A - round an hum-ble cot-tage lit - tle chil-dren romp and play, A Now see the lit - tle chil-dren bringing flow-ers all the day, As boy looks out the win-dow in a man-sion o'er the way, — Their child-ish games and laughter reach his qui-et - ly they walk in-to the man-sion o'er the way, — A moth-ers heart is breaking, sor-row heart and seem to lure, — But ma-ma says he can not play with them be-cause they're poor.

 stam-pa fa - ther's brow, — Two lit tle lips are si-lent, ev' - ry thing is qui - et now.

Chorus.

Valse lento.

In the house a - cross the way, One boy can't go out to play,

mf

They won't let him have his toys, For they can-not stand the noise

Dad - dy's bus - y now, you see, Ma - ma's in so - ci - e - ty,

But they will re - gret some day, In the house a - cross the way.
