Johnson taps fund for better campus lighting

by John Strange
Staff Writer

UMO President Arthur Johnson has committed approximately $7,150 from his discretionary fund to improve campus lighting.

The money will be used to update outside lighting in the new Balentine parking lot, on the walkway between Fernald Hall and College Avenue, and in the York Hall area, Johnson said.

"I think lighting is a priority on campus, for safety," he said.

Johnson said he had heard both students and UMO faculty and staff express concern on lighting problems, and that he had noticed dark areas while walking at night.

After reviewing a 1980 lighting study in which an Augusta engineering firm called lighting at UMO substandard, he asked Facilities Management to draw up cost estimates to improve the darkest areas of the campus.

Thomas Cole, director of Facilities Management, said his office recommended new lighting for the Balentine parking lot, the walkway between Fernald Hall and the steam plant, and the York Hall area.

Cole said the recommendations called for a used light pole and a floodlight, costing a total of $550, for Balentine, and a $2,200 light fixture for the walkway. The light will be installed near the flagpole.

In addition, said Cole, Facilities Management also recommended six light poles for York Hall - three lining the southeast driveway, and three in front of the building. The entire York Hall project would cost $13,200, Cole said.

Facilities Management also noted a dark area at Estabrooke Hall and recommended a $2,200 light at the end of the driveway pointing toward Lengyel Gym, Cole said. However, said Johnson, although he will pay for the Balentine and steam plant projects, he could only afford two lights, at $2,200 each, for York Hall.

If Facilities Management says the two lights will make a difference, Johnson said, he will pay for them.

The discretionary fund from which Johnson will pay for the projects is composed of outside gifts to be used at the president's discretion. It currently totals about $37,000, he said.

"The only flexible money on campus is the discretionary fund," he said. "It's a last gasp kind of thing." Johnson also said the use of the fund signals the importance of the project.

In fact, he said, the lighting project is one of the "biggest single things I've done in terms of money." Only his funding of the Balentine parking lot, athletics, and Explorations, a UMO journal of research, is comparable to the lighting project, he said.

Cole said that unless there is a winter thaw, the new lights will not be installed until spring.

CPR-a-thon to raise money to purchase mannequins

by Becky Pilkington
Staff Writer

A CPR-A-Thon will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday to raise money for the CPR Manikin Committee, said the committee's chairman Monday.

Jon T. Misner said the CPR Manikin Committee needs to raise $4,000 to cover the initial purchase and maintenance costs of the mannequins used in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training.

The committee has solicited pledges and sent notices to dormitories and organizations, raising approximately $100 so far, Misner said. The student government has provided $500.

The life-sized dolls, used to practice resuscitation, have working lungs, throat, and mouths, said Misner. The committee needs five full-sized dolls, at a cost of $555 each. Three $265 dolls, the size of nine-month-old babies, are also needed.

"We really want to raise the conscious level of the community," Misner said. "CPR is important. There is a need to know this."

"Six hundred fifty thousand people die from heart-related illnesses each year," said Misner. "Electrocution, choking, drowning, drug overdose and accident victims may be revived with CPR. CPR can be used in any case where pulse and breathing stop."

"Hopefully CPR classes will be offered on campus," he said.

William T. Lucy, associate dean of student activities and organizations, said, "I just hope that students who have the opportunity to assist the cause will, because it is worthy."

CPR classes are needed on campus, Lucy said.

Matt Poole, a member of the CPR Manikin Committee and Maine Bound, said Maine Bound will also use the dolls.

"Maine Bound is sponsoring Emergency Medical Technician classes," Poole said. "Many other organizations will use the dolls to teach CPR on campus."

During the CPR-A-Thon two people will perform CPR on a mannequin for shifts of ten minutes each. A third person will explain facts and figures to passers-by, Misner said. At the end of the marathon CPR will have been performed for six hours continuously.

Between 30 and 40 students and faculty members are participating in the marathon, said Misner. The CPR-A-Thon's coordinator, Tim White, developed the idea for the project, Misner said. "It's his brainchild."

