Initiation Held At Banquet Of Honor Groups

Seven high-ranking freshmen and their former high schools were honored in Estabrooke Hall last night at the annual Honor Societies Banquet. The joint dinner followed the initiation ceremonies during which 20 students were tapped by Phi Beta Kappa and 28 by Phi Kappa Phi.

Prof. Ronald B. Levinson, head of the Department of Philosophy, spoke on "The Scholar as Artist." Adapting his talk to the nature of the occasion, he stressed the aesthetic phase of scholarship and its points of contact with poetry and the fine arts. In this connection he referred to the great Italian scholar-artist Leonardo da Vinci, the 500th anniversary of whose birth is being celebrated throughout the world, indicating him as one in whom the attributes of the scholar and artist achieved an amazingly fruitful union.

Prof. Weston S. Evans, representing Phi Kappa Phi, presented certificates to the seven freshmen and to the high schools they attended. Phi Kappa Phi is inaugurating the awards to recognize and promote scholarship. Evans said that all Maine secondary schools had been divided into six groups according to enrollment. The top-ranking University of Maine freshman from each group was selected for the honor. There was a tie for top place in one group.

The students were: Elizabeth Pierce, Cony High School; tie between Nelson Mahoney, Skowhegan High, and Bernard Deschenes, Waterville High; Laura Wilson, Gould Academy; Nancy Collins, Wilton Academy; Sally Gilchrist, Thomaston High; and Jean Johnson, Standish High.

Rain Fails To Stop Student Escapade

A heavy rain failed for a time last night to curtail the escapades of some 250 University males as they attempted to keep up with the latest collegiate fad of breaking into girls' dormitories by charging the girls' residences on campus.

Dean of Men John E. Stewart and a combination of wet clothes and girls' screams finally chased the evening raiders away from Balentine Hall, their last stop of the night.

The "loot" collected, in the form of undergarments, was heavy. Most of the clothes were taken from the fourth floor at Balentine. One girl reported a loss of $60 worth of underclothing.

Marcoux And Randall Named To Prism Posts

Sophomores Paul Marcoux, a history and government major, and John Randall, a horticulture student, were named this week to important posts on the Prism next year, according to Bill Hirst, secretary of the Student Publications Committee.

Marcoux was named by the committee to the position of editor of the year book and Randall will be business manager.

Memorial Program On Library Terrace

Rear Admiral Edward Ellsberg, U.S.N.R. (Ret.), an author with a distinguished and colorful naval career, will be the speaker at this year's Memorial Day Assembly, May 30.

Dr. G. William Small, chairman of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs which is again sponsoring the annual program, has announced a program similar to last year's in which more than 200 persons participated before an outdoor audience of 500. ROTC units, the ROTC Band, and the combined Glee Clubs will take part.

Beginning at 10:45 a.m. the impressive ceremonies will be held on the Library Terrace weather permitting; otherwise the assembly will form in Memorial Gymnasium.

Decorated Many Times

Admiral Ellsberg has been many times decorated for his successful salvage work beginning with the Distinguished Service Medal for raising the U. S. Submarine S-51 from the sea bottom in 1926.

Awarded the Legion of Merit for salvage work in the Red Sea in 1942, he was later presented a gold star in lieu of a second Legion of Merit as principal salvage officer in the Western Mediterranean for the Allied Expeditionary Force.

Also honored by the British government, he was made a Commander of the Order of the British Empire for distinguished service in salvage operations at Massawa and in North Africa. In the Normandy Invasion he helped with installation of artificial harbors along the Normandy coast.

Now Living In Maine

Author of Literary Guild and Book-of-the-Month selections his long list of books includes Pigboats (later produced as the film "Hell Below"), Hell On Ice, and Under the Red Sea Sun. His latest book, No Banners, No Bugles, was published in 1949. His home is now in Southwest Harbor.

Admiral Ellsberg's memorial address will be given at the assembly.

Ranking Seniors Are Designated

The two top-ranking seniors at the University were named this week and each will play an important part in the Class Day Exercises on Friday, June 13. Gilbert M. French will be the Valedictorian and Albert H. Ashley the Salutatorian.

French, who is the highest-ranking senior, will be the final speaker on the Class Day program. Ashley, the second-highest senior student, will give the opening address at the exercises.

Each of these men has been active in extracurricular affairs as well as an outstanding student. French, whose home is in Portland, is a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He belongs to several honor societies including Phi Beta Kappa; Phi Kappa Phi; Sigma Mu Sigma, honorary psychology society of which he was president; and Sigma Xi, honorary scientific research society. He has been active in the Philosophy club and the International club and was editor of the Prism last year.

A private in the Army during 1946-47, French served as an instructor in basic Field Artillery, a prison guard at Ft. Knox, Ky., and as a hospital attendant in New York state. He has been a proctor both at the Brunswick Annex and at the University.

French will graduate with a degree in psychology and will enter the University of Wisconsin next fall as a resident assistant in psychology and will work toward his master's degree in that field. He plans to go into experimental and theoretical psychology when he finishes graduate school.

Ashley is an engineering physics major from East Machias. A member of Phi Kappa Phi; Tau Beta Pi, engineering honor society; and Sigma Pi Sigma, honorary physics society, he has also been active in the Amateur Radio club.

After graduating from Washington Academy in East Machias, he entered the Merchant Marine Radio School. During the next four years and each summer since he has been in college, he was radio operator on a banana boat.

When he graduates from Maine in June, Ashley will enter the General Electric Test Engineering Program for a year's training as a GE engineer.

WSGA Presents Assembly Program

The Women's Student Government Association held its annual spring assembly last Tuesday. The assembly was compulsory for all women.

