Weeks First Lecturer In New Series

Atlantic's Editor Will Speak March 12

Edward Weeks, editor of the Atlantic Monthly, will open the University-Community Lecture Series in the Women's Gymnasium on Wednesday, March 12, at 8 p.m.

His subject will be "In The Editor's Chair."

The series is made possible by an anonymous gift of $2,500 to sponsor lectures open to University students, faculty, and residents of near-by communities. The donors, two residents of Bangor, will make similar gifts for each of the next two years.

The purpose of the gift is, to bring to the University and surrounding communities able and noted speakers, the services of whom it would be otherwise impossible to obtain.

Lecture Is Open To Public

Weeks' appearance here will inaugurate a plan which has become popular at many colleges and universities, that of a noted guest speaker whose lecture is open to the public.

Widely known as a speaker as well as an editor, Weeks has appeared 20 times at New York's Town Hall and 12 times at Columbia University.

After one year as manuscript reader and book salesman for Horace Liveright, Inc., he joined the Atlantic Monthly as an associate editor in 1924. He served as editor of the Atlantic Monthly Press from 1928 to 1937. He has been editor of the Atlantic since 1938.

Recipient Of Many Degrees

He studied at Cornell University for two years from 1915 to 1917. After service with the French Army in 1917 and as an ambulance driver with the U. S. Army attached to a French division from Sept. 1917, to May 1919, he returned to his studies, this time at Harvard.

After receiving the B.S. degree from Harvard in 1922, he did a year of graduate work at Cambridge University in England. He has received the Litt.D. degree from Northeastern University, Lake Forest University, Williams College, Middlebury College, and the University of Alabama.

Proposed Air Alert Put Off Indefinitely

Professor Harry D. Watson, chairman of the University's safety committee, has been officially notified that this month's air alert demonstration has been indefinitely postponed.

The action was taken when Civilian Defense officials found that movies of the area demonstration could not be taken.

Professor Watson said that a test might be attempted the latter part of March.

Because of the Class L Eastern Maine Basketball Championship games, scheduled for this week end, the Safety Committee welcomed the postponement.

Chorale Director

ROBERT SHAW

Shaw Chorale Next For Maine Concert-Goers

The Robert Shaw Chorale will present a concert at the University on Monday, March 3, at 8:15 p.m., in the Memorial Gym.

Shaw, the famed director of Fred Waring's radio glee club and founder and director of the Collegiate Chorale, is making his first appearance on the Maine campus in the fourth concert of the University Concert Series.

Shaw's earliest ambition was to become a minister. He got his start in choral conducting by leading the college glee club at Pomona College, Claremont, Calif.

When Shaw was in his junior year, Fred Waring and his troupe appeared on the Pomona campus to do a film called "Varsity Show," in which the college glee club had a small part.

It was during rehearsals that Waring observed in Shaw what he knew to be the "master's touch" and told the young maestro a job would be waiting for him if he came to N. Y.

In 1938, Shaw took Waring at his word and assumed direction of the Waring glee club, which soon became an outstanding feature of the Waring Radio Show.

Open Forum Is Scheduled For Tuesday

Previous Meetings Established Agenda

Improvement of student-faculty relations will be the object of a student Forum in the Louis Oakes room next Tuesday.

The forum, which will provide a round-table discussion of pertinent campus problems, will begin at 3:45 p.m. Everyone is invited. Open discussion from the student body will follow the round-table part of the program.

The forum, a direct result of the two Leadership Conferences that were held last semester, will discuss the major problems that were brought up at the conference. These conferences were suggested by President Arthur A. Hauck. Student-faculty relations and student activities were the major topics.

The general topics to be considered at the forum will include the distribution of leadership on campus, the purpose of participation in activities, and the functioning of organizations.

Still other subjects will be: the duties and qualifications of an advisor, the duties of a chaperon, and means for student-faculty exchange of ideas.

These general headings have been broken down further by a committee headed by Helen Pendleton. Mimeographed copies of the detailed breakdown will be available to all who attend the forum.

Members of the forum panel include Dean Ashley S. Campbell, Greg Macfarlan, Beverly Pettengill, Mark Lieberman, and Janice Boyce.

Maine Students View Life At West Point

Two Maine students, Patrick Dionne and Glenn Folsom, are among 112 college men who will visit the United States Military Academy at West Point Feb. 28-March 2.

While at West Point, the students will live as cadets. A cadet escort will take them to classes and meals.

Alumni Leader

RAYMOND H. FOGLER

Raymond Fogler Is Retiring From W. T. Grant Co.

Raymond H. Fogler, '15, one of the University of Maine's most prominent and active alumni, announced this week that he would retire as president of the W. T. Grant Company next month.

Mr. Fogler has maintained a close association with the University and his fraternity, Sigma Chi, throughout the 36 years since his graduation.

He is president of the University of Maine Alumni Association in New York and a member and former president of the Alumni Council of the University's General Alumni Association.

The present student body is probably most familiar with his work as chairman of the $900,000 Memorial Union Building Fund.

After graduating from the University in 1915, Mr. Fogler received the master's degree at Princeton. He also holds an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Maine.

Mr. Fogler went to work for the W. T. Grant Company in 1919 and spent his first year training in Grant merchandising. After that he was appointed head of the personnel department, then director of personnel and real estate. In 1930 he was elected to the board of directors. He resigned from the Grant organization in 1932 to become vice president, general manager, and later president of Montgomery, Ward & Company.

He returned as president and general manager of Grant's in 1940.

Three Students Injured In Automobile Crash

Three University students were hospitalized early Monday morning after their sedan left the road and crashed into a combination grocery store and gasoline station in Carmel, Me.

The condition of Sumner Cahoon, Charles Garbo, Jr., and Vincent Henry, Jr., was reported as "much improved" by Eastern Maine General Hospital authorities on Tuesday.

The three were returning from a week end trip.

Maine Youth Proves Skill In Snow Fete

Snyder And Judkins Are Royal Couple

Old Man Maine Winter has rarely been in a better mood than he was in last week end. He did all he could to make the 1952 Winter Carnival one of the most successful in years.

On Friday, after half a day of ski racing on the University hill, students and guests moved to the ice rink. There they gave mitten-muffled applause to the skaters of the Ice Review.

The skating of Anne Dutille and the skilled antics of comics Dick Gardiner and Bob Wallace were outstanding.

Crowd Sees Royalty Installed

As the review ended, the crowd surrounded an ice pedestal where, on huge thrones of ice, Mary Snyder and Paul Judkins were installed as queen and king by President Arthur A. Hauck.

Later Friday evening, the carnival-goers changed from ski togs to formal dress, and filled the floor of Memorial Gym for the Intramural Ball.

The high point of this top social event of the week end came when the king and queen were received beneath an arch of crossed ski poles by Gorham Hussey, chairman of the Winter Carnival committee, who awarded each of the reigning pair with a gold trophy.