A letter-writing campaign and visits to organizations are alternate fund raising methods, said Linda Faubert, a member of the CPR Manikin Committee and UVAC. "Hopefully we'll raise all the money that we need."

"Anyone who has a CPR instructorship will be able to use the mannequins," Faubert said.

The individuals participating in the CPR-A-Thon are taking pledges. Purchases will be made around Jan. 1, said Misner, depending on the amount of money raised.

Well-known ensemble to perform at UMO

by Kelly Mullins
Staff Writer

The UMO Christmas season will be enhanced this year with a performance by the Boston Camerata, an internationally celebrated ensemble of singers and instrumentalists.

The Camerata, founded in 1954, was for many years associated with the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. It has been under the direction of Joel Cohen since 1968.

The Camerata's performances of music of the Middle Ages, the Renaissance and the early Baroque periods seek to combine historical accuracy through interpretations on period instruments and using old techniques of singing and playing.

Cohen, in a telephone interview Saturday while on tour in Louisville, Ky, said the Camerata's performance of "A Renaissance Christmas" will be an anthology of pieces.

There will be a combination of elaborate church pieces and simple Christmas folk carols, he said.

"The framework of the program is based on the Christmas story with music from various countries including England, Germany, France and Spain," Cohen said.

He said at the end of the performance the audience will be invited to join in traditional Christmas carols.

Camerata activities include teaching, research and publications. The ensemble is best known for its performances, live

Military rule ends

Guatemalans elect civilian president

GUATEMALA CITY (AP) — Guatemalans voted Sunday for a civilian president after more than 30 years of virtually uninterrupted and often brutal military rule, in this Central American country.

By dawn, lines of voters, mostly men, were forming in streets littered with the remains of bonfires and spent fireworks from a festival the night before, ready to cast their ballots when the polls opened at 7 a.m., 8 a.m. EST.

The runoff election was between Vinicio Cerezo, 42, a lawyer who is the slightly left-of-center candidate from the Christian Democratic Party, and Jorge Carpio, 53, a newspaper publisher viewed as a somewhat right-of-center candidate from the Nation Center Union.

They were the top vote-getters in the first election Nov. 3 in which eight candidates ran, but in which no candidates received a clear majority as required by law.

The new president will succeed Gen. Oscar Humberto Mejia Victores, the last of five successive military rulers. He came to power in a coup in 1983, depos-ing Gen. Efraim Jose Rios Montt, who, in turn, gained power in a 1982 coup.

Guatemala has been ruled by a succession of military or military-dominated governments since a 1954 coup backed by the CIA toppled the left-leaning administration of Jacobo Arbenz.

Guatemala is in the midst of its worst depression in 50 years, with inflation running at more than 50 percent a year and about 45 percent of the workforce either out of work or underemployed. As the country's economic problems deepened over the past five years, the military became more enthusiastic about turning the government over to civilians and escaping blame for calamity.

This apparently was the motivation behind Mejia's promise to return Guatemala to civilian rule and schedule the Nov. 3 election.

Human rights activists estimate 38,000 people, mostly poor Mayan Indians who live in Guatemala's central and northern highlands, were killed or kidnapped by the army and right-wing death squads in the past 20 years.

Wallace ordered to desegregate Auburn U.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge has labeled Auburn University the most segregated campus in Alabama and given Gov. George C. Wallace until Valentine's Day to devise a plan to remove remnants of segregation from Alabama universities.

"The evidence tends to support the widespread perception of blacks in Alabama that, except for the presence of black athletes and the changes mandated by federal laws and regulations, Auburn's racial attitudes have changed little since the 50's," U.S. District Judge U.W. Clemon said in his 100-page ruling.

Clemon's ruling was issued Saturday, the same day a black Auburn football player, Bo Jackson, won the Heisman Trophy. The school in Auburn had a black student enrollment of slightly more than 2 percent last year and a black faculty of 0.6 percent.