New officers of the group were installed and Constitution revisions were passed.

Subscriptions for next year's Maine Campus will be accepted from members of the class of 1952 at the Senior Assembly, May 27.

AP Conference Is Scheduled By Press Club

The University Press Club will be the luncheon host to news editors, telegraph editors, and other newsroom executives of Maine's daily papers for their third annual conference with state and regional representatives of the Associated Press on Tuesday, May 27.

Herbert H. Wood, Jr., a member of the University's department of history and government, will address the luncheon group on public opinion polls.

The luncheon, which will be held at 12:45 p.m. in Estabrooke Hall, will be preceded by a business session.

Vincent F. X. Belleau, city editor of the Lexington Evening Journal, chairman of the state editorial group, will be in charge of the program.

The AP Delegation will be headed by L. P. Yale, Chief of Bureau, Boston, and Earl Aronson, Portland.

Music Season Ends With Pops Concert Friday

The concert season will end tomorrow evening, when the University of Maine Orchestra, Glee Club, and Varsity Singers present the annual Pops Concert in the Memorial Gymnasium. The program will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Mu Alpha Epsilon, honorary music society, sponsors the concert, and the proceeds go toward the many scholarships given by the society. Leroy Dymont, retiring president of Mu Alpha Epsilon, is general chairman, and president for the 1952-53 season, Charles Fassett, is assistant chairman.

The Glee Club, under the direction of James G. Selwood, will sing songs from "Carousel," and a medley of "Show Boat" tunes. The Orchestra, with Stanley Cayting directing, will have as one of its featured numbers "Blue Tango."

Dow To Direct Little Hoover Project

Professor Edward F. Dow, head of the History and Government Department, has been granted a leave of absence from his teaching duties for the fall semester of 1952-53 by the University's Board of Trustees. This action followed a request of Governor Payne and the Little Hoover Commission to have Professor Dow released from his teaching obligations to accept the position of executive secretary of the commission.

The "Committee of Citizens to Study the Government of Maine" was authorized by resolution of the 95th Legislature, and is to recommend to the 96th Legislature such action as may be deemed appropriate to improve efficiency, to reduce costs, and to promote an enlightened participation by the people in the formulation of public policy.

Professor Dow is a native of Falmouth, has a B.S. degree from Bowdoin, and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard.

Before coming to the University, Dr. Dow taught at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, and at Dartmouth College. He came to Orono in 1929 and has been head of the Department of History and Government since 1932.

In 1946 Professor Dow organized the annual Maine Town Managers Institute, the first in the country, which has since been copied in several states. He also directs the public-management program. From 1941-46 he was chairman of the Maine Personnel Board and was the first chairman of the Maine Employees Retirement System.

'Showboat' Star Will Appear In Concert Here

William Warfield, singing star of concert, stage, and screen, will give a concert in Memorial Gymnasium, April 6, as part of the University Concert Series program for 1953. The announcement was made today by Charles E. Crossland, chairman of the Assembly Committee.

As an actor, Warfield has appeared in the Broadway productions "Set My People Free," "Call Me Mister," and "Regina." His performances were such that he was later selected to play in "Show Boat," in which he gave his now famous rendition of "Old Man River." He has recently been engaged to star in the forthcoming musical production, "Huckleberry Finn."

Warfield has also appeared as guest soloist with the San Francisco Symphony, the Chicago Symphony, Rochester Philharmonic, Los Angeles Philharmonic, and the Pittsburgh Symphony and has given concerts extensively throughout the United States.

The recent action of the General Student Senate in recommending the concert fee, subsequently approved by the University trustees, has made it possible to plan definitely for a 1952-53 concert series.

The Assembly Committee plans to schedule other concert attractions which may be announced before the close of this college year.

Dow Field Jets Take Part In ROTC Exercise

Eight jets and eight P-51's from Dow Field demonstrated dive-bombing and strafing techniques over the campus last Thursday as they took part in the ROTC tactical problem which is annually a part of the Federal inspection.

Radio talk between the pilots and ground observer was broadcast over the loud-speaker, so that the spectators had a clearer conception of what was actually taking place.

Shortly after the air strike, the attacking infantry platoon made its final assault and captured the enemy's stronghold. They immediately reorganized in defense against a possible counterattack.

Many of the seniors, who took part in the problem, will be on active military duty as Second Lieutenants before the start of next school year.

Earlier Thursday, the entire ROTC regiment held its annual review on Alumni Field. Harry Easton was awarded the Alumni Silver Sabre as the outstanding graduating cadet. Other awards and medals were presented to distinguished cadets.

Lt. Col. William M. Summers said that he was very pleased with the conduct, appearance, military bearing, and demonstrated ability of the students throughout the entire inspection.

Ruth Bridges is the senior resident at the Elms Annex.

Five Students Awarded Prizes For Good Work

Five University students have been honored for outstanding achievements in various fields.

Madeline M. Howard, a junior majoring in sociology, has been awarded the Chi Omega sociology prize for being the highest ranking junior or senior woman who is majoring in sociology.

The Claude Dewing Gratton prize, given to the student who writes the best essay on some current constitutional question, has been presented to Roderic A. Gardiner, a senior majoring in public management.

The Henry L. Griffin prize for excellence in freshman English composition has been awarded to Charles N. Carter.

Robert M. Zink, a graduate student in the College of Technology, has been awarded the A.D.T. Libby prize for submitting the article which did the most to stimulate further research in the marine and/or fresh water fishery resources of the State of Maine.

The Carl Whitcomb Meinecke award has been presented William E. Whited, a senior in the College of Technology, for excellence based on character, scholarship, and promise.

