Each Bequest to the University has a special Meaning

Each bequest to the University carries a special meaning. Some bequests have particular significance because of the individual's association with the University. This is true of the recent bequest of $5,000 made by Ralph Whittier, Class of 1902, to the University of Maine Foundation.

An active and loyal alumnus, Ralph Whittier devoted much time and effort to the work of various committees and contributed generously to all alumni projects. He served his alma mater with distinction and found pleasure and satisfaction in doing so.

In a quiet and modest manner he helped many students who were having financial difficulties. His fine traits, combined with his ability and kindliness, won for him a place of high esteem among Maine alumni and citizens and his advice and counsel were eagerly sought.

Through his bequest (the income to be used for student aid), Ralph Whittier’s helpfulness and influence will be continued. He has written his name indelibly into the history of the University of Maine.

(This is the first in a series of pages about bequests to the University of Maine.)
NOTED PSYCHOLOGIST

DR. LOUISE BATES AMES
(B.A. 1930, M.A. 1933) of New Haven, Connecticut, has become one of the best known authorities on child development in the country, and is currently Director of Psychological Research for the Gesell Institute of Child Development in New Haven. Dr. Ames is widely known as co-author of the best sellers, "First Five Years," and "Child from Five to Ten."

Varied Activities at Clinic
Dr. Ames' versatility became apparent in her work at the Yale Clinic of Child Development. Her activities there included clinical work, teaching, research, and lecturing. Dr. Ames cooperated in the preparation of published articles, films, and several books on the research conducted. The work was also documented in a March of Time film entitled "Life with Baby." In 1950, Drs. Ames and Gesell received funds from the Office of Naval Research through the Medical Film Institute of the Association of American Medical Colleges for the filming of a color film on "The Embryology of Behavior."

Many days bring visitors—pediatricians, psychologists, teachers, students—from all over the globe. Without stirring from their offices the members of the staff at the Clinic can keep abreast of developments in child research everywhere just by talking with enthusiastic visitors.

Patients for the Clinic likewise come from all over the country and the world—and whether the difficulties are related to speech, visual, or the psychological, they all get a complete developmental examination, with the cooperation of most of the staff.

Holds Key Offices at Clinic
Upon Dr. Gesell's retirement from Yale, the staff members, including Dr. Ames, incorporated as the Gesell Institute of Child Development, a private, non-profit corporation for clinical work and research in the field of child behavior. Dr. Ames is currently a member of the Board of Directors and is also serving as Secretary-Treasurer of the Corporation. In addition to these offices, she is also Director of Psychological Research at the Institute. Other members of the Corporation include widely recognized authorities in the field. Dr. Ames is continuing her activities in research, writing, and lecturing, and at present is preparing two publications. One of these books will be concerned with adolescent age levels and will be a sequel to her famous "The Child from Five to Ten." Her second book will be entitled "Child Rorschach Responses from Two to Ten Years."

Work Widely Known Abroad
During the summer of 1949, Dr. Ames visited Europe where she found considerable knowledge and interest in the work of her organization. In Paris, she was royally received by a group of fifty leading French psychologists and psychiatrists. In France she found that many of the Institute's publications had been translated into French, as well as Italian, Spanish, German, Korean, Icelandic, and (at one time) Russian.

During the past year, Dr. Ames, working with Dr. Frances Ilg also of the Gesell Institute, has prepared and issued a daily syndicated article on child behavior through the Post-Hall Syndicate of New York, these articles have been featured in newspapers throughout the country. This newspaper series, while of considerable general reader interest, has been extremely helpful to parents. Both Dr. Ames and her co-author Dr. Ilg admit that they were fascinated by, and a little afraid of, the reaction that might follow syndication of their column.

"Books and magazine articles have promoted such intense and widespread interest in the Gesell Institute," says Dr. Ames, "that we really wondered what response would come from such wide general publication. We're both excited, though, by the possibilities of such a column."

Terms Column a "Road Map"
"A parent who is familiar with all the stages through which a child will grow," points out Dr. Ames, "has a road map of his own child's normal development. He is able to remain calm during the stages when his child's behavior is usual but culturally undesirable. And he is able to distinguish between normally attractive or unattractive behaviors and signs of strong individuality or trouble."

In addition to her valued part in this written series, Dr. Ames has conducted courses on "How Do You Deal With Your Child" in several of the larger cities. Currently a weekly television show delineating the work of the Institute is under consideration.

Daughter at the University
Joan Ames, daughter of Dr. Ames and Smith Whittier Ames, is currently a member of the Class of 1952 at the University, where she is following in her mother's footsteps by majoring in psychology. Dr. Ames' two brothers are also Maine men—Silas L. Bates '35 and John E. Bates '33.

As an undergraduate at the University, Dr. Ames was active in the Mams Club, the Literary Club, the Debating Team, and served as Secretary of Sigma (Continued on Page 5)

Town Managers

GRADUATES of the University's city and town manager training program since 1948 now hold 14 positions in Maine, Professor Edward F. Dow, director of the course, has announced. On a national basis, more than 1,000 cities and towns are now operating under the manager plan. The state of Maine leads the nation in the number of manager governed communities. Maine has 111 or more than 10 per cent of the total number in the country. U. of M. graduates are also managing municipalities in Vermont, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania. Other Maine graduates are holding municipal positions such as purchasing agent or town engineer.

"Private businesses are also finding these men well suited for future executives and are hiring some of them directly from college. Others are being made tempting offers in the attempt to lure them away from municipal work," Professor Dow reports.

"The majority of public management graduates are in the field because of their genuine interest in public service and intend to stay with it. As I have traveled about New England during the summer, I have been impressed with the good work managers are doing, and the way in which our men are holding their own in this field of work," he added.

"When the university decided in 1945 to offer a complete four-year undergraduate program for managerial training it broke new ground," Professor Dow states. "Previously universities had given little attention to this type of training. A few schools offered a year or two of graduate work centering in public administration. Tradition and lack of training facilities were against giving jobs as managers to young men "fresh out of college." The University of Maine is well on the way toward the smashing of this tradition. Insisting on careful selection and high standards, it has been able to place its graduates readily. Its curriculum has been coned to some extent, but remains the only one combining training in engineering and arts for a four-year program. A master's degree is available for one year of graduate work."

A source of considerable satisfaction to Professor Dow is the fact that often one of his graduates is appointed to a position vacated by another trained. Such a situation occurred in Mars Hill this year when Jerry Haynes '50, Ellsworth, was recalled to military service and was succeeded by Donald Waring '50, Brewer.

Other appointments of this year include E. Albe M. Prince '50, who became the first manager of Vassalboro; Merle F. Goff '48, who became Brunswick's manager after having served in Boothbay Harbor; Donald Crow 50, who was appointed clerk to the board of assessors and assistant to the manager of Presque Isle; Paul Smith '50, who is assistant to the Brunswick assessors; Allen Torrey '48, who left Lancaster, New Hampshire, to come to Camden as manager; James V. Coyne, Jr. '50, new manager of Limington; and Arthur H. Curtis '51, recently appointed manager of Mount Desert.

EXTENSION COURSES

The General Extension Division of the University is offering eight evening courses for Dow Field Air Force Base personnel during the current Fall Semester. All of the courses except one will be given in Stevens Hall on the campus. One course, called "Current World Problems," will be presented at the Dow Field Chapel and will continue for fifteen sessions.

The courses being offered on campus include: Elementary Accounting, Business Law, College Algebra, French Grammar, Russian, and Psychology. Instructors for these evening courses are: John W. Anderson and Mrs. Elizabeth Evans (Business Administration); Fred L. Lamoreaux (Mathematics); Dr. Wilmart Starr (Romance Languages); Dr. F. Kenneth Miles (German); Mrs. Harry Gordon (Modern Languages); and Andrew L. Soydich (Psychology).

Dean Mark R. Shibles, director of the General Extension Division, reports that over 125 airmen from the base have registered for the courses.

New Alumni Council Members

Both men have been active in alumni work in their communities.

A prominent Augusta insurance agent, O'Connor is director of the Augusta General Hospital and the Augusta Loan and Building Association and has served as an alderman in the capital city. He is vice president of the Maine Savings and Loan League and a member of many civic and fraternal organizations. O'Connor was an outstanding track man in college and was a Sophomore Owl. He is married and has two children. He is a Navy Veteran.

A pulp and paper major, McNeilly graduated in 1947 although he had entered Maine in the Class of 1944 Service with the Air Force in which he received the Air Medal. Distinguished Flying Cross with three Oak Leaf Clusters, delayed his graduation.

A former president of the Senior Skulls, he also held offices in the Sophomore Owls, the Student Senate, Scabbard and Blade, and class. He was a member of the baseball team three years and its captain in 1946.

