

Spring 1-21-1985

Maine Campus January 21 1985

Maine Campus Staff

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/mainecampus>

Repository Citation

Staff, Maine Campus, "Maine Campus January 21 1985" (1985). Maine Campus Archives. 1656.
<https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/mainecampus/1656>

This Other is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@UMaine. It has been accepted for inclusion in Maine Campus Archives by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@UMaine. For more information, please contact um.library.technical.services@maine.edu.

ing to
Maine

for receiving plication.
e guaranteed.

, please leave
Mark Gagnon,
e. The office is Thursday. We
e floor, tacked

helping us

sents...
country

SNS
pouring

SNS
ng

ID!
clinics

945-6474

the daily Maine Campus

vol. XCVI no. VI

The University of Maine at Orono student newspaper since 1875

Monday, January 21, 1985

Caught drinking with minors

by E.J. Vongher
Staff Writer

Two UMO resident assistants were asked to resign from their positions last semester because they were in the company of minors who were consuming alcoholic beverages, the two former RAs said Saturday.

Laurie Jones, formerly an RA in Corbett Hall, and Scot Cochran, who was an RA in Hart Hall, were asked to resign after they both admitted to being in the presence of minors unlawfully consuming alcohol. Jones and Cochran both said they weren't on duty when the incidents occurred. They also said they weren't in the dormitories in which they served as RAs.

Jones said it is the responsibility of resident assistants to uphold the rules and regulations of Residential Life. She admitted being in the presence of minors drinking alcohol in Hancock Hall, a violation of Residential Life policy.

"It was my mistake ... a violation of policy. I knew I was wrong so I guess I'm not bitter. As an RA, you're supposed to be setting an example; a good example," Jones said.

Cochran attended a party in the Ram's Horn at which minors were consuming alcohol. He said he agrees with Residential Life policy, which states he shouldn't have been there, but he does not believe the situation was handled properly.

"I feel like I'm being made an example of, because the situation is unique. In Hart Hall, we're taught to handle disciplinary measures individually, with no incident being based on somebody else's instance. Andy (Matthews, director of Wells Complex) told me he owed it to Laurie (Jones) to handle the situation the way he did. He said more than 35 RAs in the complex were looking at this decision. That handling of the situation isn't consistent with the way we're taught to deal with similar situations with dorm residents," Cochran said.

H. Ross Moriarty

director of Residential Life, said each disciplinary incident should be treated individually.

"Each disciplinary case has to be treated individually. If Andy (Matthews) said that to him (Cochran), you'll have to ask Andy," Moriarty said.

Matthews would not comment on the incident.

Jones said although she doesn't believe she was purposely made an example of ... it was unavoidable.

"I don't think they did it to make an example of me, but I am an example of what can happen with a violation of that policy. I hope other people (RAs) have learned from my mistake," Jones said.

Moriarty said because an RA is a university staff member, he or she has an obligation to uphold university regulations regarding alcohol consumption, whether they are within university

"It was my mistake
... I knew I was wrong."

—Laurie Jones, former UMO RA

jurisdiction or not.

Cochran disagrees with Moriarty on this point.

"I feel that Residential Life should have boundaries at the university border. We (RA's) don't owe a responsibility to them (Residential Life) off campus. At a Residential Life function, we have a responsibility to the job, to uphold their policies.

Off campus, the responsibility becomes our own," Cochran said.

While they were not required to move out of the Residential Life system, because of their involvement, both Jones and Cochran have moved off campus.

Nuclear submarine commissioned

KITTERY (AP) — Under a steady snowfall, a nuclear attack submarine named for Maine's capital was commissioned Saturday, while members of two peace groups held a silent protest outside the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard gates.

The USS Augusta, which was launched a year ago, is the newest of the Navy's Los Angeles-class attack nuclear submarines. The submarine will be based in Groton, Conn.

Maine Freeze Campaign and the American Friends Service Committee. Debra Hibbard, a spokeswoman for the two groups, said the USS Augusta is part of a nuclear fighting strategy and is capable of carrying cruise missiles.

The Navy said the Augusta can carry a guided missile, although it is not currently armed with one, and up to 26 two-ton torpedoes armed with conventional weapons.

Cohen told the 500 spectators at the for continued U.S. maritime strength becomes clear," said Cohen. "Aggression can be deterred and our nation's security assured.

Sen. William S. Cohen

"But the clear lesson from the past is that we can never achieve peace unless there is a good faith commitment to do so," he said.

"Today, when the stark reality of Soviet power and its threat to free-world institutions is fully understood, the need for continued U.S. maritime strength becomes clear."

—U.S. Sen. William S. Cohen

The Navy's decision to name the vessel for Maine's capital city drew praise from U.S. Senator William S. Cohen, R-Maine, the keynote speaker at the ceremonies.

But it was criticized by about two dozen demonstrators outside the shipyard, some of whom carried signs reading, "Not in our name." The antiwar vigil was sponsored by the commissioning that peace can only be maintained if "a nation is prepared to fight the wars that cannot be prevented."

In prepared remarks, Cohen said the U.S. must be prepared to respond to Soviet aggression.

"Today, when the stark reality of Soviet power and its threat to free-world institutions is fully understood, the need

49ers easily win Super Bowl, 38-16

by The Associated Press

STANFORD, Calif. — Joe Montana, making a shambles of the quarterback showdown with Dan Marino, shattered the Miami Dolphins' defense with his passing and scrambling and led the San Francisco 49ers to a 38-16 victory in Super Bowl XIX Sunday.

Montana passed for three touchdowns, ran for another and set Super Bowl records with 331 yards passing and scrambling for 59 yards rushing. He kept the 49ers totally in control, leading them to scores on five straight possessions in the second and third quarters to make the Dolphins, who had the National Football League's second-best record at 16-2, look like overmatched losers.

