Blood Drive Is Mapped By Group Of 16

Challenge Received From U. Of Idaho

By Dave Brezger

A sixteen-man joint committee representing two campus organizations met Tuesday night in Carnegie Lounge to lay the groundwork for the Blood for Korea drive.

The committee was composed of members from the Scabbard & Blade and the Politics and International Relations Club.

One of the main topics was a challenge received from the University of Idaho.

Idaho Points To Record

In part, the message read: "We...challenge all campuses to better our record of 1,014 pints of blood given in three days in a campus drive after 167 students had donated in an earlier city drive."

Idaho pointed to its "high mark of 58.8% in actual donations by our student body of 3,040."

Maine students can accept the challenge only in spirit, since it is unlikely that more than one bloodmobile will be assigned to the campus. The capacity of the mobile unit is only 150 pints per day, although it may be possible to increase the capacity by obtaining additional technicians and facilities.

Drive To Be In January

The drive for blood in the state will begin sometime in January, but it is not yet known when a bloodmobile will be available for this campus.

One of the most difficult administrative problems before the committee is that of getting minors to obtain their parents' consent at an early date. Permission of parents is necessary before minors are permitted to donate blood.

Lt. Col. William M. Summers has offered to give the first pint of blood when the drive begins. He said that a recent poll of military classes indicated that from 50 to 100 per cent of the cadets would be blood donors.

Haskell, Floyd Top Masque Comedy Bill

The Maine Masque's second major production of the year, "Jenny Kissed Me," a light comedy by Jean Kerr, opened a four-performance run last night in the Little Theatre.

Philip Haskell as Father Moynihan, and Flutter Floyd in the role of Jenny had the lead parts.

Others in the cast are: Bob Chase, Carolyn Lamb, JoAnn Polachwich, Eini Rintta, Anne M. Dutille, Faith Taylor, Georgia Williamson, Marilyn Vaughan, Mary Ann Connett, Jean Grindle, Nick Carter, and Gerald O'Shea.

BULLETIN: Colby 90, Maine 73. The Mules' depth was too much for a scrappy Maine team last night. Trailing only 6 points at the beginning of the fourth period, Maine tired as Colby turned on the heat. Jack Christie scored 27 of Maine's points.

Hat Is In Ring, Bishop Reveals

Neil Bishop, speaking in the Louis Oakes room yesterday afternoon, announced that he would make a new try for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in 1952.

Although Bishop was invited by the Young Republican Club, he spoke under the sponsorship of the Politics and International Relations Club. The shift in sponsorship was made after the Young Republican Club found that it had not yet complied with the procedure for recognition as a University organization.

Post-Holiday Forum Planned

Important student-faculty discussions launched in October were continued last Sunday in the second Leadership Conference, held at the home of President Arthur A. Hauck.

Meeting with Dr. Hauck were the academic and administrative deans and members of the General Student Senate.

Basic purpose of the leadership gatherings is to improve student-faculty relations and to consider ways of making student campus activities more effective.

At the second conference, discus-

Male Students To Decide Future Of Men's Senate Tomorrow At The Polls

Probe Shows Body Has Been Relieved Of Duties By Self-Sufficient Group

By Dick Schurman

The future of the controversial Men's Student Senate will be decided tomorrow, Dec. 14, when the men students go to the polls in the lobby of the Library to vote 'yes' or 'no' to the Senate's proposal: The Men's Student Senate Should Be Abolished. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Acting on a report from the Men's Senate Investigating Committee, the General Senate selected this method as "the only fair way" of deciding this pressing issue.

The Men's Senate problem has been an important topic of discussion at the last four General Senate meetings. General Senate president, Greg Macfarlan, appointed Howard Foley, Donald Spear, and Mark Lieberman as a committee to complete the investigation.

Officer Election Postponed

The Men's Senate, which has been in operation for at least 17 years (its preserved files go back to 1934), became idle last spring for repeated lack of the necessary quorum.

Election of officers for this year had to be indefinitely postponed. The Men's Senate files reveal that a majority of its meetings last semester were either of the "no business" or the "no quorum" category.

Howard Foley, chairman of the Investigating Committee and the last elected president of the Men's Senate, told the General Senate that this problem developed because the Men's Senate has been gradually relieved of most of its duties.

Senate Lacks Work

The Men's Senate is constitutionally the over-all governing unit for student-men's organizations.

Foley said: "The organizations which originally came under the jurisdiction of the Men's Senate, such as the Dormitory Councils and the I.F.C., have grown to the extent that they are now practically self-sufficient."

"The Men's Senate had no important business last semester, and such a lack of business does not warrant having a governing body of this size meet regularly."

"The members understandably lose interest when there is no business to

Yule Vespers To Be Held In Gym Sunday

Christmas Vespers are scheduled for next Sunday at 4 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium.

