FRONT COVER:

THE ALUMNUS offers a new cover design this month featuring appropriately as our first picture the heart of the campus, Alumni Hall, the administration building where, last month, students registered for the new college year. Alumni Hall, housing the chief administrative offices of the campus, including that of President Hauck, and providing also girls' gymnasium facilities, was constructed in 1901. Its name commemorates the interest and support of alumni in University progress.

.... In The Next

In November The Alumnus presents:

A feature story on the interesting work of the University's Department of Dairy Technology, under the experienced leadership of Professor L. M. "Pat" Dorsey, '16. . .

Joanna C. Colcord, '06, director of the Charity Organization of Russell Sage Foundation, New York, outstanding social service worker. . .

Alvah R. Small, '04, of Chicago, president of the nationally known Underwriters' Laboratories, Incorporated. . .

The Grandstand Corporation and its many services to the University. . .

The Homecoming Program and other alumni news, Campus Events, With the Teams, news of the local associations, and the usual Personals. . .

Comments

With this issue of The Alumnus, the Advisory Board and the Editors present a somewhat new format. In the most exhaustive study yet made of how the magazine might be improved and still keep within the budget, the Board first faced the question of color on the cover versus an expenditure of the same amount for pictures, engravings, and make-up. The vote to give up color for this year was passed reluctantly, but all felt that readers would welcome a livelier presentation of contents; so here it is. We hope alumni will find this and the following issues more readable, more interesting, and, all in all, a publication to which they will look forward each month with greater anticipation. Comments and suggestions will be welcome.

As the YEAR

LET us enter upon the duties of the new year determined to meet whatever duties and problems come to us personally or as a group confidently and cheerfully. With good sportsmanship in bad repute among those who seek to dominate the lives and destinies of free people, let us strive all the harder to strengthen our fine traditions of fair play, friendliness, and tolerance. Even though the forces of destruction add to their conquests, may we never doubt the final victory of those who struggle to preserve decency and freedom. May we as members of this community strive wholeheartedly, and if necessary sacrificially, for the preservation of those ideals of humane living which are indispensable to the maintenance of this University and of our country. Our best wishes to each of you for a pleasant and profitable college year.

Such were the words of President Arthur A. Hauck at the opening convocation of the University September 19 officially welcoming students and faculty to the University for the opening of a new term.

When the rush and turmoil of Registration had settled down once more to the long pull of classes for 1940-41, the University recorded a small decrease in the total registration figure, with 2,016 students in attendance. Although enrolling a slightly smaller freshman class than last year, the return of men and women in the upper class groups brought to a gratifying figure the attendance total, two less than last year's record high of 2,018.

Prominent among the throngs who once more brought back to busy life the comparatively quiet campus of the summer were the men and women of 1944. Contributing to the registration the figure of 554 the class became the second largest in University records, exceeded only by last year's group of 575. With some decrease in freshman registration anticipated by educators throughout the country, the actual figure for Maine was better than had been expected. The newcomers, combined with the large classes of recent years, will again fill to capacity the resources of the University.

Statistics

Freshman statistics, a traditional source of interest to sophomores, administration members, and alumni, show a tally of 150 women, 404 men. A good scattering of states of the Union is represented, with, next to Maine, Massachusetts sending the most. Longest journey for registration was made by Technology student Harry Quinn who left the Philippine Islands several weeks previous to the opening of Freshman Week in order to reach the campus.

Registration of the first year group was well distributed throughout the colleges of the University. Entering into their great adventure on September 11 with the beginning of Freshman Week, they participated in a round of tests, lectures, and get-acquainted visits, relatively undisturbed by upperclassmen.

But the arrival on September 17 of the other three classes, abruptly terminated the freedom of the freshmen. Immediately the newcomers blossomed out in their traditional regalia, for the men, dark blue caps with blue numerals and the familiar green bow ties. For the girls, however, a new and more attractive type of freshman hat was introduced. Dark blue gabardine, crew style hats, decorated with the light blue M and class numerals, with the front brim turned down above a smiling face, replace the shapeless "tams" of old. A glimpse of the new style is pictured at center right.

Again this year the number of alumni sons and daughters in the entering class set a new high. An impressive total of 88 freshmen this year claim father or mother or both as alumni of Maine. Sixty-five of them smiled for the camera on September 14 to make the picture shown on page 2.

*For the third day of each college year.

In addition to these second generation Maine alumni, the class boasts no less than eight grandchildren of alumni and of these five are direct third generation alumni: Ruth Blaisdell, William B. '11, Harvard W. '18, Marguerite Coffin, Mortimer L. Bristol '92, Mrs. Grace Bristol Coffin, '17, Harold Coffin '16, James Haskell, Edwin J. '72, Theodore W. '14, Richard B. Jones, Freeland Jones, '75, Austin W. '12, Joseph Sutton George, '83, Harry E. '09.

The class range of this year's sons and daughters is a wide one, from 1899 to 1932. Laurels for the most freshmen go to 1917 with fifteen children registered. And as always brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, cousins, and other alumni relatives make an impressive list. The imposing title of Most Related Freshman belongs this year to Mary S. Carlisle, of Bangor, with eleven alumni relatives, including George T. Carlisle, father, four brothers, three uncles, and three cousins.

Following the close of Freshman Week and upperclass registration on September 17, regular classes started on the eighteenth. Greetings had been exchanged among last year's friends, the long lines of Registration Day had finished their business at Registrar's and Treasurer's offices, even the remembered book rush in the Book Store was practically over and the school year really begun by the time of Opening Convocation on September 19.

Featuring Dr. Payson Smith, H. '08, newcomer to the School of Education faculty (see page 9), the Convocation was appropriately opened by Dr. Hauck and President of the Trustees, Edward E. Chase, '13. Dr. Smith, former Commissioner of Education for Maine and Massachusetts, speaking for the first time as a faculty member before the student body, discussed the relationship between world conditions and the educational opportunities of democracy. The need of trained, inquiring minds in preserving democracy is of great importance at this time, he pointed out, and urged students to benefit by their opportunities.

Campus Previews

As familiar faces returning to the campus filled halls, classrooms and dormitories with friendly chatter, faculty and administration members prepared for another year. Main features of the University program will be fundamentally the same as in recent years. In spite of war, army service, and defense preparations, usual classes, activities, and interests will mark the swift round of days on the banks of the Stillwater.

This year, however, will bring, as always, some few changes of interest. Among these will be an intensification of extension courses offered, especially in the field of education. The coming of Dr. Payson Smith to the faculty is to provide in part professional teachers' courses in education. These include a seminar in school administration on Saturday mornings and also open for extension students, regular classes in Current Issues in American Education and School Supervision. Other extension courses offered this year include history of education, vocational guidance, courses in mathematics, American literature, speech, psychology, and journalism.

Once more students interested in things aeronautical may take to the air through the cooperative CAA pilot training course worked out last year through the facilities of the Bangor airport. It has been announced that this practical flying and ground training program will be available also this year for women students should any apply.

Among the outstanding events scheduled for the college year of special interest to alumni will be the usual programs of Alumni Homecoming set for the football game against Colby on November 2, and, at the close of the year, the 70th annual Commencement Program with Alumni Day on June 7.

New facilities, finished and under construction (see page 7) offer increased opportunities for service and the University looks forward to a full and varied year. Under the leadership of a helpful and interested Board of Trustees, the administration and faculty, cooperating closely with President Hauck, will attempt to maintain the progress of Maine once more in 1940-41.

Beginnings: The familiar pageant of opening days enlivened the campus in September. Freshman men and women in their special hats smiled at the prospect of college life; the Bookstore passed again through the hectic days of the book rush; girls on dormitory steps studied, smiled, and waited; and before the doors of Alumni Hall, the long line of students waiting to register moved slowly into the new school year.

GOAL TO GO!

YOU will be gratified to know that a total of $151,000 has been subscribed to the Library Fund by alumni, faculty and students. This substantial progress puts us within reach of our goal of $250,000. Such was the glowing report of chairman Norman H. Mayo, '09, to the Library Fund committee members who met in mid September to complete plans for the Fund Campaign. The report further showed that 2,296 alumni have subscribed $134,000, an average of nearly sixty dollars each, a gratifying average figure. The meeting closed in a tone of optimism and determination with "Goal to Go."

Six areas have already reached their area quotas as follows—Northern California, Raymond E. Davis, '11, chairman, $1,413 for 138%; Western Penn., J. Wilson Brown, '09, chairman, $2,040 for 126%; Western New York, Russell Look, '29, chairman, $1,680 for 112%; Eastern Penn., Gertrude D. Peabody, '20, chairman, $3,633 for 102%; White Mountain, Scott Lockyer, '09, chairman, $1,045 for 102%; Lincoln County, Thomas Gay, '25, chairman, $780 for 100%. Several other areas are in a position to reach their area quotas soon.

