A Chance Acquaintance . . .

. . . Leads To $169,000 Bequest

Edward D. Hemingway was born in England but lived most of his life in Philadelphia. He went to a private school but never attended college, a fact which he seemed to regret.

Early in life he entered the paper business established by his father. He married a Philadelphian who was described as “charming.” Mr. and Mrs. Hemingway were lovers of nature and outdoor life. Their admiration of the beauties of the State of Maine led them to build a summer home in Washington County to which they came for many years. Ultimately they became citizens of the state.

The Hemingways travelled extensively after retirement. On one of their trips they happened to meet a young Maine alumnus who was working for an advanced degree. Mr. Hemingway attended the Commencement at Maine when this student received his degree. As a result of that interest and the impressions he gained of the University and its students from his rare visits to the campus, he decided he would like to be helpful to the University.

When his will was probated in 1950 it was learned that he had left $169,164 to the University to establish the Helen B. Hemingway Fund in memory of his wife. The income and principal of this fund may be used at the discretion of the Trustees for scholarship awards to worthy students. The Trustees voted to use the income only for scholarships to be awarded to “worthy and needy” students.

This year 83 students have received Helen B. Hemingway Memorial scholarships. In this way the memories of the Hemingways are being usefully perpetuated. Their names are forever recorded as generous benefactors of the University of Maine.
Christmas Greetings

December at the University is a colorful, exciting month. Cold, frosty North winds and deep snows... dazzling brilliant morning sunlight... bright colored coats, scarfs, stocking caps... stinging ears and running noses... skis and snowshoes... snowball fights... skating on the cracking, groaning ice at the MOC cabin.

A gray-stone fireplace glowing with warm reds and yellows of burning logs... hot coffee and Christmas carols after a sleigh ride through moon-sparking white woods... Christmas Vespers with the smell of balsam and pine... Christmas wreaths with pine cones and red ribbon.

Slush... rain... glazed highways... automobiles with snow-treads and chains... a call for a wrecker... a dent in the new car.

Vacations... and six more days until Christmas... home.

Santa Claus and the wide open eyes of a six-year-old... a long red stocking on the mantelpiece... a new train... a pipe for Dad... a pair of gloves for Mom... lend-lease gifts for the aunts and uncles.

Mistletoe and holly... Christmas dinner with the relatives... a glass of deep red wine... baked turkeys and meats... bubbling brown gravy... the smells of hot deep-freezer vegetables... an afternoon snooze.

As the seasons roll along—spring, summer, autumn, winter and spring again, each season is anxiously awaited. The end of the snow and cold of winter, warm breezes and sunshine of spring and summer, the autumn brilliance and dazzling crisp days, and then, winter, with white snow and Christmas festivities.

We believe that winter and December is one of the finest times of the year. Old Man Winter makes a lot of enemies as he teams up with a little red-faced gent called Jack. Frost to gleefully paint the landscape white and sparkling in readiness for another red-faced gent called Santa, but we think that the Old Man has a jovial spirit which culminates at Christmas time.

Winter and December is a time for everyone. We hope you enjoy it as much as we do.
A Cooperative Graduate State in

BY RALPH CLARK '54

EIGHT Maine alumni and one University professor hold in their hands the future of Maine fisheries.

This statement was made by Roland H. Cobb '17, recently re-appointed Commissioner of the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Game for a second consecutive three-year term.

He was speaking about Dr. W. Harry Everhart, who occupies the dual position of assistant professor of Zoology at the University and Director of the Maine Fishery Research and Management Division of the Inland Fisheries and Game Department, and the eight men who have participated in the cooperative program sponsored by the Maine fishery division and the University.

Many of the graduate students who have taken part in this program are now full-time employees of the State as regional fishery biologists. The eight men who aid in this service are Lyndon H. Bond ’44, assistant leader in the State fishery division and coordinator of the Dingell-Johnson federal aid fund; Stuart E. DeRoche ’50, Sebago; Carl N. Fenderson ’50, Moosehead, Robert E. Foye ’44, Belgrade; Keith A. Havey ’50, Washington and Hancock, Robert S. Rupp ’50, Rangeley, Kendall Warner ’50, Aroostook; and John E. Watson ’47, Penobscot.

Assistantships Offered

The Fish and Game Department annually offers to graduate fishery management students at the University two financial and materialistic assistantships. These assistantships aid graduate study for the student at the University, while at the same time, the student's University training is utilized by the State.

The present State-University cooperative plan was instigated three years ago during Commissioner Cobb's first three-year term as head of the Fish and Game Department although a program, not as complete in scope as the present plan, had existed many years before this time.

Under the unique arrangement, the State contributes generously with assistantships involving full expenses for each graduate's project together with transportation expenses necessitated by his work.

Men engaged in this program have the use of the latest modern equipment in the fishery department and have full reign to use any such equipment as the need requires. A new sonic sounder, used in mapping the depths of Maine lakes, is one example of available equipment.

Two-Way Thesis

Graduate students on completion of their project receive their Master's degree, while at the same time, these students have directly aided the State with a definite fish management problem.

Theses are submitted to the University and the conclusions are applied to the State fishery program and results of the projects are utilized in the statewide management of fishery problems.

Watson, as an example of a graduate's project, made it possible for the State to prevent unnecessary restrictions of fishing pressure on Big Lake, Princeton, Maine. The data in his thesis, based on information from his project, disclosed the fact that additional fishing would not hurt the fish population in that particular lake. In another instance, Bond and DeRoche studied obstructions to fish migration in the State which resulted in the removal of some obstructions and in the construction of fishways in other routes of migration.

Range of Projects

Projects range in scope from a study of improvement of habitat for brook trout and land locked salmon on Mount Desert Island to a study of white perch in Sebasticook Lake, Newport, Maine.

Students also have an opportunity to practice public relations while engaged in their individual projects. Often they speak to sportsman and community groups. As an example, Rupp addressed the Northeastern Section of American Fisheries Society's conference in Bretton Woods last September. His talk, which gained nationwide attention, told of his use.
Students Aid Fishery Problems

results in determining that fly fishing was more effective than bait fishing in brook angling—a subject of long controversy among many sportsmen.

Dr. Everhart, coordinator of the State-University program, is widely recognized for his work in managing Maine's salmon and trout fisheries. He received his B.S. degree at Westminster College in 1940, his M.S. degree at the University of Pittsburgh in 1942, and his Ph D degree at Cornell University in 1948.

Pioneer Publication

Dr. Everhart is a co-author of Fishery Science, the first book to approach fishery science with the general philosophy that freshwater and marine fisheries management are essentially similar.