One of the major events of the college year, the yuletide service is open to the public. Charles E. Crossland, chairman of the Assembly Committee, expects the usual capacity audience.

Professor Lewis H. Niven, Head of the Music Department, will direct the Brass Ensemble and the congregational singing. Stanley Cayting will lead the University Orchestra, and James G. Selwood will lead the Glee Club.

The Vespers are sponsored each year by the University Assembly Committee and the Music Department. The Vespers Committee is made up of Prof. Niven, Mr. Selwood, Rev. Charles E. O'Connor, Jan Pratt, and Mr. Crossland.

As in past years, the Gymnasium will be decorated with evergreen trees, boughs, and colored lights. Prof. Roger Clapp of the horticulture department is in charge of decorations.

The complete program follows:

- Chorale Prelude: Come Now, Savior of the Gentiles Pastorale
- Brass Ensemble
- Antiphon: Break forth, O Beateons, Heavenly Light Bach
- Glee Club
- Processional: Adeste Fidelis Portuguese
- Congregation, Glee Club, Orchestra
- Preces: O Lord, Open Thou Our Lips Byrd
- Cantor: Paul O'Neill
- Motet: Hodie Christus Natus Est Sweetlink
- Glee Club
- Sequence: Jesus, Gentle Babe DeLamarter
- Orchestra
- The Prophecy: Chapter IX: 2, 6, 7 Isaiah
- Remigio Agpalo
- Carols: And the Trees Do Moan, The Holly and the Ivy, Happy

Haucks Invite Students To Annual Carol Sing

The annual Carol Sing at the President's House will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 18.

Dr. and Mrs. Hauck have extended a cordial invitation to all students to attend.

Maine Campus Ride Pool Draws Heavy Response 'Rides Wanted' Range From Bath To Detroit

Only one week remains for students who wish to take advantage of the Maine Campus ride pool. The response to the pool has been heavy and many more are expected to sign up in the coming week.

In the list below are the names of persons wanting rides and of people who want to share their cars on the trip home for the holidays.

Here's a note to drivers when signing up on the lists. If you will inform the Campus when your car is full, we will remove your name from the list for your convenience and so that others will know your car is no longer available.

Lists are posted in the entry of the Book Store and on the Administration Building bulletin board. The full list as of Dec. 10 is as follows:

MCA To Stage Eastman Play, 'Tinker,' Sunday

"Tinker," a play by Fred Eastman, will be presented by the Maine Christian Association at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Little Theatre.

Joanne San Antonio will direct the production.

The cast includes David Haskell, Dwight Frye, Roberta Woodbury, Patricia Keenan, Randall Cole, Donald McAllister, and Kathleen Haley.

Stage managers will be Charles Hussey, Jean Dwyer, and Marjorie Wyde, who will also handle publicity. Melvin Fuller and William White will be in charge of properties.

Faculty Group To Dance At Home Of The Haucks

Members of the faculty and staff will dance to Jack McDonough's Orchestra Saturday night, Dec. 15, from 8:30 p.m. to 12 at the home of President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck. Dress will be semi-formal.

Co-Chairmen of the event are Dr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Eggert and Mr. and Mrs. William Sezak. Refreshments will be served.

German Society Plans Christmas Party Sunday

The Deutscher Verein, honorary German scholastic society, will hold a Christmas party at 8 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 16 at the home of Prof. and Mrs. E. Kenneth Miles.

Members will be assigned roles in "Krippenspiel," a German nativity play, to read and record.

German Christmas cookies such as Springerle, Pfefferkuchen, Lebkuchen, and Anisplaetzchen will be served. Refreshments will be prepared by Irene Morin, Isabelle Stearns, and Mrs. Elsa Klein.

The group will conclude its program with the singing of German Christmas carols.

Trudy Harriman, president of the organization, will preside at the meeting.

Leach Gets Scholarship

Roger S. Leach, a senior agronomy major, received a scholarship awarded by the National Fertilizer Association following the association's four-day meeting at the University last week.

Brockway's Water Color Art Is On Exhibition In Bangor

Fourteen original water color paintings by Philip J. Brockway, director of student aid and placement, are on display in the Modene Paint Store, State Street, Bangor, in an exhibition entitled "Scenes and Seasons." The paintings are being shown for a two-week period ending Saturday, Dec. 15.

The old covered bridge at Stillwater, recently dismantled, is shown in one of the paintings. Other scenes reflect this locale and the Cold Stream area.

Brockway began sketching about 10 years ago. He turned to water colors four years ago. Most of the paintings in his exhibition have been completed in the last two years.

In recent years Brockway has had the guidance of Prof. Vincent A. Hartgen, head of the art department, in developing his technique.

