COVER: Marvin "Bud" Blumenstock, Associate Professor Emeritus of Forestry at the University of Maine, has degrees from Rutgers and Yale and an MBA from the University of Maine. He has spent a lifetime teaching the value of forest resources to the people of Maine. Bud established a number of funds through the University of Maine Foundation for students who are interested in careers in forest resources. One of his funds also benefits students who graduated from Old Town High School who participate in sports programs, particularly swimming.

Bud has been able to give back to others through these various funds because he learned the importance of wise investing early in life. "Never spend more than you earn," says Bud. "And give back so that you can help people help themselves to get where they want to go in life."

He remains active in forestry education. He is pictured seated on logs in the Dwight B. Demeritt Forest, which were cut by students as part of their hands-on forestry training.

ONE GIFT CAN DO A LOT.

It's understandable why the public tends to hold great philanthropists in awe for the sums they bestow upon charities and foundations. But the fact is, everyone is welcome to contribute. Even if the individual sum is modest, it is the sum total that matters.

This is certainly true at the University of Maine Foundation.
The Foundation is each of us,
alumni, students and friends alike, sharing a belief in the value of a University of Maine education. Each gift is significant, each donor essential to our mission, since the end

The foundation is you.

Everything you give makes a difference. The very act of giving creates an example and sets a tradition that today's students can follow.

Thank you for your support and generosity.

result is that deserving students have access to an outstanding education.

Jonathan LaBonte is a 2002 graduate of the University of Maine, with a degree in Chemical Engineering.

WHAT ONE GIFT CAN DO.

TUITION, FEES, BOOKS, ROOM AND BOARD FOR IN-STATE STUDENTS AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE TOTAL APPROXIMATELY $16,814 PER YEAR. ALTHOUGH STUDENTS RECEIVE FINANCIAL AID, 60% OF THIS AID IS IN THE FORM OF LOANS AND WORK STUDY. ONLY 5% IS FUNDED THROUGH UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS.

UMaine is tied with MIT with the highest number of accredited engineering majors in New England.

Jonathan LaBonte '02

I am the foundation.

Presently employed by the Maine Turnpike Authority as Assistant Government Relations Manager, Jonathan LaBonte is responsible for the public policy and planning aspects of the Maine Turnpike.

Jonathan established the Great Falls Scholarship, which benefits students from the Lewiston-Auburn area, in 2002. When asked why, he said, "I was able to go to the University of Maine nearly debt free thanks to scholarships through the University of Maine Foundation and the Pulp and Paper Foundation.

I am so grateful for the assistance I received. It is only right that I give back. I want to help make college affordable for other Mainers like myself. The great thing about the University of Maine Foundation is that I was able to establish this scholarship with a small amount of money and build the fund over time."

Jonathan also gifted a life insurance policy, which will eventually benefit the Great Falls Scholarship. In doing so, Jonathan became a member of the Charles F. Allen Society. The Society, named for the University of Maine's first President, recognizes and honors alumni and friends who intend to remember the University of Maine or its affiliated organizations by making a bequest or other form of planned or deferred gift.

Shari Baxter has a Ph.D. in Food and Nutrition Sciences; Jason Bolton is a Master of Science candidate in Food Science and Nutrition and is a National Science Foundation GK-12: Sensors Graduate Fellow.

WHAT ONE GIFT CAN DO.

ONE ADVANTAGE OF GIVING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE FOUNDATION IS THAT YOU CAN DIRECT YOUR DONATION. IT MAY BE AS GENERAL OR AS SPECIFIC AS YOU WISH.

The enrober (at left) is an essential piece of equipment that Shari and Jason use purchased with an MTI grant.

Shari Baxter '07G and Jason Bolton '06

I am the foundation.

Shari Baxter, a graduate student, Jason Bolton and three other undergraduates won first place in the national Institute of Food Technologists (IFT) Student Association's 2006 Product Development Competition for their product, Yo Bon Blueberry Bites. This product has spun-off into a small start up company called Yo Bon, LLC.

"Most schools that win national IFT competitions don't pursue commercialization," says Shari. It was the University of Maine Foundation's interest and support that led us to believe we could take our product to the next level."

"The Foundation supported us from the start," says Jason.

"It provided assistance with travel funds, encouraged support from other donors, and initiated collaboration with alumni and the Executive Director for Research and Economic Development at the University of Maine, who encouraged us to apply for a Maine Technology Institute (MTI) grant."

As a result, the team of students won three grants: two from MTI, and one from the Libra Futures Fund, which awards grants to young entrepreneurs. The product holds great promise as a possible signature food for the University of Maine.