As another example of State-University cooperation is the publication entitled Fishes of Maine. State appropriated and written by Dr. Everhart, the book aids Maine fishermen in identifying the fishes of the State, history of each fish, and information concerning the age, growth and food of the fish.

Maine Lakes—A Sportsman's Inventory was cooperatively written by Dr. Everhart and the eight regional biologists who have received their training through the State-University program.

Designed to give Maine fishermen an understanding of the fish management program, the newly-published inventory is gaining wide attention from sportsmen. The publication, in loose-leaf format, contains an introduction giving the purpose of the inventory, an index of lake surveys completed through 1952, and an opportunity to include copies of as many of the surveys as each sportsman desires. Types of fishes found in each lake, physical characteristics of the lake, and suggested management are aptly described in layman's language.

The State-University program, through the efforts of Dr. Everhart and our own University alumni is showing great promise in aiding one of Maine's greatest assets—fishing for the sportsman.

Geology Conference

Dr. Joseph M. Trefethen, professor of geology at the University, attended a geology conference at Beloit College, Beloit, Wisconsin, from October 30-November 1.

Professor Trefethen was invited to attend the conference along with 24 geology department heads from various small colleges throughout the nation by President Carey Croness of Beloit.

During the conference the geologists discussed curriculum and research problems.

Paper Accepted

Dr. Marie C. Mengers, assistant professor of French in the department of modern language and classics, has received confirmation of the acceptance of a paper in comparative literature for presentation at the Modern Language Association convention in Chicago in December.

Before the Anglo-French Group she will read the paper entitled: "Matter Versus Man, or Regnier's Lyrical Integration, Hugo's Dream of Triumph and Arnold's Abduction."

Dr. Mengers joined the department at the University in September, 1947, and received her promotion to assistant professor in 1950.

Campus Road Named

A University professor has been honored by having one of the principal campus thoroughfares named in his memory.

The so-called "Farm Road" which is the southerly entrance to the campus from Route 2 has been named Munson Road in honor of Dr. Welton Marks Munson, who was professor of horticulture and pomologist at the University in the 1890's and the professor "who did outstanding landscaping work on the Maine campus" during his tenure at the University.

Selection of the new name for the campus road was made by a student-faculty committee on Campus Development. Trustees of the University later approved the committee's recommendation.

Study Of Liturgy

Dr. Robert K. Sherk, instructor in classics and German, will work with two professors of Brooklyn College in compiling "a picture of compulsory public service (the original meaning of liturgy) in the entire ancient world: Egypt, Greece the Greek East, Italy, and the Western Provinces."

Dr. Sherk, whose activity is of considerable importance to the world of classical scholarship, has been awarded a grant from the Penrose Fund of the American Philosphical Society in order to carry out his part of the research work.

Dr. Sherk has the responsibility of reading all the epigraphical (inscriptional) sources. All pertinent data is placed on file cards under appropriate headings. The material done has already covered 7,000 cards and is not yet completed. The book—or books—to be written on the liturgy will be published in about four or five years.

Bitterly cold and heavy rains failed to reduce attendance or enthusiasm of the thousands of alumni who returned to Orono for the 53rd Homecoming on November 6-7.

Wrapped in layers of wool clothing and sporting a variety of rain covers, the returning grad almost ignored the inclement weather and participated wholeheartedly in the many activities Francis McGurke '31 and his Homecoming Committee had arranged.

The festivities opened on Friday night with the traditional Homecoming Rally and Bonfire. Representing the alumni at this "Beat Bowdoin" Rally was A D T Libby '98 whose pep-talk scored a hit with alumni, faculty and students alike. Campus Mayor Norman "Doc" Brochu '56 led his student participants in a hilarious and enthusiastic program. The huge bonfire which followed the rally was marked by lively singing and cheers. The Maine Masque Theatre production of "Stalag 17" was very well done and well received by capacity crowds on both Friday and Saturday evenings.

Wet Maine Victory

The highlighted Bowdoin-Maine game on a blustery Sunday afternoon resulted in a score most pleasing to the thousands of Maine fans among the 9,600 hardy people who braved the storm to watch. In a game which, at times, resembled water polo, the Black Bears scuttled Bowdoin 35 to 7.

Saturday noon found a capacity alumni-crowd at the Homecoming Luncheon in Memorial Gym which honored the Championship Football Team of 1928 introduced by Alumni Association Vice President Thomas G. Mangan '16, who served as Luncheon Toastmaster. Dean Joseph Murray '25, representing President Hauck whose presidency of the Land Grant College Association made it impossible for him to be on campus for the Luncheon, and Dr James Coles, President of Bowdoin College.

Black Bear Awards

Three Black Bear Awards were presented at the Luncheon in recognition of outstanding service in promoting University spirit. Receiving this coveted award were Harold L. Bruce '20, Manager of the University Store Company, Prof. Chester A Jenkins, Track and Cross-Country Coach, and A D T Libby '98, returning President of the Senior Alumni.

Nine members of the 1928 Varsity Football Squad were guests, with their wives, at the Luncheon and were presented to the attending alumni.

The availability of the new Memorial Union proved to be a splendid asset to the Homecoming activities. Many social events and informal gatherings were held there during both days. Alumni, faculty, and students mingled freely during these activities. On Saturday morning, a "Colleges Coffee" was held in the Union's Main Lounge. Alumni met there to visit with old faculty friends. Each college and the School of Education was well represented by their faculty and the occasion proved pleasant for all.

Following the Rally and Bonfire on Friday evening, many alumni gathered at the Memorial Union to enjoy the Homecoming Open House, while others danced in Memorial Gym. The Graduate "M" Club met following the rally for their Annual Meeting. The All-Maine Women sponsored "After-The-Game Get-Together" in Memorial Gym immediately following the Bowdoin game proved to be most successful. Cold and wet alumni and friends gathered there to visit over hot coffee and to allow the heavy traffic to clear before heading onto the highways.

Fraternity Reunions

In spite of the heavy rains, the dormitories and fraternity houses managed to decorate the campus in gay fashion. Many new and original decorations blosomed over the fronts of the dorms and fraternity houses. Silver Plates, awarded by the General Alumni Association, for the best decorations, went to Sigma Chi, Chadbourne Hall, and Dunn Hall.

The gaily decorated fraternities boomed with laughter and music Saturday evening as returning alumni visited their old houses and enjoyed the fraternity social events of the evening. Suppers, dances, and entertainment were available throughout "Fraternity Row" and near-record crowds were experienced.

Yes, Homecoming, 1953, proved that neither "rain, sleet, or snow" can keep loyal Maine alumni away from "Their Day" at the University of Maine.

The Alumni Homecoming Luncheon on November 7 honored the Championship Football Team of 1928. Nine members of the "first string" squad were present to receive the tribute.

