Blood Drive Success Predicted

President Arthur A. Hauck represented the University at the opening of the Penobscot County Blood Drive in Bangor Saturday.

"Now that the blood drive is under way," said Dr. Hauck, "I feel certain that we at the University of Maine will more than meet our quota when our drive starts."

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be on campus April 21-22. According to Richard Stillings, chairman of the campus blood drive committee, pledges are now being received and processed. Permission forms for persons between the ages of 18 and 21 are also available.

At midweek, 103 pledges had been received. The military department reported that 95 per cent of the second-year advanced cadets had already signed pledges.

Other cadets will have an opportunity to pledge before the Drive starts.

Goodwill Drive Is In Full Swing

The Goodwill drive thermometer on the mall this morning revealed that $1546 had been donated during the first three days of the campaign.

The drive, which opened officially Monday, has as its goal $3,320.

In the first major promotion stunt of the drive yesterday afternoon the services of Pres. Arthur A. Hauck, Dean John E. Stewart, Dean Edith G. Wilson, and several department heads were auctioned off in the Little Theatre before an enthusiastic audience.

The audience got many laughs as auctioneers 'Duke' Walters and Prof. Richard Hill clowned through a mock slave sale which saw many administrative and academic celebrities auctioned off as dish-washers, walk-sweepers, and door-men.

Beginning Monday night, fraternity and dormitory personnel were treated to supper-time entertainment as a trio of girls, Dotty McCann, Cynthia Nelson, and Eini Riutta, visited some of the fraternity houses and dorms to sing a little ditty plugging the Goodwill drive.

Embassy's Program Is Aimed At All

Dr. Nelson To Give Assembly Address

BY HELEN JOHNSON

The University's twelfth annual Embassy Week will open Monday morning with an assembly at 9:25. Keynoter will be Dr. John Oliver Nelson, field work director of the Yale Divinity School.

The subject of Dr. Nelson's assembly address will be "Student, Do You Have a Religion?"

Besides Dr. Nelson, Embassy Week guest speakers, in the order of their appearance on the general program, will be Miss Jean Fairfax, Rev. Albert C. Niles, Rev. Francis T. McGough, C.S.P., Rev. Leonard G. Clough, and Rabbi Bernard Honan.

With Friends Service Group

Miss Fairfax is college secretary in New England for the American Friends Service Committee. A graduate of the University of Michigan, she received the M.A. in Comparative Religion from Union Theological Seminary and Columbia University. From 1946 to 1948 she was overseas for the AFSC. She worked among refugees and displaced persons in Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and Italy. She has visited Mexico, England, Sweden, Denmark, Yugoslavia, and France.

Mr. Niles, minister of the Elm Street Universalist Church in Auburn, Me., graduated from St. Lawrence University with the B.S. degree in physics. He received the B.D. from St. Lawrence in 1940. He went to the Auburn Church in 1943.

At present, Mr. Niles is vice president of the Auburn Community Council. A member of the Central Fellowship Committee of the Universalist Church of America, he also serves as a trustee of the Universalist Publishing House.

From Banking To Priesthood

Father McGough, secretary to the Superior General of Paulist Fathers in New York City and secretary-treasurer of the Catholics' Missionary Union of the United States, trained for banking. He was vice president of a bank's insurance department before entering the Paulist Novitiate in 1939.

He was ordained in 1946. He will (Continued on Page Three)

Masque Cast Ready For Wilde Comedy

The Maine Masque will revive Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Ernest" for the second time in 26 years.

Under the direction of Prof. Herschel Bricker, the Masque will present the drawing room comedy in the Little Theatre, March 19-22.

In this year's production, co-eds will climb into long skirts and leg-of-mutton sleeves. The entire play is a period piece and will be presented in 19th century costume and decor.

The last performance of the play in 1926 was hailed by a Campus review "...as a laugh from start to finish."

The Memorial Gym was transformed into a twilight paradise of streamers, stars and silhouettes last Friday night for the annual Sophomore Hop.

If the success of a dance is to be judged by the size of the attendance, the Hop was a huge success.

Mal Hallet and His Orchestra played for one of the largest dance crowds of the current year.

Crop Specialist Wyman Resigns Extension Post

Oscar L. Wyman, extension crop specialist of the University of Maine, has resigned his post at the University. He will leave Saturday to enter private business.

Mr. Wyman was graduated from the University of Maine in 1926. He has been with the Extension Service since 1930.