Students Must Act By Jan. 15 On Scholarships

The University Scholarship Committee has announced that all students wishing to apply for scholarship awards for either fall or spring semesters of 1952-53 must file application forms through the Office of Student Aid and Placement before Jan. 15 to receive consideration.

Application forms may be obtained now from the Office of Student Aid and Placement, 66 Library, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. week days, and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays.

The University Scholarship awards vary in amounts up to $265, the cost of one year's tuition.

They are awarded on the basis of (1) satisfactory academic performance, which may be interpreted as meaning a minimum average of 2.0; (2) evidence of financial need; and (3) the campus and general citizenship record of the applicant.

Propaganda Drive Needed, Senators Agree

Maine's two United States senators, Margaret Chase Smith and Owen Brewster, sandwiched speaking visits to the University into their crowded itineraries last week.

For Mrs. Smith, her talk in the Little Theatre under the co-sponsorship of the Young Republicans Club and the Politics and International Relations Club last Wednesday, was but one of five engagements on that day. She was also entertained at a tea given in her honor by Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Brewster, who flew to Maine from Wisconsin to meet his speaking obligations in the area, was brought to the campus by the same two University groups. Senator Brewster spoke in the Little Theatre on Thursday.

Both senators addressed the 78th Annual Convention of the Maine State Grangers in Bangor.

President Arthur A. Hauck introduced the senators to their campus audience.

Herbert Wing, president of the Politics and International Relations club, was chairman on both days.

Senator Smith said, "When we have won the battle for the minds of men, we will have won the peace." She declared that the Soviet Union was spending billions of dollars on propaganda to sway the peoples of the world into the Soviet bloc, while the United States had cut its Voice of America appropriations.

Mrs. Smith held that this country must be ready to compete with that propaganda or face the possibility of winning the shooting war and losing the war of ideas.

Senator Brewster, in his speech on Thursday, advocated a peace maintained by American might but was disturbed by the lethargy of the Western European nations. He decried the fact that America had suffered 90% of the casualties (other than Korean) in the current conflict. And he said that Western Europe "with 25 million more people than the United States has only 400,000 men in its combined armies." He, too, urged more extensive and more effective use of propaganda.

In a question-and-answer period, Senator Brewster renewed his statements that he would back Senator Robert A. Taft for the Republican presidential nomination.

Senator Smith went from her speaking engagement at the Little Theatre to Beta Theta Pi fraternity, where she was honored at a tea given by the members and their wives.

After tea was served, the Senator devoted more than an hour to the discussion of foreign and domestic affairs with the members and their guests.

Harry Easton, president of Beta Theta Pi, chats with U. S. Senator Margaret Chase Smith during a tea given by Beta in Mrs. Smith's honor. The tea followed Mrs. Smith's speech in the Little Theatre.

Frances Willett Gets Colonelcy At Military Ball

More than 200 couples watched the commissioning of Frances Willett as the new honorary lieutenant colonel of the ROTC last Friday night at the Scabbard and Blade's annual Military Ball.

Betsy Grandin, Audrey Koritsky, Mickey Connett, and Lois Welton received commissions as special staff officers to Lt. Col. Willett. Lt. Col. William M. Summers presented the commissions. Lt. Col. Willett also received a cup from 2nd Lt. Richard Stillings, captain of D Company, 2nd Regt., Scabbard and Blade.

Last year's honorary lieutenant colonel, Ruth Ellingwood, was introduced. She said that it had been a pleasure to serve with the corps.

In the receiving line were Dean and Mrs. Arthur L. Deering, Dean and Mrs. Mark R. Shibles, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Doten, Prof. and Mrs. Harry D. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Keyo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Crossland, and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Summers.

Al Corey, his orchestra, and Jackie Metcalf, girl vocalist, furnished the music.

Bob Pidacks, the University of Maine's representative to the World Olympics to be held in Europe this year, is now training with the Olympic cross-country team in Sun Valley, Idaho. The team is being coached by Hjalmar Hvam, world-famous instructor.

Students May Appeal Action Of Draft Board

Many students have received their induction notices from their local draft boards, despite the fact that they qualify for deferment under the Selective Service College Qualification Test or from their class standing. They may appeal their cases in several ways, according to a letter issued by the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities.

The Association has received reports that draft boards in at least one state have shown a "fairly widespread reluctance" to defer students even though they may qualify.

The letter goes on to indicate the channels of action open to the student "which should be utilized fully in meritorious cases":

(1) Appeal can be made to the State Board.

(2) If the State Board upholds the local board but the decision is not unanimous, appeal may be made to the Presidential Board of Appeals in Washington.

(3) Even though the State Board decision is unanimous, the student may write to the Presidential Board and state his case with the possibility that the Board will pass upon the case on its "own initiative."

Commencement Date Set

Mid-winter commencement will be on Friday, Feb. 1, for students who complete degree requirements this semester.