Members of the 1928 team who were present at the Table of Honor for the Luncheon were James Buzzell, Chelmsford, Mass., 1928 Team Captain; Jack Moran, Bangor, Louis Airoldi, Lee, Mass., Lyman Gray, Dover-Foxcroft, Ralph Davis, Brattleboro, Vermont, Harrison Moyer, Moorerville, New Jersey, Earl Gowell, South Portland, Kenneth Young, Brighton, Mass., and Eugene Vail, Worcester, Mass.

The Team of 1928 lost only one game in seven. That loss was to a powerful Yale team. In the New England Conference, the 1928 squad defeated Rhode Island and New Hampshire, finished a scoreless tie with Connecticut, and emerged New England Conference Champions.

In the Maine State Series, the 1928 team shut-out Bates and Bowdoin, and ran another scoreless tie with Colby on a rainy day which compared with the 1953 Bowdoin game day the returning '28ers witnessed. Maine and Colby were Co-Champions of the 1928 State Series.
The 1953 Selection Committee voted a Black Bear Award to a gentleman who, while an alumnus of Dartmouth College, is a true "Maine Man." Holding a Master of Science degree from Maine, he has had a great career in education, having taught at Governor Dummer Academy, the Huntington School, and served as Assistant Professor of Chemistry at Bates College. Moreover, he served on the academic staff in the Department of Chemistry at the University during World War II. However, his well-earned fame has been in the field of athletic coaching. Serving as track coach at Bates College from 1921 to 1928, he came to Maine as Coach of Track and Cross Country in 1928, and has had a truly outstanding career of 25 years coaching service to the University. Both he and his teams, during this quarter-century period, have received national recognition. Not the least among his outstanding accomplishments has been the friendly and wise guidance he has given to hundreds of Maine men who have been fortunate enough to experience his coaching. One of our 1953 Black Bear Awards is presented to Professor of Physical Education, COACH CHESTER A. JENKINS of Orono.

The 1953 Selection Committee voted a Black Bear Award to a gentleman who has brought credit to the University of Maine over parts of two centuries. His name is among the first to come to the minds of alumni when considering "Maine Spirit." A graduate of the University in the Class of 1898, he received his degree while serving in the Spanish-American War. Later receiving the degree of Electrical Engineer, he was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in 1951. Ever youthful in action and spirit, this gentleman is a popular speaker at University rallies and pep meetings. An "M" man since before the turn of the century, his interest in athletics and team competition has never waned. He is a Past-President of the New York Alumni Association and Past-President and "spark" of the Senior Alumni organization. In spite of an active and successful career in the field of engineering, this gentleman, now a well-known patent attorney, has always found time to visit the Orono campus at least once a year. It is a real pleasure to recognize his outstanding service by presenting the Black Bear Award to A. D. T. LIBBY, Class of 1898, Newark, New Jersey.

The 1953 Selection Committee has voted a Black Bear Award to an alumnus who for twenty-five years has left his constructive mark for good on the Maine campus, and among the alumni body. Immediately following his graduation from Maine in 1920, he engaged in the teaching profession for a short period, later serving with the General Ice Cream Corporation. He came to the University in 1929 as Manager of the University Store Company, "The Bookstore," as it is affectionately known to students and alumni. He has held this position since that time. Under his leadership, the University Store Company has left physical evidence of its loyalty and generosity throughout the campus. Equally as important as the visible evidence of material generosity as seen in the University's athletic facilities, band uniforms, "M" sweaters, etc., are the unseen contributions of this man to a better Maine. Unknown, probably for all time, are the many personal gestures of kindness and sympathetic understanding as experienced by many students through the years. It is with much affection and genuine pleasure that we present the Black Bear Award to HAROLD L. BRUCE, Class of 1920, Hampden, Maine.

Smith Receives Degree—
Archibald Van Smith ’29, general manager, Aridol division of Ball Brothers, Chicago, was one of 79 Chicago executives awarded master of business administration degrees at the University of Chicago’s two hundred fifty-eighth convocation last August.

Smith, before serving in his present position as general manager, was vice president of Homelite Corporation, Port Chester, N. Y., during 1938-46, and manager of the Lincoln Division of Lehn and Fink Products Corp., Lincoln, Illinois, from 1946-48.

Korean Military Advisor—
Major Harold C. Potter ’42 is now serving as senior advisor to the 561st Signal Operations Battalion of the Republic of Korea Army. Potter is a veteran of 19 years’ Army service and holds the European-African-Middle Eastern Theatre Ribbon with three campaign stars.

Wallingford Receives Award—
V. H. Wallingford ’19 has been awarded the Chilean Iodine Educational Bureau Award for his research on a new x-ray contrast medium, sodium acetrizoate. Wallingford is director of organic research and development at Mallinckrodt Chemical Works, Salt Lake City, Utah.

The award is given by the nonprofit organization of importers of crude Chilean iodine to encourage research and recognition of medical and pharmaceutical applications of iodine.

Presentation of the award, consisting of a diploma and $1000, was made at the 100th national meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Association recently in Salt Lake City.

Appointments Made—
President Martin J. Lydon of the Lowell Technological Institute has appointed two new staff members to the Paper Engineering Department.

Norwood H. Keeney ’50 has been named assistant professor and has charge of the paper converting courses. Keeney received his Master of Science degree in Chemical Engineering (Pulp and Paper) from the University.

Horace N. Lee ’11 has been named as an instructor and has charge of the courses in paper technology, paper microscopy, and testing.

Constructive Hobby—
Here’s a new twist to the fire-fighting profession.

Robert S. Peacock ’50 has developed a fire department for his father’s R. J. Peacock Canning Co. of Lubec, Maine, and it’s also available to fight any blaze in the Down East seaside community area.

After his graduation from the University, Bob joined the family firm. With his father, Carroll, who also is a volunteer firefighter, he began building a fire department.

He expanded the pumping system, sucking up ocean water. He acquired a trailer with a 500-gallon water tank, a pump, 1000 feet of hose, a floating dock nozzle which can propel itself under wharf fires, smoke masks, an asbestos suit and a crew of trained men. All his firemen are cannery plant employees.

“We go out when the fire appears too big for the town fire department to handle alone,” Peacock said. “Since I’m a member of the regular Lubec department, I go out with the first call. If it looks bad enough, I come back and get out our equipment rolling.”

Russell Appointed—
J. Weldon Russell ’32 has been named superintendent of Lewiston public schools. Russell resumed his duties Nov. 16.

Russell has been employed in private industry as a steam engineer, a member of Stearns High School faculty as a science instructor and guidance director, and later, as assistant principal; principal of Howland High School, and later, principal of Calais High School, and as superintendent of Calais-Woodland School Union.

