A new voice for the voiceless

New Bell System electronic larynx restores speech to those who have lost the use of their vocal cords

Helping people to talk again...this is a continuing Bell System project which grew out of Alexander Graham Bell's lifelong interest in persons with hearing and speech handicaps.

Now Bell Telephone Laboratories has developed an improved electronic artificial larynx which is entirely self-contained and battery-operated—designed to serve as a "new voice" for many people who have been affected by surgery or paralysis.

When held against the neck, this ingenious 7-ounce device transmits vibrations into the throat cavity which can then be articulated into words. Speech sounds of good intelligibility and improved naturalness are produced.

Two models are being made by the Western Electric Company, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. One simulates a man's voice, the other a woman's. In keeping with the Bell System's long history of public service, the Bell Telephone Companies are making this device available on a non-profit basis. If you would like further information, just get in touch with your Bell Telephone business office.

This new artificial larynx is another example of how research at Bell Telephone Laboratories serves the public in many ways—in developments used by the world's most modern telephone system—and in inventions which have wide application by outside industries and people in all walks of life.

Held to the throat, the Bell System electronic artificial larynx replaces the vibrations of normal vocal cords to produce speech. Power is turned on and off, and the pitch is varied, by a simple thumb-operated switch.

On our cover this month is what we think to be an unusual view of a somewhat typical scene on our campus just now, showing the new Educational Building in progress. The growth of the physical plant is evident elsewhere on the campus, but through a window in South Stevens Hall there is now a steel structure on the horizon, as one faces East. What it may mean to Dr. John R. Crawford, whose silhouette appears on the right, as he stares at the new horizon, is an interesting speculation.

Doctor Crawford is Professor of Education and Director of the Bureau of Educational Research and Service. In his 30 years of teaching and research for the University of Maine, he has seen many changes occur. For instance, he has seen the area of professional training in education expand from a few classes in the subject, to the establishment of a School of Education, and in February 1958 to a College of Education.

The demand for teachers and administrators in our schools is growing faster than the College can. So rapidly is school population everywhere rising that the small size of a physical plant is first noted when it is already over-crowded. Then, as is the case with this construction at the University, the building has to be built, behind the need, has to catch up as it were, rather than to fill up after it is provided. Wise provision was made by the voters of Maine a year ago to secure necessary bond issuance authority. Good provision by the people should come again, can be made before desperate steps have to be taken—to guarantee that the University's growing population will be met with facilities of sufficient quality and size.

The splendid new addition, its steel structure seen on our cover, will be a corner of a natural quadrangle formed by contemplated extensions of North and South Stevens Hall Wings, with East Annex (not yet permanent building) at the Northeast corner. Here will be the seat of training for future teachers in the crowded classrooms of Maine's and America's schools. Here will be taught History and Mathematics, and English and the other specialties of teachers. No doubt Professor Crawford sees the future as the past, not with alarm, but with hope in his heart.

Beyond the Education Building, as located on a sketch of the future campus, a needed auditorium will be built. Perhaps your eyes can locate it between the Education Building and the trees. Its future requires only the assurance of your gifts, the gifts of alumni, friends and this community of faculty and its youthful men and women. The mountains of goodwill arising from the groups already represented by donors to the Hauck Auditorium fund assure a building so much needed. Two-thirds of a million dollars already given will grow to a million and beyond, because alumni support this addition, have initiated, have promised it to the University. No one will want the lack of his gift to suppress the growth or delay the building. It is the time for all friends and capable alumni to step alongside with a generous contribution, which will bring the auditorium out of the shadows and into full view. Now is the time to make the silhouette take on its detailed features, to look ahead, instead of trying only to catch up. The need for the auditorium is already more than evident; the young folks who will use it are now here; this facility for better quality education is wanted at this moment. The time for your gift to the Hauck Auditorium is now.

Legislators To Meet
At Maine

President Lloyd H. Elliott announced recently that the Ford Foundation has made a grant of $13,348 to the University to finance a Pre-Legislature Conference from December 1st to December 3rd this winter.

In addition to members of the 1961 Maine legislature, others among the 260 to be invited will be the governor-elect, the executive council, the Maine congressional delegation, a number of leading Maine citizens, and a few prominent out-of-state persons.

President Elliott said the four major purposes of the conference were:

1. “To discuss on an objective, non-partisan basis, under competent guidance, the critical areas of finance and taxation, with the aim of developing the improved understanding which will serve as a basis for informed and intelligent legislative action.

2. “To meet the strongly felt need of the state for mature consideration of finance and taxation at a time when Maine is in a unique period of transition in the development of its fiscal system.

3. “To promote closer contacts and improved understanding among members of the legislature, members of the executive branch, citizen leadership, the state's congressional delegation, and the general public.

4. “To bring the University of Maine into closer contact with the public life of the state and to project the university's role as a leader in considerations of public issues.”

He noted that the conference would be “most timely” since the study of Maine’s fiscal system, authorized by the 99th Maine legislature, will be completed in November.

