When a tragic accident took the life of Miss Anna Strickland in 1941, it was learned through her will that she wished to show her interest in the University of Maine in the form of a bequest. In 1951 her generosity and appreciation of the University's work became a reality when her mother, Mrs. Mary Strickland, bequeathed $10,000 to the University of Maine Foundation to establish the Anna Strickland Fund in memory of her daughter.

An accomplished musician who had studied under prominent voice teachers, Miss Strickland became a teacher of voice upon returning to Bangor. She was a member of the faculty of the Northern Conservatory of Music in Bangor and in 1940 served as a part-time Instructor in Music at the University.

Miss Strickland not only had a great love of music but was also deeply interested in young people and took great pride and satisfaction in her work. In addition, she was a woman of many philanthropic interests.

In her will Mrs. Mary Strickland wisely allowed latitude as to the use of the income from the fund bearing her daughter's name, but suggested that it be used for music scholarships. The directors of the University of Maine Foundation and the Trustees of the University were pleased to comply with her wish. The income is used for scholarships awarded annually to needy and deserving students with special consideration being given to those who are majoring in music.

Thus the spirit of Anna Strickland and her love of music and young people will be perpetuated through the Anna Strickland Fund.

the youth of the community, without regard to race, religion or color and that, therefore, it would be called Union College, and it has continued that policy ever since.

It was a red letter day, also an anxious one, when I received a letter notifying me that I had passed my scholarship examinations. My tuition was paid but I had to raise the balance of money for my keep. I had earned and saved enough from picking cherries and odd jobs around my home village to put me through my freshman year. The next two summers, I waited on table at White Mountain summer resort hotels, and the third summer I had a little more cash for my senior year because I had been promoted to head waiter.

Although I did well enough in my studies to earn a Phi Beta Kappa key, the really precious gift of Union College was not so much what I learned as how I learned it. For it was here that I learned how to think.

Two professors were largely responsible. One was my chemistry professor who gave me a vial of colorless liquid and told me to find out what it was. For two weeks, I worked at a solution and went through every experimental test in the book. After the liquid had been renewed three times, and I had burned out a crucible or two, I went to my professor who asked me what I had done. I said that I had gone through the book eight or ten times.

“You're using your feet instead of your head,” the professor said. “Have you ever really thought for a moment what this substance might be?”

“No,” I replied. “It was distilled water,” I was told.

That was the turning point in my education. From then on, I decided, I would

Appointed Town Manager—

Dana T. Whitman, Jr. ’45 has been elected to the position of town manager of Holden, Mass., by the selectmen of that town. He assumed his duties as the town’s first manager there Dec. 1 following his release from active military service at Fort Riley, Kansas.

Mr. Whitman attended Bangor schools and completed work in Dr. Edward F. Dow’s Public Management Course at the University. In the summer of 1949, on his management internship, he prepared “An Economic Survey of Bangor, Maine” for the city planning board, under the direction of City Manager Oliver Comstock.

He obtained a master’s degree in public administration in 1951 from the University of Michigan, where he served as a research assistant in the Bureau of Government. Prior to his involuntary recall by the Army, he was administrative assistant to the city manager of Birmingham, Michigan, for 15 months.

Mr. Whitman is a veteran of World War II, serving in Europe as a squad leader and platoon leader with the 104th Infantry Division. He received the Silver Star Medal, Bronze Star Medal with Cluster, and the Combat Infantry Badge. He was later commissioned a lieutenant.

Author Of Article For GE—

Mr. Mayers is an electrical engineering graduate of the University and a graduate of the George Washington University Law School. He has been with the General Electric Company at Schenectady since 1930. He is now manager, Patent Services Department, Legal and Patent Services Division.

Author Forestry Articles—

Mr. Karl F. Wenger ’39 and Mr. Louis Prather ’38 have articles in the November, 1952, issue of the Journal of Forestry.

Mr. Wenger’s article is entitled “Effect of Moisture Supply and Soil Texture on the Growth of Sweet gum and Pine Seedlings.” Mr. Wenger is silviculturist of the Southeastern Forest Experiment Station, Asheville, N. C.

“Federal Tax Treatment of Gains and Losses on the Cutting of Timber” is the title of Mr. Prather’s article. He is forester and legal adviser to the George E. Owen Lumber Company, Eugene, Oregon.

Mr. William M. Lund ’49

Teaches In Japan—

William M. Lund ’49 is now serving as an instructor for the Japan Logistical Command of the United States Department of Defense. Mr. Lund teaches Psychology and Life at the Armed Forces Education Center, Camp Zama, Japan.

Resigning his position as English instructor of Orono high school, Mr. Lund left Bangor for Seattle, Wash., by plane early in July and from there traveled to Yokohama, Japan, by ship.

A native of East Machias, Mr. Lund was graduated from Washington State Normal school and the University. Prior to his teaching at Orono high school, he taught at Grand Lake Stream, Greenville and Waterville.

In addition to his teaching duties, Mr. Lund was well known in the areas in which he taught as a popular dramatic coach and class adviser. He is a member of St. James Parish, Old Town, and upon his return from Japan he will enter a seminary in preparation for the Episcopal priesthood.

Given National Recognition—

Mr. Norman R. Ness ’38, Franklin county agent for the University’s Agricultural Extension Service for the last 10 years, was recognized by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents on Dec. 2. Mr. Ness was presented a distinguished service certificate at the association’s annual convention at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. He is the only county agent from Maine to be honored in 1952.

A native of Auburn, Maine, Mr. Ness is a graduate of Edward Little high school and received a bachelor of science degree, with a major in agricultural economics, from the University in 1938. He previously attended Bates College for two years.

Mr. Ness became Franklin county agent for the Extension Service on Dec. 1, 1942, and has served in that capacity since that time. During the college year 1949-50, he filled the position of acting county agent in Maine during the absence of Richard C. Doloff. Doloff was on sabbatical leave studying at Cornell University.

Previously, Mr. Ness had been warehouse manager for the Eastern States Farmer’s Exchange in Brewer. He is married and has two children.

To be eligible for the distinguished service certificate, he completed a total of 10 years of outstanding service as a county Extension Service worker. He also qualified by having worked out and put into effect a county agricultural program which included carrying to completion some constructive and outstanding work. He improved his training for the county agent position and has been active in the Maine and New England County Agricultural Agent Associations, having served as president of the Maine group.

Named To National Council—

Erno H. Scott ’31, Maine State Deput y Education Commissioner, has been named to the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Sponsored by five national education groups, the council is a voluntary organization designed to insure professional competency by halting the rise in the number of poorly trained teachers entering the nation’s school systems.

The council will concentrate largely on improvement of teacher training facilities.

Joins New England Electric System—

Arthur G. Fox ’49 has joined the agricultural development department of the New England Electric System as assistant director of the department and agricultural engineer for the system.

Mr. Fox’s work covers all companies of the New England Electric System in the four New England states in which it operates. He acts particularly as technical consultant on all problems pertaining to the use of electricity in agriculture and he is consultant for the various rural service men of the system and for farm customers, as well as for county agents, members of the Extension Service, and others.

A native of Lovell, Maine, Mr. Fox graduated from the University with a degree of bachelor of science in agricultural engineering. He served in the Army Signal Corps in the China-Burma-India (Continued on Page 8)
Attend Meetings—
Two members of the faculty of the home economics department attended conferences during the latter part of October.

Dr. Katherine A. Miles, professor of home economics, attended the annual fall meeting of the New England Association for Nursery Education at Simmons College, Boston, Mass., on Oct. 31-Nov. 1. Dr. Lawrence K. Frank was the speaker at the meeting.

Mrs. Thelma Berry, assistant professor of home economics, attended a meeting of the Eastern Region College Textiles and Clothing Teachers held at the Women's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 29-Nov. 1. Mrs. Berry is now serving as the treasurer of the coordination committee of this group, and attended a pre-convention meeting of the committee on Oct. 29.

Theme at the meeting was "The Family Centered Program in Action." In addition to work in discussion meetings, there was a field trip to textile manufacturing plants and a preview of the International Textile Exhibit.

The meeting was held in conjunction with the opening of a new wing of the home economics building at the Women's College in Greensboro.

Professor Milford E. Wence, of the English department, attended the meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English in Boston, Mass., on Nov. 27-29.

This society is composed of teachers of English in both colleges and schools all over the country. Its meetings rotate through various parts of the United States.

Prof. Wofford Gardner

Relected To Committee—
Professor Wofford Gardner, head of the speech department, was reelected a member of the executive committee of New England Speech Association at that organization's ninth annual convention held in Boston Nov. 28-29.

William L. Whitig '37, instructor in speech, served as chairman of the problem discussion clinic on public speaking at the convention.

Professor H. D. Watson '20 and Professor I. H. Prageman of the mechanical engineering department attended the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in New York City, Dec. 1-5.

Professor Watson has been commissioned to determine the feasibility of forming a Maine section of the society, and this subject was discussed with members of the council at the meeting.