Before his Lewiston appointment, Russell was superintendent of the Rockland-Rockport-Matinecus school district.

Unusual Forestry Plan—
William H. Messecr, Jr. ’37, New Hampshire State Forester, has outlined plans for the state’s Forestry department that would save the taxpayers $180,000 a year. The plan, which is described as probably the most unusual state venture in the nation, would concentrate the department’s forestry program in 40 or less centers and would permit the agency to acquire 150,000 acres of land now going to waste.

It is expected that the new plan will become fully self-supporting within 30 years.

Messecr was assistant manager of a hardwood flooring company in Memphis, Tenn., before going to war in 1942. He served as commander of a forestry engineers battalion and gained considerable experience after World War II helping the Germans rehabilitate their forest areas to improve the nation’s economy.

FACULTY

DONALD S. WALKER SCHOLARSHIP FUND

A scholarship fund of $14,558 has been established at the University by Donald S. Walker of Liberty and New York City, according to Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president.

The income of this fund, to be called the Donald S. Walker Scholarship Fund, is to be used annually to provide scholarship aid for one or more worthy students who are residents of Liberty, Appleton, Montville, Palermo or Searsmont.

Dr. Hauck said the aid will start next year as soon as the income of the fund has built up.

Coach Harold "Westy" Westerman, his assistants, and the members of the football squad, wish to express their thanks to the many homecoming alumni who gave the team such grand support for the Bowdoin Game by "sitting-out" the victory in the cold and extremely damp weather.

VARSITY FOOTBALL
BY MAURICE HICKEY '56

The University of Maine's varsity football team, gaining momentum as they struggled through the tough Yankee Conference, found their bearings in the State Series, and when the dust and the mud had settled, Hal Westerman's Black Bears had annexed its second series title within three years.

The Bears compiled an all-time high scoring record in a single series, as they steamrolled over Bates, 37-7, Colby, 45-13, and Bowdoin, 35-7, thus stamping Maine in a class by themselves as far as football at Maine colleges goes.

By recording victories in its last three games, Maine ended the season with a 4-2-1 record. The other Bear victory came over the University of Vermont, 13-0, while they lost to Rhode Island, 13-7, and New Hampshire, 21-6. Connecticut tied with Maine, 18-18, in the final YC game.

An undermanned Bates college team was the first to fall before the crushing ground attack of the Bears in the State Series by a score of 37-7 at Lewiston.

Ed Bogdanovich, the bruising Maine fullback, who along with Vince Calenda, subbing for the ineligible Dave Wiggin, sparked Maine in the Bates game. The "Bog" ran circles around the 'Cats with his quick thrusts and bruising speed. Bogdanovich got the Bears off on the right foot in the first period when he roared 42 yards to the Bates five from where he plunged over two plays later.

Big Ed was the spark that turned the game into a rout. Bogdanovich dispelled any ideas of Bates to rebound from a 14-7 deficit at halftime. When he took the third period kickoff off his bootstraps on his own goal line and moved down the middle. With his mates displaying their best down field blocking all year long, Bogdanovich cut to the left and was finally hauled down on the Bates 20 yard marker to set up the Bear's third touchdown moments later.

The victory over Bates brought out the facts that Maine had a dependable extra point kicker in guard Tommy Golden, who kicked four straight, and that the reserve bench had the power to move the ball.

Hal Westerman's team traveled to Waterville the next weekend and registered their second straight Series victory by knocking off Colby's Mules by a record 45-13 score.

Pacing the Bears this time was Calenda in the backfield. The elusive 170 pound halfback played his best game as he led the six touchdown barrage with three T.D.'s, which gave the Providence lad five touchdowns in two games.

Also scoring for Maine against the hopelessly outclassed Mules were Ernie Smart, Ed Bogdanovich, Ken Woodsum, and Warren Griffin. Bogdanovich and Griffin both ran back pass interceptions for their scores in Colby's disastrous third period.

Once Maine stuck close to the ground passing a minimum number of times, The Bears relied on sheer power except for a touchdown pass from Bogdanovich to Woodsum that covered 15 yards.

In the meantime Bowdoin's Polar Bears had defeated both Colby and Bates in both games.

The experts rated Maine a one touchdown favorite over Bowdoin when the two teams met at Alumni field at Maine's 53rd annual homecoming game.

A driving rain that turned Alumni field into a soggy patch of mud before the game gave added advantage to the crushing ground plays of Maine, while at the same time severely hampered the passing style of Bowdoin's Jack Cosgrove.

Flaky halfback Calenda got Maine off and running its 35-7 victory in the opening period when he grabbed a handoff from quarterback Steve Novick and followed Bogdanovich through the left side of Bowdoin's line to score from three yards out. Guard Tommy Golden place-kicked the extra point, the first of five for the afternoon.

Calenda, behind a fleet of blockers, dashed over the goal line again in the second quarter by racing 24 yards around end. This last touchdown gave Calenda seven touchdowns for a single series and tied the previous mark set in 1936 by Dr. Barney Marcus of Bates.

The Bears went ahead 21-0 in the early moments of the third period when Ernie Smart capped a 21 yard drive by plunging over from the one yard line. The score was set up when Golden blocked a fourth down punt.

Fullback Mel Totman gave the Bowdoin rooters their only chance to cheer minutes later as he grabbed Golden's kickoff and ran 92 yards to score.

Maine put the game out of Bowdoin's reach shortly afterwards when Woodsum made a spectacular one hand catch of Bogdanovich's pass on the 15 yard line and went all the way.

Shortly after, Cosgrove tried to kick out of danger. The slippery ball went through his hands and Maine took over on the Bowdoin 7 from where Smart bowled over for four plays later.

A desperate flurry of Bowdoin passed in the fourth quarter did not prove effective as coach Westerman emptied the Maine bench for the third week in a row.

Playing a major factor in the victory was Maine's staunch forward wall plus the failure of Bowdoin to get underway any resemblance to a passing attack.

An expected crowd of 10,500 was cut to 9,500 at game time, but the driving wind and cold took an even heavier toll at halftime sending the crowds more scurrying for shelter. Only a few hardy football fans stayed to the end to watch Maine add the frosting to its homcoming week end.

Playing their last varsity football game for Maine were seniors Co-captains Ed Cianchette, Pittsfield, and Bogdanovich, Providence, R. I., Ron Perry, Portland; Clay Beal, Greene; Lucien Garneau, Rumford, Tom Pike, North Bridgton; Vince Calenda and Dick McGee, both of Providence, R. I.; Charles Furlong, Vineyard, N. J.; John "Billy" McCann, Bangor, and Steve Novick, East Walpole, Mass.

Dave Wiggin, Oakland, who has been ineligible for State Series play, is also a senior.