Arline Thomson, in her studio in Orono, Maine.

WHAT ONE GIFT CAN DO.

IF THE MORE THAN 31,000 ALUMNI OVER THE AGE OF 55 LEFT A BEQUEST OF AT LEAST $25,000 FOR SCHOLARSHIPS, IN ONE GENERATION THE FINANCIAL NEED OF UNIVERSITY STUDENTS COULD BE MET IN PERPETUITY.

The Honors College at the University of Maine provides an opportunity for 650 motivated students to investigate diverse academic areas of the University, to be challenged in a supportive intellectual environment, and to critically engage fellow students and faculty in thoughtful, provocative discussion.

Arline Thomson

I am the foundation.

For over seventy years, Arline K. Thomson has been an outstanding contributor to the advancement of the arts. She began her professional career at the Massachusetts School of Art, working in the field of advertising in Boston and New York City before moving to Maine in 1953.

For nearly a decade, Thomson designed and illustrated children's books. In 1962, she became the University of Maine's first graphic designer capturing the character of the campus and the state.

"When I think of the Foundation, I think of people who work there. They truly care about their donors and the students who will benefit from the gifts made through the Foundation."

Over the years that Arline has supported the University, a particular area of interest has been the Honors Program, now the Honors College.

"The Honors Program is very close to my heart because my husband served as director," says Arline. "Under the leadership of Charlie Slavin, the current Dean of the College and his wonderful staff, the program thrives and is better than ever. I plan to continue my support of the Honors College through my estate plans."

Ellen Stinson, treasurer of the University of Maine Foundation, and her husband Walter are both graduates of the University of Maine.

WHAT ONE GIFT CAN DO.

THE AVERAGE STUDENT LEAVES THE UNIVERSITY WITH A LOAN DEBT OF OVER $18,000, WHICH RESULTS IN MONTHLY LOAN PAYMENTS OF APPROXIMATELY $225 FOR 10 YEARS.

Since the 1970s, the University of Maine has been building and racing concrete canoes. Civil Engineering students were the 2006-07 New England champions.

Ellen Stinson '68

I am the foundation.

Ellen Stinson's husband Walter is the founder of Sebago Technics, a site/civil engineering firm more than 25 years old. The company began at the Stinsons' kitchen table, is now 92 people strong, and became employee-owned in 2007.

The Sebago Technics Scholarship fund was established in 1996 with preference given to family members of Sebago Technics current employees.

We also felt that the scholarship might help 'tip the scales' toward the University of Maine when a young person was considering a college," says Ellen.

"We also want to encourage young people to stay in Maine. Over the years, we have hired a number of University of Maine Engineering graduates. We find them well prepared to enter the workplace."

"We will continue to give annually to our scholarship fund," says Ellen. "We enjoy watching the fund grow and flourish."

"We believe in higher education and we created this scholarship as a tribute to our employees.

Jerry Ellis is a University of Maine graduate. He recently retired as director of College Success Programs, which includes Disability Support Services, the Onward Program, and Student Tutor Program.

WHAT ONE GIFT CAN DO.

FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR 2007, THE GENERAL ENDOWMENT FUND REPORTED A FIVE-YEAR RETURN OF 11.8%.

Jerry is pictured with two pieces of art work done by former students. "The Man Who Showed Us Our Wings" is on the left.

Gerald Ellis '64

I am the foundation.

There is a painting in the College Success Programs office by a former student now living as an artist in Paris. It's entitled, "The Man Who Showed Us Our Wings." The man is Gerald Ellis, who for 33 years has told his students, most of whom are poor and the first generation in their families to attend college, "You have wings to go and do anything you want to do."

Jerry retired this year, and will continue to help students through the scholarship he established in 2004. One of his goals is to inspire students to give back to the program that helped them succeed. It's working. Recently, one of Jerry's students walked into the Foundation Office and said, "I want to honor Jerry Ellis by starting a scholarship. What can I do with just $500?"

Because the Foundation will accept smaller amounts to which additional sums may be added over time, the Jerry Ellis Scholarship Fund was established.

"Just think," Jerry told a group of students, "If after you graduate just 100 of you gave $10 per month over the next five years, the fund would have an additional $60,000 to help the next generation of students."

Tim McManus has a degree from the University of Maine in Sociology; his career has been in the Pulp and Paper industry.

WHAT ONE GIFT CAN DO.

