings of the Company, over and above necessary reserves and expenses, be allocated each year to the Trustees of the University of Maine to be handled by them as restricted funds for the promotion of student recreation, student aid, or such other campus activities as the board of the University Store Company may from time to time designate."

^{*} Each year, the Bookstore sets aside $5,000.00 for expansion and growth to keep pace with a greater University, larger student body, and an expanded community.

An inscription on the tree we picture this month on the cover reads: "THE OLD OAK, QUERCUS RUBRA.. This Red Oak was more than 25 years old when the University was founded in 1865. This Plaque erected by the 4-H Clubs of Maine, June, 1941." The fact that one majestic tree at least remains from the open farm land of the White and Goddard properties raises several pictures to the imagination.

Think with us a moment of the Old Red Oak now surrounded by other trees, by buildings, standing beside a curving campus road, guarding the entrance to the second Oak Hall. Call to mind the many cold winter nights, the blustery and bitter blizzards the old tree has endured since the year 1840. Consider, if you will, that this living giant had some bare branches spread out toward the fire which in the winter of 1936 destroyed Oak Hall, and branches on the other side of it were extended toward Wingate Hall the winter night in 1943 when the tower burned.

Remember the times that you have passed the old oak unmindful of the gigantic root system living and spreading out of sight beneath your feet? Picture in your mind the feet of many students in pursuing generations that have sauntered or hurried past the base of the tree with its swelling girth, its extended trunk and its graceful arms, changing, changing for a hundred and twenty years.

We should remember that Oak Hall was named for Lyndon Oak, trustee of the Maine State College from 1867 to 1889, during twenty-two of the earliest and most uncertain years of the new enterprise. The Old Brick Hall was not named for the tree. Yet, the oak was standing then where it stands today. And, it grew.

This Red Oak adds to the beauty of the Maine Campus as an individual part of the planned and natural landscape. Few campuses anywhere have the casual elegance to compare with our horticultural accomplishment. And nature gave us evergreens to contrast with the giddy fall foliage that in a month will again adorn the oak, the maple and the elm. Do you remember the color of the leaves of the old oak tree? Today they are green, before the change.

Endurance, growth and change mark the history of the University of Maine. They are summarized in the beauty of an ancient living thing that will soon put on the plumage of autumn. This year the growing, changing University you once attended will have new students, new buildings and a new earlier Homecoming for its former students. May everyone of us who can, come by and see the color of our specimen, "The Old Oak, Quercus Rubra..." on October 7-8 this year. While on campus we might note the detail that the plaque, so carefully placed on the trunk in 1941, has been absorbed from one end halfway into the tree's side. The tree lives and grows. Where some bark has fallen, some new has grown. Where the plaque was put the growth is seen.

All that endures—changes, and change endures all!

Let's see what a month will do, possibly changing the weather for this Oct. 7-8 homecoming occasion to something like the most beautiful fall conditions you can remember.

Fall Foliage To Brighten Early Homecoming

ITH THE earliest homecoming ever held scheduled for October 7th and 8th, comes better chances for fair weather, the beauty of the campus in its fall foliage, and what appears to be the largest crowd of recent years coming back to Maine. From all we've heard from alumni, here and there, it seems reasonable to assume that former students from most classes and from all over the country are planning to attend homecoming this year. Many who have never been back are indicating their intention to be on hand in hopes of meeting old friends they haven't seen in years. It is almost a certainty you'll find more of your former classmates and friends on campus than ever before at homecoming

The football game featured will be the traditional Brice-Cowell Trophy battle with Yankee Conference opponent, New Hampshire. After last year's bruising, hard fought seven-to-seven tie, both teams will be going all out to take possession of the old musket (the trophy in honor of Fred Brice, football coach at Maine for twenty years until his retirement, and Bill Cowell—deceased—long time football coach and director of athletics for the University of New Hampshire), for the year until the next meeting of the teams at Durham, N. H.

Being planned is a tremendous program of activities and entertainment, with plenty of surprises being added to such traditional events as the lobster stew luncheon and the special Maine Masque presentation. Some alumni, in view of the early October date, are bringing their golf equipment along with the intentions of making a longer and active week-end out of homecoming this year. (See opposite page for detailed program.)

Robert H. Patten '47, Chairman Elmer J. Orcutt '49 Barkley J. Goodrich '48 Harrison Homans '52 Stephen R. Macpherson '48 Robert C. Covell '44 Herbert A. Leonard '39

BLACK BEAR AWARD NOMINATIONS DUE

THE AWARDING of the eleventh annual Black Bear Award will be one of the highlights of the Faculty-Alumni Homecoming Luncheon preceding the New Hampshire game on October 8.

A Black Bear mounted on a Maine granite base with a sterling silver inscription forms the awards. The bear is cast in bronze from a model exclusively sculptured for the Alumni Association by the noted Providence sculptor, Aristo B. Cianforani. The granite bases have been contributed by Robert McGuire '32 of the Deer Isle Granite Corporation.

The selection of recipients of the award is made by an Association committee from nominations made by alumni. The award is not restricted to alumni. Faculty and administrative members or friends of the University are eligible. Anyone who has received the Alumni Service Emblem is not eligible for the Black Bear Award.

Among the points considered in making the awards are: 1) devotion to the aims of the University; 2) exemplification of the ideals of the University in personal life; 3) length and quality of service to the University or Alumni Association; and 4) standing among alumni.