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY

The University of Maine's varsity cross country team ended its season by finishing eighth in the annual New England Intercollegiate meet at Boston, and by taking 16th place among 22 colleges in the IC4A at New York on November 16.
Coach Chester “Chet” Jenkins’ men did not have the depth to win any of these team meets including the Yankee Conference meet when the Jenkinsmen were nosed out of first place by a well balanced University of Massachusetts club.

Several sophomores on the varsity team this fall show great promise. Paul Firlotte, Ellsworth, is rapidly notching himself a mark as one of Maine’s all time cross country greats. In the Yankee Conference meet he made the third best time ever recorded, 22:18.5, over the treacherous University of New Hampshire course. Paul Hanson, Houlton, cemented individual honors for the Pale Blue thrirds in that meet, finishing 15 yards behind the fleet Firlotte.

Stan Furrow, the third of Jenkins’ top sophomores, cornered tenth position to give Maine three men among the top ten finishers.

The team scores at the YC cross country meet were Massachusetts, 44, Maine, 60, Rhode Island, 78, New Hampshire, 94, Connecticut, 106, Vermont, 107.

Previous to the YC meet, Firlotte toured the Maine course just two seconds shy of the record with the time of 20 minutes and 53.3 seconds in Maine’s 1936 victory over Vermont.

In the New England meet at Boston Firlotte placed fifth behind top competition that included New England’s record holding two miler, Ed Shea, and Johnny Kelley, who was the first American across the finish line at the Boston Marathon race last year.

In the IC4A meet Maine had a total of 400 points. Michigan State won the title for the third straight year.

Running for the Bears were Firlotte, Hanson, Furrow, Garnett Dow, Dave Dearing, Fred Libby, and Capt. Col. Haskell.

Varsity football letters were awarded to 30 men on the Black Bear State eleven championship football team on November 18 at the annual Fall Athletic Award banquet held in the Cafe teria.

Forty-seven freshman football team members received numerals, while seven cross country men were given varsity letters. Cross country numerals went to ten freshmen.

Faculty Manager Ted Curtis introduced Dave Wiggins, Oakland, president of the Student Athletic Association, who presented as toastmaster.

Wiggins gave a brief talk and in turn introduced the respective coaches of the various fall sports, who gave out the letters and numerals. Coaches attending were Hal Westerman, head football coach, Chester Jenkins, coach of varsity and freshman cross country, and Sam Sezak, freshman football.

Also presented trophies were Erwin Kennedy, Saco, winner of the fall varsity golf tournament.

All fall sports participants were invited to the banquet.

Cross Country major “M” letters went to David Dearing, Garnett Dow, Paul Firlotte, Stanley Furrow, Paul Hanson, Colwyn F. Haskell, Fred W. Libby.

Freshman cross country 1957 numerals were presented to Leon Aker, Benjamin Day, Thomas Eldridge, Harry Folster, Kenneth Hall, Irwin Hyman, Karl Kraske, David Lukert, John Nolan, Joel Stinson, Robert Cattle, assistant manager.

FRESHMAN SPORTS

Coach Sam Sezak’s freshman football team had to go all out to defeat a surprisingly strong Maine Central Institute eleven, but the frosh pulled through to take a 12-6 victory and register an undefeated season.

Bill Green, Ardmore, Pa., the frosh's capable finger, played quarterback, while Ray Hostetter, Osterville, Mass, and Wes English, Ardmore, Pa., held down the halfback positions. Fairfield's Andy Raffety started at fullback.

Seventy-three Freshmen answered Coach Hal Woodbury's call for frosh basketball candidates in preparation for the yearlings' basketball opener against Ricker on December 10 here.

The schedule:

Dec. 10 Ricker
Dec. 12 Aroostook State Teachers College
Jan. 14 Maine Maritime
Jan. 16 Husson
Feb. 6 Hebron Academy
Feb. 9 Farmington State Teachers College (jayvees)
Feb. 13 MCI
Feb. 20 Madawaska Training School
Feb. 22 Higgins

Freshman indoor track coach Chester Jenkins, still busy with the cross country teams, had not yet called out the yearlings.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The lack of height on the University of Maine's basketball team this year is causing head Coach Rome Rankin plenty of headaches as the Black Bear preps for its opener with the University of Vermont here on December 5.

Gone from last year's outfit are high scoring Johnny Norris of Bangor, a six foot five inch center who led all Maine scores last year with 395 points in 17 games for an average of 22.6. Also missing this year is Bob Churchill, six foot four inch forward, and Woody Carville, the Bear's ace rebounder last season.

Back are Bob Nixon, Keith Mahaney, John Dana, Alan Phiblick, and Don Arnold. Rankin will build his team around this small nucleus of men.

Nixon, a slick back court man, and Mahaney, who developed rapidly into a star as a sophomore last year for Maine, are capable and tested performers at the guard slots. Dana, another junior, also saw considerable service at guard last year, and he gives Rankin added depth at that position.

The center and forward positions left vacant by the departure of Norris, Churchill and Carville will probably be replaced this year by shorter but fast and clever ballhandlers.

Rankin was quoted as saying, "The boys have a lot of enthusiasm and promise which I hope will overcome the height problem that is definitely a serious obstacle we will have to overcome."

In response to my search for news, I received two fine letters for which I was extremely grateful. One came from Philip Marsh, who is listed in our class, but graduated in the class of 1929. He is Associate Professor of English in Miami University of Ohio, Ohio. It is a college of over 5,000, stressing liberal arts. He received his M.A. at Harvard, and a Ph.D. at California. Last summer he went to Alaska, driving up and back.

My other letter was from Joseph H. Moore of Monmouth, Maine. After graduating from Maine, he unfortunately had an attack of polio. While recovering, he worked on the home farm and did some milk testing for various Breed Associations under the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station. In 1930, the Maine Egg Laying Test at Monmouth was started and he went to work there. The Egg Laying Test was in operation for twenty-two years, and now the entire plant is devoted to the Maine Production and Broilers Test, and he takes care of the Office work. He married a Monmouth girl, and they have four children and five grandchildren. They are much interested in Grange work, and he is Secretary of the Band Boosters Club.

I am still wondering what became of the class of 1916. I received so few answers to the requests for news which I sent out. I do want to express my sincere appreciation to those who do.

1917 Thanks to Charles E. Crossland we have a Homecoming Report on those who were seen back at Alumni Homecoming included Don Crowell of Bangor, Avery Fides of Bowdoinham, Roy Higgins of Springfield, Mass., Everett Hood of Bangor, Helen and Seth Libby of Bar Harbor, Joe McCusker of New York, Richard McKown of Wellesley, Mass., and Charles L. Stephenson of Harpswell.

