Foundations play an increasingly important role in supporting higher education by providing the structure and efficiency needed to foster partnerships among public universities and private constituencies.

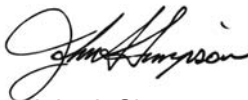

The University of Maine Foundation, like its partner the University of Maine Alumni Association, is a separate nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. It was incorporated in 1934 to provide a mechanism for private individuals, corporations, and foundations to make gifts and bequests and other deferred giving arrangements to support the University of Maine. The structure of these independent organizations supports the mission of the University of Maine by effectively involving volunteers in ‘friendraising’ and fundraising efforts, and creates within them a sense of pride, accomplishment and ownership—all critical elements to the success of our flagship University.

The past year has been a turbulent one with wildly fluctuating financial markets, the housing crisis and soaring oil prices. College and university endowments are being challenged by a proposed House amendment to the Higher Education Act that threatens an unprecedented intrusion into the financial management, oversight and the autonomy of every institution of higher learning.

Given these realities, the governing Board of Directors of the Foundation has placed particular emphasis on strategic planning and initiatives that include developing plans for managing growth and updating governance policies. Our goal is to insure that we are following best practices by adhering to a rigorous process of planning and evaluation. We are accountable to you, our donors, to insure your gift and your legacy are managed exactly as you have intended.

The University of Maine Foundation recognizes that its greatest asset is our donor’s trust. Especially in these difficult economic times, many worthy charitable organizations are in need of critical financial support. We are thankful that you continue to place your faith in us to achieve the end result, which is assuring that deserving students continue to have access to an outstanding education at the University of Maine.

An African proverb says, “If you want to go fast, go alone. If you want to go far, go together.” Together we can continue to accomplish great things. As the Foundation begins its 75th year, we look forward to working with you to help open doors to opportunities students could otherwise only imagine. We, each and every one of us—alumni, friends, staff, students, and faculty—are the Foundation.

We Are the Foundation.

This year, introductions are in order. We want you to know a bit more about us, both inside the office and out. Presented here, along with some of our donors, are profiles of the people at the Foundation.

Our group of ten could be considered relatively small, considering the scope of our mission, but the record shows that we work well together.

Our size lends itself to more personable interactions with our supporters, to a familiarity that allows the use of first names—in general, to openness. We consider that an essential part of our work. These days, many philanthropic organizations and charities have come under criticism for reasons that range from ineffectiveness to lack of accountability. Transparency has become a watchword, with close scrutiny given to how well non-profits are keeping promises made to their benefactors.

At the Foundation we value relationships. We remain positive, focused, and accountable. We are firmly committed to assisting the University in keeping education affordable for deserving students through scholarships, and to assist in the development of the University by encouraging gifts and bequests in support of faculty instructional and research efforts. Our belief is that the greater you understand the Foundation, the greater the benefit for our mutual concern—the University of Maine.

As always, thank you for your support and your trust.

Meet the Foundation.

Danny Williams (front cover)

“My education as a music major at the University of Maine was an invaluable gift to my life,” says Danny Williams, the Foundation’s newest planned giving officer.

Danny finds his work a harmonious blend between his love of music and his enjoyment of working with people, many of whom are great supporters of the performing arts at UMaine. Outside the office he serves as director of the Black Bear Men’s Chorus, chair of the UMaine Patrons of the Arts, and as a member of the Collins Center for the Arts Advisory Board.

“We have a healthy cycle at the Foundation. UMaine is where many of us received our education and developed our career skills. It’s a privilege to help others give back to the University so that the next generation can succeed.”

Meet the Foundation.

Sarah McPartland-Good started with the Foundation over ten years ago as a planned giving officer and became our director of planned giving July 1st. She was previously a civil litigator with a Bangor law firm.

During that time Sarah served as a guardian ad litem for patients at the Dorothea Dix Psychiatric Center (formerly the Bangor Mental Health Institute). For the past several years, Sarah has been a volunteer birthday cake baker at the DDPC. Established 30 years ago, the Birthday Cake Program ensures that every patient has a birthday celebration—complete with a special cake baked by the volunteers. This is especially significant because many of the patients have no family in their lives to share special occasions.

