Spring 2-16-1967

Maine Campus February 16 1967

Maine Campus Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/mainecampus

Repository Citation
Staff, Maine Campus, "Maine Campus February 16 1967" (1967). Maine Campus Archives. 408.
https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/mainecampus/408

This Other is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@UMaine. It has been accepted for inclusion in Maine Campus Archives by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@UMaine. For more information, please contact um.library.technical.services@maine.edu.
The Maine Campus

January 9, 1967

Faculty, deans grope for schedule solution

by Terry McCann

Tuesday and Thursday Bosses: days that have long been a bugaboo for many campus students, especially those with three course credits. Faculty members have already been made aware of the situation, with double or "doughnut" periods on one of the days totaling a 3-hour day.

With the likelihood of a 3-hour day on one of the days, it was projected against the full scale of the 5:58 schedule, until it was realized that the emotions of some students outstripped the schedule. Students felt that they should be allowed to obscure the schedule to such an extent that the students' minds could be made to interfere with the scheduling of other departments.

One major problem would be in scheduling a two-hour laboratory. (Continued on Page Two)

For woods lovers

University protects forest area

by Peter Taber

A large wooded area three hundred yards east of York Hall, comprising a large stand of hemlock and pine, has long been the delight of the undergraduate, the handy amateur, and the dedicated worker of the various nature history departments. In the months of the more academic lovers of the woods that the University has been set aside as a Wilderness Preserve.

Swimming pool fund drive results in date termed disheartening

by Barbara Marks

The Faculty Council voted unanimously at its last meeting, approving plans for another fund-raising drive by the Student Senate. President Gooding had joined the student government in its proposed to restore the proposed pool.

Stodder accepts Men's J-Board

The University's Wilderness Preserve has now stayed that way—at least part of it—due to a recent decision of the Board of Trustees. A twenty-one acre plot in the far corner of campus has been set aside as a Wilderness Preserve.

The Faculty Council voted unanimously at its last meeting, approval and support of plans for another fund-raising drive by the Student Senate. President Gooding had joined the student government in its proposed to restore the proposed pool.

The new drive will begin late this month, and the faculty council will be re-solicited. University President Gooding, chairman of the Senate, said that the committee was very disappointed in the response from the Freshman class, and a 9% return from the Freshmen class, and a 9% return from the faculty and staff. Gooding said that the committee was very disappointed in the response from the Freshman and Faculty, when they were expected to support the venture, as it will be most likely that the students will support the cause.

Faculty gives pool support

Mr. Cobb briefly summarized a report by Dean Godfrey of the University of Maine Law School in Portland. The report offers student and staff support for the pool. The Faculty Council approved the plans for another fund-raising drive by the Student Senate.

The dorm, in its many discussions on the constitution, has made one thing clear. While they welcome the increased responsibility, they do not want to legislate on serious matters, such as suspension or dismissal. The dorm will immediately be turned over to Dean Brown and our men now more before the Judicial Committee.

The dorms have been very vocal in their disapproval of the park and its facilities. The dorms have been very vocal in their disapproval of the park and its facilities. The dorms have been very vocal in their disapproval of the park and its facilities.
Profs on Ice exhibits musts how good taste

"Profs on Ice" is the Schussboomer '67 theme selection, put to gear at the University. The theme might tempt or confound ticket takers, but the committee demands that all displays must exhibit good taste. Subtlety will be awarded to first, second, and third place winners in each of these divisions: women's dormitory, men's dormitory, and fraternity. Specific themes and accompanying artwork must be submitted with entries by Feb. 17.

DINER

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Open 24 Hours</th>
<th>Steak</th>
<th>Fine Food</th>
<th>Lobsters</th>
<th>Beverages</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>$1.95 Heavy Western Steak</td>
<td>$1.95</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Hogan Road Interchange Rt. 95, Bangor

---

SS396 Sport Coupe

And a new Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission for the driving man.

If you get tired of shifting, put it in "D."

Even a driving man's man can get tired of clutching and shifting in a traffic jam. But there are times when you want to stoe your gears by hand. A dilemma! Until now, that is. Now you can order Turbo Hydra-Matic in the SS 396. It's the quick-size '67 Chevelle—Now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

---

Students fight for budget

SDS proposes committee to channel student opinion

It was further reported that the members of the heavy recruiting of the SDS on campus were no less than thirty, while the group's actual membership was thirty. The plan was presented at a group meeting Monday night.

Submitted to the Student Senate Tuesday night, the blueprint calls for the formation of a "general steering committee" through which to channel student reaction to the State House. The plan was presented to a group meeting Monday night.

To be comprised of representatives from each of the campus organizations, fraternities, and residence halls, a suggested function of the steering committee is to urge students to write letters to their legislators, friends, and families, pressing upon them the consequences of the governor's proposed cuts in university revenues. The group expressed the necessity of "irritating people that they feel strongly about an issue, it is within their power to do something about it."

The SDS further called for the steering committee to thoroughly investigate the probable effects of a budget trimming, and to widely publicize the subsequent findings. The plan was presented at a group meeting Monday night.

Spokesman Lawrence Mashkow also mentioned to the Monday night meeting that three films about social and war will be shown at the Coffee House. The films to be shown were listed as: "The Magician," "Neighbors," and "Time of the Locust."

---

Fast Service

Fine Food

THE QUICK-SIZE '67 CHEVELLE—Now at your Chevrolet dealer's
Long range plans proposed for university development

The University's Long Range Planning Committee released a report this week containing a seventy-seven page document. The result of their efforts is a comprehensive analysis of student and faculty concerns. The LRPC, made up of representatives from various university departments, was appointed in 1964 to study student problems and to develop plans for expansion and improvement of the University.

