Big Winter Carnival Starts Tomorrow

Events Fan Interest In Romulo Talk

Assembly Address Is Next Wednesday

Interest in the appearance here next Wednesday of Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo, president of the United Nations General Assembly, has sharpened as a result of developing international complications.

Ambassador Romulo will speak at a general assembly in the Memorial Gym at 10:45 a.m.

Some of the many problems now facing the United States, the United Nations, Romulo's home Philippine government, and the world include:

(1) The possible future Philippine recognition of Communist China.

(2) The existing situation in Formosa, which is practically in the Philippine backyard.

(3) Present problems confronting the United Nations.

Quirino's Views Heard

Philippine President Elpidio Quirino told San Francisco reporters this week that recognition of China was "inevitable," provided certain conditions were met.

Because of Romulo's strategic position in the relations of East and West, these developments have heightened interest in whatever he may have to say.

This interest is reflected in statements by Wendall Hodgkins, member of the Politics and International Affairs Club, and James M. Whitten, instructor in World Problems.

Attendance Is Urged

Hodgkins said, "Students should appreciate what is being done through the United Nations and should put themselves out to go to the assembly. Only in this way can they hope to understand the United States' position and the workings of the U.N."

Mr. Whitten added, "I have had the pleasure of hearing and seeing General Romulo at the United Nations and he is a very dynamic speaker and an important spokesman of the spirit of New Asia."

Approximately 19 native Filipinos now living in the Bangor area will be among guests at a luncheon in honor of Ambassador Romulo and his wife next Wednesday noon at Estabrooke Hall.

Jorgensen Will Deliver Commencement Address

Professor Albert N. Jorgensen of the University of Connecticut will speak at the Commencement exercises Feb. 3 in the Women's Gym.

A dinner in Memorial Gym will precede the presentation of degrees to 200 graduating students and certificates of merit to student wives. Rabbi Milton H. Elefant will offer the prayer.

EDDIE CANTOR

Eddie Cantor To Stage Show Here Jan. 24

Eddie Cantor is coming to the University.

The veteran showman of 40 years will make an appearance at the Memorial Gym Tuesday, Jan. 24, on behalf of the Good Will Chest. Two shows are scheduled at 7 and 9 p.m.

Cantor, who is currently appearing at colleges and universities throughout the country, will put on two hour and a half shows on "American Humor," an account of his years on the stage and radio.

Tickets for persons outside the University will be available in various stores in nearby cities and towns.

Coronation Ceremonies, Ski Events To Highlight Largest Festival Ever

Three-Day Affair To End Sunday; Maine-Bowdoin Clash Saturday Night

By JOHN MURPHY

The biggest Winter Carnival in history highlighted by the crowning of a Carnival King and Queen, intercollegiate and intramural ski events and the Maine-Bowdoin basketball game, will open Friday afternoon and will rule uncontested until Sunday afternoon.

The ski events will open the program with intercollegiate competition scheduled for Bald Mountain and intramural events for the University slope on the other side of the Stillwater. The coronation will take place at the Ice Review Friday evening and the basketball game will be Saturday night in Memorial Gym.

President Hauck will crown the Carnival King and Queen at the Ice Review, which starts at 6:45 p.m. at the skating rink. Last year's Queen, Mary Marsden Shedd, will present loving cups to the royal couple. If there is no ice, the coronation will be held at 10:45 p.m. at the Intramural Ball.

Perry Borelli to Play

The Ball, sponsored by the Intramural Athletic Association, will feature the music of Perry Borelli. The formal will be held from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. in Memorial Gymnasium.

To handle the overflow, the Maine Outing Club is sponsoring a Snow Ball from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Women's Gym. The coronation, should it be held at the Intramural Ball, will be open to all attending the Snow Ball.

In Race for Royalty

Candidates for Carnival Queen are Dorothea Butler, Lois Hunter, Nancy Knowles, and Constance Webb. Tom Collins, Ted Hawkes, John Milton, and Jim Demetrien are King candidates. The royal couple, although elected yesterday, will not be revealed until Friday night.

Other opening night festivities include a showing of ski films at 8:30 in the Oakes Room, a song fest and informal get-together from 8 to 11:30 in Carnegie Lounge, skating from 8 to 11:30 at the rink, and sleigh rides, continuous from 9 to 11, starting at Carnegie.

Editor Larry Pinkham Hospitalized in N. H.

Larry Pinkham, editor of the Campus, has been hospitalized in Franklin, N. H., since the Wednesday after Christmas. He is recovering from influenza. He hopes to be able to return to school the latter part of this week.

The complete schedule of the final examinations of Jan. 25-Feb. 3 will be found on Pages 5 and 6.

Registration System Eliminates Line-Standing; New Procedure Varies From College To College

There will be no more long hours standing in line in the Memorial gym to register. According to an announcement this week from the Registrar's office, students will bypass the gym and register in various offices during the period of final exams.

The procedure varies from college to college, however.

