The University of Maine DigitalCommons@UMaine

Maine Campus Archives

University of Maine Publications

Spring 1-28-1985

Maine Campus January 28 1985

Maine Campus Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/mainecampus

Repository Citation

Staff, Maine Campus, "Maine Campus January 28 1985" (1985). Maine Campus Archives. 1661. https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/mainecampus/1661

This Other is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@UMaine. It has been accepted for inclusion in Maine Campus Archives by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@UMaine. For more information, please contact um.library.technical.services@maine.edu.

ontinued from page 6)

ship are Bates College, and Bowdoin College. Black Bears will have to tough competition. beaten the other teams but when it comes to n balance isn't as impor-. "We've always been team balance. You need team balance. You need individuals in chamuals who should do well shot putter Jeff Shain, ian Beaulieu and Rick man Joe Quinn and runner Ken Lefourneau. im team travels to Coland the U.S. Military) for Friday and Satury the men swim against and the following day ; challenge Army and rsity at 1 p.m.

Alan Switzer said all r good competition. ts will be difficult. Arthe toughest of the said. "Colgate is proot we have, but they do individuals." Switzer his team will determine stion of our depth," e to get the right peonts. We'll have to swim still in intense training the squad is a little

Pre just trying to hold ese teams," he said. strong in the diving, short freestyle events. er), captain Neil Bond Dewey Wyatt y Morissette (freestyle) a (freestyle) lead the ents.

ne Predictor, has edictions. Bessey ton College, 7-3. se; the men by a b to Holy Cross.

daily Maine Campus

vol. XCVI no. XI

The University of Maine at Orono student newspaper since 1875

UMO president receives public service award

by Stephen R. Macklin Staff Writer

At a Bangor Chamber of Commerce meeting Friday, Jan. 25, UMO President Arthur M. Johnson was given the Norbert X. Dowd Award.

The award, given in recognition of outstanding public service, is presented in memory of Norbert Dowd who served for 23 years as the president of the Bangor COC.

Before Johnson was presented with the award, there was a series of testimonial speeches.

Douglas H. Brown, a Bangor merchant, said, "Arthur Johnson is very dedicated to the improvement of Maine communities, particularly for the youth."

Richard Warren, publisher of the Bangor Daily News, said, "We do well by honoring him (Johnson) here tonight."

One speaker read from a letter Johnson had received from Congresswomen Olympia Snowe in which she wrote that Johnson's "fine enthusiasm and dedication is an inspiration to the community." When Johnson was finally presented with the award, he was not given an immediate chance to give an acceptance speech. Just seconds after he was handed the plaque, approximately 20 members of the UMO Marching Band entered the hall playing the Stein Song bringing the crowd of about 400 to its feet.

In accepting the award, Johnson said it was "a very humbling experience."

"I can't think of anything more rewarding than to spend your life in education and to work in the state of Maine."

-Arthur M. Johnson

"I can't think of anything more rewarding than to spend your life in education and to work in the state of Maine," Johnson said.

Before coming to Maine, Johnson received a B.A. from Harvard College, an M.A. from Harvard University, and received his Ph.D. from Vanderbilt University.

Johnson said, "It's more than worthwile to come from Harvard to Maine."

President Arthur Johnson holding his public service award. (York photo)

Legislative debate may focus on 'Tolerance Day'

AUGUSTA (AP) — In a tale overflowing with ironies, this one stands out: the people who run Madison High School may turn out to be some of the best friends Maine's homosexual community has ever had.

That notion may not play well in the rural town outside of Skowhegan, but already the cancellation of "Tolerance Day" is being heraided as proof that Maine needs a gay-rights law. Such proposals have failed in the past, but this time the memory of the drowning death of a gay Bangor man, whose assailants said they didn't like homosexuals, is less than a year old. Also, the Maine Human Rights Com-

Also, the Maine Human Rights Commission is adding its weight to the probill forces this year.

And the recent developments in Madison make it a virtual certainty "Tolerance Day" will get prominent

UMO receives sea grant

by Pam Burbank Staff Writer

The joint Sea Grant College Program at UMO and the University of New Hampshire have received a $1.4 million grant from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration to conduct research in marine science, the executive director of the sea grant program said.

Ron Dearborn said the increased funding from the NOAA indicates that the UMO faculty has become very competitive.

"Our faculties are competing well nationally. Our proposals are original, and so far, more competitive than other proposals from faculties throughout the nation," Dearborn said.

"One of the special things with comparing our campus proposals to other campus proposals is the fact that it is important to have new ideas. It takes a lot of intelligent, qualified people to make a program such as this one successful. That's what we strive for here at UMO, " he said.

Dearborn said the grant will be used for further marine research, including the study of lobster migration patterns,

In addition to the scientific research proposed, educational programs such as Sea Trek at the University of New Hampshire and the Northern New England Marine Education project at UMO, will continue to increase marine awareness of citizens in the two states.

"I'm extremely happy with the progress we have made so far. With the professionalism of the faculty members and the great interest students have taken in the projects, I know we will continue to increase in our knowledge and technology for the future," he said. mention in the upcoming debate at the State House.

The controversy started quietly enough, with a classroom discussion about last July's fatal assault on Charles Howard in Bangor. When a few of the freshmen raised the possibility of inviting a homosexual to visit the class, teacher David Solmitz pointed to the bigger picture of prejudice and suggested a program that would focus on a wide range of minority groups.

The students agreed, as did the principal and Solmitz's fellow faculty members, and speakers from a diverse cross-section of groups consented to participate in the program. They included an elderly person, an American Indian, a Vietnamese, a child-abuse victim, a black, a veteran, a Mennonite and two handicapped people.

But for some in the hierarchy of School Administrative District 59, tolerance ended when the list reached Dale McCormick, president of the Maine Lesbian-Gay Political Alliance.

"The question is, how do we stop this?" asked Superintendent Robert Woodbury. "How many viewpoints are we going to allow?" None, the school board responded in a unanimous vote, drawing a round of applause from a roomful of constituents as it scrubbed the program, citing concern about "safety, order and security."

Merton Henry, the board's lawyer, said last week in Augusta Superior Court that there apparently were fears that gay activists would try to use the program as a forum for advancing their cause. But McCormick swore under oath she did not plan to advocate homosexuality in her speech.

Monday, January 28, 1985

Justice Donald Alexander said the program did not even become controversial until those who opposed McCormick's appearance tried to have her excluded as a speaker.

"What are your clients afraid of?" the judge asked Henry. "What is wrong with tolerance?"

The judge ended up siding with the school board, but only by default. In refusing to grant the order sought by the Maine Civil Liberties Union on behalf of Solmitz and McCormick, Alexander cited the absence of any "judicially enforceable" right of homosexuals to be protected from discrimination. That is precisely what a gay-rights bill would provide.

At the same time, he made it abundantly clear he did not buy the board's stated reasons for cancelling the program, dismissing them as "vague references to unsubstantiated concerns about 'safety.'

"When the power of government sides with the voices of intolerance it is a mighty force indeed," he said. The judge reminded everyone of this

The judge reminded everyone of this simple point: learning goes on despite the best attempts to stop it.

"The lessons which the freshman history class sought to promote ... are consistent with the long tradition of American society," he said. "But instead of gaining understanding and learning 'tolerance the students have received a demonstation, by their own school officials, of the extent to which unarticulated fears and intolerance can stifle debate and understanding."

