REUNION - UMO 1970

Nearly five hundred alumni of the University of Maine at Orono paused in their careers to return to the Orono campus for Reunion activities, June 5 and 6. On June 5, nearly 1200 seniors and a number of graduate students convened to receive their degrees and then left the Orono campus in pursuit of various new careers. During Reunion-Commencement Weekend, three honorary degrees were conferred and the Alumni Service Emblem was presented to an outstanding alumnus and member of the Golden Anniversary Class of 1920.

Reunion activities began for the most part at the class banquets held at local restaurants and on campus Friday night. President and Mrs. Winthrop C. Libby '32 were the honored guests at the dinner for the Golden Anniversary Class of 1920. UM Chancellor and Mrs. Donald R. McNeil were the guests of the Class of 1945, as the class celebrated their twenty-fifth reunion.

Following the class dinners, an open house was held in the Maine Lounge of the Memorial Union. President and Mrs. Winthrop C. Libby '32 greeted alumni, and the film "The Quiet Frontier", sponsored by the Greater Bangor Chamber of Commerce was shown. The film depicts life in Eastern Maine.

On Saturday morning classes met in West Commons and in the Memorial Union for class breakfasts followed by class business meetings in the Memorial Union.

The Alumni Luncheon Friday noon honored the members of the Class of 1920. President Libby '32 presented a 50-year certificate to each class member. President of the class, George "Kid" Potter of Dennis, Massachusetts addressed those in attendance at the luncheon, commenting that fifty years ago his classmates gathered to receive their diplomas, and that he was proud that many of those colleagues were present to receive their new "fifty-year" diplomas.

Also honored at the Alumni Luncheon were ten retiring faculty members whose total years of service to the University amounted to two hundred and twenty-seven years. Those honored were Clarence E. Bennett, Professor of Physics; Mrs. Marion Boyce, Associate Professor of Education; Herschel L. Bricker, Professor of Speech; Edward N. Brush, Professor of Psychology and former Dean of Graduate Study; Arlin Cook, Associate Professor of Speech; Irwin B. Douglass, Professor of Chemistry; John E. Hankins, Professor of English and former head of the English Department; Mrs. Shirley B. Hobbs, Extension Agent with the Cooperative Extension Service; Joseph M. Murray '25, Professor of Zoology and former Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and head of the Department of Zoology; and Frank H. Todd, Associate Professor of Physics.

Lore Rogers '96, the oldest member of the Alumni body present at Reunion activities, was introduced at the luncheon and spoke briefly to the group. Mr. Rogers received the 1908 Attendance Cup as a member of the Class of the 19th Century having the largest percentage of its members registered.

Following the luncheon, Albert M. Parker '28, first vice president of the General Alumni Association presided over the GAA Annual Meeting. At the business meeting, four new members were elected to the Alumni Council for three-year terms. They are William E. Bodwell '50 of Brunswick; Howard L. Bowen '24 of Hallowell; J. Edward DeCourcy '34, of Newport, New Hampshire, and Peter T. Gammons, Jr. '61 of Providence, Rhode Island.

Saturday afternoon, alumni were entertained by The Stammtisch Band in the Lengyel Gymnasium. Hospitality at the Alumni Center was provided by the Southern Penobscot Alumnae who served coffee and home-made sweets. Also part of the Saturday afternoon activities were campus tours in a London double-decker bus and English taxis provided by The Red Lion International Restaurant in Bangor.

The climax of the weekend was the Alumni Banquet in West Commons. Guest speaker was Harold W. Borns Jr., professor of geological sciences and assistant to the president for environmental studies at UMO. Professor Borns spoke on the new Center for Environmental Studies being established at the Orono campus.

One of the noteworthy events at the Alumni Banquet was the presentation of class gifts by presidents and representatives of the reunion classes. Announcements were made regarding the total funds accumulated over the years by the various classes for use as scholarships, loans and other forms of student aid. The largest individual class fund stands at $37,300 raised by the Class of 1915. The Class of 1920 boasted second place with $20,313.

Several new gifts to the University were also announced. The Class of 1935 presented $450. to President Winthrop C. Libby '32 to be used for unrestricted student aid purposes. The Class of 1960 voted to provide a $200. scholarship for a deserving athlete who plans to enter UMO. That class also has established an additional $200. scholarship for deserving students at UMO.

As an expression of interest in the center of higher learning at Orono, the Class of 1965 contributed $1000. to the Library for the purchase of books and in addition established a $500. endowment for the library at the Orono campus.

President Libby congratulated the classes on their special anniversaries and expressed appreciation for their genuine interest and support of the University.

Attendance Cups were presented to those classes with the greatest number of members registered. The Cups were awarded to the Class of 1920, the Twentieth Century Cup; the Class of 1945, the Class of 1924 Cup; and the Class of 1925, the President's Cup. Earlier in the day, the 1908 Cup was awarded to Lore Rogers' 96.

The featured event of The Alumni Banquet was the presentation of the General Alumni Association Service Emblem Award. Kenneth F. Woodbury '24, President of the General Alumni Association, presented the award for outstanding service to the University to George A. Potter, president of the Class of 1920.

Mr. Potter's activities on behalf of the University's alumni association have been many and varied. He is past president of the Black Bear Club of Greater Boston, was a member of the UM General Alumni Association Council from 1958-61, a member of the council's executive committee in 1959-60 and is currently a member of the Annual Alumni Fund committee, and class agent for his class.

He has served as chairman of special gifts in Eastern Massachusetts for the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund, as chairman of the New York Metropolitan Area for the Memorial Gymnasium Fund and was the first chairman of the Annual Alumni Fund committee in 1960.

A record hop at the Memorial Gymnasium concluded the Weekend activities Saturday night.

COMMENCEMENT

At the 139th Commencement Exercises at the University of Maine in Orono, June 5, President Winthrop C. Libby '32 advised the 1970 graduating class to "slow down and temper your passion with both humility and compassion."

President Libby stated that he was proud that at the University of Maine at Orono, while discussion has sometimes been hot and not always rational it has always been "within legal bounds and untouched by violence".

The featured speaker at Commencement Exercises at Orono was University of Maine Chancellor Donald R. McNeil.

McNeil stated in his address to the graduates that today's students are much brighter, better trained, more sensitive, more involved, more relevant, than any generation of the past. He cautioned, however, that with time they will probably become "more bureaucratic, less willing to move (physically as well as mentally), harder to change, more selfish, not so sensitive to either your fellow man or mankind. You will know less—and enjoy it more." He warned them not to let apathy replace their sense of commitment and dedication. He added, don't let the precision of your intellect be dulled, don't permit your hunger for knowledge to be too easily fulfilled—with a slogan as a substitute for serious thought."

