Dr. Louise Bates Ames '30 receives Career Award

Athletic grants approved
Last year, the Ferdinand Roten Galleries and I, with the generous help and support from the UMO Alumni Association, came up with what we thought was a unique idea...a plan whereby you could acquire original art works for your home while at the same time assist in developing our University Collection. The plan worked so well, we are going to continue it for another year.

On your request, a handsome illustrated catalog from the Roten Galleries will be sent to you within a few days. By selecting from this catalog you can acquire an authentic work of art from one of America's most reputable print dealers. Fifteen percent of your purchase goes toward the development of the University Art Collection. (You may take this amount as a tax deduction, if you want.) Putting credits together over a period of time will make it possible for us to select art works from the same Roten catalog.

You may remember from your college days how the art collection beautifies the many public areas of the campus, and how it is constantly used for exhibiting and study. Over the years, the major portion of the collection has come as a result of gifts—little, or no money, being appropriated for the purchase of art. This proposal, then, would help in the development of your Alma Mater's collection...and at the same time let you acquire original art with which to enrich your life and the lives of those around you.

Send for your catalog now and make your selections soon...or see the actual prints in many of the Roten Galleries' exhibitions on the Orono Campus this academic year: GRAPHICS FOR COLLECTING—DECEMBER, 1974; ROTEN EXHIBITION AND SALE—DECEMBER 5 & 6, 1974; RELIGIOUS ART—JANUARY, 1975; DRAWINGS BY OLD AND MODERN MASTERS—FEBRUARY, 1975; WOMEN IN PRINTMAKING—MARCH, 1975; ANIMALS—REAL AND IMAGINATIVE—SUMMER, 1975. I shall let you know how successful the program turns out to be. Clip off the lower portion of this page and mail it to me or to the Ferdinand Roten Galleries, 123 W. Mulberry Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21201.

Petite but not diminutive; outspoken but not caustic; and 66 years old but very young only partially describe the quick-witted Dr. Louise Bates Ames '30, recipient of the 1974 Alumni Career Award.

Dr. Ames has had a career spanning 44 years as a child psychologist and is the author of over 17 books. Her work at the Gesell Institute of Child Development in New Haven, Conn. has made her a national authority on child's psychological development. Familiar to many is her long-standing syndicated newspaper column “Parent's Ask”.

When she came to Orono on Oct. 4 to receive her award she shared with us a great deal more than just the details of her career.

“Many women fuss about not getting equal pay—I don’t think they should,” is her opinion on the question of equal pay for women. One might expect to find a diehard women’s libber in Dr. Ames considering the long and distinguished professional life she has followed. But you won’t! She reasons women are not a good investment because they are so apt to leave and start families or move to wherever the husband’s employment takes them.

“Many women fuss about getting equal pay—I don’t think they should.”

In referring to the militant feminists she says, “I really think they carry on so, as if they discovered the whole business of discrimination. Some of these girls act as if women had never had any freedom or recognition. Personally, I have never felt discriminated against. Perhaps I was just fortunate.”

Getting the vote for women, she states, is the thing that gave a future to women. She does maintain that some sort of career for a woman is very important but that to this day, marriage and the family are still the most important thing to most women. "After a certain point in your career you have done about everything you’ve wanted to do and succeeded as much as you are going to and so any further success or honor is nice, but one more honor is one more honor. Now with a family of children and grandchildren one always has a source of continuous interest. So no matter how important a career must be, a family is something that nearly everyone really needs.”

Dr. Ames’ wisdom has a sad irony to it. The mother of one daughter, Joan Ames Chase ’52, she was divorced soon after her marriage. With her mother’s help she raised her daughter amidst her bustling career. Early this year her daughter Joan, her son-in-law Robert C. Chase ’53 and one of their three children were tragically killed.

In her acceptance speech for the Career Award she talked of her success and faith. “Any success which I personally may have achieved is partly due to a combination of reasonably good heredity. Also, my good professional start here at Maine, hard work, and fortunate times in starting my career in the pioneer field of child psychology entered into it. Perhaps the best advice for me has been to be ready for what fate hands you, don’t be too afraid of change and don’t get hung up on the past—be ready for what the future has to offer.”

Dr. Ames says that the University has been more than generous to her and has given her many things. Reminiscing about her college days brought out the very lively and warm side of her.

The Portland, Maine native transferred from Wheaton College to Maine as a junior in 1928. “There were two reasons why I came to Maine. All my friends in Portland told me what a great time they were having at the University of Maine. So I told my father I thought we were spending too much money sending me to Wheaton and that I could learn just as much for less at Maine."
And he said, 'That's the first sensible thing you've said in your life.' The second reason I came to Maine was that I was kicked out of Wheaton!

'When I came to Maine things were infinitely more liberal and the rules were much more realistic compared to Wheaton. At Wheaton it wasn't fashionable to study and get good grades. You sort of sneaked over to the library. At Maine you could do what you wanted—it was a much more democratic atmosphere.

'So I told my father I thought we were spending too much money sending me to Wheaton and that I could learn just as much for less at Maine.'

'When I was going to college, people assumed when you finished school you would get a real good job and be set for life. Now I think as education becomes increasingly universal you might go through college but not be as such “rewarded”. Of course, this assumes that money is the measure. I think higher education is extremely important. The idea of what it is going to bring you has changed. I think now it should increase your enjoyment of everything.'

"And there were social differences between the two schools. At Wheaton people would say, 'Are you going abroad this summer?' and at Maine you heard 'Do you have a summer job?'"

Forty-six years ago this fall, Dr. Ames came to UMO and boarded with a professor's family at the edge of campus, in the building that now houses the Department of Police and Safety. She had to live off-campus because she was accepted on probation for one year. She still remembers the sign-out book, just for her use, in the front hall. Her senior year she moved to Mt. Vernon, a house-like dormitory. Her two brothers, John E. '33 and Silas L. '35, also chose to come to Maine.

Social differences between now and then at UMO, she says, are so vast that one can hardly compare the two. "I do remember how great the differences of class mattered." She also remembers the fraternity system. "I adored the whole thing. I just had the best time going to their activities." She was never a member of a sorority, though.

In comparing educationally the two eras she says, "There probably is much more intellectual interest now and the gap between the faculty and students has lessened. There are now more students really realizing that it is not so much the faculty's responsibility to make them learn or not, but that it is up to them."

Prof. Charles A. Dickinson, chairman of the psychology department, had a dream for Dr. Ames, then a young graduate in 1930, to one day work with the renowned child psychologist Dr. Arnold Gesell.

"I think higher education is very important. The idea of what it is going to bring you has changed."

In the fall of 1933, after receiving her master's degree from UMO, she went to Yale's Clinic of Child Development as a research secretary and assistant to the director, Dr. Arnold Gesell, and worked with him until 1948. She received her Ph.D. in psychology from Yale in 1936. She was also curator of the Yale Films of Child Development from 1948-50. After the clinic split with Yale University, Dr. Ames and Dr. Frances Ilg founded the Gesell Institute of Child Development in Dr. Gesell's honor. The institute is a private non-profit corporation for clinical work and research in the field of child behavior. Her work at the institute included clinical work, teaching, lecturing and research. She was one of the early pioneers of the Rorschach psychological testing in children and has written a great deal about it.

In addition, she has done extensive television work and for over three years did a television talk series with WBZ in Boston called "Child Behavior" which she thoroughly enjoyed. She is the recipient of honorary degrees from both Maine and Wheaton College.

In her discipline feelings about child behavior are always changing. At the Career Award Dinner she amused guests with a quick 60-year summary on how the attitudes on child rearing have changed. "In 1910 parents were told to spank their children; in 1920 they were told to deprive them; in 1930, ignore them; in 1940, reason with them; in 1950, love them; in 1960, spank them lovingly and in 1970, to hell with them!"

"Throughout my work there is a basic premise that was instilled in me by Prof. Dickinson which I have always followed. Behavior is a function of structure. We at the institute are very biologically oriented and believe it is very difficult to transcend one's genetic potential."

"Children should be started in school and subsequently promoted on the basis of behavior not age."

The many books on which she has collaborated have dealt with the behavior of the infant and small school-age child. "Stop School Failure" and "Don't Push the Preschooler" were among her most recent and most acclaimed books. The latter book she co-authored with her daughter the late Joan Chase, also a child psychologist. "Children should be started in school and subsequently promoted on the basis of behavior not age," she contends and hopes will become the more popular belief. In conjunction with this she also believes that the same holds true for the elderly. "They shouldn't be made to stop their activities or retire strictly on a basis of age but on the basis of behavior." At 66, Dr. Ames is a prime example of a person's behavior being much more important than age. "I don't expect to stop right away," she said of herself while she was on the subject of retirement.

For the past fifteen years she has also been working on the calibration of the aging process and has found it to be very similar to the development of child behavior only in reverse. She is currently developing a battery of tests to determine behavioral aging. She plans to publish some of her findings in the future.

The General Alumni Association has never given the Alumni Career Award twice to the same individual, but one has to feel after meeting Dr. Louise Bates Ames, that even after her 44 years as a child psychologist she still has the energy and the mind to do it all over again!

Former award recipients

Dr. Ames is the 10th recipient of the General Alumni Association's Alumni Career Award. Former recipients are:

- Louis Schweitzer '19 1965
- Dr. Monroe Romansky '33 1966
- Arthur B. Richardson '11 1967
- Roger C. Wilkins '29 1968
- Herbert E. Bragg '25 1969
- Ray M. Boynton '20 1970
- Kenneth H. Foster '34 1971
- Artemus E. Weatherbee '39 1972
- Dr. Winthrop C. Libby '32 1973

GAA President Ralph L. Hodgkins '59 presented Dr. Ames with the Alumni Career Award, an Atmos clock, on Oct. 4, at the Career Award Dinner during Homecoming Weekend.
Annual Alumni Fund offers young alumni a new challenge

This year the General Alumni Association celebrates 100 years as an association. In recognition of this occasion, the Annual Alumni Fund theme for the 1974-75 Campaign is "A Century of Progress."

Highlighting this year's campaign are two new programs for young alumni in the Classes '65 to '74 who represent 42 per cent of the alumni body. The special programs, which are designed to encourage support of the University through the annual fund are the Challenge Gift Program and the "25 for 5 Plan."

The Challenge Gift Program is sponsored by an alumnus who has offered a large Challenge Gift to the Classes '65-'69. For the contributions from these classes he will match, dollar for dollar, all new gifts. Also, any increases in gifts from current donors in those same classes will be matched by the amount of the increase. The aggregate total of his gift will be announced at a later time.

The program for alumni in the Classes '70-'74 recognizes that those alumni are recent graduates and are early into their careers, and may not be in a position to make large gifts. Arthur Nicholson, III '67 of Methuen, Mass., Chairman of Young Alumni, said, "I am asking these young alumni to help the University by pledging $5 each year for 5 years. We call it the 25 for 5 Plan. Furthermore," he added, "strong support of this program would make a young class the leader in class competition for total donations and the leader in the percentage of class participation, as well as provide those needed funds for projects not funded by tax dollars."

John F. Wilson '33, of Barrington, R. I., the National Campaign Chairman, summed it up this way, "Young alumni have the opportunity to express their pride and belief in their University through a gesture which might be more within their means."

The General Fund Committee, which met during Homecoming Weekend on October 5, discussed the campaign schedule and reviewed the objectives of this year's campaign. According to Wilson, since 96 per cent of last year's goal of $250,000 was achieved, a realistic goal this year would be $275,000. This represents a logical step toward the five year goal of $500,000 in 1978, which was established in August of 1973. "In a year such as this, when alumni are being asked to consider a contribution to a bricks and mortar campaign through the Second Century Fund and a second contribution for the on-going needs of the University through the Annual Fund, a successful campaign can be attained only through the wholehearted support and understanding of all alumni," Wilson noted.

