The UNIVERSITY and NATIONAL DEFENSE

This year, as every year, the University of Maine stands for service to the State and the Nation. But this year the University faces a need for service beyond that expected in ordinary times. Your University through its students, its faculty, and its facilities is contributing to National Defense in whatever ways it can while still adhering to its principle of providing sound educational opportunities.

TRAINING for LEADERSHIP

MORE than seven hundred alumni of the University of Maine are serving in the armed forces of the nation. This is a significant contribution to the manpower of the country at war. Even more significant, however, is the number of these alumni who have received commissions as officers or who are training for commissions. Brainpower is today even more important than manpower in the drive for victory.

TRAINING for Leadership has been the business of the colleges and universities of the nation during peace; it has now become their responsibility during war. Alumni, faculty, and administration members are proud of the record being made in this war by men trained for leadership at the University of Maine. Maine men are proving their value to the country in the following services:

1. ARMY—Technical and combat leadership provided by R.O.T.C. training of selected students; enlistment of students in Air Corps on inactive status until graduation; Officer Training Schools for students and alumni inducted through Selective Service.

2. NAVY—Deck and engineering officers for combat duty and special technical officers for general service provided through enlistment of students on inactive status until graduation; Naval Aviation officers enlisted from students for immediate service.

3. MARINES—Combat leadership provided through enlistment of students in Officers Candidates Class on inactive status until graduation, aviation officers selected through Naval Aviation training program.

4. INDUSTRY—Technical leadership in the production of arms and equipment obtained through the selection of qualified men and women for production service in industry and government work.

Many of the above programs offer an opportunity for students now in college to complete all or a part of their college education, a recognition of the University's responsibility. The University is proud to accept this responsibility and to offer in time of war as in times of peace a sound and practical

COMMENCEMENT week-end will this year welcome alumni, parents, and guests to the campus on May 22 to 25, the earliest date in recent history. A program, appropriate to the times and stressing simplicity and friendliness as the keynote will offer an opportunity for alumni to return briefly to old places and old friends and particularly to participate in their own “day” on Saturday, May 23, Alumni Day. Headline news of the program this year is the Alumni Banquet on Saturday at 6:00 p.m., climax of a day of happy events.

Visiting speakers for the gala affair will include Dean Gertrude Peabody ’20, Dean of Women, Temple University, Philadelphia, and Wilfrid J. Hinton, of London, England, noted teacher and economist. President Hauck will again speak on behalf of the University. Introducing the speakers will be, as toastmaster, Mayland H. Morse, ’17, of Concord, N. H., whose reputation for wit and wisdom makes him supremely the man for the job. In his place as toastmaster he will also pay appropriate tribute during the banquet to those men from Maine who will be unable to gather with their friends at Commencement as they serve the country in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps.

Marshal

The day’s events will be enlivened further by the presence of Joe McCusker, genial and popular member of 1917, the Twenty-fifth Reunion Class, who will serve as Marshal for the day. Mr. McCusker, who is now Major McCusker, U. S. Army, will also be called upon to lead the singing at the Banquet, and there are alumni who will say that this feature alone is enough to bring a man back from Timbuctoo to see.

Speaking of 1917 is, in general, an appropriate thing to do this year for it is rumored in the best circles of the class that no reunion in Maine history is quite going to compare with this one in spite of war, tires, gas rationing, and all. After all, Major McCusker is president of the class and ably supported by a staff of officers and assistants who plan really to put 1917’s 25th over in big style.

SPEAKERS: Dean Gertrude Peabody ’20 of Temple University, Philadelphia, and Wilfrid J. Hinton of London, England, will be headline speakers at the Alumni Banquet, May 23.
Ninety-Two Plans Fiftieth Reunion

The fiftieth graduation anniversary of the class of 1922 will be one of the features of this year's Commencement Program. The celebration of the Fifty-Year Class Reunion has become a standard part of the annual Alumni Day Program with the returning members of the class serving as guests of honor of the Alumni Association at the Noon Luncheon on Alumni Day. The reunion also is the occasion of their enrollment into the ranks of the Senior Alumni, the organization of all over-fifty-year alumni.

The Class of 1922 is a small class, but already three out of its twelve living members have signed their intention of being listed among those present on May 23. Those who have already said they will be on hand are: Mellen E. Farrington of Brewer, Calvin H. Nealey of Dennville, N. J., and Harry S. Thompson of Augusta.

Other members of the class, from whom word is still awaited are: Roscoe C. Clark of Ridley Park, Pa., Herbert E. Doolittle of Tamaroa, Illinois, John C. Gibbs of Lynn, Mass., Arthur C. Grover of Rutland, Vt., Warren E. Healey of Weston, Mass., George B. Maguire of Sparrows Point, Md., Willard E. McKechnie of Princeton, Me., Dr. Charles M. Randlette of Monmouth, Me., and Frank S. Tolman of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Mellen E. Farrington, of Brewer, is the closest to the campus of the entire class. He has been a mechanical engineer and business man, serving as engineer with Penobscot Chemical Fiber Co., President and Manager of the Penobscot Machinery Co., and chief engineer for E. B. Draper Co. He also served six years as an alderman for Brewer. Another State of Maine who has indicated his intention of being back is Harry S. Thompson, of Augusta, long associated with the newspaper field. He worked with the Bangor papers and then for many years with the Kennebec Journal. He was at one time president of the International Typographical Union.

From New Jersey, Calvin H. Nealey also plans to join the celebration. Mr. Nealey has for a number of years been associated with Eastwood Wire Manufacturing Co., of Belleville, serving for several years as President and Treasurer. He has long been actively interested in the University and a frequent visitor to the State of Maine.

Other State of Mainers represented in the class are Willard McKechnie, of Princeton, and Dr. Charles M. Randlett, of Monmouth. And in Massachusetts are John C. Gibbs, of Lynn, and Warren E. Healey, of Weston. Mr. Gibbs graduated in Mechanical Engineering, but for over forty years before his retirement he was associated with the florist business. Mr. Healey is also retired after a long period of service with the Rockland and Rockport Lime Co., as Boston Manager. He is a veteran of the Spanish War of 1898.

Another New Englander is Arthur C. Grover, of Rutland, Vt., who is a city engineer, located at Gryphon Block. Next nearest neighbor is Frank S. Tolman, as steam plant superintendent with the International Paper Co., at Niagara Falls, N. Y. Mr. Tolman has been associated with the International since 1922 and during earlier years had experience in dye extracts, in the Navy, and in the teaching profession.

Farther away from the reunion point are George Maguire, of Sparrows Pt., Md., an engineer with the Dundalk Co., Roscoe C. Clark, last known address, Folsom, Pa., who before retirement had a long and varied career in construction and industrial engineering with Ingersoll Rand, General Electric, Stone and Webster, and Carnegie Steel Co., and Herbert E. Doolittle, of Tamaroa, Illinois.

Plans are actively under way for the reunion of the Golden Fifties and their affiliation with the Senior Alumni. All the '92 men who can come back will come and the others will be there in memory.

Commencement Program

The week-end program this year will see a number of significant changes. Most notable will be that of eliminating the former program of Class Frolics and Stunts during Saturday afternoon. This particular part of the program was not felt by reunion classes in general to be appropriate to the conditions under which this year's Alumni Day will be held, and by practically a unanimous vote the stunts have been replaced by an expanded program of band concert, baseball game, and alumnus tea.

Saturday's noon luncheon will again be given in honor of the Fifty-Year Class, this year 1922, as they join the ranks of the Senior Alumni. The old and young grad will gather in Memorial Gym to pay tribute to those members of '92 who have seen fifty years of alumni-ship since they received their diplomas from the Maine State College. Also as guests of honor on the lunch program will be, appropriately, two of the oldest members of the faculty from point of service, Dr. J. H. Huddleston, teacher of Art and Ancient Civilization, and Prof. Ava W. Chadbourne, of the School of Education. Both Dr. Huddleston and Miss Chadbourne will retire from active service at the University this year.