Another feature of the Ball was a skit by the Maine Masque Talent Pool song and dance quartet called "The Two Stars and a Couple of Glimmers."

The theme of the routine was the

Budget Approved At WSGA Meeting

The Women's Student Government Association Council held its regular business session before a large number of co-eds at the special open meeting Tuesday night. Many of the women who attended the session took part in the discussion of topics which came up before the group.

Several of the Council members expressed surprise as well as pleasure at the turnout. According to one member, "This is the largest group that has come to a special open meeting."

The Council, after two revisions, approved a suggested budget for the year of 1951-52. The revisions, which cut out an annual scholarship and a twenty-dollar contribution to the Good Will Chest, were made for the sake of economy.

Basketball Bulletin

Undefeated Colby edged Maine last night, 62-60, in Memorial Gym. Paced by John Norris with 19 points, the Bears led at the half and trailed by only one point at the three-quarter mark. Ted Lallier was high man for the Mules with 20 points.

UNESCO Official To Speak On World Cultural Relations

Howard E. Wilson, author, educator, and world traveler, will speak at the sixth assembly of the school year in Memorial Gymnasium on March 7 at 9:25 a.m. His subject will be "Cultural Relations As a Factor In World Affairs."

An authority on international educational relations, Mr. Wilson has been executive associate and director of the European Program of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace since 1948.

He is a member of the United States National Commission of UNESCO and is chairman of its committee on UNESCO and UN relations.

Stan Lavery, chairman of the Goodwill Chest drive, will speak briefly at the assembly.

Bridge Partners Await Results Of Semi-Finals

Maine's contenders in the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament are awaiting results of the semi-finals.

Semi-finalists here were partners Sylvia Sullivan and Irene Anderson, Lynne Love and Helen Connon, Larry Wright and Charlie Harmon, and Howard Low and Joseph Bernard.

Jim Tolman and Darrell Cram substituted for Low and Bernard in the semi-final playoff on Feb. 18 and 20 in the SRA building.

The tournament players received prearranged hands from headquarters in New York City. After the hands were played, the players were allowed to see what was par for each of the hands. Then all of the hands were sent to New York for judging.

The players will have to wait until the middle of March for the results.

Twenty-five New England colleges with a total of 50 partners competed in the semi-finals.

More Than 1,000 Tags Sold In 'M' Club Drive

More than 1000 'M' Club tags were exchanged for donations during the Winter Carnival week end, said Dick Dow, president of the 'M' Club. The donations totaled $121.97.

The 'M' Club Tag-Day was conducted to help the club continue its student benefits.

Radio Broadcast Ends Week On Brotherhood

"More significant than ever before," was the comment of Rev. Charles E. O'Connor on the University's observance of Brotherhood Week, Feb. 17-22.

A Radio Guild show, Friday night, Feb. 22, ended the Brotherhood Week program.

The guild show emphasized the dynamic possibilities of brotherhood for easing world, as well as campus, tensions.

Featured on the program were Brotherhood Week Committee members, Patrick Dionne, Sandra Glorsky, Barbara Brown, and Heinz Fahrenkamp.

Another highlight of the week was the kickoff banquet, featuring Bishop John Wesley Lord as the speaker.

Book displays and the showing of the film, "Prejudice," were also included in the six-day program.

"Prejudice," called by Walter Winchell as "harder hitting than 'Crossfire' or 'Gentleman's Agreement,'" was viewed by over 150 people in its two showings.

Ruth Ellingwood, a senior physical education major, will compete tonight in Portland for the crown of Maine Cherry Blossom Princess. The winner will represent the state at the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington in April.

THE SEVEN DAY SWEATER DIET!

The deadliest poison in a college woman's dress diet, we think, is sameness! As anybody knows, even if she's not a summa cum laude, every body (the student body, especially) gets tired of wearing the same old thing. And seeing it on someone else.

So because the sweater is as much a fixture on the college campus as a bust of the founder, we'd like to propose a "7-Day Sweater Wardrobe." A sweater a day—with a different color for every day in the week—should really keep the monotony away, as it conversely invites new interest. How about a brilliant "Sweater Septet" of yellow, red, blue, green, white, beige, pink—all made of famous "BOTANY" * BRAND NO-DYE-LOT YARN! Just a few hours of inexpensive knitting per diem with this extra-fluffy, easy-to-handle, 100% virgin wool yarn—and in no time at all you'll be dubbed Sweater Variety Girl of 1952 by some of your classmates... and a deadly femme fatale by others.

And you'll never, never run out of yarn with "BOTANY" BRAND NO-DYE-LOT YARN. For whenever you buy it... wherever you buy it... at school or away... YOU CAN MATCH ANY COLOR... ANY TIME... ANYWHERE. You can buy "BOTANY" BRAND NO-DYE-LOT YARN at

Goodwill Chest Ups Its 1952 Goal To $3,320

A goal of $3,320 has been set for the Goodwill Chest Drive starting March 10.

This figure, set by the Chest's Board of Governors, is $320 more than last year's goal. It is believed that the higher figure will be reached through the use of better drive techniques.

The goal will be divided among areas of solicitation that include the campus students, off-campus students, faculty and administration, and fraternities.

Each group will have a definite figure to reach. A large thermometer will be constructed on the mall to show the progress of the campaign.

The major part of the money received is allocated to the World Student Service Fund. This fund is an international organization which supports university groups in needy countries all over the world. Food, clothing, housing, books, and medical aid is given without discrimination wherever the need is greatest.

WSSF works through the colleges, for it is felt that the educational community should demonstrate its belief in itself. No drive for this fund is made except on college and university campuses.

Its prominent place on the allocations list of the Goodwill Chest was established in 1946 and has received the utmost consideration ever since that time.

An organization which is being supported for the first time this year is the United Defense Fund. This is a substitute for the war-time USO and continues the USO's work in providing entertainment and comfort for service men. The Chest has also allocated a small percentage of its goal for mailing The Maine Campus to former students who are now in the armed service.

The local Campus Emergency Fund will be increased this year. This fund gave $300 aid to the students who lost many of their belongings in a fire in the North Dorms two years ago.

Approximately 80% of the money received is allocated to educational organizations. Other groups which will receive funds are foreign students at Maine, United Negro College Fund, March of Dimes, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Maine Heart Association, Cancer, Pine Tree Society, and Orono Twins.

Robert Shaw Chorale To Appear Here Monday

Besides his radio work, Shaw toned voices for the Billy Rose Aquacades. He also trained choruses for the Broadway shows, "Carmen Jones," "Laughing Room Only," and "The Seven Lively Arts."

During his spare time, Shaw led amateur singing groups in concerts of sacred music on radio, a point attributed to his early ministerial leaning. In November, 1941, he organized the now famous Collegiate Chorale.

The Chorale has sung its own concerts at Carnegie Hall, Town Hall, and the New York City Center. It has also appeared in choral works conducted by such musical geniuses as Toscanini, Stokowski, and Koussevitsky.