Commenting on the Second Century Fund, Wilson recalled the message from "Woody" Hodgkins to all alumni in the Winter Issue of the MAINE ALUMNUS, "a $3.5 million Capital Campaign, and the Alumni Campaign with a goal of $250,000 are being conducted almost simultaneously... Both efforts are absolutely essential to the continued excellence of UMO's education program. It has been agreed by the Alumni Council and Second Century Fund directors, that there will be no dual crediting for either dollars or participation. Gifts to the Second Century Fund will not be credited to the Alumni Fund or vice versa," he emphasized. "Both efforts involve alumni and each will stand on its own."

The schedule of the 1974-75 Annual Fund Campaign has been adjusted due to the activity of the Second Century Fund's alumni phase. The personal solicitation of nearly 2,000 alumni, normally held during November, has been postponed until March. This phase of the campaign last year generated 17 per cent of the year-end-total and was donated by 100 alumni. Hence, in the wake of last year's success, twice as many alumni will be visited this year by alumni fund volunteers.

AAF phonotons showed promise in the 1973-74 campaign with $22,000 in pledges in five evenings of calling and is expected to generate considerably more this year. Again, due to the success last year, the committee plans to expand their efforts and contact nearly three times as many alumni. The phonotons are planned for late April and early May.

The 1974-75 Campaign was officially launched by the President of the General Alumni Association, Ralph L. "Woody" Hodgkins '59 at the Alumni Council meeting during Homecoming Weekend with an appeal to the Council members. The council members set the pace by responding with a 25 per cent average increase over last year. The Alumni Council, the Annual Fund Committee and the Association Staff comprise the Advance Gift phase of the campaign.

John F. Wilson '33, National Campaign Chairman, announced that committee members for the campaign include: Thomas E. Desmond '33 of Chatham, Mass., Vice Chairman of Major Prospects, Clubs and Reports; Leonard N. Plavin '48 of Lewiston, Me., Vice-Chairman of Regional Solicitation in Maine; Eugene F. Sturgeon '52 of Kensington, Conn., Vice-Chairman of Regional Solicitation Outside of Maine; Helen (Wormwood) Pierce '41 of Carmel, Me., Vice-Chairman of Class Agents; George P. Hitchings '37 of Darien, Conn., Vice Chairman of Matching Gifts and Corporate Programs; and Arthur Nicholson III '67, of Methuen, Mass., Vice-Chairman of Young Alumni.

Nicholson, a new appointment this year, brings experience from a past campaign as former Vice-Chairman of the Honor Roll Club for the General Fund Committee in 1972.
The Homecoming Luncheon attracted over 400 returning alumni on Saturday morning. Under the direction of emcee Bert L. Pratt Jr. '43, the Golden 50-year "M" men and the Silver 25-year "M" men were honored in a presentation of certificates by Samuel Sezak '31, president of the Graduate "M" Club. Left: Roger C. Castle, vice president of the class of 1921, helped raise the American flag in the opening ceremonies prior to the Maine vs. Rhode Island game. The flagpole is a gift of the class of 1921. Also dedicated that morning was the swimming pool scoreboard, a gift of the class of 1933. Conducting these ceremonies was Freeman G. Webb, class president and instrumental in raising the money was Thomas J. Desmond '33. Below: Black Bears and Rhode Island Rams clashed on Alumni Field in an exciting Homecoming game which Maine took with a 29 to 19 victory. Co-chairmen for the weekend were Win E. Pullen '41 and Bert L. Pratt Jr. '43.
Homecoming Weekend

An antique car parade around the athletic field (above left) was part of the pre-game show on Saturday. Horses and buggies to Corvettes took part in the exhibition. Governors Kenneth M. Curtis of Maine and Philip Noel of Rhode Island were presented with Maine steins and "Homecoming" sweatshirts during the halftime program. Right: Dr. Louise Bates Ames ’30 (far left), child psychologist, talks with guests at the reception of the 1974 Career Award Dinner where she was presented with the distinguished career award. Also presented that evening were four Black Bear Awards for outstanding spirit and loyalty to UMO. Below: (left to right) Prof. Vincent A. Hartgen (non-alumnus), chairman of the UMO Art Department, Edith Talbot Ness ’32 Augusta, Theron "Spike" Sparrow ’24 of Orono and James A. Harmon ’40 of Orono, Director of Admissions hold their Black Bears. Following the dinner, alumni, guests and students danced to the big band sound of Al Corey and his 12-piece band at the Memorial Gymnasium. A fireworks display and bon-fire also highlighted the evening.
Second Century Fund progresses
onward and upward with alumni phase

Onward and upward describes the increasing momentum of the National Alumni Phase of the $3.5 million Second Century Fund. The fund to build a Performing Arts Center and Multi-Purpose Arena has enlisted volunteers from New York to California with the nation being divided into ten regional campaign organizations and sixteen county organizations in the state of Maine.

Donald P. Corbett '34 of West Hartford, Connecticut, is spearheading the national alumni phase. He has already personally seen and enlisted ten regional chairmen around the nation and has been instrumental in enlisting a number of state chairmen. The regional chairmen are following Don's example by personally visiting their prospective state chairmen and 24 state chairmen have been enlisted to date. The regional and state chairmen are:

National Alumni Chairman
Other national campaign volunteers are listed in the class notes section of the Alumnus.

The Washington, DC area and Delaware kicked-off their active solicitation efforts and are doing very well through initial contacts, though it is too early for financial reports. What can be reported is the overwhelming enthusiasm which is beginning to spread throughout the national alumni organization. Such enthusiasm can be pointed out by the comments made by John B. Ristuccia ’54, Chairman for Massachusetts which has the largest state alumni population outside of Maine. He said, “I will devote many and endless hours to this project to make it a success for the University. Maine holds many great traditions and as a person, I humble myself to be a part of them. Let’s join together, for even in these hard times we can be winners. Winning is my greatest ambition. So with our all out effort, this great University will have its new facilities. I thank you, Mr. Neville, for the challenge.”

While the national organization is meeting the challenge by providing outstanding leadership and very extensive geographic enlistments, the co-chairmen for the State of Maine, Oscar R. Hahnel, Jr. ’44 of Lewiston and Mrs. Donald W. McIntosh ’30 of York Harbor, have enlisted twelve of the sixteen county chairmen needed in the state of Maine. They are:

- Androscoggin County: Paul J. Dowe ’48, an agricultural extension agent for the University of Maine who lives in Turner.
- Cumberland County: Arthur Forrestall ’33, retired and of Portland; and Robert L. Fuller ’38, President of Fullers, Inc., of Portland.
- Franklin County: Richard Morton ’40, President of Morton Motors of Farmington.
- Hancock County: Charles K. Foster ’45, President of C. K. Foster Heating and Plumbing Supplies in Ellsworth.
- Kennebec County: John C. Bridge ’57, President of Bridge Construction Company in Augusta.
- Knox County: John L. Hill ’50, President of Rockland Savings Bank of Rockland.
- Penobscot County: Donald Lewis, Jr. ’60, President of Arctic Refrigeration in Bangor.
- Sagadahoc County: Frank Hagan ’33, retired and living in Bath.
- Somerset County: Thomas Teague ’50, President of Maine Poultry Service of Fairfield.
- Waldo County: Jacob S. Holmes ’31 President of Consumer’s Fuel of Belfast.
- Washington County: Francis A. Brown ’43 an attorney in Calais and William B. Talbot, an attorney in Machias.
- York County: Mr. and Mrs. Artemus E. Weatherbee ’39 ’40 of Kennebunk. Mr. Weatherbee is past Director of the Asian Development Bank in the Philippines.

An active solicitation program has already begun in Franklin County and good reception is again being reported through initial contacts in the area.

The campaign volunteers in the alumni phase of the campaign will be able to report to their alumni prospects that more than $921,500 was pledged during the first two phases of the campaign. Maine’s county volunteers who will be personally visiting their prospective area alumni are also listed in the class notes section of the Alumnus.

The successful completion of the on-campus phase of the campaign designated as the Official Family, surpassed its $500,000 goal last May under the direction of Chairman Frederick E. Hutchinson ’53, Dean of the College of Life Sciences and Agriculture. To date this division, which included trustees and friends, students, professional and classified employees, has reported pledges totaling over $550,000.

Since Labor Day the second phase of the campaign, the Greater Bangor Area has generated in excess of $315,000, despite an active United Way Campaign also in progress. Curtis M. Hutchins ’29, Eastern Maine Chairman and John T. Maine ’40, Greater Bangor Area Chairman, are presently leading this phase of the fund, which is slated to produce a significant amount of additional support.

Both Alumni and Greater Bangor Chairmen acknowledged the performance of the Official Family and believe they have demonstrated a strong and encouraging desire to see these two facilities become a reality that will satisfy the campus' long-standing cultural and athletic needs.

Growing out of discussions initiated by former President Winthrop C. Libby and the UMO Development Council, plans call for the Performing Arts Center to seat 2,500 and provide backstage and other supporting facilities for cultural events. There is no comparable structure in Eastern Maine. In addition to the Performing Arts Center, funds have been committed for a Maine State Museum and art gallery which, together with the arts center, will comprise a fine arts complex. The Multi-Purpose Arena is projected to seat 5,000 for hockey games and other ice events and up to 7,000 when the convertible floor is used for non-ice events such as commencement exercises.

Due to their recent enlistment, the following alumni campaign volunteers were not included in the class notes. State of Maine: Leslie C. Brewer '44 of Bar Harbor, Robert Butler '46 of Saco, Peter Drivas '53 of Biddeford, P. Andy Mantis '50 of Biddeford, James Mininni '54 of Biddeford, and Gordon Pendleton '52 of Saco.

Out of State: David and Ruth (Moir) '61 Abbiati of Storrs, CT, Richard and Gloria (Thorpe) Bangs '56/57 of Pomfret, CT, George W. Brooks '62 of Glastonbury, CT, Thomas P. Laskey '53 of Woodstock, CT, Mrs. Charlene (Dunn) Shaw '52 of West Willington, CT, Eugene F. Sturgeon '52 of Kensington, CT, Mrs. Carolyn (Anderson) Winans '59 of Tolland, CT, Edward and Alma (Filied) Woodward '43/41 of North Grosvenordale, CT, Verne S. Snow '31 of Warwick, RI and George Sell (non-alumnus) of Lincoln, RI.

Hahnel ’44 of Lewiston are serving as Co-Chairmen for the State of Maine. Mrs. McIntosh, formerly assistant director of the General Alumni Association is married to Donald W. McIntosh ’50 and is very active in many areas of state education. Mr. Hahnel is president of Hahnel Brothers Roofing and Sheet Metal Company and Bangor Roofing Company. Married to Julia Shores ’49, he and his wife are very active in alumni activities.
"Fill the Steins to Dear Old Maine"

Athletic grants-in-aid are approved

by Margaret R. Zubik '71

Heated trustee debates, pleased athletic administrators, slanted student editorials and some dissenting voices marked the recent passage of the trustee's decision to allow non-need athletic grants-in-aid at UMO.

Maine now joins all other Yankee Conference schools and hundreds of other schools around the country that subsidize athletes on a non-need or above need basis.

Granted by the trustees was the possible awarding of $25,000 in grants-in-aid per year on a non-need basis. The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) allows the largest single grant to be equivalent to the cost of one year's tuition, fees and room and board. In Maine's case, President Howard R. Neville has stated that the funds would probably be allocated in partial grants not ten full stipends, making it therefore possible to have as many as 40 grants.

The fight for passage began in July when the question of non-need aid to athletes was submitted to the Board of Trustees by President Neville and was reviewed by the Student Affairs Committee. Committee chairman Dr. Stanley J. Evans recommended the proposal to the board for passage with the stipulation that the grants be awarded under the strict rules of the Yankee Conference for a trial period of five years. Under these rules there is strict surveillance of the athlete to maintain an academically sound record. The board's vote was a deadlocked 6 to 6, with many of the opposing stated that they had not had time to study the proposal.

On September 25 the board did pass the proposal with a 9 to 5 vote giving UMO the okay for the first time in 114 years to award athletic grants. Opposing trustees John C. Donovan, Mrs. Susan R. Kominsky, Dr. Carroll R. McGary, Ms. Cynthia Murray-Beliveau and Dr. Nils Y. Wessel reiterated their arguments voiced at the previous meeting.