He will continue to live in Orono.

Cadets Report On Adventure At West Point

Pat Dionne and Glenn Folsom returned to the campus from West Point last week after living three days as cadets.

The two Maine men were among 110 R.O.T.C. students who represented the eastern United States.

Dionne and Folsom were impressed by the amount of technical equipment available to the cadets. In classwork, they say, the cadets are burdened with little that doesn't relate to their careers as soldiers.

The visitors lived with cadets, rising for reveille at 5:30 a.m., joining all formations and attending all classes.

Canterbury Club will hold open house Wednesday, March 19, at 6:45 p.m.

McCusker Asks Fraternities To End Hell Week

"It's a crime—almost a sacrilege—to paddle a pledge into a fraternity."

That is what Joseph A. McCusker, '17, treasurer of the National Interfraternity Conference, told nearly 700 fraternity men and pledges at a meeting in the Women's Gymnasium last Monday night.

McCusker, long an advocate of Greek Week in place of the present Hell Week, went on to point out what he considers the evils of the system now in use.

He described Hell Week as a peril to health, scholarship, and chapter unity. In its place, he suggested that a constructive educational and inspirational program be fostered by the fraternities on campus.

Sigma Phi Epsilon introduced a program of community projects during its Hell Week last year, and this year most of Maine's 17 fraternities allotted part of their initiation period to similar constructive work in Orono and Old Town.

Guild To Present Script Tomorrow

Tomorrow night at 10:30 p.m. over station WLBZ the University of Maine Radio Guild will present "There is no Escape," an original script written and directed by Carol Prentiss.

Singers Plan Concerts

The Varsity Singers and the Madrigal Singers under the direction of James Selwood will present a joint concert at the Blue Hill Town Hall at 8:15 p.m. Saturday.

On Tuesday, March 18, the Madrigal Singers will travel to Portland for a joint concert with the Rossini Club of that city.

INTERESTED in YOURSELF?

WE HOPE YOU ARE, because it takes an engineer with self-interest to meet challenging problems and we have engineering problems as tough as any you'll find.

WE LOOK FOR MEN interested in themselves because healthy self-esteem makes a man want to show what he can do. People who merely want a job won't give us the fresh ideas that are the life's blood of our industrial instrumentation business. It's the ambitious, driving engineers that are solving today's complex industrial process problems through automatic controls and systems. Why don't YOU put your self interest to work solving tomorrow's problems in this varied, challenging, interesting field?

IF YOU ARE AN ENGINEER—Electrical, Mechanical, Industrial—or a Physicist, ask your college placement office for more information about BROWN INSTRUMENTS DIVISION, MINNEAPOLIS-HONEYWELL REGULATOR COMPANY then be sure to see our representative who will visit your campus very soon.

Sinks Are Clue To Marital Bliss, Sully Professes

BY STAN FERGUSON

A rapidly growing institution in the South Apartment area is Arthur (Sully) Sullivan who works for the University Buildings and Grounds Department. Endowed with a spontaneous sense of humor, Sully is at once the boon and the bane of South Apartment tenants.

Aside from proclaiming himself the “Scholarly Plumber” in the “Madman Muntz” tradition, he takes it upon himself to erase all boredom from the lives of the folks in the “Colony.”

Sully begins his working day at 6:45 a.m. In spite of the fact that few people are awake at that hour, Sully raps on all the doors of people who have requested a plumber, rouses them, and begins his work.

A few mornings ago, Joe and Mary Wall answered a thundering at their door. It was Sully, beaming a “Good Morning,” and announcing that he was going to fix the sink trap. He told Mary to get on the ball and make some coffee. She scrambled around and made some coffee, poured Sully a cup and invited him to sit down and drink it. Sully looked up from the sink and said, “Coffee? Oh, no, Mary! I hate the stuff. Never drank it in my life!” and continued working. Mary burned.

Sully professes to know the degree of happiness that prevails in a family by the condition of the sink in the kitchen. “If the sinks are not too clean,” he offers sagely, “it means the little woman is happy and doesn’t have the time or inclination to bother with the old thing. But,” he continues, “if the sink is unusually clean, it probably means that the little woman is mad at her husband and has forced him to clean it.”

Sully’s “gloves” fascinate the children. The “gloves” are made of Grade-A, No. 1 soot from pipes and water jackets.