Elected Vice President—
Miss Lilian Avila, assistant professor of romance languages, was elected first vice president of the Maine Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French at an October meeting of the Maine group at Bowdoin College.

Mrs. Scott M. Damren, Portland high school, was named president; Professor Gordon Smith, Colby College, second vice president; Mrs. Blanche Lironcourt-Naples, Falmouth high school, secretary; Professor Archille H. Biron, Colby College, treasurer.

Among other activities the AAT sponsors an annual French contest for secondary school students. Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, and Maine offer a $200 scholarship for the winner.

Presents Paper—
Dr. Harold E. Young '37, assistant professor of forestry, presented a paper on "Forest Soils—Site Index Studies in Maine" at the Forest Soils sub-section meeting of the Soil Science Society of America's annual meeting in Cincinnati on Nov. 17-21.

Dr. Young is also the author of an article entitled "Practical Limitations of the Dial Gauge Dendrometer" in the October issue of Ecology.

GRIFFEE SCHOLARSHIP PRESENTED

Friends and colleagues of Dr. Fred Griffee, former director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University, paid tribute to his memory Oct. 30 in ceremonies conducted at the Little Theatre.

A check for almost $2,000, contributed by many statewide and University friends, was presented to President Arthur A. Hauck by Arthur L. Deering, dean of the College of Agriculture. The money will be used to establish the Dr. Fred Griffee Memorial Fund for graduate students in agricultural research at the University.

A booklet commemorating the presentation program was given to Mrs. Fred Griffee by Elmer R. Tobey, long-time friend and close associate of the former director.

A portrait of Doctor Griffee was unveiled at the conclusion of the cere-
Campus Comment

Helen Johnson’s column of “Campus Comment” will be a regular feature in this year’s issue of The Maine Alumnus. A senior history and government major, Miss Johnson has served as city editor of The Maine Campus during the Spring and Fall semesters of 1952. She is one of the very few women in the history of the University’s newspaper ever to hold that position.

During the past summer, Miss Johnson was a reporter for the Eastport Sentinel. She is currently working part-time for the Bangor Daily News.

BY HELEN JOHNSON ’53

The holiday season spirit is growing on the University. As this is written students are preparing to leave for the annual Christmas recess. Boys and girls, in their gayest holiday mood, can’t be discouraged by last-minute prelims and reports. Students and faculty alike seem to anticipate that bell that brings the final class to a close.

In the meantime, co-eds are working in the dorms to bring a little Christmas color to the campus. The Women’s Student Government association is again sponsoring a Christmas decoration contest. Each dormitory will decorate one room. The Wednesday before vacation three members of the faculty will judge the decorations.

Santa Claus put in an appearance at one of the round of holiday parties. The party, for majors in history and government, was in the Louis Oakes Room. According to rumor, Santa Claus had some resemblance to Professor Gerald Grady but others say the rumor is unfounded.

A near capacity audience attended the Christmas vesper service. The Glee Club, orchestra, and brass ensemble took part in presenting the program. Many people from Bangor, Old Town, and Orono attended the event. Professor Lewis Niven, head of the Department of Music, directed the orchestra and brass ensemble.

James Gordon Selwood directed the Glee Club.

Scripture Reading

Each musical selection was prefaced by a scripture reading. David B. Hicks, Portland, did the reading. Bradford S. Barton, Newton Centre, Mass., was Glee Club soloist.

Professor Roger Clapp of the Department of Horticulture arranged decorations for Memorial gym.

The Maine Christian Association presented its annual Christmas play “No Room In the Hotel.” The play was written by Dorothy Clarke Wilson, noted Orono novelist, and wife of the director of the MCA, the Rev. Elwin L. Wilson. The play describes a group of people in a small town hotel who are confronted with what appears to be a modern day miracle.

Members of the cast were: Margaret E. Dow, Orono; Alta F. Kilton, Machiasport; Henry M. Colby, Rumford Center; Charles N. Carter, Elizabethville, N. J.; Roger C. Bowman, Mechanic Falls, Barbrah Ladd, York Beach; Richard C. Bangs, Auburn; Kathleen J Haley, Brunswick; Donn S. Walters, Readfield, and Elizabeth Currier, Orono.

The play was directed by John M. Brewer, Bangor, Jean L. Lavigueur, Brunswick, was stage manager.

Janet Marston, East Waterford, was named honorary lieutenant colonel at the Military Ball. Picked from a slate of six candidates, Miss Marston was elected by the student body.

Other contestants were Gloria Keith, Portland, Judith Leighton, Veazee, Nancy Warnock, Chicago, Ill.; Joanne Roberts, Brownville Junction; and Donna Richardson, Bangor.

Al Corey’s orchestra played at the event. Committee chairmen were Harry Jose, Augusta, Fred P. Tarr, Baltimore, Md.; James Murtha, Jackman, and Arthur Patten, Balboa Heights, Canal Zone.

Masque Production

The Maine Masque rang down the curtain on the successful December production, “Death of A Salesman.” One of the features of the performance was an innovation in staging. With the curtain drawn only twice in the whole play, several scenes are set before the eyes of the audience. Because of expert handling of lighting, set changes were unnoticeable.

The setting of the play was three rooms, which at all times were visible to the audience. As the plot unfolds, the main room is changed from a kitchen to an office, a garden, and a graveyard. Lead characters in the play were Martin Gerverish, Bucksport, who played the salesman, Willie, and Mary Libby, Scarborough, who played Willie’s wife, Linda.

Class Elections

Other officers elected, by classes, are: senior—John W. Curry, South Portland, vice president, Helen Strong, Augusta, secretary, Earle D. Stevens, Norway, treasurer, junior—Llewellyn Clark, Westbrook, vice president, Jean Grindle, Bucksport, secretary, Joan Reed, West Hartford, Conn., treasurer, sophomore—Merton D. Robinson, Lisbon Falls, vice president, Nancy Cameron, Union, secretary, C. Dexter Early, Sabattus, treasurer, freshman—Hiram Bronson, York Harbor, vice president, Nancy Witham, North Anson, secretary, W. Sanderson Day, Waterville, treasurer.

After some speculation and rumor, the so-called sophomore “ballot-box stuffing” has been declared by the student (Continued on Page 8)
Bangor Alumnae—
The Eastern Association of University of Maine Women met on December 8 at the Brass Rail in Bangor for a dinner meeting.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Herschel E. Peabody who spoke on "Berlin and the Present Situation in the West German State." Mrs. Peabody was a member of the Sherwood Eddy seminar tour of Europe last summer.

Mrs. Emmons Kingsbury '34 was the hostess for the evening and Association President Mrs. Waldron Sawyer '43 presided.

Pulp & Paper Alumni—
On November 13, Pulp and Paper Alumni attending the Sixth Alkaline Pulping Conference in Mobile, Alabama, held a Maine Alumni Breakfast with Prof. John B. Calkin '28A of the University's Department of Industrial Cooperation as speaker.

A group of Maine Pulp and Paper Alumni met with a similar group of Syracuse Alumni in New York City on December 9 to make plans for a joint Maine-Syracuse Pulp and Paper Alumni Luncheon to be held in New York on February 18. Representing Maine at this meeting were Theodore Prescott '33, Frederic Soderberg '25, Marsden Hutchins '45, and Don Tavener '43, Alumni Secretary.

Western Pennsylvania Alumni—
Dean Mark Shibles of the School of Education was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Alumni held in Pittsburgh on December 5.

Cuyler S. Poor '27, President of the Western Pennsylvania Alumni, presided and chaired the committee on arrangements.

Maine Club of Auburn-Lewiston—
On December 18, the Maine Club of Auburn-Lewiston met at the Auburn American Legion Home to hear Head Football Coach Hal Westerman discuss the recent football season.

In addition to his talk, Coach Westerman showed a film containing highlights of the 1952 State Series games.

Black Bear Club of Rhode Island—
The Black Bears of Rhode Island met at the home of Carl Brugge '18 on November 14. Following dinner, a business meeting was held at which Francis Burger '42 was elected Secretary-Treasurer to succeed Earle Ferren '20. Mr. Ferren received a tribute from the group for his outstanding service as Secretary for the past three years.

Portland Alumnae—
The December 4th meeting of the Portland Alumnae was held in the Penthouse of the Gannett Building in Portland.

Speaker for this meeting was Mrs. Henry P. Johnson.

Forestry Alumni—
Maine Forestry Alumni attending the joint meeting of the Canadian Institute of Forestry and the Society of American Foresters in Montreal in late November attended an alumni dinner given at the Windsor Hotel in Montreal. Thirty alumni and their wives were present at the dinner representing classes from 1909 through 1940.

GIFT PAINTING
A watercolor by Laura J. A. Neese, of Beloit, Wis., has been presented to the University. The painting is a gift from the Executive Committee of the U. of M. Pulp and Paper Foundation.