Sarah brings that same kind of compassion and commitment to her planned giving work, providing outstanding professional service with that special personal touch.

“Working with our donors to create opportunities for students is incredibly rewarding,” says Sarah.

Meet the Foundation.

Dan Willett joined the Foundation in 2001 as a planned giving officer after a number of years in the corporate world. A former member of the Foundation Board of Directors, he served as chair from 1995 to 1996. He is involved with a number of civic organizations and is chair of the Gorham Savings Bank Board of Trustees. Dan was recently honored with the Camp Susan Curtis Friendship Award for his volunteerism, particularly his efforts in the opening of the camp's Art Education Center at Hewnoaks Volk Family Center property bequeathed in 2006 to the Foundation.

Dan says, "I love meeting and working with good people. This job allows me to do this daily. Many of the alumni and friends of the University I work with have become good friends, as well."

Meet the Foundation.

An alumnus recently complimented Nancy Chute by remarking, “Call the Foundation office and hear the friendly greeting—it sets the mark for other organizations.” As receptionist and administrative assistant to the president, Nancy has been our voice for fifteen years.

When not at the Foundation, Nancy enjoys involvement with her church and spending time with her family. Her idea of a perfect day is hiking in Acadia under a clear blue sky with her husband, Bill, and returning home to share a juicy hamburger and an ice cream with her grandchildren.

“It touches me that people love the University and that they want to see others benefit from their gifts,” says Nancy.

Meet the Foundation.

Amos Orcutt is president of the University of Maine Foundation, responsible for our operation as chief executive officer. He has been a guiding presence here for nearly two decades.

Since his undergraduate days Amos has been affiliated with Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity. Still involved as board member and alumni treasurer, he takes satisfaction watching the young men develop into leaders. Amos also sits on the boards of Katahdin Council Boy Scouts of America and the state committee for ESGR (Employee Support of the Guard Reserve), chairing the subcommittee on employer outreach.

In his leisure time, Amos eagerly works his farm with his John Deere tractor, overseeing the honeybees as they pollinate his blueberry blossoms and thoroughly enjoying every pastoral sight and sound.

Amos says, “I have a very special job. I gain the deepest satisfaction by helping our alumni and friends empower others by investing in the University of Maine.”

Meet Some of Our Benefactors.

William '56 and Mary '55 Johnson at their home in Saco

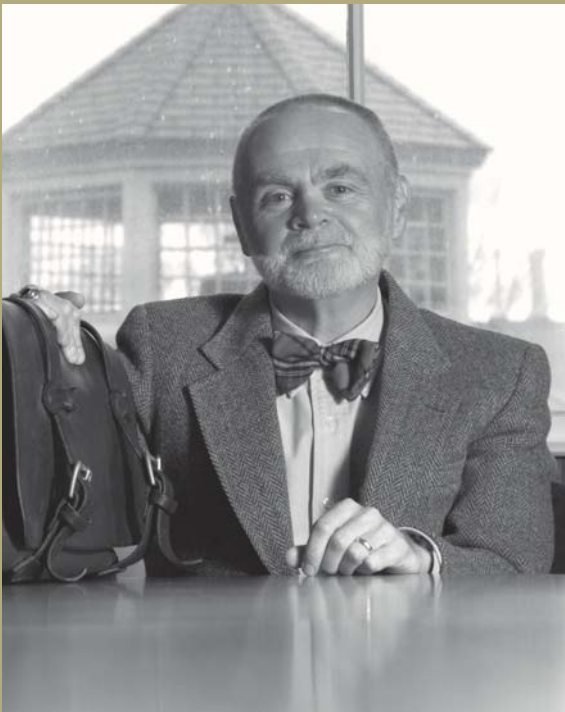

Bill and Mary Johnson met and fell in love while students at the University of Maine. The Mary A. Johnson '55 Presidential Scholarship Fund was established in the Foundation in 2006 by Bill in honor of Mary. They have worked with Dan Willett in the South Portland Office for several years.