“The publication of this study will coincide most appropriately with the timing of the pre-legislative conference,” President Elliott said.

The fiscal study is being conducted under the direction of Dr. John F. Sly, Director of the Princeton Surveys. Dr. Sly and members of his staff will be among leading participants in the pre-legislative conference.

The three-day conference has the whole-hearted support of both gubernatorial candidates.

Governor John H. Reed '42 said he was “very pleased” that the University was sponsoring the conference, noting that the deliberations could have significant and far-reaching effects on problems related to Maine’s financial affairs and tax structure.

“I am delighted that the University of Maine has taken the lead in arranging for this affair which should be of great benefit to all branches of state government as well as the state at large,” he said.

Congressman Frank Coffin was equally enthusiastic about the approaching conference. He said it would fill a long-felt need for organized study and discussion in the fields of taxation and finance prior to the convening of the state legislature.

“I am pleased that the University has arranged this provocative event,” he declared, “and I hope ways may be found to continue it in future years.”

Travel expenses, lodgings, and meals for the legislators and other invited participants in the conference will be paid from the $13,348 provided by the Ford Foundation.

Developement Council
Formed

Since the appointment of former Alumni Director, Donald V. Taverner '43, as the University’s first Director of Development last January, much planning has been done toward establishing a well organized and long-range development program for Maine.

Currently, the appointment of a Development Council for the University is underway. The Council will advise the University’s President and the Board of Trustees on enlisting the leadership of friends of the University and of educators in a continuing study of the ways the University can better serve the educational, economic, and cultural needs of the state. The Council will formulate plans which will broaden and improve the educational and research programs of the institution.

Membership in the new Development Council, currently being appointed by the Board of Trustees, will include leading alumni and friends of the University in the state and throughout the northeast section of the country.

Among the countless ways in which the Development Council can render service of great value to the University and to the state are the formulation of programs to broaden educational opportunities for well qualified students through establishment of substantial scholarship and loan funds, activation of library expansion, and providing for lectures and institutes to bring nationally and internationally known persons to the University.

The Director of Development of the University could serve the Council and assist the officers and committees in carrying out the accepted recommendations of the Council to the University.

Of Men And Greatness

Self-made men are few indeed. As the poet said: “Some men are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them.”

The self-made man achieves greatness, not by what he gets but by what he gives. Giving of time from one’s life and money from one’s wealth is the highest act of humanity. Fourteen men have revealed their greatness by joining Partners in the Hauck Auditorium Campaign.

Your decision to join them will be a mark, both of your greatness and of the humanity which helped you achieve greatness.

From the Fund Leaders, for: the 9,000 donors to the Auditorium Fund.
The massive height of Mount Kineo towers above the hotel peninsular and provides a dramatic setting for this luxury hotel in the wilds of Maine.

Luxury
In The Wilderness

Moosehead Outpost

If you have never traveled to Moosehead Lake, you have missed one of the most beautiful spots in the country. Among the last frontiers encroaching civilization has allowed to exist, the Moosehead area lies at the edge of the truly wild wilderness which is northern Maine. Only here can one experience the peace and contentment induced by the immensity of the boundless forest. Although the area is easily reached on well paved roads suited to modern travel, upon reaching Greenville one soon comes to the end of the line. There is nothing beyond but the lakes, the streams and the forest as they have been for hundreds of years. For those who yearn for unviolated nature but who yearn equally for all the luxuries of civilization, the Mount Kineo Hotel resolves the dilemma. Situated twenty miles north of Greenville on a peninsular at the center of Moosehead Lake, the Mount Kineo's 1150 acre estate boasts Maine's newest luxury hotel. With steam heat, wall to wall carpeting, radio, telephones, and circulating ice water in every room, the guest can relax and enjoy the comforts of easy living and excellent service in the midst of the wild country of northern Maine.

Varied Recreation

For recreation the Mount Kineo Hotel offers within its acreage, golf, tennis, swimming, croquet, billiards, trap shooting, pool, ping-pong, and shuffleboard. Of course, since it is located in the center of the best fresh water fishing lake in the state, those who like to wet a line occasionally will be ideally situated at The Mount Kineo. Guides and motorboats are available for those who want them. Nature lovers and hikers will have at hand more territory than they can explore in a lifetime. Evening entertainment includes dances in the ballroom, a cocktail lounge, movies, bingo, and other facilities or events.

Across The "Inland Sea"

Because the hotel is located on a peninsular on the opposite side of the lake, guests leave their cars in a garage provided by the hotel and travel across the water by cabin cruiser. If one has a hankering to drive around the countryside or perhaps take a trip down to Baxter Park and Mount Katahdin, the garage is easily reached by a ten minute trip on the cruiser which leaves every half hour.

The hotel is owned and operated by Louis O. Hilton '54, and the manager is Richard L. McKeil '59. Originally a famous resort hotel, The Mount Kineo was closed in 1938. In 1940 it was purchased by Louis Oakes '98, and after the war it was completely renovated into the modern interior and exterior evident today. It was re-opened in 1950 and has become increasingly popular with people from all over the country who have "discovered" Kineo.

