Sixty apply for dean of Arts and Sciences

by John Strange
Staff Writer

For the second time this year, the search is on for a new dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Ronald Tallman, associate vice president of academic affairs, said 60 candidates - the "vast majority" of whom are not from Maine - have applied so far. Applications are coming in from as far away as California, he said.

Deadline for applications is Nov. 12.

By last spring, 1,500 candidates had applied for the job vacated by former Dean Karl Webb in the spring of 1984, but the search committee decided in mid-April that none of the candidates was right for the job. Johnson then asked acting Dean Stephen Norton to continue in that capacity.

Tallman said that if the new committee also cannot accept any of the candidates, "We will have to re-examine ourselves as a quality institution as to why we can't get any high-quality candidates."

He said he is not surprised at the minority of UMO faculty applying for the position because most faculty members are busy with classes and research projects.

"They're comfortable with what they're doing now," he said.

In addition, he said, the position takes a lot of time and limits the academic research a professor can do, so that "you're working 12 hours a day, seven days a week."

However, Tallman said, both students and faculty can nominate a worthy faculty member to the position. He said anyone can submit to him a nomination and a letter stating why the nominee should have the job.

"We should take this search seriously," he said. "It should be the decision of the whole campus. This is probably the most important decision for this university in the next five years. More students are affected by that college than any other."

The College of Arts and Sciences is the largest of UMO's colleges. In addition, most students depend on the college to fulfill general requirements.

Tallman said that when he receives a nomination he will send a notice to the faculty member asking if he or she will stand as a candidate.

"I'm extremely interested in getting a group of highly qualified local candidates," he said.

A new search committee will be appointed to examine the credentials of the candidates and name the new dean.

Tallman said two faculty members have already been elected by their peers to serve on the committee. They are Michael Lewis of the art department and David Sanger of anthropology.

He said the Council of Colleges has recommended three people to UMO president Arthur Johnson for the committee. Johnson will then name two more members and a chairman.

He said he could not release the names of the people the Council of Colleges recommended because Johnson has not

'Ball on the Mall' may become yearly event

by Jessica Lowell
Staff Writer

Mix a beautiful October day, add three bands, mix gradually an estimated 500 to 1,000 people milling, bake for five hours in the fall sun. Add a few drops of rain and a rainbow. The result is an event Off Campus Board Vice President David Webster hopes may become a fall tradition.

The recipe is called "Ball on the Mall" and was sponsored jointly by the Off-Campus Board and Student Entertainment and Activities.

"Basically we both had the same idea," said SEA President Steve Walsh. "We wanted to hold an outdoor music event for everyone."

"The money for the concert came from the activity fee," he said, "and it's going right back to the students."

The event was the brainchild of former OCB President Chris MacAvoy, said Webster, who termed it a "mini-Bumstock."

Sunday's "Ball on the Mall" drew a good crowd as well as pleasant weather, and it may become a regular attraction (Vecchio photo)

"Since SEA isn't doing any big-name concerts, we thought it would be a good idea to have four or five local bands for free," he said.

"We made all the hard decisions," said Glenn Cox, president of OCB. "We decided not to have alcohol, and we decided not to have it at night. So we had no trouble getting permission to hold the concert."

The groups were organized by Paul Anderson, who also organized last year's Bumstock. "I guess you could call me the instigator of this whole thing," he said.

Three bands played on the Mall. The first to appear were the Upsetters, a regional band. The second group was the Kinsmen Ridgerunners, a bluegrass/folk band composed of UMO students, including Anderson. The third band was Broken Men, a rock band that is from the Portland area.

Anderson said he organized the concert because he thought music should be more pronounced on the UMO campus.

"It doesn't have to be drugs, and it doesn't have to be alcohol," he said.

Walsh said having this concert now did not necessarily mean there would be no other SEA-sponsored concerts this semester. There is another event in the planning stages now, he said, but he did not elaborate.

Greek Week to feature raft race, gong show

by Rob Hardy
Staff Writer

UMO's annual Greek Week will feature a new event this year with a raft race down the Stillwater River on the stretch from Sigma Phi Epsilon to Phi Gamma Delta.

Alpha Gamma Rho President Scott Gamage said his fraternity is looking forward to the event.