Other phases of the program will follow the same pleasant pattern of previous years with Friday devoted largely to Class Day activities of the Seniors, followed by the All-Maine Women's pageant and the President's reception.

Saturday morning will be given over largely to the activities of reunion classes with breakfasts and class meetings, followed by the important annual business meeting of the General Alumni at 10:30 in the Little Theatre. The Banquet program in the evening, followed by a dance, will climax the afternoon events. Sunday will bring the traditional Baccalaureate program featuring this year Rev. Percival V. Lessington, United Baptist Church, Lewiston.

On Sunday evening alumni and seniors will join in the annual sing in the Oval. The Commencement Address on Monday will be given by Mr. Hinton, noted economist and scholar from London who has several times been on the Summer Session faculty.

Commencement reservations for rooms and for events of the program should be made in advance to assure the best accommodations. In order to help alleviate the travel problem of tires and limited gasoline supplies, attempt will be made to have buses meet trains at Bangor. And remembre it is important for your Commencement Committee to know that you plan to be back with the old gang on May 23, so make reservations early.
HISTORY OF AN EDUCATOR

The history of education in Maine and the history of an educator, Dr. Ava H. Chadbourne '15, have through more than fifteen years of intimate association become so closely identified that it is clearly impossible to separate one from the other. For vocation and avocation Ava Chadbourne, familiar teacher at Maine since 1915, teaches, studies, writes, and talks about the early beginnings and historical developments of the great field of education. Her own scholarly contribution to the field, The History of Education in Maine, published in 1935, and the long list of graduate theses covering the educational history of nearly all Maine counties completed under the inspiration of her enthusiasm and the guidance of her knowledge and wisdom comprise the most complete and extensive treatment of the subject to be found in any state and a real and lasting contribution to historical record.

Teacher

Yet in speaking in her modest, unassuming way of the long career which has placed her among the authorities in her field, Miss Chadbourne insists that more important than her research work is her long career as a teacher. To just how many students in graduate school, college, and secondary and lower grades Miss Chadbourne’s scholarship and ability have been a challenge and an inspiration it is impossible to say, but their number is legion. Since 1915 she has taught at the University, both regular and summer sessions. At the first of her long stay on the campus she instructed in educational methods as well as history; with the expansion of the School of Education she enlisted a corps of fellow workers, graduate students in education, whose Master’s Theses, investigating the history of education in the counties of the state, have turned out study after study until now, in the closing days of her career, she can point proudly, and humbly, too, to completed and round out her own studies. These alumni who have labored with her have been school superintendents, principals, and experienced teachers. The total influence which her personal charm, her enthusiasm, and her boundless love of learning have had on the teaching profession and many others besides. Among her pupils have been school superintendents, principals, and experienced teachers. The total influence which her personal charm, her enthusiasm, and her boundless love of learning have had on the teaching profession and many others besides.

Fellow Workers

Once almost alone in the research in her field, Miss Chadbourne has since 1932 enlisted a corps of fellow workers, graduate students in education, whose Master’s Theses, investigating the history of education in the counties of the state have supplemented and rounded out her own studies. These alumni under her competent and unfailing guidance have turned out study after study until now, in the closing days of her career she can point proudly, and humbly, too, to completed studies of the history of education in Maine for every one of the counties of the state except one and that in process. To these alumni who have labored with her Miss Chadbourne has the highest gratitude. Of these theses the University has published all but three. The first one to be completed was “The History of Secondary Education in Oxford and York Counties” by John C. Hylan in 1932. Other historical theses were completed in the following order: 1933—“Waldo and Piscataquis Counties,” by Miriam S. Anderson ’30; 1936—“Washington and Hancock Counties” by Edward L. Linscott ’33; 1934—“Somerset County” by Howard L. Bowen ’24; 1937—“Knox and Lincoln Counties” by Frank L. S. Morse ’22; 1939—“Cumberland and Sagadahoc Counties” by R. Arline Wray ’20; 1940—“Kennebec County” by Raymond S. Finley ’23; 1942—“Penobscot County” by Phillip E. Keith; 1942—“Androscoggin and Franklin Counties” by L. Richard W. Healy ’38. The final history of “Aroostook County” is being made by K. Jean Keirstead ’31.

In addition to the foregoing county histories, ten other historical theses have been prepared under Dr. Chadbourne’s watchful and cooperative guidance. All but one of these ten studies deal with some phase of education in Maine.

Personal

Dr. Chadbourne long ago made her choice of a career, made, too, her choice of the state of Maine as the place to pursue that career. In part her choice was dictated by the immense amount of valuable material available for study, untouched sources of rich historical information, but in part also her choice was made by her native love of the state. It might almost be as truly said her choice was made for her by her ancestors when they bequeathed a pioneer home out of the Maine woods over three hundred years deep in the colorful past of the down east.

Commemorative Plates

Word has been received that a new shipment of Maine Commemorative Plates has been received from England and orders will be filled for them as long as the supply lasts. The new supply includes all eight center designs in either blue or green. The centers are the same as in the original edition, Alumni Hall, Carnegie Library, Alumni Memorial Gymnasium, Merrill Hall, Coburn Hall, Winslow, Wingate, and Stevens.

A new schedule of prices have been set up by the committee to meet changed conditions, as follows: Eighteen dollars a dozen, $12.00 for eight, $1.60 per plate for four or more, and $1.75 for a single plate. Single plates are sent prepaid, other shipments are sent collect from Boston.

Orders for the new plates should include the following information: Name and address to which plates should be shipped, number and color of plates wanted, and choice of center design. Orders may be sent to the General Alumni Association, Fernald Hall, University of Maine, Orono.

History of an Educator

Old things she loves, old books, old documents, and old houses. Her own home in Stillwater is over 130 years old and with loving hands she planned the remodeling and furnishing of it to be a proper dwelling place for her mind and spirit.

Yet Ava Chadbourne loves, too, the young. As any teacher must she absorbs from those in her classes the timelessness and strength of youth. Her hobbies, too, range widely. Of music she is passionately fond and of the drama. She is an active member of numerous organizations. Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, and Kappa Delta Chi, the honorary educational fraternity, enroll her as a member. She was one of the original founders of the All-Maine Women on the campus. She belongs to teachers' organizations and historical societies.

It is a busy life that Dr. Ava Chadbourne has led, and a rich one. The riches have not taken any material form, rather are they of the mind and the spirit. When she retires at the end of this year from active service at the University she leaves behind imperishable records of teaching service and of research, records which are a significant part of that very activity to which she has devoted so much affectionate study, the history of education in Maine. And amid all the chapters which she has written or caused to be written on that subject not the least of them is the chapter which she has lived, the chapter of the career of Dr. Ava Chadbourne.

Phi Beta Kappa—
Annual election to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity for the College of Arts and Sciences honored eleven seniors and two juniors last month. Those named to the oldest scholastic fraternity in the country were Juniors, Betty Price of Washburn, Paul Smith of Bangor.

Song—
The first interfraternity singing contest to be held at the University was staged in the Memorial Gymnasium last month with six fraternities competing in choral selections of fraternity and general songs. Winner of the sing was Sigma Alpha Epsilon under the able leadership of seniors, Frank Hanson of Rumford, other competing frats were Phi Gamma Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Nu and Theta Chi.

Visitors—
Over a thousand visitors, including high school students throughout the state, attended the annual Open House Program of the University on April 18. Nearly every department of the University was represented in the program by some type of exhibit or demonstration by students of the activities or facilities of the department.