Shown inspecting the gift painting are J. L. Ober '13, Chairman of the Pulp and Paper Foundation; Prof. Vincent Hartgen, Head of the University's Art Department; and Dean Ashley S. Campbell of the College of Technology.
...GIVING TO MY COLLEGE

think for myself. My greatest inspiration in carrying out this decision came from my professor of Greek. Although I could not read Xenophon today, my Greek course has done as much good as any subject I ever studied, for my professor taught me to look at a word, to consider its derivation and how it was made up. Thus initiated, I began to think for myself about other things, and I have been doing so ever since. It enabled me, as a banker and investor, to look ahead and make my own decisions. It is the basic cause of my prospering in this world, and for which I feel a constant debt of gratitude to Union College.

I have tried to repay that debt by giving my time as well as my money. Fifty years ago, the college finances were at a very low ebb that the Chairman of the Board of Trustees suggested closing the institution. I became Treasurer on the understanding that until the crisis passed all members of the faculty would get along with what they had, even if it meant only two suits of clothes. We weathered the storm, and during the next fifty years our endowment has risen from $400,000 to $12,000,000. Book value of our investments increased $1,500,000, we have a reserve of $750,000 against investment losses, and all gifts have gone into capital funds of the college and not for current expenses. Contrary to the experience of most colleges we have operated without a deficit for the past ten years, even with a small surplus.

The deficits of privately endowed colleges arise from two general causes. First, contributions are drying up. High income taxes drain off money that otherwise would go for philanthropic purposes, and there is not enough to meet rising current expenses.

A second cause is the uninspired handling of college investments. It is easy for investment committees to buy government securities because they are safe and will yield dependable returns, but such a policy does not look ahead to provide for mounting costs and necessary salary increases which are super-pressing in almost every educational institution. Last year, the net return on the cost of Union College investments was more than 6%. Only one-third of one per cent of our portfolio is in government securities, and we hold very few bonds. Other investments are:

- Real estate mortgages 3%
- Railroad securities 15%
- Public utilities 17%
- Common stocks 60%

Today, the obligation to give to privately endowed institutions of learning is greater than ever before. Rising operating costs mean either higher tuition fees or greater endowment. Union College, for example, charges $600 for tuition, which is supplemented by further cash expenditure of at least $450 a student. An additional service is the use of the college plant on which no interest is figured. Increased tuition fees to cover all costs are not the answer. This would mean either fewer students able to pay tuition or a greater outlay for scholarships, for which more endowment would be necessary. The other alternative is government subsidy, which is no solution at all.

Today’s spirit of getting something for nothing and that government owes one a living is so strong that it will destroy our nation unless it is curbed. Britain is finding this out to her cost and possibly to her ruin. For socialized medicine, social security and federal control of education must be paid for—not by government but by all of us, and when we can’t pay, neither can government.

Too often the get-something-for-nothing idea applies to instructors’ salaries. If you want a man to teach sound economics, he must make enough to live on. Otherwise, he won’t believe in what he is teaching. You can’t present both sides of an economic question to a youth of 20 and expect him to decide. Necessarily, he will be influenced by his teaching and his teacher. Union College trustees passed a resolution to the effect that the economics studied should be our economic system, free from the isms which are destroying Europe, unless and until those isms have proved better than our way. Also, I may add, professors and instructors in our economics department are paid living salaries.

I have given much and I intend to give more to the college which did so much for me. The giving of money to children, except in modest amounts, leads to their possible moral destruction. There is no greater destroyer of ambition than for a boy to know that he will inherit $1,000,000 when his father dies. A surplus of money for descendants is a bad thing. So, I regard it as an imperative duty for a man to dispose of some of his money while living, and not leave all the job for his executors. And the man who has been to college owes a debt for the surplus cost which that college paid to educate him.

Theater during World War II and received a Bronze Star.

Until he joined the New England Electric System, he was on the staff of the University of New Hampshire for the past three years as assistant professor of agricultural engineering.

Mr. Fox is a member of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers and the Soil Conservation Society of America, has been active in the New Hampshire Farm Electric Utilization Council and was chairman of the New Hampshire Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

Joins Point Four Mission—

Lawrence E. McGary ’45, an agricultural extension specialist of Fort Kent, has departed for New Delhi, India, to join the Point Four mission of the Technical Cooperation Administration, Department of State.

Mr. McGary has served as an instructor in agriculture at Fort Kent and Sherman, Maine, and will be joined in India by Mrs. McGary and their son, Philip.

Mr. McGary has a bachelor’s degree in agricultural economics from the University.

Principal Point Four concerns in India relate to the broad community development program to improve living conditions for 12,000,000 residents of 16,500 villages.

Full-Time Entomologist—

Vaughn F. McCowan ’51 has been hired as a full-time entomologist by the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company of Centralia, Washington.

Mr. McCowan works under the direction of Paul Lauterbach, Weyerhaeuser’s research forster and manager of the firm’s forestry research office in Centralia. Spending considerable time in the field, he studies the characteristics and habits of insects found on the company’s tree farms in western Washington and Oregon and works cooperatively with the forest insect laboratory of the United States bureau of entomology, Portland, Oregon, to develop effective and practical control measures.

Born and raised in Portland, Maine, Mr. McCowan graduated from the University’s school of forestry in 1951. He received his master’s degree in entomology and forestry at the University of Michigan in June, 1952, and joined Weyerhaeuser the following month.

A member of Phi Kappa Phi, scholastic honorary, and Xi Sigma Pi, forestry honorary, Mr. McCowan is married and has two children. The family resides in Centralia.

Senate to be a result of an Election Committee clerical error. The rumors began when a candidate for sophomore president told Charles E. Hussey, Presque Isle, chairman of the committee, that a few of his friends had seen some fraudulent voting.

William D. Hirst, Orono, president of the Senate, went over the ballots with Hussey. They found that 443 ballots were cast and 443 names were checked.

Although Coach Rome Rankin's varsity basketball crew dropped two of its four games played before Christmas vacation, Maine fans claim the team will be able to hold its own with the best of them this year. Reasons for this high feeling of optimism stem from two sources: center John Norris' ability to score enough points to break a Memorial Gym record and the fact that only two points kept the Maine team from winning each of its other two games.

Against Vermont in the third game of the new season, Norris—who works a left-hand hook shot to perfection—tipped by one point the high total for a Maine player set during the 1949-50 season when Charlie Goddard scored 36 points against Colby. The Bears won from Vermont going away, 88-77, but it wasn't until the final five seconds of play that Norris had the chance to hook in the final shot of the game to bring his point total for the night to 37 in as dramatic a basketball finish seen in Memorial Gym in a long time. However, the six-foot-five inch pivot man was eight points short of the all-time Memorial Gym record of 45 points set by Rhode Island's Ernie Caverly during the 1943-44 season.

The Bears won their first game of the season at Brunswick by whipping Bowdoin, 76-64, but ran into one-point troubles against Bates and highly rated Colby. Bates nipped the Pale Blue at Orono, 67-66, in a game which could have gone either way, with time the deciding element.

At Waterville, however, it was a somewhat different situation. Colby, rated somewhat above the other three State Series teams this year, jumped to an expected early game lead over the Black Bears. But the Maine team jumped back to overtake the Lee Williams coached quintet, and led the Mules up until the final few minutes of play. Five points down with two minutes remaining, the Bears surged back again to knot the score in closing seconds before Ted Wiegand settled the issue for Colby with a foul toss moments before the final gun. Ted Lallier established a new scoring record for his team with 33 points.

Results of the first round State Series games places Maine in third place behind Colby and Bates. Bowdoin has yet to win a Series game.

Norris, who hails from Bangor, leads the Maine team in scoring with a four-game average of 27.2 points, scoring 24 against Bowdoin, 23 against Bates, 37 against Vermont and 25 against Colby. Forward Bob Churchill, Kezar Falls, is next with a 19.1 average.

Other members of the starting five are guard Bob Nixon, Randolph, and forward Woody Carville, York, both regulars on last year's squad Carville, who usually doesn't score very much, is considered the best defensive player on the team. The other guard spot is shared by clever ball handler Keith Mahaney, Fort Fairfield, and Breen Bernard, Houlton, Maine.

WITH THE ATHLETIC TEAMS

SKI TEAM

Ski coach Ted Curtis has four returning veterans and a promising newcomer around which to build his 1952-53 ski team, which travels to Franconia, New Hampshire, Dec. 20 for its first taste of competition. Returning to the team are Ralph Baxter, Ashland, Ralph Chase, Ashland, Lehan Edwards, Monmouth, and Bob Irish, Falmouth Foreside. Sophomore Wes Scorne, Rumford, is the newcomer.

INTRAMURALS

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity got off to a fast start to take an early season lead in the fraternity division of intramural basketball competition. SAE won its first five games, including a 56-51 victory over a defending champion Phi Eta Kappa team, to hold onto first place in pre-Christmas games. Four other teams were also undefeated. Theta Chi and Kappa Sigma each had three wins and no losses, and Beta Theta Pi and Phi Mu Delta each had two wins and no losses.