2 The Daily Maine Campus. Monday January 28, 1985.

Report says judges take rights away from elderly

PORTLAND (AP) - Probate judges rooter LAND (Ar) — Probate judges take away rights and possessions of thousands of Maine's elderly people, who often have no legal counsel and are not told of actions taken against them, a study to be released this week said. But probate judges who had not yet seen the report say the number of abuses is minimal

imal They said cases affecting elderly peo

I ney said cases affecting elderly peo-ple's estates and activities are usually brought by children who have their parents' best interests at heart. The staff of the Legal Services for Elderly office sampled. 408 of the 2,225 guardianship and conservatorship peti-tions filed in Maine between Jan. 1, 1981-and last June.

tions filed in Maine between Jan. 1, 1981 and Jast June. A draft report was obtained by the . Maine Sunday Telegram, and a final report is to be released Tuesday by the state Human Services Department, the Maine Committee on Aging and Legal Services for the Elderly. The draft said probate judges took away the rights and possessions of many senior citizens judged to be mentally or physically incompetent, even though those people objected. It also said: 97 percent of the elderly had-no legal representation; 25 percent were im-properly notified of action tal@n against them, 7 percent of the cases failed to in-clude proof of incompetence; medical clude proof of incom s in 36 percent (USPS) — A glut of people entering the work force in the next 10 years may cause stiff competition for job hunters, in spite of the expected increase in the number of jobs. By 1990, the number of jobs is ex-pected to increase by 25.2 million.

But the increase in the number of peo-ple in the work force will be greater, resulting in 3.8 million more people than

Experts have said college graduates

Experts have said concyc graduate still have a better chance of getting those jobs. In fact, a recent survey of employers by the College Placement Council Inc., showed that participating employers anticipate hiring 8 percent more college graduates in 1985 than in 1984.

However, only 25 percent of the 40 fastest growing occupations require a college degree.

(18.7 mil

Work seekers by 1990,

may outweigh job demand

Insufficient to prove incompetence; legally required estate inventories were not included in 39 percent of the cases; and 11 percent of the cases had other procedural errors. Catherine Valcourt, attorney for Legal Services for the Elderly, said many com-

Dana Childs, Cumberland County probate judge, said he rarely appoints someone to represent a person not capable of handling his own affairs. nt senior citizens lose their rights ugh default, because they did not == "If a family member is applying for trol of their parents estates, but some are irt said it is too easy for a peti-

s, finance insurance, real estate

'I've had clients served notice while they were comatose, or while medicated for pain ... The sheriff's deputy just lays the paper on their blanket and leaves."

-Catherine Valcourt, attorney for the elderly show up for their hearings. Often, elderly people receive notice of action being taken, against them while they are in the hospital. Sometimes they do not understand the proceedings or have no way to attend hearings, she said. "I've had clients served notice while they were comatose, or while medicated for pain," said Valcourt. "The sheriff's deputy just lays the paper on their blanket and leaves." She said that most sons and daughters are well-meaning when they petition the courts to become guardians or gain conguardianship or conservatorship, I am very lenient," Childs said. "Most sons and daughters do have their parents' best interests at heart." He also said it "is sufficient for me" if a doctor says the person is incompetent, ever includes no details about nent that the person is forget sign a statement that the person is forget ful, and assure the court that the elde ly person does not need an attorney.

illness. "You have to trust the petitioners. They are supposed to file an inventory of the ward's estate. But who knows whether that is correct or not? There isn't any way for me to check and see if it is accurate, " Childs said. He defended default judgments, say-ing that any competent person who received court papers would attend the barring."

"In the past-13-years I have been pro-bate judge, no one has filed a claim against a bonded guardian for mishandl-ing an estate here, " Childs said. James Mitchell, probate judge in Ketr-nebec County said he does not believe reports that people who were the sub-jects of hearings were not notified, or that he has approved petitions in which the proof of incompetence is inadequate.

"In the past-13 years I have been pro

Men holding Ph.D.s outnumber women ts to become guardians or gain con and the second of

(CPS) — Despite a three-decade up-turn in the number of women earning Ph.D.s, a new study shows men with doctoral degrees still far outnumber more fields. women in most fields. The researchers studied academic hir-

The researchers studied academic hir-ing patterns, and even submitted two ver-sions of a resume — one with a man's name, the other with a woman's — for a college teaching position. "The male was evaluated as deserving an associate professorship," said Florence Geis, a University of Delaware psychologist who co-authored the study. "The female was evaluated for only an assistant professorship."

assistant professorship." "It's a subtle discrimination," she said. "Women are not seen as in-

There are more women with doc-rates around to suffer discrimination, cent of all doctoral degrees, the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) said. The numbers jumped to 24.3 per-cent in 1977.

school." Even now, women graduate students tend to opt for certain disciplines. While women now get a slight majori-ty of the doctorates awarded in English, French and German, they also are "get-ting a higher and higher proportion of the degrees in other social sciences," said Judy Touchton of the Am Council on Education's Offic Women in Higher Education.

"We can certainly say the percentage women Ph.D.s in the biological and of won of words sciences in e-she said. The increasing percentages are en-couraging, Geis said, but women Ph.D.s still are rare in most traditionally the disciplines.

still are fair in most reactionally male disciplines. Despite a 100 percent enrollment in-crease of women in law, only 2 percent of all law Ph.D.s are earned by women, she said. "Unintentional discrimination" by "Unintentional discrimination" by university admissions officers often diminishes the ranks of women doctoral candidates, Geis said. A Stanford University study suggests colleges combat discrimination by infor-ming female students when they score higher on Graduate Record Exams than male graduate students. Such information could increase women's self-confidence and asser-tiveness, the study claims.

omen's sell-confidence and assor-veness, the study claims. After graduation, however, Geis's udy reveals women Ph.D.s are five mes more likely than men to be nemployed. Promotions and nay raises, as well, are nemployed. Promotions and pay raises, as well, are ffered more often to men. "It's a perceptual bias," Geis said. What most people expect is what they we "

But these perceptions are changing slowly as the number of highly placed female role models increases, Geis said.

"When you change the frequency of high-status role models, you change ex-pectations," she said.

The forty occupations with the ex Jobs not requiring advanced educa-tion also are projected to expand. More than half of the high-growth oc-cupations are in the computer or other technical or health fields. Computer related occupations expecting the largest growth are computer service technicians, computer vestems analysts, computer pected largest job growth have been chosen out of the total 1,700 listed by the U.S. Department of Labor Statistics. Over the next decade-and-a-half, much of the job growth will take place in service industries, where 74.1 percent (18.7 million) new jobs will be created in much of the place in the provided of the place in service industries, where 74.1 percent mputer systems analysts, c programmers and con ind electricians.

and government. Another 26 percent of the jobs will be in the goods-producing in-dustries. Those include farming, mining, construction and manufacturing areas. The seven occupations with the largest job growth include custodians, cashiers, secretaries, general clerks, salesclerks and mainers and waitersess hurreau data telligent. and waiters and waitresses, bureau data Quickly expanding occupations re-uiring college degrees include registered urses, kindergarten and elementary eachers, electrical engineers, physicians of lowers

In 1971 women earned only 14.3 per-and lawyers. Although the majority of the fastest growing occupations do not require a college education, many do require some type of post-secondary training. Oc-cupations requiring such post-secondary education include automotive mechanics and electricians cent in 1977. This year, the NCES expects women will earn 37 percent, or 12,400, of the 33,600 Ph.D.s granted nationwide One reason for the male dominance is "self selection," Geis said. "Until a

man

3 Bedroom Heated $600 4 Bedroom Heated $800

Rasi

Ine

+ Nati

elderly

details about a specific to trust the petitioners, bosed to file an inventory sestate. But who knows is correct or not? There for me to check and see if " Childs said. ed default judgments, say-competent person who t papers would attend the a 13 years I have been pro-no one has filed a claim ded guardian for mishandl-here, " Childs said. chell, probate judge in Ken-y said he does not believe people who were the sub-ings were not notified, or pproved petitions in which ncompetence is inadequate.