Speakers—
At the annual Secondary School Speaking Contest held on the campus April 24, the University's Department of Speech played host to student speakers from thirty-seven schools from various parts of the state. Speakers competed in various types of public utterances, humorous and serious, for the judges.

Class—
Over fifty persons enrolled for the First Aid Instructors class given the week of April 5. The intensive fifteen hour course, conducted by Mr. Nate Parker of the Red Cross under the direction of Stanley Wallace and the committee on first aid of the University Defense Council, trained instructors to conduct other classes in First Aid for students and faculty.

Blackout—
Orono and the University campus cooperated in an official blackout test under the direction of the Defense Council on April 30 from 9:00 to 9:20 p.m. Results were reported to be satisfactory everywhere by Chief Warden Weston Evans '18

The High Ten

In dues payments to date the Lehigh Valley group holds a good lead over other areas in per cent of dues paid. Illinois in second place leads Maryland by only a few payments with Missouri, Northeast New York and Washington close behind. Following are the ten areas with highest percent of dues payments.

Phi Kappa Phi—
Elections to Phi Kappa Phi, honorary University-wide scholastic fraternity, brought twenty-one seniors to membership last month. The national honorary is the highest scholastic tribute attainable by a student, and is open to ten per cent of the entire class.

Comedy—
The Man Who Came to Dinner, recent Broadway comedy success, was presented by the Maine Masque April 27 to 30 and pronounced the greatest success of the year for that versatile and experienced organization. Proving, according to one campus reviewer, that the real strength of the Masque is comedy, the play provided plenty of laughs and continual enjoyment. The cast, headed by Maynard French '42 of Livermore Falls as The Man Aberdian Whiteside, gave a most competent display of varied characterizations. Other successes were credited to Gwendolyn Cushing '44 of Portland as the secretary, Pauline Melundy '42 of Wilton as Miss Preen and Webber Mason '44 of Dexter as Dr. Bradley Directed by Herschel Bricker with settings by Norman Memes, who also took a sort comedy part to the delight of the audience, the entire production was one to reflect great credit on all who shared in its presentation.

Honored—
All-Maine Women election, highest non-scholastic honor for women, went to ten junior and three senior women last month. Those elected were: Juniors, Margaret Church of Gardiner, Helen Deering of Orono, Frances Donovan of Houlton, Freda Flanders of Bangor, Dorothy MacLeod of Bar Harbor, Helen Mullin of Houlton, Dorothy Ouellette of Madison, Betty Price of Washburn, Joanne Solie of Duxfield, and Lois White of Augusta; seniors, Shirley Ashman of Augusta, Nancy Philbrook of Shalborne, N. H., and Ruth Towne of East Dover. Margaret Eileen Cassidy '39 of Bangor, instructor in physical education, was elected an honorary member.

Among the list alumni find reason for much personal interest. Alumni fathers include Dean Arthur S. Deering '12 whose daughter Helen is the third daughter honored with election, Marjorie B '40 and Mary L. '38 having been elected. Other fathers are Joseph Mullen '23, Lawrence Philbrook '16, and Harland Towne '13, while another All-Maine sister is Alice Ann Donovan '40.

Speaker—
Prof. Robert P. T. Coffin of Bowdoin, noted poet, novelist, lecturer, and teacher, was the speaker for Junior assembly on April 24. "How America Appears to a Poet" was the subject of the witty and interesting lecture given by the dean of Maine authors.

Radio—
A radio adaptation of the famous story "Wuthering Heights" was presented over WLBZ at the Maine Radio Hour on April 19 under the direction of Betty Barker '42 of Bangor. The cast included Al Reynolds '44 of Bangor, as Heathcliff, Betty Thomas '42 of Houlton as Cathy, Ken MacLeod '44 of Brewer, as Edgar Linton, Olive Rowell '43 of Thomaston, as Ellen Dean, and William Brown '44 of Portland, as Lockwood. An effective and stirring drama resulted from the work of the group.
Local Associations

Southern New Hampshire Alumni held their annual meeting on April 14 in Manchester with thirty alumni and guests in attendance. Guest of honor was Dean Joseph Murray '25 of the Arts and Sciences College who spoke on some of the problems faced by the University today. News from the campus was presented by Charles Crossland. Toastmaster was Judge Frank Clancy '10. A color film on South America and an entertainment program were enjoyed. Officers for next year were elected by Mayland Morse '17 as president, Clement Lyon '15, vice president, Cathryn Hooten '36 secretary, Russell Coggs '29 treasurer, and Judge Clancy chairman of the Loan Fund Committee.

Philadelphia Alumni welcomed seventy alumni and guests to their annual dinner meeting on March 21. A span of fifty years was represented in the class ages and all ages enjoyed a good time. Guests of honor were Dean Joseph Murray and Charles Crossland. Reminiscences of earlier college days were given by J. A. Hayes '00. Introductions were made by President Wallace Belcher '99. Group singing was particularly enjoyed by the group.

Connecticut Alumni met in that city on April 9 with 34 alumni and guests present to welcome President Arthur A. Hauck Toastmaster for the occasion was Fred D. Knight '99. Elected for next year were Bert Ames '05, president, Harris Luther '15, vice president, Elizabeth Peaslee '41, secretary, and Marjorie Taylor '39, treasurer.

Western Mass. Alumni gathered at the Hotel Sheraton in Springfield on April 8 for their annual banquet with President Hauck, Mr. E. H. Thomson '36 Hon, President of the Federal Land Bank, and Alumni Secretary Charles Crossland as guests. Thirty-one alumni, wives, husbands, and friends were present during the business meeting Robert Russ '34 was elected president, Bryant Patten '23 vice president, and Laurren Parkman '39, secretary-treasurer. A general informal gathering and group singing followed the formal meeting.

New York Alumni held a dinner meeting on March 17 with Dean Joseph Murray and Alumni Secretary Charles Crossland as guests of honor. Sixty-five alumni and guests enjoyed the formal meeting followed by moving pictures and dancing. Elected as officers next year were Charles T. Corey '19, president, Henry H. Hovar '32, vice president, Edward C. Sherry '38, secretary, Stanley Titcomb '39, treasurer.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Maine 9—Colby 7

First state series baseball game for 1942 went to the veteran Maine team at Waterville on April 23 by a slim margin after a nip and tuck game. With Gordon Tooley of Greenwich, Conn., a junior, hurling, Maine opened strong with three in the first inning, followed by a fourth tally in the third. Colby tied in the fourth and then pulled into the lead, 1 to 4 in the seventh. Alvin McNeilly, a sophomore from Brookline, Mass., then took over Maine's pitching duties and held the home team to two hits for the rest of the game. Meanwhile Maine's batters came back with a big ninth inning for four runs and a win.

While a typical opening game in many ways the teams both showed considerable promise. Best hitting for Maine was done by Charles Taylor '42 of Bangor with two doubles and a triple in three times at bat.

Bates 7—Maine 2

Five hits were all that Maine batsmen could gather from the pitching of Dave Shiff at Lewiston on April 25. Ed Dangler, a senior from Brooklyn, N.Y., pitching for Maine at the start did not show the best of control and let in runs in the fourth and fifth innings which clinched the game. He was followed by Gordon Tooley and by Al McNeilly who showed the best record of the day. Hits for Maine were collected by Nat Crowley at third, big Cliff Blake at center field, Harv Whitten at first, Ike Downes the catcher, and second baseman John Bower. Three of them bunched in the fourth inning for the only two runs Maine scored all afternoon.