In the colleges of Agriculture and Technology, students must go to their major instructors for their envelope of cards containing registration card, program cards, and class cards. All students except veterans must go to the Treasurer's and the Registrar's offices. Veterans must proceed first to 109 East Annex before going to the Treasurer.

In the college of Arts and Sciences and the School of Education, students must go to their dean's office and pick up their envelope of cards. Then all except veterans will proceed to the Registrar's and Treasurer's offices.

The same procedure applies in general to graduate students.

The Treasurer's office will be open from 8:15 to 11:50 a.m. and 1:10 to 4:20 p.m., and the Registrar's office from 8:15 to 11:50 a.m. and 1:10 to 4:50 p.m.

Maine Student Dead In Auto Crash; One Hurt

One Maine student was killed and another critically injured in a two-car crash in Waterville shortly after midnight on New Year's eve.

Silas T. Lawry, a sophomore chemical engineering student from Fairfield, died of head injuries soon after the accident.

Lawry served for 18 months in the Marine Corps and attended the Brunswick Annex last year. He lived in Dunn Hall.

Louis J. Audet, a junior majoring in education and a member of Phi Mu Delta, received serious head injuries, bone fractures, and multiple lacerations. He was placed on the danger list at a Waterville hospital and at last reports he was improving but still in danger.

Five other persons were injured in the accident, one of whom was riding in the car with Lawry and Audet.

Financial Report Made By Sophs

To provide permanently for the support of the University, the state legislature in 1929 passed an act levying a tax of one mill on the general property valuation of the State.

Ski Safety Film Show Planned

"Ski Tips," a full-color sound motion picture on skiing safety, will be shown at 7 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 17 and 18, at the regular meeting of the ski patrol in Room 21, Wingate hall.

Arrangements for the showing were made by the University of Maine volunteer Ski Patrol. The public is invited.

Narrated by Lowell Thomas, radio commentator and an enthusiastic skier, "Ski Tips" was produced as a loss-prevention service by the Motion Picture Bureau of the Aetna Life Affiliated Companies of Hartford, Connecticut, and is being distributed by the Public Education Department of the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company.

Filed on the slopes of Franconia Notch, New Hampshire, "Ski Tips" tells the story of safe skiing practices and of the work of the National Ski Patrol system.

Requirements Are Responsibility Of Student, Dean Points Out

"Every student should know where he's going and keep a record of where he has been."

That is the view of Joseph M. Murray, dean of the college of Arts and Sciences, expressed in an interview concerning students who find—too late—that they lack credits for graduation.

Dean Murray said that every year about this time, and just before graduation in June, there are always a few students who come to his office saying that they have been misguided about the number of credit hours they were supposed to have.

Student Is Responsible

"The thing that we are trying to impress upon these few students is that it is impossible to put that responsibility on somebody else. It is the student's own responsibility," Dean Murray said.

The Dean said that all students are under obligation to read the catalog and other material concerning hours and credits. If there is then any confusion, the student should see either his advisor or the dean of his particular college.

"Many of the students we have talked to frankly admit that they have never read the catalog statement of graduation requirements," Dean Murray added.

Advisors Bear Brunt

The Dean said that the advisors bear the brunt of student grievances. He pointed out, however, that advisors sometimes have as many as forty students to consult and that the advisors cannot change the catalog or be held responsible for the student's misreading of it.

"A clerical error can be corrected, but an error which is made because of the failure of a student to find out where he stands in the first place is very difficult to correct," Dean Murray said.

The Dean said that even in the freshman year the student should begin familiarizing himself with all requirements for graduation.

Dr. Bull To Lead Services

Religious services at the Little Theatre on Sunday, Jan. 15 at 11 a.m. will be conducted by Dr. Wilbur I. Bull, minister of the Oxford County United Parish Church in Waterford. Dr. Bull is the father of Miriam Bull, a junior.

Top Prize Of $500 For Best Thesis In Clement Contest

The Percival Wood Clement Prize of $500 will be awarded to the writer of the best thesis on the topic "The Development of the Constitutional Relationship Between the Executive and Legislative Branches of the National Government."

Juniors and seniors at the University of Maine are eligible to enter this contest along with those of 18 other New England colleges and universities. Entries should not exceed 3000 words in length and must be submitted to the chairman of the committee, George S. Miller, dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences of Tufts College, Medford 55, Mass., not later than April 1, 1950.

Cambridges' Happy Home Life Shows How Big Trailer Can Be

The housing problem is where you find it—but one place you won't find it at University of Maine Trailer No. 26, Orono, where a family of four are happily sharing one hundred square feet of floor space.

Census of the 21-foot trailer is as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cambridge, Bobbie, their cat.

Punch, their Chihuahua dog.

"Sometimes we do feel rather outnumbered," Mrs. Cambridge admitted.

But the situation is about 43 per cent better than it was before Thanksgiving, when Punch's three puppies, Brownie, Blackie, and Sissie, were sharing the space with the rest of the family. They have since been given away.