During the commencement exercises, three honorary degrees were conferred. The recipients were Judge Edward M. Curran, a native of Bangor who is now chief judge of the U. S. District Court for the District of Columbia, Doctor of Laws; Ardron B. Lewis, a Prentiss native and former agricultural economist and teacher, Doctor of Science; and Mary A. Wyman of Damariscotta, a former teacher, administrator and author, Doctor of Humane Letters.

Robert Dunning Chellis '19 was honored on July 10, 1970 by having conferred upon him an honorary Doctor of Engineering degree. Dr. Chellis, confined to his home by illness, was unable to attend Commencement exercises at Orono on June 5. The Board of Trustees, in an unusual action, authorized the conferring of the honorary degree at the Chellis home in Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts. In conferring the degree, President Winthrop C. Libby of the University of Maine at Orono reviewed briefly the June 5 Commencement exercises as held at Orono.

ARDRON B. LEWIS

MARY A. WYMAN

Graduation activities at Orono began Wednesday, June 3 with a lobster feed and clambake at Alumni Field sponsored by the senior class. Class Day exercises were conducted June 4 in front of the Fogler Library. Comedian and civil rights worker Dick Gregory and former U. S. Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas addressed the 1200 member class. Cathy Anne Dearborn of Benton Station presented the 1970 Class Scholarship, the plans for which were initiated during the Class's sophomore year. The scholarship Committee, headed by Miss Dearborn, is soliciting a total of thirty dollars from each class member during the next five years. If every member of the Class contributes, the total of the fund will be $45,000.

Several students were honored at the Class Day ceremonies. Stanley Cowan of Orono received the Washington, D. C. Watch Award as the senior deemed to have done the most for the University while a student. The watch is presented by the Washington, D. C. Alumni Association.

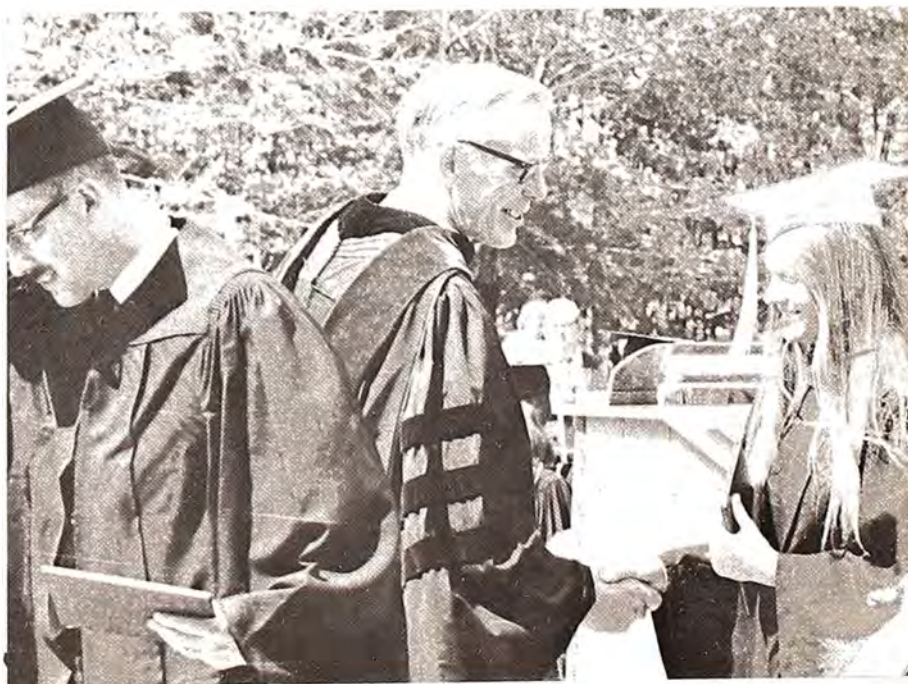

Gary Thorne, Senior Class President, was presented a plaque on behalf of the class, and cups for scholastic achievement were awarded to Roger Hanscom of Brewer, valedictorian, and Robert Corriveau of Van Buren, salutatorian.

Joseph A. Scimecca, assistant professor of sociology at the Orono campus, received the Distinguished Professor Award at the Class Day program. The award includes a $1500 cash prize given by the General Alumni Association.

Also at Class Day exercises, Mrs. Cheryl Welch Rosell, of South Portland, received the Portland Alumnae Award for Scholastic Achievement as the highest ranking female student at the Orono campus from Cumberland County.

For the first time, a separate graduation ceremony was held for the candidates for associate degrees at the University of Maine's Bangor campus, formerly South Campus. President Winthrop C. Libby '32 charged the one hundred-eighty-six associate degree candidates with the responsibility of explaining the values of two year community colleges to Maine residents. President Libby said that the Bangor campus is no longer simply an extension of the Orono campus; rather, it has "its unique goals and unique purposes."

Dr. William Irvine '42, president of Vermont College and former dean of the University of Maine at Portland gave the principal address. Dr. Irvine referred to the development of higher education during the first two years of college preparation after high school as "a new educational era for Maine". He urged the Bangor graduates to assume their "full share of responsibility for the implementation of this new educational era in Maine".

BUILDING DEDICATED TO MAINE ALUMNUS

The State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University has a new paper engineering laboratory which is named for a University of Maine at Orono alumnus. The C. Earl Libby Paper Engineering Laboratory was dedicated at the Syracuse campus in October, 1969 in conjunction with dedication ceremonies for the J. Henry Walters Hall. Mr. Libby graduated from the University of Maine at Orono in 1916. Present at the two-day dedication ceremony were state and university dignitaries and members of the Libby family. There are no living relatives of the late J. Henry Walters.

Walters Hall, a $2.3 million facility, is four stories high and houses pulp- and bleaching laboratories, classrooms, conference room, faculty offices, a library reading room and numerous other facilities. Libby Laboratory is a one-story wing with the complete semi-commercial pilot plant, and the chemical engineering laboratory which provides facilities for teaching and research.

C. Earl Libby was born in Benton. He joined the faculty of the College of Forestry at Syracuse in the Department of Forest Chemistry in 1920, and, with Harry I. Weston, was charged with developing a new curriculum in pulp and paper manufacture. This development in Syracuse became the model for paper science education throughout the United States. In 1932 he became the first Chairman of the Department of Pulp and Paper, and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1952.

Upon retirement, Professor Libby became Chairman of the Pulp and Paper Technology Department at North Carolina State College, where he organized the curriculum and established teaching and research facilities. He retired a second time in 1960, and moved to Pompano Beach, Florida, where he died in 1964 at the age of 71.

UNIVERSITY ALUMNI LOST BY DEATH

Three prominent alumni of the University of Maine at Orono died during the same week in June in unrelated circumstances. Raymond E. Davis '11, a world renowned authority on engineering materials passed away at his home in Berkeley, California on June 14, on his eighty-fifth birthday. John E. Stewart '27, retired dean of men at the University of Maine in Orono died at his summer home on Molasses Pond, in Eastbrook on June 19. James F. White '30, prominent Bangor businessman and former mayor of Bangor, died on June 20.