Bowdoin 5—Maine 3

On April 28, a Bowdoin relief pitcher held Maine down to a 5 to 3 defeat at Brunswick after taking over the game with three men on base, no outs, and Maine leading 3 to 2 in the third inning. McNeilly went the whole way for Maine and did effective enough work until the seventh when a single with two out following a walk, a hit, and an error brought in two runs to clinch the win for Bowdoin. Some of the scoring followed misplays by the Maine fielders. Maine showed plenty of promise in the first few innings against Bowdoin's sophomore Woodcock, bringing home two runs in the third and filling the bases again as Mudge took over.

Taylor for Maine turned in two hits and Downes, Blake, Kirkpatrick, and McNeilly got one each. The game left the state series at that point a tie between Colby and Bowdoin with two wins, one loss each for top honors, and between Maine and Bates with one win, two losses for the cellar.

OVER seven hundred men from Maine—yes, and already at least one woman, too—have responded to the call of their country and are now in some branch of the armed services prepared to carry the war forward to victory. In the Army, the Navy, the Marines, the air forces, and other services, in this country or in far flung corners of the embattled world, these Maine men represent the finest that the University has to offer to its country, the finest in loyalty, in courage, in youth, and promise. The sacrifice that they make individually and collectively will be a contributing factor to the victory.

Among the many who have been called or have enlisted in the service are names of both the younger and older groups, for this war is by no means a respecter of age or position. Latest to go from the campus itself among the higher administrative officers is Henry L. Doten ’23, Business Manager of the University, who as a Reserve Officer received his call to service and reported May 1.

Daily the list of men in service increases and undoubtedly there are many alumni who have “joined up” of whom the office has yet received no notice. Thus it is extremely probable that the actual list of Maine men under arms is larger than the list of 710 names which follows. Attempt has not been made to list the address of each alumnus given below; these are constantly changing and quickly obsolete. The most recent address information available in the alumni files will be gladly sent for any alumnus in service on request.

It is with a mixture of pride and respect, touched by more than a little sadness, that the University of Maine, General Alumni Association presents for the tribute of all, the following men from Maine.

The New Library Shows Progress

For alumni returning to campus for Commencement one of the first points of interest will be the new Library building and the progress being made on its construction. To those who have not seen the work recently the present appearance of the building will come as a pleasant surprise as the structure takes shape in its full size and proportions.

Already the outside walls are nearing completion and show the attractive appearance the finished structure will have. And above these, the steel girders (obtained prior to December 71) tower into the sky in an impressive way. The northern front of the building will be topped by a pointed roof and the general shape of this is already discernable in the steel work on which the workers are busy daily.

PROGRESS: The New Library Building on the south end of the Mall is showing encouraging progress as the walls and roof beams rise toward completion.

In front of the north entrances a large terrace has been planned and the stone walls already present an attractive appearance of dignity and beauty. The grey stone of the front walls is repeated in the stone trim of the building itself and the sturdy limestone foundation walls.

Progress has been particularly noticeable in the last few weeks as the walls have risen and returning alumni will examine with justifiable pride the structure to which they have so generously contributed. It is expected that the present contract for the "shell" of the Library will be completed early this summer. Already the contractor is beginning to move some of the heavy construction equipment off the campus.

It is especially noticeable at this time how well chosen is the site of the new Library. Facing the Alumni Memorial Gymnasium across the long vista of the mall, the Library stands even now as a magnificent counterpart to the earlier building and the two together are a splendid monument to alumni interest and support.

For the interest of the hundreds of alumni and others who have contributed toward the construction of the Library we give below the present standing of the campaign:

Activities Fund

Gifts by reunion classes to the Alumni Activities Fund this year are likely to be in the form of War Bonds rather than in the form of usual cash gifts. Harry E. Sutton, '09, chairman of the Alumni Activities Fund Committee, reports that proposal of gifts of War Bonds was greeted enthusiastically.

It is a custom now well established at Maine that the class at each reunion up to and including the fortieth is requested to make a gift to the Alumni Activities Fund. The size of the gift is left entirely with the classes which takes into consideration the number of members and the length of time out of college. Many gifts are from fifty to one hundred dollars at each reunion. To date the class of 1909, with a total of $514 contributed, heads the list.

This Fund seeks to create a modest endowment which will yield an income either for particular alumni projects or for maintaining the General Alumni Association. The income can be used only upon vote at the annual meeting of the Association. Particularly is the Fund of help during periods when, because of economic conditions, income from dues payments decreases. The principal of the Fund is now $5,500 and is held in trust by the University of Maine Foundation.

Placement Opportunities Increasing

A steadily increasing number and variety of opportunities for alumni in industry, governmental positions and special work in the armed services are being noted at the Placement Bureau. With the tempo of war increasing daily, manpower replacements and increased needs combine to raise to a new high the calls for trained and experienced graduates. Some of the recent opportunities follow.

Army Air Corps. Experienced engineers of mature age are desired to relieve younger officers for active flying duty. Commissions would be given on the basis of ability and experience in engineering fields related to the needs of the service. Younger alumni are urgently needed for enlistments in both air crew and technical ground services.

U. S. Navy. Many varied opportunities for special service are available in the Navy. Some of these include radio work, mechanical engineering, aeronautical engineering, construction work and shipbuilding. One of the latest announcements concerns the need of enlisting duty with graduate degrees and preferably teaching experience as instructors in technical subjects, mathematics and physics in new midshipmen training centers in New England. Younger alumni are needed for officer training, for naval aviation, for business administration and technical special classes.

U. S. Marines. Present need in the Marine Corps for trained and experienced radio and communication engineers is acute.

Civil Service and other governmental needs. A constant demand is received from Civil Service and other government agencies for construction engineers, mechanical and electrical engineers, physicists, economists, agricultural fields, and other special lists.

Industrial. Graduate engineers and men in Arts and Sciences and Agriculture who are not immediately subject to the draft are in constant demand by business and industry. Mostly for war work, many of these positions will probably be diverted to peace time activities if conditions make it possible.

Jobs for Women. A gradually rising trend toward employment of women is taken to be an indication of almost certain future developments. At the present time most opportunities for specific war work require training in mathematics and sciences. There is also considerable demand for mathematics in insurance and other businesses. Demand for reasonably well-trained typists and stenographers is universal in both government and business. Already some businesses are recruiting college women with general academic training for industrial or general office work largely as replacements for drafted men.

The Placement Bureau has found a new activity as a result of the war as it becomes a recruiting center for branches of the armed services. Already visits have been arranged by the Marine Corps, the Navy, and the Army, including both regular enlistments and air corps opportunities. Students especially qualified are being urged to apply for commissions in special classes. Similar activity is also being promoted by the Placement Bureau for Alumni.

Scholars—

Ten freshman women, highest ranking members of their class, were last month elected to Neai Mathetmal, local slastic fraternity. Those elected were Barbara L. Atherton of Orono, daughter of Raymon N. '18, Doris E. Emery of Orono, daughter of Newell W. '20, Ruth P. Forbes of Skowhegan, Barbara Ann Higgins of Longmeadow, Mass., daughter of Royal G. '17, Katherine E. Jackman of Calais, daughter of Percy E. '13, Sally B. Lockett of Winterport, Geraldine B. MacBurnie of Augusta, Luella M. McClure of Dover-Foxcroft, Barbara P. Rozelle of Bradford, and Pauline M. Stuart of Old Town.

Alumni Reunions

Twelve classes will hold reunion gatherings at Commencement this year. Officers and reunion committees are busy at work perfecting plans for the turn-out of classmates and friends. The classes which will hold gatherings this year and the officers working out plans are listed below. All class members are urgently requested to let class officers and the alumni office know in advance that they plan to be on hand May 25.

