Indians

No story of life in early Portland can truly depict the indomitable spirit of the people who settled there without emphasis on the Indians and their depredations. That the early settlers managed to find any joy in living at all seems almost impossible to us today. Yet these hardy men and women lived a full and happy life, finding their quiet pleasures in spite of the almost constant Indian threat to their property and to their lives.

A graphic account of this ever-present black cloud of danger is found in "A History of Indian Wars of New England", by the eminent historian, Herbert Milton Sylvester. He wrote:

"By day or night no white man was safe. As he ploughed or reaped the fences along his fields were the crouching places of his inveterate enemy. The thickets by the roadside were likely at any moment to breathe forth a wisp of musket-smoke when the fatal bullet would speed to his heart. The savage lurked in his barns and out-houses, and his terror kept pace with the days as they grew. His women and children were not safe for a moment once they had crossed the threshold into the outer air. His movements were timed by his necessities, while those of the savage were limited only by his animus of destruction. The savage was omnipresent, and whether the settler was asleep or awake at work or journeying, at home or at church like the sword of Damocles his constant jeopardy colored his every thought and he was momentarily listening for the warning sounds by which the savage was wont to make known his propinquity."

The feeling for freedom and independence must have been strong indeed in our first Portlanders. That among them were the few unscrupulous ones who were responsible for the deadly hatred of Indian for white man cannot be denied. Without those greedy, lawless men, Portland's history might have been very different — there might have been no destruction of the settlement in King Philip's War, nor the sack and burning of Fort Loyall.

When Cogawesco, Sagamore of "Cascoë", in simple friendliness welcomed Christopher Levett to what is now Portland, who could have foretold the future?

SERVING the STATE

IN accepting the provisions of the Morrill Act on March 25, 1863, providing public lands the sale of which would make available funds for the establishment of the college, the state of Maine took an important step. Dr. M. C. Fernald in his history of the University viewed it as important for it pledged the state to "support at least one college to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes."

Outlined below are some of the major ways in which the University is fulfilling the intent of the Land-Grant Act. Taken from a copy of the University of Maine Bulletin for February entitled "Financial Facts" this along with other information in the Bulletin points out the real need of the University for its budget request of $1,318,000 for each of the next two years.

In terms of the depreciated 1951 dollar, this amount is actually less than the State provided twenty years ago. The above request does not include provision for any major repairs or capital expenditures nor for the increase of services in education, research or instruction. For the current year with a State appropriation of $962,000 plus other income available for operating the University there is an anticipated $165,000 deficit. By reducing University reserve funds to the danger point this deficit can be covered.

With the Faculty

"One on the House," a modern comedy written by Walter R. Whitney, associate professor of English, was presented by the Bowdoin College Faculty and their wives in Brunswick this month.

About once in a decade the Bowdoin faculty put on a play, and this year decided to present the new comedy written by Professor Whitney, who was graduated from Bowdoin in 1923. The Masque will produce the play later on in the year.

Dr. Alice R. Stewart, 37, assistant professor of history, is the author of an article entitled "Canadian-West Indian Union, 1854-1885" in the current issue of The Canadian Historical Review.

Dr. Stewart did research work for this article at the West India Library at Kingston, Jamaica; Public Records Office, London; and the Public Archives of Canada, Ottawa.

The article deals with the unsuccessful attempt made in the 1800's to form a union of Canada with some or all of Britain's West Indian colonies.

Cerald J. Crady, instructor in Government, has apparently decided to practice what he preaches for he has announced his candidacy for town selectman of Orono.

"Geology for Engineers," a textbook written by Dr. Joseph M. Trethick, professor of geology, has been adopted for class use in 65 colleges and universities during the past year.

Dr. Eugene C. Ogden, M.S. '34, on leave of absence from the department of botany and entomology, is now exploring for plants in Mexico for the Division of Plant Exploration and Introduction of the United States Department of Agriculture. He is concentrating on those plants thought to be of value as possible sources of cortisone, used in the treatment of rheumatic ailments.

His explorations have taken him to the deserts and mountains in the states of Tamaulipas, San Luis Potosi, Queretaro, Hidalgo, Tlaxcala, Mexico, Puebla, and Queriero. Twenty-five pound samples are shipped to Washington for analysis by government chemists. The search so far has been in the dry areas but will soon shift to the tropical rain forests of Oaxaca and Chiapas.

The Botanical Society of Mexico has recently honored Dr. Ogden by voting him a corresponding member.

C. D. Program—

Prof. Harry D. Watson, '18, Safety Committee Chairman, has inaugurated a civilian defense program. First aid courses have been started and it is intended a disaster training program will be started.

"... the endowment, support and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such manner as the Legislatures of the States may respectively prescribe in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions in life."

The Federal Land-Grant Act
(Approved by President Lincoln in 1862)

Except for a relatively short period during World War II, enrollment has steadily increased from 1,510 students in 1930 to a high of 4,917 in 1948. A total of 3,695 students registered for the fall semester of 1950-51.