Tickets can be purchased on campus from: Mu Alpha Epsilon members; Assembly Committee members; Room 76 Library; and, on Feb. 29 and March 3, the Treasurer's office. Students' tickets are selling for $1.50 and others $2.00.

Campus Workers Show Mettle In Battling 'The Big Snow'

By STAN FERGUSON

The people concerned with civilian defense in this area now have more than ample proof of how quickly U. of M. students, faculty, and staff personnel can rise to meet an emergency.

The Big Snow disclosed startling examples of individual strength and fortitude.

Endurance honors go to Francis S. McGuire's building and grounds staff. The snow removal chores fall to this group.

Within the department, Frank (Sparky) Clements and Lester (Barney) Cowan get the individual citations.

Sparky and Barney rode the snow-plows for forty-three hours "straight ahead." They worked from Sunday night at 11 p.m. until Tuesday night 6 p.m. (Feb. 17-19). Tuesday night they had gone to their homes for some sleep. As Barney put it, "Before my pants had stopped swinging where I hung 'em the phone rang." They went back to work at 1:30 a.m. Before going to bed Tuesday night, Sparky, who has a brand new baby at his house, delayed sleeping long enough to wash and wax four floors for Mrs. Clements. Wednesday morning Sparky was derisively ribbing Barney for "sleeping his life away."

Sparky's and Barney's snow-plowing marathon was by no means unique. Thirty, 35, and 40-hour stretches by men in the Building and grounds Department were common.

Telephone operators Mrs. Mildred Willett and Mrs. Ellen Skolfield worked at top speed from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. and were glad to turn over the earphones to relief operator Phil Haskell. Miss Elinor Linnenbueger, the third operator, worked until noon.

During the morning the switchboard did more business than it has ever done in an unusually busy 8-hour day.

The heating plants were at maximum production throughout the storm and following it. Firemen changed shifts when and if relief men could make their way to work. Meanwhile, the men on duty poured on the coal, fortified by java and sinkers from the cafeteria.

Breakdowns of equipment slowed the snow removal somewhat. Yet Harvey Michaud, "the big fixer" in the transportation department, rose to the occasion and kept rolling stock on the move.

Dr. Albert M. Turner's class in Victorian Poetry met—with only four students absent—and had a go at Lord Tennyson's "Idylls of The King."

5th Band Concert Set For March 15

The Fifth Annual Campus Concert of the University of Maine Band will be presented at the Memorial Gymnasium on March 15. The concert will be followed by a stag dance, with a 15-piece dance band made up entirely of campus musicians.

The program for the concert will include semi-classics, show numbers, novelties, and well-known marches. A feature will be a trumpet trio presentation by John Godsoe, Alfred Halliday, and Lester Nadeau.

The dance band, presented in affiliation with the Varsity Band, is headed by Don Lord, who is also Drum Major for the Varsity Band.

Lee Dymont is general chairman for the concert.

The presentation committee, headed by Robert Haynes, includes Dick Stephens (manager), Steven Bernard (programs), and Don Lord (dance).

The ticket committee, headed by William Pomeroy, includes Stephens (sales to men), Barbara Pearson (sales to women), Herbert Doten (fraternities), Charlotte Hillman, and Ken Ayres (advance sales). Tickets will go on sale about March 1.

Donald Stritch is president of a campus club to promote the candidacy of Burton M. Cross for governor.

Bubble Gum Drive Yields 1200 Sticks

Five boxes of bubble gum, 1200 sticks, will be airmailed this week to WOJG Jesse Rodgers in Korea for distribution to Korean children.

The "Bubble Gum For Korea" fund was started by The Maine Campus two weeks ago when a letter from Rodgers to a member of the staff told of the children's great desire for American bubble gum.

Members of Delta Tau Delta got the fund rolling with a contribution of $6. Harold L. Bruce, manager of the University Store Co., also made a contribution. Enough bills and coins were dropped into a collection box placed in the Book Store to make a total contribution of $16.09. This sum will buy the five boxes of gum and pay most of the air mail charges.

Geology Show Tomorrow

Members of Rock and Hammer, club for geology majors, will present their annual entertainment to get funds for their publication, The Rock and Hammer, tomorrow night in the Louis Oakes Room. This year they will present an act entitled "Magic by Merrill."

Admission charge for the show, which begins at 8 p.m., is 50 cents for adults and 35 cents for children.

getting "hep" of Jo San Antonio, a dowdy country lass. Songs by Bill White and Dave Haskell and a song and dance by Haskell and Flutter Floyd seemed to convince Miss San Antonio. The act ended with the quartet dancing to "Zing! Went The Strings Of My Heart."

Marie Oakman, Dick Stephens, and Don Lord provided accompaniment on the piano, drums, and trumpet respectively.

Ski Finals On Saturday

Saturday morning the final events of the intramural ski races were run off at the cross country course and the women's athletic field.

When the final results of the racing were in, Sigma Chi and Phi Mu Delta were one-two in the men's division and Elms and Balentine held top honors in the women's division.

Robbie Upton from North Dorms and Rupert Amann from Corbett won the men's slalom and downhill respectively in the dorm division but Howard Ainsworth of Hannibal Hamlin turned in the best showing of the entire racing field with his two first and two seconds in four events.

The Elms, sparked by Martha Pratt, Isabelle Stearns and Pat Adams, won first place in the women's events.

A hockey game between the upper-classmen and the freshmen ended the scheduled activities Sunday afternoon with the frosh forcing the varsity to go all-out in order to take a 6-4 verdict.

Results of Men's and Women's Intramural Skiing will be found on Sports Page.

Phi Mus At Maine Marking National's 100th Anniversary

Wednesday marked the opening of the centennial celebration of Pi Chapter of Phi Mu sorority. The festivities which began with bow-pinning last night will culminate in a one-hundredth anniversary banquet at the Penobscot Exchange Hotel, Tuesday, March 4.

Phi Mu, which is the second largest national sorority, was founded on the Wesleyan campus in Macon, Ga., March 4, 1852. Pi chapter was founded in 1912.

Since its advent on the U. of M. campus, Phi Mu has done much work for charities and has granted several awards for outstanding scholarship.

At present, Joan Ames, senior psychology major, holds the Pi Chapter locket for outstanding scholarship. Muriel Marcoux, a sophomore, holds the Pi chapter bracelet for the outstanding pledge of her group. Carol Prentiss, a junior speech major, holds the national bracelet for the outstanding pledge of District Five.

Student Draft Exam Deadline Is March 10

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has warned students that March 10 is the deadline for applications for the next college draft deferment test, scheduled for April 24. The examination will not be given again during the present academic year.

Last December 61.3 per cent of the students who took the examination made a passing grade.

According to Professor John R. Crawford, individual students may get their results from their local draft boards.

Wanted: Larger Student Body

The enrollment at Maine has decreased rapidly in the past two years. And there is little evidence that the trend will be checked in the immediate future.

