Dow To Receive Top Sigma Chi Province Award Essay Contest Is Announced For Next Year

Dick Dow has been named the outstanding Sigma Chi in the Northern New England-Nova Scotia province of that fraternity, according to Vincent P. Kelleher, Province Praetor. Dow was selected over candidates from Dartmouth, M.I.T., and Dalhousie.

The L. G. Balfour Province award is given to the outstanding Sigma Chi in each of the fraternity's 26 provinces on the basis of scholarship, character, personality, and fraternity and university activities. A national winner will be picked from the 26 province winners.

Dow is the first Sigma Chi from Maine to win the award since Robert Jenkins, son of Coach Chester A. Jenkins, won the award in 1943.

'Maine Forester' Now In Circulation

The 1952 edition of The Maine Forester, published by the Forestry Club, is now in circulation. The book is dedicated to Associate Professor Frank K. Beyer "for his interest and guidance in making the last three issues a success."

The 84-page publication contains information about faculty members and students in the Forestry Department.

"The Meaning of Academic Freedom" will be the subject of a nationwide essay contest next year with prizes totaling $5000.

Open only to members of the class of '53, the contest will be judged by a number of persons including Supreme Court Judge, William O. Douglas, Nobel Prize Winner, Ralph Bunche of the UN, and author, Thurman W. Arnold. First prize will be $2500, and second prize $1000 with three additional awards of $500 each.

Entries will be received beginning September 15, 1952, until the deadline December 31. The purpose of the contest is to encourage thoughtful exploration and forthright expression on the subject of academic freedom among students themselves.

Entries should be sent to the National Council of Jewish Women, the organization sponsoring the contest, at One West 47th Street, New York, N. Y.

Indian Claimants Can't Have Campus

Whew! what a relief, we don't have to give this place back to the Indians after all. The Penobscot tribe, located on the island above Old Town, said this week that it held titles in its archives proving that they were the owners of much land, including Marsh Island, on which our fair University sits.

However, a search through ancient records uncovered a fact which brought an immediate halt to tentative plans to build a stockade around the new Union Building. A document exists that proves John Marsh, an early settler, bought the island for the nominal sum of 30 bushels of corn.

Many students feel that, in all fairness, we should give them this island anyway.

All we have to say is: "Ugh."

Mrs. Edwin L. Giddings of Orono is the new president of the Maine Division of the American Association of University Women.

Election Produces Surprises

The General Student Elections held last Tuesday produced many and varied results.

The results of the elections pleased many of us, displeased others of us, and had little effect on the rest of us.

But whether our favorite candidates won or lost, several aspects of the elections impressed us greatly.

Never before can we remember when the presidency of the General Senate was more hotly contested than the position of mayor. This fact seems indicative of a healthy trend in our attitude toward student government.

The long lines which were formed at the polls during a large part of the day were also unique in our memory of student elections.

The interest evidenced by the student body in this election would seem to refute the "apathy" charge which has been so often repeated in this paper and in other quarters during the past year. Perhaps what was actually needed was a burning issue such as the one which seemed to sweep the campus prior to elections to arouse student interest.

Another very interesting side of the election from a newspaper's point of view, was the ready decision advanced by the WSGA to allow the names of the winners in the WSGA election to be announced this week.

Previously it had been planned to hold those names until the women's assembly next Tuesday.

It seems that the custom of holding back the names of WSGA election winners developed a few years ago, and the practice had continued for no apparent reason down to the present time.

Our appreciation goes to the WSGA leaders who recognized the incongruity of announcing election winners a week after all other results were known and decided to release the names immediately after the election this year.

In Praise Of The Students

We were pleased to learn that the General Student Senate and the student body at the University of Maine had taken decisive action in retaining a concert series for next year.

The decision for this step forward rested almost entirely in our hands. We, the students, were asked if we would be willing to make a concert series financially possible another year or would rather allow it to die through lack of support. In an informal vote we decided we would support it—not only this year but for the following years as well.