Those who have received the award in the past are: 1950—President Emeritus Arthur A. Hauck and Alfred B. Lingley '20; 1951—J. Larcom Ober '13, Clifford Patch '11, and Miss Addie M. Weed; 1952—John C. Sealey, Jr. '36 and Stanley Wallace; 1953—Harold L. Bruce '20, Chester A. Jenkins, and A. D. T. Libby '98; 1954—Albert K. Gardner '10, Archer L. Grover '99, and Col. Joseph A. McCusker '17; 1955—Emilie (Kritter) Josselyn '21 and John L. McCobb '25; 1956—Thomas N. Weeks '16, Theodore S. Curtis '23, and Irving Pierce; 1957—Carl Brugge '18, George Dow '27, and Mrs. William Schrumpf '25; 1958—Lewis H. Kriger '16, George A. Potter '20, and Percy F. Crane; 1959—Philip J. Brockway '31, Marion S. Buzzell '14, Frederick S. Youngs '14, and Frank P. Preti '17 (awarded in June at his home in Cape Elizabeth, Maine).

New Testing Service Established

THE ACTING SUPERVISOR of the University
Testing and Service Bureau at Cornell University has been named director of a newly established Testing Service at the University.

President Lloyd H. Elliott announced recently that Dr. Mary S. Zink has been appointed to head the new testing service. In addition, Dr. Zink will serve as associate dean of women.

The University Testing Service will have broad responsibility for administering achievement, ability, and interest examinations for the entire student body, and the results of such testing will be of great value to students in counseling and guidance work. Individual as well as group tests will be used.

A committee has been named by President Elliott to recommend policies regarding the testing service and to guide its development. Members of this committee are Assistant Professor William L. Whiting '37 of the University of Maine in Portland; Dean Winthrop C. Libby '32 of the College of Agriculture; Dean Mark R. Shibles of the College of Education; Professor Mathew McNeary '41A of the College of Technology; Professor Douglas Glanville, of the College of Arts and Sciences; and Dean of Women Edith Wilson, who will serve as chairman.

The testing service will be housed in the University Library in offices formerly occupied by the business manager and the student senate.

Dr. Zink was born in Bridgeport, Conn., prepared for college at Stratford High School (Conn.) and received her B.A. degree from Cornell University. She did her graduate work at Yale and Cornell, receiving her M.A. degree from the former and her Ph.D. degree from the latter.

She served as an executive director of girl scouts in various communities from 1939-52; counselor for women at Quinnipiac College from 1952-54; dean of women at Elon College from 1954-56; house counselor at Duke University from 1956-58; and research assistant and acting supervisor of the University Testing and Service Bureau at Cornell University from 1958-60.

In addition, she has been an associate professor of psychology and education at Elon College in North Carolina, and instructor in the social sciences at Quinnipiac College in New Haven, Conn.

She is a member of several professional societies.

The Portland Alumnae-Alumni invite all former University of Maine students to a buffet supper and a dance after the Portland Maine vs. Massachusetts game on September 17. Supper will be served 6-8:00 p.m., Eastland Hotel, followed by dancing until 12 in the Eastland Ballroom. Tickets for buffet and dance are $3.75. Reserve yours before September 15. Checks to U. of M. Women, Portland Club. Send to Mr. John L. Hewes, 12 Arlington, Portland, or Mrs. Robert W. Libby, 127 Bonny Brook Terrace, So. Portland.

UMP BUILDING CORNERSTONE LAID

The cornerstone for the new multi-purpose building at the University of Maine in Portland was laid on July 14.

Taking part in the cornerstone laying ceremonies were: President Lloyd H. Elliott, Raymond H. Fogler '15, President of the Board of Trustees; Arthur H. Benoit, Portland, a member of the Board of Trustees; and Dr. William Irvine '42, Dean of UMP.

Others who participated include Representative Roland Kellam, Portland, who introduced the bill for the building at the 99th session of the legislature; Philip Wadsworth and Royal Boston of the firm of Wadsworth and Boston, architects for the building; and Paul B. McLellan, head of the construction firm which has erected the structure.

SUMMER ART, CONCERTS, AND LECTURE SERIES WELL RECEIVED AT MAINE

THE SUMMER art, concert and lecture series initiated at the University this summer was a great success. Presented, without charge by the University, the series was a cooperate effort of the Summer Session and the Departments of Art and Music.

The program featured such lecturers and artists as Dr. Max R. Goodson, Dean of the School of Education of Boston University; Dr. Henry Steele Commager, internationally known historian, author, and educator; Joseph and Lillian Fuchs, rated by critics as two of the world's foremost violinists; Dr. Richard M. Dorson, Professor of History and Folklore, Indiana University, nationally recognized authority in the field of folklore; and the Kroll Quartet, prominent in the performance of chamber music for over twenty years, and of whom the New York Times said: "performances that seem fully to reveal Beethoven's thoughts."

At a coffee given by President and Mrs. Lloyd H. Elliott, the camera caught Ex-President Arthur A. Hauck, Dr. Henry Steele Commager and President Lloyd H. Elliott in conversation after Dr. Commager's appearance as a lecturer in the University's summer art, concert and lecture series.

BLACK BEAR AWARD CITATION

This Black Bear Award of the General Alumni Association of the University of Maine is presented on this date to FRANK P. PRETI, an alumnus of the Class of 1917, in appreciation for his many contributions to civic life and for his courageous leadership on behalf of his University.