He and Mrs. McNeilly (Jemmie Bridges) have four children and live in Medford, Mass. Since graduation he has been with the Industrial Sales Department of Esso Standard Oil in Boston where he is a member of several engineering societies.

JOHN SEALEY HONORED

MORE than 25 top faculty and administration officials and their wives attended a testimonial banquet recently to honor John Sealey, Jr., ’36 who resigned in June as Alumni Secretary. A Skowhegan resident, Mr. Sealey has served in the alumni post for the past five years.

Serving as toastmaster, Alumni Association President Myron C Peabody ’16, expressed the appreciation of the Association for the fine work which Mr. Sealey has accomplished as secretary. He told of a number of new ideas introduced, including the presentation of the Black Bear Award, the issuance of the publication, “Black Bear Gridiron Facts,” and the institution of several Homecoming and Commencement improvements.

President Hauck paid tribute to Mr. Sealey for the understanding way in which he performed his duties. He spoke of the cooperative manner in which the Alumni Secretary worked with the University during the post-war period with its many problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Sealey were presented with gifts by Mr. Peabody and Dr. Hauck on behalf of administration, faculty, and alumni associates and members of the Alumni Council.

In expressing appreciation, Mr. Sealey told of the pleasure and satisfaction he had experienced in working with all connected with the University. Urging a strong Alumni Association, he said, “This University or any university is only as great as its alumni group.”

Pictured below at a dinner honoring the Sealeys are Alumni Association president Myron C. Peabody ’16, John Sealey, Jr., Mrs. Sealey, and Dr. Arthur A. Hauck. Mr. Peabody served as toastmaster.

A Little Child Shall Lead Them by Leah Ramsdell Fuller ’21, published by John W. Luce Co., Boston, Mass. $3.00

The New England of the 1890's is the era of which Leah Ramsdell Fuller writes in her latest book, A Little Child Shall Lead Them. In this book, Mrs. Ramsdell’s third dealing with life on the coast of Maine, again the reader finds the essence of the life and people cleverly captured by one who knows the area well.

A Little Child Shall Lead Them is the story of an unusual young boy who becomes a priest. One sees an interesting evolution of boy into young man and priesthood told in a way which reflects the writer’s keen understanding of human nature. Throughout the book there is a strong thread of the strength of love which is the lifeblood of the brotherhood of man, which can envelop people regardless of race or creed.

Way, Way Down East and Flamin’ Plug are Mrs. Ramsdell’s previous books.

Firewood and Other Verse by Elizabeth Hanly Danforth ’15, published by Falmouth Publishing House, Portland, Maine. $2.50.

Since Elizabeth Hanly Danforth’s death in 1949, her husband, Stephen Danforth, has gathered some of her wealth of poetry together and has it published under the title of Firewood and Other Verse. Maine alumni who knew Mrs. Danforth, as well as many who are of other generations, will find in her poetry a beautiful re-creation of human experience and impressions. Mrs. Danforth’s poetry comes from the heart and reflects a warm love of people and of the earth. Although she spent the better part of the last twenty-five years of her life in South America in Rio de Janeiro where her husband (Stephen) was engaged in business, her love of her native state of Maine is poignantly felt in many of her poems. Other poems embody the brilliancy of South American landscape vividly and accurately described.

Unshakable faith, fine courage, and the unmistakable touch of the artist are all to be found in this lovely volume of poetry.

Mrs. Danforth has been recognized in Brazil as a poet of note. An earlier volume, Rio on the Ouaro, published in 1938 has gone through three printings.

Mu Sigma. Currently, Dr. Ames is a full member of the American Psychological Society; a Charter member of the Connecticut State Psychological Society, a Fellow in the Society for Research in Child Development and a member of the International Society for Women Psychologists, having previously been a member of that organization’s Board of Directors. In addition to her books, Dr. Ames’ bibliography includes numerous articles published in leading professional journals.

“Of Eagle Eye”

A recent resume of the work of Col. Albert W. Stevens ’07, who died in 1949, can be found in a book called Architects of Aviation by Maurice Holland, who is Industrial Research Advisor with Thomas M. Smith of the University of Wisconsin.

In a chapter entitled “Of Eagle Eye” Mr. Holland provides a most interesting and graphic account of some of the experiences of Col. Stevens. According to Mr. Holland, Col. Stevens “more than any other individual is responsible for pioneering the present highly developed science of aerial photography.”
Campus Comment

(Bill Matson '52 is city editor of The Campus and last year served as assistant editor of The Prism. President of the Press Club, active in the promotion of numerous campus activities, Bill also finds time to work on the sports desk of the Bangor Commercial. He is a member of Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity and halls from Portland. His "Campus Comment" is a regular feature of the Alumnus this year.)

By Bill Matson '52

THE fall weather and old king football are still in the air but Maine undergraduates are at last getting back into the swing of things.

It is true that football talk is being heard in the book store, snack bar, and various other student gathering places, but nevertheless, the student body is starting to start the activity wheel rolling once again. And what is new on campus? Oh, so many things. The Maine Masque has announced that its first production of the year, to be staged as a part of Homecoming from November 7-10, will be the perennial Broadway favorite, "Harvey."

Always a leader in campus activities, the Masque has come up with another new idea. Starting on November 1, the Masque will put a "talent pool" into operation. The membership of the pool will consist of Masque members not actively engaged in the staging of a production. The purpose of the pool is to provide all types of entertainment free of charge for campus functions, which ordinarily have little time to rehearse entertainment for their affairs. Pool talent will not be restricted to members of the Masque, however, as anyone that has some talent is invited to join the group.

For all Masque members in the pool, there is an incentive, as they will receive points toward their Masque membership pins.

New Skull Adviser

As a brief sidelight, the Senior Skulls chose an "alumnus" of their organization to become their advisor. With the resignation of John Sealey who was their advisor, the Skulls named Joseph Murray, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, as their top man. Dean Murray was a member of the Skull group in 1925 when he was a senior at Maine.

The student body was given a treat on Oct 12, when Professor Harry Overstreet addressed them as part of an assembly program. The famed author of "The Mature Mind" and many other books on the subject of philosophy and psychology, completely won over the entire audience with his unusual and amusing approach on how to form a philosophy of life. The noted philosopher received a tremendous ovation at the end of his talk.

Religious Groups

Episcopal students at the University were given a new place to worship when the Canterbury House was officially opened on October 7. Under construction for over a year, the structure was a joint project of the St James Parish of Old Town and the Episcopal Diocese of Maine. The Newman Club which is the official organization for the Catholic students on campus, was the host to the New England Province Newman Club Federation, October 19, 20, 21. Panel discussions, luncheons, and addresses by well known Priests were included in the program for the more than 60 visiting delegates. Jewish students at Maine who are members of the Hillel Foundation were addressed by Dr. Saul K. Padover, noted lecturer and author, as a part of their October 7 meeting.

No Co-eds

A rather amusing incident occurred recently. It all started when the social dancing class, which meets every Monday afternoon in the Balentine Hall Recreation Room, was preparing for another of its weekly installments. Twenty-four people appeared for the dance instruction; the only trouble was that all of them were boys. Finally, one co-ed showed up. But she had brought her boy friend with her, so the afternoon of dancing was postponed.

The annual Aggie Fair and Calico Ball Committee has announced its plans for the event which is to take place November 17. No definite statements have been made as yet but already the committee under the lead of Art McAllister has started to make the preliminary preparations for the eagerly awaited event.

The registration of students taking the two-year course in agriculture took place Monday, October 22, under the auspices of Associate Dean Winthrop Libby of the College of Agriculture. The course is designed for men and women who have a sincere desire to learn the new methods and techniques of modern farming.

Other news around campus is plentiful so here goes. The Frosh are walking around with long faces nowadays. It seems like those first few weeks reports caught up to a lot of them. Speaking of frosh, this year's froshman class is a cosmopolitan one. Fifteen states and five nations are represented in the class of 1955. Massachusetts and New York place behind the home state in that order with regard to the number of freshmen in school. Canada and Latin America have the bulk of most of the foreign students.

Dinburg more into statistics, I find that Bangor supplies the most students in the class with 40, followed by Augusta with 22.

This year's froshman is quite young with regard to age. Therefore, it is logical that Young should be the most popular surname, as indeed it is. There are six students by the name of Young in the class.

The Cutting Problem

The big news for the habitual "cutters" was released last week. The final policy was the approval of recommendations made by a faculty committee last March to the faculty. In essence the new rule is this. There should be no cutting. The only time that an authorized excuse is needed is when the student misses a class lab or class report. And, of course, the "24-hour cut rule" has been changed to the extent that the only authorized excuse a person needs the day before an announced holiday is for the last class before the holiday, and the first class after the recess. If the person does not have the authorized absence, he will be dropped from the course, and if his rank is below C, he will be dropped from the course with an E.