In taking this step forward we not only have benefited our own culture, but in a larger sense, we are providing an inherent culture for a future generation of students.

We have voted to retain one of the highest forms of entertainment a college campus can provide, while at the same time, devising a means of offering this entertainment at the lowest possible monetary rate.

As explained in a recent editorial, we shall now receive a minimum of three high calibre concerts at a price of 33 and 1/3 cents per concert.

We thank the individual who first conceived of this idea.

We offer praise to the Assembly Committee and the General Student Senate for recognizing the true value in this idea.

We are proud of the student body as a whole for demonstrating that they, too, can recognize a good thing by voting in favor of retaining the concert series.

Wax Works

By DICK STEPHENS

A few columns ago we mentioned the great, new Billy May Band. Well, Billy has just had his new album released by Capitol Records, and it's everything it's supposed to be and more. As one music critic put it: "Billy creates a tidal wave of fresh, musical expression!"... It is his use of expression which has made him so popular so quickly.

Here is something most people haven't realized... Billy, long associated with music and show business in New York and Hollywood, was for many years the featured trumpeter and arranger with—you guessed it—Glenn Miller.

Billy's album, "Big Band Bash," is made up of old tunes. But they are completely revived and given a new lease on life by May's fresh approach to orchestration, intonation, and driving rhythm. His new ingredients make for wonderful dancing.

Another new album by another great artist is George Shearing's "Touch of Genius." Following the trend of bringing back the oldies dressed up with the new style of music, Shearing has included several pop standards in this most recent grouping. Among these are "I'll Never Smile Again," "If You Were The Only Girl in the World," and "We'll Be Together Again." "They All Laughed" and "My Silent Love" are on a more conventional level, while "Minoration," "Midnight Mood," and "Looseleaf" show Shearing's gradual movement toward more progressive work. The album as a whole provides a variety which proves very pleasing in Shearing's smooth, deliberate style.

Speaking of albums and styles, we decided to check on how a certain Guy was doing in these respects. The Guy is Guy Lombardo, who has just presented his 13th and 14th actively selling albums to a public which, while professing its dislike for his style of music almost to a man, consistently keeps his records on the best-seller lists.

Off-Campus Comments

By BOB OSTREICHER

First, the dealer handed me the keys to the car, a freshly washed convertible. Then, still smiling, he glanced casually at his watch and murmured something about "bringing my Ford home."

After a few glorious days of cruising around in my newly-acquired open-air job, the thought suddenly dawned on me that I still owed a considerable amount of cash to someone. There had been something said about "payments," but in the excitement of the transactions I had missed some of the finer details.

However, a company over in New York state, which seemed to specialize in form letters, soon set me straight. These loan sharks began to shower me with carefully worded, but we-don't-trust-you-any-further-than-we-can-throw-you, type of literature.

Next came several impressively printed documents, designed and executed with my general welfare in mind... just in case. I discovered that I was the party of the first part to what they called a "limited and comprehensive" insurance policy. In addition, I was elated to obtain a bail bond for $5,000.

After reading all the fine print in my policies, as near as I could ascertain, the only way that I could collect it was when and if and whereas I collided with some fool while I was driving up the south side of a west-bound street, wearing a red shirt, with both hands firmly gripping the wheel, on a sunny day, and while whistling "Dixie." And if the car was completely demolished together with the driver (party of the first part, etc.) the crowd in New York could collect the money from my life insurance policy and present the deed to the vehicle to my heirs.

I guess I had them worried, though. About a week before my first payment became due I received a large, engraved calendar from New York, complete with circles drawn around the crucial dates.

Name Used Not Valid

To the Editor: On Monday of this week, there was a bulletin circulated to be read in classes supposedly signed by me and endorsing the candidacy of one individual for the presidency of the General Student Senate. That bulletin was not authorized by me. In fact, it was drawn up without any knowledge of it on my part. When I found out that it existed, I protested vigorously to the person who did print it; but it seems to have been given circulation over and in spite of my protests.