In his undergraduate days he was well known for his athletic ability, winning recognition for outstanding records in the one-mile and two-mile distances and as a captain and record holder of the cross country team. Serving as a team member and later as a coach of athletics, he has exemplified the sportsmanship of which Maine men are proud.

An outstanding member of his profession, he served effectively for 34 years as a lawyer and judge in the State of Maine and the City of Portland.

A loyal and generous alumnus, he has served frequently and with devotion the ideals set forth for the training of young men and women. For 9 years he served as a trustee of the University of Maine and received from his alma mater an honorary Doctor of Laws Degree in 1959.

For his long and devoted leadership as teacher, coach, professional advocate, naval officer, trustee of the University, and for his splendid work among alumni, this Award is made. FRANK PRETI has faithfully kept the true spirit of the Black Bear Award, and it is hereby given to him at his home.

Local Associations

Alumni Teachers Association

The annual Summer Session University of Maine Alumni Teachers Association Chicken "Cook-Out" was held July 26 on the Alumni Football Field. Miss Nora E. Jackson '43, President, greeted the Association and named the new officers of the group for 1960-61. She announced the annual luncheon, for Oct. 6, in Portland.

The excellent fried chicken with fixins'cake and watermelon was served under supervision of Bill Wells '31, Director, Residence and Dining Halls at the University.

After the meal, singing led by Ermo Scott '31, President of Farmington State Teachers College, and accompaniment by Norm Lambert, was enjoyed by all.

President Lloyd Elliott, Dean Mark Shibles and Frank Myers '35, who is also Associate Director of the Summer Session, were introduced. T. Russell Woolley '41 acted as master of ceremonies.

RIGHTENED BY the prospects of two major changes in the Maine football schedule, University sports fans are looking forward to the opening of college and the fall sports program.

The first big change will be the playing of a regularly scheduled game in Portland. The game will kick off the 1960 schedule and will bring together the Black Bears and the Redmen of Massachusetts.

Game time will be at 1:30 p.m. at the Portland Stadium and it looks as though it will be a re-play of last year's exciting battle which took place at Amherst. In that contest, Maine had a 16-0 lead going into the final period only to go down to a heart-breaking defeat, 21-16. The highlight of the game, at least for Massachusetts fans, was a long Massachusetts pass which bounced off the chest of the intended pass receiver but fell into the hands of another Redman who ran the length of the field for the deciding touchdown.

The second big change in the schedule will find the Black Bears taking on a new Homecoming opponent for the first time in history. That eventful game will be with New Hampshire and the date will be October 8 at Orono. Hopefully gone are the days when cold, driving winds and rainstorms marred the Homecoming games with Bowdoin and Colby. Only once in the past three seasons has a Yankee Conference football game been hit by rain and if things go according to schedule, Maine alumni traveling up from New York and the other New England states should find the Orono campus bathed in the beautiful fall colors they knew as undergraduates.

Football Schedule

The cross-country schedule isn't available at this time, but here's the way the entire varsity football schedule shapes up:

Sept. 17 Massachusetts*

" 24 Rhode Island

Oct. 1 at Vermont

" 8 New Hampshire (Homecoming)

" 15 at Connecticut

" 22 Bates

" 29 Colby

Nov. 5 at Bowdoin

-at Portland.

The fall coaching staff of Hal Westerman (football) and Ed Styrna (cross-country) naturally are reluctant at this point to discuss their team's chances in the Yankee Conference and State Series championship series.

On paper, however, it seems certain that Maine will be among the leaders in both circuits in football and certainly at or near the top of the Yankee Conference and New England pictures in cross-country.

Westerman has 17 lettermen returning in football, including seven who were in the starting lineup on several occasions last fall. The Bears will be battling Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Hampshire for the YC title and Colby and Bowdoin are the other top contenders in the State Series. Connecticut and Colby are the defending title-holders in the two conferences and must be rated as champions until beaten.

Portland Game

First Of Season

In cross-country, there's little doubt that Maine is the team to beat in the YC and NE championship races. The Bears are the defending title-holders in both circuits and should win them again this year.

Harold Hatch, ex-New England high school harrier champion from Castine, will captain the cross-country team while Wayne Champeon of Greenville, Dick Leadbetter of Bangor and Ewen MacKinnon of Westbury, L. I., N. Y., will be tri-captains in football. This will be the first time in Maine history, incidentally, that tri-captains will lead the Bears on the gridiron.

A very enjoyable time was had at the "Little Reunion" on Saturday, Aug. 6, at Kobs Lobster Pound, Searsport. We were sorry that Lucius Barround. rows and Perce Wyman could not be present.
Those present with their wives were Emerson
Lambe, K. MacDonald, and Dick Talbot. Others present were Walter Farnham, Edith (Tate) Brawn, and Ben Williams who brought a friend. Miss Margaret M. Mollison '50, assistant executive di-rector, was also with us. We were again favored with a pleasant day, Bill Alexander seems to be kept busy. He is chairman of the Melrose, Mass., Y.M.C.A. Building Committee which is building a modern new building. He wass hoping to get to our "Little Reunion," but was tied up on his project for the weekend. Bill lives at 20 Russet Lane, Melrose 76, Mass.