Sully’s scholarly achievements are a B.S. degree (Bachelor of Sinks) and a few thousand hours toward an M.S. (Master of Showers). Asked if his references and research material were hard to find, he gravely pats a large Stillson wrench and says, “Very.”

Better inter-faith understanding is the annual goal of Embassy Week. Co-chairmen of this year’s program are (l. to r.) Ida Moreshead, Ernest Hilton and Anne Dutille. The three represent the Protestant, Jewish, and Catholic faiths respectively. Photo by Marcoux

IS A MAN YOUR PROBLEM CHILD?

When a male wishes to impress a girl, he thinks he knows exactly what to do. He brings her candy, perfume or her favorite flowers. Any of these traditional offerings are sure to be rewarded with a winning smile and a delightful “Thank you!” It’s as simple as that!

A girl seeking a gift which will please a male, on the other hand, frequently has to do a bit of brain-cudgeling. A wallet? A lighter? He probably has both. Ties? ... Wonderful—but how to account for a man’s taste?

What, then, is the answer?

Something he’s certain to especially appreciate because you’ve knitted it with your own hands! Like a handsome sweater ... or a pair of manly, colorful, always popular argyle socks ... or, most ideal, a distinctive combination of the two.

Co-ed Nominees Are Sought For Watch Award

First steps are being taken in the selection of candidates for the women’s watch award.

The Portland alumnae present a watch each year to the woman member of the graduating class who, in the opinion of students and administration, has done most for the University during her course.

An award committee, consisting this year of Mary Noyes and Barbara Bornheimer, has the job of sending out letters to each of thirteen women’s organizations on campus requesting that each nominate five girls for the award.

An activities blank is sent to each girl who is nominated.

The Women’s Student Government Association Council goes over the names and narrows the field down to five on the basis of character, cooperation, dependability, scholarship, and contribution in at least three activities.

The candidates’ names appear on a ballot, and the women students vote on them at general elections in the spring. The vote is then counted by the president of the University and others. Final decision actually rests with the administration, but the student choice is usually approved.

Honor Is An Individual Thing

There has been talk, at various times since we have been in college, of the installation of an "honor system" at Maine. In fact, at present a plan is being studied by a student-faculty committee that will endeavor to introduce the "system" at the earliest practicable date.

But this is not an essay on the pros and cons of the "honor system." We believe in honor. And we wish it were, like television, here to stay. Maybe it is.

We have talked to several people, both students and faculty members, about the feasibility of such a "system" at Maine. The consensus has been that we, at Maine, are not yet ready for it.

Not altogether satisfied with this we pressed the subject further. How does one get ready for "honor"? And the moment we had asked the question, we knew that we could supply our own answer.

We can't shut "honor" off and on like a water faucet. Nor can a sleight-of-hand artist yank it out of a top-hat. There's no now-you-see-it, now-you-don't routine connected with "honor."

Or to spell it out in plain American, a mere decree from the Administration stating that the "honor system" was in effect at Maine, would have almost as much impact on our student body as a pine cone dropping from a tree at two o'clock on the morning of July 4th.

A friend of ours, who knew we were interested in the subject, was kind enough to call to our attention a column written by Bill Cunningham in a recent Boston Herald. Much of the text of Mr. Cunningham's column is quoted from a radio talk given by Dr. John Sloan Dickey, president of Dartmouth, to his students on the eve of an examination period. Dartmouth was at the time considering the inauguration of an "honor system." We only wish that space permitted us to print that column in its entirety, but the following excerpts may serve to emphasize the point which we have been trying to make.

"... regardless of where we may, or may not, come out on an honor system, I want to be sure that all this talk about 'systems' doesn't lead some of you to take your eye off the ball, which to put it bluntly, is not the system, but you. Indeed, gentlemen, the thing I fear most about any honor system, is that it may foster the fatal idea for some fellows that their honor is only at stake when they are told by someone else that they are, as the phrase goes, being 'put on their honor.' ...

"... it is no light moralizing when I tell you that the guy who 'gets by' through cheating in college has done something to himself which very, very few men ever later entirely undo, however much they may tell themselves to the contrary. It may sound quixotic to you tonight, but my advice to any fellow who feels himself so hard pressed that he's fooling around with the idea of trying to cheat his way through, is to forget it, and take his honest chances of 'busting the course,' or even of 'busting out of college.' ...