"I think it's going to be a lot of fun," Gamage said. "It will be something different for Greek Week."

The race will begin Saturday at 9:30 a.m. and will include the participation of all fraternities and sororities.

In addition to the race, the eighth annual Greek Week blood drive will take place in the Memorial Gymnasium on Wednesday from 12 to 8 p.m. Greek Week coordinator Stephen Littlefield said all fraternities and sororities should participate.

According to the Bangor chapter of the American Red Cross, in the spring

Patricia Keith and Brent Larlee would like to beat the record.

In a Greek Week awareness information letter, the organizers said, "This year we have set the goal to beat the record and through a lot of advance planning of 1984, the UMO sororities and fraternities set a New England record for the most pints of blood donated in one day.

"It will be something different for Greek Week"

Last year 468 pints of blood were collected and blood drive organizers and with the cooperation of all UMO Greeks we feel that this record can be easily broken."

The entire event begins Monday with a general "Greek awareness" display on the mall from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Littlefield said, "Each fraternity and sorority will display awards and rush information on tables near Fogler Library."

Raffle tickets will also be given away for UMO sweatshirts and corduroy hats, Littlefield said.

A gong show is scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium. The show will feature a short skit by each fraternity and sorority, Littlefield said.

On Thursday evening, the annual "Greek night" at the Oronoka will begin at 9 p.m. and will feature the music of Soundtrac. Buses to the Oronoka will be leaving every half hour from behind the Union.

yet accepted them as committee members.

"It's important for him to be sure that there is a balance on the committee," Tallman said. In addition, a graduate student and an undergraduate will serve on the committee, and Tallman will serve as secretary.

He said the entire committee should be in place by Tuesday.

Sanger said he will look for a candidate "that the faculty can respect first and foremost as an academic," and then he will look at administrative experience.

"You have to go with the person who looks best on paper and then you get a better look" when the candidate comes to campus, he said. UMO started placing ads in The Chronicle of Higher Education and Maine and regional newspapers in July, he said.

The ad states that the applicant should have a doctorate, at least five years of university teaching and a "record of scholarly publication or professionally recognized achievement in the arts." The salary is negotiable for the position, which was available as of July 1.

Tallman said after the Nov. 12 deadline, the committee can begin the screening process.

He said the screening involves examining all the resumes and applications, and intensive interviews, over the phone and in person, can be expected.

"It takes a lot of time," he said. Tallman said he hoped the list would be pared down to five candidates by Christmas. Each of the five would then be brought to the campus at UMO's expense.

The committee would then interview each candidate intensively, he said. The interviews are open to the public, which can also ask questions of the candidates.

If everything goes perfectly, Tallman said, the committee should reach a decision by March.

Rioting in London causes police fatality

LONDON (AP) — More than 500 youths battled police in fierce street fighting Sunday night in north London where officials said one policeman was stabbed to death and another officer wounded by a shotgun blast was among 28 people injured.

It was the first police fatality and the first gunfire reported in the riots that hit the south London district of Brixton last weekend and the industrial cities of Liverpool and Birmingham last month.

Clive Appleby, administrator of North Middlesex Hospital, said a policeman died shortly after being admitted with a stab wound in the neck.

Scotland Yard said at least six policemen were injured during the rioting in the Tottenham district, including one with a shotgun wound in the stomach.

Press Association, Britain's domestic news agency, reported earlier that three policemen were shot, but police did not confirm that. The agency said one policeman was seen being dragged away unconscious, and it quoted another officer as saying, "They are using shotguns."

The trouble began a day after a black woman died while police were searching her home. Police said the woman apparently suffered a heart attack, but her family disputed that.

About 200 youths, most of whom were black and some wearing masks, hurled bottles and stones at the Tottenham police station Sunday afternoon, and then sat in the street. They blocked traffic for about an hour before dispersing, and no one was injured.

At about 7 p.m., gangs of black youth started throwing objects at patrolling officers, and riot police in helmets and carrying shields converged on the area, a racially mixed neighborhood with mostly low-income housing.

The violence escalated quickly, and reporters at the scene estimated more than 500 youths had taken to the streets.

Scotland Yard spokeswoman Gillian Humphrey said the situation was "pretty volatile," as the rioting continued late into the night.