List of reunion classes Senior Alumni: Dean James Hart '85, Orono, Secretary; 1892 (Fifty Year), Warren Healey, 27 Partridge Hill Road, Weston, Mass., Secretary; 1899, Archer Grover, 27 Pleasant St, Hallowell, President, 1900, Guy Hersey, 4 South St, Bangor, President; 1901, Fred Martin, 44 Wentworth St, Bridgeport, Conn., Secretary.

CHARLES MORSE ALLEN The death of Charles M. Allen occurred on April 3, 1942, in Washington, D. C. Mr. Allen, the son of former University President Charles F. Allen, was given the degree of A.M. from the University in 1930. At the time of his death Mr. Allen had retired from the teaching profession to which he had devoted nearly fifty years.

Mr. Allen was associated with Pratt Institute of Brooklyn, N. Y., as teacher and later head of the department of Industrial Chemical Engineering since 1889. He had previously taught at Wyoming Seminary, Pennsylvania. In 1905 he was made head of the Chemistry Department of Pratt and in 1929, Supervisor of Industrial Chemical Engineering course.

In addition to his attendance at Maine, Mr. Allen attended Wesleyan University where he received degrees of B.A. and M.A. and also Universities at Dresden and Zurich in Germany. During his undergraduate days and afterward, Mr. Allen was much interested in athletics, especially baseball and tennis.

WILLIS HENRY MERRIAM. A resident of Spokane, Washington, for nearly fifty years, Willis H. Merriam died at the age of 83 on April 23 at the age of 83. A graduate of Civil Engineering, Mr. Merriam followed the profession of law during most of his life, retiring from active work some time previous to his death.

1889

GEORGE MELVILLE GAY. On December 28, 1941, the death of George M. G. Gay, of Springfield, Mass., was recorded. Information of his passing has just been received at the alumni office and no details are at this time known of his death.

1891

HENRY VAII STARRETT. Death terminated the career of Henry V. Starrett at the age of 73 on April 13 at his home in Warren. A graduate in 1891 in Agriculture, Mr. Starrett spent his life in Warren where he carried on a poultry and greenhouse business. He conducted a commercial cannery for farm produce and later was associated with his brother in the florist business. Egg gum, garden produce, and flowers were marketed in neighboring towns and engaged actively in his work until the time of his final illness. He was active in the local church and other town organizations.

CARROLL RAY SAWYER. A native of Milbridge, Maine, and a long-time resident of Manchester, N. H., Carroll R. Sawyer died at his home in the latter city on January 8, 1942. Report of his death at the age of 64 was recently received by the alumni office. Mr. Sawyer was well known for his hobby of carving sailing ship models. Three especially of his many models attracted wide attention, a copy of Nelson's famous "Victory," a model of a fishing boat, "The Storm," on display at the New York World's Fair, and a metal builled model of the four-masted bark "Kenilworth." He was recognized as a living craftsman among model builders.

For the past 28 years Mr. Sawyer was employed at the Goodwin Funeral Home in Manchester where he has resided since 1910.

GEORGE OTTO ARMSTRONG. Report of the death of George O. Armstrong of the Class of 1905 has just been received at the alumni office. Mr. Armstrong, formerly a mechanical engineer with the New York Central Railroad and a resident of Bayonne, New Jersey, was killed in an auto accident December 16, 1941.

ALCOTT JOHNSON PENNELL. On April 19 at Chelsea (Mass.) Naval Hospital occurred the death of Alcott J. Pennell, of Nahant. Mass. Mr. Pennell was a graduate of 1907 in Electrical Engineering.

HARRY AUGUSTUS KING. Widely known as an educator and playground supervisor, Harry A. King, of Peabody, Mass., died at his home in that city on March 24, at the age of 51. A graduate from the University in Agriculture, Mr. King taught school during his career as an educator in Petersham, Mass., Green- wich, Conn., and St. Peters, VI., later serving as principal of the high school in Wilton, N. H., and Fitz-William, N. H. Following World War I, when he was served as a sergeant, he was appointed to the faculty of Peabody (Mass.) High School, later serving as vice-principal until his retirement from his position in 1937. He also served the city as supervisor of playgrounds and as a member of the Park Commission.

WILLIAM CLIFFORD WEBSTER. While visiting friends in Bangor, William C. Webster, of Portland, died suddenly April 11. The sudden death was attributed to heart failure. No further details of his passing are known at this time.

LIEUT. LINWOOD ZINA SHAW. At the age of thirty-one, Linwood Shaw, of Old Town, a first lieutenant in the Army, died on April 24 as the result of an automobile accident while returning to Fort Devens from a special training command. Lieut. Shaw had been attending a chemical warfare school at Edgewater Arsenal. The car which he was driving struck a truck and left the road, inflicting injuries on the officer which later proved fatal. Lieut. Shaw had been called into service as a reserve officer. At the time of his call to active duty, he was serving as an alderman in the city of Old Town. He was also employed in the Penobscot Shoe Company. He was well known and popular in Old Town and vicinity.

"88—A recent news item indicates that Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Gould of Orono, have gone to New York. They joined friends recently restored to Atlantic Beach, Florida. They are to spend several weeks in the South.

Friends and classmates of Thomas G. Lord will be happy to know that he is "feeling nicely now" after a ten-week sojourn in the hospital where he underwent three surgical operations. Mr. Lord writes that he is looking forward to being at the University for next commencement.

Next Reunion, 1942

What's the story, '92ers? Are you completing plans and arrangements to be with us? Plan to be in Orono for your fiftieth on Alumni Weekend. Returns are a bit slow coming in but we do hope you will make every effort to be on hand.

Next Reunion, 1943

Harris F. Gould, who was formerly senior varsity U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, retired last September but has continued as collaborator in the Bureau of Plant Industry, doing research which he started while on duty.

Next Reunion, 1943

Marcus L. Urann, of South Hanson, Mass., was recently honored by the Massachusetts Society for the Promotion of Agriculture and received one of the Society's medals for his work in developing the cranberry industry in Massachusetts as head of the Massachusetts Cranberry Assn.

Next Reunion, 1943

Dr. Elmer Drew Merril, Administrator of Botanical Collections, Harvard University, and director of the Arnold Arboretum, received an award made by the Massachusetts Society for the Promotion of Agriculture for his work in botany and horticulture.

Next Reunion, 1942

Mr. Edwin J. Mann has sent out a most interesting circular and we hope that members of this class will do every effort to be present on this occasion. Be sure to let Mr. Mann know what your plans are and to be on campus May 23.

In the "Case Alumni" for March, "The Human Side" of the faculty members was the title of an article written by one of Case's students. Among the "choice bits" we find a statement or two about Professor Fred H. Vose, head of the Dept of Mechanical Engineering. Prof. Vose has been at Case for 33 years, the longest record of any one member of their faculty. His hobbies are listed as gardening, golf, and deep sea fishing. Prof. Vose is president of the Ohio Alumni Association. His "spare time" is taken up by the Cleveland Engineering Magazine of which he is in charge of publication.

The Vermont Alumni for February contained a very interesting write-up of Lieutenant Ralph M. Holmes, formerly professor of physics and head of the physics department at the University of Vermont. He is now on leave from his naval training officer position at the state service station headquarters. Following his graduation at Maine, Mr. Holmes continued his studies at Wesleyan University, where he received his M.A., and going to Cornell University, at which institution he received his Ph.D. in 1915, taught at Cornell but has been at the University of Vermont for the past 16 years. Dr. Holmes was in the Signal Corps of the U. S. Army in the first World War, and has been an officer in the U. S. Naval Reserves since 1925.

George D. Beare, of Buckport, President of the Association, was awarded the Silver Beaver, a national award, by the Katabin Council, Boy Scouts of America, at a dinner meeting of the executive board in Bangor in March. Mr. Beare is president of the Katabin Council and has been active in the affairs of the Boy Scouts.