In the face of decreasing purchasing power and declining revenues from the State, the University has had to assume greatly increased financial responsibilities. In addition to the necessity for providing instruction for more students, operation of the University's physical plant requires larger expenditures for heat, electricity, janitor service, and repairs. Additional funds have also been needed to maintain research and extension services.

State appropriations have not been in line with economic trends. The average annual appropriation for operation and maintenance for the past ten years was $770,194, an amount only $26,500 more than the Mill Tax produced in 1930.

The University, like families, business concerns, and industries, has been faced with the problem of meeting rising costs. A recent study of prices paid for 153 items essential to the University's operation and maintenance indicates that in the summer of 1950 the sum of $2.06 was required to buy what $1.00 bought in 1940.

Vice President—

One of Maine's outstanding young business men has left the state to accept an executive position with a national cranberry marketing group. Harold E. Bryant '32 has resigned his position as general manager of the world's largest potato co-operative, Maine Potato Growers, Inc., to become executive vice president and general manager of the American Cranberry Exchange. This is one of the largest co-operative sales organizations in the country, handling two-thirds of all the cranberries marketed in the United States.

A former president of the State Chamber of Commerce, Bryant also has held several other important posts in the business and civic life of Maine and New England. A year ago he was elected president of the United States Fresh Fruit and Vegetables Association, the largest of its kind in the country.

Bryant became general manager of Maine Potato Growers, Inc., in September 1936 at the age of 26. During his administration, the cooperative has had a phenomenal growth, rising from a local association of about 75 members in 1936 to a state-wide marketing and purchasing co-operative in 1951 of 2,145 members with a net worth of more than $1,000,000 and an annual business volume of approximately $24,000,000.

Seized!—

Just as we go to press a news dispatch from Buenos Aires disclosed that Frank Shea '33, Time and Life photographer, had been seized by Argentine police for taking pictures. Shea was reported taking pictures of street fighting following a government-backed strike against La Prensa, the great South American newspaper which has incurred the displeasure of President Peron.

Fifty Years Ago—

"Among the changes in buildings, a wooden structure formerly attached to the Commons was moved about four hundred feet to the south and was refitted for the joint use of the Art Guild and the Young Men's Christian Association, and the room in Oak Hall formerly occupied by the Association was made into three dormitory rooms. In addition the large room on the third floor of Coburn Hall, formerly used as a Chapel, was cut into five rooms including one lecture room that would accommodate ninety persons, two recitation rooms for the Department of Modern Languages, and a laboratory room for the Department of Philosophy."

—Fernald's History of the University

Alumni NAMES in the NEWS

Mr. Shea has covered many of the strategic spots of the world in his career as a journalist. In 1942 he went overseas with OWI serving in Cairo and then with the State Department in the Balkans. In 1945 he was sent to Bucharest.

During his absence overseas his wife (Margaret Hammell '32) wrote the hilarious books called "The Gals They Left Behind" and "Tavern in the Town." The book was co-authored by Rebecca (Spencer) Files '32, wife of Harry P. Files, Jr. '35.

It is expected that the State Department will arrange for Shea's release.

New Post—

Donald M. Stewart '35, M.A. '36, for the past five years director of the Bridgeport (Conn.) Community Chest, has recently been appointed to the public relations staff of the Community Chests and Councils of America. In his new post Stewart will direct the campaign promotion for Community Chests throughout the United States, Canada, and Hawaii.

Before taking up Community Chest work in Connecticut he had been associated with Little, Brown & Company, Boston publishers. He has been active in the civic life of Bridgeport and was instrumental in organizing several civic groups.

While his headquarters will be in New York City, he and Mrs. Stewart (Ruth Goodwin '36) and their two daughters will continue to live in Milford, Connecticut.

Editor—

The Preparation and Treatment of Wood Pulp, J. Newell Stephenson '17, Editor-in-chief, McGraw-Hill Book Company, $10.00.

The volume was prepared under the Joint Committee on Vocational Education representing the Pulp and Paper Manufacturers of the U. S. and Canada.

Thoroughly covering all aspects of the manufacture of wood pulp, this book reflects the pooled know-how of more than 100 top men in the field who worked together in editing, revising, writing, analyzing and checking the information it contains to make the volume as comprehensive as possible. The first book in a four-volume revision of the successful reference library, The Manufacture of Pulp and Paper, this guide has been re-written and re-organized to bring you in line with the most effective methods and equipment used in preparing and treating wood pulp.

President—

Joseph B. Chaplin '21 received national recognition when he was elected president of the National Association of Secondary School Principals at the 35th annual meeting of the Association in New York City.

Chaplin has held other high offices in the association. He is a past president of its New England Council and has just completed a term as its national first vice president.

He has been principal of Bangor High since 1937. Prior to that he served as principal of Bingham and Newport High Schools, and taught at Houlton High and Gorham Normal School.

Other important educational posts held by Chaplin include: Past president of the Maine Principals Association, member of the New England College Admissions Board, vice president of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and member of the Maine State School Board.