Perce Wyman's company seems to be prospering. He received a contract for the construction of a state park at Two Lights, Cape Elizabeth. His company also has a conract for a bridge and another contract, so they will be kept busy this summer. The extension of the Maine Turnpike, which will become Rt. 95, will pass only a short distance from his home at 112 Mavflower Hill Drive, Waterville.

Frank E. Maddocks, 351 Harrison Ave., Greensburg, Pa., had an item in the Western Pa. Alumni Association Newsletter. He wrote, "I'm a little off the beaten track but if any of the faithful should chance to be in Greensburg, we would be very glad to have them call on us.

James P. V. Fagan, 400 Poplar St., Laguna Beach, Calif., is still with us. He has been having trouble with his eyes for over a year and has not been able to take care of his correspondence.

He says his eyes are slowly getting better.

The death of George Carlisle was noted in the Obituary Column of the June Alumnus. All naught niners are deeply saddened by the loss of this good friend. He has done much in past years to make our reunions successful. The memory of his gentle character and his loyalty and devotion to Maine and his class will always remain fresh and warm in our hearts.

Bill Gilbert has made excellent progress in regaining his health this summer and has resumed most of his usual activities. He is now taking an intensive course in Spanish, preparing for a trip to Spain and Portugal. He expects to start in late September and remain abroad six months—more or less.

During a recent short stay in N. Woodstock, N. H., the Knights enjoyed several good visits with the "Giant" Prays. Their daughter, Shirley, and son-in-law, James Keating, operate very successfully the resort motel "Jack O'Lantern" in Woodstock. Frieda and Giant care for many of the miscellaneous details of the establishment. They expect to spend most of the winter in Bermuda where their daughter, Lucie '40 (Mrs. Vernon Fletcher) is located.

Northeast. They expect to return to their home in New Port Richey, Fla., about September 1.

The latest book from the busy pen of Mary Ellen Chase, "The Lovely Ambition," was published early in the summer. It is the engaging chronicle of an English preacher and his family who emigrated to a small town on the coast of Maine and later returned to his native land. Dr. Chase knows England well and, of course, is at her best when writing of the Maine she loves. This knowledge of both lands and the skill with which the story is told, combine to make most absorbing reading.

Well, here we are, starting our 50th year as graduates of the Great University of Maine, which in June of 1961 will find us graduating again from the wonderful Class of 1911 to the Senior Group.

Like Harry Truman's Fluji Bird, we would fly backwards so we can see where we have been, not so anxious to see where we are going. Last June we had eleven 1911 classmates reg-

Last June we had eleven 1911 classmates registered: George Bearce, Arthur Richardson, Forest Kingsbury, Albert Conley, Elmer Tobey, Avery Hammond, Delton Folley, Ernest Walker, Ben Whitney, Clifford Patch, and Irene Cousins. Mrs. Bearce, Mrs. Conley and Mrs. Walker helped us enjoy the get-together. We had a check for $1,425.00 to add to our Scholarship Fund to bring our total to $12,950.00. We have a small balance to start with next year.

George Bearce has been named regional director of the Maine State Chamber of Commerce.

Daniel I. Gould was presented with a recovered rifle Marksmanship trophy at Camp Wellfleet by General Edwin Heyward, Maine's adjutant general. The 85 year old lawyer's name was inscribed on the trophy for his marksmanship back in 1907.

the trophy for his marksmanship back in 1907. Classmate Raymond E. Davis is at it again. On June 28th, the Professor Emeritus of Civil Engineering at the University of California received the Frank E. Richard Award, which is presented not oftener than every three years to a committee member of the Society for the Testing of Materials. It is for notable contribution to the work of the Society in the field of concrete and concrete aggregates.

Received a letter from, guess who—Lawrence E. "Prexy" Drew, our freshman class president. Prexy is coming to our 50th if it is at all possible. He says that he has lived over, many times, the good old days. He married on Christmas Day in 1915, Frances Weatherly Varrell (daughter of Dr. Frank M. Varrell, U. S. N. retired) of Swarthmore, Pa. They had three children, Varrell (Mrs. Charles Lancaster Leedorm); Deborah (Mrs. Bertand F. Jagger) and Larry, Jr. (now married to Marjorie Long). All of them, fortunately, live nearby. Most of his business life has been spent in the field of sales, as salesman or salesmanager. In World War II he was called to Washington to serve as consultant in conservation with the war production board. The termination of the war caused this organization to cease operation and he started a Sales Engineering business engaged in lining large industrial Water Tanks. This effort was in a fair way of becoming prosperous, when his very lovely wife met a most tragic death by fire. This catastrophe brought on a heart attack and it became necessary to retire and take things easy. For the last several years he has been living at 500 North Chester Road, Swarthmore, Pa., by himself in a studio apartment with his T.V. and Radio, doing a little writing and fishing.

The Walkers, after a world cruise of several months duration and the passing of South Africa just in time, came to Commencement in their new Lincoln Continental Mark Five. Ernest will come up again at Homecoming time.

Alfred and Mary Conley came to Commencement in their Lincoln and enjoyed it so much that I doubt they will miss another.

The Nemo Smiths did not make it in their Powder Puff Lincoln, but have promised to come up this fall.

Don Oak and Leo Gerrish come to Boothbay Harbor summers. We hope they plan to come to our 50th Reunion in June 1961. We can promise them a wonderful time.

Send in the news. Classmates will want to know who is doing what and who is coming to the 50th reunion.

