COVER PHOTOGRAPH: Maine statesman James G. Blaine's striking countenance illustrates our summer issue cover. Speaker of the House, U. S. senator, secretary of state, and Republican nominee for president, Blaine was a commanding figure not only in Maine politics, but on the national scene. H. Draper Hunt provides an intimate view of this Victorian era politician and demonstrates the complex interconnections between family life, personality, and political power that boosted Blaine into the highest political circles in the nation. Our second feature presents views of the Civil War through the eyes of a Belfast, Maine, boy whose family letters were passed to an appreciative descendent, Lucy (Dickerson Burleigh) Richardson. The cover photo is from the Maine Historical Society Collections.