Demonstrators overturned cars and set them on fire, and set ablaze at least one house, Scotland Yard reported. Authorities dispatched four fire engines, but police advised them not to go into the area.

Police from all over London were sent into the area and came under repeated attack.

Senate votes to continue budget debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a last-minute plea from President Reagan, the Senate refused Sunday to choke off debate on a proposal mandating a balanced budget by 1991 and left in doubt urgently needed legislation to continue the government's borrowing authority.

The Senate voted 57-38 for the so-called cloture motion to limit debate on the amendment, but it was seven votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority and meant that further action on increasing the national debt limit remained stalled.

After the vote, it was unclear when a debt limit increase could be considered, although another vote to shut off debate was scheduled for Monday.

"Zero hour is approaching," Reagan said in a statement issued just hours before the Senate convened Sunday afternoon. "By tomorrow (Monday), the federal government's cash balances will be virtually exhausted and we will be facing a financial emergency."

Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole, R-Kan., told his colleagues that some senators "don't want to cut spending. Some don't want to do anything unless it's raise your taxes and dismantle defense."

Nonetheless, he fell short of the necessary majority.

Since a change in Senate rules is involved, it would take a two-thirds majority of those voting instead of the usual 60 for a so-called cloture motion.

In general, opponents say the pending plan would disproportionately hit domestic spending programs that have been cut previously, and give the president too much power to cut spending.

The complex plan, in effect, calls for annual deficit reductions of $36 billion, bringing red ink from its current annual level of $200 billion to zero by the beginning of the 1991 fiscal year on Oct. 1, 1990.

Dole has insisted on using the pressure of having to pass the debt limit increase quickly to force action on the budget plan. And the president, for the third day in a row, pressed for action now.

"The choice before the Senate is clear:

to meet its responsibilities by approving the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings amendment to bring deficits down, thereby permitting the debt ceiling increase to pass, or, to resort to a temporary quick-fix that will only postpone the day of reckoning and raise the price all of us must pay," Reagan said.

Bishops draft letter decrying U.S. poverty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unfazed by conservative critics, Roman Catholic bishops issued a strong new draft of their pastoral letter on the economy Sunday, calling poverty amid America's riches a "social and moral scandal."

The letter, aimed at national policymakers as well as the nation's 52 million Catholics, calls for basic policy changes, including government job programs and defense spending cuts opposed by President Reagan. About 300 church leaders will discuss the new text at next month's annual meeting of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, with a final vote not due until November 1986.

Missing from the new version are some specifics that brought criticism that the bishops were in over their economic heads in the first draft, released just after the 1984 election.

For example, there is no longer an insistence on a national commitment to reduce unemployment—now 7.1 percent to 3 percent or 4 percent.

Still, there is no softening of the bishops' call for the government either to directly hire jobless people or to subsidize their pay in private jobs.

Reagan has rejected many such programs as proven failures and has said the best way to lower unemployment is through economic growth.

Egypt, Israel differ on identity of crazed gunman

JERUSALEM (AP) - Israel raised doubts Sunday about Egypt's claim that it was a demented policeman who shot to death seven Israeli vacationers along the Sinai coast.

Officials said the gunman may have been an Egyptian soldier, whose presence in the area would violate the 1979 peace treaty. Egypt said a crazed policeman fired on a group of tourists and on his own unit Saturday at Ras Bourka, a coral-lined beach 27 miles south of the border checkpoint of Taba.

One Egyptian reportedly was killed before the gunman was captured. Acting Foreign Minister Moshe Arens said Israel was investigating whether Egypt had stationed army troops on the Gulf of Aqaba coast in violation of the peace treaty, which allows Egypt to station only police with sidearms in the coastal region.

A senior Egyptian official in Cairo denied the gunman was a soldier and said he would be court-martialed by the General Security Police Force. In Cairo, President Hosni Mubarak called the shootings a "small accidents" that was the work of a man "who lost his mind" and sent condolences to Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres.

Israel sent Egypt a sharply worded demand for a reply within 48 hours about possible treaty violations, progress in the inquiry and an explanation as to why the victims were denied prompt medical attention, the Foreign Ministry said.