Puppies Were "Accident"

"The puppies were sort of an accident," Mr. Cambridge said. "We suspect that the father is a local cocker spaniel, but I guess there's no way of knowing for sure. It didn't bother us much, anyhow."

Sleeping quarters for Punch are in the "bedroom" end of the trailer and consist of a medium-sized carton furnished with a cushion, a rubber bone and a rubber hot dog. Bobbie, the cat, makes her bed on a hooked rug at the trailer's opposite end.

According to Mrs. Cambridge, the two animals are relatively quiet at night, although it has only been a short time since Sissie and Blackie stopped falling out of bed several times between midnight and dawn.

Animals are Trustworthy

Discreet questioning revealed that the animals are aware of the difference between indoors and out, and can be trusted to keep house during weekdays, when Mr. Cambridge is attending classes and his wife is working at the University's new Plant Science building, where she is employed by the Agronomy Department. Up to the present, nothing really catastrophic has happened during their absence. Once, however, Sissie and Blackie, the puppies, succeeded in unfastening and pulling open a drawer containing a pound of cotton batting which Mrs. Cambridge had bought to repair a mattress. "It was such a shock when I came in the door that night," she says. "The floor was just white with little tufts of cotton, and Sissie and Blackie were practically unrecognizable. They had it in their eyes, in their ears, in their noses—everywhere they could have it—and they looked so innocent I didn't have the heart to scold them."

Puppies Got "Lost"

Then there was the time when they got lost and simply couldn't be found anywhere in the neighborhood, though the Cambridges hunted high and low. The only explanation seemed to be that they'd been kidnapped—"We knew they couldn't have waddled out of the area"—but they were finally discovered cuddled under the warm end of a dry-mop which had fallen from its hook in the entry Mr. Cambridge built on the outside of the trailer.

Mr. Cambridge, who already holds a B.S. degree in education, will complete his requirements for a B.S. in mechanical engineering this coming June. Until then, both Cambridges are content to stay in their present quarters.

"We're very happy here," she says, "all four of us. But John and I have never stopped congratulating ourselves for getting a trailer-size dog in the first place."

Bob Merchant Killed In Tokyo

Lt. Robert W. Merchant, '48, was killed Dec. 21 in a fall from an upper floor of the Union Club in Tokyo.

Merchant, 26, is remembered by Maine students as a popular student leader, campus mayor for 1947-48, and a pitcher on the baseball team. He received his Army commission from the R.O.T.C. here and went to Japan last year.

His education here was interrupted by three years of service in the Army Signal Corps during World War II. He was the son of Warren Merchant of Camden.

Kimball Reports His Revision Completed

Dr. Spofford H. Kimball, head of the department of mathematics and astronomy, has completed his revision of the textbook, "Plane and Spherical Trigonometry," and the book is now being published for use next semester in colleges and universities all over the country.

Originally written by Claude I. Palmer and Charles W. Leigh, the text was published in 1914 by the McGraw-Hill Book Company. It has been a leader in its field for 35 years and has gone through five editions.

Joanne Mayo Is New Panhell Council Prexy

Joanne Mayo, '51, has been elected president of the Panhellenic council, following the vacancy created in that position by the resignation of Virginia Littlefield, who has withdrawn from the University.

Miss Mayo has served the council as a representative of Chi Omega.

Caroline Beckler, Phi Mu, has been named to the council as a representative of Chi Omega.

Maine was the first region in the United States to build a church.

"Sculpture Lesson," a photographic exhibition prepared by the editors of Life magazine, is now being shown in the Louis Oakes Room of the library. Based on an article in Life, the exhibit illustrates the basic steps in modeling clay and casting as demonstrated by William Zorach, distinguished American sculptor.

The show is divided into three sections: (1) the actual creation of a figure in clay, (2) the making of the mould, and (3) the final step of casting.

Twenty large photographic panels mounted on aluminum compose the exhibit. The photographs are by Life photographer Eric Schail.

Several Prism Proofs Remain Unidentified

Walter St. Onge, Jr., editor of the 1951 Prism, said this week that several unidentified proofs still remain in the Prism office in East Annex. Students who have not yet received their proofs can pick them up there.

St. Onge also reported that no more proofs would be accepted for publication.

Prof. Hatch To Speak

Clarence R. Hatch, assistant professor of Romance languages, will speak in French to members of Le Cercle Francais next Wednesday, Jan. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the MCA building. Prof. Hatch will discuss the work of the VA with blinded veterans.

Have you seen the new Campus office? Drop in.

Alumni To Help Grads Get Jobs

University seniors and graduates will be aided in seeking jobs by 18 alumni placement committees extending from Maine to Ohio, according to an announcement by Philip J. Brockway, director of student aid and placement.

Brockway said that 138 Maine graduates holding executive positions in various large cities throughout the eastern part of the country have volunteered to aid Maine graduates in locating employment.

He added that members of the committees would consult with graduates who seek jobs in a particular area.