There is more of what Dr. Dickey said, but that should suffice.

Honor is, after all, an individual thing.

One Small Gleam

BY HELEN JOHNSON

Editor's Note: This is the second of two columns on the presidents of U. of M. political clubs. The first, on Ed Pert, president of the Young Democrats, appeared Feb. 28.

Larry Wright, president of the Young Republicans, is a comparative newcomer to the political scene. His interest in politics is mainly a "citizen's interest."

"I think everyone should be interested in politics," he says. "The average citizen is too apathetic toward political affairs."

Hailing from Stratton, he was a member of the Franklin County Young Republicans before coming to U. of M. His presidency of the University Young Republicans is his first active political post.

The most important reason for the Maine citizen's apathy toward politics, he says, is lack of issues. "The biggest weakness in Maine," he went on, "is the weakness of the Democratic party. The biggest clash in Maine is within the Republican party."

A major in government, and a debater, Wright is planning to take his law degree after leaving Maine. "At Georgetown in Washington, I hope," he says. He isn't interested in taking any active part in politics, but he does want to be an informed "spectator."

When this reporter quizzed him about the elections coming up in Maine, Wright grinned and said: "Well, it's bound to be a Republican election." Following the policy of the Young Republicans as decided at their state convention in Portland, he backed no particular candidate for gubernatorial nomination. "They're all good boys," he said.

Interviewed before Governor Payne entered the senatorial race, Wright said, "Right now I will predict that Brewster will have no trouble." However, he added that he believed Payne is an excellent man. He went on to say that although Payne knew the sales tax would be unpopular he supported it. "Payne knew that Maine had to have some kind of a tax and that the sales tax was probably most acceptable," he said.

About the national elections, Wright was more explicit. Agreeing with many politicians, he says that "Ike," in order to get the nomination, will have to do some campaigning on his own. "Right now it's strictly a Taft race," he said. He added that the Taft campaign is very well organized.

Yak-Yak-Yak

BY BEN PIKE

After listening to Stan Lavery usher in this year's Good Will Chest drive in last Friday's assembly, I've been trying to take stock on the purposes of the drive and its concern to everybody on campus.

Now that I've given the subject some serious thought, I'm prepared to pass my viewpoints on to you. It boils down to something like this.

To all the "butt" fiends on campus, this campaign can mean the relief of that cigarette cough and dry throat by the donation of a half-buck to the cause. To students who may be caught in an emergency, the half-buck donated may mean quite a few dollars in needed funds. Instead of going to town for a few brews before hitting the sack, toss those coins in the collection box and wake up the next morning without a hangover.

In times like these, we can't stress too severely the importance of being a friend to everyone, and the Goodwill Chest drive seems to mean just that.

With the world situation as it is, a few extra bucks tossed into the United Defense Fund may mean the matter of life and death for a lot of us. Hardly any of us can afford to begrudge the sticking of a fifty-cent tack in the seat of Joe Stalin's pants, and if our attitude towards him causes him to storm and fume a bit, so much the better.

What I'm really driving at is the fact that this campaign is more than just the act of donating a few extra coins to a worthy cause, it is the promotion of good relationships here in America and abroad. It is just as it says a "Good Will" drive. We can't afford to pass up the chance to give a small contribution.

Sports Critique

To the Editor: We would like to administer a bit of constructive criticism concerning the manner in which the sporting news is presented in our weekly paper, The Maine Campus...

First of all, there seems to be insufficient coverage of games, events, contests, duels, etc. Of course, we realize that manpower and time are essential to efficient coverage and reporting, but we emphatically believe that complete coverage should be the ultimate goal of any paper in order to avoid a warped, biased, distortion of the news.

In the Feb. 28 rendition of the sporting news, for instance, it takes very little scrutinizing to discover the "heroes" of the collegiate athletic circle; yet it would involve a process of mental telepathy or calculated guesses to find out who placed third on the shot put or second in the hammer throw. We are referring to the column entitled "Jenkinsmen Meet Terriers Here Saturday."

What we think constitutes a good example of reporting via "verbal statistics" is Perlestone Pert's next-to-the-last paragraph in the Feb. 28 edition of the column entitled "Pale Blue Five Beaten twice by Polar Bears."