Spring commencement exercises are scheduled for Sunday, June 15. All seniors will receive their degrees at one ceremony in the afternoon.

Blow Dealt To Perjury

Last March the Faculty Council Committee on Absences published its report recommending several changes in the rules concerning absences. Next week, 14 months after the committee was appointed, the work of that committee will go into effect.

We feel that the committee under the chairmanship of Prof. Himy B. Kirshen can feel proud of their work.

The committee's prime problem was to do away with what one committee member called "routine and habitual perjury," resulting from the students' need for authorized absences for all classes missed. Dean's list students were exempted from this requirement, but all others were required to get excuses.

Students who overslept, wanted to study for a later prelim, needed a few hundred more words on a theme or term paper, had the girl-friend up for a few days, or needed a day off, had to come up with an "extenuating" explanation to get the needed authorization. Thus, it was often a matter of perjuring oneself to remain "honest." This paradox has been nearly removed by reducing the number of situations requiring an authorized excuse to two.

The two situations requiring authorization for absence involve (1) the last class before and the first class after a holiday and (2) the missing of special class work.

What used to be called the "24-hour rule," which required students to attend all scheduled classes on the day before and after holidays, never made much sense to us. The obvious purpose was to keep students from leaving before they were supposed to and from staying home an extra day or two after vacations ended.

The new "Holiday Cut Rule" will accomplish the same end without necessitating the death of a number of nonexistent grandmothers.

Authorization will be required when work such as a scheduled prelim, laboratory, special class report, or "any other exercise that cannot be made up without extensive supervision" is missed.

This common-sense section of the committee's report protects both the student and the instructor: the student from the temptation to dodge an assignment for which he is unprepared, and the instructor from large and numerous makeup classes.

The new rules will take much of the hypocrisy out of this business of absences, authorized or otherwise, and will add to the instructor's responsibility and subtract from the advisor's paper work.

Toast To Stein Song

The Maine Stein Song, called a "tavern song" and "pagan" by faculty concert committee members in 1903, was described somewhat differently in the New York Sunday Times Magazine of Nov. 18.

Frances Boushall, in an article attributing the greatness of many college songs to the strong sentimental ties between college and composer, said this of the Stein Song:

"Nor could a fiery poet with no college affiliation expect to set down a sonnet, heroic couplet or Spenserian stanza as effective, simple and nostalgic as: 'Fill the steins...'"

And which of us, when pulled to our feet with countless other Maine men by the soul-stirring magnetism of "our" song at games, banquets or rallies, will not agree? "Effective." "Simple." "Nostalgic."

The college of our hearts always.

Bends In The Road

By BOB WILSON

Fellow with a freshman composition book under his arm stopped us on first floor Stevens last week and asked us where Room 110 was.

We told him how to get there, but he didn't seem anxious to go. Offered us a Philip Morris which we declined. After making his own nose test he asked:

"What's this pre-registration all about anyway?"

We explained that pre-registration is merely a predicament that precedes registration, a sort of tentative selection of courses.

"I'm gonna take art appreciation," he offered, brightly, "instead of chemistry."

We told him we thought that was nice, but added a doubt about his advisor being overjoyed at hearing the good news.

Either the cigarette proved irritating, or maybe we said something wrong. Scowling a very convincing scowl he launched into a five-minute tirade against the faculty, the administration, and the University of Maine. Thereupon he took off in a direction opposite to Room 110. Guess he decided to let them cool their heels for a while and see how they liked that.

The lad had spirit—no question about it. Facing up to a bulletin board, so no one would see us, we practiced a few snarls. The third snarl sounding pretty good we strode down the hall to Room 150 to pre-register.

When we opened the door a fellow named York, a fellow we've known for a while, grinned at us and we grinned back and sat down and pre-registered. Dr. York said he'd try to get us in on a course that, according to the catalog, you're not supposed to take the second semester of without taking the first semester of. We thanked him and were back out in the hallway before we remembered that we had forgotten to use our snarl.

Rather than waste that snarl we decided to go over to the Bookstore and use it. We've been mad at the Bookstore for quite a while because they don't serve flapjacks and molasses in the morning, or in the afternoon either as far as that goes.

But we couldn't very well snarl at Anna, whom we've known for quite a while, so we just said "Hello, Anna" and had a cup of coffee with cream and sugar despite the fact that we don't particularly care for sugar in our coffee.

Guess we're just a weak character. Or maybe it's easier to snarl at strangers. The trouble is, ipso facto, we don't know any strangers.

The Breeze And I

By PERLESTON PERT, JR.

Since our big blow in the last issue, the breeze and I have received comments, criticisms, and congratulations from a variety of directions. We have even been accused of presenting a one-sided opinion. Sincerely, hopefully, and cordially, we invite the other side. A signed letter will do; just send it to the Campus in care of this column. The editors will love you for it.