The victims reached a hospital in the Israeli port of Eilat eight hours after the shooting. They were flown by helicopters of the Multinational Force and Observers, a U.S. led international unit sent to Sinai when Israel relinquished the peninsula in 1982 under the terms of the peace treaty.

Tensions running high in wake of police shooting

ASHBURN, Ga. (AP) - Ashburn's black community gathered amid tight security and refrains of hymns Sunday to bury a black man whose shooting death by police touched off a violent demonstration and several days of racial tension. State patrol officers lined the funeral route and stood outside the new Mount Olive Baptist Church where nearly 300 people attended services for Robert L. Wright. About 30 extra law enforcement officers waited at the Turner County Sheriff's Department in case trouble developed, but the southern Georgia town of 4,500 people, about evenly split between whites and blacks, was calm.

Wright, 22, was killed by a white city police officer a week ago after he bolted from a probation revocation hearing at the Turner County courthouse. Sheriff Lemar Whidden and Ashburn police officer Scotty Ireland chased Wright into an alley, where he was shot in the back. Wright said he directed Ireland to fire because he considered Wright dangerous, even though he was not armed. His death touched off an hour-long demonstration by 300 to 500 mostly young blacks, some of whom hurled rocks and bottles through shop windows and vandalized two stores. Racial tension was high for several days after that.

Wright had been held in the county jail since Sept. 2 on an armed robbery charge. He previously had been convicted of burglary, and authorities were trying to revoke his probation when he raced from the courtroom. At Sunday's service, the Rev. James Hill addressed the community's young people in a eulogy, urging them to "overcome the world by leaning and depending on Jesus."

NEWS BRIEFS

Survey: crime rate drops 4.1 percent

WASHINGTON (AP) - Crime fell 4.1 percent to 35.5 million incidents in 1984, the lowest level in the 12-year history of the National Crime Survey of randomly selected American households, the government said Sunday. The number of violent crimes excluding murder, however, rose 0.9 percent from 5,903,000 in 1983 to 5,954,000 in 1984. These incidents include assaults, armed robbery and rape.

The newest read-out on crime in America was in a report entitled "Criminal Victimization 1984," issued by the Bureau of Justice Statistics, an information-gathering arm of the Justice Department. The BJS crime survey does not include incidents of murder and manslaughter. Its results are based on interviews at six-month intervals with 128,000 people living in some 60,000 randomly selected households.

Three Soviets still being held captive

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - A caller saying he represented the extremist group holding three Soviet Embassy personnel hostage said Sunday they would not be freed until the Soviet Union and America end Lebanon's 10-year-old civil war.

The anonymous caller told a Western news agency that the group holding the Soviets, the Islamic Liberation Organization, also appealed to another terrorist organization not to free the American and French hostages that it kidnapped.

Guerillas of the Islamic Liberation Organization, a Moslem fundamentalist group, kidnapped three Soviet diplomats and a Soviet Embassy doctor on Monday and the body of one, Cultural Attache Arcady Katkov, was found Wednesday in a West Beirut suburb. He had been shot in the head.

Authorities probe death of FBI agent

to investigate the shooting of the first woman FBI agent to die on duty, the FBI declined comment on a city police report that she was mistakenly shot by two fellow agents.

FBI agent Herb Hawkins said his office planned to release information later about the death Saturday of Special Agent Robin L. Ahrens, 33. She was shot in the hand, arm and eye late Friday as about a dozen FBI agents arrested a robbery suspect at an apartment complex.

Phoenix Police Chief Ruben Ortega said Ahrens was shot by two agents who mistook her for the robbery suspect's girlfriend.

Ahrens died almost seven hours after FBI agents arrested Kenneth Don Barrett, 27, a suspect in a Sept. 20 robbery of an armored car driver at a Las Vegas, Nev., department store.

Ahrens, a native of St. Paul, Minn., joined the FBI in November 1984 and was sent to Phoenix on her first assignment. She was the first female agent to die on the job since women joined the FBI in 1972, and she was the first agent killed since 1979, said FBI spokesman Thomas J. Deakin in Washington, D.C.

Secret shuttle mission ends Monday

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - The space shuttle Atlantis will complete its secret military mission and maiden voyage with a landing Monday in California, the Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said.

The five-man crew is to land at 1 p.m. EDT on a dry lake bed in the Mojave Desert at Edwards Air Force Base.