It came as no surprise to most of us when the decrease first became apparent in 1950. We had realized that the bumper crop of students that was produced by World War II would necessarily diminish in size as we returned to more normal times.

Before the war the enrollment was about 2,000. When the campus was crowded with returning veterans, classrooms were overflowing, and dormitories were bulging out at the walls, there were many who looked forward with anxiety to a return to pre-war conditions.

Now the student body is being reduced rapidly. The results are a little frightening. Operating expenses are not decreasing proportionately. The University is laboring under a deficit. And there would appear to be but one way to alleviate the financial pressure which will certainly be brought to bear upon the present student body. The enrollment must be built back up to its 1948-49 level of approximately 3,500.

In discussing the situation recently, one interested person came up with what we think would be a good, long step in the right direction. In fact we liked the idea so much that we will outline it briefly for your consideration.

"A HIGH SCHOOL WEEK END (not Open House) should be sponsored annually by the General Senate.

"The goal of the Week End would be to show prospective students what a good school Maine is, and the advantages of attending 'our' University.

"All present students would be asked to invite a high school senior, whom they knew to be interested in attending college, to spend the Week End on campus.

"Friday's program would include: arrival; tour of the campus, with each student responsible for his guest; a President's tea; dinner and speeches (with President Hauck or some other administration official speaking on "Why Attend College?"); and an Interfraternity Sing, or some comparable event.

"On Saturday the schedule would include: attending classes (Friday morning's classes could be held on Saturday that week); baseball game; and dance.

"Sunday morning church services would be available for the visitors, and the remainder of the day could be spent in any manner desired.

"The stress of the whole program would be college as usual.

"The visitors could be housed and fed in dormitories and fraternity houses. The total number who would appear for such a week end probably wouldn't exceed 250, and arrangements could be made to accommodate that many. And if the program increased the fall enrollment by 50 or 100 students, it would be worthwhile."

There it is, General Senate. We offer it to you free of charge as it was offered to us. Now it's your turn to carry the ball.

To What Avail If Freedom Fail?

A terrible paradox exists in this country and in the world today. In an effort to preserve our inherent freedoms we are slowly but surely denying ourselves those same freedoms.

Even as we write these lines we find ourselves examining and reexamining each line for fear that we may be saying something that will be construed as a defense of Communism or as an attempt to undermine the spirit and morale of the American people.

Is this situation exemplary of what is slowly happening to the "freedom of expression" for which we've fought since the early years of our national life?

A recent report issued by a committee of educators and laymen at Yale University summed up the role of the university in protecting our most precious freedoms as follows:

"In the ideal university," the report said, "all sides of any issue are presented as impartially and forcefully as possible; all sides, not just those that may be currently popular with the trustees and the alumni."

One Small Gleam

BY HELEN JOHNSON

Editor's Note: This is the first of two columns on the presidents of U. of M. political clubs. The second column on Larry Wright, president of the Young Republicans, will appear week after next.

Because so many people these days are loudly voicing their disapproval of politics and disavowing all political connections it is refreshing to meet someone who frankly admits that he enjoys practical politics. Ed Pert, president of the Young Democrats and instigator of the plan to put the U. of M.'s Young Democrats on the map, is just that sort of person.

Laying all his cards on the table, Pert says, "I believe a majority of the people of Maine are Democrats in philosophy. For the good of the state, Democrats must be united to elect a Democratic administration."

Pert first took an active interest in politics while he was a sophomore at Morse High School in Bath. A local radio station had allotted time to candidates for office during which they could air their opinions. The Republicans ran over and the Democrats never made the air. Pert promptly penned a letter to the station's administrators. The letter won him five dollars in one of those "What I dislike most..." contests.

In his senior year in high school his political sympathies were pretty well developed. He began hounding the local Democrats to organize a Young Democrats group in Bath, and he persisted until they did. The Club was finally organized; Pert, not one to stop after he has achieved one goal, already had his sights on something new. He helped reorganize the city committee and the county committee. He is now working with the state committee.

He recently attended a meeting of the state committee in Waterville where he was a speaker. Reports are that, while he was there he was urged to run for the state presidency of the Young Democrats. Up to this time he hasn't announced whether he plans to run or not.

In talking to Pert, the things we find most striking are his sincerity and his penchant for hard work. Not afraid to express a political opinion, he says that the healthiest thing a college student can do is either join "our club or the Young Republicans. We live with politics every day, so we might as well get used to it."

Bends In The Road

BY BOB WILSON

Despite the claims that we are fast approaching complete socialism we can find few adherents—except among the academic needy—for a system of scholastic socialism-communism.

Although the principle of "from each according to his ability; to each according to his need" finds favor among some of our more avid sociology students, the idea of applying this theory to the grading system in institutions of higher learning does not gain much ground.

When one of our brighter, or harder-working students pulls down a 95 on a prelim we could take 20 points away from him and give them to a student who has snagged only 55.

Thus each would contribute according to his ability and—since both would have a passing mark—each would receive according to his need.

This socialist-communist system would continue until the high producers had sunk—or had been driven down—to the level of the low producers.

An alternative exists. The American people don't mind sharing things on a voluntary basis.

We just filled out our "blood pledge" and slipped it into a campus mailbox. In our eyes, blood banks represent an ideal method of implementing the "from each according to his ability, etc." principle.

In the United States today there are many blood banks, bone banks, eyeball banks, and what-have-you. Why not then, in institutions of higher learning, a "grade-point bank"? This would put contributions on a voluntary basis and we sincerely think that it would work. We seriously suggest the adoption of this system at the University of Maine—with tongue well pulled back lest we bite it.

Brother, can you spare a point? Maybe we're kidding about the "grade-point bank?" but we're not kidding about the blood bank. It may be we're biased—having benefited from two or three pints of anonymous blood on Saipan in '45 when our need was somewhat urgent—anyway we're strong believers in blood banks.

Martin Says 'Thanks'

To the Editor: Words are inadequate to express my appreciation of the many kindnesses shown me since my return to the University of Maine campus.

However, I would like to say, "Thank you":

To the faculty for their patience and understanding;

To the 'M' Club for the honor they have bestowed upon me in the form of the Martin Hagopian Scholarship;

To all students for the wonderful welcome they have given me.

I am truly grateful. Thank you again.

MARTIN HAGOPIAN

One Man's Question

To the Editor: As has been brought to the attention of the student body in the past several issues of the Campus, there will be a Good Will Chest Drive again this year beginning soon. I know that much of the money raised last year went to a number of worthy causes such as World Student Service fund and for foreign students here at Maine.

During discussions of the Good Will Chest, I have learned that one object in starting these drives ten or so years ago was to help our men in the armed forces through allocations from the Chest to agencies such as the U.S.O. and the Salvation Army.

It may have escaped the attention of the Good Will Chest Board, but there is once again a need for this kind of help. It is mainly from our age group that recruitment has come for the Armed Forces, and many former students of Maine are at present bearing the brunt of this service.