Easily Reached By Air Or Highway

Rockwood, where the Kineo garage and landing is located, is easily reached by auto. The drive from New York takes about a day. Chartered sea planes from Bangor will land guests at the hotel dock, or other planes can land in Greenville, a short drive from the hotel.

The Mount Kineo is open from mid July to early September. Alumni interested in more information should write to Louis O. Hilton, Mount Kineo Hotel, Rockwood, Maine.
8,000 Management Opportunities!

That's right. There will be 8,000 supervisory jobs filled from within the Western Electric Company by college graduates in just the next ten years! How come? Because there's the kind of upward movement at Western Electric that spells executive opportunity. Young men in engineering and other professional work can choose between two paths of advancement—one within their own technical field and one within over-all management.

Your progress up-the-ladder to executive positions will be aided by a number of special programs. The annual company-wide personnel survey helps select management prospects. This ties in with planned rotational development, including transfers between Bell companies and experience in a wide variety of fields. Western Electric maintains its own full-time graduate engineering training program, seven formal management courses, and a tuition refund plan for college study.

After joining Western Electric, you'll be planning production of a steady stream of communications products—electronic switching, carrier, microwave and missile guidance systems and components such as transistors, diodes, ferrites, etc. Every day, engineers at our manufacturing plants are working to bring new developments of our associates at Bell Telephone Laboratories into practical reality. In short, "the sky's your limit" at Western Electric.

Opportunities exist for electrical, mechanical, industrial, civil and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. For more information about Western Electric, write College Relations, Room 6104, Western Electric Company, 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y.

Three Alumni Win Black Bear Awards

Dr. George F. Dow '27, president of the General Alumni Association, presented the 1960 Black Bear Awards at the Homecoming Luncheon on Oct. 8. Before presenting the awards, he said: "The Black Bear Award was established in 1950. Since 1950, the Black Bear Award has become the symbol, representing a truly coveted recognition. The award itself is cast from a sculptured original figure, of a life-like animal, fastened by the feet to a solid Maine granite base, faced by a sterling silver inscription plate. The plate bears this engraving: '... for devotion and loyalty to the high traditions of the University of Maine.' "A proper committee from the General Alumni Association selects three recipients each year from nominations submitted from the alumni body. The Award is not restricted to alumni of the University. Faculty members, members of the administration and non-alumni friends of the University are eligible. "Since the Award was established in 1950, twenty-eight outstanding friends and alumni of Maine have received the Black Bear Award. "Today, it is my privilege to present the three 1960 Awards."
Early Homecoming
A Great Success

Lobster stew was the fare as always at the luncheon in Memorial Gym. Seated at the head table in the photo above were, left to right: William C. Wells ’31; U. S. Senator Margaret Chase Smith ’49H; Governor John H. Reed ’42; President Lloyd Elliott; G.A.A. President George Dow ’27; Debbie Phillips ’64; G.A.A. Vice President Alvin S. McNeilly ’44; and G.A.A. Executive Director T. Russell Woolley ’41.

At half-time the Maine band saluted Governor John H. Reed ’42 (Foreground, facing camera) and the Maine fans.

It was a great day for a football game. And it was nice to sit in the warm sun for a change.

Early October sunshine and a Yankee Conference Football victory highlighted the 1960 homecoming. Over two thousand alumni greeted old friends and classmates at homecoming festivities on October 7th and 8th, before settling down in the bleachers at Alumni Field to watch Maine defeat New Hampshire 13 to 7. With the benevolent Indian Summer weather a pleasant change from the cold rain and sleet of recent years, returning graduates enjoyed a variety of activities on Friday and Saturday.

The program began with the Alumni Council dinner meeting Friday evening, followed by a meeting of the M Club in the Memorial Union. At 8:15 the Maine Masque players presented the first of two performances of The Male Animal by James Thurber and Elliot Nugent. (The second presentation was on Saturday night at the same time.) Homecoming Open House was held from 8:30 to 11:00 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Union.

On Saturday morning while a coffee was held at the Union, Art Department Head Vincent A. Hartgen and other members of the Homecoming Decoration Committee selected the winner of the decoration contest. Winners were as follows:

Fraternities—1st Prize, Delta Tau Delta Hon. Mention, Alpha Gamma Rho
Men’s Dormitories—1st Prize, Gannett Hall
Hon. Mention, Corbett Hall
Women’s Dormitories—1st Prize, Chadbourne Hall.

Shortly after noon, over four hundred Alumni gathered in the Memorial Gym to enjoy the traditional luncheon and to pay tribute to the Black Bear Award winners. General Alumni Association President Dr. George Dow ’27, introduced University President, Lloyd H. Elliott; U. S. Senator, Margaret Chase Smith ’49H; Governor John H. Reed ’42; Homecoming Committee Chairman, William C. Wells ’31; G. A. A. Vice President, Alvin S. McNeilly ’44; Homecoming Queen, Debbie Phillips ’64; University of New Hampshire Athletic Director, Carl Lundholm, and G. A. A. Executive Director Dr. T. Russell Woolley ’41.