“Dan goes beyond the business of fundraising. He takes a personal interest in us freely sharing his knowledge of planned giving with others,” says Bill.

“When Bill became ill last year, Dan was one of the first people I called for assistance. Dan met me at the hospital right after Bill was admitted and stayed by my side. He is a true friend,” says Mary.

“He is a wonderful representative of the University of Maine and, indeed, the entire University of Maine System,” says Bill who is a member of the System Board of Trustees.

“My wife Lorraine and I find that the University of Maine Foundation is one important means for us to support things in this life that we value. We know from first-hand experience the worth of the programs and facilities at UMaine that benefit from the Foundation’s support. Equally important, we trust that the Foundation is a good steward of its resources. This trust makes us comfortable with giving to the Foundation, knowing that those gifts will be well cared for.”

Mark Anderson '80G, coordinator of the Ecology and Environmental Sciences Program at UMaine, in Winslow Hall

“I continue to care deeply about the University and want to do my part to help the next generation succeed. I appreciate the help that the Foundation has given me to achieve that goal.”

Laurie Liscomb '61 at her summer home in Castine

“My late husband Ormand graduated from the University of Maine in 1961 and was a strong supporter of the University. With the guidance of Amos and others in the Foundation we met our philanthropic goals.”

Miriam Wade at her home in Southport

“Establishing an endowed scholarship was very important to me. I wanted to support students who shared my love of science, particularly in the area of microbiology. I know that having my fund invested through the University of Maine Foundation will assure that students will receive my help long after I am gone.”

Edie King '67 at Buchanan Alumni House

“We enjoy supporting the programs that we care about and we like the fact that giving is welcome at all levels. Even a few dollars can make a noticeable difference, which is not always the case at larger universities. We greatly appreciate the advice and guidance that Sarah has given us—she is a joy to work with.”

John and Bethel Dearborn in their cottage at Dirigo Pines in Orono. John is professor emeritus of Marine Sciences.

“When I made my estate plan, first preference was to give back to the university that prepared me so well for a career in Maine journalism, higher education and government. I am grateful to the Foundation for providing an instrument by which I can join the financial nurturing of future generations of Maine students.”

Reginald Bowden '55 at Buchanan Alumni House

Meet the Foundation.

Kevin Frazier started with the Foundation twelve years ago and is currently chief financial officer. For the past twenty years, Kevin has been a youth coach for the Bangor YMCA. He is one of the founders and past president of the Bangor Soccer Club. In 2004 Kevin received the G. Peirce Webber Volunteer of the Year Award, named for a beloved Bangor-area philanthropist—a man who once chaired the Foundation Board of Directors.

“I love to provide service to the community. I receive a great deal of satisfaction from helping someone else feel good by giving back,” says Kevin.

Ways of Giving

The University of Maine Foundation plays an increasingly important role in supporting higher education by providing the structure and efficiency needed for the partnership between our public university and the private sector to work. This partnership allows alumni, friends, and the corporate sector to effectively contribute to higher education. Your gift to the University of Maine Foundation can be the difference between promise and fulfillment, limitation and opportunity, failure and success. There’s no telling how many lives you can help or how thankfully you’ll be remembered.

As your generosity benefits others, it can benefit you as well. Depending upon your individual situation, you may receive a charitable income tax deduction and eliminate or reduce capital gain taxes. At the same time, you can secure a lifetime income through one of the Foundation’s life-income plans:

- Charitable gift annuities
- Charitable remainder trusts
- Deferred gift annuities
- Pooled life income funds

Gifts to the Foundation, made during your lifetime or by will, may include:

- Cash • Appreciated securities • Closely held securities • Life insurance
- Personal property • Real estate and forest land • Retirement plan assets

Establishing a donor-advised fund is a convenient, cost effective alternative to a private family foundation and consolidates charitable giving to the University of Maine and other worthy causes of one’s choosing.

Our staff will help you explore ways to contribute while protecting and enhancing your personal finances. We also encourage you to consult with your personal tax and legal advisors.