1918 George M. Carter will again head the Maine March of Dimes. George is both Adjutant General of Maine and State Director of Selective Service.

1919 Paul A. Morris, principal of Harwick High School, has announced his retirement immediately because of poor health. Paul has been principal there since 1928. Previously he taught in Jackson, Bucksport and Berwick, Maine. The Morrises will continue to live on Miles Street, Harwichport, Mass.

35th Reunion, June 18-20, 1954

Recently, Hugh R. MacDonnell moved from Hartsdale, N. Y. to Rye, N. Y. His address in Rye is Box 98.

1920 Dewey W. Courri is now located at 20 Wood Rd., Cape Cottage Branch, So. Portland, Maine.

From Camden, Maine, to Kingfield, Maine, is the move made by Carlton P. Wood.

1921 Mrs. Harold P. Wood (Leta Weymouth) of North Berwick.

Mr. Earle S. Grant, of 93 High Street, Portland, Me., can now be reached at 93 Danforth Street of that same city.

1922 Mrs. Albert E. Libby (Minnie Norrell) of 53 Bayview Ave., So. Portland.

How I wish more of you would follow the glowing example of O. Spurgeon English, M.D., Professor of Psychiatry at Temple University. I wasn’t referring to our classmate’s profession in which he has accomplished himself, but the voluntary letter he wrote in response to my plea for news. Thanks for the most encouraging boost, Spurgeon. I was interested to learn your son, Wesley, is a Freshman at Maine doing pre-medical work. Also, that your wife and you with your three children spend the month of July each year at Echo Lake, Presque Isle, Maine. Yours truly is spending the winter at Inverness, Florida, in the interest of my husband’s health.

1923 Mrs. Norman Torrey (Toni Gould) of 9 Poplar St., Bangor.

As soon as I wrote the Cleaves Stevens that I had twin granddaughters, she started wishing that she had some too. And now a year later she has them! They were born to her daughter, Carol, on October 19th. “Isn’t it marvelous!” said Bea and I’m sure that all of us know what I mean. I talked with her one week end when she and her husband, Carl (1922), were on the campus. Their youngest son, Dan, who is a student at Maine, has had a part in the Masque play. The Stevens are now living at 128 Frances St., Portland.

Bea also told me that she is teaching Elizabeth Ring’s historic classes at Deer High this semester while “Cracker” is attending some special classes at the U. of So. California. She’s also doing some writing and research while out there.

1924 Mrs. Clarence C. Little (Beatrice Johnson) of 100th Ave., Issaquah.

30th Reunion, June 18-20, 1954

Gerald N. Robinson and the Mrs. have recently forwarded their new address; Silver Lake, Gilman, I. W., N. H.

George E. Lord, associate director of the Agricultural Extension Service, spoke on October 29th to the annual meeting of the Cumberland County Agricultural Extension Association at Gorham State Teachers College. George spent nine months last year helping develop European agricultural extension programs. He gave an illustrated talk on “Views and Observations of European Agriculture.”

1925 Mrs. Merrill Henderson (Annie Thurston) of Quechee, Vt.

Commitees, deer season opening, also National Grange meeting here in our Green Mt. State next week, have kept me busy, but the Alumni Office says it’s time for news again.

Frederick A. Soderberg, please drop us a card and tell us how long you expect to be at this new address 27 Clarendon Rd., Albany 3, N Y. Just last month they sent me your address in Rensselaer, N. Y. I’ll be holding for Christmas Greetings with news directly from you. Please don’t let me down.

1926 Mrs. Albert D. Nutting (Leone Dakin) of 17 College Hts., Orono.

Four fine letters came to me this month from '33ers. If this keeps up I am going to thoroughly enjoy being class secretary.

The first came from Tom Desmond of Wellesley Hills. He writes: "A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson in Portland September 29. They have three girls 18, 13, and 9, so this boy will no doubt, be 'king.' Bill is with Bancroft and Martin Steel Company in South Portland."

"Gil Roberts and his wife attended the Rhode Island-Maine game with Mrs. Desmond and me. Gil has two boys and a girl. The boys are 11 and 9 and the girl is 4. Gil is with the Woonsocket Falls Mills in Woonscket, Rhode Island."

"Bob Ingraham, who has a boat (quite a Little Leaguer) and a girl, bought a new home in Lincoln, Mass. He is manager of floor and tile department at Hood Rubber Company in Watertown, Mass."

"I got a letter from Ward Fall last June saying he hoped to get back for commencement, but I guess he did not make it. He works in Washington and lives at 3821 Milan Drive, Alexandria, Va."
1934 Mrs. Robert C. Russ (Maddy Bunker) 17 Chestnutwood Rd., Cape Elizabeth 20th Reunion, June 18-20, 1954 Within our midst we have a well known editor in the person of Edward Driscoll, one of the Milford Citizen. Our latest contact with Edward tells us that he spoke to the Congregational Couples Club of Darien, Conn., which is his home town. At present he is serving his second term as head of the Connecticut Editorial Association, last year he represented Connecticut on the Ninth Annual United States Editors’ Good Will Tour. Recently we have received the whereabouts of Stanwood R. Searles. He is at 119 Nevins Avenue, Longmeadow, Mass.

1935 Mrs. Thomas McGuire (Agnes Crowley) 209 W. 10th St., Apt 3-W, New York 25, N.Y. Another month, and such a lovely one! But it is still time to meet the deadline on news items. The Alumni Office has supplied us again with several addresses that we have long awaited. So, if any of you can supply details to swell the column I do wish you would send it on before another issue. Page Rand, who is with U S Gypsum Company in Lisbon Falls, Maine, is now located at 221 Plummer Street. Bernard Blom, who is a poultry pathologist with General Mills, Inc., is now located at 16249 Fairfield Ave., Box 68, Detroit, Michigan. Colonel Clayton Totman of the United States Marine Corps is now reached at K-C and B-115, M. C. B., Camp Pendleton, California. Ruth Shurtleff Goodwin and Frank are living at 14 Forbes Street, Westport, Mass.

Malcolm Carr, Supt. of the Dartmouth Woolen Mills, Inc., is living at 165 South Street, Claremont, N.H. And so, until another month, when I hope some of you will send us first hand accounts of Homecoming.

1936 Mrs. Edwin P. Webster, Jr. (Phyllis Hamilton) 258 Norwalk Rd., Bangor With the oncoming season there are several addresses which may help send another greeting card: Mrs. Clement Delongh (Gladyss Colwell) lists her occupation as that of a housewife at 13 Collins St., Caribou, Maine. Edward C. Hanson lives at 44 Spring St., St. Johnsbury, Vt. He is owner of the Counsel Co. on 48 Railroad St in St Johnsbury. As a chemical engineer on 234 Atwood St., Pittsburgh 13, Pa., is Thomas F. Reed. His residence address is 318 Old Farm Rd., Pittsburgh 34, Pa. David M. Lull is Chief Compounder for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Vt. His home is at 68 Asentney St., Windsor, Vt.