After addresses by President Lloyd H. Elliott and Mr. Lundholm, Dr. Dow saluted the University of New Hampshire and Maine teams of 1903 on the occasion of their 50th meeting. Dr. Dow pointed out that although the first game occurred 57 years ago, the teams had met only 49 times up to this year’s homecoming game. Present and honored by the assembled alumni were four members of the Maine and New Hampshire teams of 1903. Two of the former athletes present who took part in the first game were Willis C. Campbell, New Hampshire, Class of 1906, Windham, N. H.; and William J. Ricker, Maine, Class of 1905, Turner, Maine. Two former Maine members of the 1903 team also present, who did not take part in the first game with New Hampshire, were A. Guy Bennett ’06, Toronto, Canada; and Richard F. Talbot ’07, Orono, Maine.

With the presentations of the Black Bear Awards to Raymond W. Davis ’11, Ernest Lamb ’10, and Harry D. Watson ’20 (Photo and citations on page 11), the luncheon came to an end, and alumni streamed out of the gym to take their seats for the “Golden Game” between Maine and the University of New Hampshire.

The first Yankee Conference homecoming game left little to be desired by Maine fans. It was a hard fought contest all the way, with sparkling running and passing plays and heads up defensive action demonstrated by both teams. Maine’s first touchdown came in the opening period after a pass interception by guard Tom Patrick, a fourteen yard plunge by fullback Dale Curry, and a twenty-three yard pass play from quarterback Manch Wheeler to halfback Wayne Champion. Quarterback Art Miles, sidelined by an injury, came in to kick the extra point, and Maine led 7 to 0.

On the first play from scrimmage in the second period, the New Hampshire fullback went straight through the Maine line for a fifty yard touchdown run. With a successful conversion, New Hampshire tied the score, 7 to 7.

The second, and winning, touchdown for Maine occurred in the third period as a consequence of the most exciting play of the game. Tackle Haddon Libby recovered a fumble on the New Hampshire 41 yard line, and fullback Bill Chard carried the ball 12 yards to the 29 on the next play. Quarterback Manch Wheeler took to the air again and fired a pass to the five yard line where halfback Bob Rice leaped, bounced the ball on his fingertips four or five times before he finally muckled onto the pigskin, dodged two tacklers and crossed the goal line. An anticlimactic conversion run for two points failed, and Maine led by what proved to be the final score, 13 to 7.

In the last quarter, Manch Wheeler added to an already impressive performance with a Yankee Conference record punt 80 yards to the New Hampshire one-foot line.

In defeating New Hampshire, Maine posted a 3-1 Yankee Conference record and established for themselves a chance for first place in YC play. One large and impressive obstacle in the way of at least a tie for first in the Yankee Conference, is the October 15th game with Connecticut. The U-Conns showed their strength on October 8 by smothering Massachusetts 31-0.

The stands were packed to capacity. In the middle photo, the New Hampshire band plays the Stein Song at halftime.

Bears Face Rough Road
In YC Grid Campaign

Guest Sports Editor this month: Stu Haskell '56

It was obvious from the start that achieving a first division berth in the final 1960 Yankee Conference football standings would be no easy matter for Maine's Black Bears.

Many of you undoubtedly sat in on the opening contest of the season at Portland and watched the Bears suffer a 21-13 setback at the hands of the University of Massachusetts Redmen. Some 8,000 spectators turned out for that first game to be played by a Maine eleven in Portland since 1923.

The Bears' fortunes improved the following Saturday as the result of a 7-0 triumph over a tough Rhode Island unit at Orono and that's the way things stand at this writing.

Coach Hal Westerman had a sizeable number (17) of returning lettermen on hand at the start of the season, but the Bears were thin in backs. All but a handful of the experienced players were linemen. To add to this problem, Westerman's team at Portland was missing regular guard Bob Spence of Lewiston, reserve tackles Joe Dumont of Augusta and Pierre Labat of Northport, N. Y., and reserve halfbacks Hal Halliday of Norridgewock and Dave Baribeau of Brunswick due to injuries suffered in practice. And when the Rhode Island game rolled around, regular quarterback Art Miles of Stillwater had joined the injured list with a foot ailment.

As it looks right now, Connecticut and Massachusetts are rated as the best bets as pennant winners in the Yankee Conference while Colby, once again, appears to have the power needed to capture the flag in the State Series.

Athletic Aid

The biggest problem facing Maine's championship football hopes this year, as it has in the past few seasons and will continue to be in years ahead, is the athletic scholarship, or rather the lack of it. Both Connecticut and Massachusetts have constructed powerful grid units as the result of financial aid to its athletes and as a consequence the balance of power in the Yankee Conference has shifted away from the northern New England campuses of Maine and New Hampshire to the southern New England grid campuses of Connecticut and Massachusetts.