John Stimpson Heads Maine Day Program

John H. Stimpson, 50, has been named by the General Student Senate as chairman of the Maine Day program to be held May 17.

Stimpson, who was the unanimous choice of the nomination committee, served on last year's program as projects leader. He is the business manager of the Maine Campus and is head proctor of Oak Hall.

Library Closes Friday

The circulation desk, reference room, and stacks of the Library will close at 5 p.m. Friday, Jan. 13. The reserve book reading room will be open as usual. Patrons wishing to use material from other parts of the library may have it brought to the reserve desk before 5 p.m.

The Library will be open as usual on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 14 and 15.

Phones Back In Men's Dorms

Reinstallation of telephones in Dunn Hall and New Dorm #3 has been completed.

Five telephones had been removed several weeks ago as the result of tampering. Slugs, pennies, and pieces of string were found inside the telephones, and in some instances repairs had to be made.

Just before the Christmas recess, petitions were circulated about the two dormitories asking for the reinstatement of the phones. The request was supplemented with a guarantee that there would be no more tampering.

Henry L. Doten, business manager for the University, said that his office acted as the intermediary between the petitioning students and the telephone company.

Skis, Skates And Students

The Maine campus will turn into a winter wonderland this Friday and Saturday as the 1950 Winter Carnival takes over. Although officials of the annual event had been somewhat gloomy about the lack of snow, the last few days have been happy days as far as winter sports devotees are concerned.

From all indications the carnival will be the biggest ever seen at Maine. Stories elsewhere in this issue of the Campus bear this out.

Among this year's new events, two should be singled out for comment.

The reintroduction of the king of the Winter Carnival brings back a tradition that was prominent in bygone years.

The Ice Revue is brand new and is something that students should not miss. The participants have practiced long and hard in preparing it.

It would be unfair, however, to attempt to praise any one individual or organization for work done to make this highlight of the winter season possible. Its success will be due to teamwork and coordination among the various groups taking part.

Maine students should remember that the success or failure of the event depends upon their support. They can make it the biggest thing ever to strike the campus or the worst flop ever seen here.

Welcome, General

Next Wednesday, students and faculty here at the University will have an opportunity to hear a world figure—General Carlos P. Romulo, president of the United Nations General Assembly.

In view of the present international situation, General Romulo's address will draw wide public attention. Because the United Nations is playing such a vital role and has so much at stake, in the great chess game of world politics, this is a great opportunity for us. It is our chance to gain a new insight into the world organization and the work that it has been doing. We shall hear about the UN from a man who holds top responsibility in it and who helped to found it.

Romulo was elected president of the fourth regular session of the General Assembly last September. His election gave recognition to the effective work he had done in the UN's trail-blazing years.

An aide on the staff of General MacArthur during the Pacific War, Romulo was wounded and received numerous decorations for the gallant part he played in the liberation of the Philippines.

In 1942 he won the Pulitzer Prize in journalism for distinguished correspondence for a series of articles on the Far Eastern situation.

In addition, Romulo is the author of several best sellers on the young Philippine republic. He has also received awards for his work in the United Nations for peace and world government.

Thus we are privileged to see and hear next Wednesday a scholar, soldier, statesman, and journalist—a key figure in the world today. He will be our guest. Let's give him the welcome that a man of his position and record deserves.

According To St. James

By DICK ST. JAMES

Well, time to write that column again. Let's see, it's been three weeks since I last wrote one and it's going to be tough getting back into the swing of things. Oh, well, might as well get at it.

Hmmm—this isn't going to be easy at all. Not a darn thing to blast anyone about. Can't even make anything up to blast about.

How about the Winter Carnival? Maybe I could put in a plug for that and urge everyone to attend and make it the biggest and best Carnival of all. No, I guess I'd better not. The paper will be full of Winter Carnival anyway and everyone will go and have a big time whether I say anything about it or not.

Let's see, what's next? Hey, maybe I could do something out of this being such a mild winter. Something about Old Man Winter getting soft and—aw, heck, just my luck, it snowed the other day and it's about 20 below out right now. If I wrote about how mild it was, we'd probably have a blizzard. So much for that.

Man, I've got to get started on this thing. There must be something—ah, I have it. I'll tell about my Christmas recess. Nobody would read it but I've got to have something. Now, let's see—hmmm—gosh, I can't remember enough about it. Must have had a good time though. Spent a lot of money.

I guess I could go down and talk to Sludgey and tell about his recess, though. No, guess not. He probably can't remember his either, and even if he could it'd be too hot to handle. Wonder how much money he spent. Some horror he was with at the dance. She didn't look too bad with her tooth in, though.

Where was I? Trying to write a column. I guess I thought I was pretty clever when I agreed to do this last year. Sure, name in the paper every week in big letters, fame, write about anything you want, nothing to it. Not such a snap after all, is it? Can't please everybody, either. Not even most of them.

I wonder who that coed is who said she'd punch me right in the nose if she ever met me. Just because she didn't like what I wrote.