Dr. Wessel, the most vocal of the opposition, said, "Any payment over and above the need is indefensible, whether it be to a flute player or a drum majorette." Accusations were made that Maine would be getting into professionalism or "pay for play" and that there was potential for possible abuse.

Proponents both on the board and off argued that Maine should be given a chance to compete on a scale with other Yankee Conference schools which have been awarding such grants. Accounts of how Maine has lost much talent through enticing scholarship offers from other schools have been cited.

President Neville says he is very much in favor of the aid proposal because he believes it will make UMO competitive in sports and that a winning team would also increase alumni interest in the University. Chancellor Donald R. McNeil supported the proposal also for reasons of upgrading the competitive sports status of the campus.

A very different view is held by Prof. Walter Schoenberger, faculty representative on the Student Affairs Committee, who says, "Maine is already competitive with other Yankee Conference schools. We have had winning teams many times in several areas and winning is competitive." Though he is a sports fan, he opposed the proposal which he fears could lead to bigtime athletics which he believes would not be good for Maine. Schoenberger ran a survey to search out a consensus from the faculty on the question. His returned surveys ran nearly two to one in favor of the proposal.

On the other end of the scale there were those who were disgruntled over the passage because in their minds the $25,000 allowed for grants would not be sufficient to make UMO competitive. Columnist Bob Moorehead in the Maine Sunday Telegram suggested the figure of $100,000 should be reached for yearly aid to athletes.

Some of the most biting criticism of the proposal came from students, and in particular, the student newspaper, The Maine campus. It was this paper that coined the word "athleteships" in one of its earlier anti-non-need scholarship editorials, as the term for an awarding of funds to student athletes exclusively on a non-need basis.

The source of the to-be-allocated $25,000 is to be private, through alumni and friends, stated Neville as he attempted to allay the fears of those trustees who questioned whether funds would be drained from academic sources. This also was the concern of Pam Kelly, a student representative from the Augusta campus on the Student Affairs Committee who believes there should be concern that the money might be diverted from sources serving student needs.

The vehicle for these private monies is the Black Bear Hall of Fame, an athletic aid program supported by alumni which was authorized by the Board of Trustees in 1971 on a need basis. For every dollar that is awarded to an athlete there needs to be additional dollars in reserve to carry on the scholarship for the remaining college years of the player.

Therefore, only a third of the money in the Hall of Fame can be awarded each year as grants. The current balance of the fund is $21,000, which in itself could fund $7,000 in grants-in-aid. Harold Westerman, director of physical education and athletics, hopes this total can be at least doubled for next fall to about $45,000, which would make $15,000 in aid available.

Another avenue of funding can be made on an endowed basis to the University, through which the interest on the gift would be used to provide grants to athletes.

According to Lester J. Nadeau '59, executive director of the General Alumni Association, the athletic department will be working closely with the alumni office with programs of appeal for the alumni with athletic interests.

With officials not certain about the amount of funds to be available, no definite plans have been made as to how many grants will be awarded or on which sports will the aid fall for next year. Westerman has said that the aid will be divided among many sports, not just used to bolster one or two specific teams.

The first step has been taken. UMO is now authorized to award the equivalent of $25,000 in non-need or above-need aid to athletes. This year the building of the funds will take place and next fall UMO should see the execution of the long sought after athletic grants-in-aid.
Campus Capsules

The Board of Trustees has authorized the building of a center to house the UMO Honors Program, which was part of a proposal submitted by President Neville that will strengthen and more adequately define the program’s actions and goals. The honors program’s new home was designed by the agricultural engineering students and will be built with student labor.

Escort training for potential professional tour guides was offered this fall in the first course of its kind in the country. The fifteen-week course concentrated on training guides for the New England states, the Atlantic Provinces of Canada and Quebec in the areas of regional geography, history, government and economics, as well as the procedures and practices of tourism, customs and immigration.

The new dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Gordon A. Haaland, was named this fall. Formerly chairman of the psychology department at the University of New Hampshire, Haaland received his A.B. degree from Wheaton College in Illinois in 1962 and his Ph. D. degree from the State University of New York at Buffalo in 1966. He succeeds Dr. John J. Nolde, who was dean for seven years before returning to a professorship in the history department.

Watergate and its aftermath have entered the classrooms at UMO as part of a course on American Constitutional Law. The constitutional questions of impeachment have greatly enlivened the course according to course instructor Dr. Eugene Mawhinney ‘47. The journalism and psychology departments have also made revisions with certain courses to include the many Watergate related questions.

Dr. Eldred W. Hough, former dean of the College of Engineering and Science, will become the first professor of petroleum engineering at Saudi Arabia's College of Petroleum and Minerals in Dhahran. He was invited by the Saudi Arabian government to initiate a program of study in petroleum engineering and to establish a research laboratory for teaching and service purposes. He is on a one year's leave of absence from UMO.

Personnel are puzzled at the ROTC department on campus since this fall's enrollment experienced a surprising 28 per cent increase. Currently 115 students, including 17 women, are enrolled. Reasons for the large increase are not forthcoming from the personnel, but Maj. John E. Winslow, assistant professor of military science, says, "Perhaps with the youngsters coming into college, Vietnam is a lifetime away and not so much an issue."

The Empress Farah of Iran was presented with a watercolor done by Professor Vincent A. Hartgen as a gift from Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Elliott. Dr. Elliott, former president of UMO, is the president of The George Washington University in Washington, D.C. and visited Iran to present a Doctor of Public Service degree to the Shah of Iran.

A new house has opened on campus this fall that is not a fraternity or sorority house but rather a child care center. Funds for the center have come from both the student government and the AI Stodder Fund. The center is free for those children who are eligible under Title IV A of the Social Security Act of the Priority Social Services Program. Work study and volunteer students work with the paid director of the center to care for the 20 children.

A family course on energy conservation is being offered at UMO this fall for no credit but for many good reasons. Insulating techniques and products, efficient use of electricity and the effect of humidity/condensation control are the topics to be discussed. A $10 registration will be offset by large savings in energy conservation for many families enrolled.

The night before Halloween held a special treat for Orono students this year because it was passed that classes on the afternoon of Oct. 30 would be cancelled in order to have some time in mid-semester to “let a little steam off” for both students and faculty. Games, contests, special meals in the dormitories and live music were scheduled for the afternoon.

Top academic and sports honors were presented to fraternities Oct. 28 at the Fraternity Board honors banquet. Alpha Tau Omega was presented with the Sigma Chi Foundation Scholastic Trophy because their 70 members collectively attained a 2.80 grade point average. The B. C. Kent Memorial Athletic Trophy or All-Points Trophy, was awarded for the fifth consecutive year to Phi Eta Kappa. This award, established by alumnus Benjamin C. Kent, is awarded to the fraternity scoring highest overall in the intramural sports.

A Graduate Center has been established at Estabrooke Hall to better meet the needs of the graduate population on campus. The center will cater to the social, academic and cultural areas of graduate student life. A graduate student office, a program for career placement and the initiation of an intramural sports program are all part of the program which has placed a greater emphasis on the graduate student.

The Department of Residential Life is sponsoring a tutorial service program manned by students for students. An experimental tutoring service by students was very successful last year and showed a clear need for an expanded program. Over 75 students are participating in the tutoring which is designed as a one-credit course for the tutors, entitled Volunteer Student Involvement.

The Maine Public Broadcasting Network hopes to relocate in a new $2.9 million building on campus if the Maine legislatur approves a construction proposal which was submitted by Chancellor Donald R. McNeil. The Board of Trustees approved the plan which is being proposed because of an acute lack of space in their current quarters in Alumni Hall. A possible relocation site being considered is as an addition to the proposed Performing Arts Center.

Ruth Crosby publishes Yankee trilogy

From an Old Leather Trunk by Ruth Crosby, Professor Emerita of English at UMO. She taught English from 1929 to 1962. The Christopher Publishing House, North Quincy, Mass. $5.95 illus.

"In an unused workshop at our Red House in Bethel, Maine, is an old brown leather trunk with a rounded top. . . From it came Samuel Rugg's Family Register. . . The Journals kept by Clara Newhall and Benjamin Conant during their association with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe . . . And finally from it came Daisy A. Crosby's A Brief History."

From these documents, some dating as far back as 1801, Ruth Crosby has compiled a family trilogy detailing the colorful lives of five generations of New Englanders. Staunch, stubborn and creative, these individuals are remarkable for their solidarity in matters of family, religion and state and for their devotion to beauty and quietude, both in nature and in themselves.

From the vitality of Samuel Rugg, with his inventions, opinions, and manifold interests, to the staunchness of his great grand-daughter, Daisy Crosby, one can trace the same delightful streak of good humor and energy throughout. But, again, it is their assortment of interests and their ever continuing capacity to enjoy life which is most heartening to the reader.

Part One—Tory Patriot—is derived from information supplied by a patent, a lecture, and a notebook of miscellaneous jottings. It shows Samuel Rugg of Lancaster, Massachusetts, to have been a man of many talents: a Tory in politics but a patriot from his youth and an ardent admirer of Washington, a farmer, an inventor, a storekeeper, a toll collector, a student of the Bible, an amateur physician and dentist, a musician, and a poet.

Part Two—Old Folks' Honeymoon—is based on family letters and the journals of Samuel Rugg's granddaughter, Clara Newhall, of South Reading, now Wakefield, and Benjamin Conant of Littleton. It describes their association with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe, their marriage, and their subsequent tour of England with the singing group.

Finally, in Part Three, Ruth Crosby shares with us an intimate, life-long account of her mother, Daisy Conant Crosby, along with pictures and excerpts from her personal diary. It is aptly titled A Mother's Image, but Ruth Crosby does more than give the reader a personal account of her mother. Instead, she traces the tender, courageous story of a young woman and family, from her early childhood until her ninety-sixth year (1968)—a unique story.

Clifford G. McIntire '30 dies at 66

Clifford G. McIntire, former Maine Republican Congressman and member of the class of 1930, died on Oct. 1, 1974 in a Bangor Hospital after a fall he took on Sept. 23 at his home in Perham, Me. The 66-year-old agriculture specialist had recently been appointed by President Ford to serve on the Board of Directors of the new U.S. Railway Association.

McIntire received an honorary LL.D. in 1955 from UMO and was also bestowed honorary degrees from both Bowdoin and Maine Maritime Academy. A graduate in agronomy at Maine, he was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity and was a potato farmer before joining Congress.

From 1933-47 he worked with the Farm Credit Administration in Springfield, Mass. In 1947 he became the assistant general manager of the Maine Potato Growers. His congressional career began in 1951 and continued until 1964. During that time he served on the House Agriculture Committee. From 1965-72 he was the director of the National Resources Department of the American Farm Bureau Federation (AFBF). Then for two years before his retirement in 1974 he was the AFBF legislative director in Washington.

The Black Bear Award for outstanding loyalty and devotion to UMO was presented to him in 1971. He was a past president of the Northern Aroostook Alumni Association. He served on the Alumni council from 1948-62. He is survived by his wife, Wilda Holts McIntire, one son, Blynn ’57 of Dallas, Tex.; one daughter, Mrs. Malcolm (Patrice) Andrews ’58, of North Smithfield, R.I.; one brother, Smith McIntire ’32 of Perham, one sister and six grandchildren.

Young alumna joins the Board of Trustees

Ms. Cynthia Murray-Beliveau ’70 of Wayne was confirmed as a member of the Board of Trustees for the University of Maine in September. She is a guidance counselor at the Winthrop School System and received her master’s degree in counseling and guidance in 1973 from UMO.

Ms. Murray-Beliveau, who replaced Mrs. Lucina Cormier on the board, is the youngest trustee. This newest member joined the Board of Trustees amidst the fight over non-need athletic grants-in-aid which at the Sept. 25 meeting she voted against.

Cooper scholarship fund established

In a bequest from the estate of Gladys R. Cooper of Belfast, widow of the late Ralph L. Cooper ’03, a Memorial Scholarship Fund has been established in the amount of $71,739. The income from this fund is to be used annually for needy and deserving scholars (male or female) who are residents of the city of Belfast, Maine, who are graduates of the Belfast Area High School, and who are desirous of attending UMO. Ralph Cooper, the owner of a retail lumber business in Belfast for many years, died in 1947. The name of the fund is the Gladys R. Cooper Memorial Scholarship Fund.