The start of the 1960 season marked the first time in Yankee Conference history that Maine did not enter the season with the best won-lost record against YC opponents compiled since the league began in 1957. Connecticut, as a result of four straight undefeated conference seasons, now ranks as the all-time champion. And Maine has slid to second place. As many alumni know, Maine has never given athletic scholarships and while this philosophy still rates as the best, it often proves disastrous as far as winning games is concerned.

Turning to cross country, Maine opened its season as the defending New England champion, but Coach Ed Styrna reports that the pennant may be flying from another campus before November ends. Only two of Styrna's runners this fall were members of last year's title-winning outfit and the upcoming sophomores did not appear to have the running talent possessed by those who had graduated.

The returning lettermen were junior Mike Kimball of Portland and a senior, Capt. Harold Hatch of Castine.

Basketball

By the time this issue of The Alumnus is in the mails, the 1960-61 basketball season will have made its debut on the Orono campus.

Coach Brian McCall issued the call for candidates on October 15 and those who reported faced a seven-week practice schedule before the opening game of the season on December 3 against Bates at Orono. Due to the terrific interest created by the Bears in basketball during the past two seasons, the home games this year will be off-limits as far as off-campus fans are concerned. There are nearly 4,000 basketball-adoring students on the campus and Memorial Gymnasium contains only 2,800 seats. Four of Maine's home games this season, however, will be played during vacation periods which means that alumni wishing to reserve a seat for one of those contests may do so now by contacting Ted Curtis '23, faculty manager of athletics. Those games will be against Baldwin-Wallace on Dec. 17 at the Bangor Municipal Auditorium, Connecticut on Jan. 31 at Orono, and Massachusetts on Feb. 3 and 4, both at Orono.

Our 50th Anniversary gift to the University appears to be shaping up well. President Arthur Deering has received a significant number of gifts from various members of our class. The Alumni Banquet followed at the Al chosen Arthur A. Hauck Auditorium near midnight. The class secretary and news writer for the Maine Alumni of the University was present.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Schrumpf of Orono attended the Alumni Banquet and presented a check of $250 to the University. Mr. Schrumpf has been a loyal supporter of the University for many years and his gift is greatly appreciated.

The Alumni Banquet was held on the ten yard line. No it was a fumble and Maine recovered.

In the afternoon we had a very fine class meeting with President Arthur A. Hauck in attendance. President A. Hauck Auditorium Fund

A recent letter from Luther Leach reads as follows: "Dear H. J. Time has sure slipped since our days in college. I find it hard to realize that I have been retired for four years. In the fall of 1914 I accepted a job with the New York Telephone Company and stayed with them for 42 years and retired four years ago. Most of my years with the telephone company were spent as a plant engineer in the toll and truck division. My wife and I celebrated our 46th Wedding Anniversary the 25th of July. We are both in good health and spend four months in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., each winter. We have a daughter who has two children, 20, and 23, and a son who has three children ages 8, 10, and 12. The grandchildren are now married, or are expected to be married this fall, so if all goes well we may be great grandparents in the future. I do a great deal of walking around the Church which kept me out of the wife's hair. Retirement is rather rough on the woman of the house unless you have something to keep her busy." Luther's address is 59 Archer Drive, Bronxville, N. Y.

"Bird" Thomas and his wife, on a recent trip to Washington, D. C., call on the 'Birds' and visit the N. W. Corncress, his New England home. On the trip he traveled by air, and one in P. A. After leaving the University of Maine, Daisy taught for five years in Maine, two in Vermont, and one in Pa. She married Harry Hinkley, U. of M. '13, who retired in 1958 with almost 45 years of service with the Penna. R.R. She has been an active member of several organizations and has served on many committees, social, political, and educational.

Daisy (George) Hinkley returned for the Reunion. Before that I received a fine, newsy letter from her. She writes: "I live in the Sewickley, Pa., a section of N. W. of Washington, which he laid out as a sub-division years ago when he ... beyond the once outlying sub-division which has now become a very 'plush' neighborhood. Vice President Nixon's home is a..." Daisy writes "Thanks to P. R. R. passes we have traveled extensively over the United States."

The following item was left over from last month.
A very interesting letter came in June from Mary Beckett (Mrs. Morrill L.) Ilsley of Claremont, Calif. Her biggest granddaughter had just finished her first year at the University of Arizona and was going to summer school in Hawaii. She is on a tour that takes about 200 college girls from all over the United States. There are housemothers to supervise life in a dormitory there. Surf-boarding, dancing, art, etc., will take up her time. Her son has 5 children, all live in Claremont, all of whom she sees briefly to see her family, and then fly to Paris by jet, and then on to Brussel, Victoria Falls, South Africa; to Zanzibar and back to Naoro, from where they will take several trips. Later on, they will go down the Nile on an unusual trip, and still later, they will go to Cairo, over the country that will be under water from the Aswan Dam in a few years. Then they will go back to Rome and Genoa, where there will be 200 children's home. She writes that her husband is very excited and has read so much that he knows all the places they should go—away from the regular tourist route. They will be so interested to hear about the trip on their return.