But let's get away from the controversial side of life and look at something pleasant... something like the new honorary lieutenant colonel. We're rather disappointed that she won't be teaching 1st Year Advanced Infantry, but, anyway, we'd like to offer our most sincere congratulations to Miss Frances Willett.

We were rather surprised and disappointed—along with most other fans—at the varsity's showing last Saturday night.

Looking to the future, the calendar says that there are only seven and one-half days left before Christmas vacation. Christmas vacation... the best time to do that extra outside reading, to do that overdue lab report, to do that term paper, to do nothing... or... hi folks, I brought my books.

Then, after Christmas vacation, there's fifteen class days until finals. But let us not be morbid at this time.

Things to do before the first of the year department: renew your driver's license; buy a new calendar; give a pint of blood.

Charmaine's waiting... we must be off.

Men's Cabin Colony

By STAN FERGUSON

The Cabins, which lie far to the southeast corner of the campus, have been returned to the use for which they were originally designed, that of bachelor living quarters. Since 1945 and the appearance of the war veteran on campus, the Cabins have provided low cost living quarters for him and his family.

A slight drop in applications for family-type dwellings has enabled the Housing Office to accommodate the families in the South Apartment buildings and to return the Cabins to the bachelors.

Cabins Date From 1936

The Cabins came into being early in 1936 when a benevolent person donated $1000.00 for the building of the first dwelling. The idea caught fire among charitable alumni and down through the years additional contributions have enabled University authorities to construct a total of eleven buildings.

The Cabins are arranged in a circle around a central proctor's building. Each Cabin is divided into five rooms; a large kitchen, a generous living room, a bath, and two rather cramped but adequate bedrooms. Double-decker bunks have relieved the congestion within the tiny bedrooms and allow the boys to open the door and stand upright once inside the room.

To a man of Pete Pocius' dimensions, however, the arrangement still requires a good deal of cautious procedure. Pete, who lives in Cabin No. 9, explains quite aptly: "When I go into the bedroom, it's okay. But if one of the guys goes to bed at the same time I do, I have to go in and close the door and lie down on the bunk before he can come in."

Pete Likes Arrangement

Pete, who captains the football team, likes the arrangement in spite of the minor inconveniences and insists that "we live good and don't have to spend much money."

The University added a few household conveniences during G.I. occupation of the cabins. Water heaters were installed to facilitate kitchen chores, and the coal-burning kitchen stoves have been converted to oil.

The sharing of food expenses and cooking duties vary from cabin to cabin. A few groups prefer to donate to a general food fund from which money is drawn to purchase groceries. This system operates on a weekly or a monthly basis. Any money remaining after the food is bought is distributed equally among the cabin's occupants.

Some List Own Purchases

Other groups prefer to keep a running list of individual purchases and settle the accounts at the end of the month. This system involves a certain amount of haggling, as large healthy appetites are prevailed upon to "kick in" more and the light eaters seek financial retribution.

Still other groups choose to keep their individual expenses and chores apart from other members of the group. These men buy, cook, and clean up for themselves alone, and work collectively only during the frequent periodical housecleanings.

The cooking duties present a major problem. Few of the men are truly qualified for the job. Yet, even this major difficulty has been partially overcome. As "Swede" Nelson, of Cabin #7, explains: "We take turns poisoning each other. Last week 'Copper' McLaughlin (Swede's roommate) nearly killed us with some moldy beans. This week it is my turn. He will be sorry."

Society

BY FRAN DION

With the advent of the basketball season at home this past week end, society was at a low ebb with the exception of two outstanding events.

The members of the Seaboard and Blade can well be proud of the terrifically good job they did on the Military Ball which was held last Friday evening. Congratulations also to the new honorary lieutenant colonel, Fran Willett!

Beta held its annual fall house-party last Friday evening. Ray McHenry provided the music with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Grady and Mr. and Mrs. William Sezak serving as chaperons. Cedric Joyce was social chairman in charge of arrangements. Steins were given the guests as favors.

Approximately 30 members of Hillel congregated in the SRA building on Sunday morning for a breakfast.

Irene Montgomery showed slides of her trip to Norway last summer to the International Club on Sunday evening. A short business meeting preceded her talk to 40 of the members.

Pinned: Tanya Lekas to Hank Thibodeau, Theta Chi; Mary Ellen Murphy to Wm. "Skip" Perry, Beta; Dottie McCann to Andy Hemond, TKE; Joyce Arata, Hallowell, to Wm. "Hokey" Perry, Beta; Jane Wheeler to Bob Whytock, Phi Eta.

transact. If the Men's Senate is done away with and any mutual problem should arise among the men's organizations on campus, it could be settled easily by a meeting of representative groups from the organizations."