It was the second Super Bowl victory in four years for the 49ers, who finished with an NFL-record 18 victories against one loss.

Montana was voted the game's most valuable player, matching the award he won in San Francisco's 26-20 victory over Cincinnati in Super Bowl XVI.

He got exemplary help from Coach Bill Walsh's bag-of-tricks offense; from fullback Roger Craig, who caught two TD passes and ran for a record third score, and from a defense whose pressure on Marino exceeded anything a Dolphin opponent had been able to do in this record-breaking season.

Marino was intercepted twice and sacked four times. In two NFL seasons, Marino had not been sacked more than three times; he had been sacked only 13 times in 18 games this season and not at all in two playoff games. The game was portrayed as a dream contest between the NFL's two best teams, but the 49ers were clearly better.

And for this day at least, so was Walsh in his "genius" match with Miami's Don Shula.

In fact, the game was competitive in the first period. Miami took a 3-0 lead on the first of three field goals by Uwe von Schamann, lost it on a 33-yard TD pass from Montana to reserve running back Carl Monroe, then got it back again on a brilliantly executed six-play, 70-yard drive engineered by Marino.

But that 10-7 first quarter lead lasted only until Montana got the ball back. By halftime it was 28-16, by midway through the third

(see SAN FRAN page 6)

Value of MBA may be decreasing in the job market

DURHAM, N.C. (CPS) — The worth of a masters in business administration degree may be evaporating.

Students now working toward a MBA may not get the kinds of jobs they want when they graduate, and some of the colleges that are granting students the MBAs may be heading for a big fall, the dean of a major business school said.

A changing business climate and a glut of MBA candidates are the reasons, Thomas Keller, dean of Duke University's Fuqua Business School, said.

"The business community is changing its attitudes about the kinds of jobs for MBAs," Keller said. The masters degrees, of course, generally are viewed as good tickets to high-paying, responsible jobs. There's a reduced demand for MBAs and companies are recruiting at fewer schools.

In past years, he said, many top corporations recruited at up to 50 schools each year. Now, the same companies may visit only eight or 10 strong MBA campuses.

"Certain programs don't get recruited at all," Keller said. "Only strong schools do. As this continues, opportunities for students will begin to decline."

"Employers are becoming more selective about the schools they recruit from," said Charles Hickman of the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business. "They depend on successful past recruitments and schools that can prove they have a good MBA program."

Frequently, he said, these are the same schools.

"Those who can't prove their grads are superior to or at least as good as the leading schools don't get recruited," Hickman said.

And, as unrecruited students scramble for less desirable positions, their schools become "a bad word that's passed on," Keller said.

The "shakeout of business schools" will weed out programs created when MBA demand began to skyrocket nationwide from 6,000 graduates in the sixties to a current 55,000 to 60,000 yearly.

Some of the "marginal" departments already are trying to head off enrollment slumps.

"If there's a fallout of MBA programs, it's the schools with no strong programs that will be affected first," Hickman said. And they are often the ones without state support or a substantial endowment."

Keller said, "Substantial enrollment declines will affect total revenues for some schools and make it hard to maintain economic viability. Some universities use large business school enrollment to generate their budgets."

Business schools provide as much as 25 percent of a college's revenue; one reason 600 schools now offer MBA programs.

But the biggest effect is on students themselves.

Keller said, "Historical hirers are still hiring MBAs," but fewer companies offer the lucrative midmanagement positions business students anticipate.

Instead, talented graduates often get operating, human resource and line management positions.

"The standard criticism is that MBAs are arrogant, wanting staff instead of line jobs," Hickman said.

Cougar sightings in Maine becoming more common

AUGUSTA (AP) — Sighting a cougar in the Maine woods, like spotting a UFO in the sky, used to be an event best kept to yourself. But reports have risen dramatically during the past few years.

Game warden John Crabtree said he saw a long-tailed cougar loping across the road in Warren last June. He stopped to look for tracks, but could find nothing in the packed, dry dirt.

Four months later, forester Alton Genthner stopped his truck on U.S. Route 1 near Waldoboro. He watched for two minutes before the animal disappeared into the woods, leaving no trace.

"I said to myself, 'you can't be seeing what you were seeing,'" Genthner said. "But it was no guess. The animal crossed the road with very catlike strides as if to say 'I don't care who's coming.' It was one hell of a thrill."

Eugene Dumont, a wildlife biologist with the state Inland Fisheries and Wildlife Department, said, "There are just too many reports to discount. What we don't have is a picture or an animal in hand."

Wardens did collect what may be some leftovers from a cougar's visit in July 1983 in Waldoboro, when Sue Hunt and Jean Simmons said they saw a cougar sunning itself in a tamarack tree.

They said it stretched and moved about in the tree, seemingly unperturbed by their presence. When the animal left, the women called state biologists, who found tufts of the cat's white belly hair and some hair from a deer in the crotch of the tree.

They also took a cubic foot of soil, hoping a plaster cast of the cat's track would prove a cougar's existence.

The deer hair was a hopeful sign, since deer is the chief prey of the cougar, but the belly hair could have come from any cat. The track was also inconclusive. An attempt to stake out the cat later failed.

Skeptics have seized upon the lack of hard evidence to bolster their arguments.

"There might have been a few out there in the 1950s or 1960s," Dave Cartwright, a biologist with the New Brunswick wildlife department, said.

"But I don't think there are any now. The tracks usually turn out to be cats, dogs or lynx. Coyotes carry their tails low and can be mistaken for cougars too," Cartwright said.

And Gerry Parker of the Canadian federal wildlife service said it's easy to mistake one animal for another.