On October 21, members of the general senate and academic and administrative deans met with President Hauk at his camp near Beech Hill Pond to discuss and exchange viewpoints on student conditions and problems. Designated the "First Leadership Conference," the all day program was divided into two informal sessions, morning and afternoon. For the morning program the leaders of the campus discussed the problem of student activities, the responsibility of the honor societies to the school, the responsibility of the student to the university, and the question of whether or not the student government was accomplishing its goal. The afternoon program was devoted to the broad tone of student-faculty relations.

The 1952 Prism under the editorship of co-ed Jean Dolloff has started to photograph members of the class of '52. So if you should take a trip to Orono within the next few weeks, you will know that the fellows wearing the suits and shirts and ties to classes aren't part of a revolution, but are just going to have their pictures taken. Using the ancient model of "Banana," Editor Dolloff has promised to turn out the book of books. Right now, her main objective is to beat the date of distribution of last year's yearbook.

On November 15, Adele Addison, regarded as one of the most promising young sopranos in the country today, will give a concert. A native of Springfield, Massachusetts, she has already made a fine reputation in her roles with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the New England Opera Theatre and others.

Next in the series is the Longines Symphonette, which will give a concert February 13, 1952. Under the leadership of Michel Piazzo, this musical organization has five times been voted the radio orchestra of the year. They are widely known and in great demand.

The Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra will appear on March 3. Like the Symphonette, this Chorale has won highest acclaim for the superlative quality of their fine music. This group consists of a chorus of 32 voices and a 19-piece orchestra.

University Music Night on April 24 will close the series. This is the biggest annual music event on the campus each year. It features the University Band, Glee Club and Orchestra and student soloists.

The series is being presented with the assistance of the members of Mu Alpha Epsilon, honorary music fraternity, who are handling student ticket sales and will assist in ushering at each event.

Season tickets are $6.00, including tax, with a rate of $4.00 for students.

According to the Chairman of the Assembly Committee, the success of this first series will assure a similar series in future years.

CONCERT SERIES

Nationally famous artists and organizations are to give concerts on the campus during 1951-52 as part of a series arranged by the University Assembly Committee. It is believed to be the first time in University history that such a series has been undertaken.

Last year the Don Cossack Chorus and Lauritz Melchior gave concerts which were highly successful. Following these two events many inquired about the possibility of more concerts. The series this year is in the nature of a trial to determine the extent of interest.

The first concert occurred on October 16 when the Jean Frand Dance Group presented a program of modern interpretative dancing in Memorial Gymnasium.
With the FACULTY

Department Head—
Professor Matthew McNeary has been named head of the engineering drafting department. Professor McNeary, who has been a member of the faculty since 1937, has been serving as acting head of the department since the death of Professor Benjamin Kent last spring. A graduate of Pennsylvania State College, Professor McNeary holds a M.S. degree from Maine. Younger alumni will recall that he has served as director of Freshman Week for the past few years.

Dr. Hanck has also announced the promotion of Dr. Robert D. Dunlap from instructor to assistant professor of chemistry. Dr. Dunlap joined the faculty in the fall of 1949 after receiving his Ph. D. degree from Pennsylvania State College.

Paper Technology Lecturer—
Charles M. Howell of Millville, New Jersey, former general manager of the Scott Paper Company, has been appointed lecturer in paper technology in the department of chemical engineering.

Mr. Howell was graduated from Swarthmore College in 1919 and undertook graduate study at Cornell University and at Maine, receiving his M.S. degree from Maine in 1922.

During his long and successful career with Scott Paper, Mr. Howell served as general manager during the period when new high-speed tissue machines were designed and installed. These machines have done much to revolutionize productive capacity and improve the quality of the product.

His work at the University will be integrated closely with the five-year operational management curriculum, a new curriculum under the direction of the department of chemical engineering. This curriculum is of special interest to the University of Maine Pulp and Paper Foundation.

Prize Winner—
Professor Cecil Reynolds, of the English Department, was again a successful competitor at the recent meeting of the Maine Club of the American Gladiolus Society. Having previously won prizes in the amateur class in which one may compete for not more than three years, he progressed this year to the open class and there won a medal for the greatest number of points in that group.

Professor Reynolds is a successful grower of gladiolus, and his farm, Valley View in Stillwater, is well known to all persons in this region interested in this flower.

Honored—
Dr. Charles A. Brautlecht, professor emeritus of chemistry and chemical engineering, was the guest of honor at the annual meeting of the Maine Institute of Potato Starch Manufacturers last spring in Presque Isle.

At the annual dinner he was presented with a plaque bearing the following inscription: "To Dr. Charles A. Brautlecht, in recognition and sincere appreciation of your many years of outstanding guidance and counsel to the Maine Potato Starch Industry in the development, improvement of products methods and quality standardization." Also in evidence of appreciation for "outstanding work and interest" Dr. Brautlecht was presented a deep-freezer.

Dr. Brautlecht has been instrumental in interesting paper manufacturers in the use of potato starch in coated papers. It is in this field that potato starch now has its greatest use. Earlier this year Dr. Brautlecht was co-author of an article in The American Potato Journal.

Faculty Writers—
Professor Walter J. Cremer, head of the electrical engineering department, is the author of a new textbook called "Communication Networks and Lines" published by Harper and Brothers. Publishers point out that it is a useful volume for practicing communication engineers and for Army Signal Corps training courses. Professor Cremer, also the author of "Elements of Electrical Engineering," has been a member of the faculty since 1919.

An article appearing in the new Collier's Encyclopedia is the work of Dr. Ronald B. Levinson, head of the department of philosophy. Dr. Levinson's article gives biographical details and critical comments on the noted philosopher, author and former Harvard professor, George Santayana. The encyclopedia also carries an article about the University by Dr. Levinson, who will be included in the next issue of Who's Who in America.

The faculty in 1926.

Two technical papers prepared by members of the chemistry department have recently been published by chemistry journals. Professor Irving B. Douglass, head of the department of chemistry, Associate Professor Frederick T. Martin, and Graduate Assistant Roger Addor are authors of an article called "Sulfenyl Chloride Studies: Mono-I, Tri, and Chloromethanesulfenyl Chlorides and Certain of Their Derivatives." This article, the second in a series, has been published by the Journal of Organic Chemistry.

A recent issue of "The National Municipal Review" carried an article by Dr. Edward F. Dow, head of the department of history and government. The article, entitled "Portland Limits Initiative," discusses the action of the Portland city government in passing an ordinance which eliminates appropriations, tax levies, and the wages and hours of city employees from direct control by the voters. Dr. Dow supports the action.

Dr. Garland B. Russell, associate professor of education, is one of the authors who assisted in writing the new second edition of "Teaching the New Arithmetic," one of the McGraw-Hill series in education. The textbook was prepared by Guy M. Wilson, assisted by Dr. Russell and four other prominent leaders in the field of education in various parts of the country.

Familiar Faces

This month we have the pleasure of saluting Hadley W. Robbins, Shop Foreman at the University Press. The photo at the left will arouse memories in the minds of the many alumni who have worked with Hadley in the preparation of the Campus, the Prism and many other student publications.

Hadley's long service began in August, 1925, when he joined the University Press as a "devil boy." His cheerful cooperation and patience has helped many a bewildered student over the difficulties encountered in preparing copy and photographs and in meeting his "dead line."

It is not only to students that Hadley "ministers," however, for The Hummus is another of his projects. His years of background and experience provide much assistance to the editor.
Congressman—

Congratulations to Clifford G. McNemire '30, a member of the Alumni Council, elected to the United States Congress, representing the Third Maine District, as this issue goes to press. Congressman McNemire, a Republican, will take the seat of the late Frank Fellows '12 who had served as Representative for six consecutive terms.

Hearing Commissioner—

Walter H Foster '05L, of Boston, was recently named Chief Hearing Commissioner on the newly created "compliance court" of the National Production Authority which will hear and act on charges of violations of NPA orders and regulations. Mr Foster, a native of Lagrange, also received the LL.M. degree from Maine in 1914.

During World War Two he was chief compliance commissioner of the War Production Board. The present "compliance court" of NPA operates on a system based on WPB experience. Under its present organization, eminent jurists are drawn as commissioners to hear and act on charges of violations. The commissioners hear cases in the communities where alleged violations occur.

Mr Foster's son, Walter, Jr., is a graduate of the University in the class of 1943.