He is a member of the New England Basketball Tournament committee, a veteran of World War I, and a member of the Bangor Rotary Club.

It discusses the physical, microscopic, and structural properties of wood, as well as its chemical composition. It shows you how wood is prepared from the time it first reaches the mill and describes everything connected with its manufacture into mechanical pulp, sulphite pulp, or alkaline-process pulp. It takes up the methods, chemicals, equipment, etc., used in bleaching both mechanical and chemical pulp.

GIFTS and BEQUESTS

Several gifts and bequests, chiefly for student aid purposes, the total value of which exceeds $30,000 have been received by the University and University of Maine Foundation during recent weeks. In addition to gifts in money, there have been several of pictures and books on which no monetary value has been placed.

From the estate of the late Louis de Pui Vail of Philadelphia has come an additional $5,000, increasing the total bequest to $15,000 to establish the Nathan P. Towne Scholarship fund, the income to be used for a scholarship in engineering.

The D. S. and R. H. Gottesman Foundation has given $2,000 for their regular grants for 1949-50 and 1950-51 for awards to students doing advanced work in pulp and paper technology.

Frederick W. Conlogue, Class of 1910, of Boulder Creek, California, has given $2,000 to be awarded as scholarships during 1950-51 to worthy and needy students.

Under the will of the late Lucy F. Griffin of Bangor, the University received a bequest of $6,000 to establish the Henry L. Griffin Scholarship Fund. Harold P. Marsh '09 was trustee of the estate.

Two anonymous donors have each given $1,000 to the President's Aid and Emergency Fund.

The Charles H. Hood Dairy Foundation has given the University $950 towards the Hood Scholarship awards for 1950-51.

From the estate of the late Alson H. Robinson, Class of 1901, the University has received $2,000.

The Maine State Florists Association has donated $500 to the University to establish a loan fund. They will increase this initial gift from time to time.

Other gifts include $550 received from the University of Maine Club of New York, $50 from Eastern Pennsylvania Alumni Association for scholarship purposes, and $25 from Mr. Henry Beston of Nobleboro for special English magazine subscriptions.

Three prints and paintings have been given for the University Art collection. Anonymous donors have given Ogden Pleisner's "Pont St. Marie" and an original painting by Childe Hassam entitled "Boston: Acorn Street in Wartime."

An original water color, "Things Flying," by Don Kingman, was a gift from the Childe Hassam Fund of the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

Mrs. Albert Stevens has given several prints from the collection of her husband, the late Colonel Albert Stevens '07, to be added to the group which he had given to the University earlier.

An exhibit of 48 volumes of Peter Pauper Press books from Peter and Edna Beilenson, Mt. Vernon, New York, and two enlargements from Stone and Webster Engineering Corporation of photographs of large electric plants constructed by that company.

$10,000 Bequeathed by Ralph Whittier

versity of Maine Foundation of which he was a charter member and which he served for many years as treasurer. The income from one bequest of $5,000 is to be used for student aid purposes. The income from the other $5,000 bequest is payable to Alpha Tau Omega corporation for maintenance of the local chapter house or if the local chapter is discontinued, the income is to be used also for student aid.

In 1930 the State of Maine provided approximately $425 for the education of a student in the University; for this year the amount provided is about $200. If the present value of the dollar is taken into consideration, the difference becomes even more striking.

The principal source of revenue needed to supplement the State's appropriation has come from student fees. Tuition charges were increased in 1946, 1947, and 1949. The cost of tuition and fees for Maine residents is now $295 a year as compared with $165 during the prewar period. Charges to out-of-state students have been increased from $280 to $455.

Nominations for the twenty-first annual award of the Alumni Service Emblem should be submitted to the Alumni Office by May 10.

Established in 1930 for "recognition of outstanding service rendered through the Alumni Association to the University of Maine," the Service Emblem has through the years gained the highest prestige by virtue of the outstanding alumni to whom it has been awarded.

Any alumnus is eligible to receive the Service Emblem which is based on the number and high quality of services rendered to the University and the Alumni Association. The Service Emblem is primarily for an alumnus but may in "exceptionally meritorious instances be awarded to a non-alumnus."

Former recipients of this prized emblem are:

FRONT COVER: Probably the doorway most familiar on campus to three generations of students is that of Alumni Hall. In an earlier day it was the center of student activities for it housed the gymnasium and the chapel as well as the administrative offices. It was here that the dances, commencement exercises and other important college functions were held.

The present generation of students recognize Alumni Hall as the nerve center of the campus for the most important of "Pine Tree" letters come from here indicating academic or financial problems that require immediate attention. Yet few realize that this hall, the first building on campus which alumni helped make possible, once contained bowling alleys, a shooting gallery, a baseball cage and men's locker rooms as well as the offices mentioned above. Nor do they remember the indoor track that was in what is now the women's gym.

Mention of the shooting gallery recalls the story of Jim Gannett '08, Registrar, who had persuaded the then President Aley to go out to the gallery for some target practice. On his first shot President Aley made a bull's-eye and refused to take another shot wishing to keep his record perfect.