Hunters decimated the Eastern cougar population a century ago. The last known cougar in Maine was reported trapped in 1938. The last cougar shot in Massachusetts was in 1858, in New Hampshire in 1853, and in Vermont in 1881.

Cougars, which have a long, slender tail, a steely gaze and a screaming cry, now live in Florida. The Western cougar, a cousin to the Eastern cougar, still lives in the Rocky Mountain states.

Gannett water main break causes minimal damage

by Stephen R. Macklin
Staff Writer

Residents of Gannett Hall awoke to find themselves without water last Friday as a result of a water main break late Thursday night.

Gannett Hall Resident Director Rebecca Wyke said resident assistants discovered the break around 11:30 p.m.

James Emple, an RA in Gannett Hall, said the water was turned on for about 15 minutes in the morning for people to take showers. "People who slept in had problems though. I had to go over to Cumberland (Hall) to take my shower."

William Deveau, trades supervisor in UMO's plumbing shop, said the water to Gannett Hall was shut off at about 8 a.m. and was turned back on at 10:40 a.m. "It was a remarkable job I thought, considering we had to dig down to the pipe. The crew really did a super job," he said.

Deveau said the pipe break was not an unusual occurrence with the cast iron pipes used on campus. Four or five pipes burst last year, and one broke this semester at Wells Commons just before the semester break.

Part of the cause of the break at Gannett is that the soil there is unstable and when it freezes it puts more strain than usual on the pipes, he said. "That area used to be a dump, we even found some bottles and cans while we were digging."

Deveau said the water from the broken main caused very little damage. "The carpet in the TV room got wet, but they said it needed to be washed anyway," he said.

Deveau said the total cost of repairing the broken pipe would be under $1,000.

Terms of Endearment
G.M. Pollack's
Custom Financing

We've listened to quite a few stories over the years of young couples about to be engaged or married, but lacking the resources to get the rings they wanted. We don't think that's right, so we're doing something to help.

G.M. Pollack & Sons will listen to your needs and work with you to arrange a custom financing plan. We believe you'll find us more flexible than any other jeweler in Maine. After all, the jewel shouldn't be asked to wait.

G.M. Pollack & Sons
Maine's fine jeweler.

Downtown Portland - Maine Mall - Brunswick
Crescent Corner - Auburn Mall - Augusta
Downtown Bangor - Bangor Mall

Creating Terms of Endearment for almost half a century.

UNIVERSITY CINEMAS
STILLWATER AVE.
OLD TOWN 827-3850

Avenging Angel
7:00 - 9:20 - (R)

The Jigsaw Man
6:45 - 9:10 - (PG)

Classifieds

"COME TO THE MOUNTAINS"
Top Brother/Sister camps in Poconos of Pennsylvania - June 24/ August 20.
Counselor positions available. Call (215)887-9700 or write 407 Benson East, Jenkintown, PA 19046.

Classifieds are $1.50 for the first twenty words and 10 cents for each additional word, per day.

No one faces cancer alone.
Call us.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

STORIES AND JOURNEYS

a theology discussion group
3:30 today, Sutton Lounge
The Maine Christian Association

STUDENTS!

Apartments
Now Available

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, Bedrooms

Close To UMO
Call 866-2516

ACROSS

- 1 Secret agent
- 4 Be defeated
- 8 Lad
- 11 Portico
- 12 Sole
- 13 Veneration
- 14 Babylonian deity
- 15 Small rug
- 17 Longs for
- 19 Priest's vestment
- 21 Silent
- 23 Yellow ochre
- 24 Actual
- 26 Proverb
- 28 Repair
- 31 Chinese pagoda
- 33 Stitch
- 35 Pronoun
- 36 Proceed
- 38 Serving dish

DOWN

- 1 Vapid
- 2 River in Italy
- 3 Sweet potato
- 4 Tree of forgetfulness
- 5 In contact with
- 6 Crafty
- 7 Organs of sight
- 8 Cereal grass
- 9 Possess
- 10 Affirmative
- 11 Scorch
- 16 Forenoon
- 18 Direct all target
- 20 Baseball club
- 22 Experts
- 25 Once around track
- 27 Moist
- 29 Direction: abbr
- 30 Owning
- 32 In music, high

J&MSUV

The Puzzle

© 1984 United Feature Syndicate

ACROSS

- 1 Secret agent
- 4 Be defeated
- 8 Lad
- 11 Porcico
- 12 Sole
- 13 Veneration
- 14 Babylonian deity
- 15 Small rug
- 17 Longs for
- 19 Priest's vestment
- 21 Silent
- 23 Yellow ochre
- 24 Actual
- 26 Proverb
- 28 Repair
- 31 Chinese pagoda
- 33 Stitch
- 35 Pronoun
- 36 Proceed
- 38 Serving dish
- 41 Again; prefix
- 42 Poem
- 44 Stalemate
- 45 Obstruct
- 47 Hebrew month
- 49 Attempt
- 51 Partner
- 54 Algonquian Indian
- 56 Perch
- 58 Still
- 59 Climbing palm
- 62 Lamprey
- 64 Japanese drama
- 65 Exist
- 66 Toll
- 68 Black
- 70 Armed conflict
- 71 Dispatch
- 72 Sticky liquid

DOWN

- 1 Vapid
- 2 River in Italy
- 3 Sweet potato
- 4 Tree of forgetfulness
- 5 In contact with
- 6 Crafty
- 7 Organs of sight
- 8 Cereal grass
- 9 Possess
- 10 Affirmative
- 11 Scorch
- 16 Forenoon
- 18 Direct at target
- 20 Baseball club
- 22 Experts
- 25 Once around track
- 27 Moist
- 29 Direction: abbr.
- 30 Owning
- 32 In music, high
- 34 Marry
- 36 Tibetan gazelle
- 37 Unusual
- 39 River island
- 40 Male sheep
- 43 Christian festival
- 46 Springtime
- 48 Rodent
- 49 Give up
- 52 Choir voice
- 53 Short jacket
- 55 Headgear: pl.
- 57 Symbol for tellurium
- 59 Uncooked
- 60 Macaw
- 61 Born
- 63 Permit
- 67 Article
- 69 Symbol for barium