Leading Classes

To the Classes of 1885, 1933, and 1917 go high honors as leaders in the per cent subscribed, the number of subscribers and total amount subscribed respectively. Second to 1885 with 42.9% is 1879 followed by 1882, 1923, and 1921. As might be expected recent classes top the list of largest numbers of givers. Following 1933 with 107 are 1934, 1938, 1936, and 1935 in the order named. Members of 1917 have subscribed $3,501, leading 1911 by a close margin with 1916, 1922, and 1921 following. The Class of 1921 is the only class to appear in two of the groups.

The tabulation which appears on this page shows the total amount subscribed individually by the members of the respective classes. The amounts shown do not include special gift subscriptions.

By a unique coincidence it developed after the campaign started that approximately 250,000 bricks would be required for the construction of the library. Already the campaign goal had been set at $250,000, so every dollar means one brick for this important structure. The latest progress report, therefore, shows that to reach the goal and bring the drive to a final success, alumni have now but 89,000 bricks to buy.

Fall Plans

Two new faces appear in the line-up of area chairmen. Wayland D. "Pep" Town-er, '14, first alumni secretary, now located in San Antonio, Texas, has been appointed chairman for the Southwest to succeed Walter Lilly, '12. Mr. Town-er will be ably assisted by Allen E. Oak, '10, who has accepted the responsibility for the state of Oklahoma, a division of the South-western area.

While the alumni are conducting their campaign, the University Trustees and President are likewise interesting friends in this worthy project. President Hauck has just announced two gifts amounting to $5,000 from Bangor friends. This raises the total from friends to over $10,000. A committee of five Bangor business men have accepted appointments to serve on a local committee and are co-operating with President Hauck in this phase of the campaign plans.

Area chairmen, local committee members, and workers are making plans to push forward the campaign and quickly conclude once and for all the task of providing funds for this new library, promised to the University as a Seventy-fifth Anniversary gift from alumni.

With the goal of $250,000 in sight and hundreds of alumni yet to be heard from, committee members are confident that the sign pictured above which this year stands on the site of the new structure will be replaced next year by actual construction. The help of every alumnus is needed to attain this goal.

Changes . . .

ALONG the shaded walks and quiet roadways of the summer campus, time seems to stand still, features to be changeless. Actually, however, change and progress, the imperative results of new conditions and new needs, go on unceasingly. This summer at Maine has been no exception. Change has involved many parts of the familiar scene, old landmarks have been altered or removed, new landmarks of the future begun.

One of the first changes to take the eye of the old grad will be the not too lamented loss of South Hall, the old University Inn, and in days now gone, except in the memory of some old grads, Shaw's Inn. South Hall, first cooperative women's dormitory, was razed this summer, its location, combined with general debility and simple old age, left no alternative. Unsafe, highly inflammable, the historic structure held no more than a sentimental value. The familiar square-frame structure, pictured at center right, was long a landmark in the town, and in older days constituted, it is understood, a friendly rendezvous for many an undergraduate and class festivity.

At the top of our pictured changes stands The Maples. This women's dormitory, too, has felt the touch of time, and, with the completion of Estabrooke Hall, no longer fulfilled a necessary need. It has been renovated inside and altered to include a score of offices and two laboratories to house members of the Agricultural Extension Service and Experiment Station.

Below it is shown one of the old inheritances of the past, the Experiment Station greenhouse and its adjoining building, used for some offices and laboratories of the Experiment Station. The greenhouse has now been taken down, and the frame building will be moved to a new site near the carpenter shops back of Stevens Hall.

This old greenhouse, it is believed, has been one of the real landmarks tying the past to the present. Many experiments, class laboratories, and research studies have taken place under its roof. The adjoining building, too, has had a varied history. Its removal, however, is a mark of progress, for near its site will rise, in the future, the new Library.

In the rear of Aubert Hall, change takes on a new face, that of construction rather than demolition. Here rises, as shown in the next picture below, the skeletal steel and covering bricks of a long-needed new Chemical Engineering building, annex to Aubert. Busy workers swarm about its timbers and steel as it takes slow shape toward the completion which is hoped for this spring. As a separate chemical engineering unit, the new structure will provide valuable opportunity for modernizing and enlarging the facilities for this study, a field which has grown of great importance in the last decade.

Below South Hall is pictured its opposite, North Hall. Amusing it is to the ears of alumni to hear a newly arrived freshman boy announce his residence as North Hall. But it is no mistake, for this year the historic girls' dormitory, that was in earlier days the Home Economics practice house, becomes a freshman men's dormitory, annex to Oak and Hannibal. And the boys of Sigma Nu and Theta Chi will go farther from home for their week-end dates in the future.

Estabrooke Hall, pictured next, the new women's dormitory, is fully landscaped and completed within and without for tenants of the upper classes. Used this summer for Summer Session students, it enters this fall upon its regular duties. A thing of beauty and grace, and at the same time the last word in efficiency and usefulness, it stands near Colvin on the south edge of campus, latest landmark of the University.

Meanwhile, with so many changes in the women's living quarters, the hall known as The Elms, formerly Phi Kappa fraternity and earlier the old Webster Homestead, undergoes one more development to become the cooperative women's dormitory. Last year South and North Halls both served as cooperative halls, this year the Elms with its Annex accommodates those women students whose home-making abilities contribute to lowering the cost of their education.

One other important addition to the campus is a new University Cabin in the Cabin Colony back of the Farm Road. Completed this summer, the new unit brings nearly to completion the planned Colony, only one cabin remaining to be built. Housing this year a total of 38 men of all classes, the Cabins are successfully providing opportunities for inexpensive living sorely needed by many students.

NEWS <sup>A<sub>N</sub>D</sup> EVENTS OF THE SUMMER

UNIVERSITY and alumni activities during the summer months presented a varied and interesting picture of many details. Both regular scheduled events and unexpected news stories combined to make the past season, like others, of interest to all concerned in any way with the University.

Nominated—

Probably the biggest headlines of all for Maine in the minds of most alumni this summer was the nomination as candidate for the Presidency of the country by the Republican Party of alumnus H. Styles Bridges, '18, Senator from New Hampshire. Alumnus Bridges' nomination at Philadelphia in August, highlighting a remarkable career of public service by the 42-year-old dynamic Republican Senator and ex-Governor of New Hampshire, marked the highest point in the public service to which a University of Maine man, as far as known, has risen.

Elected—

Closer to home, success in public service came to another son of Maine as Frank Fellows, '12, of Bangor, well-known lawyer and popular alumnus, received the vote of a comfortable majority of Republican voters for the honor of becoming one of the Maine delegation in the House of Representatives of the United States Congress. Alumnus Fellows partner in the widely known law firm of Fellows and Fellows of Bangor will represent the people of northeastern Maine as one of the first members of the University alumni to hold a seat in the House.

Session—

On the campus, meanwhile, news was of a more familiar pattern. Leading item was the annual Summer Session successfully carried out under the experienced and able leadership of Dr. Roy Peterson from July 1 to August 9. Registering a total of 612 students, 22 more than last summer, the Session offered, as usual, an attractive variety of educational opportunities, social events, and vacation activities. Primary feature of the Session, educational opportunities, embraced a range of courses in the School of Education, College of Arts and Sciences, and Technology.

Elected: to the United States House of Representatives will go alumnus Frank Fellows, '12, as the result of Maine elections in September.

His Name Made News ....

Nominated by the Republican Party as a candidate for the Presidency of the country, alumnus H. Styles Bridges, '18, made headlines for New England and the University in early balloting at the Philadelphia convention in August.

Agricultural—

The summer campus was enlivened at various times by group meetings and conferences throughout the season. Prominent among these were several agricultural groups. First to come and largest of all was the annual meeting of the state association of the Future Farmers of America. Some 300 young agriculturists representing all corners of the state convened from June 24 to 26 for the program.

On July 8 to 12 about 75 state extension workers gathered for their annual conference under their local campus leadership headed by Director A. L. Deering, '12.

On August 12 a two-day poultry conference, now an annual event, brought nearly 200 poultry men to Orono for discussion of mutual problems.

Last of the agricultural meetings this year was the gathering of a new group, the North Atlantic Section, American Society of Agricultural Engineers, to whom the University for the first time acted as host, from August 28 to 30.

Educator

H EADLINING the list of faculty appointments for the school year announced by President Hauck stands the name of Dr. Payson Smith, Honorary '08, nationally known educator, who joined the faculty of the School of Education in September. Long a leading figure in the educational development of New England, Dr. Smith brings to the University a wealth of experience gained as State Superintendent of Schools for Maine, Commissioner of Education for Massachusetts, and lecturer in Education in the graduate school of Harvard University. A graduate of Tufts College, this native of Portland, Maine, returns again to his home state bearing honorary degrees from each of the Maine colleges, including the LL.D. of the University, as an evidence of his profound and inspiring leadership in education.