The report is based on over two hundred recommendations. Some of the more significant of these proposals are:

- Establishment of an undergraduate and graduate school of Social Welfare
- State subsidy for graduate programs
- Financial support from the Legislature for CED and Summer Session programs
- State subsidy for graduate programs
- Financial support from the Legislature for CED and Summer Session programs
- Establishment of a division of two-year schools. Under this plan, all Maine high school graduates would be given an opportunity to pursue an additional two years of academic or vocational education
- Research should be an increasingly important University function, and more appropriately represented in terms of facilities, finances, and work-load adjustments
- Teachers and curriculum committees would be involved in evaluating courses of study
- The additional emphasis on research may encourage students to choose more opportunities for graduate work
- More effective use of extended facilities
- A great emphasis on strengthening the quality of instruction
- More extensive use of essay examinations
- More appropriately recognize the needs of students from many other schools
- Essay-type examinations than are being given on the Stagg Field
- More progress in research and teaching activities
- And that the fare of the University will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions
- The proposed increases in course examinations has caused alarm among students that the curriculum will change. The present state of education is already able to handle these expectations. Examinations for students from other schools.

According to Committee Chairman Professors, we should consider the committee's primary concern. The present report is based on input from students regarding the possible changes. However, the committee insists that a decision will be made only between teaching and research activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions.

The Marblehead Preserve Committee consists of five members representing the natural history departments and the physical plant. The committee is composed of the teachers and has no actual power, but it is expected to act as a guide for the university. All plans for the protected area are submitted to the committee, only the Physical Plant Department was consulted.

The Woodland Preserve Committee is comprised of five members representing the natural history departments and the physical plant. The committee is composed of the teachers and has no actual power, but it is expected to act as a guide for the university. All plans for the protected area are submitted to the committee, only the Physical Plant Department was consulted.

- The University should place great emphasis on strengthening the quality of instruction
- More appropriate recognition of the needs of students from many other schools
- Essay-type examinations than are being given on the Stagg Field
- More progress in research and teaching activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions
- The proposed increases in course examinations has caused alarm among students that the curriculum will change. The present state of education is already able to handle these expectations. Examinations for students from other schools.

According to Committee Chairman Professors, we should consider the committee's primary concern. The present report is based on input from students regarding the possible changes. However, the committee insists that a decision will be made only between teaching and research activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions.

The Marblehead Preserve Committee consists of five members representing the natural history departments and the physical plant. The committee is composed of the teachers and has no actual power, but it is expected to act as a guide for the university. All plans for the protected area are submitted to the committee, only the Physical Plant Department was consulted.

- The University should place great emphasis on strengthening the quality of instruction
- More appropriate recognition of the needs of students from many other schools
- Essay-type examinations than are being given on the Stagg Field
- More progress in research and teaching activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions
- The proposed increases in course examinations has caused alarm among students that the curriculum will change. The present state of education is already able to handle these expectations. Examinations for students from other schools.

According to Committee Chairman Professors, we should consider the committee's primary concern. The present report is based on input from students regarding the possible changes. However, the committee insists that a decision will be made only between teaching and research activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions.

The Marblehead Preserve Committee consists of five members representing the natural history departments and the physical plant. The committee is composed of the teachers and has no actual power, but it is expected to act as a guide for the university. All plans for the protected area are submitted to the committee, only the Physical Plant Department was consulted.

- The University should place great emphasis on strengthening the quality of instruction
- More appropriate recognition of the needs of students from many other schools
- Essay-type examinations than are being given on the Stagg Field
- More progress in research and teaching activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions
- The proposed increases in course examinations has caused alarm among students that the curriculum will change. The present state of education is already able to handle these expectations. Examinations for students from other schools.

According to Committee Chairman Professors, we should consider the committee's primary concern. The present report is based on input from students regarding the possible changes. However, the committee insists that a decision will be made only between teaching and research activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions.

The Marblehead Preserve Committee consists of five members representing the natural history departments and the physical plant. The committee is composed of the teachers and has no actual power, but it is expected to act as a guide for the university. All plans for the protected area are submitted to the committee, only the Physical Plant Department was consulted.

- The University should place great emphasis on strengthening the quality of instruction
- More appropriate recognition of the needs of students from many other schools
- Essay-type examinations than are being given on the Stagg Field
- More progress in research and teaching activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions
- The proposed increases in course examinations has caused alarm among students that the curriculum will change. The present state of education is already able to handle these expectations. Examinations for students from other schools.

According to Committee Chairman Professors, we should consider the committee's primary concern. The present report is based on input from students regarding the possible changes. However, the committee insists that a decision will be made only between teaching and research activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions.

The Marblehead Preserve Committee consists of five members representing the natural history departments and the physical plant. The committee is composed of the teachers and has no actual power, but it is expected to act as a guide for the university. All plans for the protected area are submitted to the committee, only the Physical Plant Department was consulted.

- The University should place great emphasis on strengthening the quality of instruction
- More appropriate recognition of the needs of students from many other schools
- Essay-type examinations than are being given on the Stagg Field
- More progress in research and teaching activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions
- The proposed increases in course examinations has caused alarm among students that the curriculum will change. The present state of education is already able to handle these expectations. Examinations for students from other schools.

According to Committee Chairman Professors, we should consider the committee's primary concern. The present report is based on input from students regarding the possible changes. However, the committee insists that a decision will be made only between teaching and research activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions.

The Marblehead Preserve Committee consists of five members representing the natural history departments and the physical plant. The committee is composed of the teachers and has no actual power, but it is expected to act as a guide for the university. All plans for the protected area are submitted to the committee, only the Physical Plant Department was consulted.

