ENVIRONMENTAL RISKS IN AND AROUND OUR HOMES: WATER TESTING

This will be the first in a series of brief articles, with recommendations, about environmental risks at our homes in Vienna. I shall discuss the most common risks first, and how one assesses or measures them. In this article, I talk about when, how and for what you should consider testing your home water supply.

There is, of course, no public water supply going to Vienna homes. The closest we get to that is the Kimball Pond Road public spring, which is tested several times a year by its stewards. Thus, all of us are responsible for assuring the safety of our own home water; our water sources are from springs, or drilled or dug wells, unless we live without running water.

So what should you worry about, what should you test for, and how often? (Continued on page 11)

FROM THE TOWN SELECTMEN

Present: Dodi Thompson, Chris Smith, Brian Church, Linwood Meader, Jr., John Archard, Steve Lilly

1) Linwood received a letter from E.L. Vining stating that the Town owed them for a couple of loads of material from back in April. After reviewing warrants from April and May, the decision was made to give the letter to Marti for further investigation.

2) John Archard came in to inform us that a section of fabric that holds the road in place on the top of the Davis Road is showing. He is very concerned that this will be a problem if it is not fixed before winter plowing begins. We assured him that it will be taken care of right away.

3) Dodi reported that the 2011 Tree Growth Roster has been completed and mailed to the State Revenue Office.

4) Reviewed and dispersed mail.

I hope everyone is enjoying sending and receiving holiday cards and gifts. This tradition helps us all to stay in touch with friends and relatives through the years. The Vienna Post Office has a nice selection of decorative Ready Post envelopes and boxes—the recipients enjoy receiving colorful packages, and those of us processing the mail are cheered up by them as well! If you bring your parcels in to the Vienna Post Office we put beautiful stamps on them instead of the boring “meter strips”. These stamps are rather rare and will have value later on—even when cancelled. FYI: wreath size boxes are no longer available at any Post Office (except for 2010 leftovers). The closest thing we have is a 17”x17”x16” Ready Post box for $5.49.

We have a great selection of interesting stamps on hand—stamps make a beautiful, useful, and inexpensive gift. All of the 1st Class stamps are issued as “Forever” stamps now. The rates may be going up in January, but the “Forever” stamps will automatically increase in value and not need an additional one or two cent stamp added. (Buy now!)

The “Free Stuff” display has been very popular. We need more donations to it. This is the perfect place to give those nice gifts that have spent enough time hanging out at your house a new home. They could become the perfect gift for someone else to give this Christmas season.

While you’re at the Post Office bringing (or taking) objects for the “Free Stuff” display, (and the free recycled magazines shelf), check out the new 3’x5’ photograph of Vienna’s “Clubhouse at the Top of the World”. Photographer John Orcutt of the Schoolhouse Gallery in Kingfield generously donated this awesome art piece to the Vienna Post Office. The autumn foliage is at its peak, and the foreground captures the incredible maroons, mauves and reds of the blueberry barrens in the fall.

Some of you may have heard the rumor—our beloved carrier Walt Williams is retiring! We have various back-up carriers helping out now and until we have a new Rural Carrier in place. Walt will be staying on until the end of the year to be sure all of the Christmas mail gets delivered! It has been a pleasure working with Walt all these years. We’ll miss him.

FROM THE TOWN CLERK AND TAX COLLECTOR

For some of you that do not know, I have deputized my daughter, Felicia Smith as Town Clerk and Tax Collector. She has been working with me and learning the jobs. It has been great to know I have a back up when I need it.

It's that time of the year again. Please remember to license your dog/s. The deadline is January 31, 2012. Fees for an "altered" dog costs $6.00 to license, and for a dog that is not "altered" the cost is $11.00.

After January 31st the late fee of $25 in addition to the annual license fee will have to be paid.