Ph.D.s

omen fouchton of the American in Education's Office of Higher Education. certainly say the percentage h.D.s in the biological and iences in going up, too, " ences in going up, too," easing percentages are en-cleis said, but women Ph.D.s are in most traditionally lines. 100 percent enrollment in-omen in law, only 2 percent v Ph.D.s are earned by e said. tional discrimination" by admissions officers often the ranks of women doctoral Geis said. rd University study suggests moat discrimination by infor-le students when they score Graduate Record Exams than nate students. formation could increase self-confidence and asser-re study claims. raduation, however, Geis's als women Ph.D.s are five re likely than men to be d. ons and pay raises, as well, are ore often to men. perceptual bias, " Geis said. sst people expect is what they use perceptions are changing the number of highly placed e models increases, Geis said, you change the frequency of s role models, you change ex-s, " she said.

RIES AND JOURNIES a Theology discussion group day, 3:30 p.m. Sutton Lounge sh. Whole When 29 different kinds of coffee. Swiss water decafs ...flavored coffees Twinings teas Bread

eses theStore 26 Mill Street rono, Maine 0,4473 (207) 866-4110 pen 10-6 Mon.-Sat. 9-3 Sun ewepeuy "Pi

| | | BLOOM CO | | A CHI | | e Breathe |
|--|---|--|--|------------------------------|-------------------------------------|--|
| The Puzz | zle | HEVE BINKLEY ALL OF US OF W SUBCINE OS CANCELINO ARE MAD AX HODO 77 THE INCLOSED ON FORMA HODO 77 THE INCLOSED ON FORMA HOT GOD? | RICES RATE A LIFE TEACHE BOUT LIKE A IV II WIT BUT SHOW C AND 9 U | RG DOWN H FRIENDS NUMBERS | NY YER JUST GINC IN: THE BIG | ELED CONTRACT: I THROW UP JUST |
| 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 11 12 13 13 13 13 13 13 14 15 16 17 18 17 18 18 17 18 12 23 24 14 22 23 24 13 24 25 25 31 32 31 32 32 34 32 32 33 | 9 10 14 26 27 28 | | | | | |
| 29 30 31 32 34 35 35 37 38 40 41 42 43 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 58 59 | 39 44 53 54 55 60 | FUTURE EPISODES EVER | I THINK MARRIES HIS LAWYER YTHING MATCHING RUNNING SI WINED "BINKLEY DIES AT AU | "BINKLEY AND BUNS DE5" | WE W NEE ALIST TO W | L. I BUESS HEY! INN'T BE THOSE A DING VERY HE AIR COOKE PROPERTY TRODUCE. THESE PR E. WILL WE? |
| 61 62 63 65 66 | 64 | | N.C. | | | |
| ACROSS 38 River in 1 Fish eggs 38 River in 4 Paid notice Scotland 5 Takeunlaw 39 Exists | بر ا | POLKS, AFTER A LARROWING NIGHT, IT'S | THE TRANSPLANT | SO FAR, THE O | WLY SIGN | |
| fully 40 Pronoun * 11 Current 41 Lavish fond- breåkdown ness on 13 Wanted - 43 Back of neck | AL A | DISTINCT PLEASURE AANNOUNCE THAT THE ERATION WAS A BIG, SUCCESS! | BEEN ACCEPTED, AND THE PATIENT IS RESTING COMFORTABLY. | TION WE'VE OBS | ERVED IN WHAT AS BEEN HE WA | AND CHEESE |
| 15 Pronouter 45 Everyone 2016 16 Thicket 47 Sea nymphs 18 Dwell 50 Printer's - 19 Greek letter measure 21 Repetition 52 Need 22 Compass 53 Pronoun point 56 Verso. e.g. 23 Second-rate 58 Showy flower | | | | | | |
| horses 60 Morning 26 Employ 61 Click beetle 29 Tardy 63 Come on 31 Encounter the scene | 120 | | | | | The second |
| 33 Note of scale 65 Mixture 34 Hebrew 66 Rupees month abbr. 35 Three-toed 67 Nod sloths | SO HOW DOY THINK DR. J PATIENT WI | S ABOUT THE PATTENT, ILL NEPHEW, BUT BABY | | R YOU, NEPHEW | THE MOST EX- | HEY, MAN. |
| DOWN 1 Debauchee 30 Son of Adam 2 Expel 32 Care for 3 Latin con- 36 Electrified | I MAKE OUT | | LAST WEEK, THIS HISTORI OPERATION MIGHT NEVER HAVE TAKEN RACE! | | | CIGARETTE? |
| junction particle 4 Greek 37 Airplane marketplace attendant 5 Raiiroad 42 Periods | | | | | | - Ala |
| station of time 6 Scoffed - 44 Hard-wood 7 Symbol for tree tellurium 46 Lawful 8 Lampreys - 48 Go in | | ROF | CRE | | A land | |
| 9 Farewell 49 Newspaper 10 Unit of paragraphs Bulgarian 51 Apportion cüfrency 54 Character in | Plain | Campus | HA MA | | by Sc | ott Blauf |
| 12 Atternating "Othello" current: 55 Merganser abbr. 56 Hebrew letter 14 Prefix: down 57 Priest's | | INDAY IRROW YOUR DRIER ? | IT'S BROKEN, BUSTED, KAPUT. | DEVIL O Nº HEA | LI | HE DID IT! YOUR DRYER WORKS! |
| 20 Likely 59 Note of scale 24 Conduct 62 Printer's 25 Diocese measure 27 Slide 64 Symbol for | Sec. | FRIENDS BRING | See wy | Tes y | the second | YEAH, WELL H DIDN'T HEAL MY HANGOVER. |
| 28 Comfort rubidium 29 Tibetan priest | | HONEST ANGLEY. | CT P | 257 | - | WRAF CT |
| · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · | | 310 | LESI | 121 | | 162.9 |
| MOB SH GAN HIL | Montg | omery Hall | , | | by Barnab | |
| | DEAR MO THANKS T CARE PA | TUCH FOR THE CRAGE | YY ROOM-MATE, Sleepy- JON, ATE THE COOKIES, LOST THE SOCKS, AND BORROWED THE $20 ⁵⁰ . | - | You Sis | BY THE WAY - M SHOULDN'T SEN UP FOR A VISI ERALL |
| A TEAL DECENSION | | | K . S | 1 Sector | 2 Second | -0- |
| Puzzle Answer | 4 | | - | 31 | 1 kg | 1 - |

N. 2 41-

The constant

se mit.