Another wrong, which seems quite evident when one reads the sports page, is the unmistakable emphasis which is placed upon "heroes" or "top men"—"the backbone of the squad." Effort and teamwork goes unrecognized and unrewarded! "Heroes" alone never won ball games, track meets, tennis matches, or—wars. It takes teamwork and the desire to reach a common goal by concerted action. Sports, in our way of thinking, were contrived to propagate and to perpetuate the spirit of brotherhood...

We further believe that all sports should share the headlines and newspaper space should be apportioned equally to all varsity sports.

One last negative criticism before we propose a solution to the current situation. We are of the opinion that the column labeled "Bear Facts" is an undesirable waste of space because it is nothing more than a glorified gossip column. Maybe the majority of the students like this type of thing. We fail to catch the significance of it. It is definitely written from a largely subjective point of view, and it often regurgitates material previously covered in the same issue.

Finally we would like to offer a solution to your problems. We would like to see box scores employed in the presentations of varsity activities—newspaper presentations, that is! We know that box scores must be concise and specific, but well-developed box scores offer a fund of information to the reader.

After all, the sports page is primarily for the fans and athletes who understand the language and symbols of their favorite sports. By supplementing "verbal statistics" with "numerical statistics" you help the readers to better comprehend the tempo and tension of the contest; therefore you add color and meaning to your literary recordings.

Thanking you for the consideration on our behalf, we welcome any explanations or information which you may wish to give us.

Wilson Stresses Culture's Place In World Affairs

The importance of working out a partnership between cultural relations and government was emphasized at last Friday's assembly by Dr. Howard E. Wilson of the Carnegie Endow-ment for International Peace.

Dr. Wilson, introduced by President Arthur A. Hauck, said that the ex-change-student process was finally being recognized as an important part of international relations.

Referring to the 15,000 Americans now studying abroad, Dr. Wilson said he hoped they realized that each of them was an American ambassador.

According to Dr. Wilson, one of Russia's biggest mistakes in interna-tional politics was the establishment of the Iron Curtain, which prevents cultural exchange.

University Society

By FRAN DION

This week has certainly been one during which students have had plenty of opportunity to test their brains and ingenuity. However, one hurdle is jumped, that is, unless you didn't pass your comprehensives last Saturday. Let's look on the more pleasant side, though.

ATO, in an attempt to rush the seasons, held a Beach party last Friday evening. Sawdust was spread over the floor to represent a beach and umbrellas and blankets completed the setting. Costumes were in order, and some came in old-fashioned bathing suits. Music was provided by portable radios. About 25 couples attended. Chaperoning were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wylie and "Ma" Whitney.

TKE held its third bang-up party the next evening with the chapter room turned into the Polly Voo Cafe in the French Quarter of New Orleans.

Decorations were according to the theme. Mustaches and sideburns were the favored style of the men while the girls displayed chic French hair-dos and dress. Entertainment was provided by "Gigi" Warner, Dave Haskell, and Leo LaChance. Sixty couples attended. Chaperoning were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Feeney and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wallace. Bob Ehrlich was in charge of arrangements.

Approximately 35 students and guests of Hillel gathered in the home of Rabbi Milton Elefant to celebrate Purim, a holiday commemorating the Biblical Queen Esther and her salvation of her people. Songs were in keeping with the holiday, and holiday delicacies were served.

The Scabbard and Blade held its annual spring formal last Friday evening. A banquet at the Pilot's Grill was followed by a dance at the Penobscot Country Club. Frances Willett, honorary lieutenant colonel, was guest of honor. New officers were installed at the dance intermission.

Engaged: Jane Bellamy to Lee Young, Harvard.

HOT SCRAMBLE

Seconds after a telephone alert to a nearby Air Force base to "scramble," pilots hustle to their jets. In minutes, the stubby, swept-back interceptors thunder skyward.

This is the real thing. Pilots call it a "hot scramble." Live ammo rides in their guns. It starts when an Air Force radar station detects an aircraft which cannot be identified. A telephone call by direct wire galvanizes the jet crews into action.

Modern air defense requires lightning-fast, dependable communication. That's why our radar defense system is interlinked by a web of direct telephone lines.

Some of today's college graduates will be piloting Air Force jets. Others will be welcomed into the Bell System where they can help, in peace or war, in the tremendous job of meeting the communications needs of our nation.

Bear Facts

By Dana Warren

This column is prompted by the letter appearing in this issue under "Mail Bag" on page four.