- The University should place great emphasis on strengthening the quality of instruction
- More appropriate recognition of the needs of students from many other schools
- Essay-type examinations than are being given on the Stagg Field
- More progress in research and teaching activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions
- The proposed increases in course examinations has caused alarm among students that the curriculum will change. The present state of education is already able to handle these expectations. Examinations for students from other schools.

According to Committee Chairman Professors, we should consider the committee's primary concern. The present report is based on input from students regarding the possible changes. However, the committee insists that a decision will be made only between teaching and research activities, and that additions to the faculty will provide more realistic teacher/student proportions.

The Marblehead Preserve Committee consists of five members representing the natural history departments and the physical plant. The committee is composed of the teachers and has no actual power, but it is expected to act as a guide for the university. All plans for the protected area are submitted to the committee, only the Physical Plant Department was consulted.
Dial-a-course and listen to lecture replays

Ithaca, N.Y. - (Ithaca College) - Dial-a-course is now possible at Ithaca College, where a student is able to listen to classroom lecture he missed.

"Dial-a-course" is the name that students have given to a plan just instituted here under which class meetings are recorded on audio tape, with later replay for the benefit of students who may wish to hear them.

These students are expected to include those who were unable to attend the class meetings because of illness, conflict of schedules or for other reasons and students who did not hear them.

A student may hear the replays of the lectures by donning earphones at a number of places on the campus, dialing the communications center and asking be number for the course he desires.

It is possible for a number of students—up to 600—to listen simultaneously with earphones or over loudspeakers. Groups may gather in a number of seminar rooms, dial the course, and listen to them over loudspeakers. If a student is ill and confined to a ward in the infirmary he or she may hear a lecture either way—by wearing earphones, or receiving it over the loudspeaker.

The plan is intended to strengthen the instructional programs at the College, and to protect the investment that the student and his family have made in his education.

Robert M. Davies, provost of the College, has explained: "Every lecture represents a significant financial investment on the part of the individual student. Tuition and living expenses quickly add up to a bill of three or four dollars per lecture. If one considers that a student is denied an income from employment while in college the cost may easily double or triple that amount.

The professor who wishes to record his lecture under the plan may go to a panel in the College's larger lecture rooms, pick up a telephone receiver, dial the communications center and announce that he is ready for the recording to start. He then gives his lecture as he normally would, speaking into the microphone that carries his voice to the Audio Laboratory. The faculty member whose class is held in a smaller room is able to record his lecture along with any class discussion. It is possible also for him to introduce any recorded material which he might wish to use along with his lecture or class discussion.

An instructor who expects to be away from the campus can also record his lecture in advance for replay to his students during his absence.
Debating teams from high schools throughout the New England area gathered on campus last weekend, for the 19th Annual Debate Tourney, held by the College's Debate and Oratory Association. The tournament, sponsored by the university's Department of Speech, opened Friday afternoon with first round eliminations.

In the tourney, divided into novice and varsity classes, were required to debate both sides of the proposal: that the foreign aid policy of the United States should be limited to non-military assistance. The judging was done by faculty, members of the university's varsity debate team, and coaches accompanying the participating teams.

The sem-finals began Saturday afternoon, followed by championships shortly after noon. The winning teams received trophies; the winning teams with 3 or more wins were presented certificates of merit.

H. M. GOLDSMITH Inc.
WOMEN'S STORE
OLD TOWN

THE UNIVERSITY STORES
"majoring in service"

Drama Students: Spend the summer with a professional resident company in Wilmington, Vermont. Apprentices will rotate crews and have an opportunity to try out for small parts. Must be at least 18 years. No tuition charge, pay only $25 weekly for room and board. June 18 to September 2, 1967. Send pictures and resumes to: Miss Kathryn Cobb, Co-Producer, THE MIRROR PLAYERS, INC., 4 Arlington Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts, 02140.

DRAMA STUDENTS: — Spend the summer with a professional resident company in Wilmington, Vermont. Apprentices will rotate crews and have an opportunity to try out for small parts. Must be at least 18 years. No tuition charge, pay only $25 weekly for room and board. June 18 to September 2, 1967. Send pictures and resumes to: Miss Kathryn Cobb, Co-Producer, THE MIRROR PLAYERS, INC., 4 Arlington Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts, 02140.

Sweater weather...
...he is an executive of the biggest business in the US.

To the Editor:
In a recent letter to the editor, Miss Patricia Edmondson expressed her dismay over the manner in which President Johnson addressed the nation on the subject of the war in Vietnam. Mrs. Edmondson fails to understand that the President and other officials of his administration are not without responsibility and a sense of honor. As a private citizen, she must accept the reality or not commit herself toward the war. I will say, however, that the young men serving our country do acquire maturity, respect for themselves and others, responsibility, and other traits characteristic of leadership.

Mark F. Buckley

...the one with the tower rim resembling brain tissue

To the Editor:
Who would the person who took my Mark Twain book look like? He looks like brain tissue. I am in the process of looking through it.

I need to get it back in a couple of days, so if you should see the book with you as a Russian spy, please leave it at the same end I placed it, I would appreciate it.

The real Russian spy.

...the point where we should stand up and be counted

To the Editor:
It is very fashionable for some people these days to be a 'friend' to the 'common man.' Unfortunately, it is not the common man who is being considered by the government and particularly of the Department of Defense, the person to be concerned about as a special group. It seems that General Glenn's concern for the 'common man' was considered good enough by the administration.

I would like it to make a national issue where I spent my childhood.