RAYMOND E. DAVIS, '11, played a vital role in the research connected with construction of such engineering feats as the San Francisco - Oakland Bay Bridge, the Hoover, Grand Coulee and Morris dams, the Bonneville power and navigation project the Colorado River aqueduct and the Tennessee Valley Authority power project. He was associated with the University of California at Berkeley since 1920 as a professor of civil engineering and director of the materials testing laboratory until 1952 when he retired as Professor Emeritus. He maintained an office at the University until his death.

The November-December, 1969 issue of The Maine Alumnus carried an article on the eight-story Raymond Earl Davis Hall which was dedicated at the University of California in October, 1969 to Professor Davis in recognition of his long tenure as director of the teaching and research laboratories at the University and for his sponsorship and direction of the Engineering Materials Laboratory there from its construction in 1930.

After graduating from the University of Maine in Orono, Professor Davis obtained his master's degree and his C. E. degree from the University of Illinois. While at the University of Maine, he was a member of Theta Epsilon, a local fraternity which later joined with Sigma Nu Fraternity. In March, 1970, four members of Sigma Nu at the University of Maine in Orono, Richard Lemire '71 of Biddeford, Kenneth Wooley '71 of North Vassalboro, James Subach '70 of North Andover, Massachusetts and William Barbarow '71 of Clifton, New Jersey, went to California to initiate Professor Davis into the national fraternity of Sigma Nu.

Professor Davis is the author of numerous works, one of which is

"Surveying; Theory and Practice" which has sold a quarter of a million copies, went through five printings and has been translated into three foreign languages. In 1936 he was presented an honorary Doctor of Engineering Degree by the University of Maine.

Survivors include two sisters, one daughter, a son, six grandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

JOHN E. STEWART, '27, whose death occurred only one year after his retirement from the University of Maine in Orono, served the University in various capacities for over forty years. From 1928 to 1951 he was professor of mathematics, and he also served as assistant to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. In 1951, he was appointed to the administrative position of Dean of Men, which he held until his retirement in 1969, at which time he was made dean emeritus of the University of Maine.

A member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, he was adviser to the Interfraternity Council and faculty adviser for Maine Day. In the Spring of 1967, the Interfraternity Council made the first John E. Stewart I.F.C. award to the outstanding senior.

RAYMOND E. DAVIS '11

JOHN E. STEWART '27

JAMES F. WHITE '30

An honorary member of the Sophomore Owls at U. of M., Dean Stewart was presented the Black Bear Award in 1967 "for his loyalty and concern for Maine's alumni and their sons and daughters and for his friendship to thousands of students and former students." He was also a member of the Spectator Club at the U. of M.

A few years ago, a scholarship fund was established by the residents of Cumberland Hall in the name of Dean John Stewart. This fund is to be awarded to residents of Cumberland Hall.

Although the original Dean John E. Stewart Scholarship Fund will continue for its established use, a new campus-wide fund was established at the time of Dean Stewart's death to be known as the Dean John E. Stewart Memorial Scholarship Fund. This endowed fund will be used to assist worthy and deserving students at the Orono campus.

'04 [Editor's Note: The following biographical sketch of Dr. Albert D. Case was scheduled for publication earlier, but inadvertently it was omitted in past issues. With apologies to the Class Reporter and Dr. Case, we publish the following report for the Class of 1904.]

After attending the marriage of my oldest granddaughter at Boston in May of 1969 I drove out to Harvard, Mass. to see my A.T.O. brother and classmate Albert D. Case. I found him in good spirits and gloating over the fact that he had just completed his family genealogy which he had been working on off and on since his retirement in 1960. I matched him on that one as I had completed "updating" of my family genealogy since 1952.

Albert is living with his son Richard and family who is a lawyer and retired Lt. Col. from the Air Force, now teaching at Middlesex.

Mr. Case, Mr. Sawyer and myself, all fraternity brothers of 1904 Class went to New York together after graduation where we had positions previously arranged. We lived together for several years.

Albert was employed by the American Bridge Co. and later the Erie R. R. Co. under my direction with the Calter Co. After about six years he was engaged as Assistant Engineer and later Engineer of Structures for eight years on grade crossing elimination work with the Boston and Albany R. R. Co. He was with the N. Y. Shipbuilding Corp. at Camden, N. J. two different times during which he worked on the design and construction of a shipway for the building and construction of the U. S. Battleship "South Dakota".

He left engineering for a period of 15 years. to be insurance representative for the Connecticut General Insurance Company and the Insurance Company of North America at Philadelphia.

Later he was engaged by the United Engineers and Constructors, Inc. on the design of the buildings for power plants and later went with Edwards, Kelsey and Beck in Philadelphia, Pa. for the organization and design force to preparing plans for the construction of a five-track bridge carrying the Pa. R. R. over a highway, and later was chief structural engineer and an associate with Lawrence and Beck and Associates having to do with plans and construction of bridges on the Delaware Expressway.

'06 Frederick Dean Southard, B.S. English (Graduate Study, Harvard 1906/7; '10/'11). "Shorty" Southard's class and friends are happy to know that he is in good health, and well recovered from his heart attack.

He writes, "I have recovered fully with all my senses O.K. My eyes have been failing for some time but my doctor assures me that I shall never be blind."

"I am still driving a car but must give that up next July on my birthday July 9th. I began driving in 1900 when my father (his father was Louis Carver Southard, B.S., '75, M.S., '92, LL.D. '04 Hon.), bought a Cresmobile, a one cylinder car made in Cambridgeport. And in all that time I have never had an accident involving an injury to anyone. Pretty good record!"

"I still find the letters on my typewriter. But I don't know for how long."

"I drove my car back East in 1965, and went to the Campus. All trace of My Maine is gone. I am dumbfounded to read that there are only six members of our Class still alive and kicking."

Note by reporter: As far as is known, those alive are Dr. Walter H. Burke, Dr. Dayton J. Edwards, Carolyn (Hodgdon) Edwards, Gertrude (Jones) Nutter, Frederick D. Southard, and Frederick J. Simmons.

Your Class reporter from June 15 to July 31st will be at the Augusta House, Augusta, Maine; during the month of August at his summer home, The Simmons Homestead, Morrill, Maine, 04952.

'07 Your secretary attended the "Reunion Weekend" on June 5 and 6. Ben Williams, Islesboro, expected to go with me but his hearing aid developed a fault and had to be sent to the factory and he would not go without it. Perce Wyman and wife drove over from Skowhegan and were present at the noon luncheon on Saturday. We were the only '07ers present.