University Host To High School Music Festival

The University of Maine played host last Saturday to 4200 high school students and instructors, who converged on campus for the Eastern Maine Music Festival.

The program began on Friday afternoon, when 106 players picked to perform in the combined orchestra arrived on campus to hold rehearsals before the concert Saturday evening. Early Saturday morning buses began to arrive with the bands, orchestras and choruses, and auditions, in which each group was given a rating, were held in the various buildings on campus.

At 11:45 a.m. the parade of bands began. The route of the parade, which started at the gymnasium, was past the Book Store to Carnegie Hall, where the bands turned left, passed the east side of the Library, and marched down the mall to the gymnasium again, where they met for the massed band number, which was directed by Francis Shaw, director of the University of Maine Band.

Reviewing the parade were: Dr. Arthur A. Hauck; Harris Danziger, Guest Conductor of the Massed Orchestra; Ellen Blodgett, President of the Eastern Maine Music Festival Association; Lewis Niven, Host Chairman of the Festival; Francis Shaw, Marshal of the Parade and conductor of the Massed Bands; Charles Crossland, Director of Student and Public Relations at the University; the audition judges; supervisors of music; and department of music staff at the University.

The evening concert, which was broadcast over the radio, not only featured the composite orchestra, but included several soloists, the Cony High School Glee Club, the Foxcroft Academy Varsity Singers, and a clarinet quartet. The orchestra, under the direction of Harris Danziger, nationally known orchestra director, then completed the program with four classical pieces.

More than 40 high schools sent musical groups to the festival from the eastern and central sections of Maine, while Houlton, Maine, was playing host to 1500 students from schools in the northern part of the state at the Northern Festival of Music.

Carnegie Concerts To End Sunday

The final Carnegie Hall Concert at the University of Maine for the spring semester will be given by the four ensemble groups of the University's music department on Sunday afternoon, May 25, at 4 p.m.

The program, which will be divided into three parts, is devoted to the works of Paul Hindemith. William Sleeper of the music department will serve as commentator for the program, and will direct the Woodwind Trio and the String Ensemble.

Union Group Hears Ideas On Administration

Four important points on the formation of a Governing Board were discussed at a recent meeting of the Union Building Committee. The Committee studied several samples of union building administration from other colleges and universities and came up with the following main points for discussion.

(1.) Some definite organic relationship should be established between the General Student Senate and the Union Building Governing Board, i.e. Student Senate representation on Board.

(2.) Key people on the Board should get positions through their merits. Ability and interest of the individual would be prime factors.

(3.) There should be some Faculty representation on the Board. (No specific number of representatives decided upon.)

(4.) At least one member of the General Alumni Association should be invited to be a member of the Board.

Mr. Charles E. Crossland, executive head of the Union Building Fund Committee, announced Tuesday that structural steel for the first floor of the Union Building is due for delivery here this week. He added that so far the recent steel strikes and labor squabbles have not affected steel deliveries for the Building.

Mr. Crossland revealed that the Union Building Committee hopes to meet with prospective Union Building directors for interviews before the end of the school year. He said that the Committee has been working towards that end for the past few weeks.

Investments Topic Of Pierce Lecture

"There is need for great care in selecting investments," said Edward A. Pierce, a native of nearby Orrington and now senior partner in one of the nation's most prominent Wall Street firms, in a talk in the Louis Oakes Room Monday afternoon.

Pierce's firm, Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, and Beane, publishes a bi-monthly booklet entitled the Investor's Reader.

Using the stock market crash of 1929 as an example, Pierce stated that "...stock brokers have been severely criticized...his (broker) share of the responsibility is light. A nation will speculate and gamble; to try to prevent it is futile." Pierce spoke here largely through the efforts of Prof. Ronald B. Levinson, head of the Philosophy department, whose father and Pierce were intimate friends.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Henry Hawley.

Summer School To Bring Noted Lecturers Here

Dean Mark R. Shibles, Director of the Summer Session, has announced that a series of 16 lectures by noted educators will be offered at the University's six-week Summer Session.

Dr. Foster Grossnickle, professor of mathematics at State Teachers College, New Jersey, nationally known author and authority on the teaching of arithmetic, will speak July 14.

Dr. Kenneth Wann, assistant professor of education, Teachers College, Columbia University, will give two lectures July 18.

Dr. Thomas Hopkins, professor of education and a curriculum specialist at the Horace Mann-Lincoln Institute for School Experimentation at Columbia University, will give two lectures on July 21.

Dr. Jean Betzner, professor of education at Teachers College, Columbia University, will present two lectures July 25.

Dr. Roma Gans, professor of education at Teachers College, Columbia University, and widely known as a teacher, lecturer, and writer, will give two lectures July 28.

Dr. Lorene Fox, associate professor of education, Queen's College, New York, and authority on rural community schools, will present two lectures August 4.

Dr. Florence Stratemeyer, professor of education at Teachers College, Columbia University, and authority in the field of elementary education, will lecture twice August 8.

Dr. Ellsworth Tomkins, specialist for large high schools, division of state and local school systems with the U. S. Office of Education, will give a lecture August 11.

Dr. Sterl Artley, professor of Education and Director of the Child Study Clinic, University of Missouri, author and authority in the field of reading, will present the final two lectures.

Registrar Lists Lost Articles

If you've lost it (and it's not an automobile), you'll probably find it at the Registrar's office. James A. Gannett, Registrar, has issued a summary of lost articles that have been turned in to his office this semester. The list is as follows: (Please, don't crowd for the lost money.)