January F. Wilkins, daughter of Ralph Wilkins, of East Walpole, Mass., entered the University at mid-year.

Word has been received at the Alumni Office of the passing of Mr. Foss who was the husband of Clara Haskell Foss. Mr. Foss had been principal of the Oost High School for the past fourteen years. He is survived by his wife and six daughters.

Thomas Davis, of Veaze, is chairman of the Southern Penobscot County committee which has been formed to work on the farm labor supply problems during the emergency.

The New Jersey Bell, the monthly publication of the American Tel. and Tel. staff in New Jersey, carried in February an article on Randall A. Harrington who is now director manager of New Jersey Bell in the telephone business since 1921 when he was a student engineer with the New York Central. In November, 1922, he became assistant engineer, in 1925 he was transferred to the office of the General Commercial Eng. in New Jersey. Next he was transferred to the sales department as Exchange Sales Superintendent in 1939, which position he retained until his recent appointment Mr Harrington is also retired Lieutenant Commander, U. S. Naval Reserve.

I hope this letter will arrive in time to be published this month. I have had a reminder for my Personals but the reason for delay is that I have been attending an instruction course in Red Cross Canteen workers on the campus this week Mildred Brownie Schromp and Miss Ada Felch, of the Home Economics faculty, have been the teachers. It was conducted in "Brownie's" most efficient way. We were kept busy all day, but a great deal of benefit was received by all. Next week a similar course will be held in Portland, by the same teachers, for representatives of that part of the state.

During the recent Farm and Home Week, Brownie gave a demonstration on "Organic Habits," To accommodate the crowd wishing to see the demonstration, it was given twice.

Increasing numbers of the class are being drawn into war duties. Ardon Lewis has taken up duties as an Agricultural Economist with the Board of Economic Warfare. I had a letter from Harold Bowie who was a member of our class four years ago. He writes that he has been assisting in the organization of a course of study for the training of young men who join the V-1 class of the Navy. Harold is a member of the faculty of the American International College at Springfield, Mass., in the department of mathematics. He has been appointed by the president of the college to administer this course, which places emphasis on higher mathematics and physics, and he is under the supervision of the Navy department. He has been professor of mathematics at A. I. C for four years prior to which he was an instructor there. Seymour Hammons writes that he is a real estate salesman in the firm of Hammond, Haver, Branton Co., 90 Broad St., New York City. He lives in 38-68 Seton Ave, Bronx, N. Y.

Visiting the recent Maine State Republican Convension in Portland, I ran into Dave Fuller and Andre "Bud" Cushing. Both active in politics in Bangor "Bud" is County Treasurer for Penobscot County, and Dave is a member of the Republican City Committee in Bangor. I learned also that Dave is now President of the Bangor Y.M.C.A. and is also a member of the Zoning Appeals Committee.

All of which, in addition to his law practice, should keep him fairly busy.

This seems to be all the news. Won't more of you let me know if you've entered the armed forces, or are engaged in any new and interesting line of work in connection with the war effort?

Frank and Thelma's wedding this morning is about Capt. Frank P. Bostrom, pilot of the plane that carried Gen. Douglas MacArthur on the way from the Philippines to Australia and who was shot down in a Flying Fortress in a spectacular aerial raid by United States planes on four Japanese bases in the Philippines and saved himself and his crew.

The newspaper story goes on to say that for his daring and bravery in making the hazardous 4,000 mile bombing flight, Captain Bostrom was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross immediately upon landing at General MacArthur's headquarters upon direct orders from President Roosevelt.

Frank was appointed an army aviation cadet in June after graduation. He received a reserve commission in June, 1929, and was ordered to immediate active duty. He returned to civil life in 1931 but retained his commission. April 30, 1940, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the regular Army Air Corps and reported for duty with the 88th Reconnaissance Squadron at Hamilton Field, Calif. He also served at Fort Douglas prior to his assignment at Hickham Field, Hawaii, last December, which started him toward the battle fronts of Southwest Pacific.

Charles E. Fogg is service superintendent for the Remington Arms Co., Inc., at Kings Mills, Ohio. His residence address is 634 W. 2nd Street, Chicago, III. He is engineer for the Ingersoll Rand Co., 400 W. Madison St, Chicago.

baseball time? And by way of personal record, I might add that Al is married and has two children.

Special congratulations also to Captain Thomas Crocker for his recent promotion to the rank of major. Tom entered the Air Corps in July, 1932, and is now in command of the 397th School Squadron at Gunter Field.

Joseph A. Tufano, I thought I had heard. Dr. Don Marshall nicely settled in his office in Norfolk, Virginia, he was attaching himself to the University of Virginia Medical Unit, Evacuation Hospital No. 8, which is all set for foreign duty. So it's now Captain Marshall, and Helene and his small daughter are back in Mame "for the duration." Their address is 9 Brookside Avenue, Bar Harbor, Maine.

The detailed report of Arvo Solander's activities since graduation, sent along by the Alumni Office, reads like a getting from W.H. & H.W. Even though I had to skip a lot that I couldn't translate (par don my engineering vocabulary), I gather that he is in need of an engineer in the U. S. Public Health Service since April, 1939. His work has included collecting field data on industrial and waste water supplies and liquid wastes, industrial waste sampling, supervising all sanitation in a maneuver area, and having children, and they can be found in Tennessee national defense areas. His address is 605 West Iris Drive, Nashville, Tennessee.

It's not only the engineers who are busy on the home front. Anybody connected with the farm service has plenty to do. In addition to his work with the Penobscot County Extension Service, Hubie Tracy is a member of the Southern Penobscot Forest Protection Committee recently formed to cope with farm labor supply problems during the war emergency.

Dr. David St. John, a Senior Economist, with the Travelers Insurance Co., at 225 So. Fourth St., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, offers a witty story of his recent trip to Virginia, in Alexandria, Virginia. He writes:

Robert D. Frohme, a member of the Department of Agricultural Economics at Cornell Univ., was a speaker at the Potato Growers' Program at Farm and Home Week this year at Bangor.

Also at Farm and Home Week, Marie Fellows White, of Bangor, presented exhibits to the public on the program of the Maine Craft Guild.

The final item jolted me into the rather unpleasant realization that the girl's mention of the column are decidedly outnumbered. Somebody must be doing something. Me? I've just been to Boston for the national convention and I still manage to get off out of a train. Nice. It's too late to know that life still has its lighter moments. Why not write me about yours? Those "missing '33ers" are still missing! What about it, tellers? Doris Hering, a Red Cross registered nurse, was recently married to Douglas H. Wiggett and is living at 97 Wetherfield Ave., Hartford, Conn.

Mildred Bradstreet is a student nurse at the Eastern Maine General Hospital in Bangor where she has been located since February.

Bruce and Claire Ashworth are living at 318 Birchwood Rd., Alden, Penn. Bruce is an Underwriter with the Travelers Insurance Co., at 225 So. Fourth St., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Robert Wirths, of the Department of Agriculture, has been appointed chief of the Bangor Auxiliary Firefighting Unit.

Forest K. Moore is a new Old Town Recorder by Governor Summer Searl.

Tulie Bunker has had a mean time of it—she's still at the Maine General Hospital convalescing now from a mastoid operation. Priscilla stays there another week or two when they have equalized my record of nine weeks spent there last fall—lots of fun! Anyhow—well are all pulling for you, Tulie, and wish you a quick recovery now.

Helen Findlay Couzens is spending the month of April at Southern Pines, North Carolina—her oldest son, Lyman, III, who is recuperating from a double mastoid operation. Writes it's plenty warm down there and she's getting a swell tan.

