The age of an insurance agency or company means nothing unless the traditions of the institution are carried out by those active in the business.

John Sise & Company was established in 1836 by Edward F. Sise as agent of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company. The business was carried on by John Sise after the Civil War period, and until recently by the late Frederick M. Sise. These men developed the agency through adherence to all that is best in the business of insurance.

Today our time, thought and efforts are devoted to doing one thing - insurance. We endeavor to do that thing well.