A short time ago, I received a beautiful post card from "Tom" (Thomas G.) Mangan from Mont Carlo, Monaco. We all wish that "Tom" had been a very pleasant European tour.

The Alumni Office reminds me that I was elected secretary of the Penobscot Valley Ski Club last spring. That's normal, except when I find someone else to take notes.

Don't count on so much chatter every month.

Sincere sympathy for Mrs. Harry C. (Vera Mercer) Robins on the death of her husband, in July. He was a partner in F. S. Moteley & Co., investments, a director of numerous corporations, and active in several yacht clubs.

Calwell S. Phillips, our first class president, is no longer with us. His brother tells me he is at 229 Hubbard St., Glastonbury, Conn., and retired from Pratt and Whitney. I hope to hear details of his family soon. It's a shame, although something to take interest in someone else to take notes.

Philip Lown of Newton, Mass., was re-elected to a second term as president of the American Association for Jewish Education. He has been active in the national campaigns of the United Jewish Appeal and Israel Bonds. He has served as a trustee of Brandeis University and as national chairman of the Friends of Hillel Foundation. Prof. Walter J. Creamer, "for contributions to electrical communication and to electrical education with an emphasis on education," was elected to Fellow in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Edmund R. LaPointe, who joined the class through the efforts of J. H. Jackson, was for five years a member of the Department of Agriculture. He returned to work for the Department of Agriculture. He remained in this position until illness forced him to retire.

Dear Classmates,

This Labor Day, the day before schools open, and I must get my letter written before I face the angry mob. It's been a quiet summer news-wise. Better get your pen sharpened and send me a brief note on your doings before next month.

Our ever faithful Rep, Cliff McIntire has taken another name off the "lost list." Donna (Greene's) Neal is at 2700 Southwest 28 Court St., Miami, Fla. She is a secretary for the Llewellyn Machinery Corp. Thank you, Cliff, and welcome back to our activity list.

Bill Daly forwarded a letter he had received from Bud Whitman who offered to take it over for a white or suggest someone who might? I have asked several who could do a much better job, but no success.

On May 16, 1960, Larry Porter joined Joe Thomas as an Associate Director of Research (in charge of Special Services). Larry holds a B.S. degree from the University of California, Berkeley in 1940. His work with the S. D. Warren Paper Company, Cumberland Mills, Maine.

The Alumni Office has supplied the news for this month's column. Rowena will return in time to write the next one, so why not send her an account of your activities for the past month.

John Lambert has been appointed a member of the American Forest and Papermen's Association. He is a member of the Recreation and Forest Management Committee of the State of California. Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Lenfest were recently honored on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. The Lenfests have one son, David, who is serving with the U. S. Army in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sargent have announced the engagement of their daughter, Calista, to Bjorn S. Wiberg of Stockholm, Sweden. Calista graduated from the University last June and will teach Home Economics at Fenwick School in Connecticut.

Erlon and Mary (Wemer) Ryerson's daughter, Patricia, was married Saturday, August 27 in the Woodfords Congregational Church to John C. Severno of Hamden, Conn., and of course our Dr. Frederick H. Thompson officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Dudley and daughter, Anne Dudley, of Hillcrest Drive, Cape Elizabeth, have just returned from a 10 days vacation at St. Andrews, New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. Gifford and Helen (Peabody) Davis of Durham, N. C., have been enjoying a sabbatical leave in Europe, with special emphasis on Spain. Hope it was a glorious trip.

The Bangor Daily News has just announced changes in the editorial dept. Charles M. Washburn, state editor, will take over control of the paper's expanded agricultural and commercial fishery program. Charles is a graduate of Franklin College, New Jersey, and has been associated with the Department of Agriculture, New Jersey, and has been engaged in the design of several newspaper printing plants and other projects for the graphic arts industry.

Paul Morgan has written a welcome letter catching up on his recent activities. Paul is a Senior Research Associate at the Pioneering Research Laboratory of the DuPont Experimental Station, where he has co-authored an impressive list of technical papers. For one of these he has recently received a special award. His home address is at 315 West Chester, Pa. He and his wife Elsie have two lively youngsters, Patricia, 10, and Dennis, 14. The whole family is in the process of being proctored, and Paul an Assistant Director of the University. They set back to Maine occasionally on camping trips.

Paul reports that his brother Russell, also '37, is now living at 7 Southern Ave., August, with his wife Keta and three children. He is chief chemist and proceeds to the Interchemical Corporation at Waynewport.