A call for award nominations

Albert M. Parker ’28, chairman of the Nominations Committee, is asking all alumni to come forth with nominations for the awards given by the General Alumni Association each year to honor its loyal and distinguished alumni.

The Black Bear Award is given for outstanding loyalty and spirit to UMO. A maximum of five Black Bears will be awarded in 1975. The deadline for nominations is March 1. Mrs. C. Donald Stebbins ’46 of Winchester, Mass. is chairman of the selection committee.

The Block “M” award is for service to the University through work with local associations, the class and the General Alumni Association. As many as nine Block “M” awards can be granted in one year. The deadline for these nominations is also March 1. Mrs. Harrison "Peg" Homans ’54 of Bangor is serving as chairman for the selection committee.

An outstanding record in professional business, civic or other public service is the criteria for selecting the recipient of the Alumni Career Award. Raymond R. Couture ’51 of Reading, Mass. is chairman of the selection committee which is asking for nominations to come in by Dec. 13.

All nominations can be sent to the General Alumni Association, North Hall, Alumni Center, University of Maine, Orono, Me. 04473 in care of the committee chairman.

SPORTS

John R. Huard ’67 (center) on the sidelines coaching the Black Bear football team at one of the home games this fall.

Huard comes back to Maine to coach

John R. Huard, known to many in 1965 when he was middle linebacker named to the Little All-American team and went with the Black Bears to the Tangerine Bowl to win the Lambert Cup, was back on the football field at Alumni Field this fall as assistant varsity football coach.

The 1967 alumnus was drafted by the Denver Broncos of the AFL after graduation from UMO and was coached by Lou Saban, now coach for the Buffalo Bills. He immensely enjoyed professional ball and called it a “dream come true” to play but opted for the position on the UMO coaching staff because he was unhappy about the continuous hassles with contracts. After four years with the Broncos he was traded to the New Orleans Saints. Following an injury playing with the Saints he became a free agent and played with the Montreal Alouettes in the Canadian Football League for two years.

Huard holds two records that still stand today in UMO football. They are for the most unassisted tackles in one season, 105, in 1965 and for the most assists on tackles in one game, 12, also set in 1965 against Vermont.

The major differences between playing college and professional ball, Huard says, are the ability to move and hit. The Black Bears, with Huard’s coaching assistance this season, brought in a four win and six loss season, with a highlight being a 7-0 victory against UCONN on their field—which has not happened in twenty years.
You make the difference!

We are indebted to the Alumni Office for a roll call of the living members of 1908 whose addresses are on file in the office. The number totals 16 including two from the College of Law and one from the School of Agriculture in Agriculture. In addition, two members whose addresses are not known. A list of the 16 may be obtained by writing me.
During the summer: George K. Stockpole '24 and his wife Dorothy, Raymond H. Fogler '15, John E. Stinchfield '33, former President Arthur A. Hauck, two members of Phi Eury's family. Lawrence '42 and Elizabeth, and Theodore S. Curtis '23, made pizza calls. Ted brought fresh vegetables from his garden. The Alumni Office lists William L. Waldron, Law., and Leslie W. Sargent as living at the same retirement home, Havenwood, 33 Christian Avenue, Concord, N H.

The Alumni Office also received word that Allen M. Knowles, class Secretary of 1940, has resigned his post. He is suffering from poor health but enjoys being at a "home" in Winter Park, Florida. Best Wishes.

Had a visit with Arthur "Rick" Richardson and his wife Ann at their fine place in Owls Head, Me. As usual they had members of the family with them and Franes and I met their daughter and grandson from Virginia. Later their son and wife from India came for a visit. Rick and Ann plan to return to their home in New York on Park Ave. sometime in October. Ernie and Catherine Walker spent the summer at their place at Mirror Lake, N H. Ernie sold his fine apartment in Ft. Lauderdale, Fl., and put their furriture in storage. They are considering spending the winter in Arizona because the region should be much better for his health in winter. The Conleys spent the summer at their home in Freeport, Me. Albert is not too phone and Marilyn said that they might stay in Maine as they might not be able to travel to their fine home in Sarasota, Florida. Talked with Raymond Buck by phone and he seems to be well and somewhat active around his home in Monmouth, Me. He plans to spend the winter at his place as some of his children and grandchildren live nearby in the same region. Received a copy of a letter that "Nemo" Smith thoughtfully sent to Ben Whitney who was in the Bangor Hospital for old folks. Ben's wife Hazel went to see him every day and said that the letter pleased him greatly. We were sorry to learn that Ben passed away on Oct. 2, 1974 (See In Memoriam) at the age of 90. He served as a captain in the engineers during WWI and was with the Maine Central Railroad for years. Flowers will be sent to the services by his former classmates. Bertha and "Nemo" Smith went to Myrtle Beach, Fl. for a week or so in September to look at the ocean instead of the Smoky Mts. for a change of scenery.

The garden seeds, sent to your secretary by George Wardes this spring are now six large yellow squash in the cellar and jars of canned beans as well as packages of beans in the freezer! The beans turned out to be 19 purple potted pole beans and a step ladder was needed to reach the topmost beans! It was lots of fun watching the "mystery" bean seeds develop.

Please drop a card to class president, Warren McDonald, 9 Kendtrowth St., Portland, Me. 04102, with a word of cheer.

MR. GEORGE C. CLARKE

Cromwell, Conn. 06416

I was highly honored at the recent convention of the New England District of Kiwanis. At Springfield, Mass. I was the recipient of the New England District Governors award, for outstanding service to the New England District of Kiwanis and to his fellow Kiwanians. "Give of Yourself". Also for 50 years of perfect attendance. I was a head table guest at the Legion of Honor Luncheon. There were 1,500 men and women in attendance at the Kiwanis convention.

Percy E. Jackman whose home is at 31 Calais Ave., Calais Me. 04619, notified us of a temporary change of address at 33571 Windlass Dr. of Laguna Munique, Calif. 92677. He majored in horticulture at the University of Maine and graduated in 1913. His daughters, Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Ranks are graduates of the University.

He is in fine health but was hospitalized in 1974 for two months. His nickname while in college was "Deak". He was married in Sept. 1914. He was a Mason listed under York Rites. He also was a railroad clerk for five years, a greenhouse operator for twenty-five years, a news correspondent for fifteen years and a freelance writer for twenty-five years.

Pep Tower has a new address and would like to hear from any and all at Knopp Nursing Home, Liano Road, Fredericksburg, Texas 78624. Ted Haskell writes, "I finally sold most of my business activities and fully retired. Am fully enjoying the experience and keeping up outside activities by chipping in for the chairing rabbits out of the garden." Estelle Beaufre wrote "I was the only one of our class registered on the bulletin board at June Reunion." Aileen Libby still lives in Milford, Me. Besides visiting her daughter in Westbrook, she has a son and family who "live in town near enough to keep me in line and report my misdeemors to the rest of the family."

Nick Makanna writes, "Oct. 7 will mark my fifty years with the Wall St. Journal where I am on a semi-retired basis, coming to N.Y.C. one or two days a week." Nick's new address is 33 Greenlawn Rd. Huntington, N. Y. 11743. Tubby Leach and wife celebrated their 60th Wedding Anniversary July 25. He wrote, "I have been retired 18 years from the N.Y. Tel. Co. We spend seven months in Florida and five months in Bronxville. Our family, two children, five grandchildren and seven great grandchildren gave us a party on July 25th." Mario Martellini planned to be in Orono in June but was dethroned by the illness of his sister. The Martellini's have a granddaughter entering U. of N. C. at Chapel Hill with two others to follow in 1976 and 1978. Mario writes, "All of my boys are Duke grads but the girls seem to prefer Carolina."

A telegram to me from Mark Pendleton in August found him and his wife in good health at their Isbsexboro home. A call on "Hoss" Hall, Owls Head found him living the life of "Riley" enjoying all that the Maine coast offers in summer. He scribe recently received a citation from the N.H. Fed. of Garden Clubs for "his special contributions to the work of the Bowl Garden Club, especially with regards to the Nature Trail, the preservation of saplings and recycling." So be it. If any of you lack the addresses of classmates drop me a line. There are 34 of us on the list.

Two of our class workers have been distinguished with special merits: Dr. H. H. Beverage who was connected with RCA until his retirement in 1958 on Feb. 23, 1954 was awarded the "Marconi Memorial Gold Medal" of Honor by the Veteran's Wireless Operator's Association. N. W. Kneeland, a member of the "Gold Phoenix Club" and Lapacita Chi Alpha for the many years on August 13, 1954 was awarded the "Order of Merit" for his outstanding and distinguished services with the fraternity. Congratulations with your Alma Mater's award of reknown.

Mrs. Lucretia Weaver reports having had eye surgery last summer and can now see well with limited ability.

Please send any information of any known classmates to the alumni address, the number of classmates unaccounted for members. Please answer my letters even though nothing special to report.

Fred Holmes Curtis '16 was honored on May 24, 1974 with the awarding of the Block "M" alumni service award on Cape Cod. Fred was an active undergraduate in the Marine CAMPUS and the FRSM. He was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, the German club, the Sophomore Owls and Junior Masks. He worked for insurance and advertising companies and is now active in the Veterans service. He joined the Navy in 1944 and became a master chief in 1947. He married in 1944 and moved to Cape Cod in 1955. His daughter, Elizabeth, is a math major at the University of Massachusetts. Fred and his wife, Mary, have three children: David, a lawyer in Boston; John, a college student; and Elizabeth, a teacher in New York City. Fred is a member of the alumni association and enjoys attending alumni events whenever possible.

Dear Classmates, I am barely back in time to meet the deadline for The Alumnus, after having attended the Class of 1919 Reunion. I have been busy with the Alumni Association, taking part in the annual meeting, who's 100th anniversary was celebrated in 1974. I have been active in the alumni association, helping to organize and coordinate various events throughout the year. I have also been involved in the Alumni Association's efforts to raise money for the college's new science building.

Sister Marybelle awaits your attendance at the annual meeting, which will take place on Saturday, October 1st. I look forward to seeing many of you there.

Sincerely,

Marybelle

Once more congratulations in order for Mr. R. Lawler for his story in the October issue of the SATURDAY EVENING POST. In his letter Mark writes: "Got your note today. The October issue of the SATURDAY EVENING POST has another of my stories. It is called "Line of Inheritance." The only short story in the world which might be is that I went to the Fox Hollow Folk Festival at Petersburg, N.Y. last summer and among other things heard Gordon Bok read one of Ruth Moore's poems. Ruth Moore lives in Bass Harbor, Maine. She is a novelist as well as a poet.

From Ralph Wilkins comes this note: "Last winter was an eventful one for my wife and me. We had an operation on her eyes for both cataracts and glaucoma. I have been having poor electrocardiogram reports so have had a pacemaker installed. It is working beautifully. My pulse got down to 35 and sometimes skipped 20 times a minute. Now it is 72 all the time. I guess that you can say I am an electric man. We are returning to Florida Oct. 31. I see more Maine graduates than there I do up here in the North. I am looking forward to the monthly meetings of U. of M. folks in St Pete."

Mr. Collins says: "There is nothing special that I can say except that it is time to change from the cold weather of Maine to the warm Florida sun. Minnie and I will be flying to Venice of Oct. 9 for the fifth year. The warmer weather is, of course, one of the principal attractions of Florida. Becky (Hitchings) Lunney visited in Caribou and we had a very pleasant evening with her and her sister Elizabeth Hitchings. I think it is great for you to keep up new news of the Class of 1919." Sun and Minnie were at Homecoming on Oct. 4 and 5.

As for me, I have just retired as legislative chairman for the Massachusetts Retired Teachers Association after serving seven years in that capacity. You might say that I retired in a blaze of glory, so to speak, since six of our bills out of eight were passed. Included was an excellent cost-saving adjustment. Of course I had a great deal of help from other groups which were beneficiaries. As Massachusetts State Director for the National Retired Teachers Association I am now busy visiting the RTA chapters all over the Bay State. Other meetings are also taking quite a lot of my time, but I like to meet the older folks as I go around.