Puzzle Answer

BLOOM COUNTY

by Berke Breathed

BLOOM COUNTY

by Berke Breathed

Doonesbury

BY GARRY TRUDEAU

ZIGGY

ZIGGY

World/U.S. News

Reagan takes his second oath as president

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ronald Wilson Reagan, standing on the landing of the White House grand staircase, swore the presidential oath for a second term Sunday before 96 guests and a national television audience. Outside, icy winds foretold the rigors of Monday's outdoor ceremony when Reagan reenacts his swearing-in with public pomp and a declaration of "American renewal."

The Republic's 50th Inauguration was the sixth to fall on a Sunday. Tradition held that the pageantry would come Monday, and allowed the president to relax and watch the Super Bowl with 100 million other Americans.

It was 9 degrees outside when Reagan took his oath in the red-carpeted elegance of the executive mansion's State

Floor. Forecasters were warning parade-goers that Monday could be the coldest public inaugural in history.

Presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said Monday's inaugural speech — to be delivered from the West Front of the Capitol — would look forward to "an American renewal, continuing America's proud and revolutionary tradition."

Vice President George Bush was sworn in a minute before Reagan, with his friend, retired Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart, returning from New Hampshire to administer the oath.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger administered the oath to Reagan, who said: "I, Ronald Reagan, do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States, so help me God." When Reagan finished, Burger said, "Congratulations, sir!" The president kissed first lady Nancy Reagan. It isn't the oath that made Reagan the president; the Constitution dictates that the president's term ends at noon on Jan. 20, when his successor's begins. Thus, Reagan's second term would have begun Sunday even if he had postponed his oath to await the public ceremony on Monday.

The guests listened to the U.S. Army chorus sing the hymn "America" before adjourning to a reception. Reagan and Bush stepped outside, where the wind-chill factor was minus 22 degrees Fahrenheit, to pose for pictures — without overcoats — and answer a few questions from reporters before joining their guests a few moments later.

Asked if it would be different the second time around, Reagan, who is only the 14th American president to be re-elected, replied: "It always is, isn't it?"

The White House had considered making Sunday's oath-taking a private affair, as Dwight Eisenhower's was in 1957, the last time Inauguration Day fell on a Sunday. But it was decided early last week to admit three reporters, three news photographers and two television camera crews whose pictures were carried live by the four major television networks.

The guest list was put at "96 1/2" by White House spokeswoman Sheila Tate, who counted Reagan's 20-month-old granddaughter Ashley as the half.

Abortion supporters hold vigil as opponents rally

by The Associated Press

Abortion rights supporters picketed a Roman Catholic archbishop's house and kept vigil at clinics for a third day Sunday, while opponents held rallies and caravans in activities building up to the 12th anniversary of the Supreme Court's decision legalizing abortion.

Meanwhile, three men were arrested Saturday in connection with eight anti-abortion bombings in Washington, D.C., Virginia and Maryland in the past year.

At least 24 such attacks have occurred since January 1984, and the National Organization for Women sponsored round-the-clock vigils that continued Sunday at 25 family planning centers and abortion clinics in 18 states to protest the violence. Tuesday is the anniversary of the landmark court ruling.

While most vigil participants reported a quiet weekend, a telephoned bomb threat Sunday at the Women's Medical Center in Washington forced NOW President Judy Goldsmith and about 30 other people to evacuate briefly.

The phone call "brought us back very sharply to the reality that the threat is still out there," Goldsmith said. Despite Saturday's arrests, "we are still concerned that we have a lot of people still vulnerable around the country," she said.

In Boston, about 40 pro-choice protesters marched outside the home of Catholic Archbishop Bernard F. Law, who last week offered the support of the Boston Archdiocese — including medical and financial aid — to any woman of any faith who chose to keep her child rather than have an abortion.

Braving 18-degree temperatures, the demonstrators chanted "Safe, legal, on demand — abortion rights across the land" and carried signs that read "Motherhood by choice, not chance."

More than 90 abortion rights supporters who were keeping vigil for a third day at a Fargo, N.D., Women's Health Organization formed a human chain around the building, remaining outside for 45 minutes as wind chills dropped the temperature to 40 below zero, said Lynn Wilson, president of Citizens for a Real Choice.

At the same time, abortion foes drove past the clinic in a "memorial car caravan" several blocks long, led by a hearse carrying a small white coffin. The caravan followed a rally outside the Cass County Courthouse, said Susan Richard, president of the LIFE coalition.

In Washington, federal officials announced Saturday three men had been arrested in connection with eight bombings of abortion clinics and family planning centers in Washington and its Maryland and Virginia suburbs during the past year. Bail hearings were scheduled for Tuesday for Thomas Eugene Spinks, 37, of Bowie, Md.; Michael D. Bray, 32, also of Bowie; and Kenneth William Shields, 34, of Laurel, Md., authorities said.

Mary Miller DeCamp, president of the Northern Virginia chapter of NOW, who was participating in a weekend vigil at Commonwealth Women's Clinic in Falls Church, Va., said the arrest would not result in a relaxation of security at area facilities.

Join The University Chorus

The chorus is still accepting new members without an audition. Learn how to sing and become part of an exciting performance organization. Rehearsal schedule: Tues. and Thur. from 12:10-1:00. Receive one credit and a rewarding experience. For more information, call or see Mr. Joe Henry, Chorus Director, Lord Hall. Tel. 581-1261.