The landing announcement was the first official release about the mission since a brief program report four hours after Atlantis was launched last Thursday from the Kennedy Space Center in Florida. The landing will complete a four-day mission that included the launch of two $100 million military satellites and a shakedown cruise for Atlantis, the newest and last planned member of NASA's fleet of four space shuttles.

UMO football runs over Blue Devils 51-8

by Kevin Dietrich
Staff Writer

Led by a spirited running attack and a punishing defense, the UMO football team crushed Central Connecticut State University 51-8 in a wet Saturday afternoon contest at Alumni Field.

UMO, now 3-2 on the season, completely overwhelmed their Division II opponent in nearly every aspect of the contest.

Maine seemed to get stronger and seemingly scored at will as the game progressed. The defeat drops the Blue Devils record to 1-3.

"Everything worked," said UMO coach Buddy Teevens trying to sum his squad's performance. "We did a nice job. The guy's came out and were ready to play."

Offensively, rushing was the big story as the Black Bears gained an impressive 295 yards on the ground.

Doug Dorsey and Lance Theobald led the attack with 145 yards and 70 yards respectively. Each running back also added a pair of touchdowns.

The initial UMO scoring drive was indicative of the game. Maine took possession of the ball on the CCS 43-yard line after Senior Rick Ouellette partially blocked a Blue Devils' punt.

Dorsey then took over. He carried the ball on six of the next seven downs, capping the drive off with a one-yard plunge through the left side for the Black Bears' initial tally.

Less than three minutes later Maine was on the board again, this time on a 51-yard field goal by Pete Borjestedt.

The kick was just 2 yards short of tying a Yankee Conference record. "I wasn't suprised that I kicked it," said Borjestedt. "The conditions were miserable, I was lucky."

Following Borjestedt's field goal UMO once again shut down the Central Connecticut offense and took control of the ball in Blue Devils' territory. Eight plays later, UMO quarterback Bob Wilder hit wide receiver Sergio Hebra in the corner of the end zone to increase the Maine lead to 16-0.

The only bright spot for CCS on this otherwise bleak day occurred halfway through the second period.

Following the recovery of a UMO fumble, the Blue Devils took possession of the ball on their own 45.

On the first play of the drive CCS quarterback Bill Von Klock pitched back to split end Greg Shpak who rolled to his right and then lofted a perfect spiral

Soccer team splits home weekend games

by Roger Brown
Staff Writer

The UMO soccer team tasted victory and defeat this past weekend, splitting a pair of games with the University of New Hampshire and Southern Connecticut State University. The split now leaves the Black Bears with a 5-4 record for the year.

On Friday, the Black Bears got back on the winning track by defeating UNH 2-0. The loss dropped the Wildcats' record to 2-4-1.

On Sunday however, the Black Bears faced the No. 1 Division II team in the country and came up on the losing end by a 2-0 score. SCS is now 6-0-1.

In Friday's outing the UMO squad dominated keeping the majority of the play in the UNH end. The Black Bears were in UNH goaltender Chris Jay's face the entire game.

The winning goal was headed in by Ben Spike, 18:35 into the game. The assist given to Torin Dudley.

An insurance goal was scored by Jay Hedlund at 6:25 of the second half, unassisted.

"I was facing the goal when our initial shot was deflected to my left," Hedlund said. "I kicked it in before it hit the ground. It wasn't too much trouble because the goalie was out of position, and there was no defense around."

The UNH goalie Jay said he felt the bad conditions plus the long ride hampered his team's play.

"We're not as bad as we looked today," Jay said. "Not being able to get our footing really hurt us. I give full credit to the Maine team, they played a great game despite the wet field."

Head coach Jim Dyer was pleased with his team's performance. "I thought we were well prepared, and we did basically what we wanted," Dyer said.

On Sunday afternoon, two first half goals by SCS would prove to be too much for the Black Bears.

SCS first goal was scored by Marvin Etienne, who just slipped one past UMO goalie Jeff Spring, after receiving a perfect pass from Juan Vargas at 18:40. "It was very important that we scored as early as we did," Etienne said. "It enabled us to control the rest of the game territory wise."

SCS second and final goal was scored by Elias Zurita at 35:23, with the assist going to Roody Blair.