1937 Mrs. Gordon Raymond (Barb Lancaster) 37 Glenwood Ave., Portland A letter from Mr James A. McFaul states that he has taken over Frost’s clothing store in Eastport. Jack was able to go to Ireland to do his sketches which were mentioned in last month’s column. In the next mail came a note from Jack himself with a sketch of his house which is located at Orleans, Mass., on Cape Cod where he is now living with his family. Thank you for the note, Jack, and I shall be delighted to receive a set of the Irish reproductions. Congratulations to Marge (Murch) and Ken Black ‘35 on the birth of a son, Timothy Allen, born last June. My thanks to Beth and Bob Fuller ‘38 for relaying this bit of information. On a card sent to the Alumni office, Lester Smith, states that he and Betty (Mitchell ‘38) Smith have just moved to 4014 Manitou Way, Madison, Wisconsin, where he is going to do graduate work in Agronomy until June of ‘34. Edison Bartlett of Bangor kindly relayed the information that Alvah Nickerson is teaching school in Corpus Christi, Texas, and his street address is 1005 Acacia Drive. Alvah received his Master’s Degree last year at Texas College and has a daughter attending the University of Texas at Austin.

We have some more changes of address: Mrs. Marvin L. Bain (Nancy Wood) has moved to 764 W. 51st Street, Norfolk 8, Virginia. Commander George Bullard may now receive mail addressed to: U.S.S. Bennington, F P O. New York 13, V. Alan D. Duff, Jr., has moved from Aiken, S. C., to 23 Indian Road, Newark, Delaware.

1938 Mr. Robert Fuller 47 Andrews Ave. Falmouth Foreside, Portland Sure hope I see a lot of new faces at Homecoming. Nov 7th I need someone or something new to write about. Even the Alumni office assistance was very thin this month. Does seem as though when a class secretary will go to personal expense of a trip to New York City just to dig up news for this column, fellows like Gowell and Sherry would stay at home whereby did find out Gowell was doing the week end of Oct 24th, except not answering his phone. However, “dear Buzz” was in Portland hunting for me while I was in N.Y. looking for him. Talked to him later and found that he took his two boys to Lewiston to the Maine-Bates game—where they all enjoyed it. He did see Gordon and Barbara Raymond there and also Richard (Chunke) Ireland. Norman R. Keys has moved from Farmington to 311 Center St., Old Town, Me. He has been appointed Extension Service Dairy Man at the University after more than ten years as Franklin County agent. He is married and has two children, one of each. Have two address change notes to note, Paul C. Woods from Woburn, Mass., to Foundry St., Amherst, N.H. Major and Mrs. Joe Hamlin from Ft. Lee, Va., to Eden St., Bar Harbor, Me.

A note from Link Fish (still calls me Mary) saying that he often sees Lenny Berkowitz in Worcester. Link has two children, both of the other—Sara, six years old, and Susan, four. Did see that old politician, Fred Sturgis hob-nobbing with a bunch of republicans one night. Bill Webber has been signed by Bridgton Academy as head coach in basketball and baseball and assistant in football. He had formerly coached at Caribou and Greenville High Schools. I have always heard that there was a big profit in the furniture business and now I’m sure! Either that or Charlie Lowe has an oil well hidden down there in Camden. He thinks nothing of spending $50.00 just for his dinner alone. No wonder he never showed up at my house to that baked bean supper Oh these young republicans, they’re still here. I’m still waiting for that terrific cooperation from my committee. Remember our slogan—LET’S KEEP A DATE —IN ’58.

Mrs. George C. Grant (Elmira Savage) 49 Kingsley Ave., Rutland, Vt.

As I write this month's column, I sit surrounded by crates and packing boxes—in the midst of the complete chaos created by attempting to move ourselves, two children, a pup, and the contents of a seven room house from Maine to Vermont.

The reason for our move is that George has recently been appointed Branch Manager of the Rutland, Vt., office of the General Adjustment Bureau. He took over his new duties on October 1st after serving for nearly eight years as Senior Adjuster in the Augusta, Me., office of the same company. Needless to say, any and all U. of M. grads in the Rutland area will be most welcome in our new home, and we hope you will be able to make yourselves known to us.

Several of our classmates are making a name for themselves in the teaching profession.

Jeanette Bonville is a member of the French Dept. at the Danvers, Mass., High School. Prior to her present position, Jeanette taught in the Limestone Junior High at Fort Kent, Me., Machias H.S. and Westbrook H.S. She has attended summer sessions at Middlebury College and has also traveled extensively—this last summer touring Europe, spending considerable time visiting provincial France and Switzerland, as well as attending the Sorbonne in Paris. She is a member of the American Association of Teachers of French, and is treasurer of the North Shore Chapter of the University of Maine Alumni Ass'n.

Lois Stimson is also active in Educational circles. After two years as instructor at Westbrook Junior College, she has been appointed to the faculty of Colby Junior College, New London, N. H., where she will be an instructor in secretarial science.

Nathan Rich, who is a professor at U. of M., has returned from Michigan where he has been doing graduate work at the U. of Michigan. He is married and has three children.

It has just occurred to me that although it is still October as I write, it will be well into December when you read this.

So, believe it or not, it's time again to say—Merry Christmas one and all.

1941 Mrs. Valer Marvin (Hilda Rowe) Kennebec Rd., Hampden Highlands

It was wonderful to see so many of our class back for Homecoming even if the weatherman did his best to almost drown us. We never sat through a game when it was any wetter, and I'm sure we would have recognized ever so many more people if they hadn't been so hidden beneath slickers and the rest of their rain gear.

I saw "Brick" Stanley Cowin at the Gym after the game. He is associated with Hollingsworth and Whitney Co. in Waterville, and he and Ruth (Reed) are living there. They have two children, a daughter, 10, and a son, 4. Franny (Sawyer) and Will Alford came back from Conn. They both are fine. Others there included Conine Philbrook Leger, Helen Philbrook, Dick Chuse, Charlene (Perkins) and Walter Strang, and Ruth Green Wright.

I received a letter from John Dyer last week which brings us up to date on his doings of the last few years. In World War II he was an Ensign in the Navy. Then in 1946 he returned to Augusta and was a Tax Consultant at the State House. After that he was Deputy State Purchasing Agent. In April 1952 he was recalled by the Navy. He was appointed as Lt. (Senior Grade) in Sept. 1953. He is now, he says, a captain and has been appointed State Purchasing Agent for Maine. He and his wife are living at Riverside Drive, Augusta. Thank you, John, for your very new letter.