The cornerstone of Alumni Hall was laid by Governor Powers on June 12, 1900, and was completed in 1901. That year there were 382 students of whom 16 were women. It was a year of many changes of buildings, as Dr. Fernald's "History of the University" reports.

Appropriations for the University of Maine by the State have lagged far behind the general price increase.

The University has managed to operate under these circumstances by increasing tuition rates, receiving higher fees for veterans, and by holding expenses at a minimum.

Now that the veterans are finishing their courses, the University is faced with a sharp reduction in income, along with reduced enrollment. Costs cannot be cut proportionately when enrollment declines. That is all the more true because so many of the cost increases of recent years have resulted from inflationary factors beyond the University's control.

Jim Martenhoff '40, Associated Press photographer, has brought to the newspaper readers of the country stirring pictures of the war in Korea. The destruction, the tragedy and the pathos of war have been caught by him as he works along the front lines. While his mail address is Tokyo he spends all his time in Korea.

Lower left: A Korean youngster clings to its mother's back as she prepares their meager rice ration at a refugee camp in Taegu, South Korea. They were among thousands of civilians massed in the city after flight from on-rushing Chinese Communists.

Campus NEWS of the MONTH

Acceleration??—

The question of whether the University would adopt an accelerated program was an important one to the students in late February.

Dr. Hauck told the student body that no final action would be taken until it is known more definitely how college students will be affected by pending legislation before Congress with respect to UMT. "At present it seems unlikely that acceleration, if deemed necessary in the national interest, would be put into effect before next fall," Dr. Hauck pointed out.

"Acceleration would present the University with difficult scheduling and financial problems," Dr. Hauck continued. "It would probably have to be on a voluntary basis, since many students must earn money during the summer to help defray their college expenses."

The President pointed out that if part of the student body took the normal time to complete their college courses while another group enrolled for an accelerated program, first and second courses would have to be offered simultaneously.

Forestry Yearbook—

The Maine Forester, 1951 edition, made its debut in early March and drew the editorial plaudits of The Campus. A 100-page volume, it is a forestry department yearbook edited by Harold Kilbreth '51.

Alumni foresters may secure a copy by sending one dollar to the Forestry Department.

Rushing—

The recent spring rushing period resulted in more than 225 men pledged to seventeen fraternities. This was an increase over a year ago when only 175 men were accepted.

A new "safety quota" was established this year which allows a fraternity to pledge 25% of its house capacity (as set by the Interfraternity Council) plus the regular estimated 1951 fall vacancy of the fraternity.

The two weeks' rushing period was followed by pledging when the freshmen reported to the Louis Oakes Room to list the three fraternities of their choice in order of preference. Each fraternity submitted two lists of prospective pledges.

The first list contained the exact number of names to fill its pledging quota. The second list contained as many names as the fraternity wished to include. This second list in preferential order served to supplement the positions not filled on the preferred list. These lists were balanced against the choice of the freshmen to determine the house to which he was pledged.

This system was first adopted in 1938 but was suspended during World War II. This is the second year that it has been in practice since the close of the war.

Sigma Chi with 27 men and Phi Mu Delta with 24 head the list of the number of men pledged.

Sorority rushing enjoyed a second rushing period in March because the December period did not fill the quotas. Twenty-nine "bids" were accepted from the six sororities during the second period.

University Catalog—

More than 900 courses from accounting to Zoology are listed in the new University catalog for 1950-51 with announcements for the sessions of 1951-52.

The publication carries a new cover design by Prof. Vincent Haitgen as well as a map of the campus and several pictures. The official calendar of the catalog sets alumni week end for 1952 as June 13-15. Alumni may secure copies by requesting them from the alumni office.

One of the new courses listed for the first time is in the physical education curriculum, Pe 50 Camp Leadership. It is one of few such courses in the country and recognizes the importance of summer camps for youth, one twelfth of which are in Maine.

It seeks to develop leadership among camp counselors pointing up the great influence that counselors have over youngsters. Instructor for the course is Sam Sezak '31 who has had more than twenty years' experience in summer camp work. The course will also enjoy the instruction of several visiting lecturers and field trips to successful camps in Maine.

Forty-two students including six women enrolled for the course proving a demand for training in this field. The Placement Bureau already has a backlog of requests for camp counselors.

R.O.T.C. Unit Favored—

As a result of the application of the University last October for an air ROTC unit the Air Force requested that the following questions be asked:

I strongly favor
I favor
I oppose
I am indifferent to

The establishment of an Air Force ROTC unit at the University of Maine on a permanent basis or

I strongly favor
I favor
I oppose
I am indifferent to

The establishment of an Air Force ROTC unit at the University of Maine for the duration of the emergency

Of the 2,253 ballots cast, 1,428 were in favor of the Air ROTC on a permanent basis, another 152 on a "for the duration" plan, 474 for both plans, 90 opposed and 109 indifferent. The faculty showed an overwhelming preference for the establishment of the unit.