The 1912 Class Fund Drive for our 50th Reunion is well launched under the able leadership of class president Arthur L. Deering. Treasurer Frank Lancaster informed me over the telephone the other day that he has already received several donations. Among those writing to Frank was my good friend, Clarence W. Barber. Many will remember that Clarence was formerly with the Farm Home Administration, headquarters at Dover-Foxcroft. During the 1940's Clarence worked with me on several projects connected with the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station. Later, he and his wife moved to Ohio to be with their daughter and son-in-law, the Sewall Millikens. Sewall graduated from the University of Maine in 1939. Soon after arriving in Ohio Clarence landed a lucrative position as auditor and accountant for the Federation of Hospitals, Columbus, Ohio, and has been doing very well, we understand. Clarence resides at 22 W. Cooke Rd., Columbus 14, O.

Probably none of our classmates is busier than our president, Arthur Deering. This summer Arthur is Program Leader of a class of 15 students studying Agricultural Extension methods in a program sponsored by the University of Maine and the International Cooperation Administration. Arthur's students are spending two weeks of a six weeks period on farms in Maine, and the remainder of the time at the University. Part of Arthur's job is to coordinate the thinking of men from such diverse places as India, Liberia, Nigeria, Ghana, Honduras, The Sudan, and Formosa.

At the annual meeting of the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity corporation, Arthur Deering was elected president. Honored at the meeting was Philip Hussey for his long service to the fraternity.

"Phil" Garland has sent the address of a "lost" member. W. Garland Emerson lives at Rd. Box 366, Rockfall, Conn. Many thanks, Phil.

Let's not forget to send in our opinions and suggestions concerning our class gift to the University at our 50th Reunion.

Class Mates:

This Summer has been a very wonderful one and I hope that each of you has had pleasure. Commencement proved to be one of the best and now we have to look forward to HOMECOMING which has been advanced ahead this year to Oct. 8th and Maine will play New Hampshire University, in a Yankee Conference Football game. Bringing the Homecoming game earlier in the season appears to be a very constructive move and should help boost the attendance all around because of the milder weather which should prevail.

The Illustrious Class of 1913 was represented by eight stalwart members at Commencement which was five more than the attendance in 1959. Not too much to be proud of, but an improvement in our way thinking and loyalty. The old adage "Tis Later Than You Think" is now being given some consideration and I hope that each one of you will give at a thought and come back to the University every time the Alumni participate in its events. If you have never attended a "Homecoming," try to make effort this year and let's get together for a round of pleasure, renewing long established friendships, seeing the game, and enjoying the ride to and from Orono when the Fall foliage is at its best. What do you say?—a date. You will hav fun, so don't miss it.

News comes to me that on May 9, 1960 John Littlefield was elected President of the Brewer Savings Bank at the 91st Annual Meeting held at the Bank Offices. Congratulations "Jay" from your Classmates; we know that you have received this honor deservedly and that it has been your devotion to duty that has in a large part helped place the Brewer Savings Bank in the outstanding position it holds today in the territory served. Good luck and prosperity to you and your institution.

A brief notice was received of the death of one of our pals—Carroll Morse Knight, who died Feb. 24, 1960, at Pittsburgh, Pa. "Stub," as he was affectionately called, graduated in civil engineering, and during his college career participated in many of the athletic events, especially basketball on his class team. Up until his retirement he was employed by the Pennsylvania R R. He was a veteran of World War I. Surviving are his wife, Roberta; a son, Joseph, and a brother, Richard. To all of them the Class extends its deepest sympathy. He was a devoted husband and father, and loyal to his University. We will miss him. The June Alumnus also showed the death of

/For some reason or other I did not meet up with "Scout" Hamlin or Percy Jackman. Sorry not to see you boys. I tried to locate you but of no avail. "Jock" Carleton gave me quite a boost by buying a one hundred dollar Savings Bond which has been bought and now placed under lock and key ready to be presented at the 50th Class Reunion. To those of you who have not paid any attention to my pleas, I would like to ask you to give a moment of your time to consider this gift. In the Fall I am sending out another letter and would certainly like to have your name in the list of contributors.

It would be appreciated if some of you good people would drop me a line and let me know about yourselves and family. There are a number of members of the Class who have never been back to a Commencement since graduating, nor have we had any information as to the reason why. At least we all would like to hear of your experiences and what has happened to you in this span of nearly 50 years.

I recently received the following interesting letter from Anna Perkins who, after forty-one years of teaching, has retired and returned to her home in South Penobscot:

Dear "Hi:"

I remember the "dear, old days of long ago" and when I think it has been nearly fifty years, I shudder! I taught Latin, French, etc., in Sullivan, Maine, for my first three years. Then the same subjects, and a hundred other duties at East Maine Conference Seminary in Bucksport for three years. I left Maine for Taunton, Mass., where I taught Latin and headed the department for three and a half years. I nearly forgot a halfyear I spent teaching in Orchard Park, N. Y. After Taunton, I moved on to Passaic, N. J., where for 31 years I left my mark (9) on generations of high school pupils. It was a big school, and I was among a number of Latin teachers. I headed the department the last five years of my stay there. In 1955 I retired and returned to my home in South Penobscot, Maine. I have a nephew living with me here, part of the time. Out of a large family of brothers and sisters, there are three of us left-one brother and sister. Last year a friend and I took a tour to Norway, Sweden, and Denmark. Our tour started in London, and ended We also had a second tour covering Belgium, Germany, Poland, Russia, and Finland. Each tour was of six weeks duration, and we covered both journeys by coach. Come to Blueberry Acres in South Penobscot sometime, and I'll show you some pictures and tell you some of my experiences."