Evelyn Young

...it's really when we are dunking the ball

The story of athletic scholarships has been discussed on this campus many times. Since Maine hasn't offered athletic scholarships for over six years, there are few defen- sive concepts. However, there are a few things that have been done recently. Namely, we have had great coaching staffs in all sports. They have been able to get the utmost out of their players. This is most evident in the national championship basketball team this year. Tremendous depth won many of the big games.

Basketball presents another story. We have the luck of the scholarships here more than in any other conference for the University.
We have had a team that has been well-coached. We have had a team that has been well-coached. Our team was composed of the top men that were available to us. They had seen in previous years that our men were able to stand against some of the best in the conference. Logically, if a given choice between playing for the sport of the game or a coaching scholarship is made, the coaching scholarship seems the better choice. Whatever the reason, we have seen the ball, my nothing of really creating it.

The fact that there is a full man is bound to be approached by some college and offered a scholarship. Logically, if a given choice between playing for the sport of the game or a coaching scholarship is made, the coaching scholarship seems the better choice. Whatever the reason, we have seen the ball, my nothing of really creating it.

The fact that this is a full man is bound to be approached by some college and offered a scholarship. Logically, if a given choice between playing for the sport of the game or a coaching scholarship is made, the coaching scholarship seems the better choice. Whatever the reason, we have seen the ball, my nothing of really creating it.

An interesting situation arises when a full man is bound to be approached by some college and offered a scholarship. Logically, if a given choice between playing for the sport of the game or a coaching scholarship is made, the coaching scholarship seems the better choice. Whatever the reason, we have seen the ball, my nothing of really creating it.

An interesting situation arises when a full man is bound to be approached by some college and offered a scholarship. Logically, if a given choice between playing for the sport of the game or a coaching scholarship is made, the coaching scholarship seems the better choice. Whatever the reason, we have seen the ball, my nothing of really creating it.

...the university is taking a step in the wrong direction

To the Editor:
I think that dropping EH 3 is a great step in the wrong direction. A core course is needed for anyone with educational goals. The main purpose of EH 3 is to teach freshmen to think abstractly. To me it is the most interesting and valuable course that I have had at this university. It wasn't easy going. We hardly started the first few pages, and then my roommate stopped. Logically, if a given choice between playing for the sport of the game or a coaching scholarship is made, the coaching scholarship seems the better choice. Whatever the reason, we have seen the ball, my nothing of really creating it.

How can other professors demand good writing if the students have learned to produce it without the effort being so great that they give up trying? Isn't EH 1 and 2 the place where on effort, attitude made in high schools, could be made to take into account the two separate aspects of EH 3? It is in there that the process takes at least a year.

Chick Dance

...freshman composition still required for degree

Membership of the Class of 1970 has recently been called for. EH 3 is one of three credits in EH 2 still required for a bachelor's degree. Many students feel EH 2 is unnecessary, some feel EH 3 is a high school course, while others feel EH 3 is unimportant, either of which would leave them without the process they are taking today.

Last week's news story on the concentration of freshman composition into a single semester is a description of which I feel is more nearly complete than is "dropping EH 3" by itself. I am afraid that the story is not complete truth, but that is how the process is taking to at least a year.

Chick Dance

...her story, an original narrative, was a true story

To the Editor:
I am writing in regards to Miss Mary's letter concerning Heather MacLeod's story, "All the Share of the Pasture" published in Closer. Before the event and the controversy that followed, publication Miss MacLeod informed me that she had wanted me to publish the story the way she would have knownstone.

She had wanted me to publish the story the way she would have knownstone.

It was the only story that Miss MacLeod wrote in, which makes her story this year at Cape Elizabeth High School under the supervision of Miss Sarah E. Franklin. Miss MacLeod had read an article in a New York newspaper prompted her to write a story about her son, who was a college student, who had done some research on the subject. The tragic incident made me decide to stay with it. The only apology the staff and I would make would be that we did not, beforehand, inform the public that this piece was based on facts.

Sister Johnson

...the real Russian spy

As we all know, the real Russian spy is...
A valid case

The long-standing taboo on coed apartment visitation now rests in administrative limbo, awaiting final personal and, hopefully, ultimate approval. Now, IFC has stepped forward with near-pallid suggestions for liberalization of fraternity study room restrictions.

The "first floor" restriction now applied to Greeks limits co-occupancy of second floor study areas to a several minutes span during intermissions of late permission parties. (Fraternities are currently allowed three such parties per academic year.)

We strongly hope that the Social Affairs Committee will recommend a revision and relaxation of this regulation. That the rule is consistently violated by fraternity members is not, of course, a sufficient reason for policy relaxation. Neither is the fact that the IFC Judicial Board may be finding itself in the embarrassing position of sentencing punishment for infringement of a rule that it finds needlessly stringent. However, we feel these factors are present, and indicate the necessity for revision of current policy and practice.

Following opposing arguments to their base, the inescapable fact remains that most fraternity study rooms range from cramped to very small. They are not ideal places in which to entertain. But, however small, the rooms do afford a measure of needed privacy—temporariness relief from the "group-think" psychology that prevails the gym dance, the Union movie, and the fraternity party.

Some administrators observe that what fraternity members are granted. Dormitory residents might demand. The Committee on Discipline wisely refused to consider coed visitations to dormitories. The most of the organizations represented at the meeting are members of the United States Youth Council (YSYC), which will stage a national convention in Portland this year. (YSYC, which was formed at the conference, represents the American Federation of College Students and the Student Council of America.)

The "first floor" restriction now applied to Greeks limits co-occupancy of second floor study areas to a several minutes span during intermissions of late permission parties. (Fraternities are currently allowed three such parties per academic year.)