In view of this, it seems to me that the Good Will Chest should incorporate in this year's drive an appeal for funds to be distributed to the U.S.O. and any other agencies which genuinely benefit the men and women serving the country. It is part of our duty to help and support those who have been called into service.

The Good Will Chest should do something about this. It should be part of this year's drive.

BILL DONNELL

(Editor's Note: Stan Lavery, president of the Goodwill Chest Governing Board, was requested to comment on the above letter. Below is his answer.)

And Another's Answer

To the Editor: In response to the foregoing letter and in general recognition of the worthiness of such an appeal, the Good Will Chest Governing Board is considering an allocations report which includes a substantial donation to the United Defense Fund.

The U.S.O. was dissolved after World War II in which it played an immense part in lifting the morale of the men and women in the services above that of most of the other nations at war at that time. Since a new need has appeared, the United Service Defense Fund was set up as the modern counter-part of the U.S.O.

A decision favoring the inclusion of this fund will probably be forthcoming before the end of this week.

Annual Farm And Home Week To Present A Varied Program

Agricultural engineers and practical dairymen will have a prominent place on the Farm and Home Week program during Spring vacation, from March 31 to April 3.

Tuesday, April 1, four farmers, an engineer, and an economist will speak. Dairymen are William L. Vaughan, of Hallowell, and Hugh Briggs, Jr., of Auburn, who will tell their experience with barn hay dryers; Calvin Thompson, of Kingman, who is using a harvester, and Benjamin Humphries, of Perry, who has three trench silos, will tell of their experience with their new method of storing silage.

Allen W. Manchester, Extension economist, University of Maine, has made a careful study of Maine weather during the haying season and will tell what he has learned in this respect. Lowell E. Campbell, of the United States Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md., will discuss different ways of harvesting forage crops.

Wednesday forenoon's agricultural engineering program will be of special interest to poultrymen. The first speaker will be no stranger to Maine audiences. He is Joseph H. Bodwell, of Portsmouth, N. H., who was the first county Extension agent in Piscataquis county. He will describe gathering eggs, feeding poultry, and cleaning poultry houses with machinery.

Bodwell will be followed by J. H. Oliver, of Schenectady, N. Y., and F. G. Lenzi, of Syracuse, N. Y., on the types of heating available for poultry houses. Last speaker will be W. Everett Eakin, of Toledo. He will tell how to use more of the heat of the sun in keeping poultry houses comfortable.

Stacy R. Miller, executive secretary, Maine Extension Service, represented the University of Maine at a Feb. 11-14 Washington conference on the agricultural trainee program for foreign visitors.

U.S. Air Force Is Looking For Weather Officers

The United States Air Force is offering second lieutenants' commissions to students qualified to become weather officers. College graduates and second-semester seniors may apply provided they have credit for one year of college physics and mathematics through integral calculus.

Successful applicants will receive 12 months' training in meteorology at government expense at one of seven participating U. S. colleges and universities.

Information may be obtained from the Chief, Air Weather Service, Andrews Air Force Base, Washington 25, D. C.

Richard R. Leclair has received the Thomas A. Clark Award of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. The award is given to a graduating ATO who has been outstanding in leadership, scholarship, and character.

Visiting Burmese Teacher Finds Maine 'Pleasant Place To Live'

"The people are very friendly. This country is a very pleasant place in which to live."

These words sum up Miss Ma Ohn Kyi's impression of her first visit to the United States.

Miss Kyi, who is from Moulmein, Burma, is a new foreign student on campus. She is one of eleven teachers from Burma selected by the Smith-Mundt Scholarship committee for a six-months' study of the American educational system.

In 1939, Miss Kyi received her B.A. degree from Judson College, an American Baptist college in Burma. In 1941, she received the Bachelor of Education degree from Rangoon University in Burma.

Before coming to the United States, Miss Kyi taught high school mathematics in her native country.

Arriving in New York on Dec. 8, Miss Kyi went directly to Washington, from which place she was sent to Nebraska to study the school system in that state. She came from Nebraska to Maine in time to register for the second semester.

When asked to compare Rangoon University and the University of Maine, Miss Kyi said, "There is not too much difference in method or subject-matter, although here, you lay a greater stress on art and music than we do."

Miss Kyi has no complaints about the Maine winter, "but," she added, "I hope to visit Florida before I return to Burma."

Officers elected by the Maine Student Branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers are: Ray Lamoreau, president; Henry Cyr, vice president; C. Thomas Hoyt, secretary; Bernard Gardner, treasurer; Peter Zinchuk, scribe; and Rodney Martin, faculty advisor.

Better Religious Understanding Is A Goal Of Embassy Week

Embassy Week, scheduled for March 17-19, might well be called "religious emphasis week."

Two prime purposes of the program are: (1) to give the student a better understanding of religions other than his own, and (2) to help the student answer some of his own questions concerning religion.

Lectures, panel discussions, and informal sessions contribute to the desired results.

Embassy Week originated at Bowdoin College about 1930. Since then many colleges throughout the country have adopted it.

The University of Maine had its first Embassy in 1939. The idea was brought here by Father Gordon Gillett, chaplain to Episcopal students, who had been a student at Bowdoin when the plan was originated. The program was first sponsored by the Maine Christian Association under the leadership of the late Albion P. Beverage, then general secretary of the MCA.

The first program was for men. The next year the women countered with an Embassy of their own. Separate programs continued until the war years.

In 1944 the men's and women's MCA cabinets were combined, and Embassy Week became a general university program. The MCA, Hillel, and the Newman Club were sponsors until 1950, when the Student Religious Association came into being. Now SRA sponsors Embassy.

At Maine, the three co-chairmen of the Embassy committee are chosen by the SRA Cabinet to represent the three major faith groups. Leaders of the various religions are brought to the campus to speak. Their coming to the campus as envoys gives Embassy Week its name.

Besides cooperating in the general program, the various faith groups usually have services and programs of their own. This year, for the fifth year, Roman Catholics will conduct their annual mission services in conjunction with the Embassy program.

The Embassy Week visitors usually meet with some classes and are sometimes available for personal counseling.

The Book Store's hours are 7:15 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 7:15 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays.

Italian Students Here For Courses In Pulp And Paper

Two new students arrived on campus last week to take a special one-semester course in pulp and paper technology.

They are Edoardo Brustia and Giorgio Brunner Muratti from Milan, Italy.

Brustia, 27, a resident of Milan, and Brunner Muratti, 25, a native of Trieste, are both chemical engineers and are both employed by Cartiera di Verona, a paper manufacturing company in Milan. They are graduates of Politecnico di Milano.

Sent to Maine by their employer to brush up on advancements in the pulp and paper industry, the new students crossed the Atlantic on the USS Constitution, arriving in New York on Feb. 18, just missing the recent storm. The men were enthusiastic about the snow conditions on campus, saying that it reminded them of the Alps in their native country. They hope to get in some skiing before spring.