In November a group of air officers visited the University to inspect facilities and appeared chiefly interested in training students for ground crew and engineering work.

The purpose of the application for an air unit, according to Dr. Hauck, was to "try to provide a wider range of choice in fields of training" for students taking ROTC courses. It is also understood that the University has given consideration to applying for a Naval ROTC in view of widening the range of choice.

Pictured below is part of the Glee Club as they broadcasted from the Little Theater over the New England Regional network on Sunday, March 11. This is the second year that Maine has participated in the series of broadcasts, "Songs of New England Colleges," sponsored by the Monsanto Chemical Company.

Director James Selwood (back to the camera) is shown leading the group. Their program brought enthusiastic response from alumni who heard the broadcast. A recording (78 RPM) minus the "commercials," of last year's broadcast are available through the Bookstore.

Maine Cubs—

Signs of the Times were noted in a large ad in The Campus recently when the Mrs. Maine Club sponsored a Maine Cub Well-Baby Clinic. All Maine Cubs (children of students of the University) were eligible for immunization shots for numerous diseases.

The Mrs. Maine Club also sponsors a nursery school in the basement of Estabrooke Hall. This is in addition to the long-established nursery schools under the direction of the Home Economics Department and the Psychology Department.

Al Meisky '51, journalism major from Portland recently wrote the following story of Py 73 and 74, Child Study Laboratory, for The Campus:

Morning is a bad time for the college student. He usually frowns upon awakening and frowns while dressing and then frowns even more while reading the morning newspapers. He is now well grouched for his morning classes.

But those Maine students who have their early morning classes in center Stevens have had their stormy gloom effectively changed to sunny content—for theirs has been the blessing of being able to hear the sound of children's laughter.

Innocent laughter is a rare thing indeed in these times. People have taken too much to wrinkled worry and chronic complaining and have forgotten to enjoy life. People don't laugh anymore. But these children personify the silver lining to our grown-up grey clouds. They are our future's hope.

The children who cause the light feeling in the hearts of all who hear them at play are kindergarten members of the psychology department's 22—10 boys and 12 girls—and are the children of students and faculty members. They are from three and a half to five years of age. The course is under the direction of Dr. Edward N. Brush and is taught by 15 practice teachers headed by graduate assistant Miss Pauline Cloutier.

The playground to which the juvenile students adjourn after their classes in the basement of North Stevens is located behind center Stevens. The slides and swings there provide a useful outlet for the excess energy and gaiety which can only be found in youngsters of this age.

These little collegians have their own educational system. They have three classes. The youngest are enrolled in the Maine Cub-Nursery from which they graduate to Merrill Hall and then to North Stevens. They also receive report cards at the end of each semester on which they are graded for social, physical, mental and emotional growth and development.

Members of the psychology department report that there is always a long waiting list of children wishing to enroll in these classes.

Deep Sea Diver—

Raymond McKay, 24-year-old University senior and professional deep-sea diver, spoke to a recent meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers on campus.

McKay began his underwater career in the Navy more than seven years ago at the Washington Navy Diving School. From there the husky diver went to the Pacific theatre and to more than 200 hours on the ocean bed.

While working on a sunken tug in Borneo, his ship was caught with a diver on the bottom when Japanese planes launched a strafing attack. Ironically, McKay came through this without a scratch only to return to the United States and come close to losing his life on a routine dive in San Francisco Bay. After sending three bodies to the surface from a sunken ship, he found that his suit had become snarled on a cot spring. A diving mate freed him scant minutes before the ship rolled with the current.

In April, 1946 McKay was ordered to Bikini Atoll where he assisted in anchoring such target ships as the USS Enterprise, the USS New York, and the Jap battle-wagon Negato, and in putting down submarines for the underwater explosion. Following each atomic blast he and his mates repaired the ruptured hulks for surfacing and new tests.

After his discharge from the Navy, McKay bought his own equipment, for both deep-sea and shallow water work. Working in and around Bar Harbor, he has helped pay for his college education.

For the first time in its 46-year history The Masque produced Shakespeare's comedy "The Tempest" on March 14-16 with a special matinee for high school students on Saturday. The elaborate costuming for the production was done by the Masque as was the stage setting which is shown below.

Professor Herschel Bricker, director of the Masque, is well-known for the quality of his Shakespearean productions and "The Tempest" included all the songs and dances of the original script.

Canadian-U. S. Conference—

A two-day Conference on Canadian-American affairs is scheduled for April 19-20. Professor Alice Stewart '37 is chairman of the committee arranging the event.

Prominent educators, economists, political scientists, agriculturists and defense officials of both nations will participate in forum discussions of these subjects: (1) Canada, the United States, and World Affairs; (2) Canadian-American Economic Problems; (3) Canadian Education; and (4) Canadian-American Agricultural Relations.

Lester B. Pearson, Canada's Minister of External Affairs, will open the conference as speaker at a University Assembly.