Election's Meaning Explained

Greg Macfarlan, president of the General Senate, said he hoped that all men students would take tomorrow's election seriously.

Macfarlan said, "If a majority of the votes cast are in favor of abolishing the Men's Student Senate, the General Senate will regard it as a plebiscite of the men students that the Men's Senate should be abolished."

The suggestion has also been made that the General Student Senate recommend that the Dormitory Councils form a joint-dormitory council to decide more efficiently any mutual problems that the councils have.

Post-Holiday Forum Planned On Leadership

sion was informal but thorough on how the students and faculty can better know and understand each other, what the expected capacities of an advisor are, and how the effectiveness of committees which concern both faculty and students can be improved. Other student-faculty topics discussed were final exams, publications, social gatherings, and Maine Day.

The General Student Senate will appoint a committee to organize the work of the two conferences and present it to the student body at a public forum after the Christmas holiday.

The forum is intended primarily to open the discussion of these topics to all students.

Deadline For Photo Contest Is Jan. 10

James Garvin, Extension Service photographer, and Howard Keyo, director of publicity, were the speakers at a meeting of the Photography Club held in the New Engineering building Tuesday, Dec. 11. Garvin and Keyo are to be judges of a January photo contest. They discussed and illustrated points to be considered in judging photographs.

The contest is sponsored by the Photography Club.

Any student is eligible to enter the competition. All prints must be submitted to Prof. Frederick T. Martin, 207 Aubert Hall, on or before Jan. 10. Rules for the contest may be obtained from Prof. Martin.

Foreign students at the University related tales of the Christmas customs in their native countries at a meeting of the Orono-Old Town branch of the American Association last night in South Estabrooke Hall.

Ogden Aids Cortisone Research

Relief for millions of sufferers of arthritis may be closer as a result of research by Dr. Eugene C. Ogden, assistant professor of botany at the U. of M., and four other botanists.

Dr. Ogden recently returned from a year spent in the southwest and Mexico in search of plants that might be used in the production of cortisone. Dr. Ogden worked for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cortisone is a substance that naturally occurs in the adrenal glands of human beings. When the adrenals fail to supply the amount necessary, rheumatic fever, arthritis, and other ailments often result. For such illnesses physicians now often inject cortisone.

A Mexican firm, Syntex, produces cortisone on a large scale. U. S. drug companies are now anxious to start production. The plants now being used are the century plant, soap bush, and the yam.

Dr. Ogden's work took him to nearly all parts of Mexico.

Dr. George Dow Assumes Duties Of Dr. Griffie

Dr. George F. Dow has been appointed associate director of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station. Dr. Dow will assume the duties and responsibilities of the late Dr. Fred Griffie.

As administrative officer in charge of research work in the Experiment Station, Dr. Dow will be responsible to Dean Arthur L. Deering, College of Agriculture, who heads the work of the University in the field of agriculture—resident, teaching, extension, and research.

Dr. Dow received the bachelor's degree from Maine in 1927, the master of science degree in 1929, and his doctorate from Cornell in 1938.

He became a member of the University staff in 1927. From 1929 to 1947 he taught agricultural economics and farm management in the College of Agriculture. Since 1947, he has been assistant director of the Experiment Station.

Dr. Dow is chairman of the Boston Milkshed Price Committee, which developed the formula for pricing milk consumed in the Boston area.

Gay H. Brown, former Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, will be one of the Farm and Home Week speakers at the University from March 31 to April 3.

Emerson President Is Ex-Annex Dean

Jonathan W. French, former dean of the University of Maine Brunswick campus, has been elected president of Emerson College in Boston.

French, who has been dean at Emerson since he left Brunswick, was graduated from Bowdoin College in 1937. He studied at Columbia University graduate school and earned the master's degree at Harvard. After studying at the University of Poitiers and the University of Dijon in France, he taught at Bowdoin and Phillips Academy in Exeter, N. H.

Co-eds Planning Yule Parties For Children

U. of M. coeds are preparing to usher in the Christmas season in the dorms with parties, caroling and appropriate decorations.

A decorating contest will open the program. The women in each dorm will decorate their own living rooms. Judging will take place Monday, Dec. 17.

Several dorms are planning parties for underprivileged children. West Hall (West) will hold a party for children from Old Town. The Elms will entertain children from Bangor. Balentine will collect presents to distribute at the Children's Home in Bangor.

Other dorms are planning get-togethers to be held Dec. 20. The women in South Estabrooke will exchange gifts with the stipulation that they cannot pay anything for the gifts. West Hall (East) will hold a pajama party. Other dorms holding parties Dec. 20 are Colvin and Balentine.

West Hall (East) will also hold a couples party Dec. 14. The foreign students will be invited. The Elms will have its annual banquet Wednesday, Dec. 19, and will go caroling the following night.