The recognition of heroes and top men only is not the intended policy of the sports page. However, from the standpoint of news value and amount of space available for sports coverage, it is often necessary to start with the outstanding features of an event and work down. As a result, in many instances the end of a story must be cut.

The authors' suggested solution to this problem is very good, but one which we have heretofore regarded as impracticable. The summary of a track meet as written in a daily paper takes about 4 inches of space and is done in a type size smaller than that which we have available.

As a compromise we are going to use a partial summary that will include only the places taken by Maine men in the meet.

The next point brought forth in the letter concerns this particular column. "Bear Facts" is mentioned as a waste of space and a glorified gossip column. There are several points we wish to bring to your attention:

(1) Since the Campus is a weekly paper, many happenings have ceased to be spot news by the time the edition appears. They can still come in for comment, however, in a column like "Bear Facts."

(2) Many readers are not as well informed on sports as the authors of the letter. That is why further interpretation of the sports news is included in the column.

(3) A final and important justification for the column lies in the fact that the Campus serves a double purpose. While presenting the news to the students, alumni, and instructors, the paper gives the students an opportunity to develop editorial skill through actual experience.

The record of past authors of the Bear Facts column is a case in point. They include, for instance, Fred McDonald, who now writes for the Bangor Daily News, and Jerry Rogovin, who was on the sports staff of Look magazine and is now with Army News Service.

Other authors have been John Murphy, sports editor of the Kennebec Journal, and Bob Slosser, former sports editor of the Bangor Commercial and now a staff writer for the Bangor Daily News. Last year's "Bear Facts" columnists were Bill Loubier, who won a staff post on the Waterville Sentinel before being called to the Army, and Bob Lord, who worked for the Bangor Daily News and the Skowhegan Independent-Reporter.

The records of these men seem to speak very well for the value of the "Bear Facts" column from an educational viewpoint.

The writers of the letter to the editor also feel that all varsity sports should share equally in the spotlight of the sports page. This is a policy that we have always tried to follow. However, news value must be taken into consideration along with seasonal differences. Example: baseball practice got under way several weeks ago, but we were still in the middle of the basketball season. The instance is extreme, but the point is obvious.

In thanking Mr. Dow and Mr. Cunningham for a very well thought out and constructive criticism, I would like finally to point out that it is reader interest of the kind they show that improves the quality of any paper.

Trackmen Edge Northeastern In Season's Final

By Keith Ruff

Maine varsity cindermen waited until the last two events Saturday before forging from behind to edge Northeastern 63½-62½. Trailing by several points going into the Pole Vault and 300-Yard Run, Maine grabbed most of the points in these events to win the meet by ½ of a point. This was the Bear's last indoor track meet of the season.

Grab First Place

George Weatherbee and Ken Lincoln tied for first in the pole vault to pick up valuable points in that all-important final event. John Bowler, back in action after a week on the injured list, snatched top honors in the 300 Yard Run. Cliff Nielson was runner-up in this event. Bowler also copped the 600 yard run and placed third in the 50 yard dash, giving 11 points towards the win.

Defeated Only Once

By grabbing this 63½ to 62½ victory over Northeastern, the Pale Blue varsity tracksters closed the season with a very acceptable 4-won-1-lost record. Their only defeat was at the hands of a superior Boston University squad. Romps over Springfield and Bates and close wins over New Hampshire and Northeastern made up the remainder of the successful season for Coach Jenkins' boys.

The summary (includes winning times, distances, and heights only):

Discus—2nd, Coleman; 3rd, Gorman (118' 8½"). 35 lb. Hammer—won by Johnson (49' ¾"). Pole Vault—won by Weatherbee and Lincoln (12' 3"). 45 yd. High Hurdles—2nd, Leclair; 3rd, Touchette (6.1). 65 yd. Low Hurdles—3rd, Touchette (7.9). 50 yd. Dash—won by Nielson; 3rd, Bowler (5.6). 1 Mile Run—won by Osborn (4:30.4). High Jump—2nd, Nixon (M), Cline (NE), and Clark (NE) (6'). 16 lb. Shot Put—won by Bogdanovich; 3rd, Maxwell (47' ¼"). 2 Mile Run—won by McLean (10:00.7). Broad Jump—3rd, Dolan (22' ¾"). 1000 yd. Run—2nd, Haskell (2:21.6). 600 yd. Run—won by Bowler; 3rd, Rule (1:15.3). 300 yd. Run—won by Bowler; 2nd, Nielson (32.5).