The opening of the college year brought to the University a number of '37ers as they returned sons and daughters to the campus or entered them as freshmen, among them Bob and Margaret DeWick, Ruby Elliott and Dick Spear. There must have been many others, since a check of the Alumni office records shows seventeen new students, most of them in the class of '64, with parents from our class. A small lists includes:

- Francis G. Peto (Francis W.)
- William A. Brewer (Everett L.; Edith Hill '33)
- Bruce A. Clark (W. Frank; Violet Cotson '35)
- William B. Dineen (William R., Sr.)
- Patricia Fellows (Frank G.; Marianne Russell)
- Raymond '08, grandfather
- Patricia Hewitt (Lawrence '37; Antonia Rosen '39 (transferring from Simmons to '63)
- Lena O. Hunt (William S.; Alice Harvey '38; Chandler Acheson, Jr.)

The latest Daneford News informed us that classmate Gordon E. Chase leaves Schemetcky, N. Y., where he managed a Sears store, to return to his hometown and become co-owner of the company at 40 Harlow Street. Janice (Merrill) and his two sons, John, 17, and 14, will soon be living in Bangor, too. We note that the paper says he is a hunting and fishing enthusiast; hope the area is productive for you.

Were you watching television the night that President Eisenhower attended the Republican Convention in Chicago in July? If you were, then you probably saw Maine's Governor, our classmate John Reed, directly behind the President's left shoulder!

James and Lora (Dobly '45) Bates live at 140 No. Prospect St. in Augusta. John is the executive assistant to the Dean of the University of Vermont College of Medicine. All of you join me, I know, in offering sympathy to the Bates family in the recent loss of their 35-year-old son, Brad, during this past summer. I hope that you, Robert, 10, and Brenda, 7, Jim's chief executives are serving on the Board of Trustees of the Vermont Sheltered Workshops for physically and mentally handicapped persons, being president of the Vermont Baptist Men, and being Deacon of the First Baptist Church of Burlington.

A letter from Merrill Donahue's aunt, Ardis (Lanahan '22) Moore, indicates that he left by plane on August 12 from New York for a six-months' assignment in British Columbia. He is working for the American Cyanamid Co., Leader Laboratories, who are building a new plant 100 miles from Bumstead, N. B.

From Newton, Mass., comes word that Connie (Kings) Barnes is teaching the first grade. She says she loves teaching. Her husband, Dana, Jr., is project manager for Jackson and Morland Constr Councils who are building the Christmas holidays they travel—usually to Bermuda, though it was Europe in 1957, and Mexico in 1956. This year they hope to celebrate Indi­cational summer they often spend weekends in Camden with Connie's parents. She mentions, too, that in 1958 she received her Ed.M. from Boston University. Time and space are closing in. See you next month!

Ten form letters went out to ten members of our class last month, but so far none have been re­ceived. Another ten are going out today and I hope you will fill in the blanks and return them to me. These could be a good source of up-to-date news if you all cooperate! These items from the Alumni Office:

Eldon H. Luther has a new address—58 Hildur­crest Drive, Simsbury, Conn.

From Augusta comes the news that Bob McLeary (Augusta merchant) is heading a Reed for Governor Club among U. of Maine Alumni, and that former Governor Lewis O. Barrows '16 would serve as honorary chairman of the group.

Here are a couple of changes of address: Dr. Roland E. Berry, 626 North 104th St., Wauwatosa, Wis., and Maurice E. Avery, Box 273, Topsham.

Having just accepted a position with AiResearch in Phoenix the previous week, Arthur Beverage nevertheless took time out to answer by query for news. The Beverages were located in Scottsdale in temporary quarters in August at the time of writing. Before moving to Arizona, they had joined an international geological group for a two weeks' trip by ship along the coast of Norway. They crossed the North Atlantic by air and then back to Germany. The family is now back together, Madeleine, 7, and John, 5; mail reaches them c/o Department of Geology, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La.

HEILO! GREETINGS! It's nice to be with you again for our series of monthly visits. Remember, please, that the column is most interesting when I hear about the good contributions about yourselves and the people you've seen.

This month's announcement this summer from Betty Small and Cort Cunningham, they have adopted a new son by the name of John Paul. I know they are thrilled and he will be a "peaky little brother" for 4 year old Jim.

Congratulations to you all.

A most interesting article by our own Low Harlow appeared in the Bangor Daily News on July 4th. It seems he made 4 dives aboard the U.S. Navy snorkel-equipped submarine Halfback as part of the Navy's participation in Bar Harbor's Submersion. It sounds like a real fine and interesting trip and Len has now qualified for commission as a member of the navy. Of course, he would have liked to see his good friend, John Paul, in the Navy.

By the time this reaches you, the football season will be almost over, and we will be looking forward to basketball. I'm sure you'll be writing and telling me about yourselves and the people you've seen. I'm glad to have a chance to say "hello" to you all.

NORMAN W. CAMPBELL
New York Life representative at the Bay Colony, Mass.

Education: University of New Hampshire, B.A. '53

Employment Record: Joined New York Life '56. Member, Star Club (organization of leading agents of the Company)

From New York Life's yearbook of successful insurance career men!

NORMAN CAMPBELL—found success in his own "back yard"!

"I believe the biggest attraction of a career as a New York Life Agent," says Norman Campbell, "is having independence to run your own business, backed by a large, well-known company."