Let me emphatically state, though, that this bit of literature was not prepared by the candidate involved. I have every reason to believe that he was as much in the dark about it as I, perhaps even more so. It was an unfortunate move made on his behalf.

I should like it to be clearly understood that I decidedly do not believe that the office of Mayor of the Campus has any function of this sort whatsoever. The Mayor's duties are thoroughly outlined, and political activity pertaining to another office is not one of them.

I sincerely hope that my position on this matter is completely understood. Thanking you for this opportunity to express my views, I remain,

A Reason For Exam Files

To the Editor: The recent action of the general faculty in adopting several recommendations presented by a student-faculty committee on conduct of examinations, one of which was the filing of recent finals, was not the result of either the lateness of the hour or visions of dinner "driving conscience and common sense from its mind," but of an honest recognition of existing conditions.

The filing of recent final examinations with the library is merely the act of setting up a central file under responsible personnel and making this information available to all rather than a few.

A central filing system will obviously necessitate the drafting of a new final each semester, and this can scarcely be construed as bad pedagogy. Actually it should serve as a forward step in eliminating "repeat finals."

Cooperation Praised

To the Editor: On behalf of the class of 1953 we wish to extend our thanks to all the students and to the administration for their cooperation in making the Beaux Arts Ball a success. We especially want to thank those students who so unselfishly gave of their time and effort to work on the dance.

University Will Play Host To High School Musicians

Plans for the Eastern Maine Music Festival, to be held at the University of Maine tomorrow and Saturday, have just been completed.

Professor Lewis Niven, head of the Music Department and host-chairman for the Festival, announced that the Massed Orchestra of 106 players has been chosen. The group will arrive on campus on Friday to begin rehearsals for the concert, which will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium on Saturday evening.

About 3400 students and 70 supervisors from 40 high schools throughout eastern Maine will participate in the Festival.

The physical set-up, including audition halls, parking, meals and Festival Headquarters are under the supervision of Mu Alpha Epsilon, honorary music society. LeRoy Dymont, president of the society, is in charge. Charles Fassett, president-elect, is in charge of the audition lieutenants. Dymont is also in charge of the parade of bands and the massed band performance following the parade on the mall.

Harris Danziger, noted New York conductor who directs the orchestra and is chairman of the orchestra department of the Manhattan School of Music, has been named guest conductor for the Massed Orchestra concert.

University Society

By MARGIE THOMAS

Have you noticed an exceptional number of girls circulating around Dunn and Corbett Halls on recent week ends? Don't be alarmed; it is a part of the inter-dorm parties which have turned out to be a triumphant success.

The last party was held at West Hall, last Saturday night, with approximately 50 couples attending. The affair was a leap year dance and incidentally things really "leaped." Music was provided by a vic, and there was group singing. Decorating was done by the girls and consisted of posters, streamers, and murals.

These inter-dorm dances are planned by the members of the men's inter-dorm council and women representatives chosen by the Women's Student Government.

The Tri Dels held their annual Faculty Tea last Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. in the President's Room of North Estabrooke, with approximately 65 attending. The table was attractively decorated with flowers, and Joan Reed and Jane Noyes were in charge.

Beta was the scene of an exciting barn dance last Saturday night with 30 couples attending. Decorations consisted of bales of hay, a calf, and a lamb. Paul Mudgett called square dances to the music of a piano, bass, and guitar. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Beyer.

The girls of North Estabrooke converted their living room into the Blue Tam-O-Shanta last Tuesday night at a dormitory party. Margie Woodman and Ginny Strout were in charge. Entertainment consisted of a song by Dottie McCann, a piano selection by Marie Oakman, a reading by Anne Dutille, imitations by Kattie Howe, and a pantomime skit. Prizes for the best costumes were awarded to Jody Daley, Sally Craig, and Mary Moore, who appeared as the Marx Brothers.

Takes a lot to lay a carpet in the jungle

The scene is "darkest Africa".

But Africa is lightening. Man's quest for minerals, for new areas for agriculture and trade, is slashing ultra-modern, glaring-white air strips in once impenetrable jungle.