As professor of education, Dr. Smith will teach courses in school administration and supervision and a number of extension courses for teachers and school administrators. He will also offer an advisory service on school problems.

APPOINTMENTS and PROMOTIONS

Other new appointments include several alumni. To the Military Department have returned Second Lieutenants Arthur W. Hodges and Richard W. Healy, both of 1938, to help the ROTC infantry. And in Mechanical Engineering, Charles D. Brown, class of 1933, has taken up duties as an assistant professor. Fresh from the graduate school of Harvard where he served for two years as an assistant, he has added to his Maine B.S. a Harvard M.S. in 1938. In addition to teaching and graduate study experience, Mr. Brown brings a background of industrial experience.

Richard Healy, of Augusta, was battalion commander of the ROTC in his senior year. Since graduation he has been teaching. Arthur Hodges, a native of Newton, Mass., served a year's active duty in the army after his graduation.

Other alumni to begin service on the faculty this year will be, in Agriculture, Albert Owens, '38, instructor in agricultural economics, and Harold Dyer, '40, graduate assistant in wildlife; in Arts and Sciences, Carl M. Flynn, '30, instructor in zoology, Robert S. Cail, '39, graduate assistant in zoology, F. Clark Thurston, '40, graduate assistant in English; in Technology, Everett L. Brewer, '37, instructor in chemistry, and Roger M. Stinchfield, '39, graduate assistant in chemistry, in the Agricultural Experiment Station, Joseph I. Harrington '40, in agronomy, and Frank E. Upton '40, in plant biology.

Eldon R. Clark, '40, graduate assistant in wildlife conservation; Hugh E. Young, '40, graduate assistant in economics.

Among the new appointments announced are the names of three members of the Northern Conservatory of Music who, through the cooperation of the Conservatory, will assist in conducting musical organizations at the University. Mr. Stanley Cayting, Director of the Conservatory, will conduct the orchestra, Miss Anna Strickland, the University Chorus, and Mr. Francis G. Shaw, the University Band. Other appointments to the faculty are the following:

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE—

Orin J. Marcy, instructor, Agricultural Economics and Farm Management, University of Nebraska, 1939, graduate work, Kansas State College, John Pearce, leader in Wildlife Research and assistant professor of Game Management, New York Ranger School and College of Forestry of New York; Robert Guthrie, graduate fellow in bacteriology, University of Minnesota; John C. Rogers, graduate fellow in dairy husbandry, University of Vermont; James W. Shigley, graduate fellow in biochemistry, B.S., Pennsylvania State.

President, George Bearce, '11

Vice-President, Robert Thurrell, '15

Treasurer, Winthrop Libby, '32

OFFICIAL INTRODUCTIONS

THAT alumni may be better acquainted with the new officers of their Alumni Association, elected last June. The Alumnus presents brief introductions of them and the two new members of the Alumni Council. The value of the relationship between alumni at large and the University depends, in great measure, on the effectiveness and cooperation of the Alumni Association, which, in turn, reflects the attitude, interest, and leadership of its officers.

GEORGE D. BEARCE A native of Auburn, he received his degree from Maine in Forestry in 1911. Member of Beta Theta Pi, Owls, and Skulls, he earned the right to wear an 'M' in football, baseball, track.

From Maine he went to the Great Northern Paper Co. for two years, then to Groveton, N. H. The Mead Corporation of Chillicothe, Ohio, made him assistant to the manager of mill operation during the next four years; he then became a technical consultant with News Print Service Bureau of New York.

In 1929 Mr. Bearce was made manager of the Dalhousie, New Brunswick, mill of the New Brunswick International Paper Co. In 1935 he entered his present responsibilities as general manager of the new Maine Seaboard Paper Co. of Bucksport.

He has been active in Alumni and University affairs, serving as Council Member and vice president of the Alumni Association. His three children are also enrolled in the alumni list: Mary L., '39; Elizabeth T., '43; and George D., Jr., '43.

ROBERT F. THURRELL Known sometimes as the hen engineer, Mr. Thurrell is one of the leading poultry producers of New Hampshire where he operates Cotton Mountain Farms, Inc., in East Wobthoro.

While at the University, the Portland native earned his college expenses, joined Phi Gamma Delta, made Tau Beta Pi and was elected a Senior Skull before receiving his degree in 1915. Soon after leaving college he tried a sales career, then later associated himself with an insurance company in Hartford. He next transferred to the position of assistant manager in a manufacturing concern in Racine, Wisconsin, remaining there, except for a period as first lieutenant in the War, until he returned east to settle on the windy top of Cotton Mountain in New Hampshire. Here he incubates, hatches, and ships, every year, thousands of New Hampshire Reds, a utility breed he helped to develop. His leadership in local professional and alumni activities has long been known.

WINTHROP C. LIBBY The new treasurer of the Alumni Association is a member of 1932 M.S. in 1933 now associate professor of Agronomy in the College of Agriculture. A native of Caribou, he had several years experience after graduation in potato farming and was for a time connected with the Aroostook Production Credit Association and he has also had experience in the Extension Service. Majoring in agronomy while at Maine, he was a member of Phi Eta Kappa social fraternity, Alpha Zeta and Phi Kappa Phi honorary societies and served as manager of track. Following his graduation of 1932, he was recipient of a fellowship for graduate study at Maine and received his M.S. the following year. He has studied also in agronomy and soils at Rutgers University and at Cornell. He has always been known as an active and interested alumnus and class officer.

ALFRED B. LINGLEY One of two new members to the Alumni Council, Mr. Lingley is currently president and general manager of the Goodyear Footwear Corporation in Providence, Rhode Island. A graduate in chemical engineering in 1920, recipient of a graduate degree from the University in 1923, Mr. Lingley has been associated with the rubber industry since leaving the University with the Phillips Baker Rubber Company and his present company. While at Maine he was a member of Sigma Chi and of Alpha Chi Sigma honorary chemical fraternity. He was also manager of track, president of the track club, and a member of the Owls and the Senior Skulls. He has been an active member of the local Alumni Association, of which he is past president, and chairman of the Library Fund Campaign in his area.

Councillors: New members of the Alumni Council are Thomas N. Weeks, '16, Alfred B. Lingley, '20

RUNNERS—

Veterans is the name for Maine's cross country runners this fall, and hopes are high for as Coach Chester Jenkins issued the annual autumn call for candidates, a mighty promising group of trotters reported. In spite of the graduation of the great star of recent years, Don Smith '40, cross country this year offers three experienced varsity men, Ken Blaisdell '41, of Ellsworth, Howard Ehrlenbach '41, of Tonawanda, N. Y., and Mark Ingraham '42, of Rockport, and at the same time welcomes into senior competition the nearly unbroken freshman aggregation which last year won the National Freshman Championship.

The only man lost of the country's yearling champions is John Creamer, captain of last year's group, who this fall entered Annapolis. The others who have returned and will run for Maine are Dwight Moody of Lincoln, Dick Martinez of Albany, N. Y., Phil Hamm of Charleston, Leo Estabrook of East Corinth, Stan Frost of Norway, and Art Farris of Union. With such a group of sophomores available to add strength to the leading varsity runners, Maine should be able to show heels to a good number of opponents this year.

First run of the season is October 12 at New Hampshire, a dual contest.

Later competition will include the State Meet, now a regular event, a dual meet with Rhode Island at Boston, a strong contender, and the annual New Englands and Nationals.

Meanwhile freshman cross country has attracted over sixty runners for the three teams and hopes are high for a strong first-year group again this year.

THOMAS N. WEEKS Second new member to the Alumni Council is Lawyer Thomas Weeks, of Waterville, recipient of the LL.B. degree in 1916. Associated with the law firm of Perkins, Weeks, and Hutchins, he is recognized as an influential and successful member of the Maine bar. He was admitted to the Maine bar in 1917 after his graduation from the Law School and formed his present partnership in 1921. Mr. Weeks also compiled an impressive military record while serving on the Mexican border in 1916 and in the World War for two years. Widely known among alumni, his membership in the Council will be of outstanding value. He is chairman of the Central Maine area of the Library Fund.

FOOTBALL—

Previews of the varsity football team this fall gave Maine fans plenty to think about as a combination of graduation, ineligibility, and absence brought many new names to the line-up. The result was a squad with a few veterans in key positions and a crowd of scrappy, ambitious youngsters from the Javee and frosh.

Among the well-known names expected to lead in both attack and defense this year are those of Roger Stearns, '41, of South Paris at left end, George Grant, '41, of Waterville at left tackle and at center, Senior Jim Harris of Winchester, Mass., while right end Jake Stahl, '42, of Peabody, Mass., has seen some previous service. Most other linemen are new to varsity competition. In the backfield the names of fullback Ed Barrows, '42, of Newport, son of Governor Lewis O. Barrows, '16, and right half Charles Arbor, '41, of Runtord stand out as veterans.