Mission Chief—

Vincent V. Checchi, '40, has been serving as Acting Chief of the U.S. Special Technical and Economic Mission to the Philippine Republic with his headquarters in Manila. Mr. Checchi was asked to assume the duties of this important post by Economic Cooperation Administrator William C. Foster last April. In announcing his position, the ECA reported that Checchi ranks second only to the Ambassador among U.S. officials in the Philippines.

Prior to assuming his new duties, Mr. Checchi served as Special Representative of the ECA in Manila, developing the basis for the program which he has recently been heading. The Special Technical and Economic Mission was established to work out with the Philippine Government the means for utilizing American grants and loans in the most effective manner for the stimulation and advancement of the economy of the Philippines.

Following his graduation from the University, Mr. Checchi entered the government service with the agency which was to become the War Production Board.

Mr. Checchi has a brother, Arthur, who is a graduate of the University in the class of 1943.

Chief Engineer, FCC—

The Chief Engineer in charge of a new Broadcast Bureau in the Federal Communications Commission is Curtis B. Plummer '35 as the result of a recent promotion. This bureau was established during the past summer to correlate legal, accounting and engineering work in both the radio and television fields.

At one time Mr. Plummer was engaged in radio engineering work in radio stations in Portland and Portsmouth, New Hampshire. He joined the FCC in 1940 as a radio inspector at Boston, and went to Washington with the Commission in 1941 as an associate radio engineer. Later becoming a Commission radio engineer, he advanced to Chief of the Television Broadcast Section in 1946.

Mr. Plummer and his wife, the former Helen Hale of Boston, have a three-year old son, Lee Curtis, and reside in Washington.

Telephone Executive Promoted—

The promotion of Bryant M. Patten '29 of Springfield, Massachusetts, to the position of commercial inspector in the south metropolitan division of the Boston office of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has been announced. Since 1946, Mr. Patten has been serving as division servicing manager for the same company in Springfield.

He started work with New England Tel & Tel immediately following his graduation from the University in 1923. Mr. Patten served as district manager in Bangor and Pittsfield, Massachusetts later working in the Boston office.

A native of Portland, Maine, Mr. Patten married the former Arabelle G. Hamilton of Bangor, also a graduate of the University in the class of 1923. The Pattens have two children, Mrs. William A. Wells '48, and Amory M. '53.

Honoris Causa—

Elmer D. Merrill '98, M.S. '04, Sc.D. '26, was one of the 25 most eminent scientists to receive an honorary degree from Yale University at its 250th commencement. Dr. Merrill was the only man in the entire field of plant science to be so honored. His honorary degree from Harvard was awarded on the occasion of the 300th anniversary of that institution.

Dr. Merrill sailed for England in late June where he is to work on a project in the British Museum. This project is financed by a New York foundation.

One of the world's outstanding botanists, Dr. Merrill is professor emeritus of Botany at Harvard. Some eight genera of plants and approximately 200 species have been named in his honor by other botanists. His record of new species named and defined is approximately 4,000. Dr. Merrill also holds an honorary Sc.D. degree from the University of California.

Col. Frank P. Bostrom '29

PAS&T—Harvard

The appointment of Colonel Frank P. Bostrom '29, USAF, as Professor of Air Science and Tactics at Harvard University has been recently announced. A native of Yeeze, Colonel Bostrom is a veteran of many years of active service with the Air Force. He has been in the center of things on many world fronts since his graduation from the University. It was he who piloted the plane that made a secret landing in the Philippines after the fall of Corregidor, and flew General Douglas MacArthur, his family, and official staff to safety in Australia.

Colonel Bostrom served in both the South Pacific and European theaters of operation in World War Two, and has just returned from a 34-month tour of duty in Germany where he had been assigned to Headquarters, United States Air Forces in Europe, at Wiesbaden.

He received the degree of B.S. in mechanical engineering from the University and immediately joined the Army Air Corps, graduating from the Advanced Flying School at Kelly Field, Texas, in 1930.

Colonel Bostrom's daughter, Shirley, is currently a freshman at the University.

A junior, Schuman is editor of the Maine Campus, sports correspondent for the University Publicity Bureau and a member of his class executive committee. He is married and has one child.

By WALT SCHUMAN ’52

WITH Maine’s first un-shared Yankee Conference title tucked safely in his pocket—and with the Yankee Bowl on its way to Orono from Durham—Head Coach Hal Westerman can take a bow. In his first year of guiding the football destiny of the Black Bears, Westerman has led his team through its first four games undefeated.

Displaying a savage running attack, the Bears clinched the YC crown by walloping a rough and tough University of Connecticut team 49-19 before 6000 fans at Alumni Field October 20.

Prior to the encounter with the UConn, Maine had defeated Rhode Island 12-0, Vermont 42-0, and had battled New Hampshire to a scoreless tie.

7 Touchdowns

While the UConn’s Irv Panciera was filling the sunny sky with footballs the Pale Blue stock doggedly to their running game rolling to seven touchdowns on 334 net yards gained Maine quarterback Gene Sturgeon, Portland, tried only three passes all afternoon. One attempt was intercepted, the other two went incomplete.

Meanwhile, Panciera was completing 13 of 28 passes for 142 yards. The Huskies gained 89 yards on the ground.

It was a hard-fought game characterized by heavy tackling and occasional outbursts of tempers.

Veteran fullback Gordon Pendleton, Saco, playing his first full game after breaking a bone in his hand in the Rhode Island game, scored three touchdowns.

Sophomores Ed Bogdanovich, Providence, R I, Bill McCann, Bangor, Vince Calenda, Providence, R I, and Dave Wuggen, Oakland, all halfbacks added TD’s as Maine rolled over the highly regarded Storrs team.

But it was Win Brown, Augusta, who provided the real drama of the game. An outstanding performer at center in every game, Brown had converted six consecutive points-after-touchdown in the Vermont game. Since Maine was held scoreless by New Hampshire, his first chance to continue his skein came in the first half-game. The crowd held its breath after each touchdown as Win got set to kick with Dave Wuggen holding.

Seven straight times his educated toe sent the pulsating through the uprights giving the Augusta senior a straight string of 13 placement points.

Trophies

Maine’s victorious Black Bears have already assured two trophies to add to the football honors of the University. The Yankee Conference ‘Bean Pot’ trophy comes to Orono for the first time with an outright win, although in 1940 Maine’s tie-game with Connecticut gave half claim to the championship.

The coveted Brice-Cowell Musket will come to Orono for the second semester of this school year as a result of the scoreless tie game between Maine and New Hampshire on October 13.

Game scores for the Yankee Conference are:

- Maine 12 Rhode Island 0
- Maine 42 Vermont 0
- Maine 0 New Hampshire 0
- Maine 49 Connecticut 19

Recapitulation

The Bears opened their seven-game schedule at Kingston, R I, on September 29 and came home with a 12-0 victory over a fine Rhode Island team. It was Ed Bogdanovich, playing in his own back yard, and Bill McCann who did the scoring against the Rams. All was not happiness however because Gordie Pendleton received a broken hand bone that threatened to keep him out of action for three or four weeks. He missed the Vermont game but played some offensively in the New Hampshire. For the Connecticut game his hand had mended, and he returned to full-time offensive duty.

Rhody came back the next week to smash defending YC champs New Hampshire by a 27-0 count. This so-called upset led most Maine students to agree with Coach Westerman when he said, “We caught Rhode Island before they jelled as a team. They are much better than the Maine-Rhode Island score would indicate.”

Ed Dougherty, new head coach of the Rams, didn’t begin his new job until August. Had he been at Rhode Island for spring practice, the Bear-Ram tussle might have had a different result.

Vermont Game

A week of correcting the mistakes made in the opener, the Bears played host to the University of Vermont. Unveiling a passing attack that no one knew they had, the Pale Blue exploded for six touchdowns while keeping their own goal uncrossed to become one of the few untied teams, unscouted on teams in New England. With sophomore quarterback Steve Novick, East Walpole, Mass., doing most of the passing—but with at least four other backs contributing one or more attempts—the Bears rolled up 42 points and sent 4000 rooters home with smiles on their faces and praise on their tongues.

The following Monday it was back to work for all hands. No days off to rest on their laurels for the Maine g end-zone. But the New Hampshire defense was at least as good and, aided by Huck Kean’s long punts, kept Maine on its own end of the field all afternoon. Fighting hard all the way, both teams were out to win. Although a few of the Bears came home limping there were no serious injuries.

As a result of the tie, the Brice-Cowell musket will remain at Durham for six months, after which it will reside in the Trophy Room at Memorial Gymnasium for a like period.