THE MAINE ALUMNUS

1895
Gerald Andries de Haseth. On October 16, 1952, Gerald A. de Haseth died in Tacoma, Washington, where he had made his home for the past 25 years. A native of Curacao, Netherland West Indies, and of French and Spanish descent, Mr. de Haseth—affectionately known as the "Count"—to his many Tacoma friends—became a citizen of the United States during his young manhood. For many years he was associated with the Stone and Webster Company of Boston serving it in Tacoma, Seattle, Texas, Florida, and Louisiana, and Puerto Rico. Mr. de Haseth is survived by his widow, Anne Milward de Haseth, a native of Lexington, Kentucky.

1901
Henry Perez Hoyt. The death of Henry P. Hoyt occurred on July 28, 1952, in Fort Fairfield, following a brief illness. He had been a farmer and consulting engineer for many years in that area. Among the surviving members of his family are a son, John (Maine '41) and a daughter, Louise—now Mrs. Joseph F. Fay (Maine '43). Mr. Hoyt was a Mason and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

1902
Hartley Garfield Kenniston. Hartley G. Kenniston died on January 15, 1952. The last known address for him was Phillips, Maine. He had lived much of his life in the Cleveland, Ohio area and was at one time State Manager of the Kansas City Life Insurance Co. in Ohio. He was a graduate of Maine's Law School.

1906
Robert Williston Grinnell. Belated word of the death of Robert W. Grinnell in May, 1948, has been received in the Alumni Office. His death occurred in San Gabriel, Calif.

Edward Martin Lynott. The Alumni Office has just received word of the death of Edward M. Lynott many years ago on June 28, 1932, in Bangor, Maine.

Charles Henry Tucker. Charles H. Tucker, president and treasurer of the Tucker Teachers Agency, Inc., of Boston, passed away on November 27, 1952. Mr. Tucker was a resident of Brighton, Mass. He founded his Teachers Agency 38 years ago following several years of teaching school in Connecticut. Surviving are a sister and a nephew. Mr. Tucker was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

1912
Herbert Levi Fisher. The death of Herbert L. Fisher occurred on November 14, 1952. He was a resident of Wellesley, Mass., and an appraisal engineer for Stone and Webster of Boston with whom he had been associated since 1938. Besides his wife, Doris Upham Fisher, he is survived by a son, John G. (who attended Maine with the class of 1950), a daughter, Joan, who is currently a student at the University of Maine, and a granddaughter, Joy, John's daughter. Mr. Fisher was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

1918
Blanche E. Huskings. Blanche E. Huskings died on March 7, 1952, in Schenectady, N. Y., according to information recently received in the Alumni Office. Miss Huskings taught school in that city. She was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

1922
Albert Wight Phipps. Albert W. Phipps, who attended the University with the class of 1922, died on November 26, 1952, at his home in Gorham, N. H. He was a salesman for Milken-Tolminson of Portland and had been with them for the past 26 years. He was a veteran of World War I, a member of the Masons and of the American Legion. Surviving are his widow, Marion Little Phipps, a son, Albert H. of Dover, N. H., and two grandchildren.

Stanley Spencer Whittier. Belated word of the death of Dr. Stanley S. Whittier of Fairhope, Alabama, on February 20, has just reached the Alumni Office. He was a dentist and had spent much of his life in Chicago. Dr. Whittier was a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

BY CLASSES

1897
Word has been received of the retirement of Perley F. Goodridge from his work on the plans engineering staff of the Hudson Motor Co. in Detroit. He plans to spend the winter in Detroit and the summers at his cottage on Hubbard Lake in Northern Michigan. He has two daughters, one a graduate of the University of Michigan, and the other a graduate of Wayne University. A Brockton, Mass., newspaper clipping which has come to Orono indicates that Marcus Urann has recently elected to the Board of Directors of the Brockton National Bank. Mr. Urann is an outstanding man in the cranberry production field, as most alumni know, and is also a lawyer having received a law degree from Boston University following his graduation from Maine. The same newspaper clipping mentions that "it has been largely due to his leadership that the cranberry industry has become one of the basic industries in Massachusetts and is its largest crop export, with nearly half of the national cranberry production being grown in Buzzards Bay, Plymouth, and Bristol counties.

1903
Arthur W. Gage, who is chief structural engineer for Hetherington and Berner, Inc., of Indianapolis, Indiana, resides at 1141 W. 33rd St. in that city.

50th Reunion, June 12-14, 1953
Lawyer John H. Hilliard is currently living at 3631 Lakeview Ave., St. Petersburg, Fla. He maintains a business address at 230 Park Ave., New York, however.

Charles L. Puffer is currently living in Angola, Indiana, and his mailing address is P. O. Box 359.

1906
Mr. Earle Richards

The Alumni Office recently picked up the information that Henry Bearce was re-elected to the State Legislature from the Haverhill district by a unanimous ball- lot.

1907
Mr. Karl MacDonald
27 Nelson Ave.,
Wells, N. Y.
heber P. Purinton and wife of Wilton, Maine, are spending the winter in the South. Their address is 1755 Ashland St., South Jacksonville, Fla.

Arnold Totman, 122 So. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, writes he was sorry to miss the 45th reunion of his business to attend to in Sand Diego at that time. He was later joined there by feminine members of his family and they toured up as far as Los Angeles. They returned home thru the Canadian Rockies, stopping at Lake Louise and Banff. Last fall he took two of his daughters on a trip to the Porco Mountains, then up to the White Mountains and back thru the Berkshires. He says that if Father Time would only intend to take such a full trip every year.

Caleb E. S. Burns, P. O. Box 751, Lihue, Kauai, Hawaii, is semi-retired for the past few years, retired from all active work with his company on December 31st. He intends to remain in Hawaii but desires to spend considerable time traveling. Last August and September they took their vacation in British Columbia, where he enjoyed some fine trout fishing.

Guy E. Hayward's new address is 80 Merrill Road, Lexington, Mass., as he no longer operates an insurance agency in Minolca, Long Island, N. Y.

In the November issue of The Alumnus statement was made that Reginald Lamb was president in charge of the Office for Weston Electric Instrument Corporation in Newark, N. J. Correction: He is retired from that position having assumed that status in December 1951.

John B. McIntire owns and operates Beech Inn in Lincolnville, Maine.

45th Reunion, June 12-14, 1953
The distinguished author, Mary Ellen Chase, has written another book to her long list of accomplishments. It is Readings from the Bible, as selected by Miss Chase. Her readers will remember her book The Bible and the Common Reader, which was published several years ago, it has now been issued in a new and enlarged edition.

1913
Philip S. Bolton continues in his work as research director for the Robert Gar Co. and lives at 284 Mt. Vernon St., W. Newton, Mass.

Any class of 1913 members coming up the Maine coast will find Leon A. Edge in North Edgecomb.

Frederic C. Hettigton, chairman of the department of chemical engineering at the Johns Hopkins University. His residence address is 2608 Goodwood Rd., Baltimore, Md.

1914
The October issue of The Alumnus indicated that Arthur Warren Abbott of Rye, N. Y., is the owner of an outstanding 3-year-old Blue Man. Further information has been provided, which class members may be interested to read. Blue Man is the leading 3-year-old division money winner to date having won of the country's outstanding stakes. Blue Man has performed better than many State Governors as well as before Margaret of Sar. Harry S. Tru-

Word has been received that Rachel Winship Hall (Mrs. "Pete") has been ill for the past several months and is now convalescing at her home at 96 Merwood Lane, Silver Spring, Maryland.

Mrs. Evelyn W. Harmon
(Evelyn Winship)
96 M Merwood Lane,
Silver Spring, Md.

Please note my change of address—address of which may be sending news along for this class column. I am spending a few months with my sister, Mrs. "Pete" Hall (Rachel Winship), who has been ill for several months and is now convalescing at home. Just too late for the December issue I had a most interesting letter from Elmer Baird of Newport, Maine. He is working for Uncle Sam on the P.M.A. program of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. He has a fine family of four children. The oldest, Philip, attended the University of Maine for two years before going into the Army in 1943. Phyllis graduated from Potsdam State Teachers College and the Institute of Music, N.Y., later spent in the WAC, is now married, lives, and teaches music in Rainville, W. Virginia. Anna graduated from Husson Business College in Bangor, is married and has four children. She lives in Hartland. Lois graduated from Maine and is a teacher in a children's psychiatric home in Riverside, near Providence, R. I. Elmer certainly has a right to be proud of such a family. Our classmate's hobby is fishing, which indulges in at every opportunity. He wrote in his letter of the pride which we all ought to hold in our classmates who are a nobility, for the honor which he has brought the class of 1916. It is so wonderful to receive these fine letters from our classmates. It makes no difference whether you were at Maine one year or four, we are interested to hear from you.

Ivan Ames and his wife, the former Frances Bartlett '20, are residents of Millinocket where he is superintendent of the Millinocket Northern Paper Co. plants.

Harold D. Ashton, retired Major A.U.S., resides at 111 East Greenway Blvd., Falls Church, Va. Ethel Blair of Hartland, Maine, is a farmer fieldman for the Production Marketing Administration.