Maine 7—Rhode Island 0

As the teams lined up for the opening of Coach Brice's twentieth Maine season, most eyes were turned toward the newer men in the line-up—Fred Briggs, '41, of Caribou at left guard, William Irvine, '42, of Framingham, Mass., at right guard, Jim Russell, '42, of Bangor at right tackle, in the backfield Junior Nat Crowley of Dover-Foxcroft teamed up at left half with Arbor, while Parker Small, '42, of South Portland called the plays. But from the time that Maine received the first kickoff to drive ahead a full 72 yards deep into Rhody territory, these men left no doubt in spectators' or opponents' minds that they had made themselves one with the veterans into a team to reckon with. Aggressive and fast in offense, steady and courageous defensively, they clearly dominated the play. Holding the ball a large part of the entire game, the team kept a surprised Rhode Island eleven largely on the defensive and gained 172 yards to their 98.

The game's one touchdown followed a steady march down the field in an excellent display of team work. With the ball on the three yard line, Crowley finally drove over the right side of the line. Barrows kicked the point from placement.

Best ground gamers of the day were Nat Crowley and Ed Barrows who teamed up superbly together.

Conference: Three stalwart linemen confer with Head Coach Fred Brice at the opening of his twentieth season of football coaching at Maine; next to Coach Brice stands Einar Olsen, '42, a tackle, beside him, Jacob Stahl, '42, an end, and with the ball, James Harris, '41, experienced center.

Local Associations

Merrymeeting Bay Alumni enjoyed a summer picnic at Harpswell Center on August 18 on the coast featuring steamed clams, coffee and ice cream. No special entertainment program was planned or needed, baseball, swimming, pony riding for the children, and a general good time gave everybody an opportunity to enjoy the outing. A total of nearly 100 alumni, families, and friends participated.

Washington, D. C. Alumni elected new officers last spring during a regular annual meeting. Artemus E. Weatherbee, '39, took over the presidency from the former president Marion E. Lord, '27. Other officers are Robert F. Olds, '06, vice president, Mildred Hancy Berdeen, '34, secretary-treasurer.

Southern California Alumni scheduled an informal dinner meeting in Hollywood on July 2 to welcome Dean Paul Cloke, attending an engineering conference in San Francisco. E. Leith Chase, '26, president of the group, presided. Dean Cloke gave the 20 alumni and friends assembled an interesting outline of University progress and recent developments. Another speaker on the program was Walker Philbrook, '15, who had recently returned from the 25th reunion of his class.

Vermont Alumni met on June 22 in Burlington with nineteen alumni and friends for an informal get-together and steak dinner. Featured on the program was Rev. Arthur W. Hewitt of Northfield, poet and author, whose interesting talk was greatly enjoyed. The meeting was under the direction of the association officers, Charles B. Adams, '13, president, Stanley J. Steward, '96, vice president, and Constance M. Thompson, '24, secretary-treasurer.

Cumberland County Alumni elected Harland Knight, '30, president for the coming year in April at their annual meeting. Other officers elected were Howard Forrestall, '38, vice president, Hugh Carey, '38, treasurer, and Albert Verrill, Jr., '36, secretary. Plans are announced to continue monthly luncheons on the first Monday of each month.

Northeastern New York Alumni held a picnic at Crooked Lake, near Schenectady on September 21. A total of twenty-six enjoyed the outing in spite of adverse weather. Baked beans, coffee, corn, and rolls served by the Committee supplemented picnic luncheons. The encouraging attendance and the fun enjoyed by all made the picnic one of the most successful planned by this group.

Appointed: Henry Doten, '23, was named the new member of the Dues Committee for a three-year term.

Henry L. Doten '23 To Dues Committee

Appointment of Henry L. Doten, '23, business manager of the University, to the important Dues Committee of the Association for a three-year term was announced recently by George Bearce, '11, president of the General Alumni Association. Prot Dwight B. Demeritt, '19, head of the department of Forestry, serving his third year on the committee, is chairman with Samuel Calderwood, '33, of Bangor as the second member.

Plans are announced by the committee this year for an early campaign of dues solicitation in order to assure during the first of the year adequate financing of the alumni program. An early payment of dues by a large number of alumni would permit better planning of the year's program, Chairman Demeritt pointed out.

One feature particularly stressed by the Committee this year is the modernization and improvement of the alumni magazine. Including a subscription to The Alumnus in the payment of dues has become a tradition of many years.

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY—

Seymour J. Ryckman, instructor in civil engineering, Michigan State College, 1939, Walter T. Grady, graduate assistant in civil engineering, Northeastern University, 1940, Norman E. Simpson, South Dakota State College, 1940, and Davis P. Smith, Virginia Military Institute, 1940. Prot Irwin Bruce Douglass will serve as assistant professor of chemistry. He graduated from Monmouth College and received a Ph.D. from University of Kansas. Frank M. Taylor, graduate of Lafayette, 1928, C.E., 1937, will be an instructor in civil engineering, and Jackson R. Bridges, instructor in mechanical engineering, has had eleven years of pattern making with Fay & Scott, of Dexter, and has taught pattern making the last year and a half for the NYA.

In the Agricultural Experiment Station, Dr. A. Frank Ross has been appointed as associate biochemist. He has received B.S. and M.S. degrees from University of Missouri, a Ph.D. from University of Wisconsin.

To the Military Department have come Captain Gerald G. Gibbs, Coast Artillery Corps, a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy and the Coast Artillery School, and First Lieutenant Walter M. Lask, Coast Artillery.

The M.C.A. has announced the appointment of Miss Jean Whittet, of Wakefield,

Alumni Homecoming Planned For Nov. 1-2

Plans for the annual Homecoming program of special interest to alumni are being made by a committee headed by Earl F. Bennett, '28. The dates of November 1 and 2 have been set for this first big alumni activity of the year. Chief feature is as usual the last home State Series football game this year against Colby.

Featured on the program will be meetings of both the men's and women's 'M' Clubs, freshman and junior varsity football games Saturday morning, women's field hockey contest and last event before the big game the annual Homecoming luncheon at which will be awarded as in recent years, the Alumni Service Emblem.

The emblem will be presented by president of the alumni George D. Bearce '11. President Arthur Hauck will be on hand to welcome returning alumni back to the campus. Details are rapidly shaping up for the program and it is expected that the committee will shortly announce the selection of a special feature for the day. Meanwhile any alumni planning to return for the program should save the dates of November 1 and 2 and write immediately for reservation of all necessary tickets including the football game and luncheon.

The committee in charge this year is in addition to Chairman Earl Bennett, T. S. Curtis '23, Wallace H. Elliott '26, Fred L. Lamoreau '30, Winthrop C. Libby '32, Marion Rogers '30, Roger Stearns '41, and Elizabeth Gammons '41.

Vaughan Ladd, for the past 14 years general inspector of motive power and bonus supervisor for the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad Company at its Derby shops has recently been promoted to mechanical engineer. His address is 10 First Street, Derby.

Howard Reiche, who is active in educational circles in Portland is on the Boy's Work Committee of the Portland Y M C A.

How about a little news classmates? I glean a little from the newspapers now and then but I need your active cooperation in bringing our class history up to date.

Dear Classmates

I am sorry not to have had a column in last June's issue but due to a misunderstanding neither Thelma nor I wrote the news items. As you all know, Thelma Perkins Dudley is your new correspondent and will write the column from now on.

Our class president, David Fuller, is a member of the Penobscot County Republican Committee and I believe Dave attended the National Republican Convention this summer.

Eleanor Fitzherbert is secretary of the Penobscot County Democratic Committee. Bertha Carter Cushman, who was formerly in our class, was publicity chairman for the fifth annual convention of the state of Maine Pi Beta Phi Alumna Association held at Lakewood. "Bee" resides at 303 Lincoln Street in Bangor.

Thelma Perkins Dudley, of Cape Elizabeth, was elected president of the Portland Junior League and attended a national convention of the Junior League in Seattle, Washington, this past summer.

James Currie is in the equipment division of the American Can Company, 230 Park Ave., New York, N. Y. and is residing at Apt. F-41, Highland Hall, 131 Purchase St., Rye, New York.

Mrs. T. A. A. Hertzburg (Ruth Densmore) is residing at 10 Linden St., Brattleboro, Vt.

Frederic C. Murphy is an economist with the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, U. S. Dept. of Commerce, Washington, D. C. His residence is at 2101 New Hampshire Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Nicholas F. Wessell, of Bangor, and Miss Thelma Johnson, of New Sweden, were married on July 8 at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Johnson was graduated from Caribou High School and has attended Aroostook State Normal School and Gorham Normal School. For the past several years, she has taught in the schools of New Sweden and Stockholm. "Nick" is at present employed as a safety engineer with the Works Progress Administration. For the past several years, he was employed in Portland and recently has been transferred to Bangor. Mr. and Mrs. Wessell will reside in Bangor.