Clemon's ruling also targeted Auburn's predominantly white Montgomery campus, which he said needlessly duplicates programs at mostly black Alabama State University in the same city.

Clemon also focused on Auburn's agricultural extension program, which he said benefited from "racial discrimination" against a similar program at the state's other land grant college, predominantly black Alabama A&M University in Huntsville.

The ruling resulted from a lawsuit filed 2½ years ago by the U.S. Justice Department. Clemon heard more than a month of testimony during a trial this summer and received yard-high mounds of documents from most universities.

Alabama State and Alabama A&M joined the lawsuit on the side of the Justice Department.

AMA advises AIDS tests before marriage

WASHINGTON (AP) — All couples should be tested for exposure to the deadly AIDS virus before being granted marriage licenses, says a resolution to be considered this week by American Medical Association policymakers.

The resolution, one of several concerning the disease, was included in a thick book of proposals distributed Sunday to 361 members of the AMA's House of Delegates, who will be voting on them Tuesday and Wednesday.

The resolution doesn't say what, if any, action should be taken if required tests do indicate exposure to the virus. A person who has been exposed to the virus will not necessarily contract the disease itself.

In fact, a separate resolution to be considered this week calls for the organization of about 271,000 doctors to "oppose discrimination against AIDS-positive serum" and to "oppose any local, state or federal legislation that would lead to such discrimination or that would invade patient-doctor confidentiality."

Still another resolution addresses the issue of whether children suffering from AIDS should be allowed to continue attending school. That resolution says that the disease "can be transmitted only via intimate contact or parental."

Rather than taking any position on the question of allowing attendance, though, the resolution asks that the organization study the issue further and report back at the 1986 annual meeting. The resolutions are to be considered separately so all, some or none may pass.

NEWS BRIEFS

Businessmen meet in Moscow for talks

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Commerce Malcolm Baldrige arrived Sunday for a three-day trade meeting attended by about 400 American businessmen hoping to use the spirit of the Geneva summit to clinch new contracts with the Soviets.

Welcomed at snowy Sheremetyevo Airport by Vladimir N. Sushkov, the deputy foreign trade minister, Baldrige said he was attending the meeting because the Reagan administration views trade as "a very good building block for our relations." The meeting begins Monday and the contingent of senior executives representing 192 U.S. firms will be the largest group of American businessmen ever to gather in Moscow at one time.

Asian nations join to solve problems

DHAKA, Bangladesh (AP) — Seven South Asian nations representing a fifth of the world's population pledged Sunday to pool their efforts to aid their poor and work toward ending the distrust that divides several of the countries.

The leaders of India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Nepal, Bhutan and the Maldives signed a charter forming the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation, to the applause of hundreds of delegates and officials.

The regional group represents 1 billion people, including many of the poorest on Earth, and was formed to solve common problems of hunger, poverty and illiteracy.

But the association leaders also said they would help the member nations overcome disagreements that have led to wars and decades of bitter relations.

Rebels, troops clash in southern Sudan

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — The state-owned daily al-Sahafa newspaper reported Sunday that government troops killed at least 400 rebels in a clash in the Blue Nile province south east of Khartoum.

It said six soldiers were killed in the battle Thursday and four were wounded. The paper had reported Saturday that almost 50,000 civilians had fled the area near the Ethiopian border in anticipation of further clashes. It said 10,000 rebels recently attacked Sali, a village south of Kurmuk.

Court to sentence 9 junta members

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A federal court convenes Monday to issue verdicts and sentences for three former presidents and six other former junta members tried for the disappearances of thousands of suspected leftists in the late 1970s.

Only one of the defendants, former air force leader Gen. Omar Graffigna, is expected to be present when court secretary Juan Carlos Lopez reads the rulings.

OPEC seeks to stop raising oil prices

GENEVA (AP) — OPEC oil ministers agreed in principle Sunday to stop trying to prop up petroleum prices and instead seek a stable share of the world market, a senior Ecuadorian official said.