BUT THE REAL PROPERTY AND A DESCRIPTION OF

-

A. Cart

-

सान् म

2.2. 2. 1

-

15.0

and a dia

Na - - -100

4 The Daily Maine Campuer Monday, January 28, 1985.

World/U.S. News British newspapers say Chernenko ill

LONDON (AP) - British newspapers reported Sunday that Soviet President Konstantin Chernenko is being sreated in the intensive care unit of A örivate Kremlin hospital, and mayor thoush power because of deteriorating health. Western diplomats contacter by The Associated Press said they had so heard any such reports, although most said they believe the 73-year-old Chernenko is ailing.

The Sunday Times quoted "corports" is ailing. The Sunday Times quoted "corports" as saying Chernenko mao has not been seen in public since Dic. 27, will become the first Soviet lead to step down voluntarily. Another newspaper, The Express, car-ried a report that said Cherne ito "has become so ill he may be sinced to resign." The newspapers did not say what their sources were, or how they obtained their information. The Sunday Times said the ruling

Chernenko "has become so ill he may be forced to resign."

-The Express, a British newspaper

Politburo already has approved a plan to replace Chernenko with 53-year-old Mikhail Gorbachev, widely believed to rank second in the Kremlin hierarchy. "Under this plan, Gorbachev would take over the post of general secretary of the Communist Party, but would not necessarily assume the presidency — a mainly ceremonial title. Indeed, some sources say Chernenko could continue to hold this job while stepping down as effective leader," the newspaper said.

It said any such decision would be made at a meeting of the Communis Party Central Committee next month.

A senior Western diplomat in Moscow said Soviet officials have acknowledged Chernenko has been ailing during the past four weeks

The diplomat said he had no firm in-The diplomat said he had no firm in-formation about the exact nature of his illness. However, Chernenko is widely thought to be suffering from em-physema. According to The Sunday Times, Chernenko's health has deteriorated sharply in the past week. The newspaper said Chernenko's doctors are looking after him in the intensive care unit of a private Kremlin hospital, and that "his respiratory illness, in-cluding emphysema, has now been com-plicated by cardiac deficiencies.

you ove Go of i from

A sub the Jy 8 show

the

subv

in 1 Mee

S

(AP) appe nedy

black old s the s

M

Blac dogg Dem him end Hc

black

Mo frustr to ach the sy as apa

He

ings o Rober 1966. for ch

"In nocen

Dr of bla tee of were

"Oh ervers reckon his illness is now ir

"Observers reckon his illness is now ir-reversible and it is thought that this view has been firmly expressed by the doctor in charge of the president, believed to be an outstanding Czechoslovak specialist," The Sunday Times said. Despite prolonged illnesses, Chernenko's two predecessors, Yuri Andropov and Leonid Brezhnev, died in office. Rumors of their impending resignations also cir-culated in Moscow during the last months of their lives. Chernenko suc-ceeded Andropov as Communist Party general secretary on Feb. 13, 1984.

Shuttle returns after launching subjective at the newspaper said Chernenko's doctors general secretary on Feb. 13, 19 CAPE CANAVERAL, Flar (P) – After three days of clandesitier poera-tions, the space shuttle Discover yeturn-red from America's first manner military space mission Sunday, leavin poenad sy satellite to cavesdrop an Soviet The newspaper said Chernenko's doctors
The newspace shuttle the shuttle's
The newspaper said Chernenko's doctors
The newspaper said the fir communications. The shuttle's flight was a credial and successful test of an important pice of hardware, the S50 million rocket booter that propelled the satellite from the shut-tle's low Earth orbit to a listening post 22,300 miles high. They rocket, scheduled for many such amissions, failed on its only previous nuttle assignment. assignment.

assignment. Viewers at the Kennedy Spice G could see the shuttle as only a st speck. in, the sun for more that minutes before it touched down. the craft tolled to a stop, appletise-out. Touchdown was at 4:22 p.m. Like everything else about 14 pnis the route of the shuttle's retuel was secret to deny the Soviet Union info-tion that would tell it about the sam which is called Sight. iter ning five hen oke the Soviet Union unsertite, Id tell it about the satellite, Signal ich is called SigInt. Intelligence

1

Cherry and

ITTIS artest for minutes of flight, Mis-sion Control announced that the shur-tle was crossing the Louisiana coast, moving across the Gulf of Mexico and crossing central Florida to Cape Canaveral, on Florida's east coast. Commander Thomas K. Mattingly guided Discovery to a center line stop, just three miles from the launch pad where the craft began its secrecy-shrouded, 1.23 million-mile journey Thursday afternoon. It was the 15th flight of a space/shuttle, and the third for Discovery. The 104-ton ship was preceded by two sonic booms as it dropped out of the sky onto the Kennedy Space Center's run-way, a 3-mile strip with alligators and wild pigs nearby. Mattingly. a Navy cantain, was way, a 3-mile strip with alligators and wild pigs nearby. Mattingly, a Navy captain, was ordered to bring the ship home early, ap-parently because weather conditions for a landing Monday at the Kennedy Space Center were deteriorating. NASA said there was nothing wrong with ship or crew.

The Sunday return was a surprise. Although the mission duration was never announced, it was believed the shuttle would stay up another day, possibly two. However, the mission's primary objec-tive had been achieved in the first 10 hours of flight. The satellite, sources said, was released from the shuttle's cargo bay about 7 a.m. Friday morning. Close-mouthed at the end of the mis-sion as at the beginning the Air Force

Close-mouthed at the end of the mis-sion as at the beginning, the Air Force said only that the rocket which carried the shuttle's cargo to higher orbit "suc-cessfully met its mission objectives." NASA and the Air Force have never confirmed reports from other sources that Discovery's cargo was an advanced spy satellite, the first of a new genera-

WASHINGTON (AP) - President

Classifieds

"COME TO THE MOUNTAINS" Brother/Sister camps in Propaga

Top Brother/Sister camps in Poconos of Pennsylvania June 24/ August 20. Counselor positions available. Call Counselor positions available. Call (215)887-9700 or write 407 Benson

ns at 989-3313

Brewer Cinemas has part-ti gs and weekends. Call Br

East, Jenkintown, PA 19046.

day or Friday afternoo

tion, capable of intercepting radio, radio-telephone and digital communica-tions from ground and space. Man-in-space flights have been public since Alan Shepard made the first sub-orbital flight in 1961. But on this mis-sion, the 46th manned U.S. spacecraft, public announcements were limited to the last nine minutes of countdown, the first 15 minutes of flight, and the 1½ hours leading to the landing.

Mattingly's crew, all military men, Mattingly's crew, all military men, were Air Force Lt. Col. Loren J. Shriver, the pilot; Marine Lt. Col. James F. Buchli, and Air Force majors Ellison S. Onizuka and Gary E. Payton.

President Reagan firm against major cuts Secretary of Defense Casper

Weinberger has agreed to trim $8.7 billion from a proposed $286 billion Pentagon budget, but many Senate Republicans say this is not enough. Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole, R-Kan, said last week that Weinberger's unwillingness to compromise was jeopardizing efforts to come up with significant deficit reductions.