Please send all news items in the future to Mrs. George F. Dudley, 34 Cottage Farms Road, Cape Elizabeth, Maine.

A daughter, Deborah, was born August 4 to Mr. and Mrs. Emory F. Ridlon (Kezar). Their address is 1842 Blouvin Ave., Baton Rouge, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Noyes D. Shirley, of Littleton, N. H., are also receiving congratulations. Their baby, a son, was born June 9.

Priscilla Conant has recently accepted a position on the South Portland (Maine) High School faculty. For the past few years, Priscilla has been head of the English Department at Lubec High School.

Dr. Everett F. Conlogue is a physician at the Wish-i-ah Sanatorium at Anberry, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Holmes have recently moved from Brewer to Lincoln, where Dick has been transferred.

Gordon F. Hammond's residence address is 31 Lime St., Boston, Mass. Gordon is connected with the New England Mutual Insurance Company at 150 Congress St., Boston.

1931—Next Reunion, 1944

Hello again!

News items from the Alumni Office and the first day of school arrived almost simultaneously What chance do I have, I ask you, to pretend that vacation lasts forever? So here I am, pencils all sharpened and the old snooping habit aired out and ready for further use. Incidentally, any clues to aid the snooping—notes, letters, telegrams, cablegrams, or personal interviews—will be gratefully welcomed and treated with all due respect.

This month's column is fairly bursting with congratulations stored up during the summer months.

Luthan Crosby was married May 29 to Miss Patricia E. Cousins, of Fort Kent. Mrs. Crosby is a graduate of Madawaska Training School and Gorham Normal School and has been teaching in Dover-Foxcroft. They are living in Milo where Doc operates his own filling station.

Alice Burr was married June 3 to Edward Clarence Jordan '34 in a beautiful ceremony at the Central Congregational Church, Eastport. Marion Ewan '32, who at least partly belongs to our class, helped serve at the reception. The Jordans are making their home at 147 High Street, Reading, Mass.

Another announcement of interest is that of Jack McGowan's marriage to Miss Dorothy Frances Mullin, June 15 in Winchester, Mass.

Lester Clark and Mrs. Eloise Sawyer, of Ellsworth, were married July 20 at Castine. They are living in Ellsworth. Lester is with the State Bridge Department and has been located at Machias.

And Edwin Williams was married July 6 to Miss Eleanor Hathaway, of Columbia Falls. They are living in Guilford where Ed is a clerk in the post office. Mrs. Williams graduated from Colby, has studied at Columbia, and has been teaching in the high school at Bennington, Vt.

Will one "Congratulations" do? It may not take up so much space but it means just as much as if it were multiplied by five.

We have as many as three new babies that I know about. Galen and Mary Vcayo have a son, Joseph Herbert, born July 11th in Auburn. Then Marjorie Moores Jenkins sent a note announcing the arrival of William Robert, July 24. (Their new address is 77 South Park Street, Bangor.) And I was delighted with the little card from Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Chaplin (Charlie, to most of us) which announced the arrival of a daughter, Kera Joan, on August 21. More congratulations!

Speaking of Charles reminds me, for some reason, of Peg Larrabee, who has just been elected county attorney for Hancock County. The name on the ballot was Frederick, of course. Peg has a law office in Ellsworth. Nice going!

George Cuozzo joins the regular staff of Bangor High School this year after a year of substitute teaching there. He is teaching in the mechanical drawing department.

The Bangor Daily News featured an interesting write-up about Mauna Wentworth Footman a short time ago. Her activities sound like a Prism activity list, only more so. She is president of the local Chi Omega Alumnae chapter, has been on the Bangor-Brewer Y.W.C.A. executive board for the past six years and is now serving as secretary, and is a member of the committee for the Florence E. Smith Business Girls' Club, the camp committee, and the Girl Reserve committee. She also belongs to the Brewer Garden Club, the Homemakers' Club of the First Congregational Church in Brewer, and the Penobscot County Association for the Blind. Besides all this, Mauna does the bookkeeping at the Footman Dairy, which is owned by her husband and his father, and manages time for reading and camping trips with her husband and five-year-old son.

It's been nice hearing from all of you again. The address is still

Dear Classmates,

Winston C. Robbins was selected as the new industrial engineer for the Maine Development Commission. He is replacing R. Wyman Foster, of Portland, who resigned to become affiliated with a private industry. Win has been employed by the State Highway Department and other construction companies since graduation.

Alden Denaco was married on July 1 to Miss Pauline Newcomb, a graduate of Carmel High School and the School of Nursing at the Eastern Maine General Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Newcomb, of Carmel, Maine. Alden's business address is the Monroe Loan Company, and his home address is 427 Essex St., Bangor.

The engagement of Miss Carol C. Biedekapp to Arthur C. Holbrook, of Albany, N. Y., was announced in the spring by Miss Biedekapp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Biedekapp, of Walton, N. Y. Miss Biedekapp is a graduate of New York State College for Teachers and is a member of the faculty of the Albany Academy. Arthur is assistant plant engineer for the A. P. W. Paper Co. and is located in Albany, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Paul are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Valerie Louise. Harry is Irving Berlin's contact man in Boston.

Among the promotions listed by the U. of M. we note that Win Libby has been promoted from assistant professor to associate professor of agronomy. Win has done graduate work at Rutgers and Cornell Universities, and has worked for the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station, the Agricultural Extension Service, the Farm Credit Association, and the Production Credit Association.

I met Rachel Gilbert Mee the other day and her news is that she plans to attend the Graduate School of Social Work at Western Reserve University in Cleveland this winter. She had recently seen Arthur Fairchild, who is employed in the Sears, Roebuck store in Providence. Art is married and has a son, eight months old in August. Ray says that Edward Patten has been working for the Geodetic Survey Department for five years and is located in Arkansas. He travels most of the time and spends his summers in Maine.

Geraldine Chase was married on August 31 to Earle Ward Lovering. More about this next month.

Well, here I begin my third season as your columnist, hoping with all my heart that all of you will cooperate this year in sending me any news. Just drop a penny postal, you needn't even bother to sign your name if you wish otherwise, although I'm always interested in the sender's name, naturally.

During the summer whilst I lazily sat around sunning myself, lots of things have happened, among them weddings about which we're all always interested to hear.

Helen Osgood became Mrs. Ezra Hoyt Ripple, III, on Saturday, the sixth of July, in Hartford, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Ripple are residing at 218 Beacon Street in Hartford.

James F. Whitten (Ernestine Merrill) was the bride's attendant.

Evelyn Plummer became Mrs. Stacy Ross Miller on July 20 at Alna Center, Maine. The couple are making their home in Orono where Mr. Miller is an Extension Land Use Planning Specialist.

Roger B. Lincoln, of Cranston, Rhode Island, was married on July 27 to Miss Ruth M. Williamson in Fall River, Mass. The bride is a graduate of Somerset High School and of Bryant College in Providence, R. I. Roger is employed in the accounting department of the Kenney Manufacturing Company in Cranston, R. I.

Two future Mainiacs made their appearance this summer, the parents of whom are well known.

To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bunker (Priscilla Bell), of Olive Road, South Portland, a daughter, Betsy Bunker, born August the 16th (I've seen her and she's a 'pippin,' too).

To Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph B. Johnson, of Gorham, New Hampshire—a daughter born in May.

Blanche Henry, of Thomaston, has accepted a position at Foxcroft Academy where she will teach mathematics and coach dramatics.

Donald Boyle is new sub-principal of Monson Academy this year.

Clark Abbott, who has been engaged as salesman during the summer months for Lyons and Carnahan, publishers of New York City, has returned to Kingfield, Maine, as principal of the high school.

Helen Gilman is now in Port Chester, New York, teaching dramatics and speech.

Dr. Horace H. Gould has opened his office in Bangor this fall.

Ralph Jordan was the Bangor summer playground director this year.

Inez Howe was recently elected president of the State of Maine Phi Beta Phi Alumnae Association.

I don't know of any other news at this writing—do you? Well, all right. Mail it over to 39 Falmouth St., Portland, Maine, then.

1934—Next Reunion, 1943

Just ten years ago the Class of 1934 entered Maine, eager, excited, and a little frightened. Some people would say "away back ten years ago" but it seems like such a very short time. This fall I've been living it all over again through my young sister who is now experiencing the same thrill. I must admit to a nostalgia. I wish I could be there with her, but day-dreaming costs money in a column so must back to earth.

It looks as though our class had spent the summer getting married—all but three items are weddings.

Dois Rosen was married June 19 to Albert McCready of Norway, Maine. Mr. McCready is employed at the post office in Norway. They are at home at 2 Tucker St., Norway.