On the way home on Sunday, I called on Gordon Wildes' son in Winterport to see if he could give me any news of Gordon in San Bruno, Calif. Gordon never writes letters anymore but frequently uses the telephone. He said Gordon was about the same in health, but expected to have a cataract operation soon. Gordon's granddaughter expects to be in San Francisco for a couple of days on her way to Hawaii and was going to call on him.

A short letter from Harry Eveleth, St. Petersburg, Fla., saying he now works only ten hours a week. His eyes have gotten so bad he had to have a friend write the letter.

'08 The Class of 1908 extends sympathy to Will Cobb, to Mary '32 and Lucy '38 in the death of Bell Harris Cobb, wife and mother which was reported in the last ALUMNUS.

Sometime, somehow, the black, wood base of the Class of 1908 Alumni Attendance Cup has disappeared. However, Weston Evans '18, has come to the rescue and has turned out, on his lathe, a beautiful base of walnut wood.

Clarence and Nestlin Weston write enthusiastically of their life in Atlanta, Ga., and in appreciation of the educational, musical and art programs available to residents of the city. Clarence and Nestlin celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary on July 26.

I called on Earle and Lillian Vickery in late May. Earle's tulips excited my admiration. Also went to the Thayer Hospital in Waterville to see Will Cobb who was a patient there.

Note: After weeks in the hospital Will Cobb passed away on July 16, following Bell's death by a few months. The Service on Sunday was a fine tribute to Will's contribution to the Church and the civic organizations of which he was a vital part.

'10 Well, our 60th has come and gone and what a rewarding event for those of us who could be present.

Ernie and Polly Lamb, Bill and Tot Bagg, George and Mrs. George Goodrich, Charlie Ketchum, John Collins and your secretary. Illness at home prevented Dime Merrill from attending and Swat Sweetser didn't feel up to the trip at the last minute.

Bill Bagg was a stand-out in spite of the broken leg that is not yet mended, so that he had to depend on a walker to get around with and Tot to do the driving. He made the luncheon and dinner, visited the fraternity house and helped make the occasion one to remember. On the lighter side Ernie insisted someone went off with his hat till Polly told him that he didn't wear it; this in addition to not recognizing his own overcoat. Bill also had trouble in identifying his overcoat and George insisted on locating tickets for the dinner till he found he already had them in his wallet.

Charlie Ketchum had not been back since graduation so much of the campus was new to him. He was with the Bureau of Reclamation 45 years, 8 years with a public utility project on Priest Rapids and Wampum dams; summer of 1955 served in Yugoslavia on irrigation. Quite some life record; we surely enjoyed talking with him. Oh yes, Dutch Olsen is leaving for Europe but sent a check that he forgot to sign; must be old age.

We had an all too brief visit with Abbie (Mrs. George Springer) who came all the way from California with son Ben and wife. Will have more about them later. She is a delightful person and our regret that she couldn't be with us longer.

We '10ers talked, remembered, pondered, criticized, praised, joked, were sad, had fun, and above all were happy that we could be together. We wish that more of you could have joined us.

'11 We want to salute two of our champions—one active now and the other the leader of our Champion Baseball team in 1911. Ben Whitney is the star golfer of his age and drove the first ball to start the season at the Bangor Municipal Golf Course on Apr. 22, 1970. Ben is now 86 and started to play at 80 and his present ambition is to score equal to his age.

M. J. "Marty" McHale, now a securities broker in New York, was the pitcher of our Champion ball club and after college went on to pitch for the Boston Red Sox and later for the N. Y. Yankees. Marty and Tris Speaker produced a movie the "Baseball Review of 1917" which he found after 50 years in an old trunk. This film showed action of Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Speaker, Marty and many other baseball Greats. This film and other papers, a Treasure Chest of baseball history, was presented to the National Baseball Hall of Fame, Cooperstown N. Y. by Marty, and the Officers were very glad to obtain this information for the Museum.

Florence T. Royal writes that she attended the wedding of her niece and visited relatives in Denver Col. this last year. She had a very good flight both to and from Denver.

The A. B. "Rick" Richardsons recently returned from a trip to Norway, Sweden and England. Rick and Ann are great travelers and have visited about every country on the globe.

We are sorry to lose one of our classmates. William Vaughan Jr. died at his home in Belfast at age 82. He was in the Belfast P. O. for about 38 years and retired in 1958.

Forest Kingsbury of Brewer Me. has the unique distinction of being, at age 82, one of the oldest Census Takers in Maine. Also he worked on the Census in 1910 and now 60 years later the present one of 1970. Back in 1910 he got 2¢ per person and 10¢ each for animals such as cows and pigs but this year he averaged about $2.00 per hour.

'12 Two Members of our class registered for the Reunion weekend—Frank "Pete" Lancaster and your secretary. After the Senior Alumni breakfast in the Bears' Den, we attended the Senior Alumni meeting in the Memorial Union. We missed the "regulars" at breakfast. Fred Stewart and Warren McDonald were unable to attend.

We welcomed Mrs. Arline Weaver, Frank Lancaster's sister to our breakfast. Mrs. Weaver's son, Charles, '40, a Navy Captain, was observing his 30th Reunion, and a grandson Charles, Jr., entering his junior year in the fall.

Sympathy is extended to "Bob" Hussey on the death of his wife this spring.

'13 The April-May issue of The Maine Alumnus gave in detail the story of the death of J. Larcom Ober, your Class President, in an automobile accident near Cameron, Arizona, on March 21, 1970. I received this shocking news too late for publication in the Class Column in this last issue. The General Alumni Association's Executive Director, Don Stewart '35, phoned me of the happening as soon as the sad news was received and I certainly appreciate this very kind deed.

Although not known to many of his friends Larcom had worked his way up in masonry and I would like to pay tribute to this most loyal classmate and alumnus with a poem, author unknown, taken from a Shrine publication which certainly will make all of us feel closer to this most lovable friend and unforgettable character.

To J. Larcom Ober

"There are stars that go out in the darkness,
But whose silver light shines on
There are roses where perfume still lingers
When the blossoms are faded and gone.
There are hearts full of light and of sweetness
When no longer their life current flows
Still their goodness lives on with the living
Like the soul of the star and the rose."

'17 News is scarce. There were a few of us on campus on Alumni Day. It didn't seem like '17 to have so small a number.

Ed Dempsey and Bryant Hopkins explored the possibility of a reunion of the Florida contingent during the winter. As it turned out, there were classmates there at too many different times and places, so the social contacts were limited to personal visits. George Wadlin, George and Marie Sweet, "Hubby" and Dorothy Hiller called on the Dempseys. The Dempseys visited Stan and Polly Phillips, Harlan and Ruth (March). Doloff and Elwood Clapp. No doubt there were many other such calls and pleasant encounters.

President Emeritus Joe McCusker tells us of a change of address, now Hotel Eliot, Suite 611, 370 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Mass. 02215.