Dole said many Senate Republicans felt it would be almost impossible to win support for freezing such domestic pro-grams as Medicare, Medicaid and Social Security as long as Weinberger chose to "sit out" the budget trimming negotiations.

enko ill

oking after him in the intensive nit of a private Kremlin hospital, hat "his respiratory illness, in-g emphysema, has now been com-d by cardiac deficiencies.

servers reckon his illness is now ir-ble and it is thought that this view en firmly expressed by the doctor ge of the president, believed to be outstanding Czechoslovak ist, "The Sunday Times said. prolonged illnesses, Chernenko's edecessors, Yuri Andropov and Brezhnev, died in office. Rumors impending resignations also cir-in Moscow during the last of their lives. Chernenko suc-Andropov as Communist Party secretary on Feb. 13, 1984.

atellite

capable of intercepting radio, lephone and digital communica-om ground and space. in-space flights have been public lan Shepard made the first sub-flight in 1961. But on this mis-e 46th manned U.S. spacecraft, announcements were limited to nine minutes of courdown the nine minutes of countdown, the minutes of flight, and the 11/2 ading to the landing, ngly's crew, all military men, Force Lt. Col. Loren J. Shriver, t.: Marine Lt. Col. James F. and Air Force majors Ellison S. and Gary E. Payton.

gan firm cuts

ary of Defense Casper ter has agreed to trim $8.7 room a proposed $286 billion budget, but many Senate ans say this is not enough.

Majority Leader Robert Dole, aid last week that Weinberger's mess to compromise was ing efforts to come up with it deficit reductions.

aid many Senate Republicans Id be almost impossible to win or freezing such domestic pro-Medicare, Medicard and Social is long as Weinberger chose to "the" budget trimming ons.

Holdups decline after N.Y. subway shooting NEW YORK (AP) - The number of

NEW YORK (AP) — The number of subway holdups dropped sharply after Bernhard Goetz allegedly shot four youths Dec. 22, but officials disagree over whether the events were related. Goetz was indicted Friday on charges of illegal weapon possession stemming from the shootings, which left one of the youths paralyzed. The youths reported-ly confronted Goetz on a subway train and asked for $5. About 145 robberies occurred in the subways in each of the two weeks before the incident, police records show, but on-ly 83 occurred in the week following the shooting.

For the first three weeks of December, the records show a 4 percent increase in subway robberies over the same period in 1983, Transit Police Chief James Meehan said.

But in the month following the shooting, robberies were down 8 percent compared with a year earlier. Felonies overall dropped less than .5 percent. Mechan said he doubted the shootings caused the drop in robberies, noting that subway crime overall had remained vir-tually unchanged. Robert Panzarella, a professor at the John Jay College of Criminal Justice, said the fact that robberies had declin-ed more sharply indicated the shooting may have discouraged muggers. Coetz, a 37-year-old electronics ex-perf, was indicted on one felony and two misdemeanor weapons charges by a grand jury that refused to press more pert, was indicted on one felony and two misdemeanor weapons charges by a grand jury that refused to press more serious counts such as attempted murder or assault. Mechan said many other fac-tors besides psychology affect crime, in-cluding cold weather.

"Ljust don't feel that the people who commit crimes in the subway would assume that because one person was car-rying a gun that that means everybody is going to start carrying one," he said. "Unfortunately, they don't get scared off that easily."

William McKechnie, who heads the transit police officers' union, attributed the decline in robberies to a sweep made of the most crime-ridden stations dur-ing the past month.

"We often arrest a lot of repeat of-fenders, so they weren't in the system to commit crimes," McKechnie said.

Panzarella said, "I would guess that the Goetz incident did have an impact, by creating a different mood in the sub-way, as if passengers were generally more willing to defend themselves." Last Tuesday, for example, a 75-year-old man Iuesoay, for example, a 73-year-ous man fought off two muggers on a Manhat-tan subway platform until police could arrest them. Police found a razor and a knife on the suspects, and the victim, Nunzio Motola, told police, "If I would have had a weapon, I'd have used it. I feel Goetz did the right thing."

The Daily Maine Campus. Monday, January 28, 1985. 5

the area

Panzarella said a professional criminal probably would remain unaffected by the Goetz incident, because he would pick his target carefully.

"But many crimes are unplanned," he said. "Often it's a group of kids, fool-ing around, who see their opportunity and take it, acting on the spur of the mo-ment."

This group would most likely be scared off by the Goetz incident, Pan-zarella said.

S. African blacks to discuss white-rule issue

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) – The divisions among blacks that appeared during U.S. Sen. Edward Ken-nedy's visit two weeks ago is forcing black leaders to confront a generation-old split over the role whites can play in the struggle against white-minority rule. Many blacks have scorned a small Black Consciousness group that dogged Kennedy, a Massachusetts Democrat, with protests and prevented him from making a keynote address to end his 10-day trip to South Africa. However, some leading blacks say the blacks realize they must stand together. Dr. Nihato Motlana, leader of a group of blacks known as the Soweto Commit-tee of Ten, said the anti-Kennedy protests were caused less by anti-Americanism than a growing "anti-whitism." Motlana said the attitude stems from Motlana said the attitude stems from frustration among blacks at the failure to achieve any tangible progress against the system of white domination, known as apartheid.

He recalled the spontaneous outpour-ings of affection for Kennedy's brother, Robert, when he visited South Africa in 1966. "At that time, there was still hope for change in this country.

"In 1985, blacks have lost their innocence. They no longer believe that at

whites can do anything for them," Motlana said.

The differences that cropped up dur-ing Kennedy's visit two weeks ago date back at least to the late 1950s, when the African National Congress was the ma-jor legal black resistance group. It worked/peacefully in an alliance with white liberals against laws denying equal rights to blacks.

rights to DIACKS. In 1959, a splinter faction called the Pan-Africanist Congress broke away, from the group, pledging to "drive whites into the sea." The group still exists in exile, but has almost no visible support in South Africa. The African National Congress, banned in 1960, still commands enormous support among blacks in the country, and wages a sabotage campaign from abroad.

Its imprisoned leader, 66-year-old Nelson Mandela, said in an un-precedented interview last week that his group would halt its fight if South Africa agreed to recognize the Congress. Mandela was jailed for life 21 years ago after being convicted of plotting sabotage and advocating overthrow of the government. the govern

In 1969, the Black Consciousness lovement emerged, led by Steve Biko, Ma

$399 $499

$749

$1299

Keepsake

G.M. Bllack & Sons

The Language of Love . . ENGAGEMENT RINGS

1/s ct

14 ct. 16 ct 🛞

14 ct.

and a second to be second and

% ct. 🛞 $2299

1 ct. 💮 $4379

whose motto was, "Black Man, you are on your own." Black Consciousness played a key role in building black pride at a time when the African National Congress was nearly dormant.

Most Black Consciousness leaders were jailed in the mid-1970s and Biko died of head wounds while in police custody in 1977, leaving the organization without a strong central figure. The Aza-nian People's Organization AZAPO was formed in 1979 and now carries the Black Consciousness mantle. It was this organization that staged the Kennedy-protests.