I received, too late for the June Alumnus, a nice letter from Preston "Prep" Martin, who attended our 45th Reunion and is looking forward to our 50th in 1964. "Prep" writes as follows:

"It has been more than a year since I enjoyed meeting you and several other members of our class of yesteryear. Of course, I missed seeing personable old-timers as Haskell, Abbott, Hanson, Norcross, et al., but I was mighty pleased to see you, Hall, and Thomas and all the others in attendance. You have posed some questions for me to answer, but I am hesitant to report my humble contributions to society since 1914. Briefly, I devoted 28 years to the public schools. I was principal at the Massena, N. Y., High School for four years. For 16 years I was supervising principal of the Central School System at Whitesboro. N. Y. For short periods of time I taught school in Maine and Vermont. During an eleven year period, 1944-1955, I was employed by the Maine Public Service Company as a salesman. And, at present I am retired. The Southland beckons Mrs. Martin and me in the winter months. We live in Florida when Maine, and our home in Glassboro, New Jersey, are experiencing the rigors of winter. Our daughter, Jane, and three grandchildren live Chester, Pennsylvania. The world, 'Hi,' much larger than I thought it was when I was graduated in 1914. Kindest regards to you, and

Those of us who returned for our 45th reunion enjoyed renewing acquaintance with classsmates and friends. About 30 returned. I hope more than twice that number will be back for our 50th.

Heard the news that Ava H. Chadbourne is a private patient at the Bangor City Hospital, Main St., Bangor. Early in July she fell and broke her hip, and most recent news from her says: "I'm improving altho' the mending of a hip is slow business. I hope to be able to have my X-rays in less than two weeks to show me if the mending process is going all well. Then I'll have to learn to walk again." Certainly all our best wishes go to her.

For 1915 news we have the following: Dr. Raymond Douglass who resides at 18 Oak Ave., Belmont, Mass., retired from the faculty of M.I.T. this past June. Dr. Douglass received the B.A. degree, 1915, and M.A. 1916 from the University of Maine, and Ph.D. degree, 1931, from M.I.T. After duty with U.S. Navy, W.W. I, Dr. Douglass joined the Institute staff. He has specialized professionally in mathematics.

Associates and friends of Dr. Harold Beverage who have contributed to the University of Maine in his honor have been recognized by a "Who's Who in America" citation for special educational philanthropy. The citation reads in part: "Although the amount is not large we know of no gift more unusual or appropriate than that made by a group temporarily organized as The Associates and Friends of Dr. Harold H. Beverage upon the occasion of the latter's retirement from business as a radio engineer.... Income from the money will be used to establish the Dr. Harold H. Beverage Award, which will go annually to the student who shows the most outstanding ability in the field of communications. Here, commemorating retirement, is no temporary gift, but a truly ever-lasting memorial to a highly successful career."

Dr. Beverage was graduated from the Univ. of Maine 1915 with a B.S. degree in electrical engineering. He was associated with the Radio Corporation of America from the time of his graduation until he retired in 1958. He attained many professional honors.

Mr. & Mrs. Jay H. Frizzell, Wethersfield, Conn., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, June 29, at a party for which seventy-five invitations were issued. Congratulations! Mrs. Frizzell is a graduate of the University of Maine Law School and worked for 28 years with the Colt Patent Fire Arms Company.

I can hardly believe that it is time to begin writing Alumnus columns again. Although it is several months away now, I would like to say that I attended Commencement, and as usual, had a most wonderful time. Among those class members whom I had the pleasure of seeing were Frances Dugan (Mrs. John H. '13) Carleton, Maynard F. Jordan, Thomas G. Mangan, Myron C. Peabody, Josephine Vickery (Mrs. Harvey P. '15) Sleeper, and Thomas N. Weeks. I was very sorry to miss seeing Lewis O. Barrows (I caught a very fleeting glimps of "Lew"), Julius Kritter, and Marlborough Packard (I stood right beside him after the Alumni Banquet and didn't realize it until I was told afterwards). We were very proud that our classmate, Myron C. Peaody, was among those who were awarded the honorary doctor of laws degree. Myron is president of the Farm Credit Banks of Springfield, Mass. At the Alumni Luncheon among the retiring University personnel to whom tribute was paid was Prof. Maynard F. Jordan, Astronomy.

Last May, too late for the June Alumnus, I received a fine letter from George W. McLaughlin, teacher of mathematics at Machias High School. He finds his work in the secondary school very pleasant. During the summer of 1957, he attended the N.S.F. headquarters institute at Teacher's College in New York City; in 1958, he was at Harvard; in '59 and '60, he was again at Teacher's College. He has 4 young attractive daughters; Hope, who is with him in Machias, Faith, Love, and Fern, who are living in Woodland. I was very glad to hear from him and much interested in his fine family. He gave me a little news of his brother, James, who has been for some time among the "Lost" in our class. For many years, he has suffered from an asthmatic condition, which developed when he contracted pneumonia when only three years old. For some time years ago, he was a bookkeeper for Candage Bros., contractors, in Seal Harbor. At present, he is living in Oakland.