They will live in Oak Hall this semester during which they will take courses in paper technology, paper manufacture and testing, pulp and paper equipment, and personnel management.

We may not have all the news, but with your help we'll have more of it. Send items of interest to Room 2 Fernald Hall, or call Ext. 52.

Maine Alumnus George Bearce Gets Pulp And Paper Award

George D. Bearce of Bucksport was awarded the University of Maine Pulp and Paper Foundation's 1952 Honor Award last week.

Bearce, a graduate of Maine in the class of 1911, is general manager of the St. Regis Paper Company operations in the State of Maine.

The presentation was made "in recognition of outstanding service to the pulp and paper industry in management and technology."

Established about two years ago, the foundation is designed to interest students in the University's pulp and paper program, to provide loans and scholarships for these students, to interest students and men from industry in advanced study, to screen outstanding students for the five-year operational management program, to augment the teaching staff and to advance fundamental and applied research.

Mr. Bearce is a native of Auburn, Me., where he was graduated from Edward Little High school.

As an undergraduate at Maine he was prominent in athletics, winning varsity letters in football, baseball, and track. He was elected to membership in the Sophomore Owls and Senior Skulls. He has been particularly active in alumni affairs.

He has also done graduate work at Columbia university and Harvard Law school.

After receiving his B.S. degree from Maine, Mr. Bearce entered a long and productive career in the paper industry. For several years he was with the Mead corporation, Chillicothe, Ohio, and later he served for seven years as an engineer with the News Print Service Bureau. Later he became manager of the Dalhousie (Canada) mill of the International Paper company. He was a pulp and paper mill consultant in New York for a time. In 1935 he was named general manager of the Maine Seaboard Paper company's mill at Bucksport and was named vice president in 1945. The Bucksport mill was acquired by St. Regis in 1946.

Mr. Bearce is a member of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry and a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He has been interested in Boy Scout work and has received many honors for his volunteer work in this field. He has also taken an active part in many other civic affairs.

The recipient of the Foundation's first Honor Award last year was Dr. Ralph H. McKee, of New York. Dr. McKee was honored for having started the first college course in pulp and paper technology in the country at the University of Maine in 1913.

Eight Students Awarded A & P Scholarships

Eight winners of the 1951-52 Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company scholarships were honor guests at a recent banquet in Estabrooke Hall.

The awards are made annually by the company to students in agricultural economics, farm management, and home economics on the basis of leadership, character, and scholarship.

Recipients this year were Judith E. Ham, Catherine P. Howe, Barbara J. Pillsbury, Muriel E. Verrill, Delbert C. Beckwith, James D. Bromley, Donald D. Durost and Paul E. Hand.

Delta Tau Delta's new officers are: Patrick H. Dionne, president; Bainbridge M. Parsons, vice president; Ernest W. Johnson, recording secretary; K. Barry Ward, corresponding secretary; and Harry T. Jose, Jr., treasurer.

John Skillin Is Chairman Of Maine Day

John Skillin, a senior, has been named general chairman of Maine Day activities by the General Student Senate.

Maine Day, annually set aside for students and faculty to cooperate on constructive projects around the campus, was started 18 years ago by President Arthur A. Hauck. The date for this year's Maine Day is May 14.

Bill Hirst has been named project chairman. Don Spear is chairman of the mayoralty campaign.

The over-all Maine Day committee selected by the General Senate includes three students from each class:

Seniors—Don Spear, Margaret Murray, and Tom Lydon.

Juniors—Don Stritch, Bill Hirst, and Sue Chase.

Sophomores—Ted Spencer, Jan Griswold, and Jean Grindle.

Freshmen—Cynthia Nelson, Paul Butler, and Chip Moody.

University Students Featured In Hillel Service At Portland

A special Hillel service will be presented tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the Sharrey Tphiloh Synagogue in Portland. Rabbi Milton Elefant, director of Hillel at the University of Maine, will lead the service. Gerald Cope, president of Hillel at the University, will speak on "The Age of Survival." Leonard Silver will be the guest student cantor.

Members of the male choir will include Mark Cohen, Cope, Philip Gotlib, Owen Greenblatt, Philip Nectow, Gordon Weinstein, Richard Wilner, and Ernest Hilton, choir leader.

After the service, students will present an original pageant written by Ted Gross. In the pageant choir will be Frances Dion, Sondra Glorsky, Zira Scheer, Doris Toabe, and Beverly Weinstein.

Members of a club supporting Neil S. Bishop for governor met their candidate last Sunday night at the Lambda Chi house.

Activities Fees Go To Athletics In Large Part

More than $34,000 in activities fees and more than $19,000 in health fees were paid by the University's fall semester registrants, according to figures released by Treasurer Frederick S. Youngs.

Of the activities total, $32,896 went to the Athletic Department, $1,355 to The Maine Campus, and $635 to the General Student Senate. All health fees went to the University Health Service.

Nearly every student paid an activities fee of $13 and a health fee of $7 for the semester.

The activities fee is optional with students in Two-Year Agriculture and with graduate students who are not taking a full schedule of courses.

From each $13 paid for activities, $12.25 went for athletics, 50¢ went to the Campus, and 25¢ went to the General Student Senate, according to Youngs.

Mrs. Louis Oakes, Wife Of Library Benefactor, Dies

Mrs. Eva Lois Oakes, wife of Louis Oakes who contributed funds for the Louis Oakes Room, died suddenly in her Greenville (Me.) home last Thursday. Mrs. Oakes died just two days before she and her husband were to have helped dedicate the new Foxcroft academy, for which they gave more than half the funds.

Mrs. Oakes was born in Foxcroft June 18, 1873. She attended Dover-Foxcroft schools and Foxcroft Academy. Married in 1898, Mr. and Mrs. Oakes have lived in Greenville since 1907.

Survivors, besides Mr. Oakes, are a daughter, Mrs. C. Max Hilton of Greenville; a grandson, Louis Oakes Hilton of Greenville, a sophomore at the University of Maine; a sister, Mrs. Agnes Leland of Dover-Foxcroft; and two nieces and cousins.

Raymond Fogler Is Retiring From W. T. Grant Co.

During his 25 years with Grant, Mr. Fogler saw the chain expand from a group of 33 stores to a coast to coast network of 484 stores.

All seven of Mr. Fogler's children have attended the University of Maine. The four boys (Henry H., '43, John P., '49, William A., '51, and Thomas K., '52) are all members of Sigma Chi fraternity. The three Fogler daughters (Mrs. Sumner Claverie, '45, Mrs. Merle F. Goff, '48, and Mrs. Donald E. Hobbs, '50) have all married Sigma Chis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fogler have lived in Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., for the past 12 years. They plan to move to the Fogler farm in Exeter, Me.

Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Opportunities for Collegians Now Preparing for Military Service

Here is a real man-size opportunity! You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or Aircraft Observer in America's swiftly-expanding Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. However, seniors and students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can insure their future and serve their country best by applying for Aviation Cadet Training today. You receive the finest training and experience when you fly with the U. S. Air Force—experience that pays off in later years.

