THE SUMMER PLAYGROUND OF THE NATION

Maine invites you to enjoy the glories of her forests, the beauty of her thousands of lakes and hills, the music of her brooks, the clamor of her streams, the sweep of her great rivers, and the majesty of her rock-bound coast and sea-girt islands.

Nowhere is scenery more varied and charming. Nowhere is the summer more congenial. Nowhere dwells a more hospitable people.

Maine extends a cordial invitation and assures you a friendly welcome whether you come for a week, for the Summer, or as a year-round resident. Come by train, by boat, by motor. If by motor, you'll find well-marked motor trails and highways on which sixty millions of dollars have been expended during the last ten years, and for whose upkeep and improvement the last legislature made available funds amounting to eighteen millions.

Maine, after the roll of three centuries is still a land of promise and progress.

It has half the tidal coast of the Atlantic, stretching 2,486 miles. It has 1,300 wooded islands, one of them Mount Desert of 60,000 acres. There are 5,131 Rivers and streams in Maine, big enough to be on the map.

There are six great lake and river systems.

The LATCH STRING IS OUT. COME TO MAINE.

Health, a good time, and the scenic wonders of the Pine Tree State await you.