News gets scarcer all the time, so I would be most appreciative if more of the class members would send me a few lines without my "begging" for them.

From George Ginsberg: "Our oldest grandson Michael Kahn, participated with the Browne-Nichols Crew of Cambridge, Mass. at the Nottingham and Henley Regattas in the Thames, London—and did well. He enters Harvard this year. His brother, Jonathan was touring Ireland and Wales at same time so he went to see him at the regatta. He returns to Browne-Nichols for his 3rd year. Our granddaughter Susan returned to Buckingham School after 8 weeks at Camp Hiawatha, Porter. Lee and I shall be leaving for St. Petersburg Beach early October."

Do re-read George’s class of August 30.

Roger Castle: "Gin and 1, along with 4 other couples, including Lois ’23 and “Jack” Jackson, had a whole week’s fishing in July in Canada. A great time—with our limit in fish! Flagpole’s up and ready.”

Our congratulations to Lois (Mantor ’23) and H. Laton Jackson on their 50th. Their daughters, Peggy ’49 and Barbara (’53) Stephens celebrated the happy occasion with a surprise party at the latter’s hope in Brunswick on August 11. Your secretary welcomes any news of 1921!

My return home yesterday from our yearly pilgrimage to look at the hills surrounding Whitefield, New Hampshire, always leaves me feeling so insignificant and sad because man cannot duplicate the beauty we saw, in the past three days, of this yearly panorama in colors. Words cannot describe these views.

Miss Margaret R. Webber of Mount Vernon sent a letter to me in which she stated that her mother Mrs. Ella C. Barnes Webber died on May 3. 1974. She was the widow of Elmer H. Webber, class of 1915 and a Maine educator. Mrs. Webber, a native of Hollis, graduated from Gorham Normal and taught in Hollis and Mapleton High.

She had lived in Mount Vernon for 31 years and for several was assistant librarian at the Dr. Shaw Memorial Library there.

Mrs. Webber had expressed her appreciation when she received our 50th year certificate although not able to attend. She attended summer sessions but was with us in 1921 and 1922.

She is survived by two daughters, twelve grandchildren, and four great grandchildren. Attending UMO was one granddaughter, Sue Williams Felicia ’68 and one grandson Clyde Hubbard Williams ’65. This daughter of Maine had many accomplishments and wasted no time over her busy life. We are grateful that Mrs. Webber’s daughter wrote this letter to us.

Harriet True recently had an interesting letter from Frances Varney which told of her Amazon adventure. This included paddling a dugout canoe, seeing natives with blowguns, hiking in the jungle led by a native who cleared the way with a machete, canoeing at night and jacking the eyes of alligators with flashlights. All this to the sounds of frogs, monkeys and parrots. She says the Amazon Basin is the largest unexplored area on earth.

Ervin Stuart is Co-ordinator of Visual Aids and in charge of the follow-up program at the Sarasota County

Vocational-Technical Center in Sarasota, Fla. They expect ten thousand people to use these facilities this year. Ervin writes “I am very proud to be a part of this complex and work with very fine people. It is fun and keeps me young.” He also mentioned that the Maine luncheon will be held on February 7th and Les Nadeau will be the speaker. (See Local Association listings.)

After attending the class reunion, John A. Small flew to Tempe, Arizona, where he attended the American Biology Institute meeting and field trips. He spent some time with the Green Mountain Club and the Appalachian Mountain Club and had a canoe trip with his daughter and her husband. His address is Box 65, Franklin Park, N. J. 08823. Alice Stanley Dunham reports that a broken shoulder from a fall kept her out of circulation for ten weeks. She would like to hear from classmates at 3900 North Ocean Drive, Fort Lauderdale, Florida 33308. The Ayers and Brustemers continued the reunion idea by getting together twice during the summer at their New Hampshire cottages.

Ann Green Robinson ’24 is "On the Go"

Ann Green Robinson ’24 of Teaneck, N. J. has often appeared on the television show “For Women Only” probably because she has shown that the business, civic and media worlds are NOT for MEN only!

With her husband Adolf Robison (Columbia University), president of Robison-Anton Textile Co. in Fairview, N.J., she has followed a career of civic works that not only encompasses New Jersey and New York but has spread to many parts of the globe where she has become an unofficial ambassador of goodwill from the United States. It is difficult to begin talking about Ann Robison’s civic affiliations because of their vastness and diversity.

Ann received her master’s degree from Columbia University in 1936. Her connections with institutions of higher education have remained strong through her active participation on advisory boards and committees with Rutgers State University of New Jersey, Fairleigh Dickinson University, the American Association of University Women, and the American Association of Jewish Education.

Your secretary is the State Registrar of the Maine Daughters of the American Revolution and is compiling a book listing all the Revolutionary ancestors of all Maine members of the DAR that have been proved for the DAR.

Do please send me some news for our next issue of the Alumns.

Ted Valets, former state representative for the Melrose district in Mass., reported a great good time at our 50th reunion.

Our class extends its sympathy to the family of Carleton Merritt, “Speed” was one of our very loyal members. He was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. (See In Memoriam)
“Hap” and Drew were honored as Gold “M” recipients. Drew also received a special plaque as the only 10-letter man in the University’s history of athletics. Other recipients of the Gold “M” this year, but not present were Frank Lincoln, Fred Soderberg, Ben English, and Dale Zysman.

Vela Fisk attended the workshop committee on nutrition in connection with the Blaine House Conference on Aging. Velma has been very busy with the Meals For Me, (Maine Elderly) program in the area. A letter from Anne Thurston Henderson makes “My Day” seem like a vacation! In addition to the many organizations in which she has membership, she is sec.-treas. of Quechee Cemetery Assn., as well as treasurer of the Eastern Star of New Hampton. Mrs. Fisk will find Ann and Merrill Florida bound for the winter.

I have enjoyed the poems, old photographs and letters sent to the Elderberry Times, (a Senior Citizen weekly printed in Old Town and several communities nationwide) by Ray Burton. Was disappointed not to see Ray at the River Drivers supper in Lincoln in July.

Class Prexy, Bob Haskell, makes news again! This time he was named “Maine Man of the Year” by the Maine Council of the New England Council. John Grant ’48, president of Merrill Bank, made the presentation. Bob is chairman of Merchant’s National Bank and has been president of the Bangor Hydro-Electric Co., since 1958, in addition to directorships in other organizations. UMO awarded Bob an honorary Doctor of Engineering in 1973.

The news I heard at homecoming that Pearl Woodard Fickett is coming to our 50th Reunion is true. The dates are June 6, 7, 8, 1975. Class members will be receiving letters about the event. You all come, too.

Congratulations to our classmate, Mansfield M. Packard, who was presented a Block “M” Alumni Activities Award at a meeting of the Northern Kennebec Alumni Club in Waterville on October 22.

Karl Switzer—I had a brief visit with Mrs. Switzer the other day and learned that Karl is healthy and busy with various activities. The Switzers have two sons, David, who is head of the Social Studies at the University of New Hampshire and son John who is following in his Father’s footsteps in that he is with the park and recreational department in Saco. They also have four grandchildren whom they are enjoying.

I also talked with Wirt B. Ward recently. He felt he had nothing spectacular to offer concerning his life. Like most of us, although retired, he is busy most of the time. One of his activities is singing in the choir of the United Baptist Church. Mark and his wife live in Fairfield, Me. and have four grandchildren near by.

The Heistads—Tryg. and I recently celebrated our 45th wedding anniversary. A small party of family, friends and neighbors came by to celebrate with us. We have decided to try for another 45!

Talked with Edith O’Connor Thaxter for a few minutes and caught up on her summer events. She had been in touch with Florence “Gushe” Taylor and had also talked with Annette Lane. Annette was visiting with Leone ’26 and Al Nutting at Winter Harbor when Al learned their house in Orono had been sold. Annette pitched in with the last of the packing intended for winter. At Orono, summer visitors brought only one 27er to my door. Edith Hoyt Humphrey stopped by for a short call. She was about to take off cross country with her daughter and grandchildren for a visit with her son, and his wife, Professor. Our sympathy to Majoree Bockus and daughter Sue Bockus Mack ’57.

“Cuddy” died Aug. 30 after a long illness. (See In Memoriam) While rushing from the library to my over-parked car I was flagged down by “Bets” Dan Weil. He had been enjoying the summer at Green Lake but was already thinking of Florida for the cooler months. He had seen Bus Coggswell when Bus was in Maine visiting his son, and Bus, thanks for taking the Connecticut names. Recently learned that two of our classmates have weathered hospital sessions. Annette Matthews just couldn’t wait to check up on the facilities and take her machines to the “Distinguished Engineering Service Award.” James Ward, Editor of the Jackson Daily News, after offering congratulations on his election to the House, said, “We have an intense personal interest in the honor bestowed upon Mr. Howard, for he lives just across the street at 326 Naples Road. As a mere sample of our feelings on this street for them, let this be said: A person would have to be extremely selfish to want desire in one lifetime better neighbors than Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Howard. That’s saying a lot but we mean every word of it.” Thanks for finally sharing such good news.

Through the Alumni office a note from Jack Carpenter: “We returned from retiring in Indonesia a year ago and now expect to stay put; making maple syrup, growing Christmas trees and doing a little traveling.” And also a class note from Ken Proctor: “Retired from position of Administrator Technical Laboratory U. S. Naval Shipyard, Philadelphia, Pa. in 1965. Have traveled extensively with Airstream trailer in U. S. and Canada since that time. Everett and Louise have sold their home in Westerly and except for two months in the summer will be in Fort Lauderdale. Whenever Everett wrote in Nov. ’73 they were headed for Oklahoma City to be ready for the arrival of their first grandchild. Due to a blizzard they stranded them in a motel for 48 hours. Cori Elizabeth Brown arrived and was waiting to greet her grandparents. Hate to think of Christmas while I’m still struggling with the cottage but if it is to get to you before 1975 here goes—’Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.’”

Lawrence M. Cutler chairman of the board of trustees of the U. of M. at Orono since 1963 received an honorary doctor of law degree from Colby in June. In the citation Colby President Robert E. L. Strider said “his commitment to higher education reveals a dimension beyond his professional service to his community.” And so say all of us.

American International College in Springfield Mass. has announced that a new Mathematics Department Award will be named the Harold E. Bowe Award. After a year’s struggle in 1966 in Maine with the death of his birthplace, Durham, Maine, where he is presently living. Since returning to Maine he has taught math courses for the Maine Continuing Education Division.

Saw Matthew William this summer. He is still dispensing justice as a District judge and presided at the opening of a housing development in town. I attended my 50th from Foxcroft Academy so that means we have been over three years to plan our 50th at Orono.

I’d like to hear from Tom Medeiros and Raynor FitzHugh in Florida and Tommy Bates and Gordon Walker in Virginia. Something must be going on in the sun spots.

Your correspondent’s face is very, very, RED. When listing our class officers for the next few years as elected at our 45th reunion in our column in the last Alumnus, by oversight I omitted the name of our Class Treasurer Roderic C. O’Connor. My sincere and humble apologies to Rod.

The heartfelt sympathy of all members of 1929 is extended to Alice Webster Sinclair, whose husband, Hon. Roy Sinclair, passed away last June at the time of our Second Century Fund.

George S. Cunningham was a candidate in the June primaries for the Democratic nomination for representative to Legislature for District 78, and lost the nomination by fifty votes. It is true. A member of the mathematics at UMO and teaches part time. He is also a director for the Maine division of the U. S. chess team, coaches chess at UMO and hopes to have his hobby telecast on national TV this year. Lawrence Rosen is a very active director in the Regional Medical Program in the Bucksport area.

Our Class President H. Richard FitzMorris wishes to express his thanks to the several classmates, representing most of his fraternity and sorority friends, for their efforts in contacting fraternity brothers and sorority sisters and getting them to attend our reunion.