Those pavers, portable air compressors, pumps and air tools—such as you might see working a city street—are Worthington Blue Brutes going to "lay a carpet" in that hole in the jungle.

Thus, Worthington, a major producer of equipment for public works, industry and farm, brings the fruits of American technical genius to the strange places of the world.

And illustrates, too, how the unique American talent of diversification helps public, employees and stockholders. For Worthington makes many things—not just construction equipment and pumps, but also engines, water works machinery, power transmission, petroleum equipment, air conditioning and refrigeration, many others.

Such diversification builds stability . . .

makes Worthington, 112 years old, a strong link in the far-flung chain of American business.

Bear Facts

By PERLESTON PERT, JR.

This week we're going to deviate from our usual line of patter to talk a little about major league baseball. At this writing, the season is four weeks old and Boston and Brooklyn head the standings in their respective leagues. But, as so often has been the case, early standings don't mean a thing.

Last year, for instance, the Chicago White Sox took off like a large fowl early in last season's race, only to end up in fourth place in the American League. And Brooklyn led in the National to be eased out at the last minute by New York after the Giants had made a spectacular comeback. But it was the Yankees who, for the third consecutive year, won the World Series from the Giants, 4 games to 2.

This year, as usual, predictions have been made or are being made by everybody from Bill Stern's next door neighbor to Bob and Ray, with sportswriters offering their selections somewhere in between. And so far, Cleveland appears to be the favorite in the American League with old standby Brooklyn the choice in the National.

And why not? Cleveland's the only AL club that didn't lose a key player. (Only one of the big three clubs—New York, Boston, and Cleveland—that didn't, that is.) The Yankees, noted for steadiness, have lost a dependable prop in Joe DiMaggio, plus another reliable standby in Gerry Coleman. And the red-stockinged Boston team are minus, perhaps permanently, the scoring power of Ted Williams' bat.

Besides, the Indians had three 20-game winners last season: Feller (22-8), Wynn (20-13), and Garcia (20-13). The Yankees had two: Lopat (21-9) and Raschi (21-10). The Red Sox had no 20-game winners. This doesn't indicate too much, however, as the Yankees won the pennant, and the Series. But in another season it could mean a lot.

But try to tell a Yankee fan that Cleveland will win the American League flag this year. He or she will laugh at you. And, as for Red Sox fans—well, you know Red Sox fans. . .

National Leaguers Brooklyn and New York were rated just about even until the Giants' Monte Irvin, who led the National League in RBI's last season with 121, broke a leg in a practice game against the Cleveland Indians. With Irvin out of the Giant lineup, Brooklyn was left as the definite first place choice and that's where most of the forecasters' votes went.

Along with the fan-loyalty idea, Brooklyn Dodger fans are just as firm, if not firmer, about who is going to win what flag, especially the National League flag. But fans don't win ball games, although they're a handy element, moneywise, at any ball game.

Every team has a solid and loyal contingent of supporters, whether it wins or loses.

Last week this writer conferred with G. G. Gupper, sports enthusiast of no note, and came up with a guess as to which teams will finish 1-2-3 in either league. These choices in no way reflect the opinion of the entire Campus staff. All protests, oh no's, and you're-crazy-letters should be addressed to this writer who politely ducks after writing the following list.

The choices in the American League are (1) Boston, (2) Cleveland, (3) New York; in the National League they are (1) Brooklyn, (2) St. Louis, and (3) New York.

Golfers Oppose Bowdoin Today In Orono Match

Maine's varsity golf team was scheduled to entertain Bowdoin at the Penobscot Valley Country Club this afternoon in an important State Series match.

Coach Charlie Emery said Tuesday that his probable lineup against the Polar Bears would be Connie Bosworth, Walt Hewins, John Gowen, Capt. George Shute, George McKenney, and Walt Schurman.

Next action on the slate for the linksmen will be the State Meet at Augusta on Monday. Emery said Tuesday he didn't know which six of his nine-man team he would send to the first tee in defense of the state title.