The decision, if approved at a final session Monday, could speed the decline in oil prices that many analysts are predicting for early 1986. It also would signal a major switch in tactics by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, which for years has sought to impose its prices on buyers.

Shultz embarks on tour of Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State George Shultz embarks on a post-summit tour of Europe this week, eager to strengthen allied support for U.S. arms control policy and forge links with communist countries that have strayed to some degree from the Soviet orbit.

As heir to a 40-year tradition that requires secretaries of state to reaffirm U.S. commitment to defend West Berlin, Shultz will also make his first trip to the barbed-wire rimmed city since taking office three years ago.

Congress mail costs called 'outrageous'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An uneasy Senate is about to give the public a peek at some of its dirty laundry, disclosing for the first time what Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., calls the "outrageous" costs of mailing government-paid newsletters to constituents. The House and Senate postage bill for what Mathias calls "congressional junk mail" is expected to total $144 million this year.

Prisoner escapes from landing plane

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Police used dogs and a helicopter Sunday as they searched an airport and surrounding counties for a prisoner who jumped wearing leg irons and handcuffs from a speeding airplane moments after it landed.

Reginald D. Still, 41, leaped from the plane's emergency exit onto the wing and then onto the runway Saturday while the craft, with eight guards aboard, was moving at nearly 50 mph at Will Rogers World Airport.

Hockey ties, beats Michigan Tech

by Jon Rummler
Staff Writer

It took almost two periods, but the University of Maine hockey team resolved the defensive breakdowns and sloppy offensive play to post a come-from-behind 4-4 overtime tie with Michigan Tech, Friday. Then on Saturday, maintaining the momentum of the previous game to register a decisive 6-3 victory at Alford Arena.

The victory and tie gave the Black Bears its best-ever two-game effort against a Western Collegiate Hockey Association team. Maine is now 2-11-1 in Hockey East-WCHA play.

The Huskies continue to struggle with a 2-12-4 overall mark and 2-11-3 in HE-WCHA action.

Saturday's game could prove costly however, as the bench-emptying tussle between the Black Bears and Huskies, though providing entertainment for the 3,500 in attendance, has cost each team

Men's hoop falls to Siena, 80-69

by Kevin Dietrich
Staff Writer

The University of Maine basketball team was unable to overcome a tenacious Siena College defense and faltered down the stretch losing by a 80-69 margin Sunday before a festive crowd of 900 in the Memorial Gym.

The loss leaves Maine winless on the season with an 0-4 overall record and 0-1 in ECAC North Atlantic Conference competition. Siena keeps its perfect record intact moving to 4-0 overall and 1-0 in conference play.

Despite the loss, Black Bears' co-captain Jim Boylen felt Maine played a credible game.

"They're a good team and we proved we could play with them," Boylen said. "In the end we beat ourselves."

If the Black Bears beat themselves, they had a good deal of help from the Siena defense. Maine was held to eight points during the last seven minutes of the game and the Indians were able to pull away.

"They had the lead and spread us out," said Maine coach Skip Chap-

Women's hoop over powers Siena, 87-54

by Jerry Tourigny
Staff Writer

It was an awesome display of basketball — offensively and defensively.

The University of Maine women's basketball team put on a first-half clinic on how to break zone-press coverage and how to apply it, resulting in a 55-18 lead at the break and a 87-54 win against Siena College Saturday afternoon at the Memorial Gym.

The win for Maine avenged last year's 55-52 loss in the Dial Classic Tournament championship game and evened the series history at 1-1.

The Black Bears, now 2-0, thoroughly picked apart the Indians' defense, scoring 14-of-their-20 first-half field goals off the fast break or in the lane.

Maine's dominant strength and depth in the frontcourt allowed the Black Bears to control the shot selection and the boards, which led to numerous fast break opportunities.

While the Black Bears were taking 22-of-their-33 field-goal attempts from the lane, the Indians, who fell to 1-3, could manage only three from the paint, none of which were converted on.