The FortESC Mfg. Corp. of Brockton, Mass., claims Roger Bell as assistant treasurer. He lives at 41 Spring St., Weymouth, Mass.

Amiel A. Packard of Middletown, Conn., formerly of Belfast, Maine, and for many years very active in Masonry in Maine and Connecticut, was the featured speaker at the 150th Anniversary Observance of Rising Virtue Lodge in Bangor in October. He is past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Connecticut and is at present serving as grand junior warden of the Grand Encampment, Knights Templar. I expect to be in Silver Spring for some time, so write to me at the above address.

1918

Dorothy Hart Cook is currently teaching social science and English at Woodstock, Vermont. Her home address is 57 River St. in Lowell.

Howard Deering, who is associated with Lever Bros. in New York, resides at Hotel Gramercy Park, New York 10, N. Y.

Harry L. Greenleaf, division engineer for the Maine State Highway Commission, lives at 35 Hillside St., Portland.

Mrs. Greenleaf is of the class of 22 Colby College. Their son, Raymond, who is 25 years old, is a graduate of Northeastern Business College.

1922

There are two news items regarding the class of 1922 this month.

Charles Wood served as chairman of the nominating committee at the Maine State Teachers' Convention which was held the very first week in June. Out in Indiana, Frederick Marston of 240 N. Meridian St., Indianapolis, represented the State of Maine at the inauguration of Dr. Russell J. Humbert as 15th president of DePauw University recently. Institutions represented at this convocation included the University of Rome, founded in 1303, to the Universidad de los Andes, founded in 1949 in Bogota, Colombia. (Maine had its beginnings in 1868.)

1923

Mrs. Norman Torrey
(Tony Gould)
9 Pobar St., Bangor

30th Reunion, June 12-14, 1953

A change of address just after the new Alumni Directory came out! Beatrice Cleaves Stevens' (Mrs. Carl T.'22) new address is 125 Frances St., Portland. She continues to substitute in the Portland High Schools, and does bookkeeping for her husband who is Treasurer of the Teachers' Credit Union. And a million other things!

At the 33rd annual meeting of the Penobscot County Extension Association which was held at East Eddington in the fall and was attended by more than 225 men and women throughout the County, C. Joseph Shepherd was re-elected president. He resides in Corinna. Of course our chief resolution for this new year is our 30th reunion in June. It's not a bit too early to red circle the new calendars right now! It is a treat none of us want to miss.... so let's start making plans now.... we want it tops! And that means ideas and action from each and every one of us! What are you waiting for?

Mrs. C. C. Little
(Beatrice Johnson)
Box 558, Bar Harbor

There's only one item this month. It concerns Representative Theodore J. Vaites of the 22nd Middlesex District which includes Melrose, Wakefield, and Stoneham, Massachusetts, who was the Armistice Day Speaker in Woburn, Mass. Mr. Vaites served in the Navy during World War II and is a very active member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you all.

Mrs. Merrill Henderson
(Anne Thurston)
Quechee, Vermont

George York of Old Town, an employee of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for 20 years, was one of three men to be recently honored at a dinner given by the company at the Penobscot Valley Club.

A card from Louise (Quincy) Lord from Brussels, Belgium, states that she joined her husband in November and is visiting many interesting places such as Luxembourg and Paris. George has been in Europe since early last spring working in various countries to give American agricultural know-how to Europeans.

Mrs. A. D. Nutting
(Leone Dakin)
17 College Hgts., Orono

Frances Willetts Naugler of Hampden Highlands is teaching Sophomore English at Old Town High this year. Last year " Frankie" taught at Newport High. Emily Pendleton was nominated for the presidency of the Maine Teachers Association at a meeting of the nominat-pany which produces dicalcium phosphate—a basic feed ingredient. John is located at Adams, Mass.

Hilton Havens was again elected to the Bangor City Council this month. This is his second term as a Councilman. He and his wife, Sue, live at 440 Ohio St. and their daughter Sue is a sophomore at the University of Maine.

The recent visit to Old Sturbridge Village, Mass., where I attended a three day meeting of the Western Stevens Brazier Guild of which I am a member. This is a semi-professional group (national) of Craftsmen who do restoring, decorating and decorating of antiques and reproductions.

It has been called to the attention of the Editors that there was a mismeasure of the November issue of The Alumnus in that ownership of the money horse, Blue Man, was ascribed to Warren Abbott '27 when actually the owner is Arthur Warren Abbott '14 of Rye, N. Y. The cause of the error is obvious with the similarity of names. Sorry the class of 1927 cannot claim this interesting item!

I promise not to misplace any more letters if you'll just send me some.

1928

Miss Mary A. McGuire 411 West 116 St. New York 27, N. Y.

25th: Edith E. C. Congdon 12-14, 1933

The residence address of Harold E. Ingalls is 173 Pleasant St., Portland, Maine.

Emma (Thompson) Ledger is home economist for Utilities Distributors, Inc., of Portland, and conducts cooking schools for that firm throughout New England.

After twenty-three years of successful coaching at his own school, and Lewiston high schools, Moses Nangan retired last September because of illness. Paying tribute to Moses as a "maker of champions," the Bangor News commented that his career in football has tremendously enriched the sport in Maine.

Miss Barbara Johnson 32 School St., Portland

George Rowe was reelected president of the Iowa Nurserymen at the annual meeting in Des Moines.

Vic and Kay Spaugh McNaughton have recently moved to Oxford, Miss., where Victor is project manager of a flood control project of the U. S. Forest Service. Kay is working in the University Book Store there. She says she'll make the 25th.

Ramona Poley Highlands and Matthew '28 have recently built a new home at 111 Forest Avenue, Orono. Matt is a food technologist in the Agricultural Experiment Station, and a member of the graduate faculty.

Mrs. Pauline H. Leech (Pauline Hall)

Homer Falls Hospital, Ononta, N. Y.

Elizabeth ("Lib") Mason, formerly a field worker for the Maine Publicity Bureau, is now with the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co. as a Career Underwriter. She continues to live in Portland at 424 St. John St.

Congressman Clifford M. McIntire of Perham, Maine, was the speaker at the Victory Luncheon of the Penobscot Women’s Republic Club in Bangor in November. At a special election in the fall of 1953 he was reelected to fill the unexpired term of the late Congressman Frank Fellows. Then this fall he was re-elected to a full term. From 1933 to 1947 Cliff was an appraiser, supervisor, and regional manager of the Farm Credit Administration of Springfield, Mass. And from 1947 to 1953 he was assistant general manager of the Maine Potato Growers, Inc., in Presque Isle. Since 1930 he has also operated a large potato farm in Peru.

Harrison L. Moyer is a division sub-station engineer, electric utility, with the Public Service Electric and Gas Co. of Camden, N. J. His home is at 548 E. Main St., Moorstown, N. J.

Mrs. Samuel Szezak

Evel Thomas

4 Gilbert St., Orono

Richard Stone is an Engineering Specialist with Soil Conservation Service, U.S.D.A. and is now located in Bangor. His residence is 24 Bowdoin Street.

It was nice to hear that we have an author in our class. Frances Dow Friedberg (Mrs. Meyer S) is co-author of a chapter on "Marriage Counseling in the United States" in a book by the English author Edward F. Griffith entitled A Sex Guide To A Happy Marriage published by Emerson Brooks, Inc., N. Y. C. 1952.

A new Directory has been published so each month I shall include recent addresses of a few class members whom we haven’t heard news for ages. So get busy and let’s have more news than just your new address.

Herman Allen is located at Sayles Finishing Plants, Inc., 23 Kilburn Ave., Saylerville, R. I.

Roger Annis is manager of development division, Diamond Alkali Co., 11 W. South Street, Painesville, Ohio. Armstrong is sales representative of Newell Lumber Co. and his address is 4 Horton Street, Attleboro, Mass.

The newest figure in the Forestry section who visited the Maine campus last week was Norm Webber enjoying his annual fall hunting trip in Maine! Norm was making life dangerous for the deer around his home town of Hallow.

1932

Miss Angela Miniutti 7 Catell St., Bangor

Once again I am asking for post cards from class members for this column. Why not make a New Year’s resolution to contribute toward making the class of 1932’s news column the best one in The Maine Alumnus.

May I wish for you all a New Year of much good health and happiness.

Through the Alumni Office comes news about William Wirt Brown, Jr., of 1033 Oakland Park Ave., Columbus 11, Ohio. He is an accountant for Banner Die, Tool & Stamping Co. in that city.

I received an interesting newsy letter from Jeanne LePine during the summer. She has made quite a career for herself as language teacher. At present she is teaching French, Latin, and Spanish at Swamscott, Mass. Her brother, Kay Trickey is Librarian. Before going to Swamscott, Jeanne was in Worcester, Mass. and was teaching at Holden. Previously, she taught in Maine.