UConn Defeated

It didn’t take long for word to spread around campus that a win over Connecticut would clinch the Yankee Conference for Maine. If the student body had lived football the week before, it ate, slept and lived it while waiting for the Connecticut game. About 6000 students, faculty, and alumni turned out in perfect football weather to watch their favorite team smash the UConn coaches who had previously beaten former Maine coach and Dave Nelson’s Delaware Blue Hens 27-14, and a perennially powerful Springfield eleven 7-0. They lost their second game to Williams 7-0.
Gordie Pendleton, with 119 net yards gained rushing, and Ed Bogdanovich, with 123 yards, did the bulk of the ball carrying, although 150-pound Bill McCormick contributed a man-size share. Joe Garneau, Rumford, twice brought the crowd to its feet by intercepting Panciera passes and running them back 22 and 31 yards.

A Connecticut quick kick in the fourth period almost caught the Maine secondary flat-footed, but Jack Butterfield, Steuben, turned what looked like a tough situation into one of the bright spots of a sparkling afternoon. Racing back, Butterfield gathered in the punt over his shoulder, turned, and picking up some excellent blocking by his teammates, ran 51 yards through nearly the whole Connecticut team to set up a Maine touchdown.

State Series

At this writing it looks as if the State Series may be settled on Alumni Field when Maine entertains the Bowdoin Polar Bear before an expected throng of 10,000 Homecoming spectators. It will be recalled that these same two traditional rivals battled each other to a standstill last year at Brunswick and had to share the state title.

Bates and Colby are having what might be called “a building year” Bowdoin, however, as we mentioned a month ago, is loaded for bear—Black Bear, that is. Adam Walsh’s boys have been mowing down their opponents with monotonous regularity, with the exception of losing a 13-12 heartbreaker to powerful Williams.

Come the afternoon of November 10, we expect to see two razor-sharp football teams lay near-perfect records on the line as they decide once again who shall wear the football crown of Maine.

Fresh Football

After only three weeks of practice, Coach Sam Sezak’s fresh football team met the Maine Maritime Academy at Alumni Field and lost 7-0. Sezak said afterwards that if his boys had had another week of practice they might well have beaten the Midshipmen from Castine.

The yearlings backed up their coach’s word when, after two more weeks of practice with no game scheduled, they welldoped Huggins Classical Institute 22-0.

Ken Parady, Old Town, who quarterbacked the frosh team, looks like a sure-fire bet to win many a gridiron laurel before he graduates in 1955. Coach Sezak says Parady is the most promising back to play on his frosh eleven in several years.

The former Old Town High School athlete has a fine passing arm, a faculty for coolness under pressure, and a good knowledge of the game.

Track

While the varsity gridders have been rolling up their impressive record, other Maine athletic teams have been busy.

Coach Chester Jenkins appears to have another crack squad of cross country runners, with Captain Dick Dow, Friendship, who has led the Maine harriers to many a victory in the past two years, has apparently found his equal in sophomore Carlton McLean, Ashland.

Three times in as many meets Dow and McLean have tied for first place to lead the Pale Blue thin-clads to two victories and a tie.

After scoring easy triumphs over Bates 17-4 and the University of New Brunswick 18-45, the Maine team traveled to Durham to face the Wildcats and an old jinx. No Maine team had beaten New Hampshire on their own course since before the war. Despite Dow and McLean again finishing hand-in-hand, the Maine team was forced to settle with a 28-28 tie, and the jinx prevailed.

Jenkins has not been as successful with his freshman cross country team thus far this fall. Only one of his runners ever participated in the harrier sport before.

After placing second in a triangular meet with Ellsworth and Calais High Schools and being soundly trounced by Bangor High School 16-42, the frosh harriers came back to tie Lee Academy 29-29.

Improving steadily, the freshmen came up with their first win in four starts by outclassing Hartland Academy 16-46 at Orono.

Head Coach—Dr. Rome Rankin

While the varsity and freshman gridders lock horns under the lights in back of Memorial Gym in the late afternoon darkness, Coach Rome Rankin has his varsity basketball squad working out inside Rankin will build the 1951-52 edition of the Pale Blue hoopers around veteran Jack Christie, Ellsworth, Bob Churchill, Kezar Falls, Dick Coleman, Auburn Joe Saunders, Ellsworth, Bernie Parady, Great Works, and Woody Carville.

Four sophomores up from last year’s freshman team who have shown well in practice to date are Alan Philbrick, Rangeley, Robert Nixon, Randolph, James Orino, Rumford, and Raymond Kelley, New Canaan, Conn.

The Maine team opens a 19-game schedule on December 5.

ELECTRICAL AUTHORITY

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second in a series of articles about the Department of Industrial Cooperation and the people who do its research work. This month's article deals with the Electrical Engineering Department and its head, Professor Walter J. Creamer. Future articles will give details about other specialists who handle investigative work for the DIC.)

One of the University of Maine departments in the College of Technology that has long been active in providing service for industry is the Electrical Engineering Department. Professor Walter J. Creamer, who joined the Maine faculty in 1919, heads up this unit.

Professor Creamer, a nationally-known authority in his field, received a B.S. degree from Maine in 1918, an E.E. degree in 1921, and a B.A. degree in 1923. He is the author of a number of technical articles, and two books: "Elements of Electrical Engineering" published in 1948 and "Communications Networks and Lines" published in May 1951.

Two of the important earlier studies made by the department before the establishment of the DIC were researches on photo-radio transmission (facsimile), and an extensive study of the ventilation of electric machinery.

The dielectric properties of paper have been the subject of several investigations, one of which is currently in progress.

An interesting project undertaken for the sardine industry was the development of a new process of smoking fish by the principle of electrostatic precipitation.

Walter J. Creamer '18

More recent work includes the testing of emergency lighting and alarm systems for public buildings, with suggestions in some cases for redesign, and the formulation and revision of State of Maine standards pertaining to these systems to give the public adequate protection against fire hazards.

Soil conductivity measurements at radio frequencies were recently made in connection with a government contract to determine variability with water content and character of soil samples. Soil conductivity has direct bearing on the service area of a broadcasting station. Further study in this field is planned.

Another project presently to be undertaken covers the evaluation of the performance of a low frequency radio receiver for a navigational system. This project, sponsored by the U.S. Government, will be followed for one year.

The department has the facilities and personnel for making surveys of room acoustics and illumination and for recommending improved designs. Radio-frequency and general electronic circuit design problems can be undertaken as well as frequency checking and surveys of radio-frequency field strength. Establishment of facilities for undertaking research and development work in servomechanisms is under way.

Besides Professor Creamer, others in the Electrical Engineering Department who have been active in DIC work have been Dean Emeritus Paul Cloak and Professor Emeritus Arthur S. Hill. Professor Walter Turner and Carl Blake. Others available for current problems are Prof. Kenneth Crabtree, Prof. Kenneth Parsons, Prof. Philip Seal, Prof. Waldo Libby, and Prof. Howard Crosby.

NEWSPAPER DAY—

On October 19-20 editors and publishers of Maine newspapers gathered on campus for the third annual Maine Newspaper Day. Members of the Maine Daily Newspaper Publishers' Association and the Maine Press Association participated, with the University of Maine Press Club, of which William I. Matson '52 is president, assisting with arrangements.

This year's program brought several outstanding leaders in the field of journalism to the University. Among the speakers were Hal Boyle, Pulitzer Prize-winning Associated Press war correspondent and columnist; Russell F. Anderson, foreign editorial director of McGraw-Hill Publishing Company; Dwight Sargent, chief editorial writer for the Portland Press-Herald; Bennett H. Fisher, editor and publisher of the Ridge- wood (N.J.) Herald-News and Sunday News and the Towne; (N.J.) Sun-Bulletin and Sunday Sun, and Harold L. Cross '50H of Skowhegan, nationally known journalist, educator, and lawyer.

Several exhibits were presented, including the prize-winning photographs from New England's Associated Press newspapers in 1951 and motion pictures on various phases of newspaper production.

The attending editors and publishers were welcomed by President Hauck at a luncheon in Estabrooks Hall. A joint dinner of the Maine Press Association and Maine Daily Newspaper Publishers' Association was held at the Penobscot Valley Country Club with Brigadier General Daniel S. Dexter, editorial page editor of the Lewiston Evening Journal, making the introductions.

PULP & PAPER MEETING—

Progress of the Pulp and Paper Foundation established less than two years ago at the University was reviewed by Industry and University members at their second annual meeting held on campus in October. At the same time, plans for the next year were made.

Excellent progress was reported in the Foundation's efforts to assist the pulp and paper and allied industries with the major problem of securing sufficient trained and capable manpower. The Scholarship Committee, including representatives of the university and industry, awarded $1000 grants to six qualified students during the 1950-51 academic year.