The conference has a two-fold purpose: (1) To provide an opportunity for an exchange of ideas and information on current issues in Canadian-American relations and on the participation of the two countries in international affairs, and (2) To promote among the student body and faculty of the University of Maine and the community in general a better understanding of Canada and Canadian-American problems.

Cabins—

The Cabin Colony, just off the farm road at the southern end of the campus, will be reconverted next fall to its original purpose of providing low cost living facilities for men students. In post war years the Cabins have been used by married students.

The cabins will provide accommodations for 34 upperclassmen and eight freshmen. Two upperclassmen will be selected as proctors who will live in the central cabin while the others will be assigned to the ten cabins which house four men each. Each cabin includes a study room, kitchen, two bunk rooms, toilet, and storeroom.

The Cabin Colony started in 1937 replaces 'Hungry Hollow' for low cost student housing. It was completed in 1941. Anonymous alumni gifts assisted in the construction of the Colony. The Class of 1913 also gave funds for one cabin.

COACH Harold "Hal" Westerman has been appointed assistant professor of Physical education and head coach of football replacing Dave Nelson who resigned similar duties to accept the positions of Director of Athletics and head coach of football at the University of Delaware.

Nelson's resignation came as a surprise move to his host of friends at the University and among the alumni. The rapidity with which Coach Westerman was appointed to Nelson's position attested to his popularity and reputation on the campus for the quick succession of events occurred within a few days. As soon as Nelson's resignation was announced applications for his position began pouring into the University. The Athletic Board held an unprecedented Sunday meeting and unanimously recommended Westerman's appointment to Dr. Hauck. His approval and that of the Board of Trustees resulted in Westerman's promotion within a few days.

Westerman, a graduate of the University of Michigan, came to Maine with Nelson. Formerly an assistant to Coach Nelson at Hillsdale College, Westerman was also head basketball and track coach there. He played both football and basketball at Michigan. The new head coach will continue the same system of football that has been used at Maine the past two years. Westerman, a tireless worker and an expert coach, gained the admiration of the football squad for in accepting the head coaching berth, Westerman was faced with the decision of breaking away from Nelson with whom he has worked for several years. "I've been very happy here, however," he said, "and I admire the spirit which has been shown by the students. If I can develop the same degree of loyalty and desire as Nelson, I certainly will be satisfied."

Westerman, coach of the freshman bas-

kethall and baseball teams for the past two years, will relinquish these duties to one of his yet unnamed assistants. He is married and has four children. Dave Nelson first attracted attention as a collegian and a Michigan half-back winning the Western Conference Medal "for proficiency in scholarship and athletics." During the war he was a naval photo intelligence officer.

At Hillsdale college he was athletic director and football coach. He holds a B.S. and M.S. degree from Michigan and has done some work toward his doctorate.

Last season Nelson's team lost to New Hampshire and tied Bowdoin for the State Series sunspot. He has frequently appeared before alumni groups. His pleasing personality and earnestness in his work earned him great respect.

Coach Milo "Mike" Lude, head baseball coach and football line coach, who came to the University with Westerman and Nelson will complete the season. He will then go to the University of Delaware.

On December 10 Patricia Anne Crossman became the bride of Clark Wertheim at the First Baptist Church in Needham, Mass. Mrs. Wertheim attended Central Michigan College and Clark served four years with the Marine Corps after graduating from Maine. The Wertheims will make their home at 274 Garden St., Needham, Mass.

Another wedding of interest is that of Mary Elizabeth Ackeroyd and John Webster. The ceremony was performed at the All Saints Episcopal Church in Belmont, Mass. The bride was graduated from Simmons College and did graduate work at the University of Michigan before teaching recreation at a Japanese-American Relocation Center in Arizona and later in the Pacific with the American Red Cross. Prior to her marriage she was employed as District Director at the Boston Council of Girl Scouts. John served with the First Cavalry Division in the Pacific and at Tokyo Army College where he met his bride. John is at present studying at Tufts College School of Medicine. Next summer they plan to take a student trip to Europe.

Marion plays second violin and has been with the enterprising group for four seasons. She is also head of the music library at the University of Louisville School of Music.

Let's all make a belated New Year's resolution to make this a better column next month! It depends on you!

1945 Mrs. Robert A. Pancoast
(Babs Haines)
Parkway, Apt. 25-B
Haddonfield, N. J.

Only one wedding to report this month. That took place December 1, 1950, when Burleigh Crockett married Mrs. Esther E. Titcomb of Farmington. The last address for Burleigh is RFD. 1, Farmington, Maine.

Word has arrived, in a round-about way, that Bob and Arlene Beaumont Anderson have a daughter born in September, I believe.

Little Miss Pamela Beverly Dutton just made our deadline this month. She was born in Portland on February 5, weighing in at 7 lbs., 13 ozs. Bob, Dottie (Currier), and Pam live at 79 Revere St., Portland, Maine.

Ralph and Muriel Peterson Dennison have moved to 599 Main St., Bangor. Pete is working for the Bangor Branch of State Welfare, and Ralph for Prudential Insurance Co.