We strongly hope that the Social Affairs Committee will recommend a revision and relaxation of this regulation. That the rule is consistently violated by fraternity members is not, of course, a sufficient reason for policy relaxation. Neither is the fact that the IFC Judicial Board may be finding itself in the embarrassing position of sentencing punishment for infringement of a rule that it finds needlessly stringent. However, we feel these factors are present, and indicate the necessity for revision of current policy and practice.

Following opposing arguments to their base, the inescapable fact remains that most fraternity study rooms range from cramped to very small. They are not ideal places in which to entertain. But, however small, the rooms do afford a measure of needed privacy—temporariness relief from the "group-think" psychology that prevails the gym dance, the Union movie, and the fraternity party.

Some administrators observe that what fraternity members are granted. Dormitory residents might demand. The Committee on Discipline wisely refused to consider coed visitations to dormitories. The most of the organizations represented at the meeting are members of the United States Youth Council (YSYC), which will stage a national convention in Portland this year. (YSYC, which was formed at the conference, represents the American Federation of College Students and the Student Council of America.)

The "first floor" restriction now applied to Greeks limits co-occupancy of second floor study areas to a several minutes span during intermissions of late permission parties. (Fraternities are currently allowed three such parties per academic year.)

We strongly hope that the Social Affairs Committee will recommend a revision and relaxation of this regulation. That the rule is consistently violated by fraternity members is not, of course, a sufficient reason for policy relaxation. Neither is the fact that the IFC Judicial Board may be finding itself in the embarrassing position of sentencing punishment for infringement of a rule that it finds needlessly stringent. However, we feel these factors are present, and indicate the necessity for revision of current policy and practice.

Following opposing arguments to their base, the inescapable fact remains that most fraternity study rooms range from cramped to very small. They are not ideal places in which to entertain. But, however small, the rooms do afford a measure of needed privacy—temporariness relief from the "group-think" psychology that prevails the gym dance, the Union movie, and the fraternity party.

And it might well be that dormitory residents have a case as equally valid for entertaining coeds in their rooms as we believe students living in apartments and fraternities do.

—D. L. K.

Naval Research Laboratory
WASHINGTON, D.C.
An Equal Opportunity Employer

The Navy's Corporate Laboratory—NRL is engaged in research encompassing practically all branches of physical and engineering science and covering the entire range from basic investigation of fundamental problems to applied and developmental research.

The Laboratory has current vacancies and a continuing need for physicists, chemists, metallurgists, mathematicians, oceanographers, and engineers (electronic, electrical, mechanical, and civil). Persons appointed receive the full benefits of the career Civil Service.

Candidates for bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees in any of the above fields are invited to schedule interviews with the NRL representative who will be in the University of Maine placement office on

February 28

Those who for any reason are unable to schedule interviews may write to The Director (Code 1818), Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D. C. 20390.

Extracurricular 2Quiz:

Remember: The first person to come in to H. M. Goldsmith's and identify the work and author will win the merchandise advertised below.

If you're looking for something to wear
Come on up and we'll pay the fare.

Sharon presents the linen print boy jacket suit. Mock flap pockets and the trim slim skirt share in this fashion delight. Sizes 10 to 18 at a budget "suited" price of 15.00.

H. M. GOLDSMITH Inc.
76-78 NORTH MAIN ST.
OLD TOWN

Last week's answer: From "The Prophet" by Khalil Gibran
Last week's winner: Jodi Maines, 526 York Hall who submitted her answer in person at

The establishment of a New England-Atlantic Provinces Center at the university may occur in the near future. A region which in the past has shared many historical developments and land and the Atlantic Provinces form a center pointed out that New England residents.

The university is, both from its geographical position and its many international interests, a national center for Canadian studies. A regional studies program in history has been approved by the Board of Trustees for next fall. It will provide graduate training for American historians with a strong field in Canadian studies oriented toward the Atlantic Provinces. Many of the present history courses will be included in the program.

The Maritime Province Scholarships have promoted Canadian-American relations to a greater extent than 400 products, from multifunctional building components to innovations in packaging. What does this mean to you? It means you can get a lot at Armstrong.

A regional studies program in history has been approved by the Board of Trustees for next fall. It will provide graduate training for American historians with a strong field in Canadian studies oriented toward the Atlantic Provinces. Many of the present history courses will be included in the program.

The Maritime Province Scholarships have promoted Canadian-American relations to a greater extent than 400 products, from multifunctional building components to innovations in packaging. What does this mean to you? It means you can get a lot at Armstrong.

A regional studies program in history has been approved by the Board of Trustees for next fall. It will provide graduate training for American historians with a strong field in Canadian studies oriented toward the Atlantic Provinces. Many of the present history courses will be included in the program.
Gypsy Rose Lee may be relegated to second place in burlesque history, now that a George Washington University instructor has taken to strip-teasing in front of students.

Having warned students in his sophomore class that he was about to do something unorthodox, Joseph Tropea put on sunglasses and donned himself of suit coat, tie, shirt and trousers.

Business lowers required hours

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.

Next door to campus on college avenue

THE CHALET

Bill Gessett

TYPOL

866-2338

WINTER

WE HONOR YOUR NEW PHILLIPS 66 CREDIT CARDS

THE CHALET

Bill Gessett

TYPOL

866-2338

WINTER

WE HONOR YOUR NEW PHILLIPS 66 CREDIT CARDS

Nancy to James

Last year some 25,000 American tourists and businessmen bought foreign cars in Europe ... and saved enough on the deal to more than pay for their international flight."

The Maine Campus

Page Nine

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.

D.C. instructor strips for students

WASHINGTON, D. C. (CPS)—Gypsy Rose Lee may be relegated to second place in burlesque history, now that a George Washington University instructor has taken to strip-teasing in front of students.