I would like to mention that I had a new granddaughter last spring, born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Harmon of Los Angeles, Calif., March 30, at Santa Monica Hospital. She was named Mary Lorraine.

I wish very much that you would write me much and often this coming year. I would appreciate it so much. It would help so much with the column and I will do my best to answer.

Your class had a meeting! And elected some new officers. Wes Evans still presides, and Veeps continue as Carl Brugge and Vera (Gellerson) Robinson

The new ones are yours truly as Secretary and Ray Atherton to handle the cash.

Mark Crockett, ex-treasurer, was not there to tell us how many had sent in the two dollar annual dues which were voted at our fortieth; you can now send yours to Raymon Atherton, 20 N. Main St., Orono. We need it to cover postage to pry news out of you, and for a letter to promote our 45th, coming up in 1963.

Wes and Ray and I, of course, were present, and also Walter Creamer, Carl Brugge, Don Perry, and George Sullivan.

We have a long list of Jost alumni. Can you help us on any of these first ten? Carl E. Adams, Clarence G. Albee, PEK, Nelson D. Atwood, Aubrey E. Ballantyne, Joseph L. Bernier, Fila L. (Mrs. Floyd) Berry, Jesse W. Billings, Miss Marjorie M. Blanchard, Vurle L. Boomer, and William J. Burgoin.

Attention: Wes Evans has called another class meeting for Saturday morning, October 8, in Orono. A class letter will come to you before then giving the specific time and place. Plan now to be with us for this session.

Dear Classmates:

Take a deep breath because there's plenty of class news to read this month. Thanks are extended to all of you who sent in some notes.

Arthur O. Willey received an honorary degree (D.Eng.) at Commencement in June in recognition of his fine work as professor at Case School of Applied Science and (presently) as executive vice president of Lubrizol. This Cleveland firm is a leading research organization devoted to the development and manufacture of lubricant additives. Congratulations, Arthur!

Mrs. Jennie Mae (Sherwood) MacGlinchey was awarded a scholarship to attend the U. of Maine this summer. Jennie is a teacher in the Milford schools. The Maine Tuberculosis and Health Association was the donor. Your purchase of Christmas seals helps to further this health education.

Fred M. Lindahl received an M.B.A. degree in Business Administration from Western New England College in Springfield, Mass, last June. His son Frederick who is in the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs is doing very well and was home for an August vacation.

Theodore F. Hatch has been lecturing to most of the South American countries and visiting their National Industrial Health Services. Ted, I wish you would write up some of your experiences and ideas for the Alumnus. It would be fascinating to get some first hand information about the South American countries specifically and industrial health generally.

Homecoming is earlier this year so I am writing this in August. Our daughter and family are visiting and our three year old granddaughter jumped on my chest this morning at six a.m. waking me from a sound sleep. We tremendously enjoy having the young here, but I find myself wishing there were a harmless anesthetic which would keep them asleep until—let's say—7.30 a.m., a much more Christian hour to face the day's circus.

Hi.—This has been a short summer. I hoped you all enjoyed it and right now are making plans to write your class reporter all the news of yourself and family.

In May of this year, the Penobscot Chemical Fibre Copmany announced the promotion of two of their officials—namely, Virgil MacKenzie '24 and Frank P. Morrison '26. Frank now holds the position of production manager. He joined the company in 1930 after two years as a research chemist for Eastman Kodak Company and one year as resident manager for the Wickyup Country Club in East Sullivan. At the Penobscot Fibre Company he served as research chemist, as night superintendent, as assistant superintendent and as superintendent of the soda mill.

The other day while lunching in a local restaurant, Tryg and I ran across "Ginger" Fraser. We talked briefly of plans to have a preliminary meeting of members of the class of '26. You know we have our 35th reunion in June (yes, it is true!). Therefore as many as possible attend Homecoming, Oct. 8. Be there in time to attend a meeting in the FFA room of the Memorial Union Building. Time 10 a.m., Oct. 8.

Ginger, Mabel and daughter Barbara are all attending Summer Sessions at Maine. They will all three be teaching this Fall—Ginger and Mabel at Leavitt and where Barbara will be located is undecided at this time.

See you Oct. 8, I hope, at our class of 1926 meeting.

Dear Classmates:

It is now July-the first Alumnus is coming out earlier this year—and most of you have just re-ceived the class letter that was sent out after our 30th Reunion in June. From all the known addresses, about 316, only one letter was returned. Phil Cann is no longer in Norfolk, Va. Do any of you know his whereabouts? We'd like to know the control of where he is. As you can see, our lost list is comparatively short, but we still wish we could remove every name and add it to our active list.

Much of the news this month comes from letters written to our class officers regarding Reunion. It was good to hear from so many even though we Judd Files, manager of Mail-N-Post, in Wapping, Conn., sent his regrets because his no. two son was arriving home on that weekend after two years in Germany.

Noddy Mansur stated that he had written me. Sorry that I didn't receive his letter, but it was wonderful to see him at our class banquet. He is very busy in the photography business. June with all its weddings is a very busy month for him.