What do you suppose I'd do if some girl did come up and punch me right in the nose, just like that? Laugh it off or turn my back? Heck, no. I guess I'd pick myself up and hit her back. After all, the least she could do is introduce herself to me. I'm nobody's fool about a thing like that.

Holy Smoke, it's 2 a.m. Gotta have a column—Aw, nuts. I'll go to bed and get up early to write it. Maybe I'll have a good interesting dream.

The Dull Edge

By STEVE RILEY

ORONOTE...A new addition to the town's night life is in the offing. Reports from Orono have a new dine and dance establishment opening on the University side of the river. When? Nobody seems to know.

MAINE MEN...Maine's newest musical outfit will be unveiled Feb. 24 when Calandro's Maine Men will play for the dance following the varsity band's concert at Portland City Hall.

CARNIVAL...The Carnival program is unintentionally misleading. Guests up for the week end CANNOT go to the basketball game on the fifty cent Carnival ducat. The game still requires a student pass.

EXAMS...Those who attended a faculty meeting of the college of Arts and Sciences have indicated that the proposal to eliminate senior finals has been taken out and measured for a pine box. The only thing lacking is the official death certificate which is forthcoming.

WE PREDICT...that the band will play some new numbers at the basketball games before the season is over...the '50 Prism will be out before the month is up...and the constitutionality of the petition system for nominating class officers will be challenged by a member of the Men's Senate.

BACKWASH...A recent cartoon in the Campus brought forth a lively reaction and a cry of "poor taste" from one quarter. On the other hand, many students thought that the take-off on the New Cafeteria had more punch than the usual run of Campus cartoons.

CHARACTERS...There are a few guys (and gals) that stake out a claim to one of the 22 seats around the bookstore snack bar, prop a book up in front of them and park there for a period or so. Meanwhile a mob is milling around looking for a place to sit in order to get a reviving eight-center before taking off for class.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK...from the Connecticut Campus—"The Uconn JV's could beat any team in the Yankee Conference except Rhode Island." Oh?

RADIOACTION...Members of the Radio Guild are citing two examples in an effort to establish a campus radio station. They are Bowdoin's B.O.T.A. and the powerful station here at Maine in 1926-27.

Thieves' Highway?

To the Editor: If you are one of the hundreds of students who hang your coats on the hooks outside the classrooms—be careful.

During the recent sub-zero temperatures, I wore my genuine, Arctic Champion, rabbit fur-lined gloves to class. I stuck them way down in the deep pockets of my coat and trustingly hung this coat on a hook provided outside the classroom. I then went to class for an hour.

Coming out at the end of the period, I found one pair of genuine, Arctic Champion, rabbit fur-lined gloves—MINUS. What is more important, also minus was a firm conviction I had carried for almost three-and-a-half years about the honesty of the Maine student.

I can see the fallacy of condemning the whole student body because of one misbegotten act, but that has been the history of group condemnation right along the line. So, if you are a regular corridor hook user, don't get caught—either way.

—R. A. P.

Comment On Cannon

To the Editor: Being very much interested in the old cannon mounted in front of Fernald Hall and near the Beta tennis courts, I venture to call to your attention several errors in your article about them in the Dec. 15 Campus.

The "Beta cannons" are not 11 inches but a smaller though similar model. The original "Monitor" that fought the "Virginia" or "Merrimac" did carry 11 inch smooth bores. Many of the "monitors" built later carried 15-inch smooth bores.

Llewellyn N. Edwards, '98, who gave these four cannon to the University, was formerly Bridge Engineer of the Maine State Highway Commission and later was with the Department of Public Roads at Washington. I believe he still resides in the suburbs of Washington and is retired. Unless I am greatly mistaken, he never had any connection with Philadelphia. You can check up on this by consulting Professor H. W. Leavitt in the New Engineering building.

Except for these slight errors your article was excellent and very interesting. I hope you will print more similar articles.

A. C. LYON, '02
Professor Emeritus of Hydraulic Engineering

Editor's Note: Prof. Lyon is right on both counts. The cannons measure only about 9 inches and Mr. Edwards, who now lives near Washington, was not connected with Philadelphia in any capacity.

Windbreak Needed

To the Editor: The weather is getting very cold now, and will be colder in the months to come. But bus riders going to Bangor or Old Town who use the Beta bus stop are still freezing, and for no good reason as far as I can see. Why can't someone, either the University or the Penobscot Transportation Company, have windbreakers built at that stop?

Surely this isn't an unreasonable request. With the present conflict between class schedules and bus schedules students are faced with a wait of at least twenty minutes, and often longer, before the bus comes. And, baby, it's cold outside!

Year ain't been the very best; Purty hard by trouble pressed; But the rough way leads to rest— Here's hopin'!

—Stanton

The campus, after its nice long Christmas vacation, rather lagged in its social activities last week end. It seemed reluctant to get back into the swing of things. Either too many parties over vacation, or the prospect of finals, could possibly be the "why" in this case.

However, regardless of other factors, old Cupid still kept his arrows flying.