Having warned students in his sophomore class that he was about to do something unorthodox, Joseph Tropea put on sunglasses and donned himself of suit coat, tie, shirt and trousers.

Business lowers required hours

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.

D.C. instructor strips for students

WASHINGTON, D. C. (CPS)—Gypsy Rose Lee may be relegated to second place in burlesque history, now that a George Washington University instructor has taken to strip-teasing in front of students.

Having warned students in his sophomore class that he was about to do something unorthodox, Joseph Tropea put on sunglasses and donned himself of suit coat, tie, shirt and trousers.

Business lowers required hours

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.

Washington, D.C. (CPS)—Gypsy Rose Lee may be relegated to second place in burlesque history, now that a George Washington University instructor has taken to strip-teasing in front of students.

Having warned students in his sophomore class that he was about to do something unorthodox, Joseph Tropea put on sunglasses and donned himself of suit coat, tie, shirt and trousers.

Business lowers required hours

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CPS)—Gypsy Rose Lee may be relegated to second place in burlesque history, now that a George Washington University instructor has taken to strip-teasing in front of students.

Having warned students in his sophomore class that he was about to do something unorthodox, Joseph Tropea put on sunglasses and donned himself of suit coat, tie, shirt and trousers.

Business lowers required hours

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CPS)—Gypsy Rose Lee may be relegated to second place in burlesque history, now that a George Washington University instructor has taken to strip-teasing in front of students.

Having warned students in his sophomore class that he was about to do something unorthodox, Joseph Tropea put on sunglasses and donned himself of suit coat, tie, shirt and trousers.

Business lowers required hours

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CPS)—Gypsy Rose Lee may be relegated to second place in burlesque history, now that a George Washington University instructor has taken to strip-teasing in front of students.

Having warned students in his sophomore class that he was about to do something unorthodox, Joseph Tropea put on sunglasses and donned himself of suit coat, tie, shirt and trousers.

Business lowers required hours

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CPS)—Gypsy Rose Lee may be relegated to second place in burlesque history, now that a George Washington University instructor has taken to strip-teasing in front of students.

Having warned students in his sophomore class that he was about to do something unorthodox, Joseph Tropea put on sunglasses and donned himself of suit coat, tie, shirt and trousers.

Business lowers required hours

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CPS)—Gypsy Rose Lee may be relegated to second place in burlesque history, now that a George Washington University instructor has taken to strip-teasing in front of students.

Having warned students in his sophomore class that he was about to do something unorthodox, Joseph Tropea put on sunglasses and donned himself of suit coat, tie, shirt and trousers.

Business lowers required hours

The faculty of the College of Business Administration has voted unanimously to reduce the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in both the business administration and economics programs. They recommended that the lowering of the full-time hours required for graduation be effective the fall semester.

Dr. W. Stanley Devino, Dean of the College of Business Administration, stated that the faculty of the college has been considering such a reduction for nearly two years. He said that reduction in hours will enable the students to concentrate their efforts more intensely in one or two fields of study during junior and senior years.

For further information and a sales catalog, call:

Paul Auclair 866-2426
Stan Wentzell 9:00 p.m.
Wrestling: a growing sport

by John A. Torrone

In a small matted room on the third floor of the Memorial Gymnasium, David W. Taber, a graduate student, teaches one of the oldest sports that man knows—wrestling, a sport dating back to prehistoric times.

Some of the best wrestlers are blind. The Perkins School of the Blind teaches wrestling, and Taber has taught wrestling exhibition where he blindfolds himself, proving that you don't have to see to wrestle. Embroided in a handshake grasp with this reporter, Taber describes wrestling as a sport requiring much dependence on physical responses. In fact, some of the best wrestlers are blind. The Perkins School of the Blind teaches wrestling, and Taber has had many blind students.

"Collegiate wrestling," states the coach, "is a sport which requires a quick wit, a vast knowledge of legal tactics and response, and durability. Wrestling is a sport in which the contestants are blindfolded. It is a sport of weight classes, which is a little unfair to the boys, but it has more than 40 classes.

One of the top contestants in the wrestling tournament will be Keith Kalman, who has been recently named as captain of Maine's football team. Kalman, who is an ex-wrestler, participated in the team with Wildcat College this summer and is more than an expert wrestler. He is assistant in the coaching role with Taber.

Others participating are George Stetson, a graduate student, who attended both Cathedral and University and, of course, in his college better at the university. Some of our State's opponents already have teams.

Taber describes wrestling as a sport of type of sport, noting that much depends on physical responses. In fact, some of the best wrestlers are blind. The Perkins School of the Blind teaches wrestling, and Taber has had many blind students.

The most important decision of your life, we urge you to consider career opportunities at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft. Like everyone else, we offer all of the usual "fringe" benefits, including Corporation-financed Graduate Education and copy must be received by the Monday noon of the week of publication. Rates: 75c for the first 15 words or part thereof; 2c for each additional word.
the cradle hold...

Colly Fisherty, who is learning how to wrestle for the first time, applies the cradle hold to Keith Kalman, one of the more experienced wrestlers on campus. Coach Dave Taber supervises the match.

pro profile

by Harv Dunn

Are the Boston Celts on their way to the NBA Championship? Some say, but I doubt it. They are no good today as they have ever been.

One thing for sure is that the Celtics aren't getting any younger. K.C. Jones will be thirty-five in May and has already announced his retirement to coach Bramhall's Tidewater Tech, finishing second in the nation last year, and he will be forty-two in July.

At the moment they are a half dozen games behind the Philadelphia Sixers club. Does this mean the Celtics are in danger? Not really. They are on the brink of collapse.