Had a grand letter from Allan Hamilton who is now a Captain in the U. S. A. and pilot of the Incendiary Bomb Program. "Al" has been with this branch of duty since the beginning of the emergency program a bit over a year and one-half ago. "Al" and his wife, Ethelyn, now have two children—a baby—aged one year and seven months and one only nine months. Their home is at 122 Winsor Ave., Watertown, Mass. Don is held installation of machinery which means that he has considerable traveling. Mille has traveled with him most of the time, averaging three weeks per town. The home base is Hartford.

Ensign Kari Hendrickson now of Bangor, Maine, Mrs. Dorothy Florence Herd of Portland sometime early this winter. It sounds very military. However, there is no reason for a lack of date of military nature except that I don't have it. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alexander Herd of Winslow and graduated from Colby College. She has been employed by the Maine State Bureau of Social Welfare, in Portland. The couple are living in Kittery.

Betty Bruce Smith writes, with two articles which I know you'll be interested in.

Norma Lueders is engaged to Lt. Richard Baker of Conn. The Lieutenant is an aeronautical engineer stationed at Panama Canal Zone. Previous to engagement he was employed at the A. A. Gyroscope Co. of Brooklyn, N. Y. He is a graduate of New York University in '36, member of Psi Upsilon and Theta Alpha, honorary engineering. After Norma left the American Tea Co of N. Y. to become Home Service Adviser in the U. S. Dept. of the Interior, Portland, Mt Kisco, N. Y., where she is now employed.

Mary Wright was appointed chairman of the reunion committee by John who will be unable to return. Mary would like to have us all return for another reunion this May, but knows it will be impossible for many. Hope lots will be able to be present, however.

Betty B. Smith's address is now 350 Harvard Ave., Ardsley, New York. Are you are Betty Brown and Bruce now in the family in case you've forgotten. Thank you, Betty.

Oh, it's that Spring Fever! It seems worse than ever this year. Letters from my sister at the University whikle me back over the years to U. M. in the springtime. What a wonderful place to be in the spring.

May, 1942
We had a grand alumni banquet in Springfield. I won't go into detail because I expect it will be reported elsewhere. I didn't glean much 34 news. We did throw out some new names people, the banquet, that Pete Karalekas has left Westfield and is now in Boston. He is an aeronautical engineer and is working for U. S. Engineers Office, Section of Repairs and Utilities Whew! We also learned that Jesse Wadleigh was about to leave for the Navy—in fact, I saw him at the station shortly after and he was really on his way to report to the Charles- ton Navy Yard. I wonder where we'll hear from him next. He has promised to write.

As spring progresses, I find myself listening to the farm and agriculture programs for New England—a poor substitute for having my own garden. I frequently hear Don Corbett mention it. He seems that his work on the eradication of Bangs Disease among dairy herds is really outstanding in New England. I do not think I am wrong in saying Maine leads in this field. Don is chief of the Division of Dairy Industry in the state. He reported on this subject at Farm and Home Week. Incidentally, our minister here was also at Farm and Home Week and he spoke very highly of the University of Maine and the fact that it made awards to people throughout the state who excelled in the art of home making and farming.

I had a nice note from Dot Romero.Dot is very faithful even though she's way out in California. Since last May she has been living at International House at the University of California. She is doing further work in child development. She would love to see some Easterners of any type are lucky enough to get to Berkeley Calif. (Dot is reported to rely on leave of absence from State Teachers College, Mankato, Minn.)

I was notified by a Lt. Phillip Miller at Camp Edwards would like very much to have Johnny Quim's address—and so would I. Johnny, if you ever see an Alumnus, please oblige Pvt Phillip Miller and me. We'd like to know what's become of you.

Elliot Reid is an Experimental Engineer for Bethlehem Steel Co., in Bethlehem, Pa. He lives at 944 Birch Rd., Hellertown, Penna.

Kent Bradbury is Personnel Methods Consultant, Federal Security Agency, and his residence address is 11 Tellow St., Boston, Mass.

Roger Williams is with the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in Lawrenceville, Va.

Only one birth announcement this month: The Henry Conklin's have a son, Steven Briggs, born Feb. 20, 1942. Ith and Betty Parkman and their son David were over to call a while ago and David was a most perfect guest.

I had a very nice letter from Mrs. Al Lyon. Mrs. Lyon is Virginia Stevens Maine '42. They were married last fall and I'm just getting the news to you. Virginia graduated from Old Town High and studied Home Economics at Maine. Al is working for the Maine State Highway Commission as a head of the Field Work—this plus defense work keeps them moving around the State. At present they are living in Augusta, but their friends can always reach them through Al's Orrono office in the Steeles Lab, Lord Hall, on U. S. 1, Bangor. Al has received his rating as a professional Engineer. Virginia had news of one of the better cities. Bangor is doing research on pottery in the state and his headquarters are in Winsocke Hall. It takes other class members to get news to me—I wish a few more '34 would marry outside of their class if it will produce more news.

This may be the last column for this year—I'll be expecting lots of big news by September.

Good luck

Maddy Russ

Next Reunion: 1942

Sorry to have let you down last month, but I'll try to make up for it now. One advantage in skipping a column is that there is loads of news for the next one.

I had a letter from Max Dowd last month. He is a Lieutenant in the Army and is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. He is the adjutant of the 11th Armored Replacement Battalion. Janet is with him and at the time of writing they were living in Louisville but hoped to have quarters at the post. Probably they have by this time. Max said that there were two other Maine graduates there—Bill

Here it is the first of May and our thoughts turn to Commencement and our long-planned Reunion. The call of service has depleted the ranks of '39ers who have looked forward to this trip back to Maine, but I'm sure you all agree that their enforced absence makes those of us who can attend doubly happy in making this reunion a success. So— we'll be looking for you May 23rd.

I received a card from Ralph Elwell telling us that he is a farm manager in Brooks, Maine. His box number is 89, R. D. #1.

The engagement of Marion Kiszonak to James Owen, Jr., was announced in March Jim is from Marcellus, New York, and is a graduate of Syracuse University.

First Lt Richard Qugley, U. S. Marine Corps, was married February 28, 1942, to Frances Lister at her home in Washington, D. C. Their address is Apt. #310-B, 724 So A St., Alexandria, Virginia. Dick is commanding officer of "D" Company, 1st Raider Battalion, F.M.F., A.C.A.F., Quantico, Virginia.

Herb Leonard, Assistant County Agricultural Agent of Penobscot County, is a member of the Northern Penobscot County Committee recently formed to cope with farm labor supply problems during the war emergency. Eileen Cassidy was made an honorary...

Next Reunion, 1942

In spite of the fact that the war has scattered us to the four corners of the globe, news is still coming in. So many people ask for letters from classmates that it is well to keep up on changes of address and any word to do in the case of those in the service but worth a lot to those very ones. Peggy Ladd and Gail have lived in South Carolina, and are living at 403 Hale St, Spartanburg, S. C. Peggy and Ted see Tommy and Antonia Houghton frequently. Jimmie and Johnny Johnson Mari have moved from their apartment to a house in Brockton, Mass, 881 Crescent St, and Johnny writes that they have a yard!

Harvey Nelson is a SGT. Technician in the Chemical Laboratory at Camp Edwards, Mass. Harvey's address is Baracks #506, Camp Edwards, Mass. He sends the information that he was married on March 14, 1942, to Miss Priscilla Garvey, of Reading, Mass. Priscilla is at home at 15 Hopkins St, Reading, Mass, and Harvey joins her there weeks end. Harvey adds, that is an would appreciate hearing from long-silent classmates!

The wedding of Miss Mary Magdian (ex '40) and Lt Albert Pearce Putnam took place in Houlton, February 21. Albert attended the bride, my roommate freshman man year at Maine and my closest friend for years and years. Albert graduated from Bowdoin in 1936 and Boston University Law School in 1939. He is a member of the 21st Inf. Le and BD. Liz and Albert Putnam are now at 1005 South Third St, Lawton, Oklahoma, where he is stationed at Fort Sill.