Pinned over vacation were:

Shirley West, Braintree, Mass., to Ben Blanchard, Sig Ep; Wynn Hackley, Waban, Mass., to Dick

Hutchins, Sig Ep; Mary Hastings, Colvin, to John Dumas, Delta Tau; Marilyn Larochele, Portland, to Dick Savage, Theta Chi; Carol Leavitt, Colvin, to Scotty Webster, Sigma Nu; Lorraine Cormier, to Pete Armstrong, Kappa Sig; Marny Moore, to Don Barron, Kappa Sig.

Engaged were:

Gerry Lamb, to Ray Kenneally; Carline Richards, to Don Smaha; Sydney Whittier, to Joe Klenk, Mariden, Conn.; Virginia Lee, to Charlie Chu, Penn. # No Relief Visible For Java Prices

BY JIM BARROWS

Despite students' chagrin over paying 8 cents a cup for Bookstore coffee, no alleviation of the situation seems in sight.

Coffee prices topped off a rising spiral with a record 89 cents a pound within the last two weeks. Prices may go higher, even to a dollar a pound.

Unofficial Carnegie Hall sources here state that coffee sales have dropped off as a result of the price hike. But they add, "It might just be the warm weather."

The students seem to be shying from coffee, disliking the pennies which they must carry about, and switching to substitutes such as the canned fruit juices sold for only two cents more.

So far only one person seems happy about the drop in coffee sales. "One thing about it," said Owen Warren who works at the counter in Carnegie "there aren't so many cups to wash."

Bear Facts

By JOHN MURPHY

The University of Maine basketball team lost two games and won one on last week's New England trip but the losses brought a lot more satisfaction to Maine fans than did the win over Northeastern.

In their nine-point loss to Connecticut and their four-point loss to Rhode Island, the Bears showed that they are beginning to hit their stride. The system is starting to jell.

Maine refused to run with Red Haire's fast-breaking Rhody club but the 70 points they racked up don't show any signs of a stall. The boys worked the ball in and out of the Ram defense until the openings appeared.

Charlie Goddard brightened the Maine attack as he regained his old form, dropping in 17 against Connecticut, 11 against Rhode Island and 13 against Northeastern.

The crowd attitude at Rhode Island, according to the good doctor, was fine. Now that Frank Keany and Eck Allen no longer clash twice a year, the game seems to have changed again from football to basketball.

Wonder just what a crowd's attitude shows. The Connecticut audience was rated tops by several of the players, followed closely by Rhode Island. Northeastern is always good with so many Maine alumni on hand. Let's clean up our own backyard before the next game.

Incidentally, the basketball warmup suits are out for this season or so it appears. Despite attempts to figure out a way, the athletic budget couldn't be stretched to take in the suits. We'll have to rally 'round the blue and gold for another year.

After hearing the disputes about several high school basketball games around the state, it might be a good idea to sound the finish of a basketball game with a gun. There might just be a few close ones and the buzzer can't be heard any too clearly above the crowd noise in Memorial Gym.

Don Barron, captain of and guard on the Black Bear football team last fall, was named to the second team Little All-American squad last week.

Bruce Mather, New Hampshire's ace passer, also made the second club with Barron. Mather told one Maine student during vacation that Al Wing was a unanimous choice for New Hampshire's all-opponent team.

Barron, along with fullback Gordy Pendleton, received another pat on the back from Connecticut which placed the Maine duo on its all-opponent squad.

Pendleton was tabbed as one of the hardest running backs that the UConn met all season. Bob D'Agostino of Springfield, who scored five touchdowns against Maine, also was picked along with three backs from the Kent State team which walloped Connecticut, and a back from Tufts.

Big Bill Simpson, who starred at Bates for the past few seasons, hit the records several times in the 1950 Official Basketball Guide.

Simpson rated 13th among small-college scorers last season with a 21.5 points per game average for 344 points. He dropped 118 of 156 fouls for a .756 average. He was 14th in single-game scoring leaders with 42 points against Bowdoin and was seventh among single-game free throw leaders with 14 out of 16 against Bowdoin, presumably the same night.

Intramural, Rice Track Planned For Jan. 16-17

The fieldhouse these days is ringing with the familiar bang of the starting gun and the cry, "track," as the Freshman and varsity track teams start working in earnest for the indoor season.

The two meets that were held before the Christmas vacation were not as indicative of the outlook for the season as will be the intramural and Charles Rice meets which will be held on the first of next week.

Races Tuesday Night
Both meets will be run off at the same time, the weight events will be held on Monday and Tuesday afternoons and the track events will be run off on Tuesday night. The intramural meet will be for non-lettermen and the Rice meet will be run by the lettermen.

In the track events, as much as possible, men who are to run in both meets will run at the same time and individual times will be taken and recorded for the meet in which the man is entered. In this way everyone will have a chance to work against the school's top competition.

Freshmen Shape Up
The Frosh team this year shows some promise of rounding into pretty good shape. The record of the Frosh-Soph meet and the Colby relays showed that the Frosh strength lies in the weights, the short distances and hurdles, and the pole vault.