Whitney L. Wheeler, who was aboard the Maine Maritime Academy’s training ship during her first voyage to Russia last summer, has made several speaking engagements before service clubs, etc., since his return from his experiences. On August 14, he spoke before the Brewer Kiwanis Club and your correspondent had the pleasure of introducing him.

Ward F. Snow of Blue Hill is a Team Captain in the Second Century Fund.

I have not heard from too many of our classmates since our reunion, but I do want to thank Victor MacNaught and Harold Pierce for their letters, in which they have sent me snapshots taken during our reunion.

THE MEETING in August at our home was a success. We have just returned from a trip to Europe in time to meet the deadline for the fall Alumnus. It was a nice trip especially around the Mediterranean, but is good to be home again now. Sorry I have no activities to report. I am busy with Homemaking but I hope I will get reports from some of you.

Again I must report the death of one of our most outstanding classmates. C. E. McIntire died recently at Eastern Maine Medical Center where he had been in a coma for eight days since a head-first fall from a ladder while working on his home in Perham. President Ford had named him to DEA and his death was a great loss to the state, of the Maine, and the nation. We are grateful for the many years he gave for all of us.

Among the retirees at UMO Commencement in June were Henry Plummer, Associate Professor and Forestry Specialist, School of Forest Resources, and Professor Elizabeth Murphy, Food Sciences. We wish them well in their years of retirement.
Horace Means of Sedgwick is serving as Team Captain in the Second Century Fund.

Vera Hill retired July 31. She had been librarian at the Orono Public Library for 28 years. Prior to that she had been employed at the UMO Library until 1946.

I have a note awaiting me from Paul Wodsworth. After attending the National Rural Mail Carriers Convention in Knoxville, Tenn., he celebrated his 50th class reunion at Fryeburg Academy on Aug. 23. He and his wife went to Lawrence Boothby's home in South Livermore where they enjoyed a get-together with six other couples. Others who attended were the Cliff McIntires, the Ralph Corbetts, the Ken Hankells, and the George Fryeburges.

George Dodge had not seen any of the group except Paul since 1930. I’m sure it was a happy time and thanks for the letter. We’ll look forward to seeing you all next June for our 45th.

A special note must be made of the great honor bestowed on our classmate Dr. Louise Bates Ames by the General Alumni Association. At the Homecoming Weekend she was presented with the 1974 Alumni Career Award, which is a beautiful Atmos clock. She was quite a “sensation” at the dinner and during the weekend. She has had a long distinguished career as a child psychologist and author. She founded the Gesell Institute of Child Development in New Haven, Conn. in 1930 with Dr. Arnold Gesell. She has also done a great deal of television work in addition to the syndicated column she writes for the Virides of newspapers around the country. We are indeed proud that she is a 1931er.

Sorry to report, classmates, that with a single exception you’ve all flunked our correspondence course for this ranking period.

Jacob S. Holmes of Belfast is serving as Waldo County Co-Chairman of the Second Century Fund. Norton Lamb of Cumberland is serving as Region Leader for Cumberland County; and Dr. Donald Marshall, of Bar Mills is serving as Area Chairman for Cumberland County, the Second Century Fund.

Norman Espovich writes from Newburyport, Massachusetts, that he graduated from Boston University Law School in 1932 and was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar the same year. In 1931 he was appointed District Court Judge. I’ll remember the trip I go through Newburyport henceforth, Judge.

The local press has told us of Majoirie (Moore) Jenkins retirement on June 14 from high school teaching at Brewer, Maine after 41 years in the business of education. For the past 12 years Majorie was chairperson of the English Department at Brewer High.

That’s it. Aren’t you ashamed?

The Alumni for the Summer had a group picture of the ’32ers who went to the mini-reunion last June. Wheeler Mullen kindly furnished me with the information of the affair. He and wife Irene (Erne ’34) joined the group there on Saturday at noon and got to Orono for the banquet. Present were Win Libby and Betty, Paul and Kay Butler, Alfred and Helen Gannett, McLean, Donald and Helen (Stearns) Lester, Wills, and Louise Robbins, Harry Paul, and Robert Zottoli ’34. No one gave me any news of any luncheon (as of 1972) but Wheeler did add that later most of the group went to Jett’s between Searsport and Belfast. Wheeler and his wife Irene (Erne ’34) joined the group there on Sunday. I wish I could have been there, sounded interesting. If more of you (I mean YOU) would drop me a line I could have something to write about! Anything about yourself and what you have been doing. Some old pal of yours may enjoy reading the tidbits. This Wheeler for his letter.

Neal Landers wrote into the Alumni office and said he had completed 27 years as Vocational Aggie Instructor at Rockville H.S., Rockville, Conn. Said he couldn’t make the summer reunions because they always came at the wrong time.

I checked the names that have been reported in Notes since ’72 and find that there have been 74 (more or less) recorded. This from 300 (303) classmates—it’s wonderful. What is the reason? One is that many do not contribute to the AAF and so lose out on the Alumnius. Hence no knowledge of the News. So that leaves me higher than the proverbial 2nd. So the next time 2nd the 2nd Quartername some of you filled out and returned. Cedric Arnold has been practicing Law in Lynn, Mass. Says he plans to attend our 50th if his luck holds. Jim Bates, besides initiating their class reunion, is practicing medicine and is Administrator at Eastport Memorial Hosp. Chester Burris retired last August and moved to Florida. Says he beats the high-prices by not boarding.

Harry Burnham is the chief test engineer at the Saco-Lowell Shops, Easley, S.C. and will retire in December 1974. He recently spent some exciting days with Betty in Win Libby in Florida, last February. Retired Loving Chase spends spare moments as a volunteer at a local hospital and library, travels, sails, and entertains his grandchildren.

William W. Johnson of Belfast is serving as Regional Leader for our class from Farmington and to Mrs. W. Easley, R.I. is serving as Regional Chairman for R.I., N.H., Mass., Ct., Vt., and N.Y.; and John D. Dickson, Jr. of Kalamazoo, Michigan is serving as State Chairman for Michigan in the Second Century Fund.

MISS BLANCHE HENRY

Thomaston, Me. 04861

First of all I was very sorry to miss Homecoming—especially the dedication ceremony of the scoreboard at the Stanley M. Wallace Pool—gift of our class.

Mary Carter Stiles ’31 entertained four of us at a delightful luncheon at her house which she keeps up in Thomaston. Grace Quarrington Corey, Lutherta Bur- ton Dawson, Mary Moulton Murphy and myself. Mary and Bill ’32 Murphy have a new address: RDF Res 3, Gorham. She and Bill, like Lutherta, are doing over old houses. Currently Lutherta is on a business trip to D.C. for IRS and is spending a week with Leroy Burton in Laurel. Hypocrites pudo ’30 dropped by. The Persos summer in Warren at their cottage on North Pond.

Evelyn Goodwin Watson and her husband Bart recently returned to our class from Farmington and to Mrs. Robert Mayo (Marjorie Burgess ’32), Robert ’33 died in Phoenix, Arizona and was buried in the village cemetery in Thomaston. (See In Memoriam) Bob and I went to High School together and were neighbors.

Good health to all of you and do try to keep me informed.

I’ve just returned from homecoming, and it was a terrific weekend topped off by Maine’s victory over Rhode Island under sunny skies. It was great to see Claire Sanders, Alice and Ed DeCourcy and Frankie and Don Corbett from ’34. We’re proud to have the national chairman for the alumni phase of the Second Century Fund from our class. Yes, Don Corbett has accepted this tremendous job, and we know he will be a key person in the success of the fund.

He has retired after a notable career as an educator, having spent 37 years as a teacher, guidance counselor, and school administrator in the schools of Agawam and Amherst, Mass. Paul and wife, Betty Kimbrough ’34, live on Butter Hill Rd. in Pelham, Mass. Best wishes for many years of pleasant retirement.

James H. “Bill” Page has been appointed manager of Manufacturing and agronomy studies by Celanese Coatings and Specialties Co. Bill will be working with food marketing personnel in New York and Kentucky. He was recently confirmed to a second, seven-year term as a trustee of the University, and serves as chair- man of the finance committee.

J. Edward DeCourcy was honored by the trustees of the Univ. of New Hampshire on May 12, when he was presented with the Chancellor’s Citation. He has the following things to say: “No one in your profession in New Hampshire more truly exemplifies the ideal of the community newspaper editor. The list of awards you have accumulated, not only local and state but regional, is impressive, as is the catalogue of your civic achievements. But striking as these inventories are, and convincing testimony to your professional skill and human qualities, they are not required here to recognize a man whose place is secured by his perception of what his job as a newspaperman is and the faculties needed to perform it. Your courage, intelligence, kindness, sense of humor are what is fair, and you对于我们社区而言，没有明智还是自我推销，都是我们对你所认识我们社区的可能性，已经拥有独立的责任，这使得你对报纸的支持，" Congratulation, Ed. You bring honor to our class as well as to yourself.

Ed and his wife are serving as Area Chairman for New Hampshire; Norman Pratt of Kezar Falls, is serving as a Team Member; and Stanton R. Sears of Keene, New Hampshire, is Chairman for New Hampshire in the Second Century Fund.

Ernie Dinsmore writes that he is already looking forward to our next reunion, the fortieth, in 1977. As time goes on, yes, that’s not so very far away, hope lots of you are thinking of that date too.

In the September 4th issue of the Bangor Daily News, we enjoyed seeing a picture of Dr. Alice Stewart, smiling but also gazing at the horizon. She was taking the symbolic first shovel of earth for the groundbreaking for the addition to the Fogler Library.

Helen Davis Sullett sent a note with news of her son Eric, who has recently graduated from University of Tennessee with a degree in fine arts and is making plans for graduate school.

Philip R. Mealey retired in the spring from his post as principal of Brewer High School after a thirty-eight year career. He and Mrs. Mealey were honored by friends and co-workers at a buffet supper and social evening at the Dickerer Commons at Husson College. Friends and well wishers from Millinocket were in attendance.

Holiday greetings to everyone, I think it’ll be about that time when this reaches you. And please oh please remember our class column in the Alumnus, and SEND NEWS!

As I write this we are in the throes of a gorgeous weekend. Indian summer, it’s called. The foliage is spectacular but truthfully, it’s a type beauty I can do without. To little, old, practical me it is simply a prelude to ice, snow, more snow, and more cold. . . . which is what we’ll probably have when this issue reaches you.

Natalie Nason of Minot AFB, North Dakota is serving as State Chairman for North Dakota; Frances (Smith) Pierson of Wilmington, Delaware is serving as Team Captain; Douglas J. Wishart of Bel Air, Maryland is State Chairman for Maryland; Thomas E. Lynch of Gate Mills, Ohio is serving as State Chairman for Ohio; Cora (Sharon) Ford of Washington, D.C. is serving as Team Captain; and Robert L. Pulver of Portland, is serving as Cumberland County Co-Chairman in the Second Century Fund.

You people out there are doing horrible things to your class secretary’s psyche because of the absence of letters from you. NOT A SINGLE ONE! It embarrasses me to have to build my column exclusively from tidbits received the the Alumni Office. They are going to think for certain that you forgot me! Why don’t you get those ballpoint pens out of your moth balls REAL SOON and show me that you care?

Helen (Wong) Huang, 847 28th Ave., San Francisco, telephoned me when she was in Bangor to attend her dad’s funeral. Time prevented us from getting together but we did have a nice chat over the phone. I’ve included her address for she’ll be happy to see any of you who travel that way.

Remember those scrumptious meals at the Oriental? Margaret (Williston) Bebek has done it again. For the fifth time she was in July a delegate from the United States to the International Conference of Social Welfare held in Nairobi, Kenya. While in East Africa, she participated in an Ethiopian Study Tour and visited several Game Preserves in Kenya. Margaret makes me ill; she’s so capable!

Lester Felt was recently honored with a testimonial in East Corinth in observance of his retirement after 36 years of teaching Vocational Agriculture in that area. Let’s now hope to travel a bit, continue some research and even do some writing. Another retiree is Jim DeCoster who retired from AF Weather Service and who plans to remain in Asheville, N.C. working at “fun” things. He did not elucidate! Jim occasionally sees Bob Pimplon who lives across town.