These students are members of the five-year curriculum featuring courses in operational management. Scholarships for the year 1951-52 are now being awarded. To aid other deserving students in this field, loans are granted from the Pulp and Paper Foundation Loan Fund.

To better prepare the increasing numbers of students, the Curriculum Committee assisted with the establishment and expansion of the five-year program in pulp and paper. At least two years of summer work in the mills of the industry are required. The Foundation cooperated with the University in selecting and establishing an experienced lecturer in pulp and paper technology, to augment the instructing staff.

Another objective of the Foundation is to assist the pulp and paper and allied industries through cooperation with the University to encourage and expand research. The Research committee reviewed the area of recent research and suggested appropriate subjects for continued work.
NECROLOGY

1909

Dr. George Libby Hilton. Dr. George L. Hilton died in Nashua, N. H., on September 30, 1909. He had practiced in Milford, N. H., for 40 years until his retirement a year ago when he moved to Nashua. Following his graduation from Maine he received his medical degree from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Baltimore. For a few years he practiced in Bangor in the early 1900's serving as city physician and serving also as a member of the Bangor Police Commission. Followed by the Board of Health. Dr. Hilton was a member of the New Hampshire and American Medical Associations and Elks and a member of Knights of Pythias. Surviving are his wife, a son, George L., Jr., of Nashua and a daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Bailey of Milford, N. H.

1903

Edwin Bruce Jonah. Indirect word has been received of the death of Edwin B. Jonah of Eastport who attended the University with the Law class of 1903. Further details are lacking, we regret to say.

1908

Elwood Lee Howard. On April 25, 1908, Elwood L. Howard died in Sangerville, Maine, where he had been a potato farmer for many years.

Earl Wilmer Hall. Earl W. Hall died on Sept. 22, 1951, in Waterville of which city he had been a resident for more than 30 years. Until 1942 he was sales manager of the Lewiston Buick Co. For the next seven years he served as supervisor of equipment for the Wheeland Department of Hollingsworth and Whitney retiring in 1949. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Luelle Hall and a daughter, Ruth, both of Waterville. Also a sister, Mrs. Herman Whittier of Farmington. He was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Herbert Keeney Fenn. Captain Herbert K. Fenn, U.S.N., died on August 10, 1911. Since 1942 he had been Chief Cable Censor for the Office of Censorship in Washington, until his retirement in 1948 when he and Mrs. Fenn went to Cape Neddick, N. Carolina, to live. Capt. Fenn attended the University in 1907-08 and was then chosen to go to Annapolis, which school he graduated in 1913. World War I found him on the Asiatic Station, where he received promotion to Lt. Commander and appointment as Commander of the Submarine Flotilla in Philippine waters. Later he became Philippine Communications Superintendent. In 1921 he received a master's degree from Harvard in the field of electrical communications. The 1943 Commencement Alumni Banquet found Fenn on the main stage as the main speaker of the evening, a very appropriate choice in that year of World War II. In 1949 Capt. Fenn was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. A brother, Charles, is a member of the class of 1910.

1916

Albert Edward Vaughan. Belated word has been received in the Alumni Office of the death of A. Edward Vaughan on July 26, 1936. He was a resident of Whitman, Mass., at the time of his death and had been with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corp in Quincy, Mass.

1924 Advanced

James F. Moreland. Professor James Moreland, beloved teacher and student advisor at Oswego State Teachers College, was an Elks' College Board of Directors, died on May 28, 1951, after a brief illness. A former instructor at the University of Maine, he had been at Oswego since 1934. Professor Moreland was an active and interested citizen of his community constantly working for the betterment of anything with which he allied himself. A memorial service was held at Oswego College on June 6 in his honor.

BY CLASSES

1890 Walter E. Crosfrom, retired from his work as a draftsman for General Electric Co., lives at Rt. #1, Cohoes, N.Y.

1891 Clarence Scott is an attorney and lives at 5 N. Brunswick St., Old Town.

1898 Miss Dora L. Parker can be found at 16 Central Ave., Danvers, Mass.

1900 Elmer L. Miles is a resident of Patten. Maine, and lives at 434 Woodford St., Portland.

1901 Dr. Martin C. Maddan of Old Town, who was honored a few years ago by his community with a citywide "Dr. Maddan Night," has also been named "Mayor of Old Town" which merited him a trip to New York City. Also recently he received a gold lapel pin from the Maine Medical Association honoring his 50-year membership in the Association.

Frank H. Lowell is retired and living in Ellsworth Falls, Maine. John F. Sanford is a dairy farmer in Kingfield, Maine.

1902 Percival H. Mosher is retired from regular, active service with the Metropolitan District Commission of Boston. His home is at 16 Metropolitan Ave., Roslindale, Mass.

50th Reunion June 13-15, 1952

World War II veteran Ralph E. Clarke is retired from his work as a druggist and lives at 11 Lutes Ave., Kittery.

Harry E. Duren is vice president of the Western Mass. Electric Co. and resides at 59 Madison Circle, Greenfield, Mass.

1903 William B. Burns, who was formerly town manager of Ft. Fairfield, is currently serving in a similar capacity in Caribou. Residence is 16 Fendonester St.

Burton W. Goodwin is retired and living in Ridgeway, Maine. George H. Hadlock is retired and living at 82 Washington St., Whitman, Mass.

Paul D. Simpson is a consulting engineer for John D. Rockefeller, Jr., with a mailing address of Box 233, Seal Harbor, Maine.

1904 Benjamin U. Siegel is self-employed in the timber business in Salt Lake City, Utah. Address—573 E. 2nd South.

1905 Retired and living in Waldoboro, Maine, is Clarence E. Reed, who was formerly chief draftsman and engineer of the Hyde Windlass Co. of Bath.

Fred W. Talbot is Senior Engineer of the Pennsylvania Department of Forest and Waters, which is a part of the Bureau of Parks. His home is 2999 Wilson Parkway, Harrisburg, Pa.

Alphonso White farmed and lives at RFD #2, Wiscund, Mass.

1906 Three members of the class of 1906 are living in Warren, Me. Dr Fred G. Campbell still practices medicine there. Professor Emeritus Albert Whittmore has been head of history at the University, and Walter O. Frost, retired from the forestrym work. Elmer P. Bradley, who is retired from American Tel. & Tel Co., is a summer resident of Pemaquid, Maine, and winters in New Haven.

James R. Dwelley is serving his 34th year as postmaster of Islesford, Maine. He also runs Woodlawn House in the summer time.

Jefferson L. Alexander of Rt. 5, Shelbyville, Tenn., is retired from his work with the Twin City Rapid Transit Co which he left in 1947. In earlier years he worked for Stone & Webster for 29 years.

Perley W. Varney, after doing construction work all over the Eastern States and Canada in the early years after his graduation from Maine, eventually settled down in North Windham and has been there in engineering and insurance business for many years now.

Leroy R. Varney's address is North Windham also.

Oscar H. Dunbar, who is a lawyer in Machias, Maine, has, among other accomplishments, served four terms in the State Legislature—one in the House in 1913 and three in the Senate in 1943-45-47. He has also been assistant Attorney General of the State and President of the Maine Bar Association. In 1948 he was a delegate at large at the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia.

Frank L. Bailey recently sent in a fine poem expressing the thoughts of one alumnus. It is printed on the next page.

1907 Lincoln H. Hodgkins is a poultry and cattle farmer in Jefferson, Maine.

45th Reunion June 13-15, 1952

Mrs. Carl B. Jensen (Mary Knight) resides at 121 So. Oak Ave, Pasadena, Calif. Her present address of Eduard R. Monroe is 128 Pearl St., Portland.

1908 Everett C. Coleman, who is retired, lives at 203 Monterey Ave, San Clemente, Calif. He holds an
M. S. degree from the University of London.

Frank D. French is a State Pilot and lives at 2915 Fifth St., Port Arthur, Texas.

George J. Hopkins is a draftsman for the Bath Iron Works. His home is at 28 York St., Bath.

Carrington R. L. Tommber is retired and lives at Quaker Hill, Portsmouth, R. I. In World War I he was an Ensign with the Shipping Board and in World War II a Lt. (S. G.) in the U. S. Merchant Marine.

1909

William M. Black is chief appraiser for Ebascal Services, Inc., of New York City. His home address is 9229 Shore Rd. Brooklyn 9, N. Y.

Walter L. Emerson is a partner in the insurance firm of Walter L. Emerson & Son in Lewiston. He lives at 10 Mountain Ave., that city.

Orson L. Miller, who lives at 73 Lamb St., Westbrook, is a registered pharmacist associated with the Liggett Drug Co in Portland.