Improved Bears Shine On Road

Coach Rome Rankin's basketball team returned here last Sunday following what might be called a very successful New England trip, although the result in games was the usual two losses and one victory.

Top Northeastern, 56-40
The lone Maine victory came Saturday night when the tiring Bears dumped Joe Zabalskie's Northeastern club, 56 to 40, but only 15 points kept Maine from making it three successive wins.

Connecticut won the Thursday night game by a 65-56 score but was forced to rally in the final seven minutes. Charlie Goddard with 17 points was high for Maine.

Maine Plays Click
Maine plays which clicked against Connecticut worked equally as well against Rhode Island Friday night but the loss of four men—Charlie Goddard, Al Hopkins, Wes Hussey, and Larry Mahaney—on fouls was too much for the Bears. Rhode Island held onto their late game lead and won 74 to 70.

Bert Goddard topped the Maine attack with 21 points, high for the three-game trip.

At Boston Saturday against Northeastern, Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside, as the Boston papers tabbed Charlie and Bert Goddard, paced the weary Bears to a 56-40 victory.

Pulling away 13 to 0 after three minutes, Maine led at half time, 36 to 16. Bert Goddard was again tops for the Rankinmen with 18 points while brother Charlie scored 13 points.

Saturday night in a Winter Carnival feature, the Bears will resume State Series play when they tangle with Bowdoin's Polar Bears. Maine is leading the series with three wins and no defeats.

Battery Drills Open Baseball Monday

The third member of Maine's new era of major sport coaches, Milo R. (Mike) Lude, has issued the call for all baseball batterymen interested in trying out for the Pale Blue nine this spring.

With a heavy slate in store for his squad, Coach Lude will meet with his pitchers and catchers Monday afternoon at 4:30 at the field house.

Hoop Game Plus Collegiate And Intramural Events Are Listed

By BOB SLOSSER

A heavy snowfall over the week end overjoyed the ardent winter sports enthusiasts and relieved some of the headaches of the promoters of the annual Winter Carnival, which is slated to get underway tomorrow afternoon at 1:30, with a full schedule of sports events running through Sunday afternoon.

Now all they have to worry about is the wrath of the rain gods, should it be decided that the good fortune of six inches of snow and temperatures of ten below zero is not deserved.

The air surrounding the Winter Carnival committee, headed by Charles Broomhall, is filled with optimism, however, and it is believed that the combined invitational collegiate ski meet, the intramural get-together, and the Maine-Bowdoin state series hoop clash, which together feature more than 25 events, will be run off as scheduled.

Friday Events
The highlight of the Friday afternoon events, beginning at 1:30, will be the collegiate ski events, the slalom and downhill, at Bald Mountain.

Buses for spectators will leave for the mountain at 12:45 and will travel back and forth with the demand.

The intramural downhill and slalom events will get underway at 2 o'clock at the University slope across the Stillwater river.

Saturday Events
On Saturday morning at 9:30, the collegiate cross country event will start at the Memorial Gym, as will the intramural cross country.

At 10:30, intramural dashes will be run off at the women's athletic field.

The highlight of the Saturday afternoon events will be the collegiate jumping contest at the University jump at 1:30, followed by the intramural jumping at 3.

Maine-Bowdoin Game
Saturday's athletic events will be climaxed by the Maine-Bowdoin basketball game, which is expected to draw a capacity crowd to see whether the Pale Blue lads can continue their domination of the state series teams. The Maine freshmen will meet Hebron Academy in a preliminary game scheduled for 6:30.

On Sunday afternoon, there will be three intramural hockey games played at the ice rink, starting at 1:30, while there will be faculty and student sports events at the women's athletic field at 2.

It is noteworthy that for those who do not plan to attend the Intramural Ball Friday evening or the basketball game Saturday evening, ski films will be shown both nights in the Louis Oakes room, starting at 8:30.

Members Of M Club Adopt Constitution

The University "M" Club adopted its first constitution at the last meeting to mark the first step in what Ed McDermott, club president, stated was "a drive to revive the faltering organization."

All members of the "M" Club who are married or live off-campus are requested to contact either McDermott or secretary Bob Kelly at the Kappa Sigma house to facilitate the drawing-up of a membership list.

This move is being made, according to McDermott, in order to aid club officers in contacting members and notifying them about meetings.

Frosh Will Meet Hebron In Prelim

Maine's potent frosh hoopsters will be after their second win of the current campaign Saturday night when they meet Hebron Academy. The 6:30 game will be a preliminary to the varsity's clash with Bowdoin.

Coach Hal Westerman will probably start the same five that opened against Maritime in the Yearlings' first game. Len Carville and Dave Anderson are slated to start at the forward posts with big Ernie Sutton at center and Al Hackett and Johnny Dana holding down the guard spots. The Junior Bears have a carload of reserve strength and it's almost certain that Westerman will take advantage of it.