Nomination Papers will be available for the following seat; 1, 2, and 3 Selectman, Treasurer, Road Commissioner, Town Clerk and Tax Collector. The Nomination papers for these will be available December 16 and will need to be returned to my office by Wednesday, January 25, 2012. This is not a day that I am usually open, so I will be open from 5 pm - 7 pm that night.

Happy Hollidays!

Connie Smith

News From
Vienna Historical Society

FIRST:

We have published a new book, which would make a good Holiday gift for someone you know.

Men who served in the Civil War and were born in, lived in, or buried in Vienna or Mount Vernon are honored in this book. A brief genealogical sketch of each is given, along with his service record. As much as possible, their post-war lives were traced and recorded, and photographs were included. Paperback, 86 pages, 8 1/2" x 11". $15.00 each.

The most common contaminant are coliforms, Escherichia coli and related bacteria found in human or wild or domestic animal feces. Less commonly, Salmonella or Shigella and the Norovirus species may be transmitted in a similar way, and even less frequently, the parasites Cryptosporidium, Giardia (“beaver fever” and others. Preventing water supply contamination isn’t rocket science; we all know the septic system should be downhill and separated from the well. But in spring flooding, especially when much of the ground is still frozen, surface contamination can occur. Grazing cattle or other domestic animal facilities can pose a risk. Surface water sources (springs and often dug wells) are more likely to be contaminated than drilled wells, because it is easier for the poopy water to get in. The consequences of contaminated water are usually mild in healthy adults, nothing or diarrhea. But the young and the old are more susceptible to more severe symptoms and bacterial spread to the bloodstream (sepsis), hence causing complications and sometimes death. You can’t rely on clarity, taste or smell to know contamination has occurred, because it only takes microscopic quantities. So you should test your water when you move in to your new house, anytime you think the well may have been exposed (a flood, a new barnyard nearby, etc) and probably every 5 or so years, because even with a drilled well protected somewhat by its casing, drawing water from a well can open up new water channels over time.

Testing is relatively easy: run your water for a few minutes to clear the system and take a sample midstream in a sample bottle the testing lab supplies, refrigerate it until you mail (not over a weekend) or deliver it. Ask for “coliforms”, and you usually can get “nitrates/nitrites” with it for the same price (about $30). Nitrates/nitrites are breakdown products of bacteria (we use them to screen urine samples for bacterial infections, on those dipsticks, as some of you may know), but also can come from non-fecal lawn or commercial fertilizer. The report should come with a clear “positive” or “insignificant” answer within a week or so.

And while you are collecting and sending that water sample, consider adding, for an additional price, one or two additional tests. We live in an area with lots of granite bedrock, which can contain arsenic. It is the inorganic type that is the problem, in contrast to the organic type found in lobsters and other seafoods. Arsenic poisoning is a cause of premature dementia (looks like Alzheimer’s disease), but only the inorganic type. Several times I’ve found an elevated total arsenic level in a patient only to find on further testing that it was the organic type from their diet, and not in their water or an issue. That’s an additional $20.

Finally, if there are young children in the house, knowing if you have fluoride in your water is helpful. They need it badly and few places in Maine have it. So you could save yourself some money over time by knowing you have enough in your water without having to buy them supplements, which they will otherwise need. You can get all 3 for $60-$70 plus a bunch of other elements, like copper, iron, manganese, chromium, lead, uranium, radon, and so on; but these are either very rarely a problem or better tested for in other ways, which I’ll go into in future articles.

I use and like the State of Maine Public Health Lab for this testing (https://www.informe.org/cgi-bin/shopping/cart.pl?catalogPage=pageTwo) because I know and trust their people and systems. But there are many private, certified water testing labs in Maine (http://www.informe.org/hetl/).

Next time, I’ll discuss other potential environmental hazards in our homes. But in the meantime, know for sure that smoking tobacco anywhere and especially in your home endangers not only you, but your family as well, more than any of the risks I’ve discussed above. And home fires from stoves, faulty wiring, and careless care of flammable substances come in a close second. Please avoid those, if you do nothing else.

Feel free to call me if I can help you.