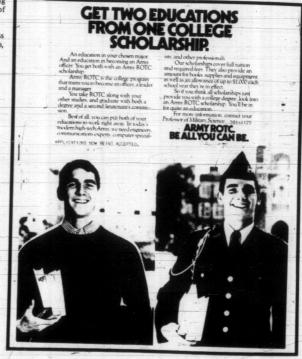

But AZAPO has been largely over-But AZAPO has been largely over-shadowed by the renewed multi-racial movement of recent years and the emergence of the United Democratic Front, a coalition of anti-apartheid groups that claims 2 million members of all races. The Democratic Front, which the avvernment charges is an arm of the the government charges is an arm of the African National Congress, organized successful boycotts of elections last August for a new Parliament that includes the Asian and mixed-race minorities but excludes blacks.

The Democratic Front backed Ken-nedy's visit, as did prominent church groups and black trade unions, who welcome the increased foreign concern over apartheid. The Black Con-sciousness protests against Kennedy ap-peared to some of those groups as an at-tempt to undermine the ascendancy of the multi-racial movement.

"As far as we are concerned, AZAPO destroyed itself, it lost all credibility," Motlana said.

Phiroshaw Camay, executive director of the Council of Unions of South Africa, downplayed the significance of the protests, saving they were in part the result of "a general buildup over the past 20-odd years of anti-Americanism."

Camay said President Ronald Reagan's perceived support for South Africa has further angered blacks, who once saw the United States as a role model for a future, integrated South Africa. model Africa.

6 The Daily Maine Campus. Monday, January 28, 1985.

Sports

Men's basketball team beats George Mason,88-78

by David Roy Staff Writer

The UMO men's basketball team used a balanced scoring attack to break a four-game losing streak Saturday afternoon at the Memorial Gymnasium, defeating George Mason University of Fairfax, Va., 88-78, before an estimated crowd of 1,700 fans.

Sophomer guard Jim Boylen led the Black Bears with 20 points, who had five players in double figures. Rich Henry added 18, while Jeff Topliff scored 15, T.J. Forester 13 and Jeff Wheeler 12.

UMO head coach Skip Chappelle said Saturday's game was one of the best the Black Bears have played all year in terms Mason tried to keep it close, working the ball inside for two hoops to cut the gap to nine. Forester answered for Maine with a soaring slam dunk, and then finally put the game out of reach by making the free throws to cap a threepoint play. Boylen made two free throws with no time remaining to account for the final margin of 88-78.

The game started slowly, with both teams beginning tentatively, until with 13:12 left to play in the first half, Boylen converted a three-point play to put the Bears up by four points. After trading baskets, Maine went on an 8-0 run to further increase its lead, but George Mason then took advantage of some cold UMO shooting to cut the lead.

"Today, we showed a little more than a bit of every facet of the game. Our offensive situations were the key."

-Skip Chappelle, men's basketball coach of poise and getting the ball to the right person.

"Today, we showed a little more than a bit of every facet of the game. Our offensive situations were the key," Chappelle said.

Chappelle said the low total of first half turnovers by Maine was also an important factor. The Bears, who were averaging close to 20 turnovers a game, committed only six turnovers in the first half, and a total of 12 for the game.

The Bears turned the game around with a 20-6 run after the Patriots took their last lead of the game at 62-61. Two Topliff free throws with 5:33 left Iwo lopinf free throws with 5:33 left in the game gave Maine a one-point lead they would hold on to for the rest of the game.

Henry went inside for two straight baskets to increase the Bears' lead to five. All-American Carlos Yates answered for the Patriots with an inside move, after which Mason called a time out.

The Patriots went to a full-court press, which the Bears broke easily. A layup by Henry, and two free throws by Wheeler put the Bears up by nine.

With time running out, Mason began to foul. Two free throws by Topliff with 1:02 remaining put the Bears up 81-68. With three minutes remaining the half, the Patriots took the lead 34-32. After a time out, Boylen drove to the lane, drawing a three-point play, to put the Bears up by one. With 40 seconds left in the half, Chip Bunker made a strong inside move to increase the lead to six, but Mason converted four straight free throws to cut the lead to 41-39 at the half,

Maine began the second half slowly, as George Mason used a full-court press to force turnovers. Yates scored 10 of the Patriots' first 12 points to give them a 51-48 lead.

After a Maine time out at the 11:30 mark, Henry scored an easy hoop off of a Steve Smith pass to make it 54-51, Maine

Rob Rose of Mason hit a long baseline jumper to cut the lead to one. Wheeler answered for Maine with a baseline jumper to increase the lead to three again.

Mike Yohe then came in for the Patriots, hitting two straight jumpers from the top of the key to give them their first lead of the game at 62-61.

George Mason was led in scoring by Yates with 20 points, Rose with 19, and Ricky Wilson with 17.

UMO guard T.J Forester drives toward the basket during the Bears' upset victory on Saturday. The win snapped a four game losing streak.(York photo)

Maine players Steve Smith (40) and Chip Bunker (52) attempt to block a shot during Saturday's game. The Black Bears won 88-78. (York photo)

UM

by Rich Garven Staff Writer

The Holy Cre team only score 9:10 of its game of 18 free throw beat the Black E the Memorial (The loss, Main the Bears' record 15-3 after the wi It was the sec Maine lost after minutes of play, theastern beat UM teams were tied "We had a loto

"We ha and that's getting th —Peter times (that were what's frustrating coach Peter Gave learn to win the cl getting the basked Maine was led point, 12 rebound point, 12 rebound point, 17 rebound Walker and Lauree eight points apiec Tracy Quinn w scorer with 20 point scorer with 20 poin ed balanced sc Hourihan (16 poin points) and Donna all hitting in doub

A Coffin jum baseline capped of Maine a 54-53 lead the first time the Be the 8:34 mark of t Quinn converted the Crusader's next the lead at 55-54. Coffin, who hit on to tie the game 55 An outside iun

An outside jun HC's only basket in game, and a Coffin made it 57-57 wi Gavett then called h game.

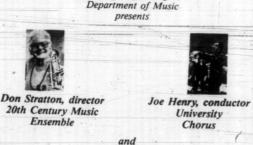

Each team turne the timeout befor possession. The Bee ball in low to Co couldn't do it becar zone defense. With the 30-second shot forced to take an that was short of . "That again is th not getting a good "That was a key po we had made that would have been di Walker committee suing play sending A hit both free the Crusaders the lead. A in the key by Sonja V at 59-59 with 1:01 k The Bears were ca

The Bears were ca the game's last min Wedge both fouled made nine of 10 free to victory. Maine's stretch was a Walker bound with 11 secon final 68-61.

Overall Holy Cross throws. As a team Ho cent on the season. line 14 times, makin

University of Maine at Orono

School of Performing Arts

Faculty Guests

Tuesday, January 29, 1984 - Hauck Auditorium - 8:00 p.m., General Admission $3.50 - Students/Senior Citizens $1.50 Tickets available at Hauck Auditorium ticket office and by calling 581-1240

The Daily Maine Campus. Monday, January 28, 1985. 7

UMO women lose 68-61 to Holy Cross

by Rich Garven Staff Writer

.88-78

Bears' upset vic

eak.(York photo)

t to block a shot

photo)

The Holy Cross women's basketball team only scored one basket in the last 9:10 of its game with UMO but made 17 of 18 free throws during that stretch to beat the Black Bears 68-61 Saturday at the Memorial Gymnasium.

The loss, Maine's third in a row, drops the Bears' record to 12-6. Holy Cross is 15-3 after the win.