Edith (Ingraham) Glover called me when she returned, rather late in the season from Florida after visiting friends along the way. We had a good chat. She was then staying with her sister-in-law in Bangor.

I have been enjoying a couple of weaving pupils this spring. One of them was undertaking it as a form of therapy and helping her was very rewarding. A friend pokes mild fun at me, saying "Once a teacher, always a teacher". Maybe she's right!

The class wishes to extend sympathy to the family of our classmate Mrs. Margaret Wood Locke who passed away on June 9 at Ellsworth.

Do send me your news before the next issue.

'19 Was pleased to receive such a nice letter from Jessie Prince Wallingford in February. She is still thinking about the lovely time we had at our "Fiftieth", and is so thankful that she and Vernon could be there. She says, "Everyone looked good to us, as we were all '19-ers together again."

Jessie regretted very much that they were not able to visit Blanche Haley, her old roommate, who is now at the Geriatric Ward of Morrison Hospital in Whitefield, N. H. 03598. For many years, Blanche served as librarian at Lincoln, N. H., but her eyesight became worse and she needed nursing care.

Jessie is wondering if some of our alumni who live in New Hampshire, could visit Blanche in the hospital. She is sure she would greatly appreciate it. Her friend, Esther L. Smith, Box 163, Lincoln, N. H. 03251, has been sending messages for Blanche for some time.

Received word from Florida that Clarence Dicker has recently had major surgery at Memorial Hospital in Sarasota, and is now convalescing at Wilhelm's Nursing Home, 1507 S. Tuttle Ave., Sarasota, Fla.

Our President, Sam Collins writes from Caribou, that he and Minnie are buying a condominium apartment in Venice, Florida, about 15 miles south of Sarasota. They are going down in April, but will return to Caribou in May, expecting to take up winter residence at Venice next October or November.

Sam writes, "We will spend our summers in Maine, and probably will live at Madawaska Lake, as we are selling our home at 18 Home Farm Road. I am still working at the Aroostook Trust Co. but with this new arrangement will have to retire. But I do think we can be quite active in our retirement."

This reporter will never forget the lovely time she had in the beautiful home of Sam and Minnie in Caribou, last June. Minnie invited some of my old friends and my sister and me to a delightful brunch, while I was visiting family in Caribou. This brought back many happy memories, since Sam, Minnie and I had been born and brought up in Caribou. Sam and I were classmates from the first grade.

'20 On Friday evening at the Penobscot Valley Country Club, there were 68 members of the Class of 1920 including spouses and guests. President and Mrs. Libby and Mr. James A. Gannett '08 were our honored guests. President Libby, as the speaker of the evening, gave us a resume of conditions at the University. Mr. Gannett, to whom our 1920 PRISM is dedicated, was then called upon to say a few words at which time he cited recollections of our class. The occasion was a joyous one as evidenced by the laughter, buzz of conversation and the visiting back and forth between tables.

The class breakfast was well attended on Saturday. The few who slept late were replaced by members who for one reason or another could not come the night before. Following the business meeting Verne Beverly showed movies of the 20th, 30th, 35th and 40th Class Reunions.

Following this the Class picture was taken in the Memorial Union. Then we found our way to West Commons for the Alumni Luncheon where our Class was honored. As his or her name was called we made our way to the front to receive a diploma and warm greeting from President Libby.

We wore 1920 arm bands and each received the handsome "Johnson Maine Medal." We each received a bound copy of the biographies sent in by various class members. Anyone who failed to take one of these booklets may obtain one by writing to Henry R. Butler, 55 Bennoch Road, Orono, Maine 04473.

The feature event of the Alumni Banquet, Saturday evening, was the presentation of the Alumni Service Emblem to our worthy president, "Kid" Potter. This award is given in "recognition and appreciation of outstanding service rendered in promoting Alumni work." Kenneth Woodbury, '24, President of the General Alumni Association, made the presentation and read the citation which most appropriately paid tribute to "Kid's" long record of service. The Class wishes to extend its congratulations and greatest appreciation to our President for his years of devoted service to the Class and the University.

A total of 21 had indicated an interest in the Sunday lobster feed. However, on taking a roll call at the Saturday noon luncheon it was found that enthusiasm had been dampened by the weather (or something) and only 13 agreed to meet at the Lincolnville Beach Lobster Pound on Sunday afternoon. The weather was fine and the 11 who showed up had a fine feed and visit.

'21 Carol Hamm Brown: "My life is extremely interesting and rewarding, but not newsworthy! I'm enjoying E.T.V. immensely and every winter I follow one or two Colby courses and a local, and sometimes register for a non-credit. I am currently wrestling with a German conversation course."

Peg Blethen: "I'm off for three weeks in Portugal and Madeira! Through my correspondence as co-agent I've had interesting notes from Lucy Kilby who spent 7 weeks in Africa last year; from Marion Bragg who has been traveling extensively; from Sarah Witherell Elliott (Kittery) who is working in the Dietary Dept. of the Portsmouth, N. H. Hospital; from Gladys Maxfield Reilly who now lives in Dunedin, Florida."

Don Stuart, Saskatchewan: "Good country here, flat as a pancake, not too much rain, lots of sunshine. I'm here to stay."

Katherine D. Stewart, Bangor: "I keep so busy I could use 36 hrs. a day. The many activities I am in are fun as well as rewarding. Last fall I signed up for an art course at Orono. While my results in block and silk screen painting were far from spectacular, I enjoyed being back on campus and in a group of all ages."

George Ginsberg: "Attended Alumni meeting in Sarasota, over 80 present. Percy Crocker and Rena Bowles from '21 present. Kid ('20) and Helen Potter '21 drove over from the East Coast. Ken Woodbury gave an excellent talk. He's doing a grand job as President of the Association."

Erlon Flint, 58 Alps Road, Wayne, N. J.: "Been retired from Bell Tel. Lab. since 1959; son J. Robert with Amplex, Chicago, has 2 sons; daughter married to Dr. A. Arony of Schenectady."

Ralph Wood, Gardiner: "A rough winter here, floods, cold, snow, trees and power lines down all over town. Boy! was this house ever cold! My son and his family at Naval Station in Calif. He's Lt. Commander - flew 245 bombing missions. Thank goodness he won't have to go back there again. I'm looking forward to our 50th."

'22 Martha D. Chase reported the sad news that George A. Moore, the personable husband of our Class Treasurer Ardis Lancy Moore died on May 3, 1970 at a Waterville hospital. Many of you met George at our class reunions and will join with us in offering to Ardis our profound sympathy.

Ina Gillespie Hamilton has written an interesting letter about her life dedicated to others.

"After 29 years in the field of professional service work, I have retired to live in and to enjoy my beloved State of Maine, my family and my friends.

"It is delightful, living here at Old Capehart, Bangor, where everything is being done to make the Senior Citizens comfortable and happy.