Dorm social chairmen who are in charge of the arrangements are: Jean Grindle, North Estabrooke; Peggy Given, South Estabrooke; Cynthia Cowan, Balentine; Dorris Mayne, Colvin; Lorraine Skofield, Elms; Laura Little, West Hall West; Jan Judkins, West Hall East.

Orono Man Elected To Foundation Post

James E. Totman of Baltimore, Md., has been elected a member, and Roy A. Ladner, Jr., of Orono has been elected treasurer of the University of Maine Foundation.

Hazen H. Ayer, Boston, is president of the foundation.

Mr. Totman, class of 1916, received an honorary doctorate from the University last June. He is president of the Summers Fertilizer Co. and chairman of the Board of Directors of the National Fertilizer Association.

Mr. Ladner was graduated from the University in 1943. After service in the Army, he became affiliated with the Merrill Trust Co. and is now manager of the Orono branch of this bank.

The University of Maine Foundation was organized to receive gifts, bequests, and trust funds for the benefit of the university. It now has assets of approximately $175,000.

By DANA WARREN

Maine's first undefeated football team in history made history again last week when it elected Jack and Jim Butterfield as co-captains of the 1952 varsity squad. The election of the two brothers marks the first time that such a combination has occurred in Maine grid history.

Carleton MacLean, the boy who has been leading the cross country pack this year along with former captain Dick Dow, was elected captain of the Jenkins squad for next season. Fred W. Libby was elected honorary captain of the frosh cross country squad. Ken Woodsum and Ken Parady were chosen honorary co-captains of the freshman football team.

Ralph (Buddy) Ham was awarded a varsity letter and sweater for football as a special award. Buddy, who was injured a year ago while playing a varsity half-back position, more than earned his sweater and letter, but it took a long time for the award to come through.

Major M awards for varsity football went to: Raymond A. Cox, Clay G. Beal, Joseph Bernard, Joseph C. Alex, Edward Bogdanovich, Winfred S. Brown, Richard P. Breen, Charles L. Burgess, John E. Butterfield, Albert L. Card, Philip J. Butterfield, Linwood L. Carville, Edward J. Cianchette, Vincent Calenda, Frederick T. Dolan, Harry M. Easton, Lucian R. Garneau, William M. Grove, Walter C. Co-eds Receive Coveted Honors At WAA Supper

By FRAN DION

Three girls received the coveted Seal Award, highest honor bestowed by the Women's Athletic Association, at the annual WAA hockey supper in Balentine Hall Monday evening. Members of the All-Maine hockey team and the All-Maine reserve were also announced.

Faculty Members Speak

Toastmistress was Joan Blanchard. Miss Catherine Shaw and Miss Inez Smith, members of the faculty in the physical Education Department, told of this year's national hockey tournament, held at Wellesley College at Thanksgiving time.

Those receiving the Seal Awards were Martha Pratt, Helen Strong, and Isabelle Stearns.

Miss Pratt, a senior, has played hockey for four years, basketball for three, and volleyball for two. She has been on the WAA council for three years and chairman of the Officials Club for two years. She holds a national basketball officials rating and is secretary of the Eastern Maine Board of Officials for women's sports.

Two Juniors Get Awards

Miss Strong, a junior, has played hockey for three years, basketball for two years, volleyball for two years. She has been a member of the Tumbling Club for two years and has held positions on the WAA council for three years. She is chairman of the Officials Club and holds a local basketball officials rating.

Miss Stearns, a junior and the only one of the three girls who is not a physical education major, played both hockey and basketball for two years, volleyball for one year, and has been a member of the Tumbling Club and WAA council for two years.

Jane Ingraham was the only recipient of the M award.

11 Make All-Maine Team

Maine's Team Bolstered With Norris Eligible

By BEN TUCKER

The University of Vermont will play host to Maine's hoopsters Saturday evening at Burlington. This will be the Black Bears' first taste of 1951 Yankee Conference cage play.

Big John Norris, six feet six inches of sure-shooting forward, should give the unhappy Bears a big lift. Norris, ex-Georgetown University star who transferred to Maine last semester, has been declared eligible for Yankee Conference competition.

The big guy, who has been called a "real topflight basketball player" by Doc Rankin, can really dunk that over-sized apple. He may make the big difference against the Cats.

Vermont Loses To Rhody

Vermont, coached by Fuzzy Evans, beat New Britain Teachers in its second game only to be shellacked by Rhode Island State last week end. The Catamounts lost six men by graduation, including big Keith Galli, who made the All-YC first team at center, and Nick Mastroilli, diminutive sharpshooter.

The Green Mountain basketballers will be led by veterans Ed Jasinski, captain, and Howard Merrick. Last year Vermont won 14 and lost six, including a victory over Rhode Island State.