Norman also feels that the opportunity for earning an unrestricted income as early as age 30 is a big advantage. He set an income goal which he hoped to reach after five years as a life underwriter. "I was fortunate enough to attain that in my second calendar year with New York Life," he says.

Norman has opened his own office in the business district of the town where he grew up. He is firmly established in a career in which his own talents and ambitions are the only limitations on his future income, and on his opportunities to serve others.

If you or someone you know would like to know more about a career with one of the world's leading insurance companies, write:

Hi Kids,

Hope you all had a swell time at Homecoming and all a lot more fun. One of the things I hope to make it, too! (My reason for being absent during October was getting married and off on a cruise to Japan.)

Dave Murray now has a Dr in front of his name since graduating from the Massachusetts College of Optometry.

Howard Jackson has been named a graduate assistant in the department of chemical engineering at Maine while working for his master's.

Donald Hackett has left Monson Academy where he was principal and coach to teach social science and French in Needham. They are living in Old Town while Gerry completes his senior year.

Robert Rand has been named pastor at the Community Methodist Church in Portsmouth while continuing his study for a Bachelor of Sacred Music degrees.

Priscilla Anderson and myself are enjoying teaching and living in New Jersey. Quite near us is Carol Robinson who is teaching English at the International House, 500 Riverside Drive, N.Y. We have made several phone calls to Joanie Philbrook who is in Ithaca, N.Y., at 313 So. Avenue St. Also in Ithaca attending Cornell Law School are Joe Hately and Mark Shibles. Mark is living at 307 E. Buffalo St. In Schenectady, N. Y., is Gary Auclair who has accepted a position with General Electric Company in Lebanon Springs, N. Y., and Harvey Moody is employed by Sylvania Electric Products, is living at 40 West Bayard St., New York City.

The engagement of Martha Masters of Lewiston to Bud Ochmanski was recently announced. Bud is in Rochester, N. Y., where he is working and coaching girls' basketball.

Others remaining in Maine to teach are Carolyn Solomon who is teaching in her own hometown of Carthage, and James Jortberg who is teaching in the Lake Region.

Those returning to the University this year as instructors are John Blease, Hayden Soule, and Ralph M. Hobson.

All American halfback advises lawyer...

A lawyer’s life insurance program has nothing to do with football. But it seemed appropriate for our ad this October to show one of our fine agents who was a football star at Duke. He’s advising a client, J. V. Morgan, partner in a North Carolina law firm.

Most of our agents weren’t great athletes, of course, but all have been carefully selected and trained to give outstanding service to prominent men in their communities. These agents are building success on their own initiative with the constant, positive support of the company. Their services and ideas have a recognized value to top-level business and professional people.

Perhaps a career in life insurance appeals to you. If you meet our qualifications you’ll receive a generous income while you’re learning. We’ll be glad to send, without obligation, a booklet explaining the responsibilities and rewards of representing New England Life. Write to us at Dept. A, Boston 17, Mass.

Or, if you have specific questions please write directly to Vice President John Barker, Jr., 501 Boylston Street, Boston 17, Massachusetts.

Naming of the Town

The earliest name given Portland of which we find record was "Quack." Probably this was derived from an Indian word. "Macquack" descriptively used for the entire area. Macquack, meaning "red," probably referred to the numerous iron deposits which stained the ledges and bluffs of the mainland and islands.

In 1623 Christopher Lovett named the Casco Bay and Portland area "York." George Cleves in his will called Portland "Machigony." In the original Cleves lease, dated January 27, 1637, "all the land . . . was known as Machigone," at that time, and was directed by the General Court of Massachusetts "to be henceforth called Stogummer." The name of Stogummer was never used, so far as is known.

To add to the confusion it must be remembered that the peninsula which we now call Portland was, from the mid-seventeenth century to the time of its present name, known as "the Neck." Hence, when the town was called Casco, what is now Portland was "Casco Neck." Then, when the town was renamed Falmouth, Portland was "Falmouth Neck," and so on.

There has been some confusion as to the first time the name Portland was used. In many early records we find the phrase "coming into Portland." This was applied to the approach by sea, not to the mainland town. Portland is the name in most early records for the promontory where Portland Head Lighthouse now stands. Cushings Island was known for a time as Portland, and Portland Sound was the area between these two landmarks—hence the phrase "coming into Portland."

Late in 1785 some sixty of the citizens of the Neck petitioned the General Court of Massachusetts that the peninsula be set apart from the sprawling old town as a separate municipality, to be called Portland. There were more than 2,000 inhabitants on the Neck at the time.

The petition was granted and on July 4, 1786, the bounds of the new town were defined thus: "To begin at the middle of the creek that runs into Round Marsh, thence north-east to Back Cove Creek, thence down the middle of the Creek to Back Cove, thence across said Cove to Sandy Point, thence round by Casco Bay and Fore River to the first bounds. Together with all the islands that now belong to the First Parish in said Falmouth."