Unfortunately there are certain persons in our class whose addresses are unknown. I plan to name a few in subsequent columns and would appreciate any information you might have concerning their whereabouts. Let’s start with Andrew W. Adams, James N. Ashmore, Mrs. Virginia H. Bentley (maiden name??), Virginia G. Hall and Robert S. Boynton. I’ll hear from you, won’t I? Peace and love!

Lean pickings for this issue—two items—both of which came to me from the Alumni Office. Melvin Leighton has retired from the math department at Brewer High School after thirty-eight years of teaching and in addition has been active in the financial affairs of athletics, not only for Brewer High but also for Maine high schools interested in basketball tournaments. Elle (rockette) Hutchison of Westmoreland, N. H. is in the language department in Winchendon, Mass. The item didn’t say if she is teaching of heading a department—or which grade level. In any event, we wish her the best.

In desperation, I called Betty (Homs) Hancock last night as she is usually a good source of newsworthy bits. Learned nothing except that she and Franzie (Rhoda) Richards ’40 had a great time on their trip to the Orient in July. How about a Christmas card with items about yourselves?

Katherine (True) Brown of Hope is working as a Team Captain; Arctemus Weatherbee of Kennebunk, is a Co-Chairman; and Jacqueline Leighten of York County; Earl D. Reed of Cape Elizabeth, Maine is a Regiment Leader; and Wendell Smith of Belfast, Maine is a Co-Chairman for Waldo County in the Second Century Fund.

We are sitting at Kennedy Airport waiting for our flight to leave for Copenhagen and then around the world. We are going to spend time with our friends in Manila and then visit some of the countries that I have missed on previous trips.

Last week we attended the wedding of Vivian and Bill Treat’s daughter, Mary Esther. She was married to Frederick Stetson II in a beautiful ceremony in Melvin Village Community Church, N.H., and the reception was at the Bald Peak Colony Club. They will live in Colchester, Vt. We saw many friends including Ruth and Ken Burr. Mary Esther (Treat) Clark ’44, Bill’s sister, asked to be remembered to her many UMO friends. The Treats have recently moved into their new home in Brimfield, Mass.

We had a surprise visit last month from Eloise and Nat Doten of Framingham, Massachusetts. They have two daughters. Deborah was married to Tom Christensen in November and they have just returned to UMO where Tom is working on his Ph.D. in Agricultural Engineering. Susan is teaching fifth grade in Nvack, and her husband is completing his doctorate and working for Federal Service. Nat has retired from Boy Scouts Professional Service after thirty years and now works for nineteen branches of the Community National Bank in Framingham.

Bob and Leona Runnas (‘41) Bonney live in Peoria, Ill., where Bob works for Caterpillar Tractor. Their daughter was married in the spring. Virginia Tuttle Merrill lives in Salo where she teaches math and science. She is a specialist in her field and travels a lot in her work. She is also active in Democratic Party politics.

Pauline (Jellison) Weatherbee of Kennebunk, is a Co-Chairman for York County; Charles L. Weaver of Kensington, Maryland is a Team Member; Richard Merton of Farmington, is serving as Franklin County Chairman; Richard M. Sawyer of Silver Spring, Maryland is State Chairman for Maryland; Richard Goldsmith of Chevy Chase, Md. is serving as a Team Captain; Harold Gerrish of San Francisco, Calif. is serving as Regional Chairman for California, Oregon, Washington, and Nevada; and Margaret (Hauke) Ladd of Rockland is working as a Team Captain in the Second Century Fund.

Franklin Jones has retired after twenty-two years in Naval Avation. He is currently flying as a cooperative pilot for Palm Beach Corporation. He and his wife, Marion Bowden ’39 enjoy Florida living.

Henry Hathaway is Executive Vice President of Northern Wasco County Board of Realtors with an office in Fitchburg, Mass. His oldest daughter Lois has two children and lives in Seattle, Washington; Peggy is married and lives in New Hampshire; his oldest son, David, was graduated from U. of Mass. in 1973, is married and working at graduate school at the U. of Colorado; Paul just finished Wachusett Community College, and Mike just finished ninth grade with honors. What a record!

Off we go! Our flight is loading!

Maryland news of Paul Dumas, general manager of Milan Ind. Inc at Milan, N.H. He and his wife Jacqueline have two sons, one an attorney in Rumford, and the other a student in Florida.

It was great to visit with Peg (West) Blake and husband Clifford this summer and hear about their daughters and families. Peg told me of a gathering she had attended this summer at the home of Isabelle (Garvin) and Jack Masen in Augusta, attended by a number of classmates—what a great idea. Sound like lots of fun, “Izzy”?

David L. Byer of Silver Spring, Md. is serving as a Team Captain; John R. Dearborn of Ansonia, Conn., is serving as Area Chairman for Connecticut; and C. Virgil Starbird of Strong, is a Team Captain in the Second Century Fund.

Prof. Myron E. Starbird was honored at a party recently in observance of his retirement from the faculty at UM at Farmington. Prof. Starbird became principal of the training school in 1946, and during the 50’s he became the first chairman of the College’s geography department. He has been a member of the Board of Directors for the New England-Atlantic Provinces-Quebec Center.

Howard L. Burpee, an Orono native, has been transferred from Portland to Presque Isle in his position as soil conservationist. He was naturally recognized for the development of a model recreation conservation plan and is the author of two publications on natural resources.

Writing from Erna Davis Worthen. She is now Business Manager of the Stodder Complex, UMO. Daughter Sarah is a junior at U.N.H., son Robert is a U.M.O. printer. Martha and husband John Grody returned to U.M.O. this fall.

Thomas Dickens of Farmingdale has been made Director of the Bureau of Parks and Recreation of the Maine Dept. of Conservation. He is married to the former Ann Hart of South Hope. The couple have three children and one grandchild.
Word has been received of the death of Ralph Dale whom many of us enjoyed seeing at our class’ 30th reunion. His family, I know, has the sympathy of all of us who knew him.

Mary Louise ’42 and Don Griffie have moved from Millinocket to 97 Hapend Drive, Norwood, Mass. 02602 this summer. Don is a staff engineer with Charles T. Main Consulting Engineers in Boston.

She has become a national member James Kenney, M.D., has an office there. He specializes in obstetrics and gynecology.

Petey and my summer has brought us our first grandchild in the person of Sarah Louise Jordan! She and her parents moved to Bangor after her Dad passed the Maine Bar exams. Aren’t we fortunate to have them so nearby? Our third child, Alan Perry, was married in July to Rhonda Mitchell of Bangor who is a third year student at U.M.O. in the Nursing Program. They will be living in Portland where she affiliates at Maine Medical Center. And since oldest son Walter lives in Mass, and son Paul is now a freshman at Bowdoin, we are down to one child, John, still at home.

Wallace R. Francis of Milford, Conn., is serving as Area Chairman for Connecticut; John H. Reed of Washington, D.C., is a State Chairman; Calvin Sewall of Wilton, is a Team Member; William B. Talbot of Machias, is a Co-Chairman for Washington County; Gordon Winters of Winslow, is a Regiment Leader; Howard W. Merrill of Baltimore, Md., is serving as Regional Chairman for Virginia, Maryland, Washington, D.C., and Delaware; Harris L. McLean, Jr. of Sullivan, is serving as Team Captain; Mark Ingram, Jr. of Alexandria, Va., is serving as Area Chairman for Northern Virginia and Washington, D.C. and Elden Hall, Jr. of Farmington, is serving as Area Chairman for Franklin County in the Second Century Fund.

A Maine “Hello” from “Mayo” Johnnie Goff who is established in business in Pembroke, N.H. which he describes as a bedroom town to Concord. He and his wife Sandy have eight children, the first of which is a senior at UNH. John is president of the John B. Goff Insurance Agency, is town clerk of Pembroke and a representative to the General Court of N.H. at Concord.

“The litch is always out” if you’re traveling in the Concord area, he adds.

Wayne O. Stacy, is the new principal of the Whitingham school after serving in the Walpole, Mass. school system 11 years. He has given serious thought, he said, to moving back to Maine after his four children had completed secondary education and as of August 1, after 11 years of experience in education, he has returned to the State of Maine.

The Alumni Office sent along some employment changes: Mortimer J. Williams of Southbridge, Mass. has been named a special products engineer for the optical products division of American Optical Corp. He has been with them since 1967 and makes his home at 43 Orchard St. Southbridge. Mass. John L. Hewes of Saco is a new president. Member of John C. Paige Co., a Maine subsidiary of Fred S. I’ve procrastinated long enough and now must settle down to the rather pleasant task of reporting news of our class. First I would like to express my personal thanks to Verna Wallace Andrews for the very faithful and excellent job she has done for the past years.

I have an unusual situation for my first attempt at this since I have more news than I can possibly use—an unusual situation for class secretaries so I’m told.

I wish more of you could have attended our 25th reunion. We really had a wonderful time but there were so many missing! Where were all those spirited Maine supporters who lived in Delta Tau Delta in 1945-1946? I think I was the only present. I hope to hear from many of you “girls” soon.

Now for the news I collected at reunion. Lois Deering and Al Starbird were there from their home on Thorn- dike Street in Damariscotta, Mass. Al got his Master’s in Engineering Management from Northeastern in 1971. They have four children—all in college this year. Think of those bills! Son Davis is at UMO. Others are at assorted New England Colleges.

Julie and Oscar ’54 Hadell were there from their home at 387 East Ave. in Lewiston. They have four children—daughter Adria is at Junior at UMO.

Arnold Davis and wife Joyce (EMGH ’48) came from their home at Route 2, Box 394, Presque Isle. They have three children. Daughter Susan graduated from UMO in 1972; Bob graduated from UMO in 1974, and Stewart, in the class of 1976. Their dad is a potato buyer for American Kitchen Foods, Inc. in Presque Isle.

I talked with June Shirley Elliott and husband Bob They live in Buckport where Bob is employed by St. Regis Paper Co. Jane told me she had recently been in touch with Peggy Moulton Gibson who lives near...

Elaine (Lockhart) Brown, Reno, Nevada writes me that, in addition to Stanley Sr. winning second place with a Mong Sport Bi-Plane in the Reno National Championship flying contest to a cheering crowd of 25,000, No. 2 son Steven has now a pilot's license and is a freshman at University of Nevada. No. 1 son Stanley Jr. is a sophomore, pre-law, crazy about hunting with a bow and arrow with his Nattick, Mass. reared Golden Retriever. Fifteen year old daughter Allison has a disk full of trophies won by her show horse, an Appaloosa Gelding. Steve was voted the outstanding wrestler at Wooster High and made Northern Conference. Joe Oppenhaim, Satellite Beach, Florida, is taking a course at the Florida Institute of Technology this fall.

Ruth Holland Walsh is currently a primary teacher for the Stonington, Conn. Public Schools. Bill is Exec. Director of S.E. Conn. council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence, Deb, 21, and Barb, 18, at U. Conn, Ginny at Hartford General Hospital. Lynn (Boyer) Beyenberg and Bob developed their rock hounding hobby into a commercial business as partners in "The Gem Mine", Teneak, N.J. Son Bill, freshman at U.M.O., Forestry; daughter Merrilee is at the Katheryn Gibbs Special Program for college women. NEWS CLIPS: Homer D. Coombs, Elleriv, W. Va. has been appointed Assistant Plant Manager, Union Carbide, So. Charleston W. Va.; Homer joined Union Carbide in 1950 (remember the young folks?).

John H. Stimpson is in the news again—now promoted to Exec. V.P. of New York Life Insurance. John and Valerie live in Irvington-on-the-Hudson, N.Y. My oldest daughter is at the Great Lakes Naval Training center, Electronics; Daughter No. 2, graduated second in class last year at Worcester State College (Mass.); my other son and daughter are in trade school and grade school doing well.

Question: How's the homecoming committee doing??