The Emerymen lost their Yankee Conference crown at Oakley, Mass., last week end when they finished third behind Connecticut and Massachusetts. No Maine player qualified for the New England Championship Playoff. Pale Blue scores were: John Gowen 82; Robert MacMahon 83; Connie Bosworth 85; Walt Hewins 86; George Shute 88; and Don Mavor 91.

Maine's last New England Champ was Gene McNabb who won the title in 1948. Warren Wilson qualified in 1949 but was defeated in the first round. In the past two years Maine has not had a player qualified for the New England's.

Yearling Pastimers Defeat Husson; To Meet Ricker

The freshman diamond team won its second contest of the year Tuesday by taking a 10 to 6 win from Husson College.

Bob Bailey pitched effective nine-hit ball to the Husson team, and Kevin Cadieux led the Maine hitting attack with three safeties, two of which were home runs.

Ricker Junior College will be at Orono Saturday at 3:30 p.m. for a baseball game with the Maine frosh squad.

Bob Hollway's frosh squad won its first game last Friday with a seven-inning 11 to 1 victory over Coburn Classical Institute. Tom Reynolds, Ray Martin, and Joe Young all pitched for the frosh in allowing Coburn its lone run.

Wes Schrone, catcher for the freshmen, led the Maine hitting for the day with a home run, a triple, and a single. Roger Miles also collected three hits for the frosh.

Trackmen In YC Test At Durham; Edged By Bowdoin In State Meet

By DANA WARREN

The Pale Blue cindermen will travel to Durham, N. H., this week end for the Yankee Conference Championship after finishing behind a powerhouse Bowdoin track team last Saturday in the State Meet. Despite their second place team score, Coach Jenkins' squad produced eight individual state champions by taking top honors in seven events.

In the State Meet, Maine's Jack Wathen won his third State championship in a row in the 880 yard run, while teammate Mac Osborn retained the title he won last year with a first in the one mile run.

Other firsts posted by the Black Bears included Ed Bogdanovich's one-inch-short-of-the-record toss with the 16 lb. shot; Prescott Johnson in the hammer throw; Carl MacLean in the two mile run; Ray Cox in the javelin; and a tie between Doug Vollmer and Bob Nixon in the high jump.

Bowdoin's Gordon Milliken stole the individual spotlight with firsts in the 220, 440, and broad jump. Milliken set a new State Meet record in the 220, running the dash in 21.7 seconds. He was presented with the Hillman Memorial Trophy, given annually to the outstanding athlete of the State Meet.

Maine's individual winners in the State Meet will all be tough men to beat in the coming YC contest. According to Coach Chester Jenkins, other schools in the Yankee Conference have an edge on us because they all use freshmen in varsity competition whereas Maine does not.

The Summary: 100 yard dash, Neilson, third. Time, 10.2. 440 yard run, Wathen, second. Time, 50.2. 880 yard run, Wathen, first. Time, 1:59.1. 1 mile run, Osborn, first; Perry, second; MacLean, third. Time, 4:33.8. 2 mile run, MacLean, first. Time, 10:08. 120 yard high hurdles, Withington, third. Time, 15.8. 220 yard low hurdles, Touchette, third. Time, 24.1. High jump, Vollmer and Nixon, tie for first. Height, 5 ft. 9 in. Broad jump, Foote, third. Distance, 22 ft. 10 3/4 in. Pole vault, tie for second between Knight and Weatherbee (M) and Walker (Bow.). Height, 11 ft. 6 in. 16 lb. hammer throw, Johnson, first; Sparrow, second. Distance, 159 ft. 8 3/4 in. Javelin throw, Cox, first; Moulton, third. Distance, 177 ft. 10 7/8 in.

Jim Bradley, USMC, former Pale Blue athlete, has fully recovered from an accidental gunshot wound received while he was stationed in French Morocco and is visiting friends on campus.

Carlton MacLean, Maine's ace two-miler, romps home to an easy win in last Saturday's State Series meet.