It was Siena's inability to get shots closer to the basket, which led to its horrid first half shooting performance. The Indians were 4-of-25 (16 percent) while the Black Bears were blazing the net at a 61 percent pace (20-of-33).

"We played great in the first half," said Maine coach Peter Gavett. "We played excellent defense. It was a real team effort."

"They threw every kind of defense at us. We know how to play. We're ready for anything," Gavett said. "Every defense has one opening. (In the first half) we found it almost every time. I'm very pleased."

Maine began its fast-break onslaught right from the word go as the Black Bears jumped out to a 12-3 lead in the opening minutes of play.

Maine continued to increase its lead and with 11:00 left in the half, they led 27-13. Maine then went on a 10-0 spurt for a 37-13 lead and by the time the pelle referring to the Indians' delay offense.

The effectiveness of the play was enhanced by Siena guard Matt Brady's adept ball-handling abilities.

Although Brady scored just six points, he added six assists and directed the Siena offense superbly while playing all 40 minutes for the Indians.

Siena also received solid performances from forwards Steve McCoy and Eric Banks. Both players were strong underneath the basket for the Indians chipping in 19 and 14 points respectively.

"They got some hoops inside of us," said Chappelle.

The victory wasn't an easy one for the Indians as Maine held tough and during one second-half stretch took the lead from the Indians.

Maine erased a 45-38 halftime deficit by converting several Siena turnovers into tallies during the first eight minutes of the second half.

With a little over 13 minutes to go in the contest, Maine took a 51-49 lead when guard Matt Rossignol hit a pair of free throws.

The Black Bears' lead was short-lived as Siena forward Jim Mextorf put the Indians back in front for good with a three-point play.

Mextorf's score was the turning point for Siena as the Indians outscored Maine 28-18 the rest of the game. It also included a stretch of 10-0 late in the game which helped the Indians put the game out of reach. "It was a tough loss, we stayed in the game for 35 minutes and lost it in the last five," said Maine forward Mike Bittermann.

The Black Bears' attack was well-balanced featuring four players in double figures including T.J. Forester who led all scorers with 20 points. Boylen put in 15 with forward Rich Henry adding 10.

A bright note for the Black Bears was the performance of center Chip Bunker. Although still bothered by an ankle sprained during preseason, Bunker scored 13 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

"We've been having trouble with our offense without Chip," said Chappelle. "His return will allow us to get some poise."

Boylen agreed adding, "Chip's the key to our team."

Siena coach John Griffin was impressed with the Black Bears' improvement from last season.

"I think they have a better team this year," Griffin said. "(Maine's) a tough team to beat."

buzzer ended the first half, the fat lady had already sung a few tunes.

"We just didn't come out fired up the way we should have," first-year Siena coach Jerry McLaughlin said. "We let it get away."

"They (Black Bears) were a more physical team. It was tough for us to get on track," McLaughlin said.

The contest was tightly officiated with each team whistled for 26 fouls, despite the fact that both squads were playing zone defenses.

"The officiating took us right out of the game," McLaughlin said. They never let the kids play. We don't have much depth so it hurt us."

Gavett agreed saying the referees took control of the game. "It was a poorly officiated game. There were too many calls. The game got picky and sloppy. It was the refs' game not the kids' game."

Siena's frontcourt was in foul trouble throughout the game as was Maine's.

Theresa Frost and Laura Lord fouled out for the Indians and Kelly Nobert for the Black Bears.

The difference in the game was the play of Maine's second frontcourt unit of Debbie Duff, Crystal Cummings and Lynn McGouldrick.

The trio came off the bench to spell Nobert, Liz Coffin and Lauree Gott and combined for 33 points and 24 rebounds. Cummings was the big contributor scoring 14 points and pulling down 11 rebounds.

Siena, which finished last season at 16-12 in the Metropolitan Conference, outscored Maine 36-35 in an evenly played second half. The Indians improved their field goal percentage to 41 percent in the second half (31 percent for the game) while Maine dipped to 39 percent in the second frame (49 percent for the game).