"Following graduation from the U. of M., I married Daniel M. Hamilton, a prominent business man and Shriner of Ellsworth. He passed away in 1964. Our two children so wonderful in every way are William W. of Eastman Kodak, Rochester, N. Y. and a daughter Ellie Perselle of Buttertown Orchards, Hollis.

"I obtained my master's degree in social work from the Boston College School of Social Work and Ph.D. from the Smith College School of Social Work in 1953 following internship at the University School of Psychiatry. Most of my working years were spent as Clinical Social Worker with the Veteran's Administration and with the Family Service of Boston.

I would enjoy renewing more old acquaintances when any of you are visiting in the Bangor area.

Now - don't say I never write any notes for the Class of 1922."

Thank you Ina Gillespie Hamilton - we won't say you didn't write.

A short note from Henry P. Turner indicates that he and his wife "squeaked" through the winter from the wilds of Casco where they are now living.

"I came here just a year after retiring with the title of Professor Emeritus of Electrical Engineering from Cornell University in June 1968 after 42 years. I have been concerned with the development here at Hawaii in the Engineering College of a new course 'Technology and Society'. At Cornell I was directing engineering students at the Master's level in a project for NASA in the designing and construction of an Unmanned Lunar Roving Vehicle, and later of a Martian Unmanned Roving Vehicle. '24 Your secretary has a problem this month because there is more news than the Alumnus can take. Some of the following was an oversight from the last publication, so please excuse the fact that items are shortened.

Gregory Baker was recently cited by the Northeastern Loggers' Association magazine for his outstanding performance in Forestry. He has also been named Secretary of the U. of M. Foundation. Congrats, Greg.

George H. Cooper wrote a fascinating article for the Miami (Fla.) Herald telling of his early life in Presque Isle. The last line of his essay is worth remembering: "The only absolute poverty is poverty of the soul". Keep on with more creative writing, George.

E. Bradley Abbott has been seriously ill but a letter from his daughter, Ethel Abbott of 13 Seneca Avenue, Oneida, New York, 13421, will reach Mr. Abbott if any of you who are his intimate friends wish to write him. At last reports, he was improving in health and we are glad to hear it.

W. V. Johnson (Bill) has lost his lovely wife, Peg, whom we all remember so pleasantly from reunion last June. Her passing is all the more tragic because she had survived a coronary some time ago and they had looked forward to more good years together. Her passing was due to a fall in a snow and sleet storm which injured her brain. Truly Bill we are deeply sorry and hope that time and the memory of your 42 years together which began with a high school romance, will sustain you in your loneliness. May your faith in God also sustain and help you.

Ethelyn Percival Howard has our affectionate and profound sympathy in the death of her dear husband, Frank W. Howard of the Class of 1920. Frank served as a Chief Petty Officer for the Navy in W.W.I and subsequently had a position in the electrical section of the Boston Naval Shipyard.

Phillip E. Woods writes that he is enjoying his retirement by golfing, apple-orcharding and traveling. This happy note is a good place to stop.

Rubena Comins Pressey retired after 26 years in the Bangor School System. For the past 17 years Rubena has been Dean of girls at Bangor High School.

From Helene (Douglas) Daniels: "Spend winters in Florida; summers, struggling with my Readfield acreage."

Lincoln "Mack" Sennett will retire Oct. 1, as president of Washington State College of the University of Maine, after 45 years with the college. (As of July 1 it will be called The University of Maine at Machias.)

Chief Justice Edward Curran was the recipient of the coveted V F W Loyalty Day award at a program conducted by the District of Columbia

Department of Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary "in recognition of his continuous outstanding judicial leadership exemplifying the principles of justice and human rights."

Verner Robinson, Asst. Supt. of Schools, Waltham, Mass., retired in June after 45 years service in Waltham's school system. '28 June 1, 1970—A letter from Harold E. Bowie now gives R.F.D. 2, Lisbon Falls, 04252, as his address. An enclosed clipping reads "Harold E. Bowie has been named professor emeritus in mathematics by American International College, Springfield, Mass. He retired last August after serving 31 years as professor of mathematics and chairman of the Mathematics Department at A.I.C. From 1957 to 1961 he was consultant in mathematics for G & C Merriam Co. in the publication of Webster's New International Dictionary, Third Edition.

Prof. and Mrs. Bowie are both natives of Maine and have retired to Durham where they both were raised and where they have maintained a summer home. They have two children, both graduates of A.I.C. Granddaughter, Kathy is a junior at A.I.C. I remember Harold telling me earlier he had had her in classes. He says they are now planting a garden, their first since leaving Durham some 48 years ago. This winter Harold will teach a course for the U. of M. in the Continuing Education at Brunswick. Best wishes to the Bowies and may I hope for them as much fun in retirement as I am having.

May 1970—A most interesting letter from Carolyn Peasley Atherton (Mrs. Charles Porter Atherton): She says in part "After several years of doing the Yankee Kitchen I retired, married and moved to the country to raise poodles. I spent our 25th at Harvard where my husband was attending his 25th and his daughter graduating from Radcliffe.

My husband was a stockbroker in Boston and we finally went looking for peace and quiet to retire to. We came to England on a sight-seeing jaunt, touched upon Scotland and wandered. Four trips later we were hooked and here we are at Manyara, Balloch, by Inverness, Scotland. We have had a lot of unexpected things happen - a nation-wide interview on BBC-TV on why we chose to come to Scotland to live; attention from the press. But in the main we live in gentle Scottish fashion among the gentlest and kindest people in the world, wearing woollens, worrying about the lamb in spring, having time to chat (with a basket on my arm) with the green grocer, the butcher and all the rest.

"Our summer nights are the wonderful long, northern light where one can read a newspaper until long after 11 p.m. in June. We are in Macbeth country, historic and beautiful. I think of you all often. With very best remembrances, Carolyn."

Thank you all for writing and I'm sorry that the "powers that be" won't allow me to print all your wonderful news in one or two issues, so in fairness to all I'm merely listing your names as acknowledgement in this issue. However, if any of you want any news about any of the above, just drop me a line and I'll write you personally.

I received a few heartbreaks as I learned that a few of our classmates had passed away, namely Mildred McPheters Clapp on April 25, 1970, Frank R. Stewart on October 15, 1967, Harriet Scott Wiener on March 14, 1970, Fred H. Ellis on May 12, 1967 and Otto Rupert White (date unknown). ## UMO STUDENTS GIVE BLOOD

Nearly 2500 concerned students at the University of Maine at Orono—some antiwar protesters, some with non-political reasons, all interested in saving lives—gathered at the UMO Health Center on Tuesday, May 12 to donate 810 pints of blood for the soldiers in Southeast Asia. The blood drive which was sponsored by the UMO General Student Senate was the idea of Debi Young, a June graduate in Mechanical Engineering. Miss Young introduced the resolution in the Student Senate May 7, and it was passed by acclamation.