A NAMED ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIP MUST HAVE A MINIMUM PRINCIPAL BALANCE OF $20,000. HOWEVER, A SCHOLARSHIP FUND CAN BE STARTED WITH AS LITTLE AS $100, TO WHICH SUMS MAY BE ADDED OVER TIME.

The College of Education and Human Development prepares more educators than any other institution in the state.

Tim '54 and Barbara McManus

I am the foundation.

Tim and Barbara McManus became concerned about the number of young people who were opting to leave the state of Maine, particularly in light of the loss of manufacturing and technology jobs over the past several years.

"Kids are our best resources and we need to keep that brain power in Maine," says Tim. "One way to do that is to encourage bright young people to stay in Maine by providing them with financial assistance through scholarships."

The Edward "Tim" McManus '54 and Barbara Fitzgerald McManus Scholarship Fund was established in 2004 in honor of Tim's 50th class reunion. Aware of the shortage of qualified teachers in the state, the scholarship supports College of Education students, giving preference to students who agree to pursue employment as a teacher in the state of Maine.

A MESSAGE FROM THE BOARD CHAIRMAN AND THE PRESIDENT/CEO

The University of Maine Foundation, under the direction of an outstanding Board of Directors and the work of its dedicated staff, completed the most successful year in the Foundation's 73 year history. The Foundation experienced 28% growth in FY07. This is the fourth year in a row that the Foundation has exceeded its targeted goals.

Our success would not have happened without you, our friends and donors. You are the Foundation — alumni, students, and friends who share a belief in a University of Maine education. Each of you is essential to our mission, since the end results are that deserving students have access to a quality education. Every gift is meaningful. The very act of giving creates an example and sets a tradition that today's students can follow.

"I am the Foundation," says Ellen Stinson, Board treasurer. "My husband Walt and I believe in supporting higher education. We created the Sebago Technics Scholarship fund as a tribute to our employees because we know that they are Sebago Technics. We want to encourage young people to stay in Maine and over the years we have employed many University of Maine graduates. We will continue to give annually to our scholarship fund. We enjoy watching the fund grow and flourish."

The quality of a university depends on a consistent source of revenue, year after year. That is precisely the value of a strong endowment. The University of Maine Foundation is honored to be a steward for endowed gifts that shape the future of the University and its students.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 2007, the investment return of our general endowment fund was 17.44%, with an average five-year return of 11.8%. This year we received 2,408 gifts totaling $25.9 million. In fact, the Foundation received two of the largest one-time gifts in the history of the University of Maine — a real estate gift from the Cianchettes valued at $4,233,000 and a bequest from George Houston '37 valued at $10,697,401.

Assets at the beginning of the fiscal year were $147.5 million. We ended the year with assets of $188.9 million; an increase of $41.4 million. Approximately $6.5 million was paid in support of the University for various programs as designated by our donors.

Thank you for supporting the University of Maine. You make the difference.
You are the Foundation.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE FOUNDATION

Relationship with the University of Maine

While the University of Maine Foundation's activities and operations are supportive of the University of Maine, they are also separate from the University. The Foundation maintains accounting records separate from the University, has a separate annual audit by an independent auditor, establishes and maintains separate employee payroll and benefit programs, and no University employees serve as voting members of the Foundation board or receive compensation from the Foundation. The large majority of public colleges and universities have foundations that are separate from their universities or colleges.

Advantages of a Private Foundation

- Provide a vehicle to keep private funds separate from public funds.
- Provide a private/public partnership vehicle for procurement of services, programs, and projects that benefit the University.
- Operate as a private nonprofit organization in a politically neutral, less restrictive environment, which increases responsiveness and efficiency in meeting important University goals.
- Focusing on accountability, earnings are distributed according to donors wishes and are carefully monitored by an independent governing board.
- Being independent of the state system, the Foundation can offer greater flexibility with gift acceptance. The Foundation can accept and sell certain types of property more expeditiously and in a better position to keep donor information confidential for those who wish anonymity.
- A principal tenet of the Foundation is its ability to balance the requirement of public accountability with protections against invasion of privacy. Both trusts, that of the public and the prospective donor, figure prominently in Foundation policies.
- The structure of the Foundation allows the institution to effectively involve volunteers in fundraising efforts and creates within them a sense of pride, accomplishment and ownership—all being critical to fundraising success.

Administrative Fee

The University of Maine Foundation funds its operations by charging annually an administrative fee, which is 1.25% of the endowment fund. The fee is reviewed once a year by the Board of Directors and has not been changed since 2000.