How about a Christmas card from each of you with a few lines of news scribbled on the back. That would be an easy way to sending me your news.

1952 Miss Dorothy McCann 59 Fessenden St., Portland 1st Reunion, June 18-20, 1954. Another HOMECOMING has come and gone and another column is due. In writing this I really feel like an on the scene reporter and a "scoop" and the scoop this month is news of the members of our class seen at HOMECOMING. It seemed wonderful seeing those present at the meeting, and as the old saying goes, everything was "damp" but the spirits of the people.

For those of you who didn't make the meeting Saturday, it was held in the Bumps Room of the Union Building right after the game. Mr. Keyo, our class advisor, and his wife were there, and Mr. Keyo deserves credit for all the help he gives us. Thanks very much, Mr. Keyo.

We served coffee and donuts, a good time was had by all. We also had a guest book, and it is from this that I am getting the info for this month's column. So, on with the show.

The teaching profession took the lead as far as occupations in our guest book. Saturday and especially the Home-Ec teachers. It must indicate that it's here to stay.

Ruthie Drysdale is again at Camden. Gunny Grant is at Skowhegan for his second year. Harriet McKiel went back to Rockland, and it's Mary Jean McIntire's second year at Orono. These Home-Ec teachers all look happy and prosperous, so I guess that teaching agrees with them.

P. J. Bruce is still at Rockland High School teaching speech, but she is not still Miss Bruce. She is now Mrs. Bernard Gardner as of October. Berne is now Lt. Gardner of the U.S.A. stationed in Missouri.

Edward Hackett is teaching at the high school in Milo, Maine.

Barb Bornheimer is a claims adjustor at the Union Mutual Insurance Company.

Wives well represented their husbands at Saturday's meeting, while their husbands loyally sat through the game and then sought refuge to dry out. They were in the persons of Mrs. Richard Sweeter, Mrs. Paul Marsden, Mrs. Carl Wight, and Mrs. Perkins Gould. Dick is working for the S. D. Warren Co. in Westbrook, and Connie (Lincoln) was recently elected treasurer of the Portland chapter of the U. M. A. Mary and Paul Marsden are living on 111 East Street in Fort Edward, New York, where Paul is with the Scout volunteers. Carl and Tudy Wight are the proud parents of two little girls. This task alone, I imagine, is a full time job, but for a sideline, Carl is teaching at the high school in Waldoboro. And Mr. and Mrs. Gould are living in Yarmouth. Perk is an Insurance Agent.

1953 Miss Helen Strong 197 Albemarle St. Springfield, Mass.

Wind, RAIN or snow, I guess nothing keeps the Maine Alumni home. For those of us who have recently graduated it certainly was a tremendous and thrilling Homecoming, even though it turned out to be a wet one.

Miss Marilyn Pooler of Brewer and William Callahan have announced their engagement. Bill is a sergeant in the U.S. Army stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.

John Brewer and Elizabeth Look have become engaged John is now stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga.

Trudy Wyman and Dave Beppler are now engaged Dave's address is 2 L1. Beppler 040149676, Officer's Mail Room, Student Detachment 704, Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

Ed is working for his Master's Degree in Animal Nutrition and has an assistantship connected with the Dairy Breeding Research Center. Eini is on the Penn State staff as assistant instructor in the Dept of Food Service. Their address is 124 So McAllister St., State College, Pa.

Marcia Gavac became the bride of Summer Shafmaster on July 25. They are now residing in Bangor where Summer is practicing law.

Jane Bellamy became the bride of Lee Young in Sept. They are now residing at 10 Shepard St., Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. and Mrs. Doug Kneeland (Ann Libby), became the proud parents of a daughter, Debora Jo, on August 27. Doug is now on the staff of the Worcester Telegram.
Soon it will be the night before Christmas. And many an excited little girl will be nestled all snug in her bed, to dream of sleigh bells and a cuddly doll beneath a tree.

Santa Claus is such a jolly fellow that he wouldn't want to miss anyone. But it could happen and that would be very sad indeed.

So again this year, telephone girls in many communities will be helping Santa get around. For weeks they have been spending their spare time dressing dolls for little girls.

Throughout the country thousands of other Bell System men and women are collecting baskets of food, candy, toys and dollars for those less fortunate than themselves.

And remembering their co-workers in the armed services with the letters and holiday packages that are so extra-special when a young fellow is far away from home.

To all of you, from all of us in the telephone business, we send best wishes for a joyous and reverent Christmas.

SANTA’S HELPERS
Some of the dolls from telephone employees in just one city. Rag dolls, fancy dolls, teddy bears and pandas—dolls of every kind and shape—to help put joy in many a Christmas stocking.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

First Court in Portland

The first court proceedings concerning Portland of which record still exists was a General Assembly ordered by Sir Ferdinando Gorges at Saco in June, 1640. The record is preserved as part of the York County Records.

The first General Assembly at York in 1680 appointed Anthony Brackett as Lieutenant of Casco (now Portland) and Thaddeus Clark as Ensign. Apparently there was much overlapping of authority in early court appointments. We find that Thomas Gorges, cousin to Sir Ferdinando, was appointed Steward General and held court at Saco in September, 1640; George Cleves, Portland's first mainland settler, was commissioned Deputy President of the Province of Liguia and held court first at Saco, then, in December of 1648, at Casco. In 1678 Thomas Danforth, Deputy Governor of the Massachusetts Bay Province, was appointed President of Maine and also held court.

The first "Superior Court" was held on the Neck in 1760 and the records of the Registry of Deeds and of the Courts were started that year. Also two counties were added that year—Cumberland and Lincoln.

Land disputes were seemingly never-ending then, mainly due to the practice of the English King's appointed governors in handing out land grants indiscriminately. Indian affairs; the proper defense of the settlements against Indian depredations, who should pay for arms and ammunition for the common defense and how much, suits for slander, settlement of petty quarrels between neighbors, all kept the courts of the daytime busy. Parish Smith in his diary has preserved for us many an on-the-scene description of these court proceedings, from the lengthy prayer at opening of court to the gentlemen wilting and dining sumptuously on the best the town could afford when court adjourned.

By 1760 some semblance of civil rule was established in Portland. Records state that the first sheriff of Cumberland County was Moses Pearson. William Tyng was appointed his successor in June, 1767. This same Tyng was elected representative to the General Court in 1771 and 1772. Interesting mementos of the Tyng family, among others, are preserved by the Maine Historical Society.

In 1772 the first murder trial was held in Portland. There being no other building large enough that was available, court convened in the First Parish Meeting House, and in this incongruous setting one Goodwin was tried and sentenced to execution.