Maine never recovered from Bowdoin's first period onslaught last week end and went down to defeat, 68-42. The Polar Bears' man-to-man defense worked like a charm with sophomore Bill Fraser getting more than his share of rebounds from both boards.

Christie Nets Dozen Tallies

The Pale Blue five was led by Captain Jack Christie who netted 12 tallies. Bob Churchill, who has had defensive difficulties this season, went out on fouls in the third quarter after a 9-point effort. Maine was harrassed all evening and, as a result, threw the ball away repeatedly and scored only a few times from inside the foul line.

Maine did fairly well from the foul line but only bucketed 23 per cent of its shots from the floor as compared with 42 per cent for the Polar Bears.

Husson Next For Indoor Track Of Maine Frosh Attracts Many

Coach Bob Hollway's Frosh basketballers went on a three-week vacation from the hardwoods after their game with Maine Maritime Academy last night. Their next tilt will be against Husson College on Jan. 9.

Last Saturday night in their season's opener, the Yearlings got a slow start against a good Coburn team but really opened up in the third quarter to win, 85-54.

Carrying a slim 36-30 lead into the third period, the junior-sized Black Bears found the right combination and the score zoomed to 64-43 by the end of the period.

Lanky Bert Daniels set the scoring pace for the Frosh with an even 20 for the evening. Big Bobo Williams, George Burke, Farnham Folsom, and Keith Mahaney were other Maine standouts.

Seventy-three trackmen have been working out in the Field House for the past two weeks getting in shape for the indoor track season scheduled to open after the holidays.

Coach Chester Jenkins says that a "well rounded" team is in prospect. Further strength and depth will be developed in January, he believes, when several men, now catching up in their studies after the football season, report for practice.

Some of the anchormen of last year's team are gone via the graduation route. Floyd Milbank, a record-setting weightman, was one of the biggest losses. Another was John Wallace, top miler.

A strong bevy of lettermen will be on hand again this season. Jack Wathen and John Bowler are a couple of top middle-distance men. Dick Dow, A-1 distance runner, should set a tough pace for all the competition in the two mile. Prescott Johnson in the weights, Charlie Foote in the broad jump and 300, and George Weatherbee in the pole vault are a few of the mainstays already back in spikes.

A freshman-sophomore race will be run this Saturday.

Workouts Are Scheduled For Intramural Boxers

Students interested in training for intramural boxing can start working out in the boxing room at the Memorial Gymnasium. Dave Tibbetts and John Gower, student instructors, will be in the gym from 3:30 to 5:30 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, and from 3 to 5:30 on Fridays.

Both instructors have considerable experience as light-heavyweights. Tibbetts currently holds the title in that division in the campus intramurals, while Gower had experience boxing in the Marines.

Women's Sports

By LORRIE SKOLFIELD

The basketball interdorm tournament started Tuesday with the Elms and West I playing the opening game. On Wednesday, West II took on Balentine, and today East I meets North Estabrooke.

A basketball clinic sponsored by the Eastern Maine Board of Officials for Women's Sports will be held on Saturday, Dec. 15, at 1 p.m., in the Women's Gym. New rules will be explained, fouls will be demonstrated, and nationally rated referees will conduct the demonstration game.

Co-recreation will be held in the Women's Gym Friday night from 8 to 10. There will be badminton, ping pong, volleyball, and shuffleboard. Please bring or wear sneakers.

The singles ping pong tournament will start Monday. Games may be played every afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 in the Women's Gym.

The Women's Rifle Team will shoot its first postal match this week against the University of Kansas. Challenges are being sent to other Mid-western and New England colleges.

Phi Kap put on the best show during the week by slapping Lambda Chi, 42 to 15, and cuffing Delta Tau, 76 to 35. These two wins put the Phi Kaps out in front in the fraternity division—temporarily, at least—with a won-4, lost-0 record.

Phi Eta Kappa stayed close behind the high-flying PKS team with a record of 3 wins and 0 losses. In its two games played during the week, Phi Eta outdid SAE, 57 to 50, and stopped Sigma Chi, 64 to 33.

Mrs. May Craig To Talk Here Next Tuesday

Mrs. May Craig, Washington correspondent for the Guy P. Gannett newspapers, will speak on "Washington and the Far East" in the Little Theatre at 4 p.m. next Tuesday.

The Politics and International Relations Club is sponsoring Mrs. Craig's visit to the campus. Her address will be based on a recent tour of Korea, Japan, and Formosa.

The public is invited.

Mrs. Craig will visit the offices of the Maine Campus on Tuesday afternoon and will confer with student journalists.

Mrs. Craig received the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters from the University of Maine in 1946.

A former president of the Women's National Press Club, she has long been one of the most active members of the Washington press contingent.