WHO MAY APPLY

AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single.
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Good, especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.

HOW TO QUALIFY

Another Winter Carnival! Another successful week end. Everybody suddenly turned into a sports enthusiast.

Sigma Nu held an informal ski tog dance on Friday evening. Thirty couples attended. The couples provided their own entertainment with group singing. Bill Bunter and Crosby Packard were in charge with Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Brugman and Mr. and Mrs. Edmond J. Lebrun chaperoning.

Fifty couples were present at a buffet supper at Beta Saturday evening. A vic dance and group singing completed the evening. Mr. and Mrs. George T. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Supple chaperoned Bill "Hokey" Perry was in charge of arrangements.

A hot dog and marshmallow roast was featured at a skating party held by the International Club on Sunday evening. Following this about 40 people put on skates and tried their luck on the skating rink. Ina vanHee was in charge of the party. Rev. Charles O'Connor chaperoned.

Phi Kap held its annual Harold's Club Party on Friday evening, Feb. 15. Gambling tables with various betting games were set up, and the house was decorated to resemble Harold's Club, Reno, Nevada. Approximately 100 couples tried their luck with the play money. Chaperons were Maj. and Mrs. Hugh Wendle, Capt. and Mrs. Leo Sullivan, and Mrs. Haines.

Pinned: Pat Fair to John Ludwig, Theta Chi; Rosemary Carlin to "Skip" Hall, ATO; Peggy Hoyt to Don Poulin, SAE; Nancy King, Wheaton College, to Donald Stover, SAE; and Phyllis Cassidy, Bangor, to Dick Coleman, SAE.

Chi Omega and their alumnae group are now planning a joint supper to be held in the Church of Universal Fellowship vestry on Friday, March 14.

Guild Will Present Script By Flutter

"The Garret Stairway," written and directed by Flutter Floyd, will be presented by the University of Maine Radio Guild tomorrow night at 10:30 over station WLBZ.

The script deals with the exploits of a reporter investigating the home of a mysterious woman spiritualist and ending up with the uncovering of missing jewels.

The cast includes Bob Ellingwood, John Ertha, Irene Brooks, Ben Pike, Mike Boyd, and Larry Wright. Assisting Miss Floyd is Carol Prentiss. Mike Mikalonis will handle the musical background and Herb Wing will do the timing.

Tryouts for the guild shows are held every Monday afternoon at 3:45 in 275 Stevens Hall.

Preston (Duke) Walters is president of a club organized on campus to support the candidacy of Leroy F. Hussey for governor.

Bear Facts

By DANA WARREN

Coach Rome Rankin's varsity hoopsters will be playing their last game of the season when they take on Bowdoin for the third time this year. The final game is scheduled for 4 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium. The 1951-52 squad although showing few games in the win column, have shown a real fighting spirit in many of their home contests against top-notch opposition.

This has been primarily a building year for the cagers. The only graduating member of the first five is Captain Jack Christie. Jack has been the backbone of the squad all season. In addition to being high point man for the Pale Blue in many of the toughest contests, Christie has provided the necessary spark to keep his team in the game.

Elsewhere on the New England court scene, Capt. Bill Prevey of the University of Massachusetts is threatening to set an all time individual Yankee Conference scoring record. Although the Redmen have lost all three of their Yankee Conference games played this season, Prevey has come through with 85 big markers for an average of better than 28 points per game. On Feb. 14 against Rhode Island he pumped in 39 points to establish a single conference scoring record. Connecticut's Vin Yokabaskas set the seasonal scoring average in 1950 at 21.5.

Last Saturday's track meet against the Springfield Track Club, although not close in the final tally, produced two meet record breakers. John Bowler and Jack Wathen turned in fine performances as they set new meet records in the 600 yard and 1000 yard runs respectively. Wathen beat sophomore standout "Coke" Haskell by inches as he crossed the line to set the record. Miler Mac Osborn did a tough chore when he beat Springfield's Bob Goodwin for a first place finish. Goodwin had previously this year taken a third in the New England at Providence.

Coach Bob Hollway's frosh cagers will finish their season along with the varsity in a Saturday afternoon preliminary when they meet Madawaska State Normal School. The freshmen have shown themselves to be tough competitors in most of their games this season. Losses through ineligibility and a short schedule have been tough obstacles to climb. Coach Hollway deserves credit for producing a winning team under the circumstances.

The unheralded inter-fraternity bowling league is still going strong at the Orono Bowling alleys. Although the competition does not provide intramural sports points for the fraternities, most of the teams have bowled about 50 matches this season. A trophy is offered to the winning house. At present Tau Kappa Epsilon is leading with a 40-8 record.

Coach Garland Russell has announced that new candidates for the Varsity Tennis squad should report to him not later than Monday, March 3. The team will begin regularly scheduled practice sessions that week from 4 to 6 in the afternoon. Varsity practice has been held on an informal basis the past two Sunday evenings.

Last week end's intramural skiing events showed plenty of thrills and spills across the Stillwater as Sigma Chi walked away with top honors. The first event of the meet saw a blockbusting football player turn birdman as Pete Pocius took first place in the jump. What gives?

Frosh Oppose M.T.S. Saturday

After tangling with Ricker Junior College last night the Frosh basketball squad has a couple of days for recuperation before taking on Madawaska Training School Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

The yearlings ran into tough competition last week when Higgins Classical made their yearly visit for the preliminary to the Rhody-Maine varsity go. Led by Gus Folsom, one of the most accomplished prep-schoolers to be seen by Maine fans this year, Higgins pulled out a two-point 67-65 victory over the Freshmen in a fast game where the lead changed with practically every basket in the fourth period.

Maine held a three-point lead at the end of the first period but Higgins came back to take over at the half, 33-30. At the end of three quarters it was Higgins, 54-50, and then the game went nip-and-tuck right down to the horn.

Folsom threw in 27 points to play the big-gun role for Higgins.

Jenkinsmen Meet Terriers Here Saturday

Fresh from a romp over the Springfield Track Club last Saturday, the Black Bear cindersmen will collide with Boston University's track squad at the field house Saturday afternoon.

The Pale Blue ran the Gymnasts into the ground last weekend as the anticipated down-to-the-wire dogfight failed to materialize. Coach Jenkins' speedsters packed too much of a wallop for the boys from Springfield and walked off with a lopsided 89-37 verdict.

Meet records were set by John Bowler in the 600 yard run and Jack Wathen in the 1000. Bowler, who also won the 300 yard run, duplicated the performance he made against New Hampshire the previous week when he also won both events.

Other standouts for the Pale Blue were Mal Osborne with a win in the one-mile run, Ed Touchette and Dick Leclair in the hurdles, George Weatherbee with an 11 foot nine inch leap in the pole vault event and Carleton McLean in his two mile romp.

