

The University of Maine

DigitalCommons@UMaine

Social Justice: Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion

Special Collections

12-8-1920

Local Branch Menorah Society Reorganizes

The Maine Campus

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/social_justice

Part of the Feminist, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Commons, Higher Education Commons, and the United States History Commons

Repository Citation

The Maine Campus, "Local Branch Menorah Society Reorganizes" (1920). Social Justice: Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion. 574.

https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/social_justice/574

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@UMaine. It has been accepted for inclusion in Social Justice: Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@UMaine. For more information, please contact um.library.technical.services@maine.edu.

—M—

Local Branch Menorah Society Reorganizes

—M—

Aim of the Society Is to Cultivate Jewish Ideals

—M—

Friday night, December 3, a reorganization meeting of the Menorah Society of the University of Maine was held in Alumni Hall. A new set of officers were elected as follows: President, Edward Mack; Vice President, Louis Weintraub; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss F. R. Cutler. Plans for the ensuing year were discussed. President Aley and prominent members of the faculty will address the club at each meeting which is to be held the first Thursday of each month.

The Menorah Society is not a new organization. It was founded at Harvard College in 1906, and has since then grown until today it has seventy three branches in as many colleges, three being located at Canadian universities. The aim of the society is to study and advance Jewish culture and ideals, and to prepare university men and women for intelligent service to the community. The society offers prizes for essays, and does all in its power to encourage the furtherment of Jewish music, drama, and literature. It publishes the "Menorah Journal" which is devoted to the interests of the society and appears each month.

The Maine chapter of the Menorah Society was founded in 1914. It was successful in accomplishing what it had set out to do, but the war cut short its existence. This is the first attempt at reorganizing the society at Maine, and prospects appear bright for a successful year.

—M—

"Yes," said the oculist at last, "one eye is seriously affected, and, if not treated immediately, will develop a decided squint."

—M—

He lives who dies to win a lasting name.