If you wish to leave the University of Maine Foundation a bequest in your will/trust for a scholarship or for some other purpose, you should amend your will/trust to reflect your wishes. The following represents sample language for doing so:

“I give and bequeath to the University of Maine Foundation for the benefit of the University of Maine, Orono, Maine (possible choices follow)

• the sum of $_____; or

• _____ percent of my estate; or

• the property described herein to establish the _____ Fund. The principal of the said Fund is to be endowed and only the income shall be used to provide financial assistance.”

Your gift to the University of Maine Foundation is the gift of a lifetime and an investment in the future.

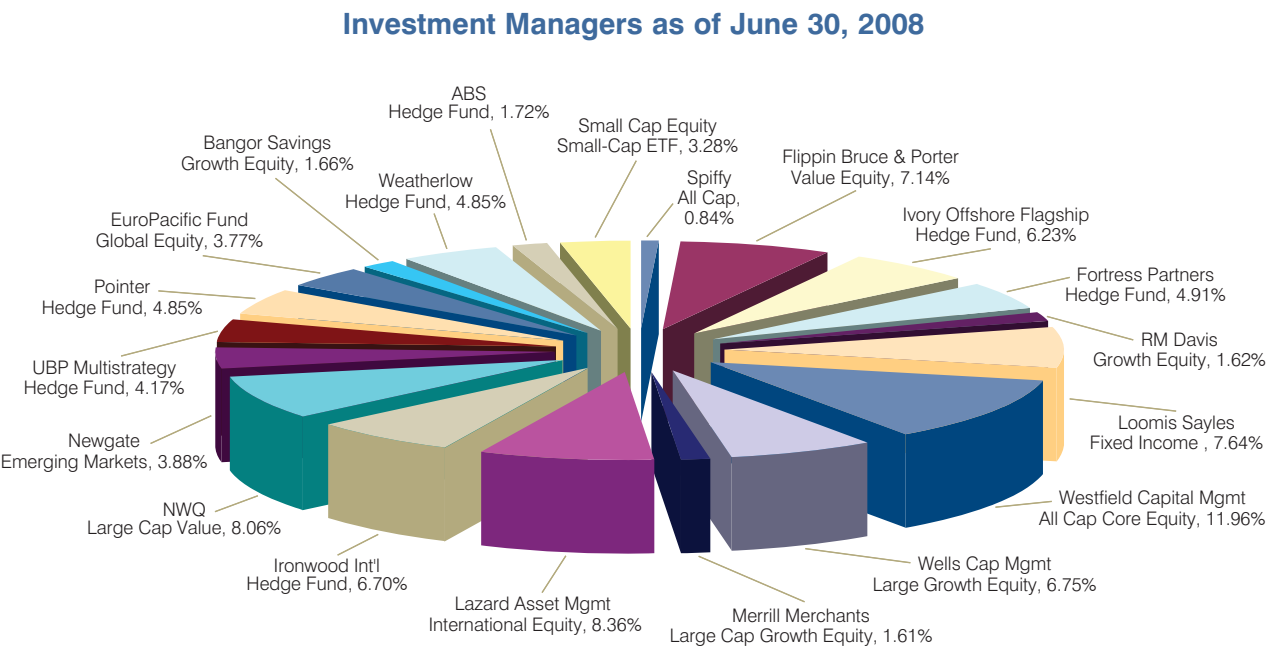

Endowment Funds Financial Review

The General Endowment Fund operates on a total return basis, focusing on the overall return of the investment portfolio. In February 2007, the Foundation Board of Directors approved a spending policy of 5.5% of the six-year average market value of the fund.

A 5.5% spending policy suggests that a proportionally large amount of the endowment earnings will be added to the endowment in times of high market growth, thus providing long-term growth in the funds. In periods when market growth is minimal, the 5.5% will provide a stable level of support to the recipients of the endowment income.

