Big Innovation in Popular Sheet Music

HERE is the greatest step forward in the history of popular sheet music since the advent of the giant printing press.

Entire song in sight
NO LEAVES
to turn or lose

Just think! You can play and sing the entire song from beginning to end without turning a page. Every note is clearly before your eyes—large and distinct. No embarrassing pauses while pianist struggles with loose or missing leaves—or, as very often happens, comes to a dead stop while some kind friend picks the loose sheet from the floor. A blessing which every player—every singer—will welcome.

This Feist-conceived idea we gladly give to the public

It is only another link in that ever-growing chain of evidence which proves that in the music world "you can't go wrong with any 'Feist' song."

Here are the two newest songs published in the "easy-to-read" form. No extra charge for this, the greatest innovation in Popular Sheet Music.

"SWEET CIDER TIME WHEN YOU WERE MINE"

I'll al-ways re-mem-ber that gold-en No-ven-ber, Sweet ei-der time, when you were mine!

Here is a "bird's-eye" view of the latest hit by the writers of "Tulip and Rose," and "Norway." A feast of memories! A flood of melody! A hit on a thousand vaudeville stages. Words by Joe McCarthy; music by Percy Wenrich. Sung by Walter Van Brunt, the Edison Star.

"SIAM"

Si-am, In so lone-some where I am... You know who's waiting for you, when you come from Si-am, Your O-mar Khayam.

A novelty ballad. Sweetly swelling, voluptuous cadences charm the ear as Omar Khayam entreats Siam to come to her Persian Garden, Emma Carus' great hit! Words by Howard Johnson, music by Fred Fischer.