United Way
Thanks to you, it works, for ALL OF US.

The Ram's Horn offers

$25!!!

$25 will be given to the person who submits the new name chosen to replace

"The Ram's Horn"

Put your idea on a piece of paper and return it to York Complex Office
York Hall

by 4 p.m., January 28. On the paper please include: your idea, name and phone number

* Look for weekly lists of events on the Residential Life page of the Maine Campus each Wednesday.

Maine

by Jerry Tourigny
Staff Writer

Sunday's game was capitalizing on its clutch team not.

The Terriers of behind six goals defeated the Maine an afternoon contest fond Arena before spectators.

In one of Maine's season which saw the 28-23 and Ron Heller the Bears were unable they needed one.

After the Bears (BU led 5-2) Terry Donatelli broke down rifled a shot past Lacoste's glove side with 12:34 left in the

A major stumble this season has been play and it came back once again in the close and in the game as on six opportunities

Trailing by two had two power plays last eight minutes defenseman Scott for holding with 7: Paul Gerlitz went on

March 1: F
Break-Av

March 9: E
departs

March 10: S
students

March 11: F
Booze O

March 12: C

March 13: S
the day

March 14: S
entertain

March 15: S
the beach

SEA is also
For more in

Sports

Maine comeback falls short, BU wins 6-4

by Jerry Tourigny
Staff Writer

Sunday's game was a case of one team capitalizing on its chances and the other team not.

The Terriers of Boston University, behind six goals on only 23 shots, defeated the Maine Black Bears 6-4 in an afternoon contest played at the Alford Arena before 2,223 vocal spectators.

In one of Maine's better efforts of the season which saw the team outshoot BU 28-23 and Ron Hellen register a hat trick the Bears were unable to get a goal when they needed one.

After the Bears closed the gap to 5-4 (BU led 5-2) Terrier forward Clark Donatelli broke down the left side and rifled a shot past UMO goalie Jean Lacoste's glove side giving BU a 6-4 lead with 12:34 left in the game.

A major stumbling block for Maine this season has been its ineffective power play and it came back to haunt the Bears once again in the closing minutes of play and in the game as they failed to score on six opportunities.

Trailing by two goals at 6-4, Maine had two power play opportunities in the last eight minutes of play (BU defenseman Scott Shaunessy went off for holding with 7:55 left and forward Paul Gerlitz went off for charging with 4:54 to go) but were unable to muster any real scoring threats as the Terriers left Orono with the victory raising their record to 14-11-2 overall and 13-10-2 in Hockey East play.

"They were as opportunistic as I've seen any team play this year," said UMO coach Shawn Walsh of the Terriers. "We didn't capitalize on our chances and they did on every one and that was the difference."

"When you limit a team to 23 shots you can't give up six goals," Walsh said.

A key point in the game was Donatelli's goal which regained a two goal cushion for the Terriers and slowed down Maine's momentum.

Maine trailed 5-2 but third period goals by Scott Smith and Hellen closed the gap to 5-4 with 14:35 remaining in the game.

Then with the Bears applying pressure in the BU end Terrier defenseman David Thiesing poked the puck out past the blue line and Donatelli picked up the puck and sprinted down the left wing beating Lacoste for his seventh goal of the year.

BU coach Jack Parker said the goal was the key point in the game.

"There is no question it was a real big one," said Parker. "They (Maine) had

(see TERRIERS page 7)

UMO's Mike McHugh (right) and BU's Jay Octeau battle for the puck in Sunday's game played at Alford Arena. (York photo)

Break Away to the Tropics With SEA!

Nassau, Bahamas
March 9-16

March 1: Free admission to the 2nd Annual Sea & Ski Break-Away Bash with the reggae band "The I Tones"

March 9: Bus leaves from UMO for Boston and plane departs for Bahamas. Free day - head for the beach!!

March 10: Sports Day - rugby, soccer, and softball - UMO students vs. local teams; or head for the beach!!

March 11: Beach Party! Bahamian cookout and Sunset Boozé Cruise aboard the Calypso.

March 12: Cruise Day, Catamaran cruises around Nassau

March 13: Shoppers' Day: local shops - lower prices, for the day - Party at night at local clubs

March 14: Junkanoo Night - party to local native entertainment on Esplanade Beach

March 15: Tours of historic Nassau and last chance on the beach - Native Night - Club - Exotic Floor Shows

SEA is also sponsoring a trip to Ft. Lauderdale. For more information, call or visit the SEA office, 3rd floor, Memorial Union

Yianni's Pizza and Pub

University Mall, Orono 827-5421

Yianni's Challenges You!!!

we will deliver our fresh hot tasty pizza to your door within 30 minutes of your order or you pay
NO DELIVERY CHARGE

Take The Yianni's
Challenge
Call 827-5421

Yianni's Pizza & Pub
University Mall, Orono

Women's basketball team breaks record

by Rich Garven
Staff Writer

The UMO women's basketball team beat the University of Vermont Friday night 74-55 for its 10th consecutive win before losing to the Catamounts 67-64 on Saturday.

Friday's victory broke the school record of nine straight wins set by the 1977-78 and 1982-83 teams. Maine is now 12-4 on the year while UVM is 5-9.

In Saturday's game the Bears were losing by eight points with 3:30 left before cutting Vermont's lead to one point at 65-64. Maine fouled with four seconds remaining in an attempt to get the ball back, but UVM made both free throws to make the final 67-64.

On the game's last play guard Sonja Wedge threw the ball into Liz Coffin who took two shots at the basket, but didn't score.

Coffin said she was hit on the play and felt a foul should have been called.