The Celtics' bench plays an important part in game situations. With the help of Joe Mullaney, Bob Couser, Phil Chamberlain, and Tom Nolen, and Burnell one on one, and a clutch backer, Tom Kimball, they have come to the rescue.

Since the Celtics are potential high flyers, they usually don't get any of the top college players in the draft. The important thing is that they shore up mediocre and older players and transform them into the best.

Summing everything up, I think the Celtics are good for a couple more years of top-flight ball, but beyond that unless they pick up some good rookies, age will provide them with the necessary journey to the top.

Jobs in camp counseling will be discussed soon

Reappraisals from last summer's guests in Maine have appeared in the university's annual Camp Counselor Placement Day. Camp representatives will be in the main lobby of the Monfort Union Thursday, February 23, from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. and available by appointment to discuss seeking information on camp employment opportunities in the field of camp counseling.

Notice of cancellations or changes from participating camps have already been received. Openings range from general counselor positions to Planes of water sports programs. Also needed are counselors with special interests in the field for all sports, scouting and other Welfare activities.

Positions are available for those with camp experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The salary range depends upon experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The Maine team was outmanned by Brown, but they turned in excellent performances in their own right. In the hurdles, Dan Larkin, a member of the 800-yd. relay, headed by the Olympic performer Sam Sezak, Men's Physical Education, and Sam Bess, Men's Physical Education.

The Maine Campus Page Eleven

United Baptist Church
Middle St., Old Town
Free bus service every Sunday
9:30 a.m. Sunday School
10:45 a.m. Worship
7:00 p.m. Evening Service

Bus Schedule

9:00 a.m. York Hall
9:45 a.m. Cumberland Hall
9:58 a.m. Hart Hall
11:11 a.m. Eastbrook Hall
11:15 a.m. Challenge Hall
9:20 a.m. Colby Flaherty, who heads the first time, applies the cradle hold to Keith Kalman, one of the more experienced wrestlers on campus. Coach Dave Tabersupervises the match.

Brown trounces Bears; five indoor records set

A strong Brown University track team faced the University of Maine last Saturday, 8-25. In all, four records were established in the Maine Fallfield High School meet.

The meet, which was held in a new facility, was attended by only a small number of spectators.

On the Maine side, dependable John Kirkland set a meet mark in the 600 yard run with a 1:15.2 clocking. With a performance of his running, Kirkland was destined to finish in the top ten of the Yankee Conference championship coming later on in the season.

The Maine track team was outmatched by Brown, but they turned in excellent performances in their own right. In the hurdles, Dan Larkin, a member of the 800-yd. relay, headed by the Olympic performer Sam Sezak, Men's Physical Education, and Sam Bess, Men's Physical Education.

Jobs in camp counseling will be discussed soon

Reappraisals from last summer's guests in Maine have appeared in the university's annual Camp Counselor Placement Day. Camp representatives will be in the main lobby of the Monfort Union Thursday, February 23, from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. and available by appointment to discuss seeking information on camp employment opportunities in the field of camp counseling.

Notice of cancellations or changes from participating camps have already been received. Openings range from general counselor positions to Planes of water sports programs. Also needed are counselors with special interests in the field for all sports, scouting and other Welfare activities.

Positions are available for those with camp experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The salary range depends upon experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The Maine team was outmanned by Brown, but they turned in excellent performances in their own right. In the hurdles, Dan Larkin, a member of the 800-yd. relay, headed by the Olympic performer Sam Sezak, Men's Physical Education, and Sam Bess, Men's Physical Education.

Jobs in camp counseling will be discussed soon

Reappraisals from last summer's guests in Maine have appeared in the university's annual Camp Counselor Placement Day. Camp representatives will be in the main lobby of the Monfort Union Thursday, February 23, from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. and available by appointment to discuss seeking information on camp employment opportunities in the field of camp counseling.

Notice of cancellations or changes from participating camps have already been received. Openings range from general counselor positions to Planes of water sports programs. Also needed are counselors with special interests in the field for all sports, scouting and other Welfare activities.

Positions are available for those with camp experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The salary range depends upon experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The Maine team was outmanned by Brown, but they turned in excellent performances in their own right. In the hurdles, Dan Larkin, a member of the 800-yd. relay, headed by the Olympic performer Sam Sezak, Men's Physical Education, and Sam Bess, Men's Physical Education.

Jobs in camp counseling will be discussed soon

Reappraisals from last summer's guests in Maine have appeared in the university's annual Camp Counselor Placement Day. Camp representatives will be in the main lobby of the Monfort Union Thursday, February 23, from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. and available by appointment to discuss seeking information on camp employment opportunities in the field of camp counseling.

Notice of cancellations or changes from participating camps have already been received. Openings range from general counselor positions to Planes of water sports programs. Also needed are counselors with special interests in the field for all sports, scouting and other Welfare activities.

Positions are available for those with camp experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The salary range depends upon experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The Maine team was outmanned by Brown, but they turned in excellent performances in their own right. In the hurdles, Dan Larkin, a member of the 800-yd. relay, headed by the Olympic performer Sam Sezak, Men's Physical Education, and Sam Bess, Men's Physical Education.

Jobs in camp counseling will be discussed soon

Reappraisals from last summer's guests in Maine have appeared in the university's annual Camp Counselor Placement Day. Camp representatives will be in the main lobby of the Monfort Union Thursday, February 23, from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. and available by appointment to discuss seeking information on camp employment opportunities in the field of camp counseling.

Notice of cancellations or changes from participating camps have already been received. Openings range from general counselor positions to Planes of water sports programs. Also needed are counselors with special interests in the field for all sports, scouting and other Welfare activities.