Ten keys; seven necklaces; four bracelets; two pendants, one with chain; two rosaries; one lapel pin, a cherry cluster; three earrings; two fountain pen caps; several fountain pens; three class or signet rings; one tie clasp; one cigarette lighter. One cosmetic case; three dissecting kits; two glasses cases; two children's plastic records and a $1 bill; one pair of colored glasses; one cigarette case; 14 pairs of mittens; 17 or 18 pairs of wool, fabric, and leather women's gloves and an equal number of men's leather gloves. A dozen or more kerchiefs; "many, many" textbooks; one book of Shakespeare's Plays; several wool scarfs.

New Union Fee Explained

In last week's issue of the Campus we ran a front page story regarding a Union Building fee which would be placed on student term bills at the beginning of the fall semester next year. We outlined the reasons for the General Student Senate's course of action and explained the ways the Union Building Committee planned to use our money. Since then, however, we have heard a good deal of comment and general questioning about this levy and feel that a more thorough explanation is required.

As early as 1923, a Union Building was being contemplated for the University of Maine, but planners at that time held that a gymnasium was of more importance. Hence we have our beautiful Memorial Gym today.

Then shortly after the end of World War II attention was again turned to the construction of a Union Building. At a meeting of all student organization presidents it was generally agreed that to further beautify the Maine campus, while at the same time elevating the University's prestige, the construction of a Union Building would be a major step forward. It was also agreed that the responsibility for furnishing and maintaining the building would, of necessity, lie in the hands of the students.

To help finance the construction of the Union, alumni members were contacted and this group contributed generously toward the building campaign. As a result of their assistance along with that of our present day students, we have the progress that is now evident on campus today. The next shipment of steel is due in June and, as announced in a past Campus issue, it is hoped by the Union Building Committee that the ground floor will be ready for student use by the spring semester of next year.

In February, the General Student Senate authorized the Union Committee to conduct another fund raising campaign among those students who had not already subscribed to the building fund. But upon further consideration, the Committee felt that it would be more satisfactory to have a $5 fee placed on the term bill of those students who had not subscribed the minimum amount required. This recommendation was forwarded to the General Student Senate which endorsed the measure last week.

In approving the Union Building fee, we feel that the General Student Senate has taken the only feasible course of action to insure that the University of Maine has a union building completely furnished and available for student recreation.

Subscription campaigns in the past have never proved wholly successful and, therefore, it is believed that if we, the students, wish to support our University's building program, the Union Committee's recommendation appears to be one of the best ways of fulfilling our goal.

Individuals may argue that they are contributing to a cause from which they shall never benefit. Technically we may assume they are right. The junior class will enjoy the Union Building a half semester at the very most. And our seniors will have graduated long before the building is ready for use. However, we feel that there are more than just the negative and positive sides to any given situation, especially the one which confronts us today.

If it had not been for the contributions of a past generation of students, it seems very doubtful that we would be enjoying some of the beautiful buildings we have on campus today. The library and the Memorial Gymnasium are only two of the structures which have been made available to us through the aid of Maine alumni and friends. And the many scholarships offered annually to needy students are another case of "giving so that others might benefit."

The opportunity to aid others is now ours.

The opportunity to help our University rise in prestige among other state universities throughout the country has also been placed in our hands.

Why not take advantage of these opportunities? They may not be offered again. . . .

Fact and Fiction

BY BEN PIKE

Well, that time is fast drawing near again—final examination time, that is. And, right here, it seems appropriate to quote a much used Latin expression, "tempus fugit," which according to Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, means, "time flies," which makes me wonder where in Sam Hill all the time has gone.

Perhaps the past few weeks have gone by faster than any previous ones. There has been so much to do and so much to see that a person has had a hard job to keep up with himself. There has been the campaign for mayor, the last Masque play of the season, student elections, a very rainy Maine Day, and now we have finals coming just around the corner traveling at about 100 per. Oh, yes, mustn't forget the house parties of last week end. How is it that everything happens at once? Just at the time when we should be studying for finals, too. Or perhaps we should have been studying right along, but what's the use of rushing the thing when there's always tomorrow? Confound it all, next year things are going to be different with this kid.

I, hereby, resolve to do all by assignments before class time, so I won't have to cram for examinations. I shall always turn off my radio when I have assignments to fulfill, even though "Big John and Sparkie" and the "Lone Ranger" are on the air. I will see that all professors who give surprise quizzes and examinations are prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law—if there is a law for such crimes, and there should be. I resolve to write my congressman a letter requesting that all college textbooks contain nothing but pictures; science tells us that the easiest way to learn is to look at pictures, anyway.

Now, if you've got this list all taken down, tear it up. It doesn't make sense. What would school be like if we were always up on assignments? How could we have any fun if we didn't hear "Big John and Sparkie"? What would school be like if we didn't have the excitement of a surprise quiz now and then? There just wouldn't be any fun here at all. So, again, I would like to quote another expression that is often seen around the City Desk, "stet," which means "let it stand." What the heck, we can't do anything about it anyway.

One Small Gleam

BY HELEN JOHNSON

The presidency of the Women's Student Government Association is a difficult job to fill. The woman who has the job must be a person with tact, understanding, intelligence, and a campus social standing.

Jeanne Frye who has held the position this year has proved that she really measures up to the high standards. She has the sincerity and natural poise which give her the ability to get along with people.

As with most presidents, Miss Frye has social duties as well as administrative. She must officiate at dinners, teas, and receptions. A gracious hostess, she has the charm which immediately puts other people at ease.

In making decisions she exercises a careful, thoughtful judgement which sometimes makes her appear slow to people more rash. Once she decides on an issue, she has an almost stubborn determination to make the decision stick.

She has worked long and hard this year to arouse student interest in the WSGA activities as well as General Senate activities. Many times she has talked to this reporter about the need for an aroused student interest in order to have an active student government.