SCS coach Bob Dikranian was pleased with his team's victory, but didn't feel it was one of their better performances.

UMO tailback Doug Dorsey breaks through a hole provided by the offensive line. Dorsey had 145 yards rushing. (McMahon photo) to wide receiver Matt Skoronski for a beautiful 55-yard touchdown reception.

That was to be the only glimmer of hope for CCS as the formidable Maine defense limited the Blue Devils to a paltry 123 total yards and just two first downs.

Teevens was pleased not only with the overall outcome but with the fact that almost everyone got to play. "From a morale standpoint, it's fantastic. It's great for the team."

The Black Bears spread the offensive duties liberally, employing nine running backs, three quarterbacks and seven receivers.

Teevens was also quite happy with the play of fullback Jeff Cosgrove who, up until a week ago, was a defensive end. However, in an attempt to shore up the backfield Teevens moved Cosgrove into the fullback slot and the move appears to be paying off. Cosgrove gained 29 yards, scored his first collegiate touchdown and, more importantly did a fine job of blocking.

"I feel a lot better about the fullback spot," Teevens said. "He (Cosgrove) may have found a home." Things won't be quite so easy for UMO next weekend. The Black Bears will be taking on the No. 1 Division I-AA team in the nation next Saturday when the University of Richmond comes to town.

X-C women win

The women's cross country team crushed Bates College 15-50, taking the first eight places in the Saturday morning meet behind the Memorial Gym.

The Black Bears, who upped their season record to 7-0, were led by Rose Prest with a time of 22:27. Helen Dawe, Theresa Lewis and Kathy Tracy ran with Prest most of the way and cruised in about 20 seconds behind.

Sonja McLaughlin, Beth Heslam, Jeannine Forest and Leslie Walls finished ahead of the first Bates runner, Kerry O'Leary.

X-C men 2nd of 3

The University of New Hampshire, led by Jeremy King, defeated the UMO cross country team and Colby College Friday afternoon behind the Memorial Gym.

The final tally had UNH with 31, UMO 35, and Colby 62. UMO and Colby are 5-2 and UNH is 3-4.

King covered the 5.6 mile course in 28:11. He defeated UMO's Chris Williams by 11 seconds. Aaron Lessing for UNH finished third.

Black Bears' Brian Warren (28:56), Matt Dunlap (29:10) and Bob Cuddy (29:15) took the next three places.

Maine's fifth and sixth runners came after a wave of 11 competitors. Tom Scaglarini (19th) and Tim Parritt (20th) were followed by teammate Randy Gardella (26th).

Net women lose

The UMO women's tennis team lost a rain-delayed match to Central Connecticut State College 9-0 Saturday on the courts behind and in the Field House.

The Black Bears, who dropped their fourth match in as many tries, had to cancel Friday's contest against Colby College because of rain. The match was rescheduled for Oct. 18 at UMO.

Kara Larson was the closest UMO player to gain a victory. The No. 6 player took Luz Ponce to the limit with a 3-6, 6-3, 7-6, loss. The final stages of Larson's match had to be played in the Field House.

The other singles matches had CCS defeating the following Maine players: Kim Frances def. Anne Martinson 6-1, 6-0; Dawn Cocozza def. Cindy Sprague 6-2, 6-1; Laura Raslauskas def. Kathy Kirschner 6-0, 6-2; Chris Freda def. Tammy Fitch 6-1, 6-2; and Cathy Moffie def. Ann Winship, 7-6, 6-2.

In the doubles play, which was played indoors, Francis and Cocozza def. Martinson and Fitch 6-2, 6-1; Raslauskas and Moffie def. Liz Geitner and Sprague 3-6, 6-1, 6-0; and Kim Carney and Karen Boumetti def. Kirschner and Dee Dydowicz 6-1, 6-0.

YC UPDATE

URI beats UMass

AMHERST, Mass. — The University of Rhode Island overcame the mud and the University of Massachusetts to post a 7-3 victory in Saturday's contest at Warren McGuirk Stadium.

URI is now 3-2 overall and 2-0 in the Yankee Conference. UMass is 3-2 overall and 0-1 in the YC.

URI's quarterback Tom Ehrhardt hit 19-of-36 of his passes and compiled 194 yards. Yet, the one telling blemish on the UMass scoreboard came from a URI running play.