George and Healy Hansen have a son, George III, who is now one year old. The Hansens live at 240 Highland St., Holden, Mass. George is a design engineer employed by the Riley Stoker Corp. of Worcester, Mass.

Malcolm and Rebecca (Bowden) Herrick can be found at R.D. #1, Pittsford, N. Y. Mal is a television design engineer for Stromberg-Carlson Co.

Coincidences really happen. I discovered. My curiosity was aroused by a fellow named John Wentworth (from Orono, Maine), who recently joined our church here in Haddonfield. When questioned about a possible relationship, he assured me he really is Grace (Wentworth) King's brother. Grace (Mrs. Edward J. King) lives at 423 W. 120th St., Apt. 41, New York 27, N. Y., and her husband teaches at Columbia.

Next came a card returned by Neal and Sue Hill with a new address: Parkway Apt. 15-A, Haddonfield, N. J. Since 15-A is just across our back yard, I hurried down to welcome the new neighbors. Neal is now working for R.C.A. in Camden as an electrical engineer. Sue tells me that a sister of Rosemond Hammond ('46) also lives here at Parkway.

We'll soon have quite a group of Maine folks.

Another '45er in service is Francis Howe. Fran is a 1st Lieutenant in the Marines, stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C. He and Patricia (nee Moore, of Wellesley Hills, Mass.) have two small sons, Douglas and Steven, 3½ and 1 year old, respectively. Temporary address for the family is 408 Sherwood Rd., Jacksonville, N. C.

Barbara (Smiley) Healy's husband, Bob, is a Captain (Aviation) in the Marines. Their new address is AWS J.C., Quantico, Va. Rex (2½) and Sandra (1) complete the Healy family. And here's another coincidence—the Heals and the George Hansens were married on the same day—August 22, 1946.

Dick ('48) and Kay (Jackman) Henderson are among those who went west... at least, part way west. They and Sue, Tommy, and Stevie (6 and 3 years and 4 months old) are living at 422 Waverly St., Berea, Ohio. Dick works for N.A.C.A. as a research engineer. Sounds like the Cleveland branch. Am I right, Kay?

George and Ruth (Goos) Lotker are enthusiastic about forming a young alumni group in the New York-New Jersey area. All those who are interested in the project might contact them at 42 Revere Rd., Port Washington, N. Y. George is a salesman for Majestic Paper Corp., 138 Franklin St., N. Y. C. Ruth is kept busy by young Elizabeth and Barbara, 3½ years and 8 months.

A real wanderer is Robert Miller. Bob, accompanied by wife Elizabeth (Evans) and sons John and Timothy (4½ and 2½) made the long trip to Rome, Italy. Bob is a foreign service clerk at the American Embassy there, and that is their address. Elizabeth formerly did the same type of work that Bob is now doing. Bet she knows more about her husband's work than many wives do!

Arno ('49) and Ruth (Stearns) Shepardson checked in as still living at 83 Circle Drive, Bantam, Conn. Arno is a mechanical engineer employed by the Torrington Co. I don't believe the birth

Stan also reported seeing Bob Nelson, who is married and living at 18 Lamb St., Attleboro, Mass.

Tom ('42) and Virginia Wing Moore have a new address. Ferry Road, Saco, Maine. Duncan and Kathleen are now 3½ and 2½ years old. Tom is a special agent for Maine and New Hampshire for the Camden Fire Insurance Co. of New Jersey.

Bob and Jeanne Staples Malcomson moved to 142 Maple St., Lynn, Mass., the first of the year. And Howard Damon is now a Latin teacher in Needham, Mass. Such a lot of '45ers around Boston!

Russ and Barb (Higgins) Bodwell also had a winter vacation... in Miami Beach. These lucky people!

Merrill Ham recently became a member of the maintenance engineering department of Monsanto Chemical Co.'s Plastics Division at Springfield, Mass.

DeVere Ryckman is an instructor in civil engineering at Michigan State College. His home address is 2214 Hamilton Road, Okemos, Mich. Seems as though Maine were repopulating Michigan lately, doesn't it?

Frank and Doris (Emery) Spencer are now in the process of moving from Connecticut to Sunset Drive, Beverly, Mass., where they have bought a house. Frank is now with the United Shoe Machinery Corp. in Beverly. Dodo wrote that she had seen Jo (Clark) Meloon while in Beverly house-hunting.

Here's a list of new addresses:
Joseph Waldstein, Garden St., Sharon, Mass.

Doris (Russell) Leggat (Mrs. W. Douglas), 137 Wentworth Ave., Lowell, Mass.

Russell P. Lyon, 412 Greenwood Place, Syracuse 10, N. Y.

Fifth Reunion, June 15-17, 1951

Received a January letter from Lucille Cote and she mentioned the New York-New Jersey Maine Alumni meeting at the Henry Hudson Hotel in New York with President Hauck as guest of honor. Lucille saw Mildred (Byronas) and Stan Currie and many others of other classes.