The coming meet with Boston University promises to be an entirely different story. The Terriers possess a wealth of talent all the way down the line. They have shown a fine balance of speed, power, and depth provided by a raft of top-notch performers in previous meets this season. The boys from Boston gave the Bears a sound thumping last year, and Coach Jenkins is not optimistic over our chances for revenge.

Baseball Candidates Are Called To Practice

Varsity baseball coach, Harold (Tubby) Raymond, has issued another call for varsity candidates to report for practice.

Coach Raymond said that he would like all those interested to report at once. Time is growing short for the team to get in shape for the annual southern trip scheduled to start March 29.

The squad has been working out for about three weeks, but there is still plenty of opportunity for newcomers. Coach Raymond commented that the squad is young and there are a number of spots to be filled.

Within The Walls

By PERLESTON PERT, JR.

Action on the intramural basketball courts was at a minimum last week because of forfeited games and a short schedule of two nights of play.

Of the top five teams in the fraternity division, only Phi Eta was scheduled to play. The Phi Etas won their eleventh straight by a forfeit as their opponent, TEP, didn't show.

In the American League of the dormitory division, Corbett 3 brought its victory skein to nine straight by knocking off Corbett 2, 55 to 40.

Corbett 4 buried Dunn 3, 73 to 28, bringing its record to seven wins against one loss and retaining its second place.

Of the games scheduled in the National League of the dormitory division, Castoffs won over South Apartments by a forfeit as did North Dorm 10 over Grads.

Both North Dorm 7 and North

Dorm 5 showed up for their scheduled game. Dorm 7 had little trouble in winning, 60 to 47.

According to faculty director Sam Sezak, all of the games forfeited on Monday night of last week may be played if the teams involved make their own arrangements.

Sigma Chi Wins Ski Competition

By KEITH RUFF

Honors in the Intramural ski events of the Maine Winter Carnival were copied by Sigma Chi with a 17½ point total.

Second, with 10 points, was Phi Mu, while TKE and Sigma Nu rounded out the top four with 8 and 6 points respectively.

The following fraternities placed from fifth to twelfth in the scoring: Phi Eta 5½ points, Kappa Sig, 5 points; ATO, 3; Beta, 3; Phi Gam, 2; Delta Tau, 1; Sig Ep, 1; Lambda Chi, 1.

In the jumping event Friday afternoon, Pete Pocius of Kappa Sig topped the field. Pete Shumway of Sigma Chi and Wally Getchell of Phi Eta tied for second and John Brewer of Lambda Chi took fourth.

Phi Mu's John Gerry won the slalom followed by Cedric Joyce, Beta, and Bob Hunter and Emerson Colby of Sigma Chi.

In the downhill race, Phi Mu's John Gerry took his second first of the day. Rus Lovaas of ATO, Bob Wallace of Sigma Chi, and Larry Stinchfield of Delta Tau, placed second, third and fourth respectively.

Saturday morning's 1½ mile cross country was won by Dick Harrington of TKE. Second, Dave Beppler, Phi Eta; third, Bill Whited, Sigma Nu and fourth, Roger Gould, Sig Ep.

Wallace of Sigma Chi out-dashed the competition in the 100-yard ski dash followed by Harrington of TKE. Al Goff of Phi Gam and Whited of Sigma Nu.

In the dormitory division, Howard Ainsworth personally accounted for a Hannibal Hamlin victory by taking first in the jumping, a second place tie in the downhill, second in the cross country and first in the 100-yard dash.

Robbie Upton from the North Dorms won the slalom and Rupert Amann took first in the down hill.

Pale Blue Five Beaten Twice By Polar Bears

By PERLESTON PERT, JR.

Coach Rome Rankin's varsity cage squad will wind up its 19-game schedule on Saturday against a strong Bowdoin five in a contest slated for 4 p.m. The Frosh team will clash with Madawaska Training School in the prelim at 2 p.m.

The games have been re-scheduled for the afternoon because of the high school basketball tournament being held here in the evening.

The varsity contest will be the third meeting between the two clubs, Bowdoin having beaten the Black Bears in the two previous games. Early in the season the Polar Bears pinned a decisive 68 to 42 defeat on the Rankinmen but beat the Black Bears by a slim 49 to 40 margin on Jan. 19.

Last Saturday the Black Bears ran into trouble against an explosive University of New Hampshire quintet at Durham. Maine never could get started as the Wildcats took sweet revenge for a loss at Orono and soundly trounced the Bears, 86 to 52.

Jim Poteet and Billy Pappas, UNH freshman hoop wizards, scored 23 and 21 points, respectively, to lead the Wildcat onslaught.

Against Bowdoin, Maine will have its hands full in holding down men like Merle Jordan, Walt Bartlett, and Jim Hebert, all of whom are capable of scoring heavily.

But the Black Bears are capable of showing class and scoring punch, too, as was proven in their first meeting with New Hampshire. With Capt. Jack Christie and Bob Nixon popping them in from the outside, big John Norris and Bob Churchill hooking them in, and Woody Carville working hard off the boards, the Pale Blue could provide a real uncomfortable night for their Brunswick rivals.

For seniors Bernie Parady and Capt. Jack Christie, Saturday night's contest will be the last in a Pale Blue uniform. Both boys will graduate in June.

Women's Sports

By LORRIE SKOLFIELD

Connie Berry and Isabelle Stearns have been chosen as Maine's delegates to the A.F.C.W. Conference which will be held here Friday and Saturday, March 7-8.

Isabelle Stearns has been named guest speaker. Aroostook State Normal School is in charge of the program, and Norma Jose has been named chairman of housing facilities.

The results of the women's division skiing are as follows:

Advanced downhill: 1—Cynthia Cowan, Balentine; 2—Alice Hastings, East; 3—Martha Pratt, Elms.

Advanced slalom: 1—Pratt, Elms; 2—Hastings, East; 3—Cynthia Nelson, West.

Novice downhill: 1—Ruth Johnson, Elms; 2—Lorrie Skolfield, Elms; 3—Jane Ingraham, South Estabrooke.

Novice slalom: 1—Ingraham, South Estabrooke; 2—Ruth Mitchell, Elms; 3—Skolfield, Elms.

Snowshoe: 1—Stearns, Elms; 2—Skolfield, Elms; 3—Mitchell, Elms.

One ski race: 1—Cowan, Balentine; 2—Pat Adams, Elms; 3—Mitchell, Elms.

Potato race: 1—Adams, Elms; 2—Ruth Beyer, Off Campus; 3—Mitchell, Elms.

Pageantry And Fun Mark Maine's 31st Winter Carnival

Phi Kappa Sigma's prize-winning physicist's head.

Freshman Fred A. Huntress won the cross country event.

Queen Mary Snyder and King Paul Judkins reigned over the Carnival week end.

Winner of the women's snow sculpture was South Estabrooke's star-gazing astronomer.

Sigma Chi's Yankee Conference Bean Pot failed to win but drew much attention.

No prize winner, Beta Theta Pi's entry proved popular.