Bill Treat is an Ensign and is attending Harvard for special study in the Supply Corps.

Carolyn Calderwood is in Bangor working for Farm Security.

Charles W. Knowlton is employed by the State Board of Health and Welfare. He has been in Portland since November. The Knowltons (Mrs. Knowlton is the former Marthe Savage of Etna) are living at 208 High Street, Island. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Warren of Lubec announce the engagement of their daughter to Fred E. Stevens of Gor- stead. As far as I know Winnie and Stevic haven't set any date.

Elonora Savage and George Grant were married on the 28th of March at Elonora's home in Bangor. Miss Betty Homans was Elonora's only attendant. Mr. and Mrs Grant took a short wedding trip after which Elonora resumed her teaching in Norway, Maine and George resumed his work in Springfield, Mass. He expects to be on leave any day.

Bob Cameron sent a "super-important" announcement for ye old Alummat Bob and Frances Lee. They were married April 6 in Hillsdale, Michigan. Mrs. Cameron graduated from Oberlin College in 1940. The Camerons are at home at 117 North Street, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The announcement of the marriage of Alice S. Gibbons to George F. Darveau, which took place February 14th in Wood- mont, Conn., was received.

Two engagements of interest are those of Anne Perry and K. Braan, the wedding to be in early spring; and that of Virginia Brooks to Richard G. Mayo. Anne Perry is head of the Mathematics Department in the MacDuffie School in Springfield, Mass Ed is in the Officer's Candidate School at Fort Belvoir, Virginia. Dick Mayo is at the Officers' Training School, Fort Monmouth, N. J. Miss Brooks is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company branch in Bangor.

Myron Garty is a Private First Class, Co A, 15th Engineer, 9th Div. A.P.O #9, Fort Bragg, N. C. Certainly need a large-sized envelope for that address.

Frederick W. Robie is a Junior Naval Architect, Boston Navy Yard His address is 291 Newbury St, Boston, Mass. Edward J. Cook was married April 4, 1942, to Irene Fish, of Woodstock, Vt. (I spent his honeymoon, or part of it, in Baltimore, Md.) to George Doc Grrrath, who is at Abbevon Proving Ground, Md, while there.

Robert C. Knowlton is a student at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. Bob's address is Y.M.C.A., Baltimore, Md.

Earle S. Pierce is a salesman for Bay State Nurseries, No. Abingdon, Mass. Earl lived at 1019 Washington St, Abingdon, Mass.

Mrs. Mary Corliss Lane (ex '40) is a member of the ancient and honorable profession of barbering. She lives at 227 Lake St, Auburn, Maine, R.F.D. #3.

Ellia M. Glines is teaching in Freedom, Maine.

William K. Brooks is employed in the offices of the Maine Central R. R. at Portland. His address is Falmouth Foreside.

Next Reunion, 1943

Just about a year ago, spring house-parties were foremost in our minds, along with a few minor headaches as exam. Excuse my reminiscing, but when I sit down to write this column I lapse into that kind of a mood.

We had a small-scale Maine reunion at Bob Irvine's wedding last week—April 11. Bob and Vitamin were married in Framingham, a lovely church ceremony. The groom was just as scared as the bride was beautiful. Vitamin was attended by her sister; Bob by his brother, Bill, '42. Burleigh Crane, Rog Paul, Bob Hamilton, '40, and Sam Syer, '42, at the wedding. I do know that Emmy Hop- kins was among the guests. Bill is with the Navy and Whitney Pratt Harris and Ruth, I understand, is going to continue with her work at Aeta. Won't you correct my errors and fill in the details, Ruth?

Andy Anderson, ex '41, is another newly-wed. He neglected to tell me his wife's former name, but Andy Anderson now and that is evidently all that matters, for he says 'she is the most wonderful girl in the world.' Andy was in Walla Walla, Washington, and now it is Meridian, Mississippi, where Andy is stationed at Kay Field. Andy has been in the service for a year now. He and Mrs. Anderson are in the U. S. with the Army Air Corps. He would like to hear from any and all of you fellows and gals, and asks particularly for Allan Holmes. Andy's complete title and address are: Lt. Harold F. Anderson, 1st Composite Sqn, Kay Field, Meridian, Miss.

From New Jersey, Ken Bell writes that he is with Wright Aero Corp. He also says that "Dick" Plitterer is in Detroit (as I had him last month) because he is in the same plant as Ken. Ken is the Army Invac. Another '42er is Dick Bramhall and St Brody. Other '43ers at the Wright plant are Gordon McKay and Jim Condon. Both are happily married. Ken tells me that Gordon was married at Christmas time to Florence Marriessette, of South Paris, and Jim was married the first of April to a girl from his home town. Ken continues that he wears of John Dyer and Fred Hanson through Jim who visits John and his wife in New York every now and then. Fred Hanson and Sid Goodrich are both with Sperry Gyroscope in New York. Thanks for the grand letter, Ken. You should have been a reporter!

Lloyd Griffin tells me that he is a yard bird in the Air Forces at Kees, Miss., waiting to go to clerical school in Denver. The field is located directly on the Gulf of Mexico. He adds, the fishing is good, too. He'd like to see a Maine face, though, and can be reached at this address: 303 School Squadron, Flight 100.

Elnora Savage, '40, and George Grant were married in Bangor April 4th. Betty Homans was Elnora's maid of honor. Barby Ashworth 59 Beacon Street Boston, Mass.

URGENT NOTICE

Word just received from England, too late to change earlier pages of the issue, brings notice that conditions of health make it impossible for Mr. Wilfrid J. Hinton, of London, announced as a speaker at the Banquet and Commencement, to attend the Commencement Program this year. Your editors deeply regret the necessity of this late change of plans and the loss of such an able speaker as Mr. Hinton from our program. It is hoped he may appear as the guest of the Alumni Association at some future event.
Families sail safer
in convoy!

World-wide war has proved that a convoy is the best way to carry cargo through dangerous seas. Single ships are more easily picked off. But fleets of freighters traveling together with naval escort can make port.

Families, like freighters, are safer when they sail together in troubled times. That's the essence of life insurance — hundreds of thousands united to strengthen one another.

When you, as skipper, put your family under the protection of a New England Mutual policy, you assure financial security for them and peace of mind for yourself.

This Company — chartered in 1835 — has convoyed families safely through more than a century of wars and depressions. Its protection is broad, its policies liberal, and no beneficiary has yet failed to "reach the port" provided by a New England Mutual contract.

Make a date today with a New England Mutual Career Underwriter. You'll find him friendly and capable. The convoy course he charts for you will help you steer your family toward a harbor where they can face the future with confidence.

New England Mutual
Life Insurance Company of Boston

George Willard Smith, President

Able officers
for your family convoy

Even the most skillful skippers are glad to have the help of veteran officers who know the hazards and the route — men who can offer constructive counsel in times like these.

You'll get just such help for your family convoy from the men listed below. They're alumni of your own college. They're your sort of people and they speak your language.

But more than that they're trained and experienced in every phase of life insurance. They're in the field because they get satisfaction from serving families like yours. Their prime concern is your protection.

If none of these men is near you, you'll find others of the same calibre in the New England Mutual office in your city.

So many of our own field force have left for naval or military duty that we have a number of opportunities available in various cities.

If you are not liable to immediate draft and not particularly happy in your present job, why not consider a career where compensation and service go hand in hand? Or perhaps you have a friend who might be interested.

In either case, just write to Wm. Eugene Hays (Stanford ‘26), 501 Boylston St., Boston, Mass., for further information. There's no obligation, of course.