In August, I saw Dr. and Mrs. J. Rice Moody (Doris M. Baker) in Bangor during their annual trip to Maine. The Moodys have a wonderful collection of children and obsolete cars, 4 each. The children are: Bill, 14; Jayne, 10; Curtis, 8; and Stanston. The cars consist of an 1908 Overland in which they took this year's trip to Maine, as well as an obso-leto Reo, Pierce Arrow, and a Cadillac.
Dr. Moody, a Tufts graduate, is a dentist, and they live in a new home at 59 Kay Street, Rhone Island. The Moodys are good to be pretty well known in "these parts" because of their obsoleto cars and have been regular participants in the Chilidin Tunes.
In the May 29, 1952, issue of "The Signal of the Bayside, N. Y., Community Church" appeared a picture and article about Rev. and Mrs. Jack Grenfell (Clarine Coffin) and children (Pam, 3, John, and Lorna, 8). Rev. Grenfell, Pastor of the Bay Methodist Church of Bayside, was transferred to Watertown, Conn.
Rev. Mr. Grenfell was born in England, educated in this country, and has a church record. Clarine taught for 5 years in Bangor High School before entering Hartford Seminary.
Priscilla Noddin, Wiesbaden American
School, Hq. & Hq. Squadron, 7120 Air Base Group, APO 633, c/o P.M. New York, N. Y., is now teaching the children of army personnel in Germany under an Civil Service Contract. She is on an extended leave of absence from the Northampton School and is teaching social se-ience in the Wiesbaden American (senior) High School. She is having a wonderful experience and has done much traveling during week ends and vacations.
She has visited in Switzerland, Vienna,
Rome, Holland, London, Windsor, etc.
During the summer, she was to attend
summer school at Str affection-on-Avon.
Kay Giddings of 78 Sanford St., Bangor, is a social worker with the Division of Public Assistance, State of Maine Department of Health and Welfare. I naturally see a great deal of Kaye as we both work in the same office in Brewer (AU Gerry's city across the river from Bangor).

20th Reunion, June 12-14, 1953
There would have been little to report this month if Thomas Desmond hadn't taken the time to call me up while passing through Portland to give me some very interesting news about a numer of our classmates. It was so good of Tommy to call and I do so wish more of you would provide news following his example.
First, Julius Pike lives with his family
(his two children) in Springfield, Mass.
Julius is with a engineering outfit located in Connecticut.
John Gonzales is city engineer for Taunton, Mass.
Alfred McMichael is associated with Boit, Dalton, and Church Insurance Co. in Boston.
Freeman Webb heads a textile mill,
also in Boston.
Sawyer is a state traffic engineer in Augusta.
Bob Ingham and his wife and two children live in Lexington, Mass., at 6
Lake St. He is with Hood Rubber Co.
And, if you don't already know, Tommy is District Manager, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., of the Grasselli Chemicals Department located at 140 Federal St., Boston. He and his wife live in Wellesley Hills.
Noticed in the paper the other day that Maj. John P. Farnsworth, U.S.A.,
is a patient in the U. S. Naval Hospital, Kittery, receiving treatment for fracture of both arms. I do hope he's fine now, and that the casts aren't itching too much. (You see I know all the pitfalls of casts—for my son has just gotten his leg out of a cast following a leg injury sustained in football scrimmage last September!)
Dot Murphy O'Connell (Mrs. A. W.)
is living at 36 Poppy Lane, Levittown,
N. J.
We have a tough time keeping up with Bea Ticomb for she's been all over the country. Her new address is 927 Monroe St., Red Bluff, California. Bea is to be the English-Journalism Teacher at the Red Bluff Union High School.
Rose Snider is employed as publications editor at the U. S. Navy Underwater Sound Laboratory in New London, Conn. She has recently been named chairman of the Publicity Committee of the Eastern Connecticut Symphoni-
This symphony consists of the combined membership of the New London Civic Orchestra and the Willimantic Symphony.
Horace Gould is a practicing dentist
in Ellsworth.
Edward Haggert is a patent attorney for the Armco Corp. and works at Evans Signal Lab in Belmar, N. J. His home is at 311 South Blvd., Springlake,
N. J.
1934
Mrs. Robert C. Russ
(Maddy Bunke)
17 Peaview Rd.,
Cape Elizabeth
Thomas Morse has been promoted to consultant and placed in pension trusts for the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co. Tom completed graduate work in actuarial theory at the University of Iowa. He joined Phoenix Mutual in 1936 as a salesman in Portland, Maine, where he served for five years. Upon his return from military service in World War II, he joined Phoenix Mutual's Agency Department staff and instituted and directed the Company's Personal Plans Service.
Ken Foster has been transferred from the ordinary agencies department to the district agencies department of the Pruential Insurance Co. Ken was elected a second vice president of Prudential in 1950. He will assist the vice president in charge of the district agencies department in an administrative capacity.
Stanley Blanchard, who is in business with his father in Cumberland Center, was named Cumberland County winner of the 1952 Green Pastures Contest.
The Betty Johnson referred to in the December issue should have been Betty Jackson. Handwriting is not always clear and the typist mis-read the name!
1935
Mrs. Thomas McGuire
(Agnes Crowley)
209 W. 107th St.,
New York, N. Y.
Another month, Santa Claus has come and gone, and another year is upon us.
May 1953 be one of the best years ever for all of you.
Our little Tommy Pat was a year and a month on Christmas and what fun we had.
The Alumni Office has supplied me with the few news items that there are this month.
A story mailed from Korea in September told that Lt. Col. Frank R.
Blasdel was on his way home to 115 Coleman Ave., Asheville, N. C., after serving for nine months with the United Nations Civil Assistance Command. His last assignment was chief of the public work section at the command's Pusan headquarters. His civilian job is senior sanitary engineer with the North Carolina Board of Health in Raleigh, N. C.
Bob Ames has a change of address from East Hartford, Conn., to 64 Mc-Kinnely St., Manchester, Conn. Bob, as last reported, is a production engineer with Pratt and Whitney.
Beryl (Warner) Williams of Baltimore, Maryland, spoke at the meeting of the Penobscot Intercultural Forum in Bangor in November. Beryl was formerly of Bangor and is now teaching Parent Education in Baltimore.
Marion Martin has been elected vice president in charge of women's activities for the National Safety Council.
Marion is commissioner of Labor and Industry for the State of Maine.
Phil Ryan is Postal Transportation in the Post Office Department and is located in Portland.
Bob Arey is a civil engineer with The Nicholson Co., engineers and contractors,

Margaret Hook was my other correspondent. She has been pretty faithful over the years and even though I never get an answer to a personal reply, I do appreciate hearing from her so much. I had seen the picture of sons and daughters in the October issue of The Alumnaus, but I missed what Margaret spotted—a son of a member of the class of '36, and I think it's our first. He is Dana Eldridge and his mother is Mary Talbot Eldridge.

Lee Dorr Wiley and her family live at 6738 Coldwater Canyon, North Hollywood, Calif. The Wileys have three children—Diane 10, Kenneth, Jr. 8, and Bruce 5.

Dot Cann Bennett and her husband, Cleave, have a new daughter, Virginia Edwards, who was born May 7th. They also have two boys, Murray Cleave 5, and Stuart Reed “almost 3.”

The Hooks have three children, Richard 10, Leonard 4, and Martha Ann 2. Arnold is with Parke Davis Co. doing research on viruses—mainly polio. They also have a very interesting hobby—raising chinchillas—and Margaret would like to know if any other Jeevers have this hobby.

Carl and Libby Philbrook Ingraham and family (I think it is 5) live in Birmingham, Mich., at 940 Harmon St. Carl is practicing law in Royal Oak with the firm of Allen & Ingraham.

I forgot to say that the Hooks’ address is 18686 Fairport Ave., Detroit 5, Mich.

Now I’ve come to the Alumni Office items. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Haggett and two sons—Hugh 10 and Gregory 6—have moved to 16 Parker Rd., Wellesley, Mass. Jim is owner of Haggett Store Engineers.

Bill Jones has been vice president of the First Stamford National Bank & Trust Co. since 1951. His address is Knollwood Lane, Darien, Conn.

Now I’d like to ask for help. Some of you may be too modest to write about yourselves, but I have noticed in the Directory that there are several people whose whereabouts are unknown. If anyone has any news of the following people, would you please send the information along? I’ll just list a few each month—so here goes... Robert Adler, Rodney Bartlett, George Bridges, Netta Briggs (Mrs. Philip Van Hooke), Bettina Brown (Mrs. John Gorton), Giles Bryer, and Robert Miles Burns.

Mrs. Gordon B. Raymond (Bar Harbor, Maine) 37 Glenwood Ave., Portland Through the kindness of Kay (Bunker) Berry I have some information about the Howard Staggs. Congratulations to Howard and Carolyn on the birth of a third son, Jeffery Sedgwick, last May 27th. Their other two sons are Howard IV, Steven, and Peter, eight. It is gratifying to learn, also, that one of our class members has such a responsible position as Howard does. He is now manager of the Boston office of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company.