Gerald Alden of Auburn is serving as Team Captain; Jerry Gates and Joseph E. Savoy of Wilmington, Delaware are serving as Team Captains; Dr. Valere N. Saucier and Rowland R. Quinn, Jr. of Washington, D.C. are serving as Team Members; Linwood Wright of New Sharon is a Team Member; Harry W. Trask of Oxen Hill, Maryland is a Team Member; Thomas Teague of Fairfield, is Chairman for Somerset County; Paul Ellis of Rangeley is serving as a Team Member; Norris Farrington of Wilton is serving as a Team Member; and John L. Some of you are very good at keeping me posted, but sometimes I get very low and then I keep my fingers crossed the Alumni Office will come through. This time "I'm renewed"! I have a guest columnist—Mary Jordon Edwards. Mary decided it's time to show we care by writing all the news. I visited Genette MacNair Ingraham in Houlton. She has two daughters, one at UMO.

"The three other classmates who transferred with me to Cornell University, N.Y. Hospital School of Nursing—Nancy Hubbard Marden is in Cowden, Arkansas. She teaches in a health careers program at the high school level. Marie Johnson Holt is married to a doctor and lives in Bath. She is vice president of the local Public Health Nursing Association Board. They have five children. And Pat Simmons Blodgett is in Wisconsin where her husband, Don, works on speech handicap problems.

"Marilyn Holt Chase (Mrs. Philip) lives in South Freeport and is busy with the school guidance department. Her sister, Carleen Holt Crowley is in Glen Head, L.I., New York. She has finished her master's degree plus, teaches in the Home Economics department at the high school level. Her children are both in college—Cornell and the State Univ. at Albany. "Ginny Towne Roberts lives in East Dover-Foxcroft. Her family is all grown now."

Educator Extraordinaire

"I have no regrets. If I had it to do all over again, I would not have done things differently," said Dr. Mark R. Shedd, '30 in December of 1971 after resigning as superintendent of Philadelphia public schools because of pressure from the then police commissioner and mayor-elect Frank Rizzo. This action was not surprising for this progressive educator who has since been a visiting professor of education at Harvard's Graduate School of Education and in May of this year was named Connecticut's commissioner of education.

A teacher in Caribou and Auburn, Maine schools soon after graduation, Dr. Shedd went on to Connecticut in principal and supervisory positions. He received his master's degree from UMO and his Ph.D. from Harvard University. He served as superintendent of schools in Englewood, N.J. for three years before tackling the position of superintendent of the Philadelphia System in 1967.

In these positions he gained the mutual respect of students, teachers and fellow administrators alike. He has been called "an educator with a reputation for fresh ideas." In New Jersey he set up one of the first segregation programs in a northern state. He accepted the Philadelphia appointment fully knowing that the system was deteriorating and was on the verge of explosion. His dispute with Mayor Frank Rizzo was a matter of differing ideologies in running the system. Charged with fostering permissiveness in the schools, Dr. Shedd countered, "I don't believe I was hired or committed to run an educational system like a prison system." One of his more progressive programs was the initiation of a "school without walls", a learning experience based upon working on jobs in the field.

Dr. Shedd's challenge with the Connecticut system is one of equity in fund allocations to the many town school systems in the state. Also broadening the career preparation for students and providing a strengthened program of professional development for teachers and administrators are priorities he has set.
James and Barbara (Grover) Elliott of Camden are working as Team Captains, Charles McKenney of Wilmington, Delaware is serving as Team Captain; C. Seymour Card, Jr. of Moscow, Idaho is serving as Regional Chairman for Wyoming, Idaho, and Montana; Arthur Denstemmm of Millinocket is serving as Area Chairman Penobscot County, Isabelle (Russell) Hunger of Rangeley is serving as a Team Member; and Robert Franchetti of Windsor is serving as a Team Member in the Second Century Fund.

Mary writes that she herself has lived at 89 Lise St., Falmouth for fifteen years with her husband, Charlie, who has become more of a Mainer than most native born sons. They have four children; the eldest, Jean, is at UMO and the other three are in junior and senior high school. Mary keeps busy by teaching in the nursing program at U of M Portland-Gorham while getting her master’s degree at U B U.

How about the rest of you, who care, following in Mary’s footsteps?

Bernard L. Deering, an educator for 35 years, was honored at a testimonial in May, upon his retirement. In the 34 years at Orono High School, Mr. Deering served as Assistant Principal, Athletic Director, School Treasurer, Class Instructor and Coach for both boys and girls teams. Best wishes for an active, happy retirement.

Warren S. Kane, Jr. of Sioux City, Iowa, is serving as State Chairman for Iowa; Anna (Twobly) Bonang of Brunswick is serving as a Regiment Leader, and Alan L. Smith of Farmington is an Area Chairman in the Second Century Fund.

Ron Bishop has just been elected President of the Vermont Chapter of The American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters. Besides being very active in professional organizations, Ron is also busy in civic and church activities. Hilda Leach taught music and art this past summer in Mahwah, New Jersey.

Hilda resides in Haverthorne, New Jersey.

Jack Butterfield, a successful baseball coach at UMO for 18 years, has moved to sunny Florida to be head baseball coach at the University of South Florida in Tampa. While at Maine, Jack posted a record of 240 wins, 169 losses and two ties. His teams have had winning records for the last 11 seasons I’m sure many of you will remember the 1964 season, when his team surprised many people in the College World Series at Omaha, Nebraska. He was named College Baseball Coach of the year at the conclusion of that season. Our best wishes to you, Jack, as you make your way in Florida. Vaughan Twaddell was the speaker at Westminster College’s 143rd Commencement exercises in June. The season of his book was dedicated their yearbook to him. This past fall, I was once again out racing up and down hockey fields, only this time I was umpiring. It is quite satisfying to be able to keep up with the high school women in such a fast game, at least for 50 yards!

Present at the signing of a proclamation by Gov. Curtis designating Sept. 22-28 as “Johnny Appleseed Week” are Donald Biscoe Turner of Augusta, who is first vice-president of the New York and New England Apple Institute. Don presented the Governor with a 42-inch statue of Johnny as a gift of the Institute. Named as a director of the Camden Community Hospital was John S. McCormick, Jr. John is the president of J. S. McCormick & Assoc. Inc. of West Roxbury. He has three children attending UMO—Bonney in Civil Engineering, J. Scott in Bus. Administration, and Patricia in Education.

Elizabeth Collins Davison sent me a long letter filling me in on her activities. Her husband, Leslie, is a clinical psychologist at the Univ. of Calif. Medical Center in San Francisco. Leslie has been doing research in social work for the last few years, is now working on her master’s degree in social work at Sacramento State specializing in psychiatric social work. She sees Peggy (Kerr) McClary ’57 and Carol Lod ’57 frequently as they live near her in Berkeley, and mentioned that she enjoyed seeing Brad Sullivan ’57 on T.V. and in the movies. Come on you Maine Masque goers—how many of you have received notices from Harvard?

Hi! Many, many congratulations are in order this month! Congratulations to:

Brad Sullivan, in the movies and on television. Dr. Beatrice Reynolds ’59 wrote recently that Brad had addressed a class at Brooklyn College. She also said he can be seen in “The Sting,” “Paradise,” Joseph Papp’s “Sticks and Bones” (with Anne Jackson) and “The Migrants” with Cloris Leachman. His next television film is “The Law.” I was happy and proud to see Brad in “The Sting” and “Sticks and Bones” and shall certainly look forward to seeing more. Congratulations, Brad, you’re coming from the maine Masque. Best wishes for future success.

Harry Percival, a professional engineer for CMP in Augusta, has been named president of the Alpha Chapter of the Maine Society of Professional Engineers. Lois (Whitcomb) Jones recently completed requirements for the Ed. D. Degree in Humanities at the Univ. of Mass. Elwood Littlefield has been named Director of the Southern Penobscot County Regional Vocational School. P. Donald Raymond has been elected vice president of John C. Paige Co., a Maine subsidiary of Fred S. James & Co., international insurance brokerage firm. Frankin C. Haskins recently received the Meritorious Service Medal on his transfer back to the USA after four years in Germany. Franklin will attend Command and Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kanas for a year. He plans to visit UMO in July.

There is much conflict now in this changing and mobile society,” says psychotherapist Frances D. Kerchner M.S.W. ’57 of Cranford, N.J. Mrs. Kerchner recently opened a private practice in Cranford after making a decision to continue with her already 17-year-long profession in social work and counseling.

After receiving her bachelor’s degree in sociology and psychology from UMO in 1957 she went to Boston City Hospital as a social worker and took courses from Boston University’s School of Social Work. In 1965 a move to San Francisco found her at work in the city’s child welfare department and studying at the University of California. After her marriage she moved east to New York City and earned her master’s degree in social work from Columbia University. In New York she worked at St. Luke’s Hospital Child Psychiatric Clinic and became a certified and licensed social worker by the University of the State of New York.

The Andover, Maine native chose Cranford as a home 18 months ago because she wanted to return to a small community in New England. She and her husband and small child live on Carriage Hill Dr. Although she will be working with indiviuals, family guidance is a special concern of hers. Family structure has changed drastically, she points out, and problems are intensified because there is a lack of communication. Mrs. Kerchner should well serve the Cranford community in the months ahead with her long and diversified experience.
Bob Libby has been appointed the new principal of the Jonathan Law High School in Milford, Conn. Carroll Robertson has become associated with the McClure-Eaton agency in Bangor as vice-president. We received a wonderful letter from Joe and Peggy Dion who are now living in Woodstock, Vt. 05091, with their two children, Beth, 10 and Joe, Jr. After working for L. G. Balfour Co. and several tours of Army Duty, Joe and his family have retired on a farm in Woodstock, Vt. They have goats, cats, chickens, sheep, pigs, and horses, a large garden and honey bees. Joe also has an old Vermont blacksmith shop which he restored and works and makes all kinds of wrought iron work for a hobby. It certainly sounds like a marvelous way to live, Joe! Joe mentioned that he has gotten together with Bud Ochmaniski and that both are planning to return to our 15th reunion! Let's start making plans to return to that reunion! If you think you may make it back, drop me a line and I'll list in each issue, throughout this year, those people who will be returning. Let's see how long a list we can get by June. If you hear of anyone planning to return please send their names in also.

Domenique Gagne has completed his 6th year in Special Education from Saint Joseph College in West Hartford, Ct.

Ann Marie (Burke) Murphy, our "Billie Jean King," has been named the No. 1 woman tennis player in New England by the New England Lawn Tennis Association. Ann is the only teaching pro at Farmington Farms Racquet Club in Conn. Congratulations, Ann! Which one of you fellars would like to take her on at our reunion?

Greetings from Maine! I have decided to stay here for a while and am presently working for the Hancock County Educational Cooperative in Ellsworth. I recently received a nice note from Nancy Clement Mandell. For those of you who have been "out of touch" with Nancy, she and her seven-year-old daughter Carly are in a new home at 140 Pleasant St., Millis, Mass. 02054. Nancy writes that she would be delighted to have friends call when she is in settled in. She has spent the past nine years in different phases of the data processing industry and is now working in the marketing support group at Raytheon Data Systems in Norwood, Mass. Sandy (Willis) and Mike Hart are happily enjoying their second season back in Kennebunkport at the Sea Side Inn and Cottages with daughters Elizabeth (S) and Patricia (3). Glenna (Reneger) Bingham writes that husband, Lee (1963), was recently promoted to Assistant Pulp Division Superintendent at P. H. Glatfelter Co. He recently completed a term as Chairman of the Delaware Valley TAPPI.

Congratulations to Ken and Georgianna (Goldmore) Kates who were pleased to announce on May 7 the birth of their first child, Virginia Ann.

Do you recall the Student Union exhibits of Penny Mossor? Penny, who now lives in Ogunquit, has kept busy with a recent showing at the York Art Association, a paper mache demonstration at the Ogunquit Women’s Club and a lecture on multi-media at St. Francis College, Biddeford.

I have heard of a number of promotions and new job appointments. Charles F. Wallace recently joined the planning division of Edward C. Jordan Co., Portland, as project manager in charge of licensing and approval. Dr. Hodges has spent the past nine years in agricultural economics from U. Mass., Amherst, working on a volunteer project in Peru. He has recently worked for the Soil Conservation Service and the County Extension Service.