Positions are available for those with camp experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The salary range depends upon experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The Maine team was outmanned by Brown, but they turned in excellent performances in their own right. In the hurdles, Dan Larkin, a member of the 800-yd. relay, headed by the Olympic performer Sam Sezak, Men's Physical Education, and Sam Bess, Men's Physical Education.

Jobs in camp counseling will be discussed soon

Reappraisals from last summer's guests in Maine have appeared in the university's annual Camp Counselor Placement Day. Camp representatives will be in the main lobby of the Monfort Union Thursday, February 23, from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. and available by appointment to discuss seeking information on camp employment opportunities in the field of camp counseling.

Notice of cancellations or changes from participating camps have already been received. Openings range from general counselor positions to Planes of water sports programs. Also needed are counselors with special interests in the field for all sports, scouting and other Welfare activities.

Positions are available for those with camp experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.

The salary range depends upon experience as well as those who are looking forward to their first summer in camp counseling. Both men and women are needed.
Huskies belt Bears

In a dual meet last weekend at Dartmouth, the Maine men's basketball team suffered a disappointing loss to their neighbors from New Hampshire. The team had an opportunity to compete against Colby College, but the muscle of the Huskies carried the day and Maine lost 114-88. Wes Bialosuknia, fifth man on the bench, scored 35 points and pulled down seven rebounds. Terry Carle, the core of the team, scored 22 and pulled down seven rebounds to lead the team in this department.

As concerns rebounds, however, 6'7" Tom Corley had a field day with 16. Dave Bull, in a fine scoring performance, contributed 12 for this respectable department, grabbing only 4 of the 22 available rebounds to lead the team in this department.

Overall, the team did not live up to expectations, and the scoring percentage was due to the superior height and weight of the Huskies. In the second half, Connecticut took 20 of 42 shots from within 5 feet of the basket while Maine had 9 out of 43 from the same area. Maine, putting only one rebounder between the opponents' shooters, played fantastically well. The 6 foot shot is not a set up shot but a high percentage shot off a rebound.

Despite the defensive efforts, the game was delayed by such Tom Fegely and Brian Chaval, if the 6 foot shot cannot get the ball it cannot score. This weekend, the McColl-housed Bear head for Rhode Island and a chance of their visiting the New Eng.'s. Husky has greatly improved in the non-pancaked ball team has matured.

The following Wednesday, the Bears will face off against Colby again. Maine is currently leading the Conference with only a single loss. Colby should not beat Maine, but they are working to be a first place team, and any team playing as such can't be ignored.

The Maine basketball squad put on their finest display of ability this year against the University of Connecticut, but the musculature of the Huskies was in evidence, and Maine lost 114-88. Wes Bialosuknia, fifth man on the bench, scored 35 points and pulled down seven rebounds to lead the team in this department.

As concerns rebounds, however, 6'7" Tom Corley had a field day with 16. Dave Bull, in a fine scoring performance, contributed 12 for this respectable department, grabbing only 4 of the 22 available rebounds to lead the team in this department.

Overall, the team did not live up to expectations, and the scoring percentage was due to the superior height and weight of the Huskies. In the second half, Connecticut took 20 of 42 shots from within 5 feet of the basket while Maine had 9 out of 43 from the same area. Maine, putting only one rebounder between the opponents' shooters, played fantastically well. The 6 foot shot is not a set up shot but a high percentage shot off a rebound.

Despite the defensive efforts, the game was delayed by such Tom Fegely and Brian Chaval, if the 6 foot shot cannot get the ball it cannot score. This weekend, the McColl-housed Bear head for Rhode Island and a chance of their visiting the New Eng.'s. Husky has greatly improved in the non-pancaked ball team has matured.

The following Wednesday, the Bears will face off against Colby again. Maine is currently leading the Conference with only a single loss. Colby should not beat Maine, but they are working to be a first place team, and any team playing as such can't be ignored.

FILM CLASSICS
SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 19TH

- 8:00 -

WOMEN IN THE DUNES
$1.25 Admission $1.00 Students
Season subscriptions still are available.

June Grads
It's that time of your life Time to plan your future!

The State of Connecticut wants you to train for a professional career in Social Work. Federal legislation has produced exciting changes in program and we want your help.

Connecticut offers rich social, educational, and professional opportunities - a CAREER instead of a job. You will work in your choice of locations, earn an excellent salary, receive valuable fringe benefits and be one of the best of all, have the satisfaction of contributing abilities - abilities you may not even recognize you possess - to people less fortunate than you.

The following Wednesday, the Bears will face off against Colby again. Maine is currently leading the Conference with only a single loss. Colby should not beat Maine, but they are working to be a first place team, and any team playing as such can't be ignored.

Representatives will be at the States of Connecticut on Wednesday, February 19th from 2:00-5:00 p.m. in Room 140 of Little Hall. No appointment is necessary.

If you're not sure Social Work is your goal stop by and talk to them. You may be surprised. You certainly won't be disappointed.

The Maine Ooter Club is sponsoring Fly Tying demonstrations by M.-C. Z. Hendrickson starting Thursday, February 23rd at 7:00 p.m. in the Berger Room, Memorial Union. This free instruction is open to everyone, beginner or expert, faculty or student. More information will be given at the first meeting.

Fit for Action!

Here's the long, lean look everyone wants - and the only way to get it is to wear famous WHITE LEVI'S Slim, trim and tough - in your favorite sportswear cut!!!

Dark Blue Super-Slims $4.98
Sta-Prest Twill $6.50
Mid-Wale Corduroy $5.98

White's Outfitters, Orono