"When we lined up it was in a stack," Coffin said. "Sonja threw the ball into me and all five players were around me. I got bumped when I took the shot and I got the rebound and was bumped again, but nothing was called. I guess they (the referees) didn't think anything could happen."

The freshman from Portage finished the game with 14 points and eight rebounds. Maine was led by guard Beth Cormier's 15 points. Lauree Gott had eight points and a team-high 12 rebounds.

Cormier, a junior from Van Buren, feels she has broken out of a season long slump with her play lately.

"I'm finally starting to get more confidence in my shooting," Cormier said. "My shooting has been up 50 percent or more since (Christmas) break."

Maine was losing 31-23 at halftime after shooting 33 percent from the field and 40 percent from the free throw line.

"If we had picked things up in the first half we could have won," Cormier said. "Basically in the first half we didn't get to the ball."

UMO head coach Peter Gavett said the officiating was questionable throughout the game with a number of "phantom" calls made by the referees.

"In the two years I've been involved in coaching (the women's team) it was the worst officiating I've ever been involved with," Gavett said. "You hate to complain, but if it was an average called game I think we would have won."

Both Emily Ellis and Coffin had three fouls in the first half and spent most of the time on the bench. Ellis picked up her fourth foul 25 seconds into the second half and fouled out with about four minutes left in the game.

"I was warned," Gavett said. "I talked to coaches and they said it was the worst day of their life (when they played at UVM). I know what they feel like now. I really question whether they (the officials) could referee a junior high game."

Vermont was led by Rachel Cummings' 18 points. Both Joann McKay and Deb Lewis had 10 points for the Cats.

On Friday the Bears led 32-26 at halftime, but Ellis led a second half surge by scoring 18 of her game-high 24 points to break the game open. The senior center shot 11 of 15 from the field during the game.

Coffin had 16 points and 11 rebounds while Gott came off the bench and scored a season-high 15 points for Maine.

Vermont was led by former Bangor High School player Cheryl Rich who scored 12 points. McKay had 11 points for the Cats.

Maine was outrebounded, 36-30, for the first time in seven games.

The women travel to Northeastern University to play the Huskies on Wednesday night in a Seaboard Conference game. The next home game is Saturday against Holy Cross.

San Fran

(continued from page 1)

period 38-16. That was fine with most of the 84,059 fans in Stanford Stadium, just 30 miles south of the 49ers' home field at Candlestick Park.

But there were other heroes besides Montana.

His offensive line allowed him to be sacked only once and more often than not, he could have been in a rocking chair, looking around for receivers. When there were no receivers open, he simply took off.

The 49er defense, meanwhile, did what few teams did this season against Marino in a season in which he shattered NFL records with 48 touchdown passes and 5,084 yards.

With few exceptions — once on that first-quarter drive in which the Dolphins operated twice without a huddle to keep San Francisco from running its multiple defenses — Marino was forced to dump off rather than throw his customary deep patterns to the Marks Brothers, Clayton and Duper.

Much of the credit went to a secondary that forced Marino out of his quick-release rhythm and forced him to hold the ball a second longer as Fred Dean, Dwaine Board and the rest of the defense poured in on him. For the 49ers, it was also a victory for balanced offense.

San Francisco picked up 211 yards on the ground, with Wendell Tyler leading the way with 65 yards on 13 carries and Craig adding 58 on 15 runs. The Dolphins, meanwhile, could pick up only 25 yards against a 49er defense that gave up only one touchdown in three playoff games.

Montana's 59 yards on five rushes broke the record of 37 set in Super Bowl XIII by Dallas' Roger Staubach and his 331 yards, on 24-of-35 passing, broke the record of 318 set by Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw in Super Bowl XIV.

Marino finished with 318 yards on 29 completions on 50 attempts.

GET TWO EDUCATIONS FROM ONE COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP.

An education in your chosen major. And an education in becoming an Army officer. You get both with an Army ROTC scholarship.

Army ROTC is the college program that trains you to become an officer, leader and a manager.

You take ROTC along with your other studies and graduate with both a degree and a second education — a commission.

Best of all, you can participate in ROTC while you're still in high school. In return, you'll receive a $1,000 scholarship each year. And you'll receive a $1,000 scholarship each year.

Our scholarships cover full tuition and room and board. They also provide an allowance for books, supplies and equipment as well as an allowance of up to $1,000 each school year that is an offset.

So if you think all scholarships just provide you with a college degree, look up an Army ROTC scholarship. You'll be in for a real education.

For more information, contact your local ROTC office or write to: ROTC, Department of the Army, 1215 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, VA 22202.

ARMY ROTC. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

"Civil Disobedience and the Peace Issue"

A Panel Discussion

Karen Harlen, Peter Millard M.D. on trial for civil disobedience

Doug Allen - Philosophy Dept., Col. Ken Deal - R.O.T.C., Ted Curtis - Attorney

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23

7 p.m.

N.S. Bangor Lounge, Memorial Union

Sponsored by - Newman Center

Beat the Below Zero Blues in Bermuda

Win a FREE trip to Bermuda for you and a friend

Tickets available in the Memorial Union, Cafeterias and from Beta Theta Pi and Delta Delta Delta members

All proceeds will be donated to the

BOTT United Way

Sponsored by Beta Theta Pi and Delta Delta Delta

March of Dimes
BIRTH DEFECTS FOUNDATION

SAVES BABIES

HELP FIGHT BIRTH DEFECTS

March of Dimes
SAVES BABIES
HELP FIGHT BIRTH DEFECTS

Men's

by Jon Rummeler
Staff Writer

A peculiar thing happened to the UMO men's basketball team on Saturday afternoon.

It was supposed to be the Black Bear team's momentum that they had built up in the last week of the season and the University seemed to indicate that they were just warming up. The Bears swept aside their opponents and three works by ambushing a two-game sweep Saturday afternoon and 71-61 margin.