Frosh Trackmen Top MCI To End Season Undefeated

Maine Frosh tracksters had no trouble wallowing MCI 62½ to 36½ at the field house Saturday. This closes a very successful indoor track season for the undefeated yearlings.

Frosh track summary:

Pole Vault—won by Mahaney; 3rd, Rogers (M) and Rollins (MCI) tie (11' 3"); High Jump—2nd, Bott; 3rd, Harris (M) and Kimball (MCI) tie (5' 6"); 45-yd. High Hurdles—won by Calkin; 2nd, Mahaney (6.2 sec.); 50-yd. Dash—won by Holden (5.8 sec.); 1 Mile Run—won by Dearing; 3rd, Wing (4:49.2); 600-yd. Run—Won by Shea; 3rd, Dearing (1:23.8).

65-yd. Low Hurdles—won by Calkin; 2nd, Frazer (7.7 sec.); 12-lb. Shot Put—Won by Pluta; 2nd, Guernsey (43' 7"); Broad Jump—3rd, Holden (19' 2¼"); 1,000-yd. Run—2nd, Dearing (2:33.3); 300-yd. Run—won by Calkin; 2nd, Shea (33.8 sec.).

Co-eds Attend Athletic Parley

Five University co-eds were among the 26 delegates from nine Maine colleges who attended the third annual conference of the Maine Athletic Federation of College Women held here last week end.

Representing Maine at the conference were Barbara L. Jackson, Norma D. Jose, Martha A. Pratt, Isabelle E. Stearns, and Helen Strong.

The conference opened Saturday morning with a discussion by the delegates of a proposed constitution. This was followed by group discussions at which the point system and awards were considered. Group discussions concerning play days and the intercollegiate program were also on the agenda.

Following the noon luncheon, sessions were held for the discussion of participation, intramural activities, social activities sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association, and leadership in WAA activities.

Bear Pucksters Close Season

The Maine Hockey Club's informal team wound up the ice season last Thursday night in a wide-open return match with St. Dominic's high school of Lewiston, before 1500 fans.

The Maine players pushed the Saints hard for the first two periods but a drive by the Lewiston men in the third period gave the home team a 5-2 victory.

Coach Ed Bryand said this meeting was another "crowd pleaser," with the Maine club playing a fast, even game against last year's New England high school champions.

Red Wilson and Ted Tocci scored for the Bears in the first two periods, knotting the score 2-2 going into the last frame. A series of penalties against the Maine club forced them to play with only three men on the ice for several minutes in the second canto but they held the Doms scoreless in that time.

Within The Walls

By Perlestone Pert, Jr.

Tonight's action on the intramural basketball court will find a second-place Phi Gamma Delta team opposing an undefeated Phi Eta Kappa five in the deciding contest of the fraternity division.

A Phi Gam win will create a first place tie, as the Fijis have lost but one game during the season's play. A Phi Eta victory will give the division leaders the undisputed championship.

In last week's intramural basketball play, SAE scored an upset by taking a 50-40 win from a favored Kappa Sigma team. The Kappa Sigs had been resting comfortably in second place.

Phi Eta netted two victories last week for wins number 13 and 14. The Phi Etas disposed of Beta Theta Pi, 68 to 27, and Phi Mu Delta, 59 to 49.

Phi Gam also played two games and won both. Alpha Gamma Rho was the first victim by 72 to 37, and Lambda Chi Alpha went down, 86 to 23.

Phi Kappa Sigma raised itself to fourth place during the week by snatching wins from TKE, ATO, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. The Phi Kaps routed TKE 103 to 49, downed ATO 55 to 40, and edged out Sig Ep 54 to 52.

In other games, Grads socked North Dorm 10 by 60 to 30 in a forfeit replay.

PAL HOLLOW GROUND DOUBLE EDGE BLADES

Does your face sting and burn when you apply shave lotion—or even cold water? Chances are you're using a blade sharpened like a penknife. You have to "bear down" to shave clean. PAL's patented Hollow Ground process makes "bearing down" unnecessary. You shave with a light, light stroke. Just the weight of the razor does the job. After a PAL shave your face is cool, relaxed, as smooth as a teen-ager's. Try PAL—you owe it to your face.

And stored upon the shelf;

Though cigarettes may look alike,
They're really not the same.
There's all the rest—but one that's best,
And Lucky Strike's its name!