Under Miss Young's leadership, the Student Senate obtained the professional services of about twenty-five doctors, nurses and technicians from Loring Air Force Base in Maine and Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts. Without knowing beforehand the response the drive would receive, the students had one thousand blood units available for donors. Before the day had ended, approximately twenty-five hundred students volunteered their blood.

The drive which began at 8:00 a.m. was scheduled to end at 4:00 p.m. Doctors closed the doors to new donors at 8:00 in the evening. According to an Army Major who was on campus, more blood was given by UMO students in one day than in any other project in any one day in the United States. The blood was shipped Wednesday to New Jersey where plans were made to send it on to Vietnam.

The student project received national attention through coverage on the CBS evening newscast, Tuesday evening. The news media cited the project as a unique way for students to demonstrate their concern about the Indo-China War.

NEW FRATERNITY

The University of Maine Chapter of Delta Upsilon Fraternity has been installed on the Orono campus.

The group grew from an Alpha Delta Upsilon Colony two years ago, which had 30 members at the time of its installation.

BANGOR AND AUGUSTA CAMPUSES RECEIVE GRANTS

The Maine Law Enforcement Planning and Assistance Agency has announced the awarding of $68,156 in federal Safe Street Act money.

The University of Maine's Augusta and Bangor campus received grants totaling $54,563 to initiate an Associate degree in law enforcement program.

STAFF APPOINTMENTS

On July 1, new staff appointments and some name changes within the University of Maine system of higher education went into effect. William J. MacLeod of Yarmouth has been named acting President of the University of Maine, Portland-Gorham. He will hold the position until a president of the new institution is appointed within the next few weeks. MacLeod was formerly chairman of the Humanities Division at the University of Maine in Portland.

On the Orono campus, David Rand, formerly Assistant Dean of Student Activities and Organizations, has assumed the position of Director of the Student Union. A graduate of the University of Maine in 1958, Rand also obtained his master's degree at the University of Maine in 1964. For six years he was assistant football coach at UMO under coach Harold Westerman. For the past three years he has been an assistant personnel dean under two former Deans of Men, John E. Stewart '27 and Acting Dean of Men Linwood Carville '53, and the former Dean of Students Dr. Arthur Kaplan.

In addition to staff changes, the names of each of the units within the University of Maine system of higher education were changed as of July 1. The official designation for each of the units within the University of Maine was approved at a meeting of the Board of Trustees on April 10, 1970. All units will be designated as "The University of Maine at . . .", naming the various location of each school.

Also, the School of Home Economics is now known as the School of Human Development, a change authorized by the U. M. Board of Trustees and also effective July 1. Changes in the structure of curricula, subject matter modifications and a shift in career-orientation for students brought about the change in name.

A PUBLIC EDUCATION RADIO STATION

Maine residents living within a sixty-five mile radius of Bangor are being offered a new dimension in broadcasting in radio station WMEH-FM located in Alumni Hall on the Orono campus. WMEH-FM, Maine's first professionally-staffed public education radio station, offers a wide range of entertainment and information in the fields of drama, stereo music—classical and popular, up-to-the-minute local and national news, film reviews, and in-depth discussion of current issues.

Local programming is supplemented by outside public broadcasting services. Since the station is linked by micro-wave to other public FM radio stations and networks, the public is being offered live concerts and other events from outside the State of Maine.

Lester W. Spencer, Jr., named by Chancellor Donald R. McNeil as Director of Radio Programming for the Maine Educational Broadcasting Network, is Program Director for WMEH-FM. The transmitter site is located atop Blacktop Mountain in East Eddington.

AS AN AFTERTHOUGHT . . .

A COMMENTARY BY PRESIDENT WINTHROP C. LIBBY '32
AFTER THE DEFEAT OF THE JUNE 15 BOND ISSUE

Speaking in a loud and very clear voice, Maine voters said "No" to the University of Maine on June 15. The $15 million bond issue designed to provide capital construction funds for the several campuses of the University was defeated in a most decisive fashion. This is a sobering fact of life.

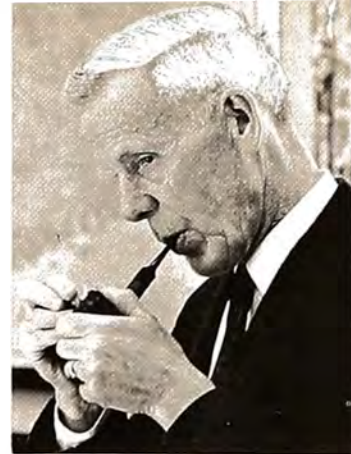

Monday morning quarterbacking is not a very profitable use of time. Furthermore, the reasons for the defeat of the bond issue are very complicated and complex and this makes this particular exercise difficult. Those who voted "No" did so for a wide variety of reasons which can be classified, however, into three major categories.

Fiscal prudence of Maine people. Quite generally the expectations of people for public services have outstripped the fiscal resources of Maine. With unmet needs for tax expenditures for highways, education, health and public safety the public has developed certain priorities in its mind. Obviously, higher education does not have top priority.

Student unrest and dissension. The emotional, violent and irrational action of students operating from the sanctuary of the campus has aroused people and divided the country. The fact that Maine students did not engage in any illegal action and were reasonably temperate in their activities did not lessen the impact of the feelings.

Failure to understand what the University of Maine System is and what it is trying to do. The public does not know or understand the goals and mission of the University as it is now structured and functioning. Charges of increased bureaucracy, high administrative costs and proliferation of programs are made. There has been a public expectation that the merged institution would cost less money. Somehow people expected more and better quality education for less money.

No matter what final decisions are made by the Chancellor and the Board of Trustees it is evident that the University of Maine at Orono, Bangor and Augusta must undertake certain particular tasks:

WINTHROP C. LIBBY '32

These branches of the University must use every means within their power to provide educational opportunity for just as many young people as possible. Essentially, internal management of resources of faculty, space and time must be reexamined thoughtfully. For example, by stretching the school week from five days to five and one-half days (using Saturday mornings) and extending class periods from nine per day to eleven per day (closing at 7:00 p.m. rather than 5:00 p.m.) the amount of usable time would increase by twenty percent. Perhaps going to four equal quarters and requiring students to attend in the summer would provide extra opportunity. Finally, of course, some restriction of enrollment on a selective basis at Orono especially would be possible. Basically though, the University should extend itself in every way to accommodate every student who has the capacity and interest to benefit from the experience.

Furthermore, the University must carefully assess what Maine people expect from the University and then say clearly which of these things can be provided. The expectations of people, insofar as the University is concerned, are numerous and involve not only the education of adolescents but also programs of graduate study, continuing education for adults, research in a host of areas relating to the Maine economy, service programs for farmers, municipal officials, teachers, labor, business men, under-privileged people, industrialists and others. Obviously, all of these efforts require space, staff and operating budgets. Internal priorities must be agreed upon and related to the demands of Maine citizens.