Lucille is going to be busy in April; she'll present a paper on some of her work at Lederle to a federation of six experimental biology societies in Cleveland. Certainly not only a nice vacation but a fine opportunity for "Cote."

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dutton (Dottie Currier '45) of 17 Revere St., Portland are the parents of a baby girl, Pamela Beverly, was born on February 5th. Bob started in our class back in 1942 but graduated somewhat later.

Have some up-to-date news on Robert Preti. Bob is now a lawyer in the firm of Preti and Preti at 119 Exchange St., Portland. His home address is 996 Sawyer St., So. Portland.

Now for the engagements and wedding news. Last December 20th Bradford

Joyce and Loeta Hudson became engaged. She is of Concord, Mass., and is a student at the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing. Bradford, who was originally with our class, graduated in 1948 and went on to MIT. to take his master's.

Late last fall the engagement of Geraldine Rawcliffe to Joseph Lounsberry was announced. Gerry has been residing in Hampden Highlands. Her husband is a graduate of Orono High School and is employed in Bangor.

Also have word from Martha O'Brien—one classmate whom we have not heard from in a long time. Martha was married last June 8th to Dr. Charles P. Barnett of Baltimore. The Barretts live at 1404 Lochner Rd., Apt. D., Baltimore.

In December Mr. and Mrs. Everett S. Kelso of Houlton announced the marriage of their daughter, Sarepta Mae, to George Griffing. The wedding took place in Denver, Colorado. George is teaching at Wiggins, Colorado. Previously he taught at Ricker College in Houlton. Current address for the Griffings is 908 Ensign St., Ft. Morgan, Colorado.

On December 2nd Natalie Goldsmith became the bride of Howard D. Gewertz of Philadelphia and Boston in a ceremony at Beacon House, Brookline, Mass. Among the attendants were Irma Miller Goldsmith as matron of honor and also of our class, Milton Adelman of Mars Hill. The Gewertz' went to Grossinger Resort in New York on their wedding trip and were to be at home at 50 High St., Old Town, after that. After attending Maine with our class Natalie went to Westbrook Junior. Mr. Gewertz was graduated from Kings Point and served as a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve and Maritime Service. He is an architect with offices in Old Town.

Now for some vital statistics. Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Ford have a daughter born at the Stockwell Maternity Home in Bangor.

A daughter, Phyllis, was born on November 1st to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Gamble of 46 Court St., Houlton, Maine.

A son, Peter Gibson, was born on January 5th to Joan (Potter) and Frank Robart of 44 Fuller Rd., Needham, Mass.

A letter from our Class President, R. E. Emerson, telling of courses at Harvard and being appointed to the Executive Committee of the Alumni Group in Boston. The letter which contained "multi" plans for our 5th reunion—yes, I said 5th!—ended on this cheerful note—our Prexy heads for Bermuda on March 9th for a vacation. In very fine print I say, "Well, really, Pennsylvania hasn't been too wintry."

Can't remember if I mentioned that June Whitney Snow has been in the hospital. Mail reaches the Malcolm Snows at R.F.D. #3, So. Brewer. Hope you're feeling better, June.

Received a long and very welcome letter from "Perk" Stebbins. Perk tells of a note from Lib (Furbish) Michel, she and Wally are living in Chicago. "Perk" Don, and daughter Martha were vacationing in Maine last summer and saw Ginny (Tufts) and Joe Chaplin of Lewiston. "Perk" says Don really enjoys his work—and being in the right climate he's doing a lot of skiing. Young Martha received a pair of skis for Christmas—so she is really starting in young to follow her father's ski steps. The Stebbins live at 732 Hillview Lane, LaCrosse, Wisconsin.

"Perk" also mentioned the marriage of Dick Smith, who was with our class originally and an SAE, on September 30th to Ruth Small of East Boothbay.

75th Anniversary of the Birth of the Telephone

1876 ★ 1951

Suppose the telephone had never been invented

Have you ever thought what the world and your life would be like without the telephone?

If you wanted to talk to relatives or friends — if you wanted to order from a store — if you needed to summon a doctor or a policeman in an emergency — there would be no way you could do it in a hurry. What now takes only a few seconds or minutes would often take hours and cost you far more than a telephone call.

Each year the telephone becomes more useful to the people and more vital to the prosperity and security of the Nation. Today's tremendous job of production and defense could not be carried on without it.

There are twice as many Bell telephones as there were only ten years ago. They are here and ready because the Bell System kept right on building and improving to meet the country's needs.

Never in the history of the telephone has it been so valuable to so many people as right now.

It is estimated that during 1951 more than 30 per cent of General Electric's production will comprise projects like these . . . the design and construction of equipment to help fill America's military needs.

The hundreds of General Electric engineers, physicists, chemists, and other specialists sharing in these projects work with the assurance that their contributions are meaningful and important. Their talents and skills, further developed through G-E training courses and broadened through rotational job programs, are standing the nation in good stead.