It was the second consecutive game Maine lost after being tied in the final minutes of play. On Wednesday Northeastern beat UMO 55-46 after the two teams were tied with 1:30 to play. "We had a lot of easy shots at critical "They fouled us and thank God we made them," said HC head coach Togo Palazzi. "Every time you shoot a free throw you've got to make it whether. it's practice or a game." The first half ended with Holy Cross

The first half ended with Holy Cross leading 32-31. Both teams shot 15 of 31 from the field, the only difference being a missed free throw by the Bears. The Crusaders scored first when

The Crusaders scored first when Aaron scored a layup off the opening jump ball. Holy Cross would only have three more layups in the first half with the rest of their baskets coming from outside on 18-20 foot jump shots

"We do, we live on (outside shooting)," said Palazzi. "We can go inside if we have to, but our inside game

"We had a lot of easy shots at critical times and that's what's frustrating ... We're just not getting the basket when we need it." —Peter Gavett, women's basketball coach.

times (that were missed) and that's what's frustrating," said UMO head coach Peter Gavett. "We just have to learn to win the close one. We're just not getting the basket when we need it."

getting the basket when we need it. " Maine was led by Emily Ellis' 19 point, 12 rebound and Liz Coffin's 18 point, 17 rebound performances. Mary Walker and Lauree Gott chipped in with eight points apiece.

Tracy Quinn was the game's high scorer with 20 points. Holy Cross received balanced scoring with Janet Hourihan (16 points), Cheryl Aaron (12 points) and Donna O'Connell (10 points) all hitting in double figures.

A Coffin jumper from the right baseline capped off a 9-0 run and gave Maine a 54-53 lead with 3:50 left. It was the first time the Bears had the lead since the 8:34 mark of the first half.

Quinn converted two free throws on the Crusader's next possession to regain the lead at 55-54. Aaron then fouled Coffin, who hit one of two free throws to tie the game 55-55.

An outside jumper by Hourihan, HC's only basket in the last 9:10 of the game, and a Coffin layup off a Gott pass made it 57-57 with 2:17 remaining. Gavett then called his first timeout of the game.

Each team turned the ball over after the timeout before Maine regained possession. The Bears tried to work the ball in low to Coffin or Ellis, but couldn't do it because of HC's sagging zone defense. With two seconds left on the 30-second shot clock Walker was forced to take an off-balance jumperthat was short of ... be basket.

"That again is the offense's fault for not getting a good shot," Gavett said. "That was a key point in the game. If we had made that basket everything would have been different."

Walker committed a foul on the ensuing play sending Aaron to the line. She hit both free throws to give the Crusaders the lead. A driving jump shot in the key by Sonja Wedge tied things up at 59-59 with 1:01 left. The Bears were called for five fouls in

The Bears were called for five fouls in the game's last minute as Coffin and Wedge both fouled out. The Crusaders made nime of 10 free throws to pull away to victory. Maine's only score in this stretch was a Walker jump shot off a rebound with 11 seconds left to make the final 68-61.

Overall Holy Cross made 20 of 21 free throws. As a team HC is shooting 71 percent on the season. Maine went to the line 14 times, making nine free throws. isn't what it has been in the past." Maine went up 4-2 when Coffin scored on a turnaround jumper and Wedge drove the lane for a jump shot a minute later. Two Quinn free throws and a jumper by Jennifer Apicella put Holy Cross ahead 6-4.

Forward Kelly Nobert made a nice pass inside to Ellis who scored and then hit a free throw after being fouled by Quinn on the play to give Maine a onepoint lead.

No team scored more than four points in a row until Holy Cross went on a 10-2 run after calling a timeout. Jump shots by Grutchfield and Hourihan, a layup by Quinn and two baskets by O'Connell put the Crusaders ahead 24-21 with 8:10 to go.

Nobert pulled Maine to within one when she scored off a missed shot by Wedge. The teams traded baskets on their next possession before Hourihan drove the baseline for one basket and O'Connell hit an outside jumper to give HC its-biggest lead of the game, 30-25.

Maine outscored Holy Cross 6-2 in the last three minutes of the half to cut the lead to 32-31. A driving layup by Walker and a jumper by Wedge each came with two seconds remaining on the shot clock during this stretch.

The teams stayed close at the beginning of second half until HC went on a 10-4 run that gave it a 51-43 lead, its biggest of the game, with 9:10 left to play. Two free throws by Hourihan after an Ellis foul made it 51-45.

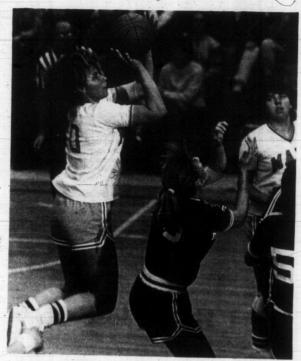

Ellis converted two free throws on Maine's next possession before Palazzi called timeout. Two Hourinan free throws after the timeout gave Holy Cross its eight-point lead at 53-45 with 6:41 remaining to play.

maining to piay. At this point UMO used a press on defense and forced Holy Cross into three straight turnovers. The Bears capitalized on the Crusader's mistakes scoring all three times. Two Ellis jump shots wrapped around a free throw by Liz Coffin pulled the Bears to within three, 53-50, setting up the finish.

Gavett said Maine didn't use the press earlier because he was saving it for the right moment.

right moment. "I didn't use it early because I didn't want to show it," he said. "I wanted it to have that element of surprise. It was very effective."

Maine's next game is Monday at Husson College. The Bears will return home to play the University of Southern Maine on Wednesday. Both games start at 5:30 p.m.

Senior Emily Ellis goes up for a shot in Saturday's game against Holy Cross. It was Maine's first home defeat as the Crusaders won 68-61. (York photo)

8 The Daily Maine Campus. Monday, January 28, 1985.

Hockey team splits two games

by Jerry Tourigny Staff Writer

The UMO hockey team split two games on the road this weekend losing to the Boston College Eagles, 9-3 Sunday night and beating the University of Lowell Chiefs 5-4 Saturday evening.

Maine now has a 9-19-1 overall record and a 5-18-0 Hockey East mark as the Bears look forward to playing their next five games at home starting this weekend when the University of New Hampshire Wildcats invade Alfond Arena.

League leading Boston College simply had too heavy an arsenal for Maine as the Eagles jumped out to a 3-0 lead before the Bears got on the scoreboard with 3:19 remaining in the first period.

The Eagles outscored Maine 3-1 in each of the three periods helping to improve their record to 21-7-1 overall and 19-7 in Hockey East play.

The line of Ken Hodge Jr., Doug Brown and Kevin Stevens paced the Eagles, who were ranked fourth in the nation last week (WDOM/CHSB poll), scoring five of the team's nine goals.

Hodge, the son of former Boston

Bruin Ken Hodge, and Brown each tallied two goals while adding three assists and Scott Harlow chipped in two more giving the Eagles more than enough fire power

Junior Ray Roy, who started both weekend games for Maine, had a long night allowing six goals in the first two periods before giving way to senior Pete Smith who surrendered three more to the high flying Eagles in the final frame. Boston College carried the play for the majority of the game but the Bears were able to outshoot the Eagles in the second period by a 16-14 margin although they were outscored 3-1 in the period. For the game, BC outshot Maine to a tune of 45-31

"The score wasn't indicative of the game at all," said assistant coach Mike Piette in a radio interview after the game. "We look for a better performance than we had tonight."