From the Alumni Office comes word concerning a new industry for Waldo County, the manufacture of organic fertilizer from feathers, blood and other by-products of Maine processing plants. Launching the plant will be John Grady who has worked in a similar Delaware plant for 3 years. The organic fertilizer will be shipped to southern states for use in growing tobacco and citrus fruits. We wish you all kinds of success with the new factory, John.

I hope there will be more items next month, but between Christmas shopping and moving (please note my new address) there does not seem to be time for much else.

Happy New Year to each and every one of you!!

Edith (Thomas) Sanborn and her husband Ralph ’39 live in East Weymouth, Mass. in a home they are fixing up. "Tomme" has a full time job as a librarian in Walpole and is with the Arthur D. Little Co. in Cambridge. Edith says they were both very happy with a garden during the summer.

A very interesting clipping from a Boston newspaper tells about the war Peggy Bassett is doing. She is now a tube design engineer at Raytheon’s Newton, Mass., plant. After receiving her degree at Maine in psychology, she took electrical courses at Northeastern University, read, took extension courses—all to gain the scientific knowledge which fitted her for this unusual occupation. She has been employed eight years by this company.

Arland Meade and his family were home to visit during the summer following which they went to Washington, D. C., and then on to Bagdad, Iraq, where he holds a post with the U. S. State Department. His wife and two sons, Thomas and Charles, accompanied him. In 1947 he received an M.S. from the University of Wisconsin. He has been director of Allied Mills, Inc., at Ft. Wayne, Indiana, for the past four years. With the State Department he serves as information officer in the Point-Four Program.

Mrs. George C. Grant
(Elnora Savage)
10 Congress St., Augusta

The Bowdoin-Maine game was like Homecoming! We joined Betty (Homan) and her husband, Sumner Hancon, and sat in the stands watching a parade of familiar faces. Not too many from ’40, I’m sorry to report, but many we used to see are still around—Buzz Tracy, Charlie Arbor, Hilda Rowe Marvin, Charlene and Walter Strang, and the Philbrooks three — Helen, Constance and Nancy. Carl has a group high up on the bleachers—Polly and Steve Powell, Stan and Maddy Linquist, and Ginny and Buzz. Someone saw Stan Johnson, but we missed him. It was really like old times! After the game we had a chat with Bill and Anna (Verdi) and a visit to live on Blanchard Rd., Cumberland Center and have three little girls, Margaret, Carol and Janie. Bill works for the S. D. Warren Co.

Also talked with Helen Philbrook, who incidentally, is no longer teaching at M.C.I. and intends to spend the winter in Florida. She gave me the latest news of Doreen Trask and Polly Cooper.

Helen had just received a letter from "Dodie" telling of her recent move from Michigan to sunny California. Her husband Bob Montgomery ’40, is the new regional manager, Sacramento Area, of the California Department of Fish and Game. The Montogmys, with their two boys, Bobby and Doug, now living at 5601 Callister Ave., Sacramento, and are very happy in their new location.

Polly (Cooper) and Roger Coggin live at 17 Elliott Park, Dover N. H., and have two sons—Roger and Charles. We understand Polly is a busy gal, very active in civic affairs. Roger works for the Bird Refrigeration Co. out of Haverhill, Mass.

Congratulations to Barbara and Norman Fay on the birth of their third daughter, Deborah Wilcox Fay, on November 17. The young lady has two sisters, Janet 5½ and "Robin" (Barbara Elizabeth) 3. The Fays live at 129 Manor St., Needham Hts., Mass.

From the Alumni Office comes word that Andrew Gavett of 142 Park St., Orono, and manager of the Chalet filling station there has been elected a director of the Jaycees in that community.

John Carlisle, who is the assistant manager of the Webber Oil Co. in Bangor, was re-elected chairman of the Southern Penobscot Petroleum Industries Committee at a recent meeting of local oil men in Bangor. John’s new address is 139 Kenduskeag Ave., Bangor.

Major Emil Hawes flew back to Maine not long ago to visit with his folks in Veazie. Emil is instructor of Military Science and Tactics at Rutgers University, New Jersey.

New West has assumed the post of elementary supervising principal for the Northbridge, Mass., public schools. Formerly he has served as elementary principal in Friendship, Maine, has taught at Aroostook State Normal School, and has been principal of elementary schools in Sudbury, Mass. He is married and has four children.

Rockwood Berry has recently been elected a member of the Board of the Maine Farm Bureau Association.

At the time of the Maine Teachers’ Convention in October Bill Brawn was nominated for the position of second vice president of the Maine Teachers’ Association. The elections will take place at the Representative Assembly which is scheduled for December.

Hartley Banton has been named a Director of the Newport Kiwanis Club for a period of two years.

Lt. Col. Hartwell Lancaster recently received the honorary Master of Arts degree from Wellesley College in Massachusetts. We understand that it is customary to Amherst to award honorary master’s degrees to the members of the faculty who have attained the rank of full professor and who are not Amherst graduates. “Lanky” is professor of Chemistry and Targals.

Saw Elnora (Savage) and George Grant at the Bowdoin-Maine game—as a matter of fact they were almost the only ones I did see since we were sitting on the “other side” of the field. Anyway the Grants looked wonderful and Elnora sent me a clipping from the Kennebec Journal which stated that Brooks Brown, Jr., was a candidate on the Republican ticket for Mayor of Augusta. Brooks is married to the former Mary Lou Farmer of Ft. Worth, Texas, and they have two children, Connie and David.

5th Infantry letter from George, Nystrom giving us all the latest news from him and Dottie. He is stationed in Detroit at the Packard Motor Car Co. as the technical representative for the Buick division of Ships, Navy Dept. The Packard Co. is making a new series of light weight closed cars for the Navy. George also had talked with Faulkner Chase on the telephone recently while Faulkner was in that area. He is associated with the Forster Mfg. Co. in Farmington, Maine—a wood-turning plant—and is working out of Chicago for them. He and his family live outside Chicago and he is on the road one week in three. Faulkner’s brother, Gordon, is now manager of his own Sears Roebuck Store in Waterville. Gordon is married to the former Janice Merrill ’41 and Faulkner to Caroline Adams ’44.

George went on to say that they haven’t met many Maine people out there but last summer they enjoyed the Maine get-together in Schenectady very much. Phil Brockway was on hand to bring them up-to-date on Maine doings. They ran into Bob MacDonald there. He had just completed his Ph.D. and was starting work for G.E. in the research lab. George and Dottie’s address is 17414 Sprenger Ave., E. Detroit, Mich.

What a wonderful newsy letter! Doesn’t that make you all want to grab the nearest pen and write reams of news to your reporter? At least on the back of a Christmas card!

Dr. George Ellis, industrial economist of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, addressed the Fall River Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants in September. His subject was “Economic Trends.” George has conducted an extensive survey of New England economic conditions, which was the basis of his thesis, “The Industrial Location in New England.”

Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Wentworth announced the birth of their son, Robert Thorsten Wentworth, on July 5th, and we offer our congratulations!

Dorothy and Art Boyd have a new son, born in September, and Jane King Pattee and husband, Jim, happily have announced the birth of a daughter, Nancy Jane, in the early fall. Our congratulations to both families!!

Warren Randall returned recently from a Navy training cruise to Germany aboard the General Alexander M. Patch.

He went to fulfill his duty as a Naval Reserve Officer for this year. Other news on Warren is that he has changed jobs. He left the Bangor Commercial where he was news editor several months ago, and is now working for a newspaper in White Plains, N. Y. His mail goes to Y.M.C.A., 250 Mamaroneck Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

Martha Allen (44) and Bill Irvine are back in Ithaca, N. Y., this fall where Bill is, and has been for a couple of years, working for his Ph.D. at Cornell. This year he is also assisting the superintendent of schools in Ithaca. The Irvine’s address is 410 E. Yates St., Ithaca.

The latest news of the Cuetaras is that Jose is back in the Marine Corps and at present in Edenton, North Carolina, and I hope by the time this reaches you that we will have found house down there, and if so, the children and I will be on the move. Please keep your news coming to our Wellesley address, as it will reach me, or keep sending it in to the Alumni Office, and it will probably get into the column more quickly. Best of luck to you all for the New Year!!

1943 Mrs. Robert Lycette (Freda Flanders) Taylor Ave., Oradell, N. J.

10th Reunion, June 12-14, 1953

The mailbag is bulging. Here are excrescences from Wendell Stickney’s letter: “On vacation the first of September, we went to Lake Louise and after seeing the Canadian Rockies, N. Y. this fall where Bill is, and has been for a couple of years, working for his Ph.D. at Cornell. This year he is also assisting the superintend-Later he'll work on potato marketing in Maine.