WAYS OF GIVING

The University of Maine Foundation plays an increasingly important role in supporting higher education by providing the structure and efficiency needed for the partnership between our public university and the private sector to work. This partnership allows alumni, friends and the corporate sector to effectively contribute to higher education. Your gift to the University of Maine Foundation can be the difference between promise and fulfillment, limitation and opportunity, failure and success. There's no telling how many lives you can help or how thankfully you'll be remembered.

As your generosity benefits others, it can benefit you as well. Depending upon your individual situation, you may receive a charitable income tax deduction and eliminate or reduce capital gain taxes. At the same time, you can secure a lifetime income through one of the Foundation's life-income plans:

- Charitable gift annuities
- Charitable remainder trusts
- Deferred gift annuities
- Pooled life income funds

Gifts to the Foundation, made during your lifetime or by will, may include:

- Cash
- Appreciated securities
- Closely held securities
- Life insurance
- Personal property
- Real estate and forest land
- Retirement plan assets

Establishing a donor-advised fund is a convenient, cost effective alternative to a private family foundation and consolidates charitable giving to the University of Maine and other worthy causes of one's choosing.

Our staff will help you explore ways to contribute while protecting and enhancing your personal finances. We also encourage you to consult with your personal tax and legal advisors.

If you wish to leave the University of Maine Foundation a bequest in your will/trust for a scholarship or for some other purpose, you should amend your will/trust to reflect your wishes. The following represents sample language for doing so:

"I give and bequeath to the University of Maine Foundation for the benefit of the University of Maine, Orono, Maine (possible choices follow)

- the sum of $_____; or
- _____ percent of my estate; or
- the property described herein to establish the _____ Fund. The principal of the said Fund is to be endowed and only the income shall be used to provide financial assistance."

Your gift to the University of Maine Foundation is the gift of a lifetime and an investment in the future.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS FINANCIAL REVIEW

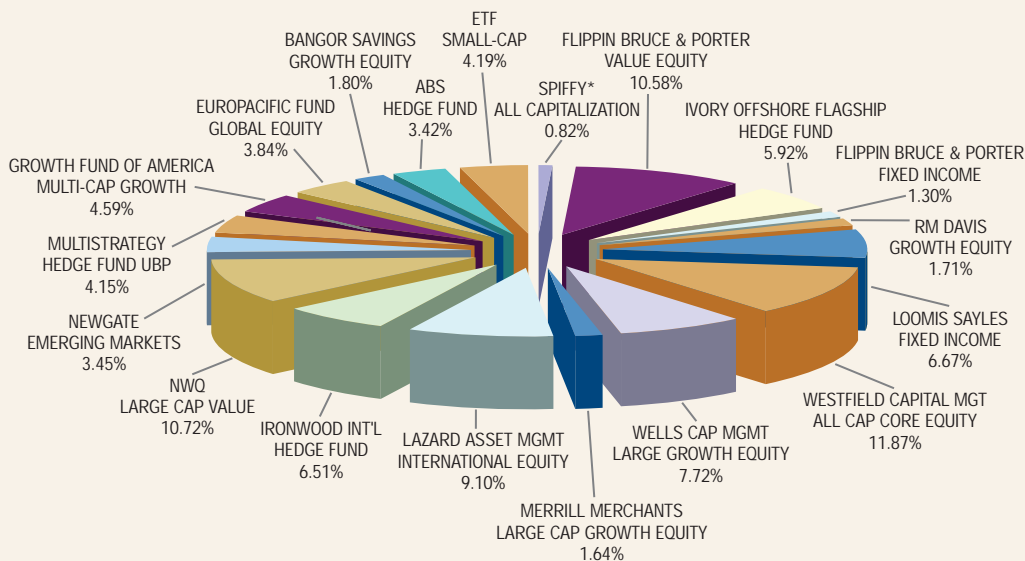

The General Endowment Fund operates on a total return basis, focusing on the overall return of the investment portfolio. In February 2007, the Foundation Board of Directors approved a spending policy of 5.5% of the six-year average market value of the fund.

A 5.5% spending policy suggests that a proportionally large amount of the endowment earnings will be added to the endowment in times of high market growth, thus providing long-term growth in the funds. In periods when market growth is minimal, the 5.5% will provide a stable level of support to the recipients of the endowment income.

Managing the endowment on a total return basis, coupled with a prudent spending policy, provides greater assurance of successfully achieving our goal for the endowment: to pay a consistent level of income annually to support the University while protecting the endowment fund over the long term.

The Foundation's Board of Directors and Investment Committee review this spending rate annually. Additionally, nineteen investment managers provide a diversified approach to the management of the investment portfolio of the General Endowment Fund.