Trailing 5-2 in the second period Maine cut the lead to two when freshman Todd Studnicka took a feed from Ray Jacques and shot the puck off BC goalie Scott Gordon for his seventh goal of the year.

Ron Hellen started the play when he stole the puck just inside the blue line and sent a pass to the high slot area where Jacques tipped the puck toward Studnicka

Hellen's assist on the goal extended his consecutive point scoring streak to 11 games.

The backbreaker for Maine came The backbreaker for maine came with only four seconds left in the period when, while on the power play, junior Bob Sweeney rifled a blistering drive from the left top circle that beat Roy to his short side giving BC a 6-2 lead.

The Eagles converted on two power ay goals on five opportunities while the Bears failed to connect on their four attempts - one being a two man advantage first period alone, scored two of the three Boston College third period goals to complete the rout.

Dave Wensley scored Maine's first goal when his blast from the high circle area beat Gordon above his glove side. It was the freshman's 11th goal of the year. game's last goal when he stole the puck inside the BC zone and fired a 20-foot backhander which beat Gordon with 1:56 to play for BC coming up with numerous glove

The junior goalie is the leading goaltender in Hockey East coming into this week's action with a 3.79 goals against average and a .885 save percentage.

3-1, came back and took a 5-4 lead and held off a late Lowell flurry to secure its first victory over the Chiefs since the 1978-79 season.

Maine coach Shawn Walsh. "It's two big

No. 1 Hoyas lose 66-65 to No. 3 Redmen

by The Associated Press

Thanks to some erratic foul shooting by the Georgetown Hoyas and some sharpshooting of their own from the free throw line, the St. John's Redmen bounced the nation's No. 1 college basketball team.

"We've been snake-bitten by the freethrow throw thing for two years," Georgetown Coach John Thompson said after Saturday's 66-65 loss to thirdranked St. John's. "We practice it every day. Maybe we need to stop practicing

The Hoyas were able to convert only 11 of 22 free throws in the Big East Conference game at Landover, Md. The Redmen, meanwhile, hit some crucial foul shots down the stretch, including three by Chris Mullin, thwarting a Georgetown surge that had wiped out most of an 18 point deficit." The loss ended a 29-game winning streak for Georgetown, which lost for the first time since last Feb. 21, when St. John's beat the Hoyas 75-71.

Also losing among the Top Twenty ere No. 2 Southern Methodist, No. 7 DePaul, No. 10 Oregon State, No. 12 Louisiana Tech and No. 19 Virginia Commonwealth

SMU lost to Texas Tech 64-63; DePaul was beaten by Dayton 65-64; Oregon State dropped an 83-82 decision to Arizona State in double overtime; Louisiana Tech was upended by Lamar 72-64: and Virginia Commonwealth was defeated by Alabama-Birmingham 66-62.

Sunday was not much better for some members of the Top Twenty. No. 6 Il-linois got 12 points from Efrem Winters in beating No. 13 Indiana 52-41; No. 16 Georgia Tech, behind John Salley's 11 second-half points, topped No. 8 North Carolina 66-62; Maryland, behind Len Bias' 30 points, bounced No. 14 Villanova 77-74; and No. 18 Michigan, with freshman guard Gary Grant scor-ing all 20 of his points in the first half. defeated Nol 15 Kansas 96-97

Elsewhere in the Top Twenty Saturday. No. 4 Membphis State stopped Virginia Tech 89-79; No.-5 Duke walloped Clemson 100-83; No. 9 Oklahoma routed Kansas State 94-75; No. 11 Syracuse defeated Pittsburgh 80-75; No. 15 Kan-sas tripped Colorado 70-68; No. 17 Tulsa beat Southern Illinois 66-60; and No. 20 Nevada-Las Vegas defeated Long Beach State 75-61.

Top Ten

Though St. John's led by as many as 18 points early in the second half, at 55-37, the Redmen were hard-pressed to extend their winning streak to 10 and raise their season record to 15-1.

St. John's winning margin came with 25 seconds left when Mullin, who scored 20 points overall, hit the second of two free throws, making it 66-61. Tony Benford's 10-foot baseline jump shot with three seconds left carried Texas Tech past SMU, only the Mustangs' second loss in 17 games. Benford's shot came after the Red Raiders had blown an 11-point lead late in the second half.

Kgith Lee, snapping out of a slump, scored 37 points and hauled down 12 rebounds, leading Memphis State over Virginia Tech. Lee had scored only 27 points total in the previous three games. Mark Alaris scored 21 points and Duke used a big advantage at the foul line in beating Clemson. Duke outscored Clemson 32-11 at the foul line as the Tigers were called for 33 personal fouls.

Dave Colbert's disputed shot at the buzzer lifted Dayton over DePaul. Colbert rebounded a missed shot by Sedric Toney and put in a short bank shot as the buzzer sounded. DePaul players and Coach Joey Meyer contended the shot came too late.

Wayman Tisdale scored 37 points, leading Oklahoma over Kansas State.

Chris Sandle scored 13 of his 15 points in the second half; including a gamewinning free throw, as Arizona State outlasted Oregon State in double over-time. For the Beavers, who were led by A.C. Green's 24 points, the loss snapped a 10-game winning streak and a 17-game. home court string.

Second Ten Dwayne "Pearl" Washington scored 30 points and Rafael Addison had 12 of his 16 points in the second half as Syracuse rallied from a seven-point deficit and beat Pitt.

Jerry Everett scored 21 points, leading Lamar's upset of Louisiana Tech befor a Lamar school record crowd of 8,317.

Calvin Thompson converted two free throws with 16 seconds left and popped in a jumper at the buzzer as Kansas edged Colorado. The Jayhawks broke a 68-68 tie as time expired when Thompson hit a running 15-foot jump shot.

Steve Harris scored a game-high 19 points. leading Tulsa over Southern Il-linois. The Hurricanes won despite shooting only 39 percent from the floor. Steve Mitchell scored 25 points, including two insurance free throws in the final 11 seconds, helping Alabama Birmingham beat Virginia Com-monwealth. With 8:27 left in the game, Mitchell stole the ball and put in a reverse layup, breaking a 47-47 tie and putting Alabama-Birmingham ahead for good.

The UMO planet teach astro

Hodge, who had three assists in the Freshman Mike McHugh scored the Gordon played a solid game in goal hand stops.

The win raises his season league record to 16-6-0.

On Saturday night Maine fell behind

"It was a hard earned win," said points on the road."

Roy got the win in goal as he faced 48 Lowell shots en route to his fifth win of the season.

the daily

vol. XCVI

Grac

by Sue Swift Staff Writer

Five campu Thursday to dis

Pennsylvania co

degree courses of academic affairs,

director of the Center, Robert

College of Ec Albright, direct

Rosemary A. Sa UMO's Graduate

various ramificat

again become in library program

lege in Pennsylva

State College a

Library that they degree program Maine. What's u present time is th ram on this can

UMO

by Peg Warner Staff Writer

Leaders of UN

sororities are orga

of a national ho

members that will

Women and Se

societies, one of

Monday. Joan Drake,

secretary, said the Order of the Omeg

top 3 percent of fi

members on camp scholarship, leader

community involv

filiated with the Council, has be

Drake said the

"There is a p

Richard C. Bo