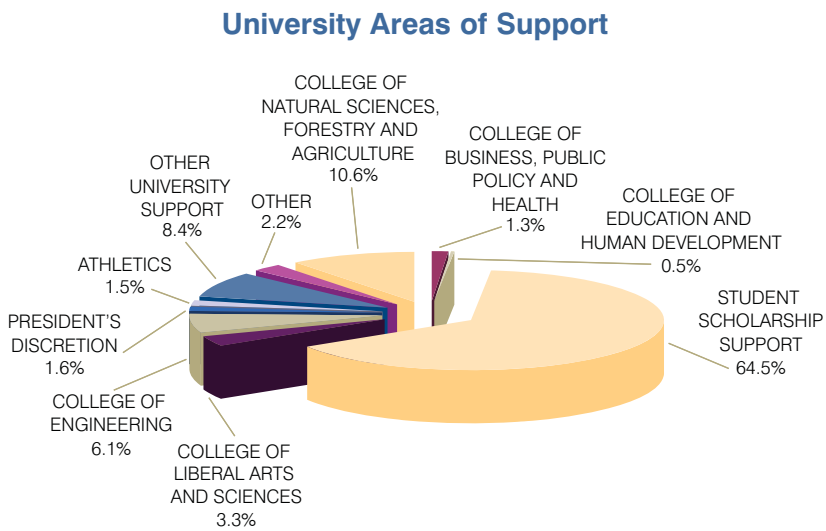

Managing the endowment on a total return basis, coupled with a prudent spending policy, provides greater assurance of successfully achieving our goal for the endowment: to pay a consistent level of income annually to support the University while protecting the endowment fund over the long term.

The Foundation’s Board of Directors and Investment Committee review this spending rate annually. Additionally, nineteen investment managers provide a diversified approach to the management of the investment portfolio of the General Endowment Fund.

Meet the Foundation.

Pam Shaw is the Foundation's information guru. Now in her twelfth year, her organizational talents and critical thinking skills allow the Foundation to process gifts and report to donors, advisors, and the campus community accurately and promptly. She played a key role as a member of the team in the University's conversion to a new web-based system for gift processing.

When not at work, Pam manages her 20-acre homestead and helps her family and friends with home improvement projects.

“A great day is when I can accomplish all that I've set out to do and have a few good laughs along the way,” says Pam.

Meet the Foundation.

Tina Dowling is the senior accountant for the Foundation and is one of our newest employees. Balancing career and family is both exciting and challenging for Tina, particularly this year: She and her husband Tom, along with daughter Ava, welcomed Addison Mae into the world on April 11, although complications meant the newborn didn’t arrive home until the middle of May. Tom and Tina are grateful their family is happy, healthy, and together.

“Seeing the generosity of so many UMaine alumni and friends inspires me to think and act on behalf of our children and their futures,” Tina says.

Gifts of $100 or more.

“I particularly look forward to the Foundation’s annual report every year. When I look through the list of endowment funds, I am impressed by the number of funds and the fact that gifts, both large and small are welcomed and appreciated. The openness and thoroughness of reporting sends the message that people can trust that the Foundation will invest their funds wisely,” says Bill.

William “Bill” ’56 Johnson

Meet the Foundation.

Judy Round joined the Foundation in 2006 as senior assistant to the president after working 22 years for the University of Maine. She handles marketing and communications, as well as working with student and friends groups to assist with fundraising.

Judy serves on the boards of directors for the Page Farm and Home Museum, located on the Orono campus, and Treats Falls Home, a residential home for adults with developmental disabilities, also in Orono. She is also on the executive board of the Friends of Dr. Edith Marion Patch, a non-profit organization dedicated to continuing the legacy of Dr. Edith Marion Patch, a pioneering entomologist.

“I’m fortunate that my personal interests blend so well with my professional responsibilities. I’ve got the best of both worlds,” says Judy.

Meet the Foundation.

Terri Libby provides administrative support for the planned giving officers and offers another friendly voice to greet visitors. She started here two years ago after working for the Department of Wildlife Ecology at the University of Maine. An avid walker, Terri can be found most evenings strolling in the Old Town/Milford area or on the trails in the University forest.

“Working in the beautiful Buchanan Alumni House with people who really care about others makes it a joy to come to work,” Terri says.