UVM improved

Ter

the momentum. steam out. They but when they re the game they ca

The loss drop 7-18-1 overall and play.

"We needed that it," said Bear de cault. "We didn't the difference: Wportunistic."

Hellen, the sen more year of elig Maine's most pot three goals in the totals to 12 goal

Hellen has sco the last eight gam from the moder The assistant cap to become more of its game.

"We've played ing one little t Hellen said. "W we just couldn't needed one)."

Men's basketball team loses 2 to Vermont

by Jon Rummier
Staff Writer

A peculiar thing happened when the UMO men's basketball team visited the University of Vermont this past weekend.

It was supposed to be the continuance of the Black Bear roll. The ever-growing momentum that was building with victories last week over St. Francis College and the University of New Hampshire seemed to indicate that the Bears were just warming up. But the Catamounts swept aside their dismal past performances and threw a wrench into the works by ambushing the Black Bears for a two-game sweep Friday night and Saturday afternoon. UVM won by 76-60 and 71-61 margins.

UVM improved its season record to 4-10 and 2-4 in the NAC. The Bears dropped to 5-9 and 1-4.

The Bears host Siena College in a NAC conference game tonight at 7:30 p.m.

"I think you could coin Friday night's game as a disaster," UMO head coach Skip Chappelle said Sunday morning. "It was partly my fault because I made a bad coaching decision by playing our man-to-man defense a little too long. It gave them the momentum they haven't had all season."

Chappelle said the Bears helped the Catamounts with their worst offensive shooting effort to date in Friday's game, which saw each team rely of their half court offense with a frequent jumble of defenses. The Bears shot 20 percent from the floor in the first half and by the end of the game had only upped it to 34 percent.

Our individual performances were down," Chappelle said. "I think we are a team that plays pretty well when we shoot fairly well."

The Catamounts led by only three points at the half, but by shooting 50 percent from the floor and out-rebounding the Bears by 18 over the game, they had little problem pulling away in the second half. Forward Matt Thompson scored 22 points and guard Bill Brown added 18 to pace the Catamounts.

Jeff Topliff led Maine's offense in both games with a 19 point effort Friday and 16 points Saturday. He also led the team with seven rebounds on Saturday.

T.J. Forester had 13 points and Rich Henry pulled down nine rebounds for the Bears on Friday.

The Bears played much better in the second game playing the Catamounts even on the boards while shooting 54 percent from the floor. But a little statistic that's plagued the Bears all season, turnovers, again arose at the most inopportune time. UMO had 22 turnovers to UVM's 10.

"I think they took their largest stride confidence-wise," Chappelle said. "We were one up with about 8:45 left and we had two crucial turnovers, they scored and we never got them back."

This time newly returned UVM guard Howard Hudson, playing in his fourth game since injuring himself earlier in the season, led the scoring for the Catamounts with 16. Thompson and Brown had 14 and 10 points respectively to add to UVM's attack.

In addition to Topliff's second game output, Jeff Wheeler's 16 points, Henry's eight points and Forester's seven fueled the Bears.

Terriers

(continued from page 5)

the momentum and it took all their steam out. They died for a few minutes but when they realized they were still in the game they came back."

The loss drops Maine's record to 7-18-1 overall and 4-16 in Hockey East play.

"We needed that one goal and they got it," said Bear defenseman Rene Comteault. "We didn't capitalize and that was the difference. We have to be more opportunistic."

Hellen, the senior winger who has one more year of eligibility, continues to be Maine's most potent player of late as his three goals in the game raises his season totals to 12 goals and eight assists.

Hellen has scored at least one goal in the last eight games which is five away from the modern day Eastern record. The assistant captain said the team has to become more consistent in every part of its game.

"We've played well but we're just missing one little thing in each game," Hellen said. "We had our chances but we just couldn't get a goal (when they needed one)."

The Terriers jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Tony Majkozak at 2:42 of the period and Jay Oiseau at 5:48.

Hellen put UMO on the scoreboard with 5:33 remaining in the first period when his shot deflected off another player's stick and popped over and behind BU goalie Bob Deraney.

The second period was evenly played (the shots were 9-9) but the Terriers outscored the Bears 3-1 giving them a 5-2 lead going into the third period.

Hellen tied the game for Maine at 2-2 two minutes into the second frame but Terrier goals by Shaunessy, Ed Lowney and Majkozak provided BU with a three goal lead.

Senior Pete Smith started in goal for Maine and was replaced by Lacoste with 14:12 remaining in the second period. Smith gave up four goals while making four saves and Lacoste surrendered two tallies turning aside 10 BU shots.

Maine's next game will be Tuesday night at the Alford Arena when the Bears host Bowdoin College in a non-league game.

BU goalie Bob Deraney and Jay Oiseau watch as Ron Hellen's shot goes into the net. It was the first of three goals for Hellen. (York photo)

Freshman and Sophomores All Majors

The Air Force ROTC counselors would like to talk with you about ROTC programs and how you can benefit from them. There are lots of different benefits that may interest you... let's talk about the details of the Air Force ROTC program.

Call Captain Suarez
581-1381
Or Come See Us At 164 College Ave.

AIM HIGH
AIR FORCE
ROTC
Gateway to a great way of life.

The Maine Campus is now accepting applications from people interested in Advertising Production

We're looking for self-motivated, creative individuals with strong spelling/grammar skills who can learn quickly and work efficiently in a fast-paced environment.

Artistic ability, computer and/or typesetting skills, paste-up experience, background in design/graphics will be helpful.

Sophomores and juniors with a 3 hour time block during mornings or early afternoons are encouraged to apply.