Maine's balanced scoring attack was led by Coffin and Gott, who each scored 15 points. Cummings chipped in her 14 and Duff added 13.

"When we play together, we're tough," Gavett said. "We're going to be a tough team to beat."

Theresa MacKinnon paced the Indians with 15 points and Lord was next with 12.

Coffin led all rebounders with 13 and Siena's Lord was next with 12. Maine won the rebounding battle convincingly by a 58-39 margin.

The Black Bears return to action at 5:30 p.m. Thursday at the Memorial Gym when they take on the Husson College Braves.

UMO wrestling evens record at 4-4

BRUNSWICK — The UMO wrestling team was paced by three wins from 177-pounder Carl Cullenberg as the Black Bears topped Bowdoin 32-15, Norwich 26-18, and Maine Maritime Academy 46-5 in meets Saturday at Bowdoin College.

The victories improves UMO's record to 4-4.

Against Bowdoin, Maine picked up wins from Scott Taylor (126 pounds), Terry Patstone (134), Ralph McArthur (142), and Pat Kelly (150), all by forfeit.

NFL UPDATE: Week 14

by the Associated Press

The Cincinnati Bengals looked like the National Football League-leading Chicago Bears, at least as far as the Dallas Cowboys were concerned.

"It was very similar to the way the Bears came in fired up when we played them," quarterback Danny White said after the Bengals clobbered his Cowboys 50-24 Sunday.

The Bengals were led by quarterback Boomer Esiason, who threw three touchdown passes and directed a 22-point first-quarter blitz — the most points ever given up by a Dallas defense in an opening period.

The Dallas loss, coupled with the New York Giants 35-14 win over the Houston Oilers, knots the two teams in a 9-5 tie atop the NFC East. Washington's 17-12 win over the Philadelphia Eagles keeps the Redskins in playoff contention with a 8-6 mark.

The New England Patriots, New York Jets and Miami Dolphins came away victorious to keep the AFC lead locked between them at 10-4. The Patriots defeated the Detroit Lions, 23-6. The Jets stung the Buffalo Bills, 27-7. And Miami topped the Green Bay Packers, 34-24.

The Los Angeles Raiders took sole possession of first place in the AFC West with a 17-14 overtime win over Denver at Mile High Stadium. The Raiders at 10-4 are one game ahead of Denver and two ahead of Seattle. The Seahawks dumped the Cleveland Browns, 31-13, to keep their playoff hopes alive.

The AFC Central remains a jumble as Cleveland and Cincinnati are tied at 7-7. And Pittsburgh, at 6-7, plays a late game Sunday night.

The NFC Central leading Bears had a rougher time than expected against Indianapolis, winning 17-10 to improve their season record to 13-1.

The leader of the NFC West will be decided when San Francisco and the Los Angeles Rams duel at Candlestick Park Monday night.

Other scores were, Minnesota 26, Tampa Bay 7; St. Louis 28, New Orleans 16 and Kansas City 38, Atlanta 10.

MAYBE YOU'D GET MORE OUT OF NURSING IF YOU WORE A DIFFERENT UNIFORM.

When you become an Army nurse, you're immediately given the kind of responsibility most civilian nurses work years for.

Why? Because that uniform says you're more than a nurse. You're an Army officer, too.

Not only will you be responsible for providing patients with the best health care possible, you'll also be responsible for instructing others in how best to administer it.

That's what it means to be an officer in the Army Nurse Corps (ANC). To handle the position takes training. The kind you get in Army ROTC.

ROTC is the college program that trains you to become an officer. By helping you develop your leadership and management abilities.

Enrolling can benefit you in other ways. There are full-tuition scholarships available. And financial assistance. Up to $1,000 a year during your last two years in the program.

Enroll today. And step out of college and into the uniform of an Army nurse. You'll like the way it makes you look. And love the way it makes you feel.

For more information, contact your Professor of Military Science.

Tech

And with wing Todd Studnicka also penalized, the Black Bears will be hard-pressed to stop the nation's No. 1 team, Denver, Wednesday night at Alford Arena.