Miss Frye's activities have not been confined to the WSGA. She has represented the women in the General Senate, worked on many committees, been active in sorority, and still maintained a high point average.

A major in Home Economics, Miss Frye recently spent 8 weeks practice teaching which she termed "exciting."

Hotshots

BY RALPH CLARK

Smoke billowed from the stage and went out over the audience. The smell of burning wood and trees reached the noses of the crowd. Through the haze, a red glow appeared, and a group of men raced onto the stage to quell an imaginary forest fire.

The University's "Hotshots" were in action again. The stage was at the recent Sportsman's Show held in Bangor.

"It really smells like a forest fire," a woman whispered, and her husband covered a cough.

The "Hotshots" are a group of approximately sixty active students, all majoring in the various branches of forestry. Arthur Randall, assistant professor of forestry, is their leader. The objects of the group are threefold: to be ready at all times to protect Maine forests, to receive training in forest fire control and field conditions, and to learn to act and fight efficiently in fires without sustaining personal injuries.

The group was organized shortly after the 1947 forest fires during which the students demonstrated their ability in fire fighting.

But to get back to the Bangor Sportsman Show. Peter Mount, a senior from Fairfield, Conn., was the emcee and gave a brief explanation about the "Hotshots" as the boys prepared the stage for the feature. They quickly set up a miniature forest of spruce, pine, and leaves. As a careless hunter accidentally started a fire, dry ice and a device called a bee-smoker made realistic smoke, and red stage lights popped on. Then the theory of fire fighting, called the lick method, was applied.

A group of men first applied the line clearing method in which each man cut a tree, then stepped ahead a few feet. The man behind him then cut where the first man left off. In this way, the men made room for the other men to work.

Following them came the line building crew whose duty it is to scrape inflammable pine needles aside in order to stop surface fires. Lastly, came the line holding squad equipped with shovels and pack pumps holding five gallons of water. Their job is an important one. They have to extinguish all fires that spring up along the front. For night work, they are equipped with strong headlights. Each group of men is controlled by a strawboss who watches over them and keeps them together as a unit. All this went on at the Sportsman's Show stage.

Foreman of the "Hotshots" is Warren L. Peterson, a sophomore forestry major. Besides this man, and the strawbosses, there are other important positions. There is the camp boss whose chief concerns are transportation for the fighters, putting up directional signs, cooking and feeding, and care of equipment. The communication boss keeps the records of the area of burned ground, wind velocity, and terrain features. The pumper boss' main duty is to keep an eye on the water supply and the pumps. All these positions make the "Hotshots" a strong and well-organized group.

The "Hotshots" equipped with their red hats, Levi's, boots, canteens, gloves, and Maine Forester's patches, will make their next appearance May 23 at Thorndike at the meeting of the Waldo County Volunteer Fireman's Association. Needless to say, it will, no doubt, be another excellent demonstration and another feather in their hats.

Prof. Stanley R. Ashby, professor emeritus of English, has returned to Paris after spending the fall and winter here.

This certainly is a busy season with houseparties, teas, outings, and jazz sessions.

Phi Mu sorority held its annual tea and bazaar Saturday, May 9, in the Balentine sun parlor from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Funds raised will go to a scholarship for a University co-ed. Muriel Marcou and Kathleen Haley were co-chairmen of the event.

Approximately twenty-five off-campus women attended a covered dish supper at the SRA building on Maine Day. Officers for the coming year were elected.

Also on Maine Day there was an informal gathering at SAE for a jazz session, and the girls of East West Hall opened their doors for a vic dance from 2-4 p.m. in the dormitory lounge.

Last week end twelve of the fraternities held their spring house parties. It is impossible to describe each of them in detail, but from the comments that I have heard the week end was a great success.

Social Events To Mark 77th Alumni Reunion

Alumni returning to Orono for the University's 77th Annual Alumni Reunion will participate in several social activities over Commencement Week-end in addition to their scheduled business sessions and other annual meetings.

Beginning Friday afternoon, June 13, alumni will gather at the University Library for the annual Alumni Open House, where there will be informal entertainment and refreshments.

President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck will be "at home" to the visiting alumni on Saturday afternoon, June 14.

During the same afternoon, the Eastern Association of University of Maine Women will give a tea for alumni, faculty, parents, and guests in the Louis Oakes Room of the Library.

In addition, alumnae All-Maine Women will be entertained at a Coffee given by the undergraduate All-Maine Women in the Library's Bass Room on Saturday.

Highlighting the afternoon of June 14 will be a band concert by the University Band on Alumni Field, followed by a softball game between the graduating members of the Class of 1952 and the alumni.

Social activities on the reunion program will terminate with the Alumni Hop in the Library Saturday evening.

Grady Is Re-elected As Senate Adviser

Assistant Professor Gerald J. Grady has been re-elected advisor to the General Senate. Professor Grady was first elected last fall.

Before choosing an advisor a senate committee drew up a list of possible candidates for the position. These names were sent to the president for approval. The final choice was made by the Senate from the names approved by the president.

Father Competes With Daughter For Best Grade In Psychology

BY ELLEN LEVINSON

A Maine father-daughter team is going to college together here. They are Clifford H. Buck, ex-'23, and daughter Barbara, class of '54. Mr. Buck, a Theta Chi, went to school here for three and a half years, back in the twenties, and dropped out, supposedly for a year, to earn some money.

One thing led to another. Finally, after 29 years of working and teaching, he's back, as a regularly enrolled senior, getting his B.S. degree in June.

Barbara, 20, is a home economics major in foods, pointing for a career as a dietitian. She and her father have one class together—Psychology.

"We're having a contest," says Mr. Buck. "Out of five prelims, Barbara's been ahead four times."