Millard Dow married Charlotte Robinson of Rutland, Vt., on August 20. Mrs. Dow is employed by the Rutland County National Bank. Millard has a position with the Central Vermont Public Service Co. and they are living at 67 Pine St., Rutland, Vt.

The engagement of Drusilla Roderick to Norbert B. Noyes, of Greenville, was announced August 18 by her parents. Mr. Noyes is a graduate of Acadia University College of Music, Nova Scotia, and has done graduate work at Juilliard School of Music, New York City. He is an instructor of voice and piano in Greenville and an instructor of music in Greenville High School.

Robert Crockett married Jeanette Irene Roy on July 20. Mrs. Crockett is a graduate of Jay High School and Bliss Business College, and since then has been employed as stenographer at the Otis Mill in Livermore Falls. Robert is employed as draftsman in the local mill. They are living in Livermore Falls.

David Abbot married Miss Marion Hayden, of Presque Isle, on May 3. Mrs. Abbot is a graduate of Presque Isle High School and has been employed as clerk at the Aroostook Conservation Office in Presque Isle. David is chief field supervisor of the Aroostook County Agricultural Conservation Program.

Bob Adams was married June 9 to Miss Harriet Frances Knight, of Jay, Maine. Mrs. Adams attended Boston University and is a graduate of Bay Path Institute, Springfield, Mass. She has been employed in the Central Maine Power Company office at Livermore Falls. Bob is employed at the Otis Paper Mill in Chisholm. They are living at Livermore Falls. And this is the end of my list of summer weddings.

Gilbert Cox is sales engineer for the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Company on 797 Beacon St., Boston.

Irving Cumming has started his duties as co-pilot on a Boston-Maine passenger and mail plane. His route is between Boston and Montreal, with one day each week between Boston and Bangor. He went to Maine one year and then to Dallas, Texas, where he took a course at the Dallas Flying Field. In 1937 he was selected as station manager for the Boston-Maine Airways at Houlton. In 1939 he was promoted and transferred to manager of the station at Bangor. Two months ago he was granted a leave of absence to take a course for a co-pilot's job and upon completing the course was called on his present assignment. He has a wife, who was Anna FitzPatrick, of Houlton, and two children.

Only one baby was reported this summer—a daughter, born in May to Stan Blanchard. This is Stan's second child. The first was a son. And so ends our first column of the year. I'm just as interested as ever in every little bit of news, so don't forget. Bob and I are still receiving mail at the beach. Everyone else has left except the seagulls, but we're enjoying the surf from the tropical hurricanes.

1935—Next Reunion, 1943

Hello, Everyone,

Back again after a nice long summer, and the news items seem to have poured in, so I'll get right down to business. Wedding bells have been ringing all summer for '35. Best wishes are in order!

Janet Brown became Caleb K. Hobbie's bride on May 6 at Skowhegan. Mr. Hobbie of Buffalo, New York, manager of the Clinton Bailey Market, Western New York's regional farmers' market, was graduated from Cornell. Janet has been on the staff of the Public Library in Rochester, N. Y., for the past three years since she completed a course at Simmons College of Library Science. Mr. and Mrs. Hobbie are living at 66 Pleasant Ave., Hamburg, New York.

On August 17, Miss Margaret S. Homans, of Louisville, Kentucky, became Mrs. Ashton P. Sawyer. Mrs. Sawyer was graduated from Gulf Park Junior College in Gulfport. Miss Ashton is now employed by the U. S. Engineer Office at Baltimore, Md.

Clara Gordon became the bride of Joseph A. Bartlett, of Millinocket. Clara has been employed as a teacher in the primary schools of Winn. Mr. Bartlett was graduated from Stearns High, of Millinocket, and is employed by the Great Northern Paper Co. Since June 16 they have been at home on Katahdin Ave., in Millinocket.

Miss Ruth Marston, of Augusta, became Mrs. Max E. Turner on June 29. Mrs. Turner was graduated from Colby College. Max received his Master's Degree from Amherst College. He is connected with the United States Biological Survey with headquarters in Portland.

On August 10, Miss Marjorie Clark became the bride of Warren Walker. Mrs. Walker was graduated from Westbrook Junior College and has been employed as hostess in the dining room of the Portland Y.W.C.A. Warren is connected with the Saco-Lowell Shops at Biddeford. The bride and groom are living at Clark's Mills.

And now congratulations to the proud Dads! In June a daughter was born to Dr. and Mrs. Gene McManamy in Rochester, Minn. Charlotte is planning to come East with "her family" but the trip is a long one for the little mite with only twelve weeks behind her.

Jim Crocker has been passing cigars! On July 26 Mr. and Mrs. Crocker were presented with a seven-pound seven-ounce son, J. Douglas, Jr. Jim has been in Chicago since April, when he was transferred from the Hartford Branch Office of the Travelers as a Group Service Representative. Jim complains about the scarcity of U. of M. alumni in Chicago. Libby and Carl Ingraham are in the city, but they are twenty-two miles away! Carl Whitman stopped in Chicago recently en route from his vacation in Maine. Jim reports Marion Martin is in the spotlight in Chicago as well as elsewhere in the East, organizing the Women's Division of the G. O. P. (Incidentally, the Maine election returns are coming in while I'm writing this, and the reports surely sound as if Marion knows how to organize!)

To return to Jim's letter—both Mr. and Mrs. Crocker extend a cordial invitation to all of '35 who may be in Chicago. They are living at 2836 East 78th St., Chicago.

Milt MacBride is in Easton, Maine, where he is engaged as a potato grower. Fred Roberts is now engineer of the General Electric Company sales office. Mrs. Roberts, you know, was Edna Matthews, and Edna and Fred are living now in Schenectady, since Fred's promotion.

Bunny Anderson, now Dr. Anderson, is interning at the Eastern Maine General Hospital in Bangor. Bunny received his M.D. in June from Boston University.

Polly Budge has been appointed assistant 4-H Club leader and oversees the work of Maine 4-H Clubs and county club agents. She is at 14 Middle St., Orono.

Prudence Hayes has been appointed supervisor of music in Old Town. For the past three years Prudence has been teaching privately and at Orono High School, since she received her degree at the Northern Conservatory of Music. Danny Barrett is to coach basketball at Machias High School this winter. Danny has made one of the finest coaching records ever in Washington County. John Willey has gone to the University of Missouri to teach English. John received his Master's Degree last spring at Harvard.

El Gowen attended Harvard this summer. El is teaching English at Biddeford High School.

Cay Buzzell, who is employed at the Rochester Public Library, has been vacationing in Maine this summer. I think we could start a "Go to Maine Bureau."

Dear Classmates,

I got quite a jolt one day last week when I received a letter from the Alumni Office asking me for the '36 personals to be turned in by Sept 15. Somehow the summer has slipped by without my noticing it. Did you ever see such a short one! Anyhow, I enjoyed what there was of it and hope you all did, too.

Judy (my daughter, in case some of you might wonder who "Judy" is) and I spent three weeks in July at the Isle of Springs which is near Boothbay Harbor. Eddie wasn't able to get away for so long, but did manage week-ends.

While there I saw Burt Mullins, who is editor of the Boothbay Harbor Register. I also saw Hazel Feero, who was spending the summer there, and Ernie Dinsmore and Henry Lowell who were at Capitol Island for a vacation. I know these latter three are not '36ers but I thought you wouldn't mind hearing about other classes too, this once.

While at the island, however, I missed seeing Helen Buker Rochlin and Libby Philbrook Ingraham who were in Lewiston for a visit. Libby also spent some of her summer in New Hampshire. By the way, her address has changed since I last wrote it in the Alumnus. It is 1703 Wallen Ave, Chicago, Ill.

Helen is living in Newton Conn. where Dr. Rochlin is on the staff of the Fairfield State Hospital.

Russ Brown spent a week-end with us shortly before she started summer school at Maine. She will teach in Machias this year.

I also heard that Kay Hctor attended Maine summer school.

Louise Steeves stopped in one day for a few minutes, but, as usual, was in a great rush. She had been attending Springfield College summer session. She will be teaching at Windsor, Conn. again this year.

I had an invitation from Arlene Higgins Cobb to visit her and take in the New York World's Fair, but unfortunately had to pass it up. Was I disappointed! Now the Cobbs have transferred to Watertown, N. Y. George is manager of the Montgomery Ward store in Watertown.

There seems to be so much news that I'm skipping all around, but, while I think of it, Russ told me that she saw Edith Hill, Clyde and Ruth Higgins, and John Sealey at Commencement. John was speaker of the evening at the Skull banquet.

We had a picnic with Reggie and Dot Naugler and Johnny Miller in Camden not long ago. John is going to Tufts Medical School and likes it immensely. Reggie is still with Hedge and Mathies Company in Bangor.