Rams' tailback Dave Morill (27 attempts for 97 yards) took the handoff up the middle and gave it to receiver Jim Pratt on the reverse for the touchdown. The URI running attack rushed for 102 yards on 35 attempts.

UMass was led by tailback George Bamell with 96 yards on 25 carries.

UNH over UConn

STORRS, Conn. — The University of New Hampshire lost the services of its league leading tailback Andre Garron in the second quarter, but managed to come back from a 6-0 halftime deficit to defeat the University of Connecticut 10-6 Saturday at UConn.

Garren, who ended up with 29 yards on 12 attempts, was knocked out of the game with a knee injury.

UNH is now 3-1 overall and 2-0 in the Yankee Conference. UConn is 2-1 overall and 0-1 in the YC.

The game's only touchdown came in the third quarter when UNH quarterback Rich Byrne's 17-yard touchdown pass to tight end Tom Flanagan. Byrne was 4-of-8 for 81 yards.

UConn was led by Peter Lane, who was 21-of-47 for 207 yards. But two interceptions thwarted the Husky cause.

Sox a .500 team

BOSTON (AP) — Milwaukee rookie Billy Joe Robidoux belted a pair of two-run homers and Boston's Wade Boggs wrapped up the American League batting championship with three hits Sunday as the Brewers whipped the Red Sox 9-6 in a 1985 season windup.

Boggs had a double and two singles, tying the major league record by hitting safely in his 135th game. The record was set by Chuck Klein of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1930.

Boggs won his second batting title in three years with an unofficial .368 average. His 240 hits were the most in the major leagues in 55 years, ranking sixth all-time in the American League and 11th all-time in the major leagues.

Milwaukee finished with a 71-90 record. In losing the last three games to the Brewers, Boston ended 81-81.

Niekro wins 300th

TORONTO (AP) — Phil Niekro became the 18th pitcher in major-league history to win his 300th game, reaching the milestone on his fifth try Sunday with a four-hitter as the New York Yankees beat the American League East champion Blue Jays of Toronto 8-0.

Niekro also became the oldest pitcher ever to throw a shutout in the majors. The knuckleballer, at 46 years and 188 days, surpassed the mark set by Satchel Paige with the St. Louis Browns in 1952 at age 46 and 75 days.

En route to the shutout, Niekro passed Ferguson Jenkins to take over seventh place on the all-time strike list with 3,197.

The game was the final one of the regular season for each team, and came one day after Toronto clinched the AL East with a 5-1 triumph over New York that eliminated the second-place Yankees.

A's beat Royals

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Mike Gallego had three hits and drove in two runs Sunday to lead a makeshift Oakland A's lineup to a 9-3 victory over a makeshift Kansas City lineup in the final game of the regular season.

The Royals, one day after clinching their second straight American League West title, rested all their regulars. The Royals announced that third baseman George Brett would manage the game.

The Royal finished the regular season with a 91-71 record, while the A's were 77-85. The winner was Oakland starter Chris Codiroli, 14-14, the loser was Mike Jones, 3-3.

NFL UPDATE: Patriots fall to Browns 24-20

by the associated press

After the first play of his National Football League career, Bernie Kosar might have wished he was back in college. A little later, however, Kosar was a Cleveland Brown hero.

Kosar, the quarterback who left the University of Miami, Fla. after two years and joined the Browns through a supplemental draft, made his NFL debut Sunday, first in forgettable fashion, then with memorable results.

Kosar replaced injured starter Gary Danielson — strained right shoulder — late in the first half and promptly fumbled away his first pro snap. That led to a New England field goal.

But he then completed his first seven passes in the second half and led the Browns to a 24-20 victory over the Patriots.

Tight end Ozzie Newsome caught a 33-yard option pass from wide receiver Brian Brennan and running back Kevin Mack also had productive days. Brennan caught five passes for 104 yards and Mack, who scored the winning points on a 10-yard run, had 115 yards on 20 carries and caught five passes for 85 yards.

Bears 27, Bucs 19

Chicago remained unbeaten with a 24-point second half as Walter Payton scored on runs of four and nine yards, giving him 100 career touchdowns. Jim McMahon threw a 21-yard TD pass to Dennis McKinnon and Kevin Butler kicked field goals of 30 and 31 yards. It's the best start for the Bears since 1963, when they won their last NFL championship.