Helen Hauck Bartley has supplied us with a lot of news from out California way. She and Charley have a new daughter, Judy Ann, born June 22, 1952. Their oldest child is Susan and quite an important first-grader, Stevie is three and half boy, he is trouble holding his own with two sisters. About a year ago Bart left the jet propulsion lab at Cal Tech and set up a propellant division of Grand Central Aircraft Company near San Fernando. He is the director and keeps busy, but likes it a lot. He plays golf with Earl Vickery, who lives with his family in Temple City. . . . "Had a pleasant surprise about a year ago. Warren has stopped in California on a business trip (he lives in New Jersey), spent an evening with the Bartleys some months ago. And Helen also mentions seeing Martha and Doc Gerrish right after their third son was born last spring. They live in Hollywood. The Bartleys live at 300 East Montecito Avenue, Sierra Madre, Calif.

Rita Cassidy Adams writes from Nebraska that they have bought a house, 2526 Jackson Street, Bellevue, Nebr. She and David have five children. Jean is in 3rd grade, bruce in 1st. Konny will go to kindergarten next year. The two boys, not quite 15 months, are loaf- alikes. David is assistant scoutmaster to a troop of boy scouts. Rita keeps up with her choir work and the usual church committees and circles and except for that they don't do much but tend their large garden, store the surplus in the deep freezer, recondition the new house and watch TV.

1944 Mrs. Charles Cook (Margaret McCurdy) of Bangor

Greetings! A couple of new additions this month . . . congrats to the "mas and pas."

A son, James Douglas, born to Mary (Fiedler) and Doug Fenwood on October 14th in Yonkers, N. Y. Doug is practicing law there and their address is 45 Hudson Terrace, Yonkers.

Janet Lee Broder made her debut on November 4th at the Eastern Maine General Hospital. Janet is the third child of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Broder.

Pouy Berce's engagement to Paul Eastman was announced recently. A February wedding is planned. Paul is now assistant chief, Division of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture, State of Maine, with headquarters in Augusta. On October 8th in the chapel of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Joan Saunders became the bride of Lt. Charles S. Byrne. The bride is graduate of Ellsworth High School and Wheaton College. Charles attended the University with our class and subsequently graduated from Annapolis in 1944. Richard Chadwick was the principal speaker at the March of Dimes Conference held in Bangor recently. Dick is 1953 director for Cumberland County and represented the State of Maine at the State Chairman's Conference in Chicago earlier this year.

A recent picture in the Portland Sunday Telegram pictured Dayson DeCourcy directing two actors in preparations for the play "The Condemned," a production of the Portland Players.

1945 Mrs. Robert A. Pancost (Babs Haines) of 901 Mansion Ave, Collingswood, N. J.

Here's hoping that the Christmas mail brings some newsy notes and lengthy letters from '45ers. This month we let two thanks to Bette K. and the Alumni office.

Lawrence Wing is back in Orono teaching at the University. Recently he received an earful of study at M.I.T. He is married to the former Evelyn Grenzi '43; and they are living in Dryden Terrace, modernistic housing development in Orono.

Alvin Morris has returned from the "missing" file. He is now a doctor on active duty in the Army.

The home address is 17 Beach Rd., Lynn, Mass.

1946 Mrs. A. D. Gambier (Terry Dumais) of West Court, Appleton, Wisconsin

Am happily contemplating a very snowy winter here in Appleton; guess the Holiday season just makes one partial to the cold and "white stuff."

Received a notice from the Alumni office that Richard Banton had recently been elected second vice president of the Portland Maine Kiwans Club—best of luck to you, Dick.

I've just had a letter forwarded to me from Pennsylvania, believe me it was one that I was very happy to receive. It was from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and written by Betty (Jenkins) Lightner. The Lightners have recently moved to 144 Abbeyville Road, Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh 28, Penn. LeRoy, Betty, and Karen Jeanne, their 13 month old daugh- ter, seem very enthusiastic about their new move. Roy is with a branch of Bell Telephone Company, in Lead, and Grove as an advertising executive.

I wish I could have had the 1946 directory in time to send you some much needed addresses for Christmas mailing; however, I think that each month I'll try and list some addresses from particularly long-unheard-from class members. Perhaps if we list a wrong address we'll get a note bringing us up to date on their moves and changes.

Mrs. Clyde R. Farrell (Betty Jean Al- len) is living at 249 Center Street in Old Town, Maine. Kenneth W. Anderson who received his B. A. from the University in '49 and his M. Miss Dorothy McCann 6 Gothic St., So. Paris

Dorothy Hubbard is a graduate student and teaching assistant in the Psychology Department at Cornell.

Tom McGurr is way out in Kansas City, Mo., where he is a dental student at the Univ. of Kansas City.

James MacLeod is working for the minter's degree at Cornell.

Dottie Merrill is a psychiatric aid at the Institute of Living in Hartford.

Malcolm Ochman is doing graduate work at Harvard Law School.

Donald Wyland is a graduate assistant in a department of bacteriology at the Univ. of Connecticut.

In the teaching department out of state we have:

Joan Blanchard, instructor in phys. ed. for women at the Univ. of New Hamp- shire in Durham.

Ed Mustekis is the science and radio teacher in Lawrence, Mass., at the high school.

Connie Berry is teaching phys. ed. in the elementary grades in West Hartford. James Holmborn is also in West Hartford as the art teacher in the elementary grades.

It seems that West Hartford is a popular place because Sherman Rowles is also there teaching art and English at the Plant Junior High School.

Joy Bott is teaching 7th grade at the Borough School, Norwich, Connecticut.

Bobby Woodbury is teaching 5th grade in Harwich, Mass.

Mrs. Lois L. Hammond of Falmouth, Mass., is teaching Home Ec in Falmouth.

And in the kindergarten amid the confus- outs and cutups we find Marnie Murray.

And then, of course, there are those out of the state not by choice but by call.

I received a very nice letter from Lt. Richard Locke who is now at a ten weeks' infantry motor transport course. Upon completion of this course he will go to Fort Dix, New Jersey. By the way, Dick was married to Elsie Morgare at Princeton, Georgia, June 28. Congratulations and thanks for the letter! I also got letters from Bill Ruby and Dick Knight. Bill is at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, and finds it hard to study.

Dick Knight is taking a twenty-one week's officer's training course at Quantico, Va. He has his commission in the Marines and has two years to go.

Bernie Joy's at Fort Dix, New Jersey—no vacationing either.

Jim Plunkett is now Air Cadet Plun- kett at Harlingen Air Force Base, Texas. Jim joined the Air Force so he could fly wherever he was sent. Last time seen, Air Cadet Plunkett was boarding a train in Union Station in Portland.

George Bryant is in the Air Force too. Wonder what his reason is?

Lt. Harold C. Toyle is home from Korea. He served in Japan ten months and in Korea eight. He is now at Fort Sills, Oklahoma, attending school.

Now, of course, there are a few who stayed in the state of Maine and nobody is with the Travelers Companies in Bangor. Eden Fort is doing social work in Bangor. After the first of the year, he is going to B.U. for graduate study.

Walt Schurman is the assistant editor of the "Piscataquis Observer" in Dover- Foxcroft. Boy, Walt, I could sure use your help when I edit this.

Mrs. Samuel Harris (Rosemary White) is a lab technician with the Great Northern Paper Company in East Millinocket, Maine.

Sanat Majmudar from Bombay, India, is also at the Great Northern Paper Company. Sanat received his master's degree from Maine and recently wrote and expressed his thanks for all that had done for him to make his stay so pleasant. Good luck in your new job, Sanat.

Also, those in the state of Maine and as school teachers in the state of confusion, I bet, as I sometimes am. Since Teachers' Convention and Homecoming came the same week end. I was lucky to see some of the kids and find out where they are teaching.

Ruth Burrill is teaching French and English at Phillips High School. Like so many of us, Ruth finds that they understand French but have trouble with Eng- lish.
Choirs were cold in early Portland winters. The tears were hard and uncomfortable. The sermons and prayers were seemingly interminable. It was not until 1820 that stoves became common in meeting houses. Prior to that time foot-stoves of tin in a wood frame, containing a sheet-iron pan filled with live coals from the home fireplace, were used to warm the feet of worshippers. But the church itself remained bitterly cold. Parson Smith and Dr. Deane mention in their book that the baptismal water froze so hard during the service, many times they could hardly break it.

The first house of worship in Portland to be warmed by stove was that of the Quakers, on the south corner of Lincoln Park. The stove was a large box-like affair set in the middle aisle, with loose bricks piled on the top. Three bricks, when warmed by the fire in the stove, were taken to the teans by the members of the congregation, for the comfort of the warmth they held.

The stove was both a wonder and the subject of ridicule by the members of other churches, whose ministers and deacons were slow to adopt the "big city" idea of making worshippers comfortable.

Several years after the stove was installed in the Quaker meeting house, the First Parish Church on Congress Street purchased a stove. But the idea that it was just a "big city" luxury still held in some quarters, apparently, for when the church was demolished to make way for the present stone structure, there, hidden carefully in the rafters of the old church, were all the little tin foot-stoves, some with their own dome painted on them. The wardens and vestrymen, in their wisdom, had these foot-warmers carefully preserved, thinking, perhaps, that the new way of warming churches was just a short-lived Boston notion, and the little stoves would be needed again.