I was having lunch at Howard Johnson's in Naples one day when who should walk in but Barbara Sanborn Kneeland. I was more than surprised to see her, and we had quite a chat.

Before I go one bit further I must retract a statement I made in the last issue of the Alumnus. I said that Jim Day was engaged and asked him for more particulars. Shortly afterward I received a very indignant letter from Jim saying that he also would like more particulars because, as far as he knew, he never had been engaged! Was I mortified!! I apologize, Jim, and next time I will try to investigate any rumors more thoroughly.

I think that in order to save space for the personals of other classes, I'd better stop my rambling and give you the rest of the news in concise statements. I guess I'll start with engagements.

Marie Archer's engagement to Paul McDonnell was announced July 11. Marie is still at the C M G Hospital as a laboratory technician and Paul is with the Modene Paint Service in Portland.

Dave Wellman is engaged to Dorothy Leighton of Westbrook. He is with the S D Warren Company there.

I believe I mentioned before that Art Roberts had hung his pin, but since then it has been in the paper (I'm just checking up on rumors already) that he is engaged to Lorraine Lombard, of Old Orchard (Which is just the way I had it, so I was ok that time). Art is in the lumber business in Lyman.

William Mongovan is engaged to Florence Vickers of Brownville Junction. He is a junior salesman for the Eastern Corporation of Brewer and is connected with the New York offices.

Arbie Dougherty and Ginny McGuire were married in June and they are now living in Boston. Arbie is in the Personnel Department of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. Their address is Strathmore Manor, Strathmore Road, Brookline, Mass.

Dorothy Jones was married to Albert Smith, July 3. They are living in Waterville where Albert is employed with Merrill and Mayo Company.

Fred Anderson married Ruth Messer of West Roxbury, Mass. June 3. Ruth and Fred were both graduated from Boston University school of medicine this year.

Janet Wheeler was married March 25 to Harry Spinney, of Littleton, Mass. Harry is a graduate of Brown University. They are living in Littleton.

Tom Reed was married June 14 to Elizabeth Kelley, of Somerville, Mass. Tom has graduated from M I T since we last saw him and is now employed as a research chemical engineer with U S Steel Corp, Koppers Bldg, Pittsburgh, Pa.

I know of only two births. Roger and Bee Cummings Burke are the proud parents of a baby girl, Virginia, and Paul and Althea Millett Brown also have a girl, Hope.

Ken Pruett will teach sciences and math and coach basketball and baseball at Winter Harbor High.

David Pierce is assistant principal of Searsport High this year. Since leaving Maine, he has taught in Orono High, Greenville High and gave up the position as principal of Bradford High to accept his present position.

Alan Corbett recently received his Master's degree as doctor of veterinary medicine at Michigan State College. He has been appointed to the faculty of the veterinary division there as regular instructor. Vivian Dow is teaching Latin and French at North Yarmouth Academy. She has previously taught at Milbridge and Freeport high schools.

Doug Parker is an ensign in the U S N R. He is assistant communications officer. His address is 1301 Whitehead Street, Key West, Fla.

If you want all the '36 columns in the Alumnus to be as lengthy as this, please do your part and mail a card to me to tell me what you're doing. I'd appreciate it no end.

1937—Next Reunion, 1942

Dear Classmates,

How time flies! It seems only yesterday that I sent my last column in to the Alumni Office. By the stack of clippings on my desk, it looks as if some members of our class have been very active this summer.

Miss Charlotte Mower and James Morrison were married June 25 at Cambridge, Maine. Mrs. Morrison was graduated from Higgins Classical Institute and Farmington Normal School. She has taught in the public schools of Cambridge and Parkman. Red is teacher of sciences and athletic director in Mechanic Falls High School.

On August 16 Gertrude Titcomb was married to Allister William Dawson, of Belmont, Mass. Mr. Dawson was graduated from the Bentley School of Accounting in Boston and is now associated with the Boston Blue Print Company. They are living at Allston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wyeth announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara, to Mr. Douglas James Wishart on Saturday, the seventh of September, in Dighton, Mass.

Wesley Martin and Angellea Dillingham were married in Veazie. Mrs. Martin was graduated from Bangor High School and Gilman's Commercial School. Wesley is employed by the Maine Central Railroad. They will live at 51 Parkview Avenue in Bangor.

Miss Florence Steeves and Leonard Crockett were married in June at Bangor. Mrs. Crockett is a graduate of Beals Business College. Leonard is associated with the Coca-Cola Bottling Plants, Inc. in Augusta. Their address is 71 West Crescent St. Augusta.

Charles Treat and Helen Rogers were married July 20 in New York City. Mrs. Treat is a graduate of Gorham Normal School and has taught in Saco, Farmington, Conn., and Longmeadow, Mass. Charles is a member of the staff of the J. Walter Thompson Company in New York City.

Congratulations and best wishes to all of you.

Carol Stevens is teaching English at Skowhegan High School and Alice Stewart is teaching social sciences and debating at Bangor High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Loid (Ruth Kimball) and their son, Geoffrey Peter, are living at 23 Maple St., Newton, Mass. Mr. Loid is employed by the Polaroid Corporation in Cambridge, Mass.

Barbara Bertels received the degree of bachelor of science at Simmons College in June. Barbara has completed a course at the Prince School of Store Service Education. Congratulations, Barbara.

Marjorie and Bob Dewick are living at 17 Rudman Road, Portland, Maine.

Received a nice letter from Alan Duff this summer. It seems I made a mistake in regard to Duffy's position in the Du Pont Plant in Arlington, N. J. Duffy is head of the engineering division in that plant. I'm really sorry to have made the mistake but it was actually sent to me in that manner. The Duffy's address is 786 Kearney Ave., Arlington, N. J.

Carolyn and Howard Stagg live at 375 Clifton Ave. Newark, N. J. Howard is employed by the Public Service Co. of N. J.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Catherine Frawley, of Augusta, to Richard Braley. Dick is employed by the Central Maine Power Company in Augusta. Congratulations to you.

Hats off to Lucian Scamman and Pat Hutchings, our class president. Lucian and Pat both received their Doctor of Veterinary Medicine Degree in June at Michigan State College. Congratulations to you both. Lucian is now interning at the Angell Memorial Hospital at Boston. Pat is doing research work for the Veterinary Division at Michigan State College. His work is both in the laboratory and field throughout the state of Michigan. Pat and the Mrs. are living at Ardmore Ave., Okemos, Michigan, where he has a small practice on the side.

It is with great sorrow that I report the tragic death of Lieut. Raoul Bourgoin. Raoul was killed in an airplane crash at Hampton Beach, N. H. He was returning from a Routine Training Flight at his home, Frenchville, Maine, to Langley Field, Virginia.

So long until next month

1938—Next Reunion, 1942

Dear Classmates,

Time certainly moves and, from the stack of clippings of '38ers, I guess they think so too. Before I rush into this, let me say I hope you have had a swell summer and that the winter will be just as swell.

Fran Jones was married to Evelyn Nickerson, of Bangor, on August 14, 1940, at 8 o'clock at the Unitarian parsonage in Orono. It seems that well-laid wedding plans had to be abandoned as Fran got his Washington, D. C. appointment sooner than expected. The bride is a graduate of Bangor High and has been in training at the Augusta General Hospital. Fran's new job is junior agricultural economic statistician, Division of Prices and Historical Research, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. The newly-weds are living at 4862 Conduitt Rd., Washington, D. C.

Georgia Taylor is also a married woman. Yes, John Thurlow (D.). They were married in the Congregational Church at Fryeburg, 4 o'clock, June 29. Dorothy Craig, '39, of Fryeburg, was maid of honor. Barbie Ware was one of the bridesmaids. The couple took a wedding trip through Canada after which they lived at Sebago Lake for the summer. The Doctor graduated from Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery at Kirksville, Mo. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi.

Barbie Ware is about to get herself all tied down, too. Remember tall Dana Orr, from freshman year? Well, he's the man. The engagement was announced at a dinner party given July 17 at Rockwell Inn in Portland. Georgia Taylor, Mrs. Robert Schoppe (Mary Belle Flynn), Mary-Hale Sutton, Alice Collins, and Mary Upham were all there. Dana is also a doctor. He graduated this June from Tufts Dental and is practicing now in Wilton.

Helen Abbott was also married, August 3. The ceremony took place in rectory of Sacred Heart Church in Portland. Helen's sister, Virginia, was her attendant. I almost forgot to tell you the groom's name, Leroy Blackmer, who is a graduate of Massachusetts State and received his M. A. from the U. of M. in '39. He has been studying for his Ph. D. at Brown and is this year to be an assistant on the faculty at Brown.