There are advantages to having Father on campus, according to Barbara. "It's handy not having to write home for money," she explains. "And the family car is handy, too."

Why did Mr. Buck come back to school? "I just wanted a vacation," he jokes. "Seriously, I came to improve myself professionally." He already has a life-time teaching certificate for Maine secondary schools.

Mr. Buck, who has been teaching mechanical arts at Boothbay, lives with his family in Southport. He has been First Selectman there since 1938.

On campus he has a room in Corbett, which he shares with Ralph C. Cunningham, '53, age twenty. "He's a very intelligent young man, but we're taking the wrong subjects for him to help me much," Mr. Buck reports.

Keeping up his studies and holding down his town office in Southport as well as playing family man over the week ends gives Mr. Buck a busy schedule. Fortunately he has no Saturday classes. The average week sees Mr. Buck leaving for home Friday noon. Keeping the town books and issuing directions for the next week's business leaves him no time to study during week ends. He returns to campus Sunday night with four free evenings ahead, except for making up Rotary Club Thursday night in Old Town.

"I'm a joiner," he confesses, naming four associations of which he is past president. Politics is his pet hobby. He served as Southport's delegate to the recent Bangor Republican convention.

Asked if he notices any differences since he was a student here in 1923, Mr. Buck reports several.

"There are certainly more girls," he says. "And another thing—there's more social life. When I was a Theta Chi, we gave three dances a year, one informal. Now apparently they have them every two or three weeks."

"But that's all to the good," he hastens to add. "Young people should dance."

"Still the same as always are the bumpy roads—and on damp days, the sulfide smell from Old Town's paper mills."

Other members of the Buck family are twin boys, age ten, and an older boy who went to Maine from '44 to '47, now serving in the Air Corps in Texas. And, of course, there's Mrs. Buck.

What does she think of having husband and daughter off at school? "She's been very cooperative," say the Bucks. "And," adds Mr. Buck, "she's getting a degree out of it, too. As a student wife, she's looking forward with anticipation to receiving her Certificate of Merit this June."

Many Changes Called For In AA Constitution

The Athletic Association is in the process of getting a brand new constitution, a direct result of three meetings in the last two weeks of the officers of the constituent organizations of the Association.

Dick Dow, president of the Athletic Association, called the officers of the Women's Athletic Association, Intramural Athletic Association, and Athletic Board, together for the first time on May 12 to discuss the constitution.

Because of many obsolete passages, the constitution has been almost completely reorganized. Some of the outstanding changes in the new constitution include the establishment of a coordinating body made up of the representative members of the Association. This body will meet four times a year.

Russell To Teach At San Jose State

Dr. Garland B. Russell, associate professor of education and director of teacher training, will teach at San Jose State College in San Jose, Calif., this summer.

The summer session of the college will begin June 23 and end August 29. Dr. Russell will be one of 75 visiting instructors in the total teaching staff of 175.

Radio Guild To Elect Officers Tuesday Night

The last radio guild meeting of the year will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 27 in Stevens Hall.

On the agenda is the election of next year's officers. In addition, a discussion is planned concerning the problems of the proposed campus radio station, WORO.

Political Notes

Earl S. Grant, of Bremen, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senatorial nomination, spoke to a group of forty members of the young-democrats organization in the Louis Oakes Room last Thursday evening. Another scheduled speaker, James C. Oliver, of South Portland, Democratic candidate for Governor, was unable to attend the program.

Edwin H. Pert, President of the Young Democrats Club, introduced the speaker.

According to Pert, this is the last in a series of talks held by the Young-Democrats committee. Previous speakers this year have been: Roger P. Dube, of Lewiston, Democratic Candidate for Senator; and F. Davis Clark, of Milo, a Democratic national committeeman from Maine.

Pert also disclosed that members of the club on campus will assist the State Democratic Committee in sponsoring a Young-Democrats conference this summer.

Will YOU Be at the Country Club 10 Years Hence?

(or, how sound is your business judgment?)

The answer to both questions will probably be provided by your selection of a career now.

You might, for example, go into a business that will disappear in 10 years, or one that is too dependent on defense contracts, or another where the opportunity is limited, or still another where your particular talents wouldn't find the best outlet.

There really isn't much sense in taking any of these risks. This large (6,000 staff members), world-wide (100 countries), essential business more than a century old—is seeking outstanding men with good academic and extra curricular records to train in numerous jobs leading to administrative, sales promotion or technical positions.

Your pay will be $3000 a year to start—while you are training. At the end of the first year your pay will be increased to $3,500 a year. A rent subsidy is also provided for those brought to New York for training.

After you have completed your course you will work in New York or in another leading U. S. business center. The future is yours to develop with every help the company can provide.

machines are amazing
but men are more so

"Young ladies, if you will direct your attention to the complex telephone equipment on the left, I think you'll agree with most folks who tour our telephone offices that it is exceedingly impressive."

We think so too. But the minds of the men who developed it are even more impressive. Some people use "the human element" to denote weakness. In the Bell System, we believe our greatest asset is our people.

They make headlines in fires, hurricanes and floods. But much more important, they give the world's best telephone service all year round.

As the Bell System continues its growth, new and even more amazing machines are being created. And along with this growth is the need for college men with the right qualifications for work and opportunity in a variety of fields—in engineering, research, operating and administration.

With less than a week to go before this season's windup of varsity and freshman sports, the sun has finally broken through the local overcast to shine on this week end's busy athletic calendar.

The undefeated frosh track squad will entertain Rockland and South Portland high schools this Saturday with the prospects very good of their finishing with a perfect 5-0 record. The yearlings have done a remarkable job considering the fact that they operate with only about a ten man squad. Led by Bill Calkin the frosh have knocked off Higgins and Old Town, South Portland, Bangor, and Deering High Schools.