George P. Goodrich, who has been a Scout Executive for the Eastern Connecticut Council of Boy Scouts for 20 years, retired from that position in September. He has done an outstanding job during his term and is held in extremely high regard by the citizens of that area for the work he has done. He was one of the New London area. A fine boy scout camp has been instituted under his direction. Mr. Goodrich is presumably retired to Portland, Maine, now.

Vaughn R. Chadbourne is a power engineer for Magnolia Petroleum Co. of Beaumont, Tex. He lives at 2419 Victoria St there.

Guy M. Blandsell, who is an engineer with New England Tel & Tel Co, resides at 136 Wilton Ave, Dorchester, Mass. Olaf W. Dwinell is manager of the Olaf W. and Alice P. Dwinell Insurance Co. of Kennebunkport.

Elwyn M. Fults is district manager of the Federal Life and Casualty Co and resides on Silver St, Mars Hill.

Oscar E. Blackington is engaged in ranching and manager of an estate and a real estate broker in Redwood City, Calif. His home is in Woodside, Calif.

40th Reunion June 13-15, 1952

George J. Brown farms and lives on State Rd., Presque Isle.

A sardine inspector for the State of Maine, Charles A. Cavanaugh lives on West St, Rockport.

Percy T. Clarke is Justice of the Superior Court in Ellsworth.

James Booth, attorney, can be found at 2512 Lakeview Ave, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Harold F. Boothby is owner of the firm of D. W. Strong-Bilt Wood Products, makers of lawn furniture and ornaments and toys. He is located in Strong, Maine.

Everett T. Chapman, owner of Chapman’s Express from 1923-47, is now retired and living at RFD #2, Harrison, Maine.

Dr. Frank L. Bailey ‘06, who has written many poems for outdoor magazines and various newspapers through the years, dashed off this poem the other day, and is preparing to send in his alumni dues. Perhaps some musically inclined alumni might set it to music:

FORWARD, MAINE

Dear mother of our student days,
We're mentor of our youth,
The teachers pointed out the ways
Of honor and of truth,
And every hour spent with thee
Within thy sacred halls
Is precious as a pearl to me
When it's my heart's desire

Chorus
March march, march forever forward
Keep that pale-blue flag on high,
Maine men's might goes ever onward
On land, on sea, or in the sky,
Maine men never look behind them,
Yard by yard with steady gain,
Far in front you'll always find them
For God and country, and for Maine

The friendships made within thy gate
Were lasting, true, and strong
As man to man we pledged our fate
To Maine—be right or wrong
There were fighting men and praying men
And men whom I recall
Wh'ld gladly give that pledge again
And gladly go forth to all
1923 Mrs. Norman Torrey on Mallory St., Bangor

I am indebted to the Alumni Office for the following new addresses. It seems a pity that we haven’t a bit more to add concerning your activities.

Clyde N. Hall lives in such a nice sounding place, Pleasant Gap, Pa.

Henry and Sarah Fenderson are now living at 32 Shepard St., Cambridge, Mass.

Ronald C. Stevens is now at 224 Franklin St., Quincy Mass., and Mrs. Maurice A. (Elizabeth) Wilkinson is residing at 100 Hill St., Biddeford.

It was good to see Henry Doten’s picture in the papers again recently, upon being named to the executive committee of the National Association of Educational Buyers. He will also be the NAEB representative on the Middlebrook committee of the National Federation of College and University Business Officers Association. As most of you know, Henry is business manager and purchasing agent for the University and has married to Clara Russell of our class, knowing Henry as well as I do, I think the NAEB were most fortunate in their choice.

It seemed like Old Times sitting in the ram to watch Maine win from Vermont last Saturday. Where were the rest of you 1923ers?

1924 Mrs. Clarence C. Little (Beatrice Johnson)
       Box 558, Bar Harbor

The following news of our contemporaries arrived from the Alumni Office.

You are being too modest about yourselves. I wish more of you would write me.

Mrs. Sam Sera (Ethel Thomas)

4 Gilbert St., Orono.

Ernest K. Gatcombe, whose picture appears elsewhere on this page, has writ-en in recent months to tell us of his activities in the past few years. As the legend with the picture indicates he is an Associate Professor at the U. S. Navy Postgraduate School which at the time of his writing was located in Annapolis, Md., but which (Congress willing) might be moved to Monterey, Calif., sometime in 1951. The Gatcombes' home in Annapolis was built overlooking the Severn
River and sailing is a favorite sport there.
Prior to his appointment to the Postgraduate School, Ernest was with Jackson & Moreland consulting engineers in Boston from 1944-46 and at the same time was associated with M.I.T. on its M.T. Research Staff. Five years before that 1939-44, he was teaching full time at Cornell University and completing his work on a Ph.D., which he recen-ted in 1944. Mrs. Gatcombe is a graduate of Vassar and Purdue.

10th Reunion June 13-15, 1952

An item which has gone astray, which I hasten to include first this month, concerns the birth of Miss Priscilla Stone on June 25th. Received a note from loss with the announcement and misplaced it. Our belated congratulations for Mr. and Miss George W. Stone, Buddetor, Maine.

A second new arrival to the ranks of Dancing 42s is little Judith Baal who was born on Sept 3rd in Millinocket, Maine, to proud parents Mr. and Mrs. Don Baal. Congratulations to the Baals.

Our congratulations and very best wishes to the "just marrieds" to follow: Mr. and Mrs. Stansell P. Murphy on May 20, 1951, from the New York School of Fine and Applied Design, New York City. Frances Z. Randall is reporter for the Hartford Times. During the war she served with the 13th Air Force in the Pacific Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Spencer (Ruth Blanchard) on May 27, 1951. Ruth has been on the faculty of Whitfield High School as instructor of commercial subjects for the past two years. John attended Plymouth Teachers College for one year and the University of Vermont for two years, and has recently completed his first year at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. He is employed at the Spencer Drug Store in Littleton. The Spencers are living at 43 Union St., Littleton, N. H.

George E. Clifford, who was an instructor at Maine for the past five years, was appointed instructor in the Department of Ordnance at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point on July 1st. George was commissioned a second lieutenant in November, 1943, at Camp Davis, N. C. In 1944 he was transferred to ordnance and was promoted to first lieutenant July 1, 1945. He saw overseas duty in France, Belgium, and Germany. George, Priscilla (Arbo), and their three children, Rebecca (8), Paul (7), and Roger (4) are now living at West Point.

George Maxam has joined the staff of the Naval Ordnance Lab, White Oak, Md., as a physicist in the engineering department. He received his Master's degree in 1950 at Maine, having previously taught Physics at the University of Maine and also at Anastasia High School in Washington, D. C.

This month's column would be practically "nil" if it weren't for the Alumni Office, so how about dropping me just a card. Just a card will do it.

First let's catch up on a few of our people who have been "lost"

Arthur Checchi is working as an assistant to the chief of the Boston District of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration. Mail goes to 124 Everett St, Arlington 74, Mass.

Percy Coombs is a track supervisor for the Maintenance and Way Division of the Maine Central Railroad. His address is 119 Wainwright Circle West, So. Portland.

Mrs. William Swisher (Vinetta Mac- Donald), a lawyer in Yuma, Arizona. She is located at 1800 9th Ave.

Mrs Albert Hens (Alice Heald) new address is 976 North 5th St, New Hyde Park, L. I., N. Y.

Mrs Joseph Olesco (Fran Higgins) is now living at 295 Brandston Ave, Elyria, Ohio. Franme and Jo have one daughter, Nancy, who is now 2½ years old. Joe is a representative for Management Controls Division of Remington Rand. The Olescos returned to the states early in 1951 and had been for several years in the Far East prior to that.

There are a couple of advanced degrees to report this month. Former instructor of modern languages and classics at the U. of M., is continuing his doctoral studies at the University of Madrid in Spain. He hopes to complete his work there by December.

Edward Conners, Jr., recently received his master of Science degree from Harvard.

Esther Randall is off again to Warm Springs, Ga. Mail goes to The Foundation, Warm Springs, Ga.

From Mary Billings comes word that she is Assistant Manager of the cafeteria and is teaching quantity cookery at the University of Minnesota. Her address is 1489 Albany Ave, St Paul, Minn.

Ros Barfield, Jr., who has accepted a teaching position at the Buri and Burton Seminary in Manchester, N. H. has received his B.A. degree from the University of Math and his M.A in Education just this past summer.

To complete the column, we have a couple of weddings—

Lucy Lowden became the bride of Morton C. Patterson Jr., from a Christian Camp-ground on August 26th. Their wedding was the first to be celebrated in the Advent Christian Tabernacle since it was founded. Morton is a graduate of Erskine Academy, So. China, and was formerly employed with the Canteen Food Service in China. He is currently working for the material office of the Bath Iron Works. Morton received his B.S. degree in engineering physics and has been in naval architecture from the University of Michigan. He is now employed in the Bath Iron Works Corp. The Patterns are at home at 712 High St, Bath.