Net Tourney At Bates Today

Colby College's tennis team will be at Orono Saturday for an afternoon match with the Maine varsity. Matchtime is 1:30.

Four members of Coach Garland B. Russell's squad left the University Tuesday afternoon to participate in the State singles and doubles matches scheduled for yesterday and today at Bates College in Lewiston.

The four Maine entrants in the tournament were Dana Warren, Gordon Johnston, Ernie Sutton, and Capt. Bill Bird. Each of the four Maine colleges entered four men.

In a warm-up to the State matches, the Maine netmen lost to Bowdoin last Saturday 7 to 2. Ernie Sutton scored the only win for Maine in the singles matches. Hugo Cross and Gene Drolet gathered a victory in their doubles match.

Capt. Bill Bird and Gordon Johnston tied in the third set to lose their doubles match 6-3, 3-6, 4-6.

Maine men competing in the Bowdoin match were Capt. Bill Bird, Gordon Johnston, Dana Warren, Ernie Sutton, Hugo Cross, Gene Drolet, and Ken Barnard.

Frosh Tennis Team Opposes Portland

The freshman tennis team will play its first match of the season Saturday at 9 a.m. against Portland High School on the Orono courts.

Coach Robert P. Shay has had a squad of 10 candidates practicing over a three-week period in preparation for the Portland match. While not overly optimistic about the capabilities of the inexperienced yearlings, Shay believes that they have made definite progress during the practice sessions.

Brooks Whitehouse and Charlie Packard, Shay said, are the only members of the squad with any real tennis experience behind them.

Members on the squad are Brooks Whitehouse, Charlie Packard, Brad Payne, Will Lord, Ray Cross, Walter Heal, John Mitchell, Harold Silverman, Joe Griffin, and John Flueck.

Bates, Bowdoin, Northeastern Are Next Foes

By KEITH RUFF

Four home games are on tap for the Black Bear baseballers in the next five days. Maine's nemesis, the Bowdoin Polar Bears, will be here tomorrow seeking their third straight over the Pale Blue while Northeastern provides the competition on Saturday. Maine entertains Bates with a twin bill Tuesday afternoon.

At Waterville on Tuesday, Maine and Colby played a game which lasted three hours and 11 minutes with the Black Bears winning 11 to 8. Jack Christie, Bud Simmons, and Hank Woodbrey all pitched for Maine in the wild contest in which Maine had only four safeties to Colby's seven.

Maine also issued 17 bases on balls, while Colby was giving up 12. Colby used four pitchers.

Maine scored six times in the first inning, twice in the second, once in the third, and twice in the eighth.

Bowdoin Wins

Last Friday, Bowdoin toppled Maine for the second time this season 9 to 8 in a wild ten-inning duel at Brunswick. A bases-loaded double off Hank Woodbrey in the last of the tenth brought in the tying and tie-breaking runs.

The Raymondmen had forged ahead with a two-run outburst in the first of the tenth on a one-on homer by Dave Bates. Bates, with a homer and two singles, and Al Hackett, with a double and a triple, were big guns in the Maine attack. Woodbrey, who relieved starter Jack Butterfield in the ninth inning, was charged with the loss. This was Maine's third loss against one win in State Series competition.

Coach Raymond's diamond stalwarts have already knocked over Northeastern and Bates on earlier road trips this season.

Polar Bears Favored

At this writing, it appears that Bowdoin has virtually clinched the State Title with five wins already tucked under their belts.

The following girls were recently named to the All Maine Basketball Team by WAA: Connie Berry, Ruth Johnson, Isabelle Stearns, Jane Ingraham, Martha Pratt, and Norma Smaha. All Maine Reserves include Dot Booth, Norma Jose, Jean Bagley, Cyn Nelson, and Isadore Stearns.

Frosh Track Squad Will Meet Deering Saturday

The undefeated Frosh track team will meet Deering High School here in a dual meet Saturday.

The yearling cindermen paced by ace Bill Calkin will be seeking their third straight victory of the outdoor season. Calkin's five first places in the meet against Bangor High School proved to be the decisive margin.