Tech lost wings Kevin Fritz and Marc Colvin, who have one goal and two assists between them on the season, and defenseman Steve Wendorf and Dave Reierson, who is the team's leading defensive scorer.

Maine coach Shawn Walsh, looking past the freshmen mistakes that are unfortunately part of the Black Bear's game, was pleased that his team shook off the past adversity of previous games to get the tie Friday. A key point that broke Maine's eight-game losing streak.

Maine spotted the Huskies a 3-0 lead off goals by right wings, Richard Novak (first), Randy McKay (second) and Doug Harris. It was shortly after the Harris goal with 2:58 left in the second period that Maine reversed the play of the first 37 minutes. During this span Maine could only muster 14 shots on goal.

Walsh cited Capuano's goal between the pads of Tech goalie Dave Roach (35 saves) at 18:42 in the second as the key to the comeback. Walsh used "three lines in the third period and got a little momentum going."

Maine, which had struggled and come up empty the four previous power-play attempts, took advantage of the Reierson's holding penalty on Mike McHugh 1:06 into the third period. Shawn Anderson netted the score off a screened-slap shot from just inside the blue line.

After McHugh tipped in the tying goal at 4:29, Anderson put the Black Bears up 4-3 on a two-on-one break with Bruce Major on the left and Anderson on the right. "I faked the pass to Major and the defense went with him," Anderson said. "Major brought the defenseman right out of the play. I went to the left side and put it in."

Novak put a damper on the Maine momentum, taking advantage of one of those freshman defensive errors — getting pinned up in the opponent's end — knocking a slap shot by goalie Al Loring (29 saves).

"We broke out of our end and had a two-on-one," Novak said. "I saw the wide-open ice on the right side and broke for it. Our center Tom Bisset was with me and he delayed and pulled the defenseman with him."

"I had to reach out to get the puck before it got away from me. I noticed the goalie was on the line; still kind of waiting for me to come in. I just got it away as quick as possible."

Maine survived the overtime after having killed two penalties. Tech tested Loring on eight shots to Maine's three on Roach.

On Saturday, the Black Bears had Todd Jenkins, back from an ankle injury, Loring, and the momentum on their side.

"The difference was Al Loring at 2-1," Walsh said of the score in the early second period. "He made numerous big saves, then our power play clicked."

Loring turned aside four Husky shots in the opening minutes of the second period, including a blast from wing Don Porter that the freshman goaltender had to glove over his left shoulder, en route to a 33-save performance.

"Then you got Todd Jenkins in there," Walsh said. "He gives us an ingredient we don't have a lot of. He's got speed."

Jenkins' speed could be attributed to the first goal of the game. The freshman center fielded in the middle from Studnicka and beat the defense to Tech goalie Tiger Pierce. Jenkins beat Pierce (25 saves) again in the second period to push the score to 5-1.

The Black Bears also registered two power-play tallies. Capuano (Anderson and Jenkins assist) gave Maine its third goal on a five-on-three advantage at 8:46. Sophomore center Dave Nonis added his first goal of the season on a five-on-four to give Maine a 4-1 lead.

The Husky goals were provided by Porter (first period on a power play), Novak (third) and Hamilton (third).

GET TWO EDUCATIONS FROM ONE COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP: THESE UMO STUDENTS DID!

An education in your chosen major.
And an education in becoming an Army officer. You get both with an Army ROTC scholarship.
Army ROTC is the college program that trains you to become an officer, a leader and a manager.
You take ROTC along with your other studies, and graduate with both a degree and a second lieutenant's commission.
Best of all, you can put both of your educations to work right away. In today's modern high-tech Army, we need engineers, communications experts, computer specialists, and other professionals.

Our scholarships cover full tuition and required fees. They also provide an amount for books, supplies and equipment, as well as up to $1000 each school year they're in effect.
So if you think all scholarships just provide you with a college degree, look into an Army ROTC scholarship. You'll be in for quite an education.
For more information, contact your Professor of Military Science.
