TO PHI KAPPA PHI

Words by
Prof. Chas. Weston

The musical score is written on five staves in a single system. It begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one flat (B-flat), and a common time signature. The melody consists of quarter and eighth notes, with some accidentals (sharps and naturals) appearing throughout. The lyrics are printed below the notes, with hyphens indicating syllables that span across multiple notes. The lyrics are: "Thine eight rayed sun brings joy With-in the Walls of Troy, Re-ward - ing those who try And have a-bil - i - ty, Served by the will to see, The truth that still makes free, And brings the thrill to be With-in Phi Kap- pa Phi."

Thine eight rayed sun brings joy With-in the Walls of Troy, Reward - ing those who try And have a-bil - i - ty, Served by the will to see, The truth that still makes free, And brings the thrill to be With-in Phi Kap- pa Phi.

2. Till love of learning rules
In colleges and schools,
And wisdom guides the land,
Oh, still, Phi Kappa Phi.
Proclaim thy precepts high,
Which we try to apply
And trust that by and by Mankind may understand.

3. Then trained in head and hand
With heart in full command,
The whole world will be freed
From ignorance that blights
And all mischance that frights,
While knowledge that delights,
And is thy pledge of rights,
Shall serve in every need.