At our class meeting a fine letter was read from Col. Elmer (Bud) Higgins. The family including Bud, his wife Dorothy Sullivan, Bates '32, and son John Thomas—aged 15—left Ft. Monroe, Va., in Feb., sailed from N.Y. for Istanbul, Turkey, and motored to Ankara where they will live for 2½ years. The Col. is assigned as the Signal Advisor, Joint Staff, US Army Element, Joint US Military Mission for aid to Turkey. He will retire after this tour of duty and return to Maine. The address is-TUSAE, JUSMMAT, A.P.O. 254, New York, N. Y.

Mink Kent, who we had hoped would be at our banquet, wrote that he and Mrs. Kent were leaving Greenwich, Conn., that weekend for the World Power Conference at Madrid and the

C.I.G.R.E. meeting in Paris.
Ralph Perkins of 423 Fox Chapel Road, Pittsburgh 38, Pa., is teaching math at Shady Side Academy.

Poised on our threshold just about to take off for Cape Cod for our vacation, I pause to pound out a bit of news on a typewriter which usually is required to spell out good, sound Methodist sermons! By the time you are reading this, however, vacations for everyone will be well behind, and the business of settling down to another busy year of work, study, PTA, League of Women Voters (the men better get some leagues going this year, too!), etc., etc., etc., will be right at the front and back doors pounding to come in. Have a wonderful year, and don't forget to vote!!!

We were on campus in late July briefly. How that place does change—even every few months, these days. It is really breathtaking—and thrilling —and wonderful—because it means that many more young Americans can be well-educated to lead the world against Communism. Do try to get back to the campus this fall, if you can possibly plan it; and do give your support to the Hauck Fund be-cause that is a very tangible way for you to lend your support to the campus of the future at Orono.

The engagement of Jacqueline Andrews of Bangor to Robert Nason has also been announced. Bob has accepted a position with General Electric and will begin his duties at the Erie, Pa. plant in October.

Priscilla Anderson and myself are teaching in Verona, New Jersey this fall. My address will be in the next issue of the Alumnus along with more news and notes on the Class of 1960.

For those of you who will be able to make it back to Maine for our first Homecoming on Oct. 7th & 8th, have a wonderful time for all of us and don't let the underclassmen outdo you.

UN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA is pleased to announce that the initial response to its Values in Education series has been more than gratifying. Hundreds of thousands of booklets have been distributed on request to all parts of the United States and Canada. These booklets, which are still available, deal with the advisability of remaining in school; existing scholarships and student loan programs; trade and industrial schools; school boards and their functions, and sports tips for teen-agers. Bulk shipments can be made to educators for distribution in schools.

Sun Life is now offering a further series of booklets in its Values in Education series. 'How to Get More Fun out of School' is directed to the young teen-ager. It is hoped that 'The Value of a College Education' and 'Why Study the Humanities?' will encourage young men and women to attend university and help them in their search for their proper vocation. Two booklets have been prepared for adults—'Adult Education Today' and 'Educating Yourself for Retirement.'

Sun Life hopes sincerely that these booklets, and others to be issued in the future, will act as a stimulant on young people and at the same time prove helpful to parents and educators alike in the performance of their duties. Sun Life will be glad to consider any suggestions concerning topics for future booklets.

A NEW CAREER pays off for these men

These men are typical of the men joining our field force each year — enthusiastic men with varied training and business experience — men who make the most of the outstanding opportunities and facilities which Massachusetts Mutual offers.

And they've only started! Ahead are years of interest and challenge, personal satisfaction and earning power well above that of the average businessman. For instance, the 1959 average income of the 548 men with our company five years or more was $14,236, with one in six earning over $20,000. And our 100 top men are now averaging $30,530.

Does your present position offer comparable opportunity? If not, maybe you should investigate the potential of life insurance selling with our company — one of the oldest and strongest in the country.

Amusements

Life was not always dreary and dull in early Portland, though amusements were usually of the home-made variety. Frequent mention is made in Parson Smith's Diary of skating and sleighing parties in the winter, and of fishing, swimming and picnics in the summer. The deep hard-packed snows of winter were enjoyed particularly, with many sleighing parties organized to visit friends in outlying towns.

Household tasks such as spinning, weaving and sewing were usually made the occasion for a friendly gathering by the women of the community. Rev. Samuel Deane describes one such party at his house of more than "an hundred of the fair sex," who prepared and spun "236 seven-knotted skeins of excellent cotton and linen yarns" as a gift for their hostess.

The visit of notables such as the Governor and his retinue, or a judge coming to hold court, was hailed by the settlement as reason for celebration, mostly in the form of long and convival dinners with rich foods, fine wines, and all the diners garbed in their gala costumes and wigs.

Dancing was frowned on as an amusement by many of the straight-laced Portlanders. We find a record of one dancing party in Mr. Smith's book, as follows:

"Theophilus Bradbury and wife, Nathaniel Deering and wife, John Wait and wife, and several others of the most respectable peoplegin town, were indicted for dancing at Joshua Freeman's Tavern in December, 1765. Mr. Bradbury pleaded that the room where they had been dancing was hired by private individuals who were using it as a private apartment. Therefore the room was not to be considered as a public place of resort at the time. His plea was sustained."

Mr. Wells in his History of Portland says: "Theatrical performances are given occasionally by irregular, straggling companies from Boston and other places, but they have not much respectability, nor do they receive much patronage from the better classes of society. There are also occasional amateur performances of select plays, by ladies and gentlemen of the city, who are very respectable both in their character and attendance. There are numerous other amusements of various kinds, such as jugglers, minstrels, and other like exhibitors, which attract particularly the young."