Mary Elizabeth Hayes and William Shaughnessy were married in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Portland, Maine, on September 3rd. Mary Elizabeth was formerly employed by the Bangor Daily News. She is a graduate of the College of St Elizabeth. Convent Station N. J. William is currently attending St Bonaventure's College and the Shaughnessys are living at 747 N Union St, Olean, N. Y.

Plans are underway to operate a radio station in Bangor. The name of the Knox Broadcasting Co and Sam Collins, Jr. has been named clerk of the company.

According to a recent article in the Boston Herald Steve Jacobs and wife (Irene Ansell 47) and their three sons Richard 6, Larry 4½, and Charles 3 now have their "little home in the country" in Buxton, Maine. Steve is head of a Forest Management center for the nonprofit New England Forestry Foundation. This being the first Foundation in Maine. Steve really had to start from scratch. The foundation offers a complete service or any part of the process of handling timber land. Steve has taught through his work as a farmer and woodland owner that they have a valuable crop ready to sell and how to make more profit from their land than they are now receiving.

Lt Kenneth Macelod is a jet fighter pilot with the 3rd Air Force's 51st Fighter Interceptor Wing in Japan. Ken's family live in Bangor at 139 Elizabeth Ave. See you next month and please send me some news direct.

1945 Mrs Robert A. Pierson

Haddonfield, N. J.

No weddings to report, but do we have a new arrival to report? William Wasson Lamprell, Jr. checked in on September 23, weighing in at stretching 19½ inches long. He is now "at home" to visitors at 1612 Park Ave, Baltimore 3, Md. Congratulations to Connie (Carter) are acting as chaperons.

Several classmates have changed locations, jobs, etc, in the last few months. We now have two more doctors in the service, too.

Bob Graves left his practice in Ft. Fairfield this spring and is now overseas for the Army. Joe is living among his parents in Dexter, Maine.

A little more fortunate is Bob Bearor, a first lieutenant in the Marine Corps. He is a medical ward officer at Wm. Beaumont Army Hospital, Ft. Worth, Texas. He, Mary, and young Peter are living in 104C, Bradshaw, Van Horn Park, El Paso, Texas. They proudly report that there aren't many Maine people in the locality. Any '45ers in the vicinity might get in touch with Bob.

Elise Friedban is now at the University of Michigan on a year's fellowship. His home address is 412 E. Huron St, Ann Arbor. Mich. More and more of our class seem to be heading for Michigan.

You all ought to have quite an alumni group of your own!

Bethi DeCeu has a new position teaching English, French, and some social studies at Coe-Brown Northwood Academy in New Hampshire.

Dr Walter C. Brooks, O.D., has opened an office to practice optometry at 743 East St, Bangor. All Mainers needing eye care, who graduated last February from the Northern Illinois College of Optometry in Chicago.

Dr and Mrs. Robert Smyth (Evie Tar) and their two children have moved to 73 Meadow St, North Anson. Mass. Bob is still at the University of Mass.

It's been a long time since anyone heard from Helen Stacy McDevitt, but the spell is broken. Carolyn Chapin Bradley sent a picture taken at the annual tea party in Lake Placid this August.

Winners of the "prettiest babies" title were Helen and Katherine McDevitt, of Shirley Mills, Helen's year old twins. And very pretty babies they are.

Last month I didn't have a street address for Russ and Barb Higgins Bodwell so here it is. They are enrolled in local classes that any and all contributions to the class treasury (as well as plain old money she'll mail from friends) be sent to her (Mrs. R. S. Bodwell) at 20 Orchard Park, Farmington, N. J. It's been a year now since our request for funds, and less than 10% of the class have responded. Please put that $2 in an envelope and mail it now.

1946 Mrs A D Gamber
(Terry Dunham)
1140-D Holland St, Springfield, Mo.

Received a note from Dave Holmes this week announcing the arrival of Charles Lincoln Holmes on April 2, 1951. Dave also mentioned his new refrigerator (with Maine people in mind who might drop in) in their new home at 13 Dorrance Ave, Portland.

Carolyn Wieden, who taught social studies at Winslow High School, is now Mrs. Louis J. Cars of 104 Western Ave, Waterville.

Have a few notes here from the Alumni Office concerning changes of address. John H. Moore working as a non-salaried man, can be reached at Box 306 Williamsburg, Va. 1st Lt Willard T. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson (V) are now at Ft. Knox, Ky. Their mail goes... two children, Carol Ann and James, are living in Northboro.

Llewellyn Chase, his wife, and three children are living in Manchester, Massachusetts, where he is elementary school principal.

I received several letters this spring which were just too late to make the June issue. Barb Tibbetts Treworgy brought me a note what Bob is doing. He was graduated from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy June, 1950, and is now with Winthrop-Stearns Line, New York, as a professional service representative. His territory includes the five northern Maine counties. The Treworgys, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer, and Carol (7 months) are living at 19 Elizabeth Avenue, Bangor.

Gerry Hermanson also brought me up to date on himself. After graduation, Gerry was a radio announcer for WGN-FM. He married Maricuta Phillips in October, 1948, and is now employed in Boston as vice president of Technical Papers Corporation, 25 Huntington Avenue, Boston 16, Mass., a company doing research and development of technical papers for industrial use.

Marjorie Read wrote that she, Walter, and children, George and Judy, are living at Forest Avenue, Orono. Walter is working for a local contractor.

Jean (Morse) ’45 and Philip Turner are living at 2750 East Grand River, East Lansing, Michigan. Phil received his M.S. in Agronomy from the University of Massachusetts in June, 1950, and in September he started graduate study at Michigan State College for a Ph.D. in soils with a minor in Business Administration. He is working for the Michigan Fertilizer Company in Grand Rapids, a clinical instructor for affiliate student nurses at the Ingham County Tuberculosis Sanatorium in Lansing.

Ruth (Freihe) Finney wrote a long, lengthy letter about lots of people. The Finneys are living at 4 West Street, Northwood, Mass. Bob is working as a production engineer, staff assistant, for Ford and Son, Inc., East Walpole, Massachusetts, makers of chugalugs, linoleums, etc. His job is to inspect production, evaluate and test old equipment and such things. Ruth is working three afternoons a week in the Walpole Laboratory.

The last address for the Bill Ramsay (Jessie Cowie) is 120 Lakehurst Avenue, Weymouth, Mass. Bill is working for the Stuart East Division of Westinghouse in Hyde Park.

The Pickards (Gloria McGinley) are living at 289 Wiles St., Morgantown, West Virginia. Gloria is a secretary in the Geology Department at West Virginia University. Gerry ’50 receives his B.S. degree in June, 1952.

Willbur and Eleanor Tibbetts and Gavel, Jr., are living in Springfield, Maine. Willbur is with the C. H., servicing their machines in the Sanford area. The Tibbetts have a new cottage in Winthrop.

Mary (Bachelder) and Alton Sprout are at 31 College Street, Springfield, Massachusetts. Judy is about a year and a half old.

Major John Grant’s last address is 2 Morton Street, Manchester, New Hampshire. John is presently an officer with the 101st Fighter Wing at Grenier Field, Manchester, New Hampshire.

Maurice Russell is enrolled as a member of the February, 1952, class of the American Institute of Foreign Trade at Thunderbird Field, Phoenix, Arizona. He is specializing in U.S. trade taking the school’s intensive training course in preparation for a career in American business or government abroad. The course of study concentrates on techniques of international business administration, foreign languages and characteristics of foreign countries. His wife—formerly June Andrews of Independence, Missouri—is enrolled in language courses at the institute.

Richard Dodd was recalled to active duty for a year and is now in the Post Engineer Section at Camp Breckenridge, Kentucky. Dick’s address is R.O. 2 East Houston Street, Morganfield, Ky.

Marcia (Smargen) and Con Kor- nitsky are living at 487 South Ashland, Lexington, Kentucky. Marcia is a surgical worker with the Child Guidance Clinic. Con is a graduate student-research assistant at the United States Public Health Service Hospital in Lexington.

Allen Torrey has changed his town manager duties from Lancaster, New Hampshire, to Camden, Maine.

James Colbath is now actor-director of the Marin Summer Theatre in Sausalito, California.

Grace (Tibbetts) and Ralph Bean have bought a house in Hallcowl, Maine, on Mayflower Road. Beanie is located in Augusta.

If there are members of the class who would like to have a copy of the ’48 Prism, there are a limited number of copies available which can be ordered through the Alumni Office. The price is 50.00.