The only other home competition scheduled for this week end are the freshman golf and tennis teams. The golfers will meet Rockland High School on Friday while the netmen will belt the fuzzy ball with Deering High School on Saturday.

It was a Pale Blue sweep all the way in the state golf meet held at Augusta last Monday. Maine's Walt Hewins won the individual Maine Intercollegiate Championship as the Bears placed five men in the first six places. The varsity golfers finish the season Monday with an outing against the Bates Bobcats at Lewiston.

Emerging from the first round of state tournament play as the only team with all four men in the semi-final bracket the Pale Blue netmen were nosed out by Bowdoin which took individual honors in both singles and doubles at Lewiston Monday.

The varsity netsters will finish their season with a match at Bates this Saturday.

Four Pale Blue cindermen came through with first places at Durham, N. H., last Saturday as Maine copped third place in Yankee Conference competition. Hard-working Ed Bogdanovich who set a new meet record with the shot put will be a man to watch in the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association meet to be held in Boston Friday and Saturday.

The varsity baseballers, who have had tough luck at home all season, will make their last appearance of the season with a home game against Colby on Monday. Coach Raymond's forces, who can't seem to get a substantial stick against the apple, have the potential to beat Colby and will really be after this one. Despite the jinx of a home stand for the diamondmen, Pale Blue centerfielder Al Hackett is still top man in the Maine college hitting department. Currently belting the ball at better than a .440 average, Hackett looks as though he'd be top stick at the season's end.

Racing fans at the Pimlico race track last Saturday were probably only half as happy as Maine sophomore Jan Abbott was when Blue Man came from way back to win the coveted Preakness Stakes.

Blue Man, owned by Jan's papa (a Maine grad), is now favored to take the Belmont Stakes coming up June 7. SAE, Theta Chi, Tau Ep and Phi Mu emerged as semi-finalists in the Fraternity Division of the Intramural Softball League. Winners of the scheduled SAE-Theta Chi and Tau Ep-Phi Mu games will meet in the finals.

In the non-Fraternity Division, the Cast-offs will meet Corbett Hall (4) in the finals.

Baseball Team Will Finish Season Monday

Hewins Wins State Golf Lid At Augusta C.C.

By WALT SCHURMAN

Walt Hewins, one of Maine's top golfers for three years, captured "The Big One" for state college linksmen Monday when he won the Maine Intercollegiate Golf Championship.

Hewins' 36-hole score over the Augusta Country Club layout was 153, nine over par, and three better than runnerup Connie Bosworth of Maine.

Maine captain George Shute was third with 160. Last year's winner John Gowen of Maine was fifth.

Pale Blue linksmen dominated the tourney taking six of the first nine places in the field of 24.

Hewins, who finished second behind Gowen last year, was not to be denied Monday. Two strokes off the pace set by Connie Bosworth and Bob Smith of Bowdoin with 77's in the morning round, Hewins fashioned a blistering two-over-par 74 in the afternoon, the best round of the day, to win.

One of the top golfers on the strong Maine Annex freshman team of 1949, Hewins has been a mainstay of the Maine varsity for the past three years.

He is a senior education major from Winthrop, Mass.

Last Thursday Maine won the first leg on the defense of its State Title by downing Bowdoin 7-2 on the local course. The Bear linksmen were slated to meet Colby on the Penobscot Valley course this afternoon and will close out the season against Bates on the Martindale Course next Monday. Victories in these two matches will give Maine another State Title. In exhibition matches, Maine defeated both Colby and Bates earlier this spring.

The first ten in Monday's medal play at Augusta:

Walter Hewins (M)	79-74-153
Conrad Bosworth (M)	77-79-156
George Shute (M)	80-80-160
Robert Smith (Bow.)	77-83-160
Don Mavor (M)	81-80-161
John Gowen (M)	84-82-166
Putnam (B)	85-83-168
Willsey (B)	85-83-168
George McKenney (M)	84-86-170
Kosek (Bow.)	81-89-170

Undefeated Frosh Thinclads Close Season Saturday

Maine's Yearling track team will attempt to close out an undefeated season here Saturday when they tackle South Portland and Rockland High Schools in a triangular meet.

The Pale Blue Frosh ran over Deering High School here last Saturday by a lopsided 92 to 33 score. Bill Calkin and Tom Shea paced the Yearling cindermen with five places apiece. Calkin garnered firsts in the high and low hurdles, 100 and 220 yard dashes and a second in the broad jump. Shea won the 440, took seconds in the high jump (tied), javelin and 220 and grabbed a third in the broad jump. The Freshmen snatched ten first places in the thirteen events meet.

The Results:

Shot Put—Mawson 1st, Fraser 2nd—Dist. 38 ft. 6½ in.

Pole Vault—Huntress and Rogers tied for 1st—Ht. 8 ft. 6 in.

Carl Wight, Maine's first baseman, was tagged out at home plate by Northeastern's Don Daley during last Saturday's contest at Alumni Field. Vic Woodbrey is the Maine third base coach. Wight was attempting to score on Hank Woodbrey's sharp grounder to short. The Huskies won 4-1.

Courtmen Face Bates Saturday Cindermen Set For NEICA Meet

By KEITH RUFF

Maine's varsity tennis team will play its final match of the season Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. against the Bates College netmen at Lewiston. Maine is slightly favored over the Bates team which was eliminated in the first round of the state meet matches played last Thursday.

The Colby tennis team edged the Pale Blue netmen 5-4 here last Tuesday in a battle that was decided by the Mules' 8-6 victory in the third set of the number one doubles match.