Rams 13, Vics 10

A gamble by Minnesota coach Bud Grant didn't pay off as Darrin Nelson was stopped for no gain at the Rams 1 by linebacker Jim Collins on the final play to preserve Los Angeles' triumph. Minnesota had no time outs left but spurned a field goal attempt that could have sent the game into overtime.

The Vikings actually had two tries at the game-winning touchdown from the 1. With seven seconds remaining, Tommy Kramer threw an incomplete pass, but Los Angeles' Gary Green was called for pass interference.

Colts 49, Bills 17

Fullback Randy McMillan, returning after a two-week absence with an ankle injury, rushed for 112 yards and two touchdowns, Albert Bentley also rushed for 100 yards for Indianapolis, which 291 rushing yards and scoring its most points in a game in nine years. The Colts also got pass interceptions by Barry Krauss and rookie Buane Bickett that set up two second-quarter touchdowns by George Wonsley. Rookie Anthony Young scored in the third period on a 29-yard return of a Buffalo fumble.

Miami 24, Pitt 20

Miami also made a comeback as Dan Marino hit 27-of-49 passes for 277 yards against the best pass defense in the league. He led the Dolphins on a drive for Lorenzo Hampton's 2-yard run for the decisive touchdown with 47 seconds left.

The Steelers never have beaten Miami in the Orange Bowl.

Saints 23, Eagles 21

Johnnie Poe raced 40 yards to score with an interception, Dave Waymer intercepted three passes and Morten Anderson kicked three field goals for New Orleans, which built a big lead before second-string QB Ron Jaworski led an Eagle comeback. Philadelphia's John Spagnola had a career-high 11 catches for 118 yards and two touchdowns.

49ers 38, Falcons 17

Joe Montana has his biggest statistical day as a pro, operating a short-passing attack to perfection for five touchdown passes, tying a 49ers' record, and setting club records for attempts 57, completions 37 and yardage 429.

"I didn't know I had thrown that many," he said. "I thought I had thrown in the 30s. If I didn't throw any and we won, it would still be great."

Jets 29, Cincinnati 20

New York won its fourth straight with the benefit of some controversial officiating. With New York leading 17-13 QB Ken O'Brien was short on a bomb for Wesley Walker and Louis Breeden intercepted at the 6-yard line. He continued into the end zone where Walker tackled him for what was called a safety by the referee. The Bengals betterly argued that Breeden's momentum carried him into the end zone and it should have been a touchback.

Kirk Springs returned the ensuing free kick 58 yards to the Bengals 18-yard line. A third-down unsportsmanlike-conduct penalty on linebacker Reggie Williams gave New York first down, and O'Brien hit tight end Mickey Shuler with a 7-yard touchdown pass for a 26-13 lead.

Raiders 19, KC 10

Quarterback Marc Wilson, named the starter just prior to the game and playing despite a sprained ankle, passed for 241 yards and one touchdown and Chris Bahr kicked four field goals. The Raiders sacked Chiefs' QB Bill Kenney six times.

LA running back Marcus Allen of the Raiders led all rushers with 126 yards on 29 carries.

Hawks 25, S.D. 21

Seattle's opportunistic defense intercepted Mark Herrmann three times and recovered a Herrmann fumble. Curt Warner scored touchdowns on runs of 1 and 18 yards in the second half for the Seahawks.

Herrmann, who started in place of injured Dan Fouts, passed for three touchdowns.

Running back Gary Anderson, a 1983 San Diego first-round draft pick, made his NFL debut after playing three seasons in the USFL and had only 15 yards on eight carries.

Dallas 30, Giants 29

Danny White shredded New York's defense for three touchdown passes and Rafael Septien booted a game-winning 31-yard field goal with 2:19 to play.

White connected with Mike Renfro on touchdown passes of eight and 24 yards and hit Tony Hill on an 18-yard strike as Dallas raised its record to 4-1.

The triumph also avenged a pair of losses to New York last season that kept the Cowboys out of the playoffs for the first time in a decade.

The game-winning field goal was set up late in the fourth quarter when Gene Lockhart recovered a Phil Simms fumble at the New York 19.