Dunc Cotting and Marge Lynds were married at 4 o'clock on Sept. 6 in the Congregational Church at Newton, Mass. Marge and Dunc left for a wedding trip to New York, Washington, D. C., and Canada. Peg Maxwell, Barbie Ware, Alice Collins, Polly Cooper all attended. Dunc is employed by R. F. Marshall in tional and Industrial Union in Boston. You can reach them at 45 Garden St., Beacon Hill, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have a daughter. Her name is Bettina Marion Smith, daughter of Betti and Arthur Smith, of 92 Park Ave., E., Lowell, Mass., 6 lbs. 2 oz. The proud parents would, I think, be delighted to hear from you.

Millie Dixon married Don Haskell on June 29, at 538 Brighton Ave., home of Don's mother. Frances Smith attended her. Mrs. Beniah Harding (Ida Mae Hart) served. Don is machinist, Hartford for Special Machine Company, Hartford, Conn. They will live at 142 Kenyon St., Hartford, Conn.

Stanley Dunlap was married to Katherine Geer on August 17, 1940, in the Immanuel Baptist Church of Portland. Boston and Marge by Women's Education-Katherine is a graduate of Deering High and Roosevelt Hospital School of Nursing, N. Y. C. She has been in charge of the Children's Receiving Department of the hospital. Stan is with the Devonshire Financial Company of Augusta.

Dick Boyer has taken a position with Connecticut Telephone and Electric Co., working on the assembly of telephone fingers for the new U. S. Army Field telephone sets. His address is 104 Ann St., Meriden, Conn.

Lawrence Denning is back in New York City. You can find him in W. T. Grant Store at 519 E. 138th St., New York City, or at his residence, 427 W. 162nd St., New York City.

Jo Profta and Mildred Dauphinee were elected president and publicity chairman respectively of Pi Phi's alumni group in Bangor for 1940-41.

Ida Mae Hart married Beniah Harding, of Holliston, Mass. Mr. Harding studied two years at Colby, is a graduate of Huntington School of Boston. The wedding was announced at a reception on June 13 at Hotel Thorndike in Rockland. They will live in Waterville after Sept. 20.

Howard Goding graduated from Springfield College, Springfield, Mass., in June and received a B. S. in physical education.

Herbert Stern is engaged to Frances Zolov, of Washington Ave., Portland. Miss Zolov is a graduate of Portland High and Westbrook Junior College. Herb is with the Maine Beauty and Barber Supply of Portland. No date has been set for the wedding.

Nelson Carter is now working in Rochester, N. Y., for the Eastman Kodak Company at their Kodak Park plant. He reported for work in Rochester on August 5.

Fred Judkins bought a farm last fall in Upton, intending to do poultry farming. During the winter he worked in a lumber camp hauling and stamping timber. As poultry looked unfavorable, he worked at milk pasteurization and delivery. He is serving as Master of the Upton Grange and is also town constable.

Hazel Lundy is managing the Book Store of Westbrook Junior College with a summer busy with interviewing prospective students for the college. She can be reached at 9 Bracket St., Biddeford, Maine.

Marguerite Benjamin was maid of honor for Mrs. Frank Witt Jr., in Mars Hill this summer. Let's see—date, August 23. She is living with Mary Wright, 141 Union St., Auburn, Maine.

Dear, I haven't had a chance to say much about anyone.

Sincerely,

Mary Deering

From the way the weddings have poured in this time, I've begun to doubt if there are any single '39ers left.

On June 10, in Old Town, Ruth Wooster became the bride of our prexy, Dana Drew. Maine people in the party were Calista Buzzell, Bud Brown, Roger Stearns, Bernard Robbins, and Arthur Chick. The Drews are living in Old Town.

Elizabeth Curtis married Charles Huntoon on July 15 at Searsport, Maine. Cates, Conrad Ray, Raymond Valiere, and Conrad McDowell were in the wedding group. The Huntoons are residing at 906 West Park Square, Prospect Park, Pa.

1940—Next Reunion, 1942

Dear Classmates,

September has rolled around again and we're not headed back to Orono! It is some consolation however to know that a good many of us have jobs.

Many of the men have gone with the army; Charlie Weaver, Maynard Files, Ralph Pipes, Jimmie McCam, and Parker "Chub" Stuart. There are others, I understand, but can't pass the information along until confirmed.

There seems to be no end to the weddings which took place during the summer and early fall. Linnea Weston was married on June 30 to Paul Young. They are living in Bangor.

Pauline Jellison and Artemus Weatherbee (39) were married June 19 in Bangor and are at home now in Greenbelt, Md.

Josephine Freeman was married June

16 to Orville O. Mundt in Portland. They are to live in Michigan but I can't name the city yet.

The first of July Margaret Hauck and Edward Ladd ('39) were married at the President's house in Orono. Needless to say, Peggy and Ted are living very happily in their apartment at The Robert in Camden, Maine.

Jerome Steeves entered the Army Air Corps at Alabama Institute of Aeronautics at Tuscaloosa.

Howard Kenney is to be with the General Electric Co. of Boston.

We have several home demonstration agents, most of whom assumed their duties July 1. Margaret Peaslee, Aroostook County, Mary Ellen Buck and Helen-grace Lancaster, Kennebec, Elizabeth Libby, Penobscot, Dorothy Phair, Somerset, and Joseph Harrington agent for Oxford County.

The representation of 1940 in the teaching profession is by no means small. Ruth Trickey is teaching music and English at Ricker Classical Institute in Houlton. Maxine Robertson is teaching home economics at Aroostook Central Institute in Mars Hill. Margaret Steinmetz is teaching home economics at Presque Isle High. Philip Curtis is to teach a newly installed course in Agriculture at Livermore Falls High.

William Finnegan is with the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company in Hartford, Conn. Bill writes Mr. Crossland that he has seen Mary Kennedy who is working at the Hartford Hospital and Dorothy Day who is at Fox's in Hartford.

Johnny Carlisle is acting as Eastern Field Secretary for Phi Gamma Delta. Betty Druse wrote me that news and I hope to get details soon.

Irene Spruce was wed August 8 to Francis Noyes of Old Town where they will live.

Priscilla Bickford and Harry Nelson were married August 31 in Portland and are to live in Springfield, Vt., where Harry is employed by the Jones & Lamson Co.

Leon Breton was awarded the Payson scholarship in Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. Elnora Savage and Hugh Young have fellowships at Maine.

Kenneth Bouchard has the most interesting sounding position. He is to be assistant agronomist on a large banana plantation in the Artibonite Valley of the Republic of Haiti, West Indies. You'd hardly expect an Aroostook boy to know so much about bananas!

The engagement of Barbara N. Atwood to Richard G. Morton was announced July 9, 1940.

Linwood Rideout was married to Miss Miriam Brown on July 23 and they are living on Mount Wadleigh where Linwood is employed by the Maine Forest Commission until October.

Mac and Marnie Roberts are farming blissfully in Alfred, Maine.

The latest of my long list of wedding announcements came from Doreen Task. Dodie was married to Robert Montgomery in Farmington, Maine, on September 4. Dodie and Bob are to be at home after September 12 at 420 Davis St., Allegan, Michigan.

Any news would be greatly appreciated and you can write to me at Houlton, Maine where I'll be for the school year at least. I'm teaching in the Houlton High School!

Sincerely,

We want your telephone service to be good and quick and cheap. But there's more to it than that. We want it to be courteous too.

No matter what the occasion, there's always time for a cheery "please" and a pleasant word of thanks. That is the Bell System way. It is one of the fine traditions of the telephone business.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

PREPAREDNESS—THE BELL SYSTEM IS PREPARED TO DO ITS PART IN THE NATION'S PROGRAM OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

AMERICA'S FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE

NOT Europe, not even those outlying naval bases that protect our shores—America's first line of defense is American industry. It is to industry that the nation looks today for the armaments to protect America's high living standards, to defend the American way of life.

In the last two generations American industry has built a great nation. Its workmen, scientists, and engineers have helped produce and put to work more than one-third of the world's electric power and one-half of its mechanical energy. They have given us electric lights in 24 million American homes and electric refrigerators in 13 million—conveniences which represent the highest standard of living and the greatest industrial achievement in the world. And the manpower, the inventive and manufacturing genius, the experience, the daring to tackle difficult tasks—assets which have helped to produce this high standard of living—are among America's strongest resources today.

G-E research and engineering have saved the public from ten to one hundred dollars for every dollar they have earned for General Electric

Not a cannon, but the 130,000-pound shaft for a great electric generator being built in the General Electric shops in Schenectady. When completed, the generator will deliver 75,000 horsepower of electricity.

Industry today undertakes the task of building, not only armaments, but, equally important, the machines that can be used to manufacture these armaments in quantity sufficient for any emergency. And General Electric scientists, engineers, and workmen, who for more than 60 years have been putting electricity to work in America's peacetime pursuits, are today turning to the new job—the job of defending the benefits electricity has helped to create.