In the semi-final round of the state meet matches, postponed from Thursday to Monday because of rain, Maine's doubles teams of Capt. Bill Bird and Gordon Johnston and Dana Warren and Ernie Sutton were both beaten.

Maine Captain Bill Bird then lost to Clark in the finals giving the Bowdoin player the singles championship.

Fresh from a creditable third place finish in the Yankee Conference Track meet at Durham, New Hampshire, last Saturday, Maine's Varsity tracksters will enter week end competition in the New England Track Meet in Boston.

A host of top-notch track men representing several powerhouse New England college teams will be on hand. Most powerful of the twenty-seven teams entered are Boston University, Rhode Island, Tufts, and Holy Cross.

Coach Jenkins says that the Maine cindermen should end up among the top five finishers. Trials will be held on Friday afternoon and finals Saturday. The Maine squad will leave either Thursday night or early Friday morning for Boston.

Maine's third place finish in the YC Meet at Durham Saturday was highlighted by husky Ed Bogdanovich's record-breaking 48 foot 2¾ inch heave of the shot put. Bogdanovich's toss bettered the old YC mark by almost three feet and gave him an undisputed first in that event.

The Pale Blue captured three other firsts in the meet with wins in the two-mile run, 880-yard run, and hammer throw. Carleton MacLean, Jack Wathen, and Prescott Johnson were winners in these events. Other Maine men to shine were "Coke" Haskell, Mac Osborne, and Doug Vollmer.

For the fifth time in as many YC meets, the Rhode Island Rams were complete masters of their five rival teams and walked off with top honors.

The University of New Hampshire Wildcats edged the Maine Bears for runner-up honors.

Frosh Golfers Go After Second Win Tomorrow

Charlie Emery's freshman golfers will tee off against Rockland High School tomorrow at the Penobscot Valley course in their second match of the year.

Last Friday the Frosh shut out Waterville High 6-0.

Pale Blue Splits Doubleheader With Bobcats

By PERLESTON PERT, JR.

The varsity baseball season will end this week end with two games. Saturday the Pale Blue diamondmen will be at Burlington, Vermont, for a contest with Yankee Conference opponent Vermont. Monday will bring Colby College to Orono for a State Series game.

Maine and Bates split a twin-bill Tuesday afternoon at Alumni Field, both games ending with scores of 8 to 3. Both contests were seven-inning affairs.

Lefty Andy MacAuliffe, pitching for Bates, effectively handcuffed the Black Bears in the first game on three hits. Maine started Jack Butterfield on the mound. Bud Simmons and Chan Coddington also twirled for the Pale Blue with Jack Christie finishing up.

Maine came back strong in the second game behind four-hit chucking by Hank Woodbrey. The Bears tallied once in the second, twice in the third, once in the fourth, and four times in a big ninth inning to build up the winning margin.

Quimby was Bates' starting hurler, giving way to Bergquist in the fifth.

Doubles by Hackett and Gagnon and a three-bagger by Bates, which the Maine third-sacker stretched to a home run, featured Maine's eight hit attack.

Northeastern's Johnny Costello was too much for the Raymondmen last Saturday in a game which Northeastern won, 4-1. Costello pitched four-hit ball to average an early season defeat.

Hank Woodbrey, on the mound for the Bears, gave up eight hits, issued seven bases on balls, and fanned three. Costello gave up only one walk while striking out seven men. Four double plays highlighted the game.

In Friday's game at Brunswick Maine ran into a large amount of difficulty in the form of Paul Clifford, ace Bowdoin hurler. Clifford pitched a six-inning no-hitter to shut out the Pale Blue, 5-0, and to clinch the State Series crown for Bowdoin.

The game, originally slated to be played at Alumni Field, was changed to Brunswick because of wet grounds. Rain halted the fray after one hour and 20 minutes of playing time at Brunswick, and after a 30-minute delay the game was called.

Clifford put out six men via strikeouts while Christie whiffed two in the abbreviated contest.

Two Games Remain On Frosh Schedule

The freshman baseball team will wind up its schedule next week with two games.

On Tuesday the frosh pastimers will play a rescheduled game with Ricker Junior College. The contest was originally slated for last Saturday and was postponed because of wet weather.

Maine Maritime Academy will oppose the frosh on Thursday in the last game for Bob Hollway's pastimers.

Previous to yesterday's scheduled contest with Higgins Classical Institute, the frosh team sported a 2-won 1-lost record. Errors were the downfall of the freshmen in their only loss of the season.

Election Pulls 60 Per Cent Of Campus Vote

Sixty per cent of the student body turned out for the General Senate elections last week to make a record University vote.

Said retiring president of the General Senate Greg Macfarlan, "I believe the sixty per cent vote cast represents a strong vote of confidence by the students for their organizations and also for the University."

Masque To Award 'Apples' Tonight

The Maine Masque Theatre will hold its spring initiation tonight in the Little Theatre. Following the ceremony, there will be an initiation banquet in Estabrooke Hall at which the Golden Apple and Red Apple awards for the best performances and the best supporting work of the year in the Masque will be given.

The Apple awards have become an annual tradition with the Masque. Recipients are chosen by members of the faculty who have seen every production of the Masque for the season.

Be Happy- GO LUCKY!

In a cigarette, taste
makes the difference—
and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky... for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better... proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike
Means Fine Tobacco

From Darwin's work we might infer
Man once lived up a tree;
And some still do who do not know
That L.S./M.F.T.

Marvin E. Whatley

If you're the kind that likes a smoke,
Come morning, night or noon—
Remember L.S./M.F.T.,
And buy a carton soon!

At archery I am a whiz—
I hit just what I like;
But when I aim for better taste,
I smoke a Lucky Strike!