The 36,000 Maine alumni have a stake in all of this. The 18,000 living in Maine have a particular interest. It is hoped that some of this group will contribute to the dialogue.

UMO TIES FOR YC CROWN

It was an exciting spring season for the University of Maine Black Bears as they wound up in a tie with the University of Connecticut for the Yankee Conference baseball crown with an 8-2 record. Forced into a play-off with the U-Conn. Nutmeggers, at Durham, New Hampshire, Maine lost, 2-0, in its bid for the District One play-offs at Hanover, New Hampshire. The Bears compiled an overall regular season record of 14-2, one of the best major college marks in New England.

Under Coach Jack Butterfield, the Maine team showed good pitching and tough defense during the season. Both Jim Cameron and Jim Chaplin, the right-handed aces of the Bear staff, pitched entire games five times in regular play. Cameron (5-0) defeated every other Yankee Conference school. Chaplin (4-2) went the entire thirteen innings to defeat Vermont, 5-4, in the season finale. Cameron, also a rightfielder, wound up with a 1.20 earned run average and Chaplin with 1.31.

Co-captain, Bob Curry, had four complete games and was 4-0 for the season with 1.52 earned run average. As a team, Maine showed an earned run average of 1.54.

On defense the Bears also showed the results of continuous drilling in that area. In sixteen regular season games the Bears reeled off eighteen double plays to only four by their opponents. They didn't show a single outfield miscue and on the average committed three errors less than their opponents.

MAINE TEAMS REGAIN WINNING WAYS

A check of nine varsity intercollegiate athletic teams at the University of Maine at Orono for the 1969-70 academic year shows that the Black Bears have regained their winning ways. The nine varsity teams recorded 61 wins against 49 losses and one tie during the year just concluded.

Big winner was the baseball team which was victorious eighteen times, with only six losses. Golf was next with 11 wins against three defeats while indoor and outdoor track posted four wins against a lone loss. All won-lost marks were recorded in dual or triangular competition only.

Other winning teams during the past year were football, 5-4, tennis, 5-4, and rifle, 6-2.

Every UM team that competed in a Maine State Series championship during the spring season won the state title for 1970.

The sweeps were registered by the varsity baseball, track, golf and tennis teams.

One of the most enviable records was compiled by the Black Bear baseball team which has won outright or shared in the last five Maine State Championships and has a five-year record in the series of 26 wins and only four losses.

HOMECOMING SLATED OCTOBER 23 AND 24

Homecoming—1970 at the University of Maine in Orono has been scheduled October 23 and 24. Among the events slated for the weekend are an Alumni Reception, Friday evening; varsity soccer competition between UMO and the University of Vermont, Saturday morning; and the Annual Alumni Luncheon, Saturday noon.

Following the Luncheon, the University of Maine Black Bears will begin the first of a two-game series with C. W. Post College of Long Island University. Post College, a private, co-educational, liberal arts college of 5,400 students, is a member of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference with an overall playing record equivalent to Yankee Conference appointment.

Coached by Dominic "Dom" Anile, the C. W. Post Pioneers, who sport the colors of green and gold, are expected to have an optimistic playing season. Although Post is not a member of the Yankee Conference, the Maine Black Bears look forward to meeting this team and it should prove to be an exciting challenge.

GRADUATE "M" CLUB PUBLISHES HISTORY OF VARSITY ATHLETICS

A milestone in the history of the Graduate "M" Club will be reached late this summer with the publication of a history of varsity athletics at the University of Maine.

The book, which will be about 225 pages in size, will be published by the University of Maine Press and is expected to be available about September 1st.

The idea for the book was discussed last January at a meeting on campus which was called by Graduate "M" Club President Robert Whytock '52 of Augusta. Attending, in addition to Whytock, were Dr. Henry Woodbrey

'53, Profs. Samuel Sezak '31 and Harold Woodbury '36, Athletic Director Harold Westerman, Asst. Athletic Director Linwood Carville '53, and Athletic Business Manager Stuart Haskell '56.

The project was attempted, first, as a permanent method of paying tribute to the men who have represented Maine in intercollegiate athletics; second, as a means of further uniting the Graduate "M" Club organization; third, as the best way of documenting Maine's varsity athletic history; and fourth, as a means of raising revenue for club projects.

Haskell, who is serving as editor, has been pulling material together on Maine's athletic history since his undergraduate days.

The committee set the price of the publication at five dollars plus fifty cents mailing charge, and decided that there would be no free copies available. The book may be ordered by writing to the Athletic Business Office in Memorial Gymnasium.

The book will include a section on each of the sports in which the University has fielded a varsity team. They include: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, hockey, indoor track, outdoor track, relay, riflery, sailing, skiing, soccer, tennis, and wrestling.

Most sections will include the following information:

1. Scores of all games, listed season by season.
2. Scores of all games, listed separately by opponents.
3. Names of captains.
4. Names of coaches.
5. Yankee Conference standings.
6. Maine State Series standings.
7. Individual and team records.
8. Miscellaneous information.

In addition, the book will include a special section listing the names of every man who has earned a varsity letter at Maine and his present address as listed in the Alumni Office during the spring of 1970. Those deceased, as well as those whose addresses are unknown, will also be included in the list. Each man's address will be followed by the sport or sports in which he lettered and the years lettered.

Photographs also will be included of several of Maine's outstanding teams.

Among the photos included in the athletic history book being published by the Graduate "M" Club this summer is one of Francis "Bud" Lindsay and Harry Richardson winning the 1929 national cross country championship in a dead heat at New York City. Here they are shown on their way to victory in that memorable race.

Orono, Maine 04473

The first year after the close of the Civil War was an occasion for great rejoicing in Portland. Never before that July 4th, 1866,—and certainly with good reason never since that day—has there been such a celebration. Firecrackers, rockets, squibs, bombs, etc., made the day hideous with their roar—and all the small boys of the town very happy. The entire city gave itself up to a carnival mood.

Innumerable escapes from serious fires after a while made the celebrants heedless of the almost constant rattle of fire engines over the cobbled streets. But the inevitable happened. A firecracker thrown by some boys into a boat-builder's yard on Commercial Street near the foot of High ignited shavings there. This grew into a major blaze.

By that time a terrific wind had set in from the sea, fanning the fire toward the entire town. Brown's warehouse was burning, though this building was supposedly fireproof it was destroyed like a tinder-box by the flames, which by then had reached terrifying proportions.

For fifteen hours the fire raged unchecked, finally to burn itself out for lack of material. Most of the inhabitants of the ruined town fled to the old burying ground on Munjoy's Hill. Fifty-eight streets were laid in ashes, over fifteen hundred buildings were destroyed, thousands of people were homeless.