Ray Crosby, whose last second basket gave the Frosh their win over the Middies, and Joe Alex are likely to see action at the guard positions and 6 ft. 4 in. Glenn Folsom will be available to relieve Sutton.

Students Praise Rankin Team, But Want More Speed

By WALT SCHURMAN

The student body is solidly behind Dr. Rome Rankin but not yet unanimously enthusiastic about his style of basketball. At least that seems to be the campus view as revealed by an abbreviated poll conducted this week.

The students were asked: "What do you think of Rankin-type basketball?" Answers were:

NORMAN MOULTON, '52: I think slow basketball is fine for better control of the ball, but I think fast breaks should be used, too. On the whole, I like the Rankin style.

BILL CARRIGAN, '50: The faster the game the more thrills. I'd like to see it speeded up a little.

CARL WIGHT, '52: a winning style is a good style, whether it be the Maine varsity or the Balentine girls.

JOHN GIBSON, '52: I think Rome Rankin should go back to Rome.

NORTON SINERT, '50: I think the system is fundamentally good, but the team needs more finesse, and the system doesn't fit the players he now has.

BILL MATSON, '52: I think Rankin-type basketball will eventually be a success, but the games won so far have been won by accurate shooting instead of slow methodical play.

Sunday Hockey Games Cap Carnival Week End

The intramural hockey season will open Sunday afternoon at 1:15 with three games scheduled as a climax to the Winter Carnival.

First of the three games, originally scheduled for last Saturday, will see the Eskimos facing the Cyclones. The Black Hawks will meet the Blue Devils at 2:30 and the Olympics will play the Bruins in the 3:30 finale.

Winter Carnival Expected To Be Largest Ever

day will carry students to Bald Mountain for the intercollegiate ski events. Friday afternoon intramural ski events on the University slope are women's slalom, 2 o'clock; men's slalom, 2:15; men's downhill, 2:45; women's downhill, 3; and a couples' novelty slalom at 3:15.

Snow sculptures will be judged by MOC officials Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

The collegiate cross country race will open the Saturday morning skiing at 9:30 followed by the intramural cross country race. Both of these will start from Memorial Gym.

Intramural Events

Saturday morning intramural events, to be held on the women's athletic field, are women's snowshoe dash trials, 10:30; men's ski dash trials, 10:40; women's finals, 10:50; men's finals, 11; women's ski dash trials, 11:10; men's relay, 11:20; women's finals, 11:30; men's novelty race, 11:40; women's relay race, 11:50; combined men and women novelty, 12.

Collegiate ski jumping will begin at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the University jump followed by intramural jumping at 3 p.m.

The Frosh basketball squad will oppose Hebron Academy in a preliminary to the Maine-Bowdoin game Saturday evening at 6:30.

Vic Dance and Song Fest

From 8 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. an informal vic dance and song fest will be held at the Women's Gym. Ski films will be shown in the Oakes Room at 8:30 p.m. and a broadcast of the basketball game will be heard at Carnegie Hall. The skating rink and MOC skating cabin will be open.

Three intramural hockey games, beginning at 1:30 Sunday afternoon at the skating rink, and a faculty-student sports program, starting at 2 in the Women's Gym, will end the Carnival week end.

General Senate Refuses Debate On Petition System Legality

In the first meeting of the calendar year, the General Student Senate refused to take action in answer to the questioning of the legality of the petition system by Robert Moran, president of OCCUMO.

Moran posed the question near the end of the routine business meeting, declaring that "as a great student of rules and regulations" he had studied the class constitution which calls for primary elections. The petition system was designed to eliminate the primary elections for candidates for class officers.

No Action By Senate

Russ Meade, representing the class of 1951, suggested that the clause "arranged by the General Senate" would take care of any discrepancy. Senate members did not take any stand on the issue.

A motion to select a committee to study the constitutions of the General Senate, the Men's Senate, the Women's en's Student Government Association, and of the four classes was passed. The purpose of the committee is to recommend a manner of codifying the constitutions to prevent overlapping authority. Robert Moran was named chairman of the committee which has Dwight Demeritt, Edward McDermott, and Margaret Murray as other members.

Three On Committee

Paul Chasse, Lloyd Erkskine, and Dorothea Butler were named as Senate representatives to the Committee on Foreign Students.

The committee named to study ways of publishing the Annual Freshman Handbook includes George Grant, Mary Whitcomb, Grace Murray, Norton Sawyer, and Tom Collins.

The Senate accepted the resignation of Elwood Bigelow, previously named to the Publications Board. His successor will be named at the next Senate meeting.

Maine Weather Dampens Floridians' Holidays

Students who spent the Christmas holidays in Florida returned to campus with reports that Floridians blamed the state of Maine for their unseasonable Christmas weather—mostly rain.

A story in the Palm Beach Post reported that a high pressure area stalled off the coast of Maine, causing winds to pick up moisture as they passed over the warm water in the Atlantic and dump it on Florida.

Maine leads the nation in potato production.