Maine Campus Advertising Office
(basement of Lord Hall)

Stop By - We Have

Tap Room with LARGE SCREEN TV
and
FREE POPCORN

full course meals

•Beer• •Wine• old fashioned soda fountain

•Mixed Drinks•
•Sub Sandwiches•

Compare Our Prices!
We offer FREE delivery to Campus

Delivery Menu

Individual
Size 9"

PAT'S PIZZA
866-2111 or 2112

Plain	$2.10
Onion	2.40
Pepperoni	2.60
Mushroom	2.60
Salami	2.60
Anchovy	2.60
Bacon	2.60
Canadian Bacon	2.60
Hamburg	2.60
Hamburg and Onion	2.90
Ham	2.60
Pepperoni and Mushroom	3.10
Salami and Mushroom	3.10
Combination	3.10
Double Cheese	2.60
Green Pepper and Onion	2.70
Green Pepper	2.40
Hot Sausage	2.60
Kielbasa Sausage	2.60
Hot Dog	2.60
Black Olive	2.60
If you like Thick Crust Order our DOUBLE DOUGH	2.40
Hawaiian	2.90
Everything	5.10
Lasagne - our own recipe	3.60

Free Delivery
5 P.M. to 12 P.M.

Visit our other locations
Yarmouth Rt. 1 & Augusta Capitol St.
Opening soon in Scarborough

Bird leads Celtics over 76ers, 113-97

BOSTON (AP) — On super Sunday super star Larry Bird and his Boston Celtics had a super game.

"When they needed hoops, he was there—shooting or making the pass or doing something," Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham said after Bird scored 38 points, including 12 in the last 4.5 minutes, grabbed nine rebounds, collected four assists, blocked three shots and had two steals as the Celtics rolled to a 113-97 National Basketball Association victory in a renewal of an old rivalry.

"You just hope he doesn't completely dominate the game," Cunningham said. "In the three games we've played this season, he has been great. He has hit all the baskets that they needed. I don't know if any one person can stop Larry Bird."

"He has fantastic imagination and creativity," Boston Coach K.C. Jones said. "The shots are there, the offensive rebounds, the defensive rebounds, what more can you ask?"

And, in the closing minutes, Bird killed the 76ers' hopes with a pair of 3-point bombs from the corner.

"With all that Larry is doing, he still goes to the boards and that is energy draining stuff. So if he wants to take a 3-pointer, that is fine."

"I struggled early in the game," said Bird, who had six points in the first period, 10 in the second, six in the third and 16 in the fourth. "I missed some shots early, but after the first quarter I settled down."

"I think we proved we can beat the 76ers. They're a great team, but we won."

While improving its home record to 18-1, the Celtics regained the best record in the NBA, less than 48 hours after falling behind the 76ers in an upset at Indiana. Boston has a 34-7 record, Philadelphia 33-7.

The Celtics, who led at every turn, withstood repeated Philadelphia charges until Bird took charge with Boston in front 95-88 in the final period.

Bird cashed two free throws. Then, after two free throws by Philadelphia's Moses Malone, Bird hit on a 15-foot turnaround shot. Clemon Johnson of the 76ers and Dennis Johnson of the Celtics exchanged baskets, leaving Boston with a 101-92 lead with 2:55 remaining.

Bird then hit for three more field goals, including a pair of 3-pointers from the corner, as the Celtics defeated Philadelphia for the second time in three meetings this season and thwarted the 76ers bid to equal the club's longest winning streak.

The game, on national television, was played without incident on Philadelphia's first Boston Garden appearance since a brawl-filled encounter here last Nov. 9. In that game, Bird and Philadelphia superstar Julius Erving were ejected for fighting.

Boston took a 26-24 first period lead and went on a 14-2 spurt for a 44-30 advantage in the second quarter.

The 76ers responded with an 11-2 outburst, but were unable to get closer than five points, Boston hitting halftime ahead 56-49.

The Celtics widened their advantage to 15 points 66-51 with the help of three baskets by Bird early in the second half, but the 76ers went on a 16-4 run to close to within 70-67 with nearly five minutes remaining in the third period. However, Boston guards Danny Ainge and Johnson hit for key baskets and Boston took an 83-73 lead into the final quarter.

Kevin McHale and Cedric Maxwell had 17 points apiece for Boston. Ainge and Johnson had 14 each.

The 76ers were led by Malone with 20 points, Erving with 17 and Charles Barkley with 16.

ENROLL IN AMERICA'S LARGEST MANAGEMENT TRAINING PROGRAM.

Becoming an officer in today's Army—which also includes the Army Reserve and Army National Guard—requires getting the right kind of management and leadership training.

What's the best way to get it? By enrolling in America's largest management training program—Army ROTC.

In the Army ROTC 4-year program, you'll acquire discipline of mind and spirit, and the ability to perform under pressure. We call it learning what it takes to lead.

It'll pay off, too. First, during your last two years of college, when you'll start receiving up to $1,000 a year.

And, most of all, on graduation day, when you receive a commission along with a college degree.

ARMY ROTC.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

CALL CAPT. BILL RICE 447-112 FOR FURTHER INFORMATION OR SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS.

the daily

vol. XCVI

John

by Sue Swift
Staff Writer

A recommend Facilities Commi
offices into a res
jected by UMO
Johnson.

Students will
as plans for turn

Legis

by Peter Gray
Staff Writer

Orono has t legislator on the tee on Education
sponsor a bill w
name of the U
Orono to the U
Rep. Stephen
"always wanted
Joint Select C
tion."

"That was t
quested," he sa
portunity arose.

Bost will be s
that pertain to th
the state. They

John

University of M
University of Mai
ing the University
Augusta, Farming
the University of
— To state-certify
— To "interface" dustry within the system (i.e. "